When the bylaw was introduced amending the one passed last year in regard to the rental to be paid for the erection of poles on the streets. Councillor McWilliams again objected to the matter being rushed through with so much haste, and raised a point of order, asking for a two-thirds vote to repeal the former bylaw. Whilst the Mayor was considering this point, Mr. McWilliams and Mr. White moved an adjournment. The vote resulted in a tie, and the Mayor voted with the yeas, thus dismissing the council for the evening.

THE FENELON FALLS FIRE.

Mr. Ellis' Mill Saved, but his Lumber Yard Was Swept—The Bank of Toronto and Mr. John McDonald, of Lindsay, Also Losers.

Additional particulars received relative to Saturday's big fire at Fenelon Falls state that the fire was first noticed about 10.30, the village alarm being sounded about 11 o'clock. Smoke was first seen arising from the sawdust close to the mill, and the flames spread very rapidly, but luckily the wind helped those who quickly gathered and the mill was saved, although the boards were browned by the fierce heat. All efforts to save the lumber and buildings in the yard were fruitless, however, and by one o'clock a clean sweep had been made. In addition to the valuable stock of lumber, seven buildings and their contents were destroyed, including office, blacksmith shop, stables, drying sheds, etc. The rails of the three switches traversing the yard were badly twisted and the ties burned. Mr. Ellis' loss is estimated at $13,000; Bank of Toronto, $2,000; Mr. John McDonald, Lindsay, 56,000 feet of superior basswood lumber, $1,200. Mr. Ellis, we understand, has an insurance of $6,000; bank insurance not known; Mr. McDonald, none. Seven years ago this fall Mr. Ellis' mill was completely destroyed by fire.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, WM. T. MCLEOD, Agency Supplies, P.O. Box 89, St. Henri, Que.

A number of persons are standing in front of The Peoples Grocery, 323 George street, looking with wonder and astonishment at the huge pile of Pumkins, Squash and Musk Melons lying on the sidewalk. I see that this is the third consignment that you have had in a few days; you sell big lots of them. The loads of Peaches, Plums, Pears, Lemons and Bananas, that I see you get, I wonder how you sell them all. ARE AFRAID OF CROSS EXAMINERS

The Sausage Maker Wore a Grim Smile—All the Direct Evidence In Dramatic Scene — Mrs. Charles Said the Rings Were Not Those Worn by Mrs. Luetgert

Chicago, Oct. 5.—The defence in the Luetgert murder trial rested its case to-day after two witnesses had testified.

Luetgert did not go on the witness stand in his own defence. He yielded to the advice of his attorneys, but the disappointment to him was great. He has declared for months that he must tell his story to the jury.

Luetgert's counsel feared to put him on the stand and he accepted the situation.

The first witness called to-day was Henry J. Cox of the United States weather bureau. Witness Cox came with charts and date to prove that the night of May 1, 1897, was cloudy in Chicago and vicinity.

This evidence was brought out by the defence to counteract the testimony of witnesses who had sworn that they stood across the street at 11 o'clock the night of May 1 and saw Luetgert and his wife walking towards the sausage factory.

The first witness called after the consultation of Luetgert and his lawyers was Mrs. Mary Charles, wife of William Charles, Luetgert's business partner. Mrs. Charles said that upon several occasions Mrs. Luetgert had said to her: "I am going away. My husband has failed in business and people will now point their fingers at me and say, 'she is the wife of the sausage maker who failed.' I cannot stand that."

On May 1 the witness said she saw Mrs. Luetgert for the last time. It was about 11 o'clock in the morning. Mrs. Luetgert again said she was going away, and repeated that she could not stand the disgrace the failure had brought upon the family.

"She turned away and I never saw her again," concluded the witness.

"Did you ever see Mrs. Luetgert wear finger rings?" asked Attorney Phalen, after Mrs. Charles had finished telling about the missing woman's threats to leave home.

"I have," replied the witness.

"Then how many?"

"She wore two."

"Were they gold rings?"

"They were."

"You saw them often?"

"Yes, very often."

"Describe them: can you?"

"Both were plain rings, nearly equal in size as to the width I mean. One of them, perhaps both, contained Mrs. Luetgert's initials."

"Did you ever see this ring I now hand you?"

(It was one of the rings found in the vat.)

People in the court room craned their necks with breathless interest while the witness examined the ring. The big court room was hushed as the crowd of spectators strained their ears to catch the reply of Mrs. Charles.

"No, sir; I never saw that ring before," she finally answered. "It is narrower than either of those Mrs. Luetgert wore."

The other ring was handed to her and the witness gazed at it for some time.

"This ring is about the size of one of the rings she wore," said Mrs. Charles, finally, "but I cannot tell—I do not think it is one of them."

The unexpected cessation of the evidence of the defence found the prosecution unprepared to go on with its rebuttal. Court was adjourned until to-morrow morning. States Attorney Deneen said to-day he would put on 80 witnesses in rebuttal and that 10 of them would be from Kenosha, Wis., where it was said by witnesses Mrs. Luetgert was seen May 3, 4 and 5.

SIR WILFRID IN TORONTO

The Dominion Premier Receives a Most Cordial and Enthusiastic Reception.

The First Minister of Canada Presented With Addresses of Welcome by the Corporation and Our German and French-Speaking Fellow Citizens—Hon. Edward Blake and Sir George Kirkpatrick Given Warm Greetings—The Ex-Leader's Position—How He Chose Two Able Successors.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 6.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his suite were taken in hand even before their arrival in the city. When his train arrived at the Union Station about 6.45 p.m., it was found by the enthusiasts who crowded the platform to contain Torontonians. Besides Lady Laurier, the Premier was accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Godbout, Miss Angus and a number of ladies. Hon. William Mulock and William Gibson, M. P., came up with him from Montreal, and Messrs. Edward Gurney, Elias Rogers and E. A. Wills, representing the local Board of Trade, met him at a suburban station and had ingratiated themselves when the train pulled in.

The air-brake had scarcely been applied when His Worship Mayor Shaw jumped on the Pullman. He was followed by the aldermen, whom he severally introduced at the informal reception which the Premier and his engaging lady held on the spot.

By 7 o'clock the procession had formed on Front-street, facing the main entrance to the depot. Sir Wilfrid walked up to his carriage with Ald. Scott, chairman of the reception committee, the two stately forms being in turn preceded by Lady Laurier on the arm of Mayor Shaw. The carriages were soon filled, with aldermen and prominent citizens and were driven off along Front and Simcoe-streets.

A Cordial Welcome.

From the moment the parade moved off it was plainly visible that the man who had entered Toronto, a forlorn wanderer, not two years ago, had come again the conquering hero. Truly, a kind fate had wrought wonderful changes in his career. Heralded by the blare of bands of music, followed by representative citizens of another but a brother race, his path strewn with the tributes of applause from an admiring multitude, his way lighted by an over-arching, sizzling pleiades of meteor-like bonan candles, the greatest Frenchman of his age in Canada could not doubt the genuine cordiality of his reception by the citizens of Toronto. Coming as he did from adding his own to the plaudits of his fellow-Britons to their Queen, he knew what a British welcome meant.

At Massey Hall a big crowd of people had gathered to accord Sir Wilfrid a hearty reception. The doors were thrown open at 7 o'clock, and although a sprinkle of rain was falling the hall immediately began to fill. Ladies and their escorts were admitted by the main entrances, and those holding platform tickets crowded in by the Victoria-street doors.

By 7.45 the capacity of the hall began to be overtaxed, and five minutes later the great hall was crowded to overflowing. All the seats upon the ground floor and in both galleries were filled, and several hundred were standing in the aisles. Upon the platform were ranged tier after tier of prominent men, and the boxes and stalls on either side contained groups of ladies and gentlemen. That the Premier is popular with the members of the fair sex, the fact that they composed nearly one-half the big audience fully demonstrated.

As the reception was a non-partisan affair the building was devoid of decoration save for a few Union Jacks draped above the platform and around the gallery railings. While the crowd waited Mr. Arthur Blakeley presided at the organ and the students in the gallery enlivened the proceedings by singing college songs.

Shortly before 8 o'clock the first outburst of enthusiasm occurred, when Sir George and Lady Kirkpatrick appeared in the lower box to the right of the platform, accompanied by Commander Law. The mistress of Government House wore a white satin gown and a black picture hat. The Lieutenant-Governor was accorded an enthusiastic reception, and bowed repeatedly as the audience sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Sir George had scarcely taken his seat when Hon. Edward Blake entered his box and shook hands with him, and the impatient audience took advantage of the opportunity to again give vent to its feelings in uproarious cheering. A moment later Postmaster-General Mulock walked upon the platform, and received his share of the general plaudits.

About the same time Premier and Mrs. Hardy entered the upper box on the left, almost unnoticed—for all eyes were turned towards the entrance on the right, through which Sir Wilfrid Laurier was expected to make his appearance. Lady Laurier, attended by several ladies, occupied the lower box to the left. She was attired in a neat green cloth gown.

And now came the climax of the evening. As the hands of the clock pointed to 8 o'clock, the windows of the great auditorium were lighted up by the setting off of hundreds of rockets and other fireworks without, and the inspiriting music of the brass bands gave notice of the approach of the procession.

An expectant moment or two, and then Sir Wilfrid, attended by Mayor Shaw and Ald. Scott, chairman of the Reception Committee, and preceded by the other members of the City Council, filed upon the platform. The appearance of the Prime Minister was the signal for a great outburst of applause. The audience rose en masse and, amidst a furious waving of kerchiefs, cheer after cheer rent the air. The galleries sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," Sir Wilfrid the while bowing in his most gracefully Parisian style. Some enthusiasts shouted, "He's all right. Who's all right? Why, Laurier!" and the Premier seated himself at Mayor Shaw's right hand, Ald. Scott occupying a chair to the left of His Worship. The other city fathers grouped themselves in a semi-circle round about, and behind them sat Ontario Cabinet Ministers, members of the Dominion and local Houses, clergy, representatives of all churches, and prominent citizens of every political stripe and every walk in life.

Among those who occupied seats on the platform were: Ald. John Hallam, Hon. John Dryden, Hon. William Mulock, Ald. Kutter, Ald. Preston, Ald. O. B. Shepard, Ald. Scott, Ald. Lamb, Ald. Allen, Ald. E. H. Graham, Ald. Woods, Ald. Hubbard, Ald. Carlyle, Ald. Dunn, Ald. Burns, Ald. Beale, Ald. Crane, Ald. Leslie, Ald. Gowanlock, Ald. Lynd, Ald. Spence, Ald. Russell, Ald. Frame, Ald Saunders, J. A. Boyle, Mrs. Willoughby Cummings, Rev. R. P. McKay, Rev. J. A. Morison, S. A. Jones, George Hentzman, Joe Tait, Albert Nordheimer, Rev. Mr. Coulthard, Rev. Dr. Stewart, W. T. J. Lee, J. O'Donoghue, Bob Defries, George G. S. Lindsey, Rev. Mr. Barkwell, Tom Crawford, M.L.A., S. E. Bruce, Rev. Father Ryan, Inspector Noyes, Walter S. Lee, Rev. P. C. Parker, R. W. Father Hand, Major Hoskes, Alex Smith, Capt. Currie, J. A. McLaughlin, John Hewitt, Stephen Burns, Dr. Spence, J. S. Willison, Dr. Chase, John Wright, Dr. Griffin.

After the ovation to the Premier Mayor Shaw arose and introduced the Premier in most eulogistic terms. Of the army of distinguished people who had visited the great Jubilee in England none had received such a share of popular favor as had Canada's representative, the Premier. Signal honors had been conferred upon him by Her Majesty the Queen and the mighty concourse of people in London on Jubilee day. They had done him great honor. The speaker was proud to see such a grand gathering as that before him to do honor to the great man. [Applause.]

And now came another of the climaxes of the evening. At the invitation of Mayor Shaw, Hon. Edward Blake, Imperial member of Parliament for South Longford, made his way from the rear to the front of the platform, and his progress was cheered to the echo by all the excited Reformers present. Sir Wilfrid greeted him warmly, and, as the ex-leader of the Liberal party shook hands with his brilliant and more successful successor, the enthusiasm of the crowd reached its highest pitch. Mr. Blake, as he seated his burly form by the Premier's side, seemed overwhelmed with emotion, and for the next ten minutes he sat still, with flushed face and downcast eyes.

The next incident of the night was the presentation by Ald. Scott to Lady Laurier of a gigantic basket bouquet of American Beauty roses, which also delighted the already much pleased audience.

And now the business of the formal reception began. At Mayor Shaw's behest, Ald. Scott presented Sir Wilfrid with a handsomely bound and illuminated address from the city of Toronto, reading it in full.

When Sir Wilfrid rose to receive the address many of those on the platform and in the audience made as if to rise also, but he moved them all to their seats again, and stood alone throughout the presentation. The Prime Minister appeared at his very best. He wore a white rose in the lapel of his black morning coat, and his grey trousers were carefully creased, and as he stood there silent his pure, refined features, graceful form and distinguished bearing impressed themselves upon the great gathering, and when he began to speak all was silent.

The Premier's Reply.

Sir Wilfrid assured His Worship the Mayor and his fellow-citizens of the city of Toronto that he had been deeply touched by the welcome he had received by the words of the civic address just read to him, and in fact by the great warmth of the whole reception accorded him. Perhaps, if he had followed his own inclinations, he would have visited Toronto before—he would have come here before going anywhere else. He was all the more delighted at the great welcome given him here, because the people of Toronto were not of his own race. He was delighted, moreover, that he could now look on the respect of his political opponents. The references made in the address to the honors conferred upon him by the Queen were altogether too kind. While he valued these honors very highly because he had received them at the hands of the most august lady of the world, he esteemed them more because they met with the approval of his people. He did not pretend to be deserving of them all. While on the other side of the water he had striven to do his best for his country. He did not claim the credit, but it could be said that since last June Canada occupied a higher position, not only in the eyes of the British Empire, but before the nations of the world, than she had done before. The name of the Dominion was only vaguely known before, but now Canada was acknowledged to be a land of great promise. He did not claim all this as the result of his own efforts, but he had done all he could.

Turning to the reference made in the address to his French origin, Sir Wilfrid said it was a proud day when he had been able to say in France that the people of Canada were the freest in the world. He then thanked his hearers for the kind references made to his wife, for she had been his greatest help all his life long.

Here the Premier again spoke of the great kindness he had received at the hands of his fellow-citizens since his return. He had been applauded in the streets of London, but to him those plaudits were not half so dear as the praise of his own people. He had thought he loved Canada before he left, but since his return he loved his country a thousand times more. La belle France was beautiful, England was beyond description, and so were Ireland and Scotland, but all of them together could not compare with Canada. [Applause.]

His Worship the Mayor announcer that it was the desire of the German citizens and the French-Canadian citizens, resident in Toronto, to present addresses of welcome to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He called upon Mr. Henry Steiner to read the German's address.

The address from the French-Canadians was read by Mr. L. J. Rachaud.

The same address was then read in the French language by Mr. J. Belanger. Some of the audience tittered and were amused at the strange tongue, but the murmur soon subsided and the address was then listened to with most respectful silence, and heartily applauded at its conclusion.

In reply, Sir Wilfrid expressed his appreciation of the addresses. That French and Germans could thus join together in Canada proved the liberality of our institutions, for in Europe such a thing could never be. Under our free institutions all nationalities could honor their fatherlands, but they were first of all Canadians. In conclusion, he again thanked his French and German fellow-citizens for their kind addresses.

HON. EDWARD BLAKE SPEAKS.

The ex-Leader of the Liberal Party in a Manful Position.

Hon. Edward Blake was then asked to speak and when he arose he secured an ovation, equal to that bestowed upon Sir Wilfrid. The vast assembly stood upon seats, waved their hands and handkerchiefs and cheered as they had done for the Premier. He said that he had gladly accepted an invitation to be present on such an interesting occasion—interesting particularly to himself. He rejoiced in the occasion in the public interest and in the national interest. He had been told sometimes, and he did not in the least dispute it, that he had been a political failure. [Cries of "No, no," and general uproar.] He had, however, been a great success in the choice of his successors. [Cheers.] Five and 20 years ago he was the First Minister of Ontario and when he gave up that honorable position to fight in the public interests in another arena, he was called upon to discharge a most responsible duty, that of naming a man for his successor. It was a hard task, but, after much consideration, he named a gentleman who had not then been at all prominent in politics and had not at that time been a member of a Legislative Assembly. [Cheers.]

Whole Family Made Well by This Great Medicine.

I thought I would work it off, but it grew worse, and I was obliged to shut down my sawmill and stop work. My blood was poor and I did not have any appetite. I could not sleep nights on account of the severe pains. I decided to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills. In ten days time I felt relief, and now, a few months having elapsed, I am myself again and am

A BIG SURPLUS.

The Ontario Government Expects to Make a Most Favourable Showing this Year.

Toronto Star.

The surplus of the Ontario Government this year, so far as can be ascertained, will go up into the hundreds of thousands.

It probably will reach the half million mark.

The receipts in every department are increasing fast, but especially in the Crown Lands department. The receipts from mining lands alone this year will amount to at least $200,000, which is about $160,000 more than last year.

Then the woods and forests branch will bring in a large increase.

The public institutions will, for the most part, return surpluses.

The estimate for succession duties is $175,000, and that amount will be reached.

The province is feeling the effect of good times, and the law stamp revenue and all forms of casual revenue are increasing.

This does not look like an election before a session.

OMEMEE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Weather is now broken and farmers are rejoiced to get at their ploughing again after such a dry spell.

Mr. John Kincaid, of Peterborough, has been in those parts buying up apples.

The volunteers of this place returned home all well pleased from Kingston camp under Major Evans and Lieuts. Thornton and Neill.

The anniversary services in connection with the Presbyterian church will be held Sunday, Oct. 24th. An interesting time is expected.

A. Thornton, of this place, is at present confined to his room by illness.

Dr. Cameron, late of Petrolia, succeeds Dr. Bradd, who has moved to Peterborough. Dr. Cameron comes highly recommended.

Our township show came off Tuesday and came off very well considering the lateness of the season. The tents were supplied by Turner & Sons, of Peterborough, and the stands and attractions outside of the exhibition were supplied by Peterborough, giving good value for what they offererd in their various specialties.

The Commercial House, now managed by Mr. Speilman, is classed amongst the best country Hotels, and just as near perfection as an orderly, quiet house can be had.

ENNISMORE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. M. Dwyer and his sister, Mrs. James Moreland, of Rochester, were in Peterborough last week visiting their brother, Mr. John Dwyer, of Water street. Both are former residents of Ennismore. Mr. Dwyer carried on business in Peterborough as carriage builder thirty-five years ago, when he sold out his business and removed to Rochester, where he continued the same business very successfully. His old friends will be pleased to learn that he is now one of the prominent citizens of that city; one his sons is the Rev. Father Dwyer and another son holds the position of Deputy City Attorney. During their visit here they erected a monument on family plot in Ennismore to the memory of their parents and other departed relatives. The monument contains the inscriptions of James Moreland, husband of Mrs. Moreland, and several members of her family. It is one of the handsomest monuments in the cemetery and was designed and manufactured by Coughlin Bros., Peterborough.

SIR WILFRID IN TORONTO.

The speaker, continuing, said that he had been told that he had disgraced and degraded the bench by his action, and those who told him so afterwards repeated and redoubled the offence. Sir Oliver Mowat was the man he named and the man who had governed the province for a longer period than any other Prime Minister in any English speaking country in our day and the man who we all know is shortly to come amongst us again full of years and of honor, and to fill the highest place of honor in the gift of this province. [Cheers.]

Mr. Blake went on to say that when, eight years ago, he had retired from the leadership of the Liberal party on account of ill-health, a deputation of his colleagues in Dominion politics had called upon him, and at their request he had named a man to succeed him. This man was a French-Canadian Roman Catholic, and he was led by some of the great risks he took when he named him, though, because he knew the man and now the country also knew the man. The fact of the selection held by that man to show that all difficulties and prejudices of racial differences had been overcome. [Cheers.] The man who now held this high position was his second choice in Canadian politics. He had begun well in following the call of the first choice, and it was the speaker's hope that that man would meet with part the honor of the other and he would then have attained that which would satisfy any public man. The gentleman was Sir Wilfrid Laurier, a man whom the speaker had learned to love in the days when they were fighting together.

"I am able to add ratification that belongs to a triumph dearer than if it had been to my own personality," concluded Mr. Blake, as he sat down amid tumultuous appause.

When he could make himself heard above the cheering that was being tendered the last speaker, the Mayor arose and stated that the addresses having been read and replied to Sir Wilfrid Laurier would have great pleasure in conducting a brief informal reception, and would be glad to shake hands with as many of those present as possible.

Then there was a sort of a mad rush for the platform, where the Premier stood with the glad hand, which went through several thousand shakes before it was taken away to a carriage.

DINED AT THE QUEEN'S

Sir Wilfrid Entertained at Luncheon by the Mayor and Council

The welcome speeches over, the fortunate aldermen and political representatives of the people repaired to the Queen's Hotel to enjoy the feasting. Here the "luncheon given by the Council of the corporation of the city of Toronto," to the distinguished guest of the city was enjoyed by the givers and by Hon. A. S. Hardy and Messrs. W. F. Maclean, M.P., William Lount, M.P., O. A. Howland, M.L.A., President Mackenzie of the Liberal Association, City Clerk Blevins and City Treasurer Coady.

Then Mayor Shaw arose to propose the honors to "Our Guest," who sat to his immediate right. Sir Wilfrid, he said amid laughter, had quite won his heart in the few hours he had had the pleasure of knowing him. He would not inflict a long speech, because Sir Wilfrid being almost as old a man as himself would not relish staying up too late nights. [Cries of, "He don't do as much of it as you do."] Like Mr. Maclean, he had a good deal of Scotch in him. [Cries of "What brand?"]

Reverting to his subject, he spoke of the delight, as a Canadian, with which he looked upon the hearty reception of Canada's favorite son. He could not say he hoped he would be so for ever, but would say he hoped he was so, so long as it was for the good of his country.

Mr. Maclean interrupted by commenting to the effect that the last was a well-rounded point.

This provoked the Mayor to remark playfully that he hoped "Billy" Maclean's abuse of him would cease after the evening's fun.

His Worship concluded by proposing the health of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. This was heartily responded to by the strain of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and by cheers for Lady Laurier.

In reply Sir Wilfrid said that, knowing the Mayor's antecedents, he had wondered at his heart being warmed towards himself. The secret had been explained when His Worship had spoken of being abused by "Billy" Maclean. [Laughter.] He himself was a sufferer from the same abuse in the columns of The World. All agreed, however, in proposing what they believed to be the best measures for the people. Ours was a country of progress—he was about to say of reform—but progress was reform, and reform was progress. The Mayor was too kind to him in saying that he had won his heart, but he was happy to feel that the people of Toronto had won his heart. [Applause.] It was a source of pleasure to him to see a city like Toronto where his political friends were a small minority, rivalling Montreal and his own city of Quebec, where his political friends predominated in cordially receiving him. If it meant anything it meant that, though divided politically, his countrymen could unite on grounds of a common brotherhood, a Canadian nationality. There might be a difference in methods and means, but the purposes and objects of all were the same. He believed His Worship was in the wrong; His Worship believed the same of him.

Nothing gave him more hope for his country than the fact that the Canadian nation idea had been more deeply rooted than ever before. Even though there might sometimes be errors in methods of policy, yet so long as this idea prevailed errors would be rectified and the country benefited. His trip abroad had made him a thousand times prouder of his country than ever. [Applause.]

"If I have any thanks to offer to Providence," he added, "it is because I was born on the free soil of Canada." [Applause.] The future of Canada he believed was to be found in the formation of a nation within the bounds of the British Empire." Concluding, he thanked those present for the honor done him, and proposed the health of the Mayor.

Mayor Shaw, in responding, remarked that he felt it his duty to deal honestly and fairly with all classes, no matter what their political proclivities might be. When it had been reported that Sir Wilfrid was coming to Toronto, all classes had heartily vied with one another in striving to do him honor. It was the wish of all the members of the Council that the man whom all Canada was honoring and by whom Canadians were being honored should be cordially received. He was glad to see a spirit of fair play, good feeling and right mindedness prevailing. The cheers along the route of the procession had come as heartily from Conservative as from Liberal throats. [Hear, hear, and applause.] Concluding, he referred to the occasion as one which would prove the proudest recollection of his mayoralty term, and called upon Ald. Scott to propose the health of Premier Hardy.

The chairman of the Reception Committee complied, and the Attorney-General, in response, remarked that he, too, had found his heart keep time to the other speakers when they had spoken of being abused by "Billy" Maclean. [Laughter.] Whatever might be said of The World's abuse, however, it must be said that it was a pretty lively paper. The World often mingled its sharp attacks on himself with speaking many truths in his favor. The cordiality of the Council was a tribute to their manliness. He was glad to see that they had been the first to extend the "glad hand" upon the Premier's arrival. It was also a source of satisfaction to him to see the efforts being made along the same line by the Board of Trade, representing the business interests not only of the city, but of the Province at large.

He concluded by proposing the health of Ald. Scott, chairman of the Reception Committee.

Ald. Scott responded, and toasts to the Dominion House of Commons and the Provincial Legislature were replied to respectively by Messrs. W. F. Maclean, M.P., and O. A. Howland, M.L.A., in bright, brief speeches.

The City Council of Nashville will receive a formal proposition from the Social Democracy to build a seventy-five mile road from Nashville to Lebanon, which will be turned over to the City of Nashville for a nominal consideration. Labor for the building and operating of the railroad will be furnished by the Social Democracy, and it is intended that the road be maintained under the methods set forth by the advocates of public ownership of railroads.

TELLER PONTON ARRESTED

In Connection With the Robbery of the Dominion Bank at Napanee a Few Weeks Ago.

Napanee, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The people of Napanee were very much excited by a rumor of the arrest of W. H. Ponton, the teller in the Dominion Bank here, in connection with the bank robbery committed some time ago. This rumor proved correct, as Ponton was arrested at 8 o'clock to-night by the chief of police, acting under the orders of the detectives working on the case. He will be remanded to jail until Friday, when he will be tried by the magistrate.

Ledger-keeper W. D. Durand and Messenger W. H. Green have been transferred to other branches of the bank.

The Fires Are Out.

Winnipeg, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Reports from the burnt districts of the province contain the news that there have been no more fatalities. Active steps are being taken to afford relief to those east of Winnipeg, who are chiefly new settlers and foreigners. So great has been the destruction of hay that many farmers will have to sell their cattle, being unable to feed them during the winter.

Guaranteed Income Policies.

This Form of Policy has lately been introduced by the "SUN" LIFE

OF CANADA.

It is the most modern development of Life Assurance, and in the opinion of many comes nearer to perfection than any form of contract that has preceded it. The Guaranteed Income Policy provides for the payment of the sum assured in 10, 15 or 20 equal annual instalments, but it goes further and guarantees that if the beneficiary be still alive at the end of the 20 years, the instalment will continue to be paid to her during the whole of her subsequent life whether that be long or short.

Intending insurers should investigate this policy.

TORONTO MARKETS.

Toronto, Oct. 6.

Flour—The market for flour is quiet, but the feeling was a trifle better this afternoon. Straight rollers are quoted for export at $3.80 to $3.85 west, and car lots here at $4.

Wheat—The demand was better this afternoon, and prices are higher. Sales of red and white at 77c, high freights, and some buyers offering 77½c to 78c west. No. 1 Manitoba hard is firmer at 90c, Fort William, and at 85c, Goderich.

Bran—The market is quiet at $7.50 west and $8 middle freights. Shorts $11.50 to $12 west.

Buckwheat—The market is quiet and prices purely nominal.

Barley—The market is quiet, with offerings moderate. No. 2 is quoted at 30c and feed at 21c to 25c.

Oats—The market is dull, with sales of white at 21½c west and of mixed at 21c west.

Peas—The market is firmer, with sales at 45c north and west.

Oatmeal—The market is quiet and prices steady at $3.10 to $3.20 for cars on track.

Corn—The demand is fair, and prices unchanged at 30c to 31c west.

Rye—The market is dull with fair offerings. Car lots sold outside at 40c west.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

There were delivered on the market yesterday 25 cars of live stock, composed of 721 cattle, 771 sheep and lambs, 15 calves and 1300 hogs. The trade in export cattle was again dull and slow and only a comparatively few sales were made and these were at still lower prices than on Friday last.

The main reason for this was discouraging cable reports from the English markets, and space being high in the boats caused dealers to hold off. At the close of the market there were several loads of export and quite a number of butchers' cattle still unsold.

Choice export cattle sold at $4 to $4.25 per cwt., while medium brought $3.75 to $4 per cwt., and one load, the best on the market to day, was sold by D. O'Leary to James Eakins at $4.30 per cwt.; they weighed 1290 lbs. each.

James Eakins bought another load weighing 1250 lbs. each at $4 per cwt.

Crawford & Co. sold 23 heavy cattle, which were brought here as exporters, at a little less than $4 per cwt. for feeding purposes.

The better grade of butcher cattle sold fairly well and choice are reported scarce. The commoner grades were dull and slow of sale. Choice butchers' were worth from $3.50 to $3.75, medium $3 to $3.40 and common $2.50 to $2.75 per cwt.

Eight fancy heifers weighing 930 lbs. each sold for $3.75 per cwt.

W. J. Mctlelland sold two loads of good butcher cattle averaging 900 lbs at $3.30 per cwt.

P. B. Mellburney, Lt bay, sold one load of butchers' cattle weighing 900 lbs. each at $3.25 per cwt.

A. M. Buck sold one lot of medium butcher cattle weighing 1000 lbs. each at $3.00.

Not many first-class export bulls were offered, but we would quote them at about $3.50 to $3.75 for the best.

A. M. Buck sold one weighing 1650 lbs. at $3.40 per cwt.

The demand for light and heavy feeders and stockers was not so good; and the market was easier than it has been this season.

Prices for heavy feeders ranged from $3.40 to $3.90, while for light feeders $3.25 to $3.50 was paid, and for stockers for buffalo $2.75 to $3.40 was about the range, although a great deal depends on the quality.

A. M. Buck bought a bunch of 900 lb. steers of good quality at $3.35, also 2 weighing 1100 lbs. each at $4 per cwt., and 2 more averaging 950 lbs. at $3.50.

J. Fleewelling of Hamilton bought a bunch of stockers weighing from 600 to 700 lbs. for which he paid $3 to $3.25 per cwt., and a lot of stock ewes at $3 per cwt.

W. H. Patterson of Agincourt was on the market and bought a car load of steers weighing about 900 lbs. at $3 per cwt.

H. P. Kennedy of Peterboro bought one load of light feeders, averaging 900 lbs., at $3 per cwt.; these were bought for Ontario farmers.

A. M. Buck one lot of Buffalo steers weighing 770 lbs. at $3.10 per cwt.

Milk cows sold well at $25 to $45 for about 15, which was all that were for sale.

Calves were in good demand and sold at $4 to $8 each for the general run and as high as $11 to $12 was paid for three extra good ones. More are wanted.

The market for sheep and lambs was dull and slow. Export ewes sold at $3 to $3.25 per cwt., and bucks at $2.50 per cwt.

Lambs brought $3.75 to $4 per cwt., and $2.50 to $3.25 each; the market opened brisk for lambs and closed very dull.

The market for hogs declined 12½c per cwt. and $5 for thick fats and light, and $3.50 to $3.62½ for choice selections were the prices paid.

James Eakins shipped six cars, Williams & Hale two cars, and Joseph Gould one car, all export cattle, per G.T.R.

The game was much more interesting and exciting than that of yesterday.

JUDGE'S HOT WORDS

In Dismissing Hiram Young at the General Sessions.

THE ACCUSED MADE NO DEFENCE.

A Very Peculiar Case of Marrying and Giving in Marriage Judge Morgan is a Veritable Solomon in Such a Difficulty — The Facts in the Case.

Toronto, Oct. 6.—"It is not possible for me to say whether you are morally guilty or not in this case, as you have not had any opportunity to deny the charges made against you by this complainant, but I find you legally not guilty. If what this man says is true, then you are guilty of most scandalous conduct, and are an unmitigated scoundrel for whom the penitentiary is too good. I do not say you are, remember, but I make these remarks in order that they may brand you, if your conscience does not acquit. You are discharged."

Judge Morgan addressed himself in these terms to Hiram Young, erstwhile butcher and grocer at the corner of Niagara and Wellington-streets. He was charged in the Sessions on two counts, one of having stolen the sums of $150 and $1350 from Rebecca Kiechammer of Youngstown, the second of having obtained these moneys under false pretenses. The false pretences consisted of having captured the affections of Rebecca Kiechammer and married her when he had a wife living in Toronto.

Judge Morgan tried the case without a jury, and there was no defence put in.

The complainant, who is the widow of a United States pensioner, is a lady of over 50. She stated that Hiram Young boarded with her at Lewiston, where he worked as a carpenter, and got into her debt. Nevertheless, he won her heart, and they were married at Niagara Falls. In proof of the marriage she produced a certificate stating that Hiram Page and Lottie Young of Hamilton were married on Sept. 20, 1896, by Rev. Robert C. Brownlee of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, Niagara, N.Y.

"What name did you take after the marriage?" asked Crown Attorney Dewart.

"He asked me to keep the marriage dark, and take my mother's name, and as I loved my mother, I took her name."

The day after the wedding she gave Page, or Young, to give him his right name, $150, and he left for Toronto, where in two weeks time she joined him, bringing with her $1350. They started a grocery store at one corner of Niagara and Wellington-streets, and a butcher store at the other, and lived as man and wife. She stated that she put the money into the business, being anxious to see Hiram make a good living.

"If he had not got drunk every time he turned around, he might have earned a good living," she said. But the business did not pay, and in two months her money had gone.

"I never knew till then that money had wings. I paid my last dollar to prevent him from going to jail. It cost me $35 to save him from going over the Don. If I had known that he had another wife I would not have done it. I learned shortly afterwards when he put a chattel mortgage on my goods that he had another wife. I taxed him with it and he did not deny it. He said I had been a good wife and mother to him. I told him that if she was coming I had not better be here, as she would give me the deuce."

Then Mr. Du Vernet, who defended Hiram Young, took the witness and there was a warm passage of arms, which resulted in weakening the Crowns case in the most important particulars.

She admitted that she had carried away medals and papers belonging to Hiram Young, when she returned to Lewiston, and gave them to, she knew not who, the lodge or some man.

"Oh! some man, eh?" said Mr. Du Vernet.

Mrs. Kiechammer next denied that she had said that she would make Young shell out because his daughters would not see him stuck in a criminal suit. She admitted that she had taken money from the business, but said it was her own.

Then came the matter of the $1350 item. The defence claimed that Mrs. Kiechammer never had that amount and her cross-examination showed that she had only $900 in the bank that she could account for.

"How did you bring that money over here?" asked Lawyer Du Vernet. "Where did you get it from? Did you have it in your stocking?"

"Yes. I brought it here in stocking. I always carry my money in my stocking. I have money in my stocking now at this minute. I wont tell you where I got it from, because it's none of your business. I see that this man (indicating Young), and his gang have come here to bully-rag me. I'm a lone woman, almost an orphan. I have a father, but he is here."

Judge Morgan at this point advised Mrs. Kiechammer to state how she came by the $1500, but the lady remained obdurate.

"Now, about that marriage," said Mr. Du Vernet. "Were you married? Was that alleged minister a real one?"

"He must have been, because he preached in the Methodist Church."

Mr. Du Vernet argued that the Crown had proved nothing. Neither the marriage or false pretense. Juge Morgan ruled that way without putting the accused on defence dismissing the case with the above remarks to Young.

THOUSANDS DROWNED.

Floods in China Wiped Out Sixty Villages Near Pekin, the Capital.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—A press special from Tacoma, Wash., says: The steamer Victoria brings news of one of the most disastrous floods that have ever visited China. Sixty villages near Tung Chou, containing over 80,000 inhabitants, have been destroyed by floods and the people drowned or forced to flee. There are no means of finding out how many thousands have been drowned, but the number is estimated by Chinese authorities at from 15,000 to 20,000. The flooded district is within twelve miles of Pekin, the capital of China.

YOUNG LAMONT'S CASE.

Neighbours Much Interested in the Story—Everyone Thought That the Youngster Would Die, but he's Very Much Alive Now.

DUNDALK, Oct. 4.—Hugh Lamont, of McIntyre, has a young son who is an object of interest throughout this whole section of country. From infancy the boy had dropsy, and was bloated and swollen all over. It seemed to the parents that death could be the only release to one attacked so young by this disease. They heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and began giving them to the child. With the first box the bloating and swelling began to disappear. Six boxes effected a perfect cure and the boy is now just as healthy a youngster as stirs up the dust on the high roads of Western Ontario.

BELLEVILLE.

Belleville People Speak Freely About the New Conqueror of Heart and Nerve Troubles.

Perhaps Some of Them are Neighbours of Yours—they Speak with Emphasis.

Mrs. E. McConnell, says: "For the last 8 or 10 years I have suffered greatly from heart trouble and nervousness. The pains across my chest and over the heart were very severe. My heart seemed to jump and throb until I could hardly stand it. I often felt as if it would jump out of my body.

I grew so weak that I could not work, and was tired at the slightest exertion. Nervousness also afflicted me so much that I was startled at the least noise or alarm.

Naturally this effected me mentally, and I grew very morbid and despondent. The medicines I took did me no good, and I was almost despairing of a cure when I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills at McKeown's Drug Store.

I experienced prompt relief from the first box, and now am like another woman. My whole system is toned up. All my distressing symptoms have been removed, and I cannot feel to thankful to Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for the great good they have done me."

The Hudson Bay Expedition.

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—A. P. Low of Geological Survey, who went north last spring with the Diana, returned to the city yesterday. The Diana entered Hudson Strait on Jubilee Day, Jun. 22. On July 6 she met thick weather and was fast in an ice jacket on the 9th, she reached loose ice, and on the 12th clear water in Hudson Bay. On July 16 Mr. Low's party were landed near Douglas Harbor, a place Mr. Low describes as affording first-rate shelter. On the 18th the Diana steamed away and Mr. Low set forth on his coastwise journey eastwards. On the 26th their yawl became fast in the shore ice and remained until Aug. 1.

"That," said Mr. Low, "was the last we saw of the ice, and we had comparatively plain sailing from then to the close of our boat voyage. The ice appears to melt in the straits."

Shot His Wife and Himself.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 5.—Edward McElroy shot and perhaps fatally injured his wife and then himself in their room at an early hour this morning. There are but small chances of either recovering. McElroy came here from Toronto, Canada. Mrs. McElroy was formerly Ida Morris, and she is a Boston woman. She had threatened to leave her husband.

Chickering Pianos.

For over 75 years the Chickering Piano has been recognized as the world's highest production in musical art manufacture. "Good wine needs no bush" but we may here say that although Chickering Pianos cost more than inferior goods their prices are not so high as to deter purchasers from debating the subject.

Friday and Saturday's Entertainment.

The Toronto Globe says: The jubilee pictures presented by the magniscope at the Auditorium last evening attracted a fine audience. The more important parts of the programme were shown on the canvas. The first represented the Queen's arrival at Windsor on the evening previous to the procession. The figure of Her Gracious Majesty was quite easily recognizable. Altogether the Queen is seen three times, and a good view of her is to be obtained in each picture. The place from which the pictures were taken was the entrance to the Strand. The pictures are very distinct and steady. The vibrations which have been noticed on pictures formerly presented here are entirely lacking. Incidental pictures are preceded by a number of other scenes equally interesting. [illegible] will be shown at the Opera House, Friday and Saturday afternoon and evening. Don't miss this treat.

THE NEW BANCROFT CHURCH.

It was Formally Dedicated by Rev. S. J. Shorey on Sunday Last.

Rev. S. J. Shorey returned yesterday afternoon from Bancroft, where on Sunday he preached dedicatory sermons in the new Methodist church, and on Monday night delivered an address at a tea meeting which was held at the same place.

Mr Shorey describes Bancroft as a most live and enterprising little village with a population of three or four hundred inhabitants. The new church is a frame one, costing about $2,000 and is a perfect model in beauty and modern equipments. It has a seating capacity of 350, and beneath is a large well-lighted basement. It has also a tower and bell. A gallery runs across one end with a seating capacity of about 70.

The congregation entered the new church with a debt of only $350 to meet.

People came from the whole country side to the dedicatory services one man and his wife actually driving nineteen miles in from the country to be present.

Rev O. L. Brown is the indefatigable pastor, and it is chiefly owing to his industry and enterprise that the new church was built. It will stand as a monument to his zeal.

—Norman Taylor, of Tonawanda, N. Y., was called to Lindsay early in the week to attend the funeral of his father. He took ill shortly after his arrival and died yesterday from the effects of an acute attack of appendicitis.

—The Guy Bros. have an entire new show this season, better than ever before. All new people and each one a star. Don't miss seeing them at Bradburn's Opera House to-morrow night. Watch for the grand street parade. 1d —To-morrow evening at the meeting of the Historical Society some new material will be examined, which has been loaned by Mrs. (Hon.) Hamilton, of Auburn and Dr. Boucher. This will doubtless prove to be one of the most interesting parts of the programme.

—At the police court this morning four drunk and disorderly cases were dismissed. In addressing three of the prisoners, who were young men, the magistrate read them a lecture on the evil of their ways, and then told them they could all go. The fourth prisoner, an old man, picked up his bag and went with them, and when the magistrate went to take up his case he was gone, which created quite a laugh at the expense of His Worship.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.

AUTUMN SITTINGS OF THE ASSIZES.

Richard Lund Acquitted—The Jury Relieved of Further Attendance—Progress of the Civil Business of the Assizes—The Salvation Army Case.

After the addresses of counsel and the charge of his Lordship in the charge of rape against Richard Lund, the jury retired and after a short absence returned to court with a verdict of not guilty.

His Lordship in addressing Richard Lund, stated that the jury had very properly taken a favourable view of the matter in respect of which the prisoner was charged, and he added a caution as to being careful of his conduct in the future.

CIVIL BUSINESS.

Smith vs. Canadian General Electric Company.—An action brought by George Smith, of Mildmay, Bruce County, to recover the sum of $500. The sum of $250 is claimed in respect of premiums claimed to have been paid by plaintiff to defendants as a consideration for instructing the plaintiff in the business of an electrical engineer. The remaining $250 is claimed for breach of contract. The hearing of evidence consumed the large part of yesterday afternoon. The case was heard by the judge without a jury. The action was dismissed. A. Poussette, Q. C., for plaintiff; Hall & Hayes and Geo. H. Watson, Q. C., for a defendant.

Butcher vs. Hall.—An action brought by M. T. Butcher, representing the organization known as the Salvation Army, to recover from Richard Hall and Charles McGill, trustees of the Nicholls estate, the sum of $677.50, the amount with interest added from May, 1891, of a legacy claimed under the will of the late Charlotte Jane Nicholls, in which her trustees were directed to pay out of her personal estate the sum of $500 to the treasurer of each Protestant Sunday school of the town of Peterborough. The plaintiff claimed to be the treasurer of the Protestant Sunday school which was at the time of Mrs. Nicholls death and ever since it is claimed, been carried on by the religious body known as the Salvation Army, and by virtue of his office he claims that the Salvation Army Sunday school is entitled by the bequest under the will of Mrs. Nicholls, to receive the sum of $500 with interest.

The defendants, as executors and trustees of the late Mrs. Nicholls, claim that they have been advised that the plaintiff, otherwise the Salvation Army Sunday school, has no claim against the estate of Mrs. Nicholls, such as is set up. The defendants further claim that they have long since paid to each of the Protestant Sunday schools in Peterborough the sum of $500 each. They also decline to recognize plaintiff as treasurer of a Protestant Sunday school at the time of the death of Mrs. Nicholls, and that he was not, therefore, a legatee under the will.

Another claim of the defence is "that the individuals comprising the Salvation Army do not represent any Protestant denomination, and are outside of the class designated in the will of Mrs. Nicholls, and were not in the proper sense a Protestant Sunday school in the commonly accepted and understood meaning of the term."

The hearing of this case attracted a considerable attendance of auditors. Nine witnesses were examined for the plaintiff, and two only for the defendant. Judgment for $500 and interest from 16th May, 1891, and costs was entered. E. B. Edwards for plaintiff; Hall & Hayes and G. H. Watson, Q.C., for defendant.

Fair vs. Fair.—In this action, to recover possession of certain lands in the township of Hope, the defendants did not appear. Judgment given for the plaintiff for possession. The defendants' counter claim dismissed with costs. E. E. Edwards for plaintiff; Hatton & Woods for defendant.

Rogers vs. Canadian Pacific Railway—An action brought to procure an injunction restraining the defendants from filling in the bed or channel of the Otonabee river, at either the opening from the island to the main shore, near Simcoe street, or from the island to the main shore, opposite and below plaintiffs' land, part of Block D, lying south of King street and fronting on the Otonabee river. Plaintiff further asks in the action for an order directing that the C.P.R. shall remove all gravel and piles contrary to or in excess of a certain Order-in-Council of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council, also $500 damages.

Judgment for the plaintiff for an injunction restraining defendants from filling in the channel of the river between the trestle work on their spur line running to the Dickson mills, and awarding the plaintiff $200 damages.

E. B. Edwards for the plaintiff; Wells & McMurchy, Toronto, for defendants.

The Court then rose, the business of the Assizes being concluded.

The Bay of Quinte District in Session.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Reports of the Organizers Continued—The List of Delegates in Attendance—The Annual Address of the President—The Treasurer's Report.

On Tuesday afternoon the organizers who had not reported in the morning now did so.

PICTON DISTRICT,

Mrs. Platt, Organiser:—28 Auxiliaries, the banner district in this respect; 8 Auxiliaries contributed this year for the first time; 4 organized during past year. At a district convention in May 26 Auxiliaries were represented, many delegates driving over twenty miles. Not less than 300 women were present throughout the day. The district convention is the event of the year. The distinctive feature of our work is that several assistant organizers are appointed to look after the work and the stronger and older auxiliaries do what they can to assist the weaker ones.

Parlour meetings are held regularly in some auxiliaries with good results.

Total membership of Picton District, 500; total amount sent branch treasurer, $770; increase, $84.65; Easter offering Picton District, $155.65; Easter offering from Picton First church, $42; the largest offering in this branch from a single Auxiliary.

Mrs. Campbell, of Hastings, for the reported having had encouragements and discouragements in the district during the year, but the preponderance was in favour of the former. There were nine Auxiliaries. Havelock was at a standstill, but the ladies were much taken up with their new church. South Dummer had experienced troubles incident to a country auxiliary. A decrease was reported. $29 had been contributed. Keene had a good year and had sent in twenty-seven dollars. Hastings, Campbellford, Norham and Stirling had a large increase in funds. Hastings increase was $42, Norham's $36, Campbellford's, $39.51. Norwood, Warkworth and Dartford reported about the same as last year. Hastings' funds were raised by straight giving, no extraneous means being utilized. Mrs. Massey had organized a large auxiliary on the Rawdon circuit. The funds raised amounted to $443.37, an increase of $140. The membership is 171, and increase of 13.

Mrs. Gibson, Napanee, of the

reported that last year there had been eleven auxiliaries and three bands. It was hoped that all would be in good working order, but one had apparently dropped out. A new one had been organized at Morven and a band in Deseronto. An increase was reported in all auxiliaries but one. The amount raised this year is $572.74. A larger increase was hoped for, but last year a decrease was reported, so even the slight increase was gratefully received. Fully half of the auxiliaries were sending in sudplies. Every effort possible was being used to work up systematic giving throughout the auxiliaries. Deseronto had secured thirteen new names giving to the systematic fund, making twenty-one in all. The district convention took place on June 18th, this being found to be the most convenient time. The papers and exercises were pronounced very helpful, indeed. $39.69 had been given as a thank-offering. The suggested programme had been used and was helpful.

Mrs. Grange reported for the new

DISTRICT OF TAMWORTH,

She had organized Tamworth, Enterprise and Marlbank during the year. Tamworth had raised $20.25, Enterprise raised $26.25, Marlbank sent in $11 to the Secretary. In all sixty dollars had been sent in from the district.

Miss Lambly, of

reported that last year there had been an addition of one, and others was reported for this year, viz., Whitby, Port Perry, Claremont, Brooklin and Pickering. Progress was reported this year, being the best since the district was formed. There were 97 members and $202.23 was raised, an increase of $36. The actions of the ministers in not offering encouragement was mentioned, but the difficulty was being surmounted by appealing to their wives. Mrs. Locke's presence at the annual convention had been very helpful. Much good had been accomplished by public meetings.

Mrs. Walt,

reported no new auxiliaries, but three new boards. Sixteen auxiliaries were now in working order. Many public meetings had been held, Mrs. Platt and Mrs. Massey being present. An increase of $50 was reported in contributions. Colborne reported not having done any special work on account of the building of a church. Missionary work amongst the women had been agitated in every church in the district.

Mrs. J. C. Sherin, of Lakefield, reported that the work in the

had been very encouraging indeed. Literature had been sent to the unorganized districts, and it was hoped that the seed would have grown fruit. Warsaw reports 12 members, and $24 sent to the treasurer. Bailliboro held 6 monthly meeting with 15 members. Millbrook has been digging through the year and found their buried talent and rubbed the rust off it, and put it out at interest. Pontypool has done nobly with 12 members. Mark street has had a most successful year, and its outlook is bright. Bridgenorth has a faithful lot of workers. Their thankoffering of $25 was the largest of the district. Lakefield has 21 annual members; a box of clothing had been prepared in the year. Charlotte street has 27 members; good meetings are reported with increasing interest. George street Auxiliary is faithful and their missionary zeal has not flagged. They have 61 members.

There are 245 members in the district. $561.32 was contributed this year, an increase of $223.43.

Mrs. G. D. Platt, of Picton, President of the District Branch, read her annual report as follows:

DEAR FRIENDS:

In preparing the programme for this meeting we have had but one concern, and that is how we may secure the greatest good to the largest number in the shortest space of time.

Most, if not all, of us are busy women. We leave our homes at a sacrifice, hence everything that is not eminently practical and helpful is ruled out and even the best must be condensed. While preparing my message I have had not a few misgivings as to the propriety of my occupying even a few minutes of your time. Our treasurers and secretaries will give us the results of the year's work at home. A committee of ladies are prepared to give flash-lights upon the mission fields and in the free parliament methods of work will be discussed when we shall all doubtless learn a great deal.

What is left for me to do? Only to glance at the general aspect of the work and talk to you from my heart for a little while about the needs or essentials of success in Auxiliary work.

A review of our work assures us that notwithstanding our fears at the beginning of this year when the responsibility of the branch work fell into inexperienced hands, God has used and blessed us and crowned our efforts with abundant success.

Some of our workers have been called home; a few may have yielded to the pressure of other claims and dropped from our ranks, but their places are filled, and numerically we are stronger to-day than ever before. Of course this has been our rule; our branch thus far has never presented any other report than that of progress.

One of the principal features of the year is the Easter thank-offering, for which special efforts were put forth with the result that our offering is considerably in advance of former years. Last year our Easter thank-offering was $210.25, this year it is $773.00. If we had worked as hard to increase our membership there would have been similar results. I am not sure that Crusade Day has been observed as generally and as faithfully as it should have been. The original Crusaders were so called because they wore the sign of the cross. In our crusade work let us be distinguished by the spirit of the Master.

is our new department of systematic and proportionate giving. We are waiting with interest for the report of our branch superintendent, but whatever it may be we know that the subject has been brought before all our auxiliaries. Our women are aroused, many of them for the first time, to the conviction that they hold a financial relation to God. At all our district conventions the question that was most generally and thoroughly discussed was that of systematic and proportionate giving. It is too often a thankless office to remind and re-remind our fellow-workers of their duty, but we all owe Mrs. Sing our gratitude and sympathy for her untiring efforts in the discharge of the duties of her office.

No one who has read the despatches from the fields—especially those who have looked out from the mountain top of our "Missionary Review of the World," can feel anything but confidence and courage and thanksgiving. Of course we know beforehand that whatever the temporary aspect may be, our cause is sure to win; but we are creatures of sense, and unless we see with our eyes and hear with our ears, we are soon discouraged.

Do you know, dear sisters, I read a new meaning in that significant passage, "Lift up your eyes and look upon the fields," I believe we are to look not only that we may realize the need and extent of the work, but that we may gain courage. When we look at our own part of the work, it seems so small as to be scarcely worth doing; but when we look at the aggregate of mission work and realize that we have had a humble part in bringing about the result, we thank God and take courage.

THE YEAR HAS INDEED

been a good one in our fields. The reports from Japan are full of interest. Many have heard the Gospel for the first time. Eight girls and sixteen women have been baptized. Spirituality is deepening. Arrangements are being made to enter a new city, probably Nagano. Our missionaries have been reinforced by the return of Miss Robertson, after a year's furlough, and by two new workers, Miss Washington and Miss Sifton.

The year in China has also been marked by encouraging progress in our woman's work. Medical, educational and evangelistic work have been vigorously carried on by our heroic young women, while at the same time they have had much responsibility in connection with the buying of land and the erection of buildings. Two new missionaries, Miss Brooks of this branch, and Dr. Maud Killan, of Nova Scotia, reached Chentu in June, and none too soon, for on the 19th of May, our earnest consecrated Miss Ford was laid to rest. We had learned to love her, and were just catching a little of her spirit when we were stunned by the news of her death. Some day we shall see that this too is among the "all things" that work together for our good. We know quite well what monument Miss Ford would have us erect to her memory—an orphanage where the little foundlings she had adopted, and others may be cared for. How lightly we speak of our missionaries coming and going! How little it means to us, while to them and to their mothers at home it means something to last forever.

Our "Home" at Port Simpson is well equipped and doing good work. Both Mrs. Redner and Miss Clark have been seriously ill, and Miss Paul's health has been impaired, but in the last reports all were improving. Thirty girls are in the school.

At Kitamaat Miss Long, the matron of the home supported by our society, has had a busy year and has given excellent service. The B.C. branch has memorialized our board for a grant of not less than $300 towards a new building for school purposes.

OUR INTEREST

in the Coqualutza Institute is sustained and fully justified. Miss Morgan, Miss Bowers and Miss Churchill are attending to school and rescue work among the Chinese at Victoria, and in the French work the good seed is being sown, and from time to time our teachers are able to rejoice in the fruit of their toil. Our missionaries are not discouraged, though they are repulsed again and again; indeed it is no unusual thing to be told "we don't want you," but in the Master's name they go right on.

Now, what about the needs of our work? When I think of the large number of earnest, capable women who are co-operating in this work, I feel that there is only one thing that can possibly prevent our seeing the success of our efforts, and that is forgetfulness of the motto suggested to us last year—"Not by might nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord." Our first need then is dependence upon the Holy Spirit—recognition of His place and power in our Auxiliary work. Sometimes we marvel at the honour God puts upon His children, in that He uses them to bless others. We need not marvel—it is an open secret. He declares in His word, "They that honour Me I will honour." Just in proportion of our forgetfulness of self, and our honouring of the Spirit will He bless the work of our hands.

Another important element of success is earnestness, fervency of spirit. Do we not all think of those in our various localities who have nearly every other qualification? They have time, money and some disposition to engage in Christian work but they are easily discouraged, soon weary in well doing; because they lack this fervency of spirit—that resistless enthusiasm that compels attention and sympathy, and co-operation. They say to us—"Oh, it would be easy to work if we felt as you do, if we just had your earnestness." They have a way of divesting themselves of all responsibility by regarding this as a gift, not an acquirement. The question with each of us is "Ought I to be interested?" If I ought I will be. I will study and pray over this question until God's opinion becomes my opinion, and I realize in myself the fervency of spirit enjoined by St. Paul.

A third essential is implied in this admonition "be kindly," or as the revised version puts it, "We should love each other for our work's sake, for our Master's sake." If you will pardon a personal reference I would like to illustrate this point from my own experience. Nine years ago I attended a branch meeting for the first time. I went because I was sent, not expecting or caring to go again. The kindness of the President, Mrs. Williams, and others, all of whom were strangers to me, won my heart. I was attracted to the work by the kind and sisterly spirit of the workers. While we are in the flesh we shall be very dependent upon each other and let us never forget that by our spirit we are winning friends or repelling them from our work. At that same branch meeting I learned another valuable lesson. In the course an earnest address at an evening meeting the late Dr. J. A. Williams said, "If any of you have failed to find a blessing in this work it is because you are working for the Woman's Missionary Society and not for the Lord." I had formed a new love for our work but here was a higher purpose even than working for our society.

The fourth essential is missionary information, general, fresh, up to date missionary intelligence. Mission work is God's Holy war, and we should watch the progress of the fight as a general watches a conflict in which his own country is engaged. Enthusiasm is very necessary, but it cannot be used as a substitute for knowledge any more than it can for bread and meat. In some societies the members pledge themselves to spend half an hour at least each week in missionary reading. We cannot serve our cause better than by in regard to the need and the results of mission work. Back of the desire which Christ puts as an essential of prevailing prayer must be the knowledge of the need.

The fifth essential and these are all so important that they all seem to deserve the first place) is system, method in our work. I believe our hap-hazard work, and our hap-hazard gifts were acceptable to God only when we know no better. We are slow to realize that we are God's stewards—that our time and money belongs to Him. A miserly church member once insisted that he was a "proportionate giver"—that he gave in proportion to his religion. Many Christians gave in proportion to their love for Christ, and their appreciation of what He has done for them, without greatly enriching the treasury.

Let us have a definite aim, let us be definite in our appeals, and we shall see definite results. There are some in almost every church who can afford to have a substitute in the mission field, and who would if the subject were properly presented. Others could support an orphan in one of our schools or a Bible woman. Don't think that I would favour sending out missionaries or substitutes in any other than the regular way. I mean paying through the treasury of our own missionary society the equivalent of a missionary's or a Bible woman's or an orphan's support. The money will be as carefully and prayerfully expended as if you send it direct, and you will be just as truly supporting the special object of your love and prayers. I have recently made this appeal on several occasions, and each time some one or more has resolved to become responsible for a definite amount for a definite object.

Now, dear sisters, do we need any added incentive to continued faithfulness and earnestness? If so here it is—this is the Diamond Jubilee year of our woman's missionary work. Dr. Pierson is responsible for the statement that the year that Victoria was crowned Queen of England a returned missionary from China appealed to the women of England for the first time with the result that an organization was formed.

When Lady Aberdeen visited Kingston and made an appeal for the Victorian Order of Nurses in honour of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, Principal Grant said:—"I like this, it is a big thing; it is worthy of men."

Let us not minimize our work by asking and expecting too little, but let us make it worthy of men, worthy of Christian women, and worthy of the Diamond Jubilee year. But let us also remember this, that when we have done our best, be that ever so little, we are sure of the Master's approval as if we had accomplished great things.

A cordial vote of thanks was moved the President for her most complete and interesting report of the year's work.

PEDRO TOURNAMENT.

The first pedro tournament of the year was held last evening in the Victoria Club's comfortable apartments. There were eight tables and the tournament was that of President vs. Vice-President, Mr. W. L. Allen conducting the campaign for the president in the absence of Mr. A. H. Stratton, and Mr. Harry LeBrun captaining his own side as vice-president. It was arranged that five games be played at each table, but one which started late only played three. The result was 22 points to 21 in favour of the president's side. The match was so close that Mr. LeBrun is confident that if given another chance he can captain his men to victory and has issued a challenge to Mr. Allen to enter upon another tournament early next week.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

The Trinity College School team comes up from Port Hope on Saturday next to play the local team, which, with the experience gained from the match last Saturday ought to make a good showing against the visitors. The game will be called at four o'clock and will be one well worth witnessing.

LACROSSE.

Markham has until to-day to put in an answer to the protest of Peterborough. If an answer is not filed the complaint of the Peterboroughs will be granted and Markham will be thrown out. In case an answer to the protest is filed the Executive Committee will meet within a week to to hear the evidence.

An effort is being made to bring Stouffville here for a match. Stouffville won from Markham, on the Toronto Island, by three games to two, so that they would give the Peterboroughs a great game on the P.A.A.A. grounds.

The Globe says that the C.L.A. Judicial Committee will on Tuesday or Friday take up the Peterborough-Markham protest.

In the Wiarton-Orangeville protest Tiny Henry has been suspended and the game ordered to be played over again.

BASEBALL.

The Hespler correspondence of the Galt Reformer contains the following reference to Mr. Dan McCabe, of town: "Saturday will see the last ball game played in Hespeler this year, and also the last appearance on the ball field of "Danny" McCabe, the most popular ball player who has figured in the Waterloo County League this year. The game on Saturday will be a benefit for McCabe, and it is hoped and firmly anticipated that the gate will be a record breaker. The entire proceeds of the game will go to McCabe, the player to whom the favourable standing of Hespeler in the league is mainly due. Dan McCabe, as a twirler, is without an equal in the county league. The baseball public and the press have been loud in their eulogy of his work wherever he has played. His headwork and steadiness have pulled him out of many a tight pinch, and his speed and shoots are always very tantalizing to a batter. As a sticker the Peterborough boy is about as good as any in the business, and as an emergency hitter he can show the dust to the most of them. Mr. McCabe came to Hespeler last spring an entire stranger, but by his good ball playing, his gentlemanly habits and sociable manner has made himself a general favourite with not only the Hespelerites, but with the public throughout the league circuit. Therefore ye fans turn out as ye would to a circus and show your appreciation of the "one-armed wonder's" work during the season."

Cupid, the Beggar.

How Love goes a begging for a little kindly treatment! How many women turn their backs on the little fellow! They give freely of their time and attention to fashion or social pleasures, but seem to regard happy wifehood and motherhood as a mere secondary consideration. They take no end of trouble over the fit of a gown or the success of a dinner party, but think they have no time to bestow upon the health and physical soundness which are absolutely necessary to happy wifehood and motherhood.

Any weakness or disease of the delicate special organs of her sex totally unfits a woman to be a wife or mother. It is a woman's primary duty to be strong and healthy in a womanly way. Careful living and judicious treatment will certainly and completely eradicate these delicate complaints.

A complete and practical treatise on this subject with careful professional advice and suggestions for self-treatment are contained in "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. This 1000-page illustrated book will be sent paper-bound absolutely free for cost of mailing and customs only: 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 50 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce, as above.

Dr. Pierce has given a life time to the study of women's diseases, and has had as wide a practical experience in this particular field as any living physician. His "Favorite Prescription" is a perfect and scientific remedy for diseases of the feminine organs.

It is the only medicine devised for this particular purpose by an educated and skilled physician. It is a positive and permanent cure as attested by more than ninety thousand grateful women.

THE GREAT COAL STRIKE

History and Cost of the Recent Miners' Strike in the States.

The coal miners' strike settled at Columbus, O., on the 11th Sept. began ten weeks previous to that date. From 100,000 to 125,000 men have been out of work in the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, and the cost has been enormous.

The Pittsburg scale was 54 cents a ton. The miners demanded 69 cents, and the long struggle ensued.

Although many of the miners have been in straightened circumstances, some of them living on charity, they have conducted themselves with orderliness and respect for the law. They have committed no acts of violence and destroyed no property. In that particular the strike has been a remarkable one, and the officials of the miners' organizations point to the record with great pride.

The New York and Cleveland Coal Company, of which W. P. De Armit is president, was the chief cause of the strike. For three years Mr. De Armit has made persistent efforts to have his coal mined from 10 to 15 cents cheaper than his competitors. Being in an isolated locality, he persuaded his men to sign contracts to mine coal at 54 cents. The Pittsburg rate last year was 70 cents, and the others of the miners' organization voluntarily cut it to 54 cents in the hope of bringing Mr. De Armit to time. The miners became restless, and about the last of the year they struck. They easily got a raise of 60 cents, but in the spring the operators again reduced the rate to 54 cents. That led to the strike last July and the demand for 69 cents.

The miners declared a general strike, and it was agreed there should be no settlement except a general settlement. Several conferences were held, without result, between representatives of the miners and the mine owners. A convention of labor organizations was held at St. Louis in the hope of inaugurating a sympathetic strike of all union workers, but that failed. Representatives of the mine owners and the officers of the miners' organizations finally agreed on alternative propositions, which were to be submitted to a vote of the miners, and the convention in Columbus, which ended in the settlement on a 65-cent rate, was held in pursuance of that agreement to take the vote on the propositions.

It is estimated that about 50,000 miners are out in Ohio and Pennsylvania. The delay of ten days was a loss of nearly $1,000,000 in wages to these men alone. The total wage loss during the strike has been estimated as between $10,000,000 and $11,000,000 up to date.

Young Hull Gets Off.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Cyrus A. Hull, formerly of Chicago, but now of Princeton, Ont., has after many weeks of legal battling with the Chicago police and his former employers, been discharged from a charge of forgery preferred against him by his employers, Hayes & Walker, real estate dealers and contractors, with offices in the Stock Exchange building.

Young Hull is the son of one of the most prominent residents of the city of Hamilton, Ont., and it was while visiting his home in that city nearly two months ago that he was arrested on complaint of his employers. The young man's father at one time held a judicial office in Hamilton and he is prominent there. Hull fought extradition for six weeks, but the Supreme Court of Canada finally decided he should accompany Detective Frank Corbus to this city. Here the trial has resulted in the young man's discharge.

Returning prospectors to-day report recent rich finds that insure fortunes for their owners.

Massachusetts Benefit.

Boston, Oct. 4.—Messrs. Woodworth & Lord, receivers of the Massachusetts Benefit Life Association, have gone to Canada in the interest of the estate of the defunct association. The largest part of the nominal assets was with the Canadian department, and it is expected that the receivers will endeavor to come to some arrangement with the Canadian authorities by which death claims can be paid and all funds over and above the amount necessary to pay them handed over to the receivers.

The funds of the association in Canada consist of real estate, total amount $19,750, and United States bonds on deposit with the Treasury Department to the amount of $112,500. The death claims in Canada will not exceed $90,000, so, if the receivers are successful in releasing the difference between these amounts there will be a larger dividend to the American claimants. The Canadians, however, already have expressed their intention of paying 100 cents on the dollar to the beneficiaries of dead members and dividing the balance among the living members, and this, without much doubt, will be done. A permanent liquidator has been appointed for the association in Canada.

More Curative Power in Sloan's Indian Tonic than in all other medicines combined.

Michael Dillon, of Richmond Hill, writes:

My wife bought a bottle of SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC from your agent when he was here. She has been in very bad health for several years and has been treated by three different doctors, and has taken a number of different patent medicines, but she thinks one bottle of your medicine has done her more good than all the other medicines she has ever taken, and she wants you to send her another bottle of your medicine.

Mrs. R. W. Wilson, of Fergus, says,

Having used one bottle of your Tonic, I would like another, as I find they give great results. Would you kindly send one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic, for which you will find inclosed $1.00 and oblige.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia—Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Are Now Completely Cured—So says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centres of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

ALMOST A MIRACLE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 9th, 1896.

To the Phrenoline Medicine Co., Ltd., Ottawa:—

GENTLEMEN,—I hardly know how best to express my appreciation of your valuable rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline. My son Gordon, who is 9 years old, has been a sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism for the past two years; was so bad at times that he had to be carried about on a mattress; was attended by two city doctors apparently without the slightest benefit; spent 10 days at Caledonia Springs, came home with no marked improvement; took three bottles of a Homeopathic remedy now being extensively advertised, which did not relieve him in the least. I was beginning to give up all hope of his recovery, when by chance I mentioned the case to a friend who strongly advised me to give Phrenoline a trial.

I did so, with the result that when my boy had taken only half a bottle he was able to get on his bicycle and ride like any other boy around the block.

I certainly feel that I cannot say too much in praise of your medicine, and shall do all I can to make known its value to others.

Yours very sincerely,
(Signed). REUBEN CLARK,

THE GREATEST LIVING GERMANS.

SKETCHES OF A QUARTETTE WHOSE NAMES ARE HOUSEHOLD WORDS.

Prince Bismarck, the Hero of Sedan—Germany's Leading Military Man of To-day, Count Von Waldersee—Herr Krupp, the Maker of Guns—Virchow, the Great Medical Discoverer.

Prince Otto von Bismarck stands preeminent as the greatest German, if not the greatest hero of any race, whom this century has produced. He is the greatest man in the sense that he is the most practical statesman. He is the man who knew how to grasp all the elements in the very complex surroundings of his nation during the years of its birth struggles and to weave them all together into one great system from which he drew a policy that represented not some isolated party of his countrymen, but truly the whole country, with all its parties. For this reason he has accomplished more in the field of world politics than any other man.

Although for many years Bismarck has been compelled by the young Emperor to stand apart from actual politics, his name is still on every tongue. Every opinion to which he gives voice is eagerly received. Every motion that he makes is watched. The man who made an empire out of a handful of jealous and separate states cannot be forgotten.

Bismarck has his enemies, who hate him with the same intensity with which his friends admire him. They are those who opposed his domestic policy in later years. Then, as before, his policy was one of blood and iron. The man of definite purpose scrupled at no exercise of his heroic strength in attaining it.

Bismarck is 85 years old. He will soon be gathered to his fathers. Even then his life-work will not be finished. The trains of action which he started are going on much as he planned them, despite temporary shadows. Century after century will pass before they have come to an end.

Bismarck will never die. His place is with the immortals.

Count Alfred von Waldersee is the leading military man in Germany to-day and on him would in all probability devolve the chief management of the army in case of a German war with any other nation. For many years he was Von Moltke's chief assistant, and on the death of that old hero succeeded him as chief of the general staff of the army, which position he retained until 1891, when he resigned it as the result of a temporary misunderstanding with the Emperor. He is now commander of the Ninth German army corps and a general of cavalry.

Count von Waldersee stands perhaps as close to the German Emperor as any man in the empire. He secured the emperor's personal attachment long before the downfall of Bismarck, and was offered the chancellorship of the empire at the time of Bismarck's resignation. Through the influence of his wife, who thought he was too hot-headed, and not yet ripe enough in experience for such a responsible position, he declined it, much to the wonder of everyone who had been watching German politics. Since then he has been continually kept in mind by the public as a probable successor to that high honor, and especially upon Caprivi's retirement the rumor was current for some days that he was to take the position.

Von Waldersee is a man about 57 years old. His war experience was acquired through long service during the Herr Krupp. Prof. Virchow.

Danish, Austrian and Franco-Prussian wars, and his position was such that he had for many years immediate personal intercourse with the great war lords, to give him better insight into the art of war. Much of his success has been attributed to the tact and diplomacy of his wife, who was formerly Mary Esther Lee of New York.

Herr Friedrich Alfred Krupp bears a name that is famous wherever steel and steel making are known. The greatest purveyor of the tools of war, he is at the same time, by the very immensity of his operations, one of the greatest promoters of peace.

Among radicals and democrats Herr Krupp is known as the man who will not accept a title. Among philanthropists he is known as the friend of wholesome conditions of life for the masses and as the friend of co-operation. Among industrials he is known as the greatest employer of labor in the world.

Friedrich Alfred Krupp is just 42 years old, and it is now ten years since he succeeded his father, the great Krupp, in the control of the great establishment at Essen. On his payrolls there are more than 25,000 men, employed in making cannons and other munitions of war. Thirty-four governments have made purchases there, and more than 25,000 guns of various sizes are frowning on mankind as the result of his operations.

The town of Essen, in which his employes live, is one of the model towns of the world, and it was planned and built under the direct supervision of himself and of his father. "Model houses," separate from one another, are provided for the laborers, and there are schools, baths, libraries and hospitals under his direction. Wages are paid in part on the co-operative system, and he has provided a complete system of pensions for employes invalided by sickness or old age.

Herr Krupp has been a member of the Reichstag, but, like his father, he has steadfastly refused to accept a title or decorations from the government. He stands as a citizen and business man, and does not aspire to vie with the aristocracy in their own honors.

Rudolph Virchow, professor in the University of Berlin and its former rector, is one of the greatest medical discoverers of this or any other age. Though famous before most of the physicians of to-day were born, he has gone steadily on for the last half century adding to scientific knowledge of the human body, and now in his seventy-sixth year is as hale and active as at the beginning of his career.

Virchow's greatest discovery was that of the cellular nature of animal tissue, and it was his book, entitled "Cellular Pathologie," that formed the foundation for his world-wide fame. His theory was that the cell was possessed of an independent life, and that it was self-propagating. Taking the place of the former vague and pseudo-philosophical views of vitality, this theory formed the basis for a new science of physiology.

Since this great achievement Virchow has gone on steadily making discovery after discovery. He has never practised medicine to any extent himself, having been instead the instructor of practitioners.

Like many other German professors of the first rank, Virchow has not let his scientific interests keep him from taking an active part in the politics of his nation. His radical views during the exciting year of 1848 caused him to lose his Berlin professorship for a time, but in 1856 he was recalled to his chair. In 1859 he became a member of the municipal council and conducted a great campaign against corruption, and soon afterward in the legislative chambers his efforts against the crown were so strong that Bismarck challenged him to a duel.

For many years he refused to have anything to do with the present imperial government, but since 1880 he has been a leader of the progressive element of the Reichstag.

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering from some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and the discomfort seem less. Perhaps the nerves are most affected and this in turn disturbs the digestion. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The start of so-called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be that in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time, a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this character. It may be absolutely relieved upon. It affords lasting relief to a woman whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting a physician.

Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

How to Mount by the Pedal.

Many cyclists are unable to mount by the pedal, and this although it is quite easy of accomplishment—a good deal easier than it appears. A little practice is all that is required. Note the position of the hands in the sketches. It is important that this point should be observed, because the strain is more evenly distributed, and prevents a probable twisting of the bracket in a light machine, if the weight is brought heavily onto the pedal. Therefore, the rider must bring his weight onto the handle bars. Standing at the side of the machine, as in Fig. 1, the rider places his left foot on the pedal, just as it descends (Fig. 2) and vaults lightly into the saddle (Fig. 3). It is an easily acquired method of mounting.

This is an increase of $653.75 over last year, and after a standing vote of thanks had been given Mrs. Campbell, the doxology was sung on the suggestion of Mrs. James Kendry, as on account of the stringency of the times, a deficit rather than an increase was expected.

The expenditures for the year have not been arranged as yet, all the bills not being received.

REPORT OF MISSION BAND.

The close of another year forcibly reminds us of the brevity of time and the importance of improving opportunities that open to us but once. While we are not able to report great things we are thankful for some measure of success, and the work is steadily, though slowly, going forwards. Our statistics show that where there were decreases last year we are able to report increases, and yet these reveal but little of the real growth of the work. As it is so largely educational in character it requires time and patience to develop, the results of which shall undoubtedly appeal in strong earnest character to active and further missionary and every other Christian work in due time. Letters of this nature reach us. How I do wish you could hear our little ones pray! We have made dresses and aprons for the poor in our village, a little boy writes (the secretary of a band that lost 7 but they made last year by five) this is the best year our Band has ever had. We sent $5 to the B. Treasurer. We got all our patches together and made three quilts. The President says our girls are growing so interested and helpful. Relieve the President from all anxiety about the programme. One in regretting that larger returns had not been made, stated, "Our church has been so active that we could not get in anything special for our work. Another branch holds a pound social for the poor of the place. From almost every report earnest regret is expressed that large returns had not been made, and hoped to do better next year. The present need of the work is devoted presidents to lead forward this young army of workers. This need is expressed from every quarter. We could organize if we had a leader. Our Band could not be kept open because the president got married and there was no one to take her place. Our president went away, so the work has been at a standstill. There is plenty of material for a Band, but no one to take hold of the work. Oh, for a Christian movement for this department of home work. Patience and toil will be amply rewarded here as anywhere else. I would humbly request that prayer be offered for this supply. Although there has not been a marked increase in number of new Bands, we have held our own. One Band has dropped. One reported last year did not take up the work. Three Bands have been organized, viz.: Campbellford, Castleton, (juvenile) Stockdale, Sidney church, (Frankford) Courtice, Dalrymple.

Total number of Bands, 32.
Band members, 825.
Amount paid Band Treasurer, $568.93.
Amount over last year, $72.59.

THE EVENING SESSION.

At the evening meeting there was a full attendance of delegates, besides a large number of the citizens including several representatives from sister societies of other churches.

The chair was taken by His Worship, Mayor Yelland, in the absence from town of Rev. S. J. Shorey, whose presence was announced on the programme. There were besides on the platform behind an embrasure of potted flowers, Mrs. S. D. Platt, President, Mrs. (Rev.) J. C. Wilson Vice-President and Mrs. Kendry.

The chairman in addressing the meeting said he felt he had been honoured by being selected as chairman of so important a meeting. He cordially welcomed the delegates to Peterborough, and he was sure the presence of so many devoted praying women in town could not but be followed by good results.

Then followed an anthem referring to a missionary subject by the choir of the church.

WORDS OF WELCOME.

Mrs. (Rev.) S. J. Shorey delivered a welcome to the delegates on behalf of the various auxiliaries and the united Methodism of Peterborough. She bade them welcome because of the sake of the society and its work, both in respect of what it had accomplished as well as what it would yet perform. The Women's Missionary Society had amply justified its existence. The enlargement of the work created as well as met difficulties, and it must be remembered that its ultimate object was the salvation of mankind. Reference was made to the Jubilee year, which has shown that a woman has been the centre of the world's attention, and her name stood identified with the greatest moral achievements that the world has ever seen in one reign. In conclusion Mrs. Shorey heartily welcomed the ladies to the best town of the greatest member of the British Empire.

MRS. SHERIN'S REPLY.

Mrs. J. C. Sherin of Lakefield, on behalf of the delegates, returned also a graceful acknowledgment of Mrs. Shorey's warm words of welcome. The season of maturity of nature's growth, the culmination of eleven months' work was a suggestion that the harvest of our labours, faithfully rendered, would be sure. The church that would be prosperous must be a missionary church. Missions should be made the very fibre and texture of the teachings of the church, which should look upon the world with the eyes of Christ.

CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.

Mrs. Kendry presented the report of the Corresponding Secretary. She prefaced her report by showing that the work of the Women's Missionary Society contained details with great results that could not be tabulated or reduced to brief record. In this connection she referred especially to the influence and work of the auxiliaries, particularly in the results of systematic contributions of small sums. The sum total of the results could be inferred from a few examples like these:

One Auxiliary reports progress at the following rate. Organized 1894, seven members, twenty dollars; another, organized '95, nine members, thirty dollars; another, organized '96, ten members, $10; another, organized '97—12 members, $45.

A new Auxiliary in their first year states, "we have prayed especially in our meetings that we may understand the work."

Another Auxiliary has doubled its members this year—with an increase of $9.50 in givings.

Another has doubled last year's thank offering.

Another again has trebled its givings of last year.

Another reports Scattered Helpers strong in connection with Auxiliary, etc., etc.

Twenty-four Auxiliaries report having contributed clothing and bedding for distribution through the Supply Committee. Collections were made in one or two Auxiliaries towards Indian Famine Fund, which of course demi-nishes our income for the year.

Ten new Auxiliaries have been organized since last Branch meeting. They are Dorcas's, Davis, Fish Lake, Green Point, Morven, Maribank, Pickering, Plainville, Rawdon, Hazzard's Corners.

Number of Auxiliaries 142, increase 9; annual members 3,821, increase 116; life members 90, increase 6; total membership 2,911, increase 112; total income from all sources, $5,688.91; amount raised last year, $5,035.16; increase, $653.75.

Mrs. Kendry pointed out that the Bay of Quinte Branch had entered its fourth year and though the society, cut off by the separation from the Toronto conference, from some of the strongest and most influential workers, entered upon an independent existence, with great anxiety, yet the difficulties had been boldly faced and there had been most gratifying growth and results and there was great cause for taking courage and going boldly forward in the good work.

Miss Clara Belleghem sang a beautiful solo—Braga's "Angel's Serenade."

Mrs. Sing, superintendent of systematic and proportionate giving, presented her report showing a gratifying increase of those who had been converted to the practice of this form of helping the mission work. She presented statistics respecting 30 places, showing a total of 319 converted to this form of giving, indicating a most gratifying increase.

GREETINGS FROM SISTER SOCIETIES.

Graceful greetings and words of congratulation and encouragement were presented by the representatives of the several sister missionary societies:—From the Murray street Baptist church, by Miss Aldridge; from the McAll Mission, by Mrs. J. W. Garvin; from St. John's Auxiliary, by Mrs. G. A. Smith; from St. Paul's, by Miss C. Dixon. The representative of St. Andrew's was prevented by illness from being present. Mrs. Grange read the elaborate greeting of the Durham W. C. T. U. society.

Mrs. Platt, the president, acknowledged the greetings of the sister societies and heartily reciprocated their kind sentiments expressed and regretted that the exigencies of the programme of the convention prevented the hearing of reports from them.

The male chorus of the choir supplied a selection in capital style.

Miss Lambly presented the report of the Supply Committee, which showed in interesting and pathetic detail the great boon which the supplies collected through the influence and instrumentality of the committee was to the poor settlers in the outlying mission districts.

Miss Gertie Bowers, of Belleville, gave a recitation—"All for Jesus."

During the collection a duet was capitally sung by Miss Vina Belleghem and Mr. John Miller.

After a closing hymn—"God be with you till we meet again"—Rev. Mr. Shorey, who arrived late, pronounced the benediction.

ECZEMA ON HANDS

Completely Covered, and Between the Fingers Skin Perfectly Raw.

Husband Had to Dress and Undress Her Like a Baby.

Physicians' Medicines Drove Her Almost Crazy.

Hears of CUTICURA. Husband Goes Twenty Miles for It.

First Application Gives Perfect Ease in Five Minutes, and a Night's Sound Sleep.

My hands were completely covered with Eczema, and between my fingers the skin was perfectly raw. I had to sit with both hands held up, and away from the fire. My husband had to dress and undress me like a baby. I tried the best physicians, but their medicines gave me no relief, and drove me almost crazy. I was advised to try CUTICURA REMEDIES, and did so, although my husband had to go twenty miles to get them. As soon as he got back, I used the CUTICURA (ointment), and five minutes after the first application I was perfectly easy, and slept soundly all that night. Before I commenced using CUTICURA REMEDIES I could get no ease night or day. I could not bear to get warm, it would put me in a rage of itching. I always keep CUTICURA REMEDIES in my house now, and recommend them to everybody, because of their wonderful effect. Yours gratefully,

IMPERIAL SIR WILFRID.

Canada's Premier Proves Himself a Great Son of the British Empire.

Surrounded by Conservative Politicians, Sir Wilfrid Explains His Position on the Preferential Trade Question—The Premier's Plan to Cheapen the Cost of Transportation—An Important Announcement Regarding the Fast Atlantic Service—Yankee Trade Not In It With Britain's Dignity.

Toronto, Oct. 7.—History of Imperial importance was made by the utterances of the Premier of the Dominion of Canada, Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, at the banquet tendered him last night by the Board of Trade here. The whole function had Imperial dignity, greatness and success for its keynote, and it was beside a brilliant social success.

The banquet was held at the Pavilion, and the well-known hall was so transformed with bunting and flags, palms, flowers and lights that it was hardly recognizable. The whole roof, with the big central chandelier, was entirely covered with red, white and blue, and from the centre long festoons of colored lights were caught up at different points along the gallery. At 7.30 the guests had nearly all arrived.

At the Guests' Table.

Mr. Edward Gurney, President of the Board of Trade, presided. On his right sat the guest of the evening, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, His Worship Mayor Shaw, Hon. George A. Cox, Mr. E. F. Clarke, M.P., Mr. O. A. Howland, M.L.A., Dr. G. S. Ryerson, M. L.A., Mr. J. S. Willison, Mr. George H. Bertram and Mr. Wallace Macleon. On the chairman's left were Sir Frank Smith, Mr. M. B. Osler, M.P., Dr. Parkin, Mr. D. R. Wilkie, Mr. William Lount, M.P., Mr. Thomas Crawford, M.L.A., Mr. Elias Rogers, Mr. J. H. Mackenzie, President of the Young Liberal Club, and Mr. D. W. Alexander.

The formal toast to Her Majesty the Queen having been duly given and enthusiastically received, Mr. Gurney rose to propose the name of the guest of the evening. In doing so he made a brief but pointed address.

Finally, in calling on the Prime Minister to respond, the chairman said: "We sent him to England as our servant and our friend. . . . I, therefore, propose the name of our Imperial Premier and fellow-citizen, Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

THE PREMIER'S SPEECH.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, after the repeated cheers had subsided, said: "Once before it was my privilege to be a guest of the Board of Trade of the city of Toronto. Four years had scarce elapsed, but in those four years many events had taken place, some most auspicious and some most lamentable. The most lamentable of all was the fact that the one who was on that occasion the chief guest of the day, the then Prime Minister of Canada, Sir John Thompson, is no longer with us. Those who saw Sir John on that occasion, who heard his words, his lofty sentiments and saw his robust frame, certainly did not think that the hand of death was upon him. On the contrary, they supposed that he had many years of useful work for his country before him. Twelve months had not elapsed before his remains were put in a premature grave. The services we had hoped for were not to be given to the country he loved."

Sir Wilfrid alluded to the tragic incident of Sir John Thompson's death and the services at Westminster Abbey, which had, however, proved a bond of sympathy between the Old Land and Canada.

The Premier then referred to another gentleman who was connected with the government of Sir John Thompson, and who is now said to be the most captious critic of the present Government. "I need not tell you," said he, "that I refer to my good friend, George E. Foster. In those days he was in; now he is out. [Laughter.] Well do I remember Mr. Foster piling up statistics and laboring with might and main to convince an unwilling audience that they were prosperous though they did not know it."

Sir Wilfrid said that it was his resolve if the Liberals should come into power that they should not be satisfied with a prosperity that was not visible to the naked eye, but should have a prosperity that they should feel in their pockets. [Cheers.] "The Liberal party," said he, "has been in power some fourteen months. Upon this occasion I see much more cheerfulness upon the faces of the business men of Toronto than I did on the previous occasion." [Cheers.]

Proceeding, he stated that the great need of the country was markets, and the Government were anxious to avail themselves of every opening for trade. "We feel," said he, "that the only thing trade wants is a field for its operations." He referred to the resources of Canada and its various fields of labor. The waters were sought for fish, the mines worked for ores, and the forests for their lumber. Everywhere the people are cognizant of the resources of their country. Their motto is no longer "Canada for the Canadians," but the motto to-day is "The World for Canadian Enterprise." [Cheers.] Canada with her resources could supply the world with all that gives comfort to mankind. "These," said he, amidst cheers, "are the sentiments which inspire me when I speak on this occasion. They are the sentiments which inspired us when we decided to give the Mother Land preferential trade and findan outlet for our commodities in Great Britain."

Then Sir Wilfrid referred at length to his visit to England, declaring, "I did the best for my native country. [Cheers.] Whatever success I may have attained is due to one cause only—I let my heart speak. But I have learned that there are no roses without thorns. [Laughter.] It is not in my power to satisfy everybody. The thorns among the roses are the criticisms of my fellow-countrymen, who think that I have not done my duty to my country in what I did when I was on the other side. Men there are to-day in the press and elsewhere who charge me with treason to my country. But I have heard this charge before. Not more than two years ago I was accused of being a traitor to my race and religion, and now it seems I am a traitor to the whole country. Men there are in this country, who every day, or every week, moved by a sense of indignation—feigned or genuine—accuse me of treason to Canada, and say that in my dealings on the other side of the Atlantic I committed an awful blunder. There is an impression abroad that a blunder has been committed and that a blunder is worse than a crime. But whether blunder or treason, I did what I believed to be the best for my country.

"I have only to say to these self-constituted diplomatists that if I had asked more than I did—if I had asked for more than the denunciation of the German and Belgium treaties, the probability is that those treaties would still be in operation. [Cheers.] If I had thought I could obtain for the products of Canada preferential treatment in the markets of Britain I would have been wanting in patriotism—simply an idiot—if I had not sought to obtain it.

"But in these things I have learned my lesson from British precedent. One step must be taken at a time. He who would do more than that is liable to failure. [Cheers.] It was impossible to obtain preferential treatment with Great Britain so long as those treaties were in operation."

Sir Wilfrid quoted the text of the German treaty in support of his argument, and said that the Belgian treaty was to the same effect. These treaties were taken to be obstacles to the development of Imperial unity. Many had been the efforts previously to do away with these treaties. Numerous orders-in-council had proved unavailing. Resolutions had been passed by the House of Commons and by the Canadian Parliament to relieve us of these treaties, but they had all proved unavailing.

When the Liberal Government came into office they determined on a bold course—to offer a preference in trade to Great Britain. [Cheers.] "Such," said the Premier, "was the condition of things when I went to England. When I went an offer was before the British Parliament. If the British Government held that the treaties applied our clear duty was to ask for the denunciation of the treaties. These treaties were of advantage to Great Britain.

"John Bull is a man of business, I know him well; but John Bull has a big heart. [Loud cheering.] I did not appeal to him on any less ground than this, but I did appeal to the heart of John Bull. We said, we can give you a preference in our markets. But I did not ask for a pound of flesh for the bond. [Cheers.] It was a feeling of gratitude for favors received before. But upon this ground, the treaties fell. We must look at things not from the point of view of our own preference, but as they actually are.

"There is no denying that Great Britain is a free trade country. The great mass of sentiment in Great Britain is for free trade. I do not want to go into a discussion of protection and free trade here. There are protectionists in Great Britain, but there is not a protectionist party. If I had put the question before England apart from free trade principles there would have been no denunciation of the German and Belgian treaties. Our tariff legislation is composed of customs duties. Any preference given by Great Britain in favor of the products of Canada would involve a departure from the principles of free trade. If I had asked for a preference in British markets the whole free trade sentiment would have been enlisted against us. But, instead of this we have the sentiment in our favor.

"This is the case at the present time, and this is the reason why I can say that whatever be the criticism the course which I followed on my visit to England was the only course to obtain the denunciation of the German and Belgian treaties.

"Let me go a little further. At the present time there is nothing in the way; the course is clear; the ground is laid for discussion, and it can be discussed in hope of obtaining some satisfactory solution to the problem. [Cheers.] Let me say, what must be apparent to all, these legislative concessions cannot be obtained in a day. There must be action in Great Britain as well as in Canada. If we do not have preferential treatment in the markets of Great Britain for our goods, we can have a preference of our goods by our own exertions. This can be done at the present time. We have many competitors. Our chief competitor is the nation to the south of us. But we can overcome that by the cheapening of the cost of transportation. Canada has magnificent water routes within her reach—the St. Lawrence, the short route from America to Europe, and it ought to be the cheapest route as well. Let us, then, cheapen the cost of transportation and from that moment we have in the markets of Great Britain a preference for the products of Canada. [Cheers.]

"We have," said Sir Wilfrid, "given great attention to this question. We have commenced to deepen the canals. The moment it is possible for a barge to carry merchandise from Fort William to Montreal, and thence to the other side of the Atlantic, we shall have preference in the British markets, and need not fear American competition. Nay, more, we shall have it in our power to be the carriers of their produce by way of the great lakes across the Atlantic."

"The chairman," said the Premier, "stated that it should be the object of the Government to spend the country's money as business men spend their own money. This is the motto which I, as Prime Minister of Canada, will endeavor to have acted on. We shall endeavor to live up to that motto. Every cent of public money applied to public works should have in view the cheapening of the cost of transportation to Great Britain. [Cheers.] Not only should we have the carrying trade of commerce, but I submit also the carrying of passengers from this continent to the other side. [Cheers.]

"When we came into office we found the fast Atlantic mail service under consideration. Now I am not above telling you," said he, "that I am always ready to put on the clothes of my opponent when I find it convenient. We took up the question of the carrying of the mails. We are, above all things, an economical government, and I wish I could say the same thing of my friend, Sir Frank Smith's Government. That Government had undertaken to give a bonus of $750,000 a year for a fast Atlantic service. We thought it too much, and I succeeded in making a contract at $500,000 a year, thus saving $250,000 a year. We entered into a contract with Petersen, Tate & Co., a Newcastle firm—men of the highest honor and integrity. This firm had many obstacles to overcome. The project met with objections from more than one class of people. Not more than a week ago it was stated that the scheme of Petersen & Co. had failed and must be regarded as a thing of the past. Petersen & Tate said nothing, and to-day I have a telegram from my colleague, Mr. Fielding, to the effect 'Petersen has made to-day the required deposit for the contract.' [Loud cheering.] which led the Premier to remark, "It is with joy, indeed, that I welcome that explosion of satisfaction that the scheme has not failed but is to be carried out."

"Probably," he continued, "this line of steamers will be afloat within two years, carrying the great bulk not only of Canadian traffic, but of the American as well. The steamers will be equal to 20 knots an hour, and take not more than four days between land and land; hence we must of necessity have a large portion of the American traffic.

"All this may seem, said he, to be presumptious, but I have such an unbounded faith in my own country that I believe it will be realised. As British subjects we are all agreed we must give every preference to British trade. We must do everything for the nation, which has given us so much and seeks to cement the bonds of union between us. Still, we must trade wherever trade is to be found, whether Germany, Belgium, France, the Antipodes, let us trade with them. But the best place to find trade is with the Anglo-Saxon race, the greatest commercial nation the world ever saw. You can take, said he, my word for it, as I do not belong to the Anglo-Saxon race, that it is so.

"There is to the south of us a great kindred nation of Anglo-Saxon blood. I am willing to have as far as possible trade with the U. S. I am willing to trade with them, but so far our efforts to trade with our neighbors to the south have not met with any success. While I am willing to make every effort in that direction I shall not, so long as I am at the head of the Government, touch that trade at the expense of the dignity of the British nation. "I am an admirer of the American nation. I am an admirer of their history, and it is only just to say that they have added many a noble page. Still, I make no secret to say that the first consideration in all our dealings with the Americans is the dignity and the honor of Canada. [Renewed cheers].

"We have, continued the Premier, had dealings with the American people. When we came into office I sent the Minister of Agriculture to Washington to obtain the removal of the cattle quarantine regulations. He succeeded in making a convention, whereby the obstacles to the trade in cattle were removed. The result has been a most profitable trade for our farmers during the whole of the summer. Thus, we have done some benefit to Canada.

"Another measure in relation to the United States has been put upon our statute books—the alien labor law, with the principle of which the Premier said he was not in sympathy, but which he justified by way of retaliation. The honor and dignity of the Canadian name will ever be the guiding star of the Government." [Cheers.]

In conclusion, Sir Wilfrid recited the beneficial legislation to remove a disgrace to Canada the sweating system and the adoption by the Government departments of a fair day's pay for a fair day's work. He confessed to his enthusiastic hearers that he was not there to teach, but to learn, and he hoped it would not be the last time he should receive advice from such an intelligent and capable body as the Toronto Board of Trade.

The Premier resumed his seat, amid loud cheering.

Addresses were also delivered by Mr. Osler, Mr. George Bertram, Mr. D. R. Wilkie, and Mr. D. W. Alexander. In a few fitting remarks, proposed the health of the ladies. Lady Laurier was especially mentioned, and this brought her knight to his feet in response. Sir Wilfrid proposed the honors to the chairman, and after this and the concluding libation to Secretary Wills, the assemblage broke up to the strains of the National Anthem.

ARREST OF A GENERAL FAVORITE.

Young Ponton Who Is Accused of Robbing a Bank at Napanee.

Napanee, Oct. 6.—(Special.)—The town is still in a furore of excitement over the arrest of W. H. Ponton, teller in the Dominion Bank. The rumors are many and of great variety, and the people talk of nothing else but the robbery.

The trial will come off Friday morning, and only part of their evidence will be put in by the detectives. They think that they are on the way to the recovery of part of the stolen money.

Mrs. Ponton arrived to-day, in company with E. Gus Porter and William Northrup, ex-M.P., both prominent lawyers in Belleville, who will plead the case for the defendant.

About the only clue found in connection with the robbery is a screw-driver which was found on the premises. Two or three persons can testify to the ownership of it, the handle of which is only a rough piece of wood. The steel part looks as if it was lately forged, as the steel is still blackened, and it does not look as if it had been much used.

Mrs. Ponton tried to-day to get an interview with her son, but found that she could not, except in the presence of the detectives, so on the advice of her counsel she did not interview him.

Belleville, Oct. 6.—The arrest of W. H. Ponton at Napanee, in connection with the Dominion Bank robbery, has caused a very unpleasant sensation here. There is in this community a general belief in his innocence. Mr. E. Gus Porter of this city has been engaged to defend the accused.

WILL BE FROZEN IN.

Difficulties Will Likely Prevent Prospectors Getting to Klondike From There.

St. Michael, Sept. 18.—(Via Seattle, Oct. 6.)—The general impression is that the boats that leave here from this time on will not be able to get over 1000 miles up the river before they will be frozen in. All independent steamers will be compelled to carry coal, as the natives have cut up all the driftwood along the river bank for over 100 miles and have sold it to the steamers owned by the two big companies.

The new finds on Minook and Hunter Creeks continue to cause excitement, and there are now about 600 miners on the ground.

In St. Michael sugar is 25 cents per pound, bacon, 35 cents per pound; blanket trousers, $8; chocolate drops, three for 25 cents; 5 cent calico, 35 cents a yard; cotton bandannas, $1 each; flour, $8 a hundred weight; candles, 35 cents a pound; a small box of sardines, 50 cents.

Six men have probably lost their lives here as the result of a foolhardy attempt to sail up the 1850 miles of river, which in some places runs down at the rate of 8 miles an hour. The men, two of whom are named Abercrombie and Tarte, were last seen drifting out of the mouth of the Yukon to sea in distress.

Three men in a sail boat started up the river from here last week and have not been seen by anybody since. Their names are Matthews, Roberts and Schultz.

MIKADO AND THE CZAR

Will Have to Be Without the Presence of John Bull at the Behring Sea Conference.

London, Oct. 6.—The officials of the British Foreign Office have communicated to the United States Ambassador, Col. John Hay, the final decision that the Government of Great Britain must refuse to take part in any sealing conference with representatives of Russia and Japan. The British Government asserts its willingness to confer with the United States alone, but insists that Russia and Japan are not interested in the Behring Sea seals to a degree entitling them to representation at the conference. The British Government does not suggest any date for a conference with the United States, and it is thought probable in London that Great Britain's withdrawal will result in two meetings, one between the United States, Russia and Japan, and the other between the United States, Great Britain and Canada.

It cannot be too strongly reiterated that the withdrawal of Great Britain from the Washington conference is due to Canada's insistence, and that until the Canadian officials informed the Foreign Office here of Canada's objections to meeting Russia and Japan, out of fear of being outvoted, Great Britain fully intended to enter the conference.

Suffered Agony With Pains in the Stomach—Hood's Cured.

The testimonials in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla are as worthy of confidence as though they came from your most trusted neighbor. They are written by honest people who are grateful for the cures accomplished by this wonderful medicine. Read this statement:

"I was afflicted with severe pains in my stomach from which I suffered much agony at times. I was afraid to go any distance from home for fear of having an attack. I was treated for neuralgia of the heart without avail. At last my mother wrote and urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have her letter before me at the present time and it reads as follows: 'My dear child, it grieves me to learn that you suffer so with your stomach. Do get a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and let me know the result, for I am confident

It Saved My Life.'

I am glad to state that I abided by my mother's advice and I am now healthy and strong. I never think of being without Hood's Sarsaparilla in the house. It is a great help to mothers while nursing. I have given it to my baby with satisfactory results. I cannot state all I would like of the many benefits I have known Hood's Sarsaparilla to give to other sufferers. I gladly recommend it." MRS. FAIR DAY IN APSLEY.

The annual exhibition of Apsley, Sept. 30th, was the most successful ever held in that village. The hotels and many private houses were pretty well filled with strangers the night previous. Early on the morning of the fair farmers and visitors began flocking in, until by noon every place was filled to overflowing. The Lakefield band was on time and furnished music for the occasion, and added much to the pleasure of the day. The weather was all that could be desired, and nothing happened to mar the harmony that prevailed all day. The entries were large and mostly all first class. The cattle and horses in the yard were not quite up to the usual standard, but draught, carriage and buggy horses were very good. Jas. H. Clifford won the special prize, a $5 gold piece, presented by Wm. Anderson, Warden of the county. In the hall the exhibit was extra good. The roots were away ahead of anything ever shown before. Visitors who attended a good many fairs said the root display excelled anything they had seen this fall, while the ladies work was equal in quality to any other exhibit in the county. The grain was also first class. Among the many visitors present were Thos. Blezard, M.P.P., Wm. Anderson, Warden of the county, John E. Belcher, County Engineer R. Shaw and M. Middleton, county councillors, John Crowe, License Inspector, who one and all were unanimous in their verdict that the Apsley fair was worth coming so far to see. The Hon. Mackenzie Bowell had been asked to be present but wrote regretting his inability to attend, as business called him to the Northwest at the time. The president had worked hard to make the fair a success, and was amply rewarded for his labours by the result.

The speeding in the ring was good, but the event of the day was the bicycle race between Mr. Wm. McLean of Lakewade and Capt. Reynolds of Lakefield. The race was hotly contested, Mr. McLean winning the first and third heats and the prize, a banjo presented by Mr. Jackson of Peterborough. Capt. Reynolds would probably have made it more interesting had he had his own wheel.

Oak Hall and Gough Bros. had their representatives on the grounds during the day. Grafton & Co's general manager of the Peterborough branch, Mr. Conway, was also present, assisted by Prof. Walter Golden, who fully impressed upon the public the great advantage of buying from Grafton & Co. The professor drew a large crowd with his inimitable performance on the mouth organ, etc. Come again Professor!

The judges, who were all from a distance, deserve, and are hereby tendered, the thanks of the society for their kindness and impartial judging.

Our village had a most miraculous escape from total destruction. About 12 30 Sunday morning fire was discovered issuing from the building owned by Mr. R. B. Webster and occupied by Reynolds Bros. as a general store. The alarm was at once given, but the fire had gained such headway, the building being frame and very dry, that only a few articles near the front windows were saved—about $75 to $100 worth. The rest of the stock, valued at about $3 000 was totally consumed. Insured for $700. The building was also insured for a small amount. The fire is supposed to have originated in the chimney, as there was a fire in the stove during the evening. The loss to Reynolds Bros. will be heavy. It is only about two years since they opened store in Apsley and were doing a good business. They had just got in their fall stock, besides a large quantity of flour and feed. Had the place occupied by Mr. Eastland, on the north side, caught fire the village would have been a thing of the past to-day, as the water supply is inadequate to cope with any serious fire.

CASSELMAN VILLAGE WIPED OUT

Heroism of an Indian and a Mother in Manitoba--South Indian and Cheney Villages Have Also Been Destroyed by Fire—Families Homeless and Destitute.

Winnipeg, Oct. 6.—(Special.)—News of another fatality in Saturday's fire has reached the city from St. Lament, on the shores of Lake Manitoba. A young lady became demented, wandered into the flames and perished. She was betrothed to young Upjohn, who also perished some miles distant.

From St. Annes, in the southeastern portion of the Province, come tales of heroism in saving life, besides much destruction of property. A woman named Nault saved her six children by carrying them to a slough, placing them in the water and covering them with a wet blanket.

An Indian saved eight children that had been placed in a cellar, by fighting his way half a mile through the burning bush, crawling in on his knees, pulling them out and burning the shanty. The mother was crazed with fear. Twelve families lost everything in St. Adolphe, and fifty people were burned out.

Six Hundred Families Homeless.

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—The fires which have destroyed the villages of Casselman, South Indian and Cheney villages originated from the fires set in different places by the farmers for the purpose of clearing the brush from land, and have been burning for a couple of weeks. Day after day, however, as there has been no rain, the adjoining woods have become drier, and when a strong wind set in Monday night and yesterday morning, the brush fires communicated to the cedar swamps, and in a short time miles of bush land were in flames.

The farmers in the section who have not been burned out have placed their houses and barns at the disposal of the homeless, and are providing as much food as possible, but the relief offered, while it is all that can be for the present, is not at all in proportion to the number who are suffering.

At South Indian there are only a few houses left of what was once a thriving and prosperous village of some 400 inhabitants. Four deaths are also reported. They are Mrs. Levielle, her sister, Miss Stiles, and Mrs. Levielle's two children. They are very badly burned, and two of the bodies had cracked open from the effects of the fire. They rushed from their house to escape to the clearing, but the smoke surrounded them, and they lost their way. They ran on into the flames and so lost their lives. Their house was one of those not burned.

An hour after the first house in South Indian caught there were not half-a-dozen houses in the village standing. About 60 houses were destroyed, as well as the Royal Hotel, kept by J. K. Quesnelle, the Goddard Hotel and the Gauthier House, the large general store of the Edwards Trading Company, and Morse Shaver's store.

The fire had been burning in the bush for some days, and about 1.30 yesterday it struck the village of Casselman. The inhabitants made an effort to save some of their effects, but were in the majority of cases unsuccessful. There are about 100 families homeless and wandering through the burned fields. Some have been taken to friends outside of the village by train and by vehicles. There were four mills in the village burned: Mr. McLennan's saw mill and some 2,000,000 feet of lumber, loss $12,000, with an insurance of $300; Mr. J. N. Coupal, flour and lumber mill and lumber, loss $15,000, insurance $5000; Baker Bros.' brick yard, loss $2000, no insurance; J. King, brick yard and private house, loss $5000, a small insurance; Casselman Cold Storage Co.'s building and stock, $8000, insurance $4500; filled with cheese and meat; E. N. Hurtubise & Co., general store, loss $3000, covered by insurance. Loss on private house and sheds $4000, insurance $2800. Mr. J. Benois, general store, dwelling and warehouse, loss $15,000, insurance $8000; Pilon Bros., general store, loss $10,000, insurance not known; P. Morais, general store and dwelling, loss $2000, insurance unknown; S. T. Blughame, postoffice and general store and dwelling, loss $5000, partly covered; P. Bissonnette, general store, dwelling and warehouse, loss $10,000, partly covered; J. O. Merckley, postoffice and general store and dwelling, loss $2000, no insurance; G. A. Guertin, foundry and dwelling, loss $5000, partly insured; Joseph Charlebois, hotel, loss $3000; insurance $1000; A. Sauvourin, loss $4000, partly insured; James Riddle, tinsmith, loss stock and furniture, $2000, no insurance; D. Maclean, blacksmith, loss shop and dwelling, $2000, insurance $400; J. Monpetit, carriage maker, loss $2000, insurance unknown. The Roman Catholic Church, valued at $12,000 and insured for $6000, was destroyed; the Presbyterian Church, valued at $2000, insured for $900; Roman Catholic Separate School, valued at $4000, insurance $2000; priests palace, value $3000, partly insured, Rev. Father Francoeur, house, valued $2000, partly insured; Rev. Mr. McLean, Presbyterian minister, loss on house and furniture, value $2500, insurance $800; Mr. C. M. Hayns, C.A.R. agent, house and furniture destroyed, no insurance.

The residence of Mr. Sam Casselman was destroyed early in the afternoon. The people fought bravely to save this beautiful home, but without avail. The loss will be $4000, no insurance. The old brick homestead of Mr. Martin Casselman of Riverside, Calif., occupied by Mr. Hurtubise, was also burned. This was the most valued residence in the village. It was valued at $10,000; insurance unknown. Mr. Hurtubis lost everything. He was absent in Montreal at the time. His loss is covered by insurance.

A large fine frame house, formerly occupied by Mr. S. Casselman, was also burned. It was valued at $5000; insurance unknown. There were besides these over a hundred smaller dwellings and outbuildings destroyed. There was but little insurance on any of them, the reason given being that on account of so many fires in the village the insurance companies refused risks.

Among other losers of their residences were: J. St. Denis, R. Hay, W. Casselman, F. Casselman, D. Lalonde, A. Huneau, F. Page, C. Charron, T. Charron, L. Doran, D. Bouchene, A. Marleau, V. St. Denis, N. Parent, I. Riddle, N. R. Stuart, G. Pilon, R. McLeod, L. Dussault, A. Quesnell, S. Binett, N. R. Auger and many others.

Casselman is a village divided by the Nation River into Casselman and South Casselman.

About sixty of the sufferers from the fire were brought into the city by a special train, which arrived at the Central Depot at 12.20 p.m. to-day. They were those who had friends in the city. The C. A. R. authorities very kindly offered free transportation to all who wished to come to the city to their friends, and this number were those who had accepted the offer. A few of them will go to Kingston to join friends, the G., A. & P. S. Railway also giving free transportation. They were perhaps the most woe-begone and forsaken-looking crowd ever seen at the station. They were of all ages, from the infant in arms to the old woman just able to totter along. One old lady, Mrs. Jouens, is said to be 100 years old, while her daughter, Mrs. Joucas, carried an infant only a few weeks old.

The village of Cheney is said to be entirely burned up. The extent of the damage in the country districts will not be known for some days.

The residents proceeded to Rockland for safety. Fully two hundred families have been rendered homeless by the conflagration, and any assistance given by the police of Ottawa and surrounding places will be gladly received. Indeed, aid must be forthcoming at once, for the people are now without even the necessities of life. Casselman included about seventy-five or a hundred houses, lumber mill, grist mill, furniture factory and several other business places of importance. The population is about 500. South Indian, eight miles to the west, and nearer Ottawa, comprised about sixty houses, two saw mills and two general stores. The residents numbered about 300. Cheney's Station, situated on the Rockland branch of the C. A. R., included fifteen to twenty dwellings and a general store.

At Kazubazua the flames also did a lot of damage. At one time the store of McGinn & Abbott was in great danger, also the dwelling of James Crain and the Iroquois House. The contents of these buildings were removed to the south of the village. Women and children were frantic. Mr. McKenney met with a painful accident. He was standing on the top of the ladder, throwing water onto the roof of Irwin's shop, and some parties passing caught the ladder and ran off with it, thowing McKenney down a distance of about 30 feet. He fell across a pole, hurting his side very badly. He is better this morning. This was the greatest fire known in this vicinity for the last 20 years, when just such another fire took place.

Hammond and Clarence Creek, two other stations on the same branch, are also expected to go.

The light rain which fell last night had the effect of retarding the spread of the fire, but there is a heavy west wind blowing now, which means a continuation of the devastation.

The smoke is so dense that it is almost impossible for persons driving to see their horses ahead of them.

Another Victim Found.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 6.—(Midnight.)—The special train which left here at noon to-day for the scene of the fire returned a few minutes ago. Those on the train brought the information that a fifth victim had been found. Widow Lacroix was found dead in the back of South Indian. She evidently was going away from the fire but went into it instead.

BUSH FIRES IN ONTARIO.

Kemptville, Ont., Oct. 6.—Bush fires have been raging in nearly all directions around here, destroying swamps, fences, etc., of which no definite account as to loss could be given.

Near Carleton Place.

Carleton Place, Ont., Oct. 6.—Bush fires are burning on lot 6 in the fourth, fifth and sixth concessions of Ramsay, about three miles southwest of here. A large force of men have been trying to stop them, but their efforts are of little avail, owing to the prevailing high winds and the extremely dry condition of the ground and everything inflammable thereon. Some damage has been done to timber and fences, but not to any great extent.

YOUNG LAMONT'S CASE.

Neighbours Much Interested in the Story—Everyone Thought That the Youngster Would Die, but he's Very Much Alive Now.

DUNDALK, Oct. 4.—Hugh Lamont, of McIntyre, has a young son who is an object of interest throughout this whole section of country. From infancy the boy had dropsy, and was bloated and swollen all over. It seemed to the parents that death could be the only release to one attacked so young by this disease. They heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and began giving them to the child. With the first box the bloating and swelling began to disappear. Six boxes effected a perfect cure and the boy is now just as healthy a youngster as stirs up the dust on the high roads of Western Ontario.

OUR MANTLE DEPARTMENT is so complete and the values so remarkable that a visit to our store is necessary to realize the attractions we offer.

We have a collection of rare beauty and grace that will gladden your eyes—but finding words to describe them is like trying to describe a picture. Cold type in a newspaper won't do our stock justice, it must be seen and examined.

HON. MR. HACKETT'S RECEPTION.

He Entertains and is Entertained by the C.M.B.A.

HIS OPERA HOUSE ADDRESS.

A Great Audience Listens to a Great Address—Addresses at a Banquet Afterwards—A Long Wait and a Good Programme Presented to Fill in the Time—A Successful Occasion.

The Opera House was crowded to the doors last evening on the occasion of a public reception being tendered to Hon. M. F. Hackett, ex-Provincial Secretary, Quebec, of Stanstead, Que., Grand President of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association.

The Toronto train upon which the distingued visitor was expected to arrive, was delayed for over two hours and a half and yet the large audience waited patiently to hear an address, from one of Canada's most gifted orators. That those present were amply rewarded for their long wait was evidenced by the burst of applause which continually broke forth as the climax of the many bursts of eloquence was reached by the Grand President during the evening.

The chair was occupied by Mr. John Coughlin, President of the local branch of the C.M.B.A., and amongst those seated upon the platform were Ven. Archdeacon Casey, Rev. Father McColl, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., T. Cahill, Dr. Moher, Harry Phelan, M. H. Quinlan and Thos. Dunn.

IN INTRODUCING THE SPEAKER of the evening, Mr. Coughlin spoke as follows:

As President of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association of this town it is very gratifying to myself and the members of our branch, to have with us this evening such a large attendance of the people of Peterborough to welcome our Grand President on this his first visit to our Branch.

No doubt many of you are aware of the aims and objects of our society, chiefly to give life insurance at the lowest possible cost for reliable insurance.

Life insurance it is true is a very dry subject, still it is a very important one, and in these days it is customary for men to belong to some society, and this evening the Hon Mr. Hackett will ably and eloquently lay before you the claims of the C.M.B.A.

We are particularly pleased to have so many ladies present this evening, as after all it is chiefly in their interests that we often deprive ourselves of many little luxuries in order to pay our assessments, and keep ourselves in good standing.

WE ARE PROUD of the record of our Association and are confident of its future, as our laws and constitution have been pronounced by the highest authority in the land as being the best that has come under his notice, as every member has a voice and a right to cast his ballot on every question of importance to the society and since we separated from the American Order we have home rule in every sense of the word, and having those good laws we have been fortunate in having good men to administer them.

We have reason to be proud of the men who have given freely of their valuable time and ability to the management of our association without any salary, as the only paid officers we have are the grand secretaries at very moderate salaries.

At the head of our organization we have his grace Archbishop Walsh, of Toronto, and the gentlemen who have held the office of Grand President in the past were men like Mr. O'Connor, of Stratford, Dr. McCabe, Principal of the Ottawa Normal School and O. K. Fraser, of Brockville, all of whom discharged their duties in a manner that deserves the life-long gratitude of our members. These gentlemen were from the western part of Canada and at the last convention it was unanimously decided to select one of the wise men of the east in the person of the Hon. M. F. Hackett, Provincial Secretary of the Quebec Government at that time, a gentleman who has been an earnest worker in our society, holding many offices until he reached the highest place in our order.

I am sure those present will be delighted with Mr. Hackett and feel they were fortunate in having an opportunity of hearing so eloquent a speaker.

prefaced his address by an apology for appearing on the platform at so late an hour, stating that no one regretted more than himself the unfortunate accident which prevented him reaching the audience earlier in the evening. He had been most anxious to meet the people of Peterborough, the members of the C. M. B. A., and the Catholics of the community. It was not without a feeling of pride that he found himself, a president of the east, coming into Ontario to explain—not to explain the objects of an insurance company, but to say that the organization which he represented had a nobler, holier mission: that of uniting the Catholics under one altar and one flag, this being the primeval and main object of the C. M. B. A.

For years Catholics had been waiting and watching for the formation of some organization that would bind them together as brothers and give them their rights from one end of the country to the other. This universally felt want was now supplied by the C.M.B.A. Its motives were great and grand. It was an insurance society, but the speaker wished all Catholics to understand that when entered on its membership roll, they stood shoulder to shoulder, and man to man, asking for the mental, moral and material improvement of the Catholics of Canada as a mass.

IF YOU OR I DIED

to-morrow, said he, we might be forgotten but if our efforts have made a position for the Catholics of Canada, then our mission is accomplished and the tears of our widows and children will be those tears which build up a nation.

Mr. Hackett claimed that the C.M.B.A. stood at the head and front of the Catholic societies of Canada to-day. It was a bond of friendship and benevolence which knew no class and embraced every condition of mankind, asking only that they kneel before the one altar. He thought there was something comforting in the reflection that there was something which possessed a salutary effect upon Catholics from the coast of the Pacific to that of the Atlantic. That the birth of the C.M.B.A. had filled a much-needed want was emphasized by its growth.

It might be said that the Protestants of Ontario, seeing the Catholics united, might not like it, and such would doubtless be the case if their object was not so noble and so good. They were and trying to put their people on the same plane as their Protestant brethren. They were better citizens when they were better Catholics, and no one could say aught but "God speed you in your endeavour."

In the words of the old song, "we are a band of brothers." The C.M.B.A. is a brotherhood of friendship and benevolence which knows no destinction of origin or of class, but which embraces in its protective folds every class and every condition of mankind from the highest to the lowest, only asking that they kneel at a common altar and mingle in a union of hearts. A reciprocal affection—a mutual aid which will redound to their great-st moral, material, general and individual advancement.

The C.M.B.A. is much more than a material benefit Association. It has not only for aim to assist the widow and orphan, but its mission is to form, educate and elevate the Catholic masses, and to establish upon them a brotherhood which will assure them their legitimate influence and which will make them respected and esteemed by other elements of society.

There is something comforting in the thought that the Catholics of Canada possess an institution which extends its protective mantle over them, and whose salutary influence is felt from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific, and by those who may wish to enjoy its advantages.

which has for its aims and objects to make men greater, nobler, truer, better men and better citizens, and which instills into their minds a sense of security in the conviction that wherever they find themselves in this vast Dominion they are certain to meet both brothers and friends.

That the birth of the C.M.B.A. has answered a much felt want is plainly proved by its extraordinary development.

The growth of the C.M.B.A. since its foundation is simply marvellous, its ramifications extend through the United States and Canada, and there is no locality of any importance, no group of Roman Catholics upon this continent, which does not feel directly or indirectly the beneficial and salutary effects of this grand association.

It might have been surmised that a movement like this, which tends to consolidate the Catholic masses into a general brotherhood might be criticised by some of our separated brethren, and so it might, were not the C.M.B.A., so noble, so charitable and so disinterested in its aim.

is to unite the Catholics of Canada for their moral, their intellectual and their material advancement, and we are sure that in this good work our separated friends will wish us God speed.

Our mission is great, is noble, is generous and is good, and no man who loves his country and his fellowman, I care not before what altar he kneels, or in what language his lullaby was sung, will fail to say from his heart of heart of hearts to the officers and members of its rank and file, "God bless you; go on in your noble work."

In the face of this magnificent demonstration, which bears unmistakeable testimony of their loyalty to their order and their appreciation of the great principles of unity, fraternity and concord which underlie it, it might seem superfluous on my part to offer them any advice on that score. But if I might venture to do so, I would say to them, cultivate and encourage above all the fraternal spirit which constitutes the chief aim and strength of our beloved society. Indeed, I cannot lay too much stress on this point. Let this blessed spirit not merely influence your action as a body, let it not appear merely in the meettings or social occasions like the present; but let it penetrate your whole rule of life and carry it with you in your daily relations towards your fellow members. Let it be a band of brothers in the fullest and truest sense of the words, thus setting an edifying example to our co-religionists who have not yet affiliated with us and preparing the way for that unity and concord amongst Catholics, that consolidation of the Catholic masses under our banner at no distant day, which we should all earnestly strive for.

The benefit of example is great. We may not all be born to be great, to cut a conspicuous figure in the eyes of the world; but we can all do something within the measure of our respective strength, within the scope of our respective spheres, to make our fellow men better and happier.

Catholics of education, wealth and influence owe it as a solemn duty to themselves and to their co-religionists to help in the grand work which the C. M. B. A. has undertaken, by joining its ranks as soon as possible and lending to it the precious benefit

OF THEIR EXAMPLE.

Many of them, I know, are sincerely anxious to do what they can to improve the condition moral, mental and material of their brother Catholics, who have not been equally favoured by Providence.

To demonstrate that the brotherhood of man is more than a name and fraternity more than an empty sound, is the mission of the C. M. B. A. One of the most blessed privileges is to show that "a friend loveth at all times and that a brother is born for adversity." Let me appeal then to the Catholic leaders throughout the Dominion to set the salutary example of enrolling themselves as soon as possible, so that sooner or later the entire Catholic body in Canada may be brought within the reach of its beneficent influence.

Let me urge upon our active membership to be alive to the interests of the Order, to be thoroughly loyal to it in every respect, and to lose no opportunity to extend its sway.

FOR CONSTANT GROWTH

is one of the evidences of life and prosperity. Indeed with these aids we have much to be grateful for. Our beloved association has grown and prospered in a way that is altogether remarkable, and with the blessing of Heaven and with wise guidance, the outlook for the time to come promises to be of the brighest. But to realize its admirable mission to the utmost, there must be work, individual as well as collective. The spirit of union and fraternity must be inculcated to its fullest extent.

I cannot conclude without expressing the hope that the day is not far distant when all the Canadian members of our beloved order shall acknowledge but one jurisdiction and when we shall be all united under one and the same Canadian management, so as to form one great, powerful Canadian body, exemplifying the principle that union is strength. This is my most ardent desire, and I know hat the feeling is fully shared by my hearers. We are in full sympathy with our brethren of the United States. We have nothing but the greatest respect and fraternal sentiments for them but we believe that here in Canada we are perfectly competent to govern ourselves in this as in other respects, and that it would be better for both if the Canadian brethren recognized but one jurisdiction. We have now reached a stage of growth in the Dominion which enables us to stand alone, and in tendering the olive branch to our Canadian brethren, who still acknowledge the American jurisdiction, I am satisfied that I am but carrying out the earnest wish of the vast majority of the Canadian membership.

The speaker closed with a strong appeal to the mothers, sisters and sweethearts to use all their best influence in favour of an organization, a membership in which was productive of so much good.

A most cordial vote of thanks was moved to Mr. Hackett by Ven. Archdeacon Casey, in a few well chosen words, strongly endorsing the sentiments expressed in the address. Mr. Thomas Cahill seconded the motion in his usual witty strain, after which Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., briefly expressed his appreciation of the eloquent address.

Mr. Stratton said as a citizen of Peterborough he was always glad to welcome to Peterborough distinguished Canadians. He was glad to meet the Hon. Mr. Hackett, and with all Protestants and members of institutions kindred to the C.M.B.A., he could only wish for it the fullest measure of success their institution deserved. These fraternal, benevolent and beneficiary societies illustrate the practical working of Christianity by inculcating lofty sentiments and in taking care of the widows and orphans. They are the complement of the church, in that the latter provides for the spiritual and the former for the temporal welfare of the respective beneficiaries. They prevent pauperism, and as pauperism is the mother of crime, they prevent crime. The C.M.B.A. had his best wishes for its success, and he did not think that any Catholic would go far astray in joining this institution—their wives and families would be happier and better if they did. Should a member happen to be suddenly called away without further provision, the wife and mother would be better able to struggle through life than she who is penniless with a dependent family.

In closing the meeting Mr. Coughlin after tendering the vote of thanks to Mr. Hackett, voiced the appreciation of the Association of the efforts of those who so kindly contributed towards the programme of an impromptu concert which took place before the arrival of the train.

Miss Lillie Simons, the Misses Hurley, Mr. Thos. Dunn, and Mr. D. Gordon made the evening pass very pleasant with their excellent selections.

A BANQUET

afterwards took place in the Catholic Foresters' Hall, a most excellent menu being provided by Caterer Welsh, who surpassed himself on this occasion.

The chair was taken by Dr. Moher and the vice chair by Mr. Thos. Cahill. On either side of the chairman sat Hon. Mr. Hackett, Ven. Archdeacon Casey and Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P. After the tasty viands had been disposed of, the toast of "The Queen" was duly honoured, after which "The Dominion Parliament and Legislative Assembly of Ontario" was proposed, and the name of Mr. J. R. Stratton M. P. P., connected therewith.

Mr. Stratton, in response to the toast, after thanking the proposers for the kind terms in which it was offered, said he was glad to join as a citizen of the town in the welcome to the town of the distinguished head of the society under whose auspices they were assembled. He had not had the Minstrels appeared at the opera house last night before a large audience, and before the performance was half over everyone present became highly delighted with the company. The Guy's have always given clean performances in Belleville, and last evening's was no exception. There was nothing suggestive from start to finish, and the large number of ladies present enjoyed the show as much as the sterner sex. The singing in the first part was excellent and the jokes were mostly new. A number of thrilling features were introduced in the second part, together with musical sketches and dancing, which made up a delightful entertainment. The company has an excellent orchestra of ten pieces, which added much to the enjoyment of the evening. At the Opera House to-night.

Wednesday Evening's Session—A Most Interesting Programme—Report from the Coast Indian Missions.

At yesterday afternoon's session a most interesting memorial service was conducted by Mrs. (Rev.) T. M. Campbell.

The election of delegates to the Board resulted in the election of the following:—Mrs. (Rev.) A. R. Campbell, Hastings; Mrs. Rev. J. C. Wilson, Tweed; Mrs. Kendry, Peterborough; Mrs. S. Gibson, Napanee; Mrs. (Rev.) Copeland, Deseronto. Alternates—Mrs. (Rev.) S.J. Shorey and Mrs. Massey, Walbridge.

The following of the Branch officers were elected:

President—Mrs. Platt, of Picton.

1st Vice-President—Mrs. (Rev.) J. C. Wilson, Tweed.

2nd Vice-President—Mrs. Levi Massey, Wallbridge.

3rd Vice-President—Mrs. (Rev.) T. M. Campbell, Campbellford.

Cor. Secretary—Mrs. A. W. Grange, Napanee.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. (Rev.) J. H. Copeland, Deseronto.

Treasurer—Mrs. (Rev.) A. R. Campbell, Hastings.

Missionary Band Cor. Sec'y—Miss Hawley, Bath.

Considerable unfinished business was disposed of and the report of the Courtesy Committee was presented.

WEDNESDAY EVENING SESSION.

Another very large audience was added to the delegates in attendance at last night's convention of the Women's Missionary Society.

Rev. S. J. Shorey, pastor of the church, presided, and began the proceedings by announcing the well known missionary hymn of Bishop Heber, which has been perhaps the most potent musical factor in arousing missionary enthusiasm. It was sung by the congregation, very largely composed with women, with, one would think from vigour imparted to it, the spirit and the understanding also. This was followed by prayer.

Rev. Mr. Shorey expressed his regret at being unable to be at the meeting Tuesday evening. He was very glad to very cordially welcome the delegates to the church and the town. Rev. J. E. Moore, Ph. B., Ashburnham, was invited to a seat on the platform.

An anthem was sung in a spirited manner by the choir.

Miss Hawley, secretary of the Mission Band Committee, presented the report which was published in yesterday's issue.

Mrs. R. A. Hamilton sang with great pathos a song, "Not good bye but good night."

Rev. J. E. Moore spoke a few words of greeting and encouragement. The first missionary meeting ever held was when in the councils of heaven the redemption of man was planned. He also spoke of the magnitude of the interests concerned, and said that they deserved for their promotion the best energies and talents of every Christian to try to fulfil the divine commission to preach the gospel to every creature. Reference was made to the triumphs of missionary efforts in the past and the heroism of those who entered upon the mission work.

Miss Ethel Bradburn recited with excellent effect the selection "The Heathen Woman's Prayer."

A "Mite Box Song," somewhat of the Sunday school Kindergarten character, was capitally sung by a dozen little girls of the George street Sunday school primary classes.

Rev. Mr. Shorey said in the history of the mission work, the tendency had been to expect great results while employing inadequate means. We had too much neglected the educational department of the work, as illustrated by the song that had just been heard, But things were changing, and we were justified in consequence in expecting great achievements, to the honour and glory of God.

Mr. Harold Nelles sang "The Holy City" in excellent voice, and with extremely just appreciation of its character.

Miss Spence, of Dr. Bolton's Hospital, Port Simpson, British Columbia, then spoke. Miss Spence said she was glad to be present as an ambassador of Christ. Dr. and Mrs. Bolton went to the Port Simpson district, about 600 miles north of Vancouver, to undertake medical missionary work. There were about 750 Indians, who before the work was begun were in the depths of heathen degradation. They had at Fort Simpson a band of workers whose work and duties corresponded some what to those of the Epworth League. They hold open air meetings before the regular services, with an open prayer meeting at seven o'clock—often as early as five o'clock, and there are four or five services on a Sunday. The hospital at Port Simpson accommodates eleven patients, with a staff of three, a superintendent and two assistants. Patients are brought from as far as 200 miles. Services are held in the wards, and there are frequent and numerous means to practically teach the blessedness of the Gospel of Christ to the poor and suffering. A hospital at Port Essington will accommodate nine patients. At the mouth of the Skeena, during the fishing season, when all the able-bodied are at work, the infirm and old are left at home alone, and this throws a great deal of extra work on the missionaries. The speaker made a strong appeal to the audience to give their assistance in extending the blessings of the Gospel to these benighted and degraded heathen. In conclusion Miss Spence said she would be "at home" for some time at 580 Aylmer street and that she would be happy to give what information she could to those who desired it.

During the offertory a quartette, "The Flower land," by W. L. Thompson, was very effectively sung by Miss Vina Belleghem and Miss Lily Pascoe, and Messrs. J. Miller and Geo. Harvey, Miss Belleghem taking the soprano solo with delightful effect.

Mrs. Sing moved, seconded by Mrs. Manley E. Way, the most cordial thanks of the delegates of the convention to the organist and choir, whose music has been so greatly enjoyed, to the kind peoples of the town, for their open-handed hospitality and to the reporters for their full and excellent reports of the meetings of the convention.

It was announced that a ticket agent of the Grand Trunk Railway would attend at ten o'clock for the convenience of the delegates who had certificates, a courtesy that was greatly appreciated.

After the singing of the doxology, Rev. J. E. Moore pronounced the benediction.

THE FLOORING GAVE WAY

In McAllister's Mill Yesterday—A Defective Joist is Cause.

Mr. Robert Morrison, an employee in McAllister's mill, on Charlotte street, had an escape yesterday which nearly turned his hair grey.

He was working in a big bin of grain on the second floor when he heard an ominous cracking sound and clambered out just as a joist gave way and let the wheat down the first floor.

There was about two cars of wheat in the bin and a break in the floor almost six feet square let the whole amount down. If Mr. Morrison had been caught and drawn through the opening he would certainly have been smothered. His escape was a hairbreadth one.

HOUSE OF REFUGE.

The Churches Taking the Matter up—Charlotte Street Voices Its Opinion.

At its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening last. The official board of the Charlotte street Methodist church passed the following resolution:—

Moved by M. A. Morrison, seconded by Mr. T. H. Goard, that this official board of the Charlotte street Methodist church desires to express itself as heartily in accord with the movement now being made towards providing a house of refuge for the aged poor and neglected children of our town and county. And we therefore pray the town council to take action in the matter without further delay, thereby removing a disgrace from our Christian community.

Before the buying began Mr. John Riddell called attention to a statement of Prof. Robertson to the effect that he saw European cheese sold at 4c a pound higher than Canadian, and he gave a notice of motion that the Government be asked to send a representative from each of the dairying schools in order to learn the methods by which such results as 4c in advance of Canadian cheese were reached.

The bidding was started by an offer of 9⅜ by Mr. Cook, which Mr. Brower advanced to 9½, Mr. Fitzgerald making it 9⅝. Mr. Brower bid 9 5 16c. Mr. Brown called Westwood, Ormonde and Norwood, which accepted. Mr. Wrighton offered 9⅝, which Mr. Fitzgerald made 9 5 16. He selected Lakefield, Pine Grove, Central Smith, Trewern, Lakeview and Keene; accepted. He offered 9⅝ for further selections, Mr. Rollins raising to 9 5 16. Mr. Rollins selected Shearer, Maple Leaf, Myrtle, Cedardale. Mr. Brower added Keene to his selections. Mr. Fitzgerald's 9 1-4 was advanced to 9 5-16 by Mr. Wrighton, whose figure was accepted by Warsaw, Bensfort, Mount Pleasant and Warminster. Mr. Fitzgerald started again with 9 1-4. He named Cherry Grove, Peterborough, Otonabee Union, all accepting. Mr. Whitton bid 9 3 16, which Mr. Madden raised to 9 1 4, and selected Missing Link, Young's Point, Lang, North Dummer, which accepted. Mr. Brower's bid of 9 3-16 was accepted by Blackstock, Orono and Kendall. At the same figure Mr. Whitton took Melrose Abbey. Mr. Fitzgerald's 9 1-4 was bettered to 9 3-16 by Mr. Wrighton, who took Stony Lake, and bid 9 1-8, while Mr. Fitzgerald offered 9 3-16 and took Fleetwood, Daisy D., Cavanville declining. Mr. Madden's offer of 9 1-4 was accepted by Cavanville.

Board decided to adjourn for three weeks and to offer the whole of October for next board.

The Three Guardsmen.

Romantic drama with a notable exponent, will be the attraction at the Opera House, Monday evening, Oct. 11, when Paul Cazeneuve, the young romantic actor, will make his initial appearance in this town as a star. A Gascon by birth it is appropriate that Mr. Cazeneuve should make his debut as that fascinating, swaggering new of romance, D'Artagnan—"The Three Guardsmen." Mr. Cazeneuve is young and enthusiastic, his figure lithe and graceful. He speakes the English language with taste and correctness, and handles his sword with ease and dexterity. Mr. Cazeneuve will be supported by an excellent company of players, and the play will be staged and costumed in an admirable manner.

CO-OPERATION PAYS.

Some Reasons Why Fruit Growers Should Work Together.

One of the difficulties in modern Canadian farming is that spirit of independence which is so largely developed in all classes of our citizens. It is most common of all among farmers, whose policy too often reminds us of the celebrated ox team, in which each animal wanted to be on the "off side." This is often seen in farmers' organizations, especially where farmers are remote from each other, and only come together infrequently. Undoubtedly the co-operative and other features of the grange have done much to dispel this feeling. But it still exists to far too great an extent. Each farmer dislikes partnerships, and prefers to work what land he can buy or rent without aid from others except as he can hire and pay for it.

Yet in all other vocations the greatest successes are made by combinations of capital. Why should there not be, to a limited extent at least, such co-operation among farmers. There was when the country was new, and the scarcity of capital made it possible for one man to put up the houses and barns that each farm required. Co-operation in such work seemed to be a necessity. Yet, just so soon as each farmer could, he set himself to work to become independent of all his neighbors. It is in fruit growing that this need for co-operation is greatest. Insects and fungous diseases of fruits and leaves require combined effort to be successful. It is of no use for one man in any locality to destroy these on his own farm, while the whole neighborhood is left for the enemy to increase in until it cannot be suppressed. It has been by voluntary co-operation that the fruit growers of the Niagara district have for many years kept their orchards free from the pests that prove to be troublesome elsewhere. The black knot in the plum and the curculio and codling moth among insects were thus fought against. It has proven far easier to keep these enemies out than to suppress them after they had gained a foothold.

In one way all the fruit growers in any locality help each other, whether they wish to do so or not. Altogether their united production creates a market, and attracts buyers who would not come were a single fruit grower to offer his products for their inspection. So far from being an injury to his business, the rivals that most fruit growers have are a help to him. Neither are fruit growers injured by the dissemination of the knowledge needed to secure greater perfection of fruit. If all fruit were brought to the highest degree of perfection, much more would be eaten and the price of all fruit would be higher. There is far too much poor fruit offered for sale. It is this which most keeps down the price of good fruit. The general spread of intelligence as to the means for growing the best fruit is therefore the interest of all fruit growers.

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering from some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and the discomfort seem less. Perhaps the nerves are most affected and this in turn disturbs the digestion. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The start of so-called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be that in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time, a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this character. It may be absolutely relieved upon. It affords lasting relief to a woman whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting a physician.

A Coat That Didn't Fit.

When Poole, the Ewelish tailor, was an old man he was at Brighton on a vacation, and one afternoon went out to walk upon the pier. A young man who was on the pier with two young women said: "Now, you wouldn't take that good-looking man for a tailor, but he is. Just listen while I take him down a notch or two." As Poole approached, he accosted him: "Here, Poole, take a look at me. Does this coat fit?" Poole took in the situation. "It certainly does not fit," said he, and pulling out a bit of French chalk he proceeded liberally to mark and cross the coat of his would-be queller all over, and then observed, with the utmost urbanity: "Now, if you will kindly send that coat to my shop, the alterations shall be attended to."

Pain in the Back.

Mr. M. P. Halpin, Brockville, Ont., makes a statement as follows: "For two years I suffered from kidney trouble, causing severe pain across my back, dizziness, headache, sleeplessness, etc. I had often to lean on the counter when serving a customer, so intense was the pain in my back. On taking Doan's Kidney Pills I improved from the very first, and now after using three boxes am all right; all my pains, aches and dizziness having disappeared, thanks to Doan's Pills."

FLAGSHIP "RENOWN."

THE BRITISH BATTLESHIP WHICH SUCCEEDS THE "CRESCENT."

Description of the New Flagship of the North Atlantic Squadron — Vice-Admiral Sir John Fisher in Command — Only Vessel of Her Design.

The British battleship Renown, which reached Halifax recently from Portsmouth, bears the flag of Vice-Admiral Sir John Fisher, the new commander of the British fleet in North American waters. The new commander was received with salutes from the warships in port and the Citadel. The cruiser Crescent, which is succeeded by the Renown as flagship of the station, returned to England the same day.

The Renown had a very tempestuous passage across the Atlantic, encountering strong head gales that not only prevented her from making any speed, but threw mountains of sea over her for hours at a time.

The Renown is a first-class twin screw armor-clad battleship and the only vessel built of her design. Her launch took place at Pembroke on May 8, 1895. She is the largest sheathed battleship ever built and is intended to keep the sea for long periods. Her principal dimensions are: Length between perpendiculars, 380 feet; extreme breadth, 73 feet 4 inches; load draught of water, 26 feet 9 inches; displacement, 12,350 tons' freeboard, forward, 25 feet; amidships, 27 feet 3 inches; aft, 19 feet 3 inches. For her displacement, which is 12,350 tons, the Renown has an exceptionally powerful armament. These are four ten-inch, twenty-nine ton, breech-loading guns, mounted in pairs in barbettes, one forward and one aft; ten one hundred pounder quick-firing guns, four in casements on the upper deck and six in casements on the main deck; an auxiliary armament of eight twelve-pounder and twelve three-pounder quick-firing guns, also eight Maxim guns. The ship's company of officers and men, including the Vice-Admiral and his staff, is 704 of all rank and ratings. The Admiral's and officers' quarters on the Renown have been furnished on a most luxurious scale, the like of which does not find a record in the annals of any battleship afloat at the present day. The total cost of the Renown to date, hull, equipment, furnishing, etc., has been estimated at $3,650,000.

SIR BLONDIN BLOOD.

Commander of the British Troops on the Afghan Frontier.

Gen. Sir Blondin Blood, commander of the British army on the Afghan frontier, is familiar with every foot of the mountain territory under his charge, and is likewise familiar with the character of the bellicose Afghans with whom he has to deal. The General took part in the Afghan war of 1879-1880, and was awarded a gold medal for his services in that conflict. He is 55 years old and a ripe and seasoned soldier. He joined the Royal Engineers in 1860 and was rapidly promoted, becoming a captain in 1873, a major in 1879, a lieutenant-colonel in 1882 and a colonel in 1886. He has seen much service in many big campaigns and is not afraid of fighting. He won a medal and clasp in the Jowaki expedition of 1877-78, and was given the brevet of major for distinguished services during the Zulu war. In 1882 Blood was sent to the Egyptian expedition, and there, too, won high praise from his superiors. He was mentioned in the despatches, presented with a medal and clasp, a bronze star, decorated with the fourth-class Osmanieh and brevetted lieutenant-colonel. Two years ago he was sent to the mountains as chief staff officer on the Chitral relief force and was decorated a K.C.B. for services in that campaign. Last year he was promoted to command a second-class district in India, with rank of brigadier general.

WILL MOVE ON FRIDAY.

Sir William Lockhart's Forces Ready for the Advance in India.

London, Oct. 5.—The news from the Indian frontier is favorable. Sir William Lockhart's forces will commence the advance on Tirah, the summer headquarters of the Afridis and the Orakzais, from Peshawur on Friday next, moving in three columns. Sir William Lockhart and Major-General Lord Methuen have already arrived at Kohat.

The Mullahs of Tirah on hearing of the advance contemplated, began their preparations to oppose it, but it is now also reported that they are prepared to offer terms on behalf of the Afridis, the Momunds and the Malakand tribesmen.

The Ameer of Afghanistan has published at Cabul his reply to the petition of the Afridis who solicited his assistance against the British. He reminds them that they have never before complained of British conduct, but on the contrary acquiesced fully in the Afghan alliance with England. He quotes from the Koran on the sacred duty of fulfilling agreements, which, he says, the British have kept faithfully, and in conclusion he declines to assist them out of trouble which they have brought upon themselves, adding "to do so would bring ignominy upon myself and my people."

The Ameer has also issued throughout Afghanistan a long proclamation, dated Aug. 13, and entitled, "A clear declaration and warning to all Afghans."

This is much the same as the reply to the petition of the Afridis. It clears England of any disloyal intention toward Afghanistan, justifies the alliance as a "protection against foreign invasion," and taunts the tribesmen with rebelling at the instigation of a fakir of unknown parentage, after accepting British subsidies, and with pretending to raise a Jehad while all Mahommedans and most of the Khans are taking sides with the English. Finally, washing his hands of their affairs, the Ameer addresses the tribesmen as follows:

"Your real object is to make me fight the British Government. If I were to do such a foolish thing I am sure you would assume the position of simple spectators. I am not such a fool as to annoy and offend others for your sake."

Chickering Pianos.

For over 75 years the Chickering Piano has been recognized as the world's highest production in musical art manufacture. Guaranteed Income Policies.

This Form of Policy has lately been introduced by the

"SUN" LIFE OF CANADA.

It is the most modern development of Life Assurance, and in the opinion of many comes nearer to perfection than any form of contract that has preceded it. The Guaranteed Income Policy provides for the payment of the sum assured in 10, 15 or 20 equal annual instalments, but it goes further and guarantees that if the beneficiary be still alive at the end of the 20 years, the instalment will continue to be paid to her during the whole of her subsequent life whether that be long or short.

Intending insurers should investigate this policy.

When a man falls out of a ten-story window you'd naturally say he is a dead man. Well, perhaps he is and then again, perhaps not. Something may save him. There may be a friendly awning that will let him down easy, so he may be sound and well to-morrow. You never know what may save a man who seems to be as good as dead.

Many a man who seemed to be dying of consumption, and whom the doctors pronounced just as good as dead, has got well and strong and hearty again by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This wonderful medicine has shown the doctors that consumption isn't always a fatal disease. It can be cured if you get at the germs of it in the blood and clear them out thoroughly. That is what this "Discovery" does. It makes new blood,—healthy blood.

The germs of consumption can't exist in healthy blood. They simply let go their hold and are carried out of the system; then the new blood builds up new tissue, new flesh, new power, new life. It carries vitality to the lungs, the bronchial tubes and every other part of the body.

It cures people after cod liver oil has failed, because their digestive organs are too weak to digest fat-foods. The "Discovery" makes the digestion strong.

For thin and pale and emaciated people there is no flesh-builder in the world to compare with it. It doesn't make flabby fat, but hard, healthy flesh. It builds nerve-power and force and endurance. It is never safe to pronounce any one "dying of consumption," or any other wasting disease, until this marvelous "Discovery" has been given a fair trial.

Dr. Pierce's thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" will be sent free paper-bound for the cost of customs and mailing only, 21 one-cent stamps. Cloth-bound, 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE GERM OF CANCER.

Its Discovery the Greatest Medical Sensation of the Century.

What is pronounced the greatest medical sensation of the century is reported from France, where Dr. Leon Noel has discovered the cause of cancer. It is a fact well known in medical circles that hitherto the primary cause of cancer was a mystery as deep as the origin of life. Scientists and savants have pondered long and deeply, and have experimented, but with no tangible result.

For nearly twenty-five years medicine has been at a practical standstill so far as cancer was concerned. The only advance was in the direction of its treatment by surgery, and that was more an improvement in surgical methods than along the line of further knowledge of one of the most fearful afflictions to which humanity is prone.

Now comes the announcement from Dr. Noel that he has found the germ of the cancer in vegetation, such as trees and underbrush. Furthermore, he claims to have inoculated certain animals with the germ taken from the sap of trees and to have produced all the symptoms of cancer.

Dr. Noel is a newcomer in the field of medicine—in fact, he has only recently obtained his diploma. The French law compels every medical student to write a treatise on some medical subject, which must pass the muster of the Government experts before he can begin active practice.

Dr. Noel wrote a treatise on cancer, detailing his discoveries in this direction, and at once attracted the attention of the scientific world, both by the novelty of his claims and because of the forceful and clear language in which the treatise was written.

According to Dr. Noel, cancer is due to vegetable germs with which the human system becomes impregnated and infected, either by manual contact or through inhalation or absorption of the poison with food or water.

His attention to the vegetable kingdom as the origin of cancer was first attracted through the accidental discovery that cancer was more prevalent in districts where vegetation was dense, than in parts where it was sparse. According to French statistics, cancer is much more prevalent in districts surrounded by forests and along the banks of rivers than in those parts where trees are scarce, such as high plateaus.

This attracted the doctor's attention, and he began a careful investigation. First of all he haunted the woods around Lyons, his home. Birch, elm and willow trees predominated. From thousands of these trees he took the sap and put it to microscopical and analytical tests, with the result that in a score of specimens he found undoubted evidences that cancerous germs were present.

With these he inoculated a dog, and after a few days—how long he does not state—he saw every symptom of cancer. The sore produced by the inoculation sloughed and bore indications of being a cancer. Microscopical investigation showed that it was a cancer beyond doubt.

Then the doctor began a systematic search along the banks of the rivers and creeks in the vicinage. His deductions are best told in his own words, published in The Journal des Connaissances Medicales:

"It is remarkable that this affliction in the human being occurs more often in such places of habitation as are in or near wooded districts. Furthermore, the percentage of deaths due directly to cancer is far greater among that class of persons who have much to do with touching or handling vegetation or wood or those who are employed in trades where wood is used.

"It is an authenticated fact that in England tax collectors and assessors, who have often to pass through long stretches of woodland, are more prone to the disease than the average. It is also established that agricultural laborers are prone to the disease.

"Statistics in the hospitals of Lyons prove that all cases of cancer of the lip and mouth come from the country districts surrounding the city. Not one case came from the city itself. As is known, external injuries, such as blows or scratches, often develop into cancerous growths.

"In connection with this it must be borne in mind that the malignant boil-like growths found frequently on orchard and ordinary trees are infectious. That this is so is evident from the fact that these vegetable boils are often found three or more in a row on the same limb, evidently communicated from one spot to another. It is in this way the cancer germs are spread.

"Insects, and especially large wasps, are the medium of communicating and transmitting the germs from tree to tree, and even from tree to the human being. The question, therefore, is:

"Is the human being capable of receiving and developing a cancer germ thus introduced into his system?' Will the sting of a wasp, bearing such germs, develop into a cancerous growth? Probably! And it is also certain that water is a good medium for the propagation and distribution of germs. According to the method by which the germs are introduced into the system either by means of manual communication or through the internal organs, the disease develops.

"If introduced by the fingers, the growth is apt to show in the mouth or nose. If taken with food or water the stomach and intestines are likely to be afflicted."

Why Races Are Different in Color.

The colors of the different races depend upon the pigment in the epidermis, especially in its deeper strata. M. Breul, a recent French authority, finds, according to "Science," that the coloring-matter is in the interior of the epithelial cells, "while even in the negro the intercellular spaces are white. The pigment itself may be quite black, or of any shade up to a light yellow. It may be confined to the nucleolus, or extend over the cell. A close examination shows that it is distributed in patches over the skin, between them the tissue being colorless. This is true even of the black races, although in them the patches are close together and may not be discernible unless the skin is stretched. This distribution of the coloring-matter is the same in all races, and its actual amount is probably the same, the difference in hue resulting from the darker or lighter character of the pigmentary grains.

Pay of the Grecian Architect.

The French school at Delphi has lately unearthed two slabs of limestone which bear an inscription which is of great interest, dating as it does from the fourth century before Christ. This inscription, which consists of about 200 lines, gives the price of work for building operations in Greece at the period named, and from it we learn that an architect was paid at the rate of under £30 per annum. This is not a great sum, even if its purchasing power is multiplied, as it should be, by five or six.—Chambers' Journal.

Girls Strike for Unlimited Speech.

A strike in the Breckinridge (Kentucky) News office is the sensation in Cloverport to-day. Misses Mary Ryan, Laura Yeager and Delia Batt, whose homes are in Cloverport, have been setting the type for some time. Some weeks ago a notice was placed under the clock in the office, which read: "Am I on time?" This morning when the girls came to work the words "A still tongue makes a full stick" stared them in the face. This made them mad, and they demanded of J. D. Babbage, the publisher, that al such "mottoes" be removed. Mr. Babbage refused and the girls walked out of the office, not to return.

Byron a Hero of Greece.

With the faults and foibles of Byron Greece had nothing to do; she knew nothing of them; to her he was only "the great and noble." Crossing the Gulf of Salamis one day in a boat, with a rough mountain captain and his men, I pulled out a volume of Byron and was reading. The wind blowing open the leaves, the captain caught a glimpse of the portrait and recognised it. He begged to take the book, and looking for a moment, with melancholy, at the face of the noble lord, he kissed it and passed it to his men, who did the same, saying, "Eteon megalos kai kalos" (he was great and noble).—From "Lord Byron in the Greek Revolution," by F. B. Sanborn, in Scribner's.

Extent of Truck Farming.

The Agricultural Department says that in truck farming, as distinct from market gardening at the time of the last census, there were 544,440 acres of land and more than 240,000 persons employed. The products had a value of $76,517,155 after paying freights and commissions, and more than $100,000,000 were invested. Since that time the business has grown rapidly, and it now probably yields more money to the Southern States than any other single industry.

Protection for Berries.

Currants, gooseberries and other berries can easily be kept free from weeds during the late summer and fall, when the rush of farm work calls for all the help in the fields, by covering the ground around the plants with a thick coat of straw. This will settle down by winter and protect the plants and furnish plant food for next season. Currant worms very rarely do much damage to bushes that have been cultivated. They have no chance to hide in the grass.

The Cost of Production.

Some cows produce butter at a fair margin of profit, others produce a good large profit and others produce butter at a loss. In other words, the cost of keeping, feeding, milking and handling is more than the return in milk and butter from such cows. It is a self-evident fact that it is a loss, which will eventually impoverish the owner, to keep the last class of cows. Study the relative production of cost among the individual cows of your herd.

HARVEY'S FINE FALL EXHIBITION.

THIRD ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF THE SOCIETY.

A Good Attendance and a Creditable Line of Exhibits—Reference to the Grain, Roots, Live Stock, Etc—Addresses by Visitors.

The third annual exhibition of the township of Harvey Agricultural Society was held at Lakehurst on Wednesday. The attendance in spite of the threatening weather was large and there was a fine display of exhibits, and altogether the show was highly satisfactory to the directors and others interested in its success.

The show of ladies' work was unusually fine, and the new building which by the enterprise of the directors had been erected in rear of the town hall, had its capacity well taxed to contain the contributions of the ladies.

In the town hall, adjoining, the roots, vegetables and grain were shown. The samples of roots were fully equal to those shown at other exhibitions. The smallest mangold weighed 20 lbs, and the five roots shown by Mr. Wilson weighed 120 lbs.

The live stock exhibit was very creditable, there being a good collection of cattle, sheep, swine and poultry.

The show of horses in the field adjoining was very good, especially for a township which devotes so much attention to other branches of agriculture.

The ladies of the township supplied an excellent dinner in the building opposite the town hall, and they must have furnished dinner and tea to 300 or 400 persons.

The attendance included several from Lakefield, Smith, Ennismore and Bobcaygeon, judges having been selected from all these places.

THE ORATORICAL EXHIBIT.

At one o'clock the President of the Society, Mr. Robert Renwick, called the people together and thanked them cordially for their attendance and patronage, especially those who had directly contributed to the success of the show, the directors and judges who gave their valued services freely. He then called upon some of the visitors from a distance to make a few remarks.

Mr. Geo. E. Elliott, President of the Peterborough Central Exhibition, was the first to speak. He thanked the directors for the opportunity of being present as a speaker, for though he might be a good judge of horseflesh, he did not pose as an orator—he was too much occupied with farming to give any great attention to public speaking. He congratulated the promoters of the Harvey Exhibition on its success. The aims and objects of the society were to advance the interests of agriculture, and anything which tended to effect this should be encouraged and helped along. He complimented the ladies upon the fine character of the inside exhibit, which was a credit to their patience and skill and he also congratulated the farmers upon the excellent exhibit of their special products in all the departments of mixed farming. He was glad to see the high place Canadian products were taking in the British markets and was proud of the attention Canada was receiving in the old land. All we required to very largely increase our trade with the mother country was to keep up the standard and the British market was wide open to all the products of a good quality we can send. With increased shipping facilities and cold storage conveniences prepared by the Dominion Government we might reasonably look for an increased trade and better prices next year. If all the representatives of the province, Mr. Elliott said, looked as sharply after the interests of their constituents as Mr. Stratton, who was present to-day to open the exhibition, the position of the farmers would be improved as he (the speaker) believed that Mr. Stratton was the farmers' friend.

MR. MELDRUM SPEAKS.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum, who was present, was called upon and said that he was very agreeably surprised to see both the excellent exhibits and the large gathering that had assembled. He had not had the pleasure of advancing into the heart of Harvey before and had previously looked upon it more as a region of much rock and undeveloped mines than a farming and stock raising district, consequently his surprise was greater at seeing the fine samples of grain and other products exhibited. As a miller he was at home in talking about grain, and he complimented the directors and exhibitors upon the fine qualities of the grain shown. It was more pleasure to him to pay a high than a low price for grain. Buyers could only pay what the market warranted; but they were better satisfied in paying a good price and thereby benefitting those with whom they had to deal. This year the sun was on the Canadian farmers' side of the hedge, and almost everything he had to sell brought a better price, and he hoped these prices would continue. The prosperity of the farmer was the key note of all commercial prosperity, and as a business man living in a town, it gave him great pleasure to be present and add his little contribution to the success of a farmers' exhibition, which was highly creditable to the township.

MR. STRATTON'S REMARKS.

Mr. Stratton said it gave him very great pleasure to accept the cordial invitation of the directors of the exhibition to be present and assist at the opening ceremonies. The directors had evidently got on the right side of the clerk of the weather, although it was somewhat threatening this morning. Fine weather was one of the most important conditions for the success of a show, and made the pleasure of a drive to Lakehurst from Peterborough a pleasure only a few degrees less than being present among the many warm friends in Harvey he saw before him. The attendance seemed to testify to the deep interest taken in the success of the show by the people of the township, as well as to justify the expectations of liberal support and co-operation entertained by the directors and those instrumental in the establishment of the show. The exhibits in all the departments, he was glad to see, indicated advance in the several departments, the number of entries increasing year by year. The first year 345 entries were the total number, last year they increased to 434, and now they are 561, which is a very satisfactory increase. Though the ladies' work is not so abundant as that shown at the exhibitions of older townships, yet the quality, article for article, seems to be on a par with such articles exhibited elsewhere. And besides, the ladies of Harvey could, perhaps, find something more profitable to employ their hands than mere fancy work, which sometimes, as you all know, received attention at the expense of unnecessary ventilation of a husband's socks. The stock exhibited, as well as the general farm exhibits, were, he said, very creditable, especially to a comparatively new township that is only holding its third show, and is a distinct encouragement to the farmers to persevere in their efforts to make Harvey, as its natural adaptability suggests the possibility of making it, one of the best dairying townships of the county. They had the the soil, except in small districts, they had the water and the acreage, and from what he had seen the farmers had to make the most of these advantages.

The conditions of farming had entirely changed. In the past the money making department of farming was the grain crop, and the revenue of the farm was derived principally from wheat for flour and export, barley for the American breweries, fat pork for the shanties and a few horses for the lumbermen's camp. Butter and eggs were "swapped" at the country and village store for table supplies. But to-day the whole scene had changed, and cheese and butter making had become the national industry of the Canadian farmer.

The growth of the dairy business had been step by step, and dairying is only in its infancy yet. Great Britain took one hundred and twenty millions a year of farm and dairy produce, and Canada only supplied seven millions of that immense amount, so that there was practically no limit to the sale of our own products in the old country. Canada has got both feet firmly planted in the British market. Her dairy products were preferred before those of any other country, and if we tried to keep up the standard, we could sell all the cheese and butter we can make. And we know that we can increase our output many fold. Every Harvey farmer can produce twice as much butter and cheese as he produces now, and he is sure of a good market. In every walk of life the man who succeeds, attends strictly, carefully and promptly to every detail, stops every leak and makes every stroke count. No farmer can expect to keep to the front or even keep up with the procession who neglects to take advantage of all that is going on about him. Farmers need to use the good brains their Maker has given them. They must show their wisdom in collecting and caring for their stock and carrying that carefulness into every department of their business. If they wish to employ a farm hand they must select him for what he can do, for what he is worth and not because he is cheap. In selecting a wife the farmer, if he wants a good one, will choose her not alone for her beauty, but for her common sense and her ability to creditably keep up the home end of the business. The same thing applies in all departments—in the selection of teachers, in the selection of representatives in the township or county councils or even in parliament. In all these various walks men fitted for the positions must be chosen—men qualified for the work, men with both ability and willing to give you good service, men who have shown that they appreciate the weight of their responsibility and recognize that the benefit of their constituents, the moral as well as material interests, are their first care. There is no use in selecting men either to follow the plough or to make your laws whose ability and chief aim is to draw their salaries while others do the work. They must both know how to serve you,

MAKES A BUSINESS OF HIS BUSINESS,

AND BE WILLING TO DO IT.

These annual exhibitions were valuable schools of instruction; they brought together the products of the township and gave neighbors a chance of seeing what others could do. They created a healthy spirit of rivalry and competition and it was only by ambition aroused by competition, that the best results are produced. In view of the importance of these exhibitions in the newer townships, the speaker inclined to think that they should receive greater Government encouragement. The township shows in the older settled portions have had their day; they have served a good purpose, and supposing their place has not been taken by the larger riding shows, they are strong enough to stand without so much assistance—much on the same principle that the older settled townships are able to build their own highways, while the newer townships need the help of the Colonization Road grants. It seemed to the speaker that it would be a wise and a just policy for the Government to some extent to decrease the aid to township shows in old settled districts, especially where good riding shows exist, and to increase the aid and make more liberal provision for the shows that are now coming into existence and so bravely struggling in the newer townships. Whether the old township shows are decreased or not more liberal aid should be given to the pioneer shows. He was glad to see the show so successful and so largely attended and hoped the present exhibition was only a shadow of the success that would be realized in the years to come. He had much pleasure in deference to the wishes of the directors in declaring the show open.

The judges selected to award the prizes called for by the list, performed their duties satisfactorily, and as evening closed in the crowd departed, all well pleased with the success of the exhibition and their day's enjoyment.

HON. MR. HACKETT'S RECEPTION.

pleasure of a previous personal acquaintance with Hon. Mr. Hackett, but he had known of him and read of him, and a gentleman who was the only member of a defeated government who could carry his banner to the front in a Quebec constituency which was very largely Protestant, must have a breadth of view and a liberality of principle, and must also possess personal characteristics that commend him to the confidence of the public in an especial degree. He was glad that his first visit to Peterborough was for the furtherance of the interests of a good cause, and the character of his address in the Opera House was a demonstration of his desire to promote a harmonious spirit of brotherhood among Canadians, which he (Mr. Stratton) had been endeavouring to bring about for the past ten or twelve years. He believed in all classes of citizens having their rights, but in the effort to gain those rights, each of the two great classes into which the Province was divided could work for that aim in such a manner as not to offend the sensibilities of the other class, and while anxious for their own peculiar rights, each could be magnaminous, liberal and tolerant in their attitude towards the other, and of this course of action the guest of the evening was an example. He thanked the local members of the C. M. B. A. for the privilege of being present, and he concluded by wishing the society the greatest measure of success.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey proposed the health of the guest of the evening, which was greeted with a hearty response.

Mr. Hackett stated in opening that he had his political opinions, as he had his opinions concerning the Church, but politics would be allowed to pale this evening and would not be permitted to enter into any consideration which the C.M.B.A. might have. We care not for politics, said he. We care not whether a man worshipped the rising star of Sir Wilfred Laurier or drops a tear for the old reminiscences of Sir John A. Macdonald. We insist, however, that we have fair play in the goings and comings of the affairs of the Dominion.

Referring to Mr. Stratton's remarks the speaker paid a tribute to the man who had always stood for the privileges of all classes in the community irrespective of race or creed. He believed from all he knew that he had done so. It showed that he was a believer in British liberty and British fairplay.

ALL WE ASK

of you, sir, continued he, is that you carry out in your public life the sentiments you have expressed to-night. We, as C. M. B. A. men, ask no special privileges but we do ask a position that our brains and understanding entitle us to occupy—no more, no less and you, sir, by your speech to-night, have proven to us you are for British liberties.

We are a society which will tolerate no politics, as far as the C. M. B. A. is concerned. We are simply a Catholic institution and to the Protestants we say "You have your associations and you conduct them nobly and well. Will any of you dare say we are doing wrong when we follow in your footsteps. We want a union of Catholics. We want that the Catholics of Quebec should be received, as a body, as I am to-night. We want our friends down by the sea to know that he meets a brother when he meets a Catholic. I believe that the Catholics of the Dominion are the truest friends of loyalty. They were in the minority. They asked for no favour or privileges, but for their rights only—to work hand in hand for the grandeur and nobility of the Dominion of Canada. Let religious feeling be buried with everything else that seeks to sink the GRANDEUR OF CANADA.

There are no men that are brought up in Catholic institutions that have not the prosperity and noble futurity of Canada at heart. All we ask is the same boon that is granted to those that worship at a different altar. Put our workingman side by side with yours, and in the sight of man and in the sight of the Government, as he does in the sight of God, let him occupy the same position.

Again referring to the remarks of Mr. Stratton, Mr. Hackett said that so long as he adhered in his representative capacity to the principles of fair play and equitable dealing he had so emphatically expressed, so long would he be worthy of the confidence and support of the people of the constituency irrespective of creed differences.

The toast of "Our Sister Societies" was proposed and the names of Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Bryson mentioned in connection with it and they briefly spoke.

Mr. Thos. Cahill proposed the health of "The Army, Navy and Volunteers." Capt. Miller and Capt. Hayes responding.

The toast of "The Learned Professions" was coupled with the names of Messrs. C. W. Sawers and D. O'Connell, and that of "The Ladies" with Messrs. W. D. Parker, C. LeBrun and Thos. Henry. The health of "The Press" was responded to by the members present.

Additional Details of the Terrible Fires in Russell County, Ont., and Michigan, Indiana and Southern Illinois—

Five Dead at Casselman—A Minister's Experience.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 7.—Rev. Mr. McLean of Casselman, when asked to address the City Council, said he was not in a fit condition for such work. He was one of the sufferers and had only escaped with the clothing he now wore, and some of that was borrowed. The fire was half a mile away when he commenced to pack up his belongings, but so rapidly did the flames rush onward that the house was surrounded in a few minutes, the air being thick with smoke. Himself and his wife had to escape for their lives, and finally managed to get across the river to a place of safety. Everyone is in a state of destitution. On eighty or ninety houses in Casselman, there was no insurance and the families there need help of every kind. Many have sought refuge elsewhere, but are entirely dependent upon Ottawa for salvation from starving. Even their spare cash has been destroyed. No one could realize what a great calamity had occurred. He appealed to the citizens for their assistance.

Council, at a meeting to-day, decided to give $1000 to the sufferers from the fires along the Canada Atlantic Railway. A public meeting will also be called and a citizens' committee appointed to collect additional subscriptions to aid the destitute. Mr. W. C. Edwards, M. P., addressed the meeting.

Rev. Father Beausoleil, who has recently been transferred from Casselman, made a few remarks on the calamity and the need of assistance, after which Councillor Stewart drew attention to the fact that 65 families are homeless and Casselman is wiped out of existence. Something in the shape of organized relief must be done at once, as the sufferers are in a state of starvation, depending entirely upon the relief afforded by this city.

Mrs. William Poire, and her little boy, 4 years of age, who live about one mile north of South Indian, were badly burned, and were brought to the Catholic Hospital on the Boston train to-day. They were alone in their house the night of the fire. Being frightened at the nearness of the flames, they ran out and made an attempt to reach South Indian village, but were driven back. They then started for Stenhouse Corners, but their clothing caught fire on the way, and when they rushed into Mr. Stenhouse's dwelling the woman was ablaze from head to foot, and came near setting fire to the house. She was forced into the yard, where her clothes had to be torn off to save her life. She is seriously burnt, her arms and face being badly scorched and blistered. Her eyes are closed and her legs are also severely scorched. The boy was burnt on the arms and legs. The injuries of both were dressed by Dr. McDougall of Russell. Their own house, which they left to seek safety, was untouched by the fire. The husband and father of the woman accompanied the two injured ones to Ottawa.

His Grace Archbishop Duhamel and Rev. Father Touchette were at Casselman this morning, sympathizing with the victims and offering all the assistance in their power. The Archbishop addressed the people at a spot near the ruins of the church and the hearers were so touched with his words that many were moved to tears. He told them they must show courage at this critical moment, and bear up under the heavy strain. Help would be coming from outside places, on which he advised them not to depend too much. They had a hard battle to contend with and he trusted that they would overcome it in the end.

At the close of his remarks His Grace handed a donation of $100 to a relief committee to be named among the most prominent settlers. He impressed on all the necessity of re-building at once if possible.

ONLY FIVE DEAD.

The Harrowing Details of the Efforts Made to Escape the Flames.

Of the five people who lost their lives in the conflagration which devastated Russell County on Tuesday, four resided in South Indian and the fifth four miles northeast of that village. The dead are: Mrs. Frank Leveille, widow, her two children, Ellen and Francis, aged 6 years and 1 year respectively, Miss Stiles, sister of Mrs. Leveille, and Mrs. Lacroix, a woman of about 55 years.

Mrs. Frank Leveille, her children and her sister lived together in a frame house in the northeast of the village. She was lately left a widow, and her house was in a somewhat exposed position. On Tuesday several of the villagers, whose dwellings were in ashes, fought to save hers. They left her house when the danger was past, and cautioned her to remain in the house, but to keep a watch lest it should catch fire. Mrs. Leveille and the rest of the household, evidently fearing that the house would be burned, left it and wandered away to take refuge in the fields. The smoke was dense, and they must have lost their way. Late at night her brother-in-law, Mr. Joseph Leveille, visited the house to see that she was all right, and was astonished to find the house intact, but empty. He at once concluded that the occupants had left the house, fearing it would take fire. Early yesterday search was made for them. About 10 o'clock the charred remains of all four were found a mile from their home. They had evidently died until suffocated by the smoke.

The mother was found with her baby boy lying upon her; a few feet away the little girl was found lying dead, and farther off the body of Miss Stiles was found. The mother and her two children were horribly burned. The body of Miss Stiles is the least disfigured. As soon as found the bodies were removed to the house of Mr. Joseph Leveille, where they were viewed by numbers of the villagers and press men and others from the city. Miss Stiles was a sister of Mr. Richard Stiles of Metcalfe.

Mrs. Lacroix resided with her son, Joseph Lacroix, on the north side of the railway track, about three miles from Casselman. When the family saw that the fire, which was making rapid progress in an easterly direction, was destined to consume their place of habitation they gathered up some of their belongings and fled northwards. This was about 4 o'clock. A short distance from the house Mrs. Lacroix thought she would go back for a heavy jacket. Her son and his wife urged her not to do so, saying she had plenty of time. She went back and was caught in the flames.

A deputation, composed of Messrs. D. Racine, O. Quenville, A. Sabourin, E. N. Hurtubise, C. Charron, P. Bissonnette and Rev. Father Beausoleil, along with the local members, was appointed to interview the Dominion Government and make a direct appeal for aid. Assistance is required at once, as the people of the entire district are destitute. The efforts of the Canada Atlantic and others are appreciated, still more is necessary to alleviate the sufferings of the poor victims. Mayor Bingham will be asked to join the deputation.

The Catholic Church at Casselman will be rebuilt immediately. The edifice and priest's dwelling were well insured, and the money derived from both will be utilized next week to re-build. The insurance will likely cover any debts that may be incurred. Until it is ready service will be held in the exhibition building, owned by the Russell County Agricultural Association. The use of it was kindly given by Mr. O. Quenville, the president. Stories of persons being burned to death are repeatedly reported, but when investigated they turn out incorrect. So far the death list remains at five persons.

The following appeal is being sent out to-day to the different municipalities in Ontario and Quebec, and a telegram much in the same sense has been sent by the Mayor of Ottawa to the chief magistrates of the leading cities and towns in the two provinces:

"The fearful fire which ravaged 300 square miles of Russell and Prescott Counties on Tuesday last has resulted in the loss of five lives, rendered 2000 people homeless and destroyed farms, dwellings, stores, churches, schools and property generally to the value of thousands of dollars. Relief is urgently needed for the sufferers and we venture to appeal to charitably disposed people throughout the Dominion to subscribe generously to the fund which has been opened. A strong central committee is being formed in Ottawa to see that any assistance forthcoming is properly dispensed. (Signed), Samuel Bingham, Mayor of Ottawa; W. C. Edwards, M. P. for Russell; Isidore Proulx, M. P. for Prescott."

The destruction and suffering of farm animals was very great. Large numbers of cows, horses, pigs and sheep perished in the flames, or were smothered in the smoke.

South Indian village is a desolate ruin. Among the ruins people are searching to find articles of value that by some chance might have escaped destruction, but their efforts are not often rewarded. A Capuchin father from Ottawa was on the scene early yesterday, and was doing what he could to comfort the disheartened villagers.

HOMES SACRIFICED.

Marsh Fires and Drought Cause Farmers to Pull Up Stakes—Terrible Devastation.

Niles, Mich., Oct. 7.—East and north of this city the terrible marsh fires still continue. Farmers have fought the flames night and day for a week, and are utterly exhausted. They have moved their household goods to places of safety, and have sacrificed their homes.

Near Berrien Springs, on what is known as the big meadow, the fire has swept over like a prairie fire, and thousands of acres of potatoes have been roasted in the hills. The fire is the worst that has occurred in this vicinity since 1871.

Drought Without Parallel.

Muscoutah, Ill., Oct. 7.—In the experience of the oldest settlers in St. Clair and adjoining counties, the present drought is without parallel. The damage done by the drought in Southern Illinois cannot be accurately estimated, but it has been great. The heaviest loss to the farmers is on the corn crop, which has been cut down 50 to 65 per cent. by the dry weather. It has also done great damage to all late vegetation, and to the fruit crop generally. A water famine is threatened over a large area of country. Many farmers residing east of Muscoutah are hauling water a distance of six miles.

Everybody Fighting Fire

Valparaiso, Ind., Oct. 7.—The marsh fire is rapidly spreading in this county, though the farmers have given up all other work and are fighting at all hours of the day. Several more houses were destroyed last night. The residents of Hebron, Kouts and Kinman are badly frightened, as it is feared the fires may sweep across the heavy ditches, which have been dug across these places. At Decatur and Lagrange, Ind., forest fires are raging. The farmers are now so organized that they anticipate no great damage unless the wind suddenly changes. Great fires are burning in the marshes near Rochester, Ind.

Corn and Wheat Destroyed

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 7.—Forest fires are raging in the eastern part of this county, and farmers have organized to fight the flames. Barns, corn in shock and acres of winter wheat have been destroyed.

ALL PRAYING FOR RAIN.

A Terrible State of Affairs in Arkansas from Drouth and Forest Fires.

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 7.—Drought and forest fires are doing great damage in Arkansas, and the situation grows worse daily. Thousands of dollars' worth of valuable timber and other property has been burned, and stock in nearly all sections of the state is suffering from the scarcity of water, while in some places there is not even drinking water for the people. No general rain has fallen for over 60 days, and in some localities the drought is of even longer duration. Miles of fences have been destroyed, saw mills burned, cabins gutted, and in some instances the flames have been communicated to large beds of open cotton, which were destroyed. In hundreds of localities wells and springs have entirely dried up, and residents are hauling water in barrels from the nearest streams, while some sections are twenty miles distant. Nearly all late vegetables have been parched in the fields. The people in many localities are holding meetings and praying for rain.

HORSEWHIPPED THE FOREWOMAN.

Lively Scene in Front of Wanamaker's Store in New York.

New York, Oct. 7.—Jennie Russell, 30 years old, a discharged employe in the dress-making department of Wanamaker's store, horsewhipped Miss Margaret Donovan, a forewoman of the department, in front of the store this afternoon. Miss Russell considered that Miss Donovan had caused her discharge, hence the whipping. The Russell woman was arrested. Miss Donovan had several severe welts on her face and shoulders.

METHODIST MISSIONS.

An Increase Both in Receipts and Expenditure Shown by the Annual Financial Report.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 7.—The General Board of Missions of the Methodist Church in Canada opened its annual meeting to-day in this city. Dr. Carman presided. There is a good attendance of members. The reports show satisfactory progress. The suggestion to send a missionary to the Klondike came up to-day and will be discussed further. This evening a public meeting was held, at which Rev. Dr. Sutherland presented the annual report.

The financial report of the Missionary Society for the past year (1896-7) shows that the income from subscriptions and collections, juvenile collectors, Sunday Schools and Epworth Leagues amounts to the sum of $185,486.53, which, it is very gratifying to state, is $2006 in advance of the receipts from the same sources a year ago. The Great Blood Purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.

Sufferers from any disease caused by impure blood should never be discouraged about taking Hood's Sarsaparilla because other medicines have failed to give relief. Remember Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. Read this statement:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs:—I think it my duty to let you know what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I was suffering with severe headaches daily and also with catarrh. One day a paper was left at my house and in looking it over I read of your great medicine's value to my fellow sufferers. I reasoned that if it cured them, why would it not cure me, although I must own I had some doubts about it, as I

Had Tried So Many

so-called cures which had failed even to relieve me. At last I procured a bottle and after taking all the medicine the headaches had left me and my catarrh trouble was much better. I continued taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and have derived so much benefit from it that I would advise any one troubled with impure blood to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. I feel better now than I have for years, thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. E. GREY, 27 St. Nicholas St., Toronto, Ontario. Remember

JOHN BULL'S POSITION.

Uncle Sam Finds That He Did Not at Any Time Agree to Russia and Japan Coming In.

Washington, D.C., Oct. 7.—The State Department has received full information as to the position of the British Government in the proposed Bering Sea conference. The British view, as laid before the State Department, is that at no stage of the negotiations has the British Government agreed to a conference except that between the experts of Great Britain, Canada and the United States.

What London Papers Say.

London, Oct. 8. The Daily Graphic and other papers this morning justify Lord Salisbury's refusal to participate in a conference as to pelagic sealing, which includes the representatives of Russia and Japan. The Standard says: "It rests with Secretary Sherman to find his way out of a self-created difficulty without a sacrifice of dignity."

The Daily News says: "The impetuosity of the United States and their desire to include countries not directly interested, are unpleasant features of the controversy."

DECLINE IN BRITISH EXPORTS.

Dingley Tariff's Effect Will Be to Make J Bull Look for Other Markets.

London, Oct. 8. The morning papers comment upon the continued decline in British exports. The Board of Trade returns for September show a 7½ per cent. decline as compared with the corresponding month of last year. It is admitted that this is mainly due to the Dingley tariff. The Times says: "Whatever its ultimate effect, it is clear that the immediate result of protection in America is to close the American markets very largely to British exports. We may as well make up our minds to this fact and seek an opening for our goods elsewhere."

AFRIDIS EXCUSED.

Will Not Be Made to Fight Against Their Rebellious Fellow Tribesmen.

London, Oct. 8.—The correspondent of The Times at Simla says:

"A general order will be issued announcing that in consideration of the loyalty hitherto exhibited by the Afridis in the Government service, they will be excused from participating in the punitive expedition against the rebellious fellow tribesmen."

Emigration to Canada.

London, Oct. 7.—By official returns just issued it is gathered that during the month of September the number of British emigrants to Canada from Great Britain was 2474, and of foreign nationality 612. During the nine months ended, Sept. 30, the total of British emigrants to Canada from ports of the United Kingdom was 13,978 and of foreigners 5802.

Money Dearer in India.

Calcutta, Oct. 7.—The Bank of Bengal has increased its rate of discount from 6 to 7 per cent.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

There were 30 car loads of live stock on the market to-day, composed of 579 cattle, 481 sheep and lambs, 15 calves and 1200 hogs. Cattle were dull and slow all round, and the great bulk offered were butchers' stockers and feeders. The market might be characterized as a waiting one, the drovers holding off to see if Friday will develop anything better.

Seven loads of export cattle were offered, but as far as we could ascertain, not one of them changed hands. There was a little doing and a few sales made for butchers' cattle at prices quoted below.

D. O'Leary sold 8 heifers, averaging 900 lbs. each, at $3.20 per cwt.

Trade in stockers is not nearly as brisk as it was two weeks ago, but prices remain about the same as we quoted on Tuesday. Large shipments of Manitoba stockers have been made to several points in Western Ontario, 300 arrived at Seaforth, 300 at Elora and 180 at Brussels, and we were informed that more will follow. This being the case, it will no doubt affect prices to a certain extent.

Crealock & Rowntree bought 70 stockers, weighing from 500 lbs. to 700 lbs. each, at prices ranging from $2.65 to $3.12 per cwt.

Milk cows are in good demand at prices ranging from $25 to $45 each. Only six were offered for sale.

Calves sell well and are scarce at $4 to $8 each, and odd choice ones $10 to $11, but these are rare.

Sheep sold at Tuesday's quotations, and lambs brought from $3.75 to $4.00 per cwt.

There were plenty to supply the demand of both sheep and lambs.

The hog market was steady at prices as quoted below.

CHEESE MARKETS.

THE DETROIT FIRE.

It Was a Serious Affair and the Loss is Over Half a Million—Julia Arthur Lost Her Costumes.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 7.—Five large buildings and two smaller ones, with all their contents, were destroyed this morning by a fire which swept through a block situated in the centre of the business portion of Detroit, and bounded by the Campus Martius, Woodward, Gratiot and Monroe-avenues. The total loss is estimated at $600,000 to $700,000. The blaze started about 1 o'clock on the stage of the Detroit Opera House.

The origin of the fire is not determined. It was not noticed until the flames leaped out at the rear of the theatre, following a blowing out of a rear wall by the explosion of a calcium light.

Among the losses was that of the Julia Arthur Dramatic Company. All of its handsome costumes and stage settings were destroyed. Miss Arthur was prostrated over this serious blow to her enterprises.

DEGREES FOR MERIT.

One Was Conferred Upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier

BY THE UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

The Premier Says He Prizes it Most of All He Has Received. The Great Canadian Presented to Chancellor for the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws by Dr. H. E. Walker.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—The honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier at a special convocation of Toronto University, held in the Horticultural Pavilion yesterday afternoon. The honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The ceremony was witnessed by as many people as could pack themselves, sardine-like, into the big building.

The chancellor seated himself in the midst of the dais, with Sir Wilfrid on his right and President Loudon on his left, and among others who took seats on the platform were: John King, MA, Prof Alfred Baker, Dr Oldright, Dr Thomas Hodgins, Dr Barbour (Guelph), Rev Father Ryan, Rev Dr Teefy, Dean Harris (St. Catharines), Chancellor Burwash, Rev Dr Caven, Rev Dr Sheraton, Mr G R Walker, Rev Dr Dewart, W Mortimer Clark, Prof Fraser, Dr John Hunter, J K Macdougall, C H C Wright, R A Pringle, Dr J J Wishart, Dr F H [illegible], Dr R A Reeve, Dr Webster (Montreal), F F Manley, William Macdonald, Rev A C Morrison, Rev Dr Gilmour, Prof Wallace, Mr Shepley, Prof Ballantyne, Rev A Milligan, Dr Hough, Mons. St Denis des Champs, Mon. Ahuson, A H U Colquhoun, William Dale, Prof Hutton, Prof R A Wright, Rev Prof Clark, Prof Baugley, Dr Tracy, Rev J Macdonald, Dr Dobson, Dr Maclaren, Dr Reynar, Dr A B Macallum, Dr McPhedran, Dr McCurdy, Dr Amyot, Dr Bruce, Dr H Abbott, Dr McIlwraith, Dr A R Gordon, Prof Alexander, J M Clark, C A Howland, M.A., Dr Smale, W S Milner, J C Robertson, Dr George Johnston, C S Gzowski, Jr, A Rutherford, W K Parks, D Buchanan, W F Maclean, M.P. the hour named for the function, the general public had jammed the ground floor of the hall, while the students from Varsity and sister institutions overflowed the galleries. These undergraduates had gathered an hour or more before the time set and while they waited they kept up that perpetual pandemonium that always reigns where irrepressible youths are congregated. Their college and class yells, and their badinage of each other and of the unlucky professors who chanced to show their forms below, served to while away the minutes that elapsed before the event of the day came on. The building still shone resplendent with the decorations arranged for the Board of Trade banquet of the night before, which had not been removed.

A group of Varsity undergraduates in the eastern gallery had just demanded a kindergarten song from some Trinity freshies in the opposite balcony, when silence was demanded, and the beadle of old Toronto advanced up the middle aisle bearing the gilded mace of the institution. Behind this functionary came the Chancellor, Hon. Edward Blake, leading Lady Laurier upon his arm, and after them Sir Wilfrid Laurier, attended by Vice-Chancellor Mulock, President Loudon and numerous members of the

Then the formal ceremony of conferring the degree began, and proceeded as well as the interruptions of the students in the galleries permitted.

Mr. H. E. Walker of the University Senate arose and said: "I have the honor to present for the degree of Doctor of Laws, honoris causa, the Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier. * * * I believe I am right in saying that this degree was granted for the first time to one who had done eminent service to his country, and who is remembered with affection by all Canadians, at the time and until his death the First Minister of the Crown. * * * * In 1859 this university granted the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws to the late Sir John Macdonald. These are instances of the bestowal of this degree upon men who have earned it by services to their country."

In conclusion, Mr. Walker referred to Sir Wilfrid as one who had inherited his temperament "on the one hand from those daring pioneers who first threaded our forests and rivers, and on the other from those gentlemen of New France who first moved in North America the seeds of the higher civilization of literature."

The Chancellor then rose and formally conferred the degree of LL.D. upon the Premier, who, having advanced to the front of the platform, and signed his name to the University roll, delivered a brief address.

Amidst cries of "freshman," Sir Wilfrid began. He had, he said, only a few minutes before been a youthful undergrad., but he was now a full-fledged graduate of Toronto University. He valued the degree all the more because it had been received at the hands of the present Chancellor. This degree he appreciated more than all the others he had received. Toronto University was an institution purely Canadian, and to it the country owed a deep debt of gratitude. While in England he had been honored with degrees from Oxford and Cambridge, but the degree from Toronto he would ever cherish even more than these.

Hon. Edward Blake then arose and said that the object for which the convocation had been assembled had now been accomplished. As he had thought of what he would say on this occasion he had been reminded of the uses to which this building was being put during Sir Wilfrid's visit to Toronto. There was that great banquet last night, at which the prosperity of the country had been glowingly dwelt on, and there was to be held this evening in the same place a reception in order that the people might become personally acquainted with the Premier. And in between came the quiet University convocation. [Cries of Oh! Oh!]

The Chancellor spoke of the special qualifications for the degree possessed by Sir Wilfrid, for a knowledge of [illegible] and political economy formed the basis of practical statesmanship.

In an eloquent peroration the Chancellor said: "In all your names I may express the hope that he will be well and wisely guided and that acting on those conceptions of duty I have feebly portrayed he may ever turn his eyes for inspiration to that fair figure of freedom and progress so nobly pictured by the last great laureate when he wrote:

"Love thou thy land with love far-brought
From out the storied past, and used
Within the present, but transfused
Through future time by power of thought."

Mr. Blake quoted the poem in full and then declared the convocation concluded.

THE UNIVERSITY.

Hon. Edward Blake Comments Upon the Present System of Its Government Strong Words.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—After the presentation of the prizes, medals, scholarships and fellowships at the joint convocation of the University of Toronto and University College, held at the Gymnasium last night, President Loudon made some interesting announcements and Hon. Edward Blake an important deliverance.

The greater portion of the remarks of Hon. Edward Blake were devoted to the discussion of the present system of university government. He took exception to the strictures recently passed by some on the Government control of the institution. So long, he said, as the university was not mixed up with party politics his opinion was that no government of either party would run any danger by following a liberal policy towards the institution. The Ontario Government was to be thanked for the liberal grant of land it had made and for the permanent allowance of $7000 a year to be devoted to geology, mineralogy and kindred subjects. He was sorry to say, though, that this did not anything like make ends meet and in order to meet the remaining deficit economy had to be practiced in various quarters. The largest saving was to be made at the expense of the professors, who were to be asked to conduct the annual examinations without extra remuneration. This plan would effect a retrenchment of $5000.

The Chancellor then reverted to his criticism of those who advocated a change in the control of the University. They should before they went too far be careful to see that they had a good substitute for the present system of government. He failed to see that any system could be substituted which would give the same security to the province as regards the institution as the present did. He was not speaking as a party man. He saw no reason for fearing danger from the control of the University by the Ontario Government. He hoped that the possibility of there being honest politicians was not doubted. One thing objected to was the control of the University patronage by the Government, but the people could insist that the Government did the right thing in the matter of appointments.

And here Mr. Blake suggested the selection of a board of three from among the University authorities, whose duty it should be to recommend men for any vacancies in the staff that might occur. He thought that if the Government were not allowed to make appointments except at the instance of such a board, a check would be put on any possible abuse of the University patronage.

YOUNG LAMONT'S CASE.

Neighbours Much Interested in the Story Everyone Thought That the Youngster Would Die, but he's Very Much Alive Now.

DUNDALK, Oct. 4.—Hugh Lamont, of McIntyre, has a young son who is an object of interest throughout this whole section of country. From infancy the boy had dropsy, and was bloated and swollen all over. It seemed to the parents that death could be the only release to one attacked so young by this disease. They heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and began giving them to the child. With the first box the bloating and swelling began to disappear. Six boxes effected a perfect cure and the boy is now just as healthy a youngster as stirs up the dust on the high roads of Western Ontario.

A MINISTER TALKS.

Mr. Fielding in London to Borrow £2,000,000 He Talks on Canadian Trade With the States.

London, Oct. 7.—Mr. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada, has arrived here to negotiate a loan of £2,000,000 at high interest to take up outstanding obligations of Canada and to assist in the railroad and canal developments of the Dominion.

In an interview, Mr. Fielding said: "The Canadian Government is well aware that a number of influential men in both parties of the United States are dissatisfied with the present state of trade between the United States and Canada, and it is quite possible this will lead to some action. If the United States Government approaches the Canadian Government on the subject it will be met in the right spirit. We strongly believe that it is for the advancement of Canadian as well as Imperial interests, that there should be friendly trade relations with our neighbors."

Answering a question regarding the proposal to admit representatives of Russia and Japan to the Behring Sea conference, Mr. Fielding remarked: "The proposal to bring in other nations is open to the gravest objections, and the Government and people of Canada will be much pleased at the decision of Great Britain to withdraw from such a conference."

Mr. M. P. Halpin, Brockville, Ont., makes a statement as follows: "For two years I suffered from kidney trouble, causing severe pain across my back, dizziness, headache, sleeplessness, etc. I had often to lean on the counter when serving a customer, so intense was the pain in my back. On taking Doan's Kidney Pills I improved from the very first, and now after using three boxes am all right; all my pains, aches and dizziness having disappeared, thanks to Doan's Pills."

Montreal Produces Its Share.

What a Wonderful lot of People there are who Suffer from Backache.

From the Millionaire Sitting in His Office Clipping Coupons Down to the Humble Citizen who Swings a Pick for a Dollar a Day, Nobody is Free from it, and it all Comes From the Same Cause—The Kidneys are to Blame.

Backache is really nothing but kidney ache.

You can be perfectly sure that it means a disordered condition of the kidneys.

Here is some Montreal proof worth reading:—

Mrs. Laby, says: "My uncle, Mr. John Hughes, has been a very great sufferer from kidney disease, pain across the back, frightful headaches and dizziness, as well as severe urinary difficulties.

He was in a fearful state, could not rest, and often had to walk the floor half the night so great were the pains. We gave him a great many kinds of medicine, but they did him no good. He then went to the hospital, but the doctors there said that he had a complication of diseases, and only afforded him temporary relief. On coming back home he was soon as bad as ever.

Well, we saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and thought he might as well try them, as they could do him no harm, so he started to use them and got better in a very short time. In fact, he only used them for six weeks.

He is all right now, the pains have disappeared entirely, he eats well, sleeps well and works right along every day. We can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills very highly." 126

The Three Guardsmen.

Romantic drama with a notable exponent will be the attraction at the Opera House Monday evening, when Paul Caseneuve, the young romantic actor, will make his initial appearance in this city as a star. A Gascon by birth it is appropriate that Mr. Caseneuve should make his debut as that fascinating swaggering hero of romance, D'Artagnan, "The Three Guardsmen." Mr. Caseneuve is young and enthusiastic; his figure lithe and graceful; he speaks the English language with taste and correctness, and handles his sword with ease and dexterity. Mr. Caseneuve will be supported by an excellent company of players and the play will be staged and costumed in an admirable manner. Prices 25, 35, 50 and 75c. Seats now on sale.

Thrown upon a large white screen 90 feet from the machine, the exact distance at which the camera was placed at the ringside, these pictures are reproduced, showing even to the smallest detail, everything that happened during the contest. Prices, 25c, 35c and 50c.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY REGULAR MEETING.

AN INTERESTING SESSION HELD.

Large Additions to the Museum—Good Attendance—New Members Admitted—Interesting Details.

The regular monthly meeting of the Peterborough Town and County Historical Society was held in the parlours of the Victorian Museum last night. There was a large attendance of members and increased interest was shown in the affairs of the society, especially in the important additions that were made to the museum collections.

The following members were present:—Col. H.C. Rogers, in the chair, Mr. T.A. Hay, Secretary, Mrs. Traill, Mr. Richard Hall, Mrs. Browne, Mr. J. H. Burnham, Miss Halliday, Mr. F. D. Kerr, Miss Lundy, Miss Browne, Miss Stewart, Miss Clementi, Miss Dunlop, Miss Hall, Dr. Bell, Dr. Boucher and Mr. E. B. Edwards.

By the adoption of the report of the Executive Committee the following members were admitted:—Mrs. (Hon. Robt.) Aamilton, Auburn; Mr. Charles Bradburn, town; Mr. W. H. Casement, Lakefield; Mr. W. H. Meldrum, town; Mr. Wm. Anderson, Warden of the County was made an honourary member.

THANKS.

A resolution was unanimously and heartily adopted thanking Mr. T. H. Strickland for his services in collecting the balance of the $100, which it was necessary to raise in order to obtain the town grant.

AN INTERESTING COLLECTION.

Mr. Hampden Burnham by request exhibited and furnished interesting particulars and explanations of a large collection of Indian and Esquimaux articles of clothing, implements and articles of ornament and other curios, the property of Mrs. (Hon. Robt.) Hamilton and Mr. George Boucher. Dr. Boucher's collection was kindly loaned for the occasion, to be ultimately presented to the museum, with large additions, and Mrs. Hamilton's are to be at once placed on the shelves of the museum.

Mr. Burnham gave a short description of each article, which was then passed among the members present for closer inspection.

On motion of Mr. Hay and Mr. Edwards, the thanks of the society was tendered Mrs. Hamilton and Dr. Boucher for their interesting collection they had placed at its disposal, and to Mr. Burnham for exhibiting them.

Dr. Boucher in reply thanked the meeting for their appreciation, and expressed the pleasure it gave him to add to the interest of the museum, and he hoped in the near future to be able to allow his collection to be deposited with several additions.

ESQUIMAUX AND DOG-RIB INDIAN RELICS.

Dr. Boucher's collection consisted of a seal skin Esquimaux coat, and pair of moose fur-lined mittens; pair of leggings and moccasins in seal skin, and a rawhide dog whip—a brutal weapon over thirty feet long, plaited and tapered to a point; a model of a sailing canoe of rawhide, with full equipment of spears, harpoons, etc; pair of child's moccasins of raw seal; stone pipe carved out of jasper; pair of wooden spectacles to prevent snow blindness; seal skin purse and sundry small articles.

Mrs. Hamilton's collection, which is also a fine one, consists of a dressed buckskin coat with mitts attached, elaborately and beautifully embroidered with beads and quills; trousers of dressed deer skin with moccasins attached and beautifully embroidered with quills and beads; a chip belt of dressed hide, richly embroidered with deep tassels of skin, ornamented with little copper pieces that jingle with the movement of the wearer, and thus distinguish the chief even in the darkness; a beautiful game bag made of netted sinew, also embroidered; a bonnet of dressed deer skin, ornamented profusely; two fire bags, for tinder, flint, steel etc., most exquisitely ornamented with beads, thousands upon thousands of tiny coloured beads on each bag; embroidered scabbard for knife; a hunting knife sheath with embroidery of quills; pair of dressed deer skin garters, beautifully embroidered; two pairs beautifully finished deer skin moccasins; waterproof jacket and hood, made apparently of intestinal membrane, beautifully stitched together; a beautiful tinted green and black stone axehead and bark basket.

Mrs. Hamilton's collection includes one of the coronation cups, in commemoration of the coronation of the Czar of Russia. The cup is made of aluminum and is finely gilt and adorned with the Imperial arms and cypher. Cups like this were presented to each of the guests at a grand opera and banquet at Moscow. It will be remembered that in the scramble for food a panic ensued and thousands were killed in the ensuing melee. The scene was covered with these cups, thrown aside by the panic stricken guests and were picked up by curio hunters, and one, through Mrs. Hamilton's kindness, has found its way to the Victoria Museum.

THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND'S WOMEN'S AUXILIARY.

Branches in the Vicinity Sent Representatives—A Report of the Work Done by the Mission Band.

The united meeting of the Church of England Women's Auxiliary to Mission took place yesterday afternoon in St. John's school room and was largely attended and most successful.

Branches of the Women's Auxiliary in Emily, Lakefield, Sunnyside, St. Luke's, Ashburnham, and the South Ward were well represented.

Excellent, thoughtful papers were read by the following ladies:—Mrs. Lefevre, Lakefield; Mrs. E. A. Peck and Mrs. Mackey, Ashburnham; Miss Chamberlain, South Ward Mission, and Mrs. A. N. Clark, Mrs. G. A. Smith and Miss Kirkpatrick, St. John's.

Mrs. H. S. Greenwood made a report of the work done by the Mission Band, most interesting by her bright, practical suggestions.

Mrs. Seward sang very feelingly a sacred solo which was enjoyed by all. Suitable missionary hymns were played by Mrs. Finnemore and heartily joined in. The Rector's truly thrilling address dealt largely with woman's present work for missions, and also the great possibilities for the future.

Mrs. Vernon then closed the meeting with the members prayer. A cup of tea and a little social intercourse was then in order, and the general sentiment was hearty approval of such meetings, as affording opportunities of conferring with sister societies upon the details and method of their work.

MINNICOLA'S ALLEGED CRIME.

Investigation into the Charge of Incest laid Against the Italian.

Philip Minnicola, the Italian who was arrested on Saturday night last by Constable McGinty on a charge of incest, in respect to his daughter, was brought before the magistrate yesterday and through his solicitor, Mr. W. H. Moore, declined to elect as to whether he would be tried by a jury or not.

A preliminary hearing was then held, at which evidence was taken against Minnicola, the prosecution being conducted by County Crown Attorney Wood.

Michael Basso, the well known Italian interpreter of Toronto, was present.

Mary Minnicola, the complainant, was the first witness examined. She stated that she lived at her home, No. 67 Elm street, and was seventeen years age on February 14th last. She had lived in Peterborough eleven years, coming here from Italy. On August 10th she gave birth to a male child, of which Philip Minnicola, her father, was the father. Her father had flourished a knife and threatened to kill her if she ever mentioned the fact, which was related with details that cannot be published.

On the discovery of the girl's condition by the mother, through a physician, the father drew money from the bank and fled.

The mother's testimony confirmed the daughter's story regarding what had occurred after their visit to the doctor.

Dr. Clarke testified as to having delivered the daughter of a dead male infant on August 10th.

No evidence was offered for the defence and the prisoner was committed for trial.

MR. J. D. COLLINS RETURNS.

From a Pleasant Visit to the Land of His Nativity.

Mr. J. D. Collins, McDonel street, returned yesterday from a visit to Ireland, whither he went on July 10th last accompanied by Mr. Robert Fair, of town.

Mr. Collins did not do any travelling whilst abroad, spending instead all his time with his mother, at Bangor, on the sea coast, in County Down.

He brought back a dozen or more books of photographic views of the Isle of Erin, and he is familiar with almost every landmark in the photographs, as there is very little ground in the north of Ireland that he has not been over, and every corner in the principal cities are well known to him. The views are most beautiful embracing all the picturesque scenery of the north of Ireland and the many interesting ruins.

Just a few days before leaving, Mr. Collins climbed to the top of Sleamish mountain, one of St. Patrick's haunts. It has an elevation of nearly 1500 feet, and right at the top of it Mr. Collins picked up a lucifer match, which he brought away as a relic.

The passage home was very rough, the passengers not being able even to walk on the deck at any time, and being consquently confined to the saloons. It took thirteen days to cross.

Ireland, Mr. Collins says, is a delightful country, but it isn't Canada, and the much vaunted Lakes of Killarney are not to be compared to our own Stony Lake for natural beauty.

THE MISSIONARY CONVENTION ENDED.

METHODIST WOMEN CLOSE A THREE DAYS' SESSION.

Three of the Most Interesting Papers Published in Full—The Courtesy Committee Report.

THURSDAY MORNING SESSION.

At the morning session of the Convention a number of resolutions were discussed and passed.

Instead of two delegates being sent from each branch to the Board, as proposed in a notice of motion sent in at the last annual meeting, one delegate will be eligible from every 1000. At present one delegate is sent from every 600 delegates.

It was moved by Mrs. Grange and Mrs. Jewell that the Bay of Quinte Branch memorialize the Board of Managers, that whereas the publication of a separate paper will to some extent separate the interests of the General Board and W. M. S. that we pay a certain sum for the enlargement of the Outlook, so as to afford us two or three pages in addition to those we are now entitled to. This includes the idea that the price of the Outlook be not increased.—Carried.

Resolved, that in order to expediate the business of the branch annual meetings, all memorials originating in this branch either from district convention auxiliaries or any member of an Auxiliary be sent to the corresponding secretary of the church not later than Sept. 20 in each year, and that this resolution become a bylaw of this branch.

Whereas we as a branch aim to observe the principles of economy and moderation in all things, desiring to cultivate the spirit of the Master within and without, and whereas the church which opens its doors to us year by year is burdened by the furnishing of an elaborate supper, therefore resolved that we advise the discontinuance of the same.—Carried.

Invitations for the next annual meeting were received from Bowmanville and Picton. That from the latter place was accepted.

MRS. (REV.) M'INTYRE,

of Belleville, read the following paper on "How to increase the attendance at our monthly meetings." How to increase the attendance is no new theme at our annual meeting, and in discussing it we may repeat suggestions offered at former meetings, but if they are good, a reiteration of them may prompt us to continue them, if we have tried them, and if we have not, may induce us to see their utility, and put them into active operation.

In making suggestions along this line, we will consider the duties of the individual member of each Auxiliary—before the meeting, at the meeting, after the meeting. Before the meeting, do we prepare ourselves for it? Not so much in the way of personal adornment as in heart adornment. Do we put ourselves in thorough sympathy with the purpose for which the meeting is held? Have we allowed our minds to be engaged with thoughts of mission work, while our hands are occupied with household duties? Have we attuned our hearts by communion with God, inviting the presence of the Spirit and praying for the blessing of God on the service? No meeting will be barren or unprofitable to us if we thus prepare ourselves for it, and when in response to our petitions the spirit of God rests upon us, He will make it a good meeting to all present, and they will be glad to come again. At the meeting we should do what we can to answer our own prayers. But ourselves in a position where we can be used to make the meeting interesting and profitable to all.

which is sometimes committed in our Auxiliaries—one which has proved fatal to our best enterprises, is that of getting into cliques, each set grouping itself together, and not mixing with other members.

We are too exclusive. There are timid and retiring ladies in all our Auxiliaries who might be induced to attend, but hold back through fear of being neglected. No one takes notice of them when them come and they withdraw wounded. We may say they have no right to feel so, but that does not do away with it. A better plan would be to seek to remedy it and that we think can be accomplished by the infusion of a great deal more sociability into our meetings, not patronage. Not a condescending air but real downright sympathy.

Then as to the meeting itself we can only repeat what has been said so often. The room should be EASILY ACCESSIBLE.

It should be bright and cosy. A gloomy meeting place will make a gloomy meeting. It should be well ventilated. When the atmosphere becomes heavy the audience becomes dull and droway under such circumstances. No matter how good the programme may be it cannot interest, it will not be appreciated. If such a room cannot be secured in the church then I should say take it to our homes.

Then the programme should be thoroughly prepared before hand, let every number be short. A long prayer or a long talk wearies and detracts from the interest. Better let the people go away feeling that the programme is too short, than to go away feeling tired because of its length. To awaken interest and enkindle sympathy get as many to take part as possible. To do so let the programme committee prepare a list of members, begin with those whose names begin with A. B and C and select from them those whom you wish to read an article, prepare a paper or give a map exercise on the country you are presenting. Go to these sisters and tell them what you want them to do.

MANY WILL SHRINK

from this, but make it as easy as possible. Some time before the meeting give some short item that will interest and do good to one who has never taken a public part. Ask her to read it. It is a little thing but it breaks the ice, and is a beginning and may lead to a more public and active part. Some one shrinks from taking part audible in prayer, let a short prayer be written out either by herself or some other member and ask her to read it. This is a method adopted with success in one of the largest and most flourishing Auxiliaries in the west. Many who now engage readily and often in prayer at their meetings commenced by reading a short prayer. The ability to take part is not natural to all but may be acquired. If you get them to take part once you have won them. But it requires tact and kindliness and common sense to lead out and educate into efficiency the retiring and thinking among us, and everyone we can induce to "launch out into the deep" means not only another another recruit, but so much additional influence to swell our numbers. By all legitimate means, then, let us increase the number of those who take part in our monthly meetings. For your next meeting begin where you left off in your list and so on.

The last few minutes before the close of the meeting should be devoted to social amenities, or, as some one has said, the gospel of handshaking. Many of the members have had no opportunity of seeing each other since the last meeting. Give them an opportunity. There are ladies present for the first time! Let them be welcomed. There are strangers! Find out who they are and invite them to come again.

THE MEETING

should begin and close promptly. Some give as an excuse for non attendance—"We do not close in time.

After the meeting could not each member do a great deal by personal effort to increase the attendance. Has not each one a number of friends with whom she exchanges social visits. Do all these friends take an interest in our society, and manifest it by attending the meetings? If not, might she not introduce the subject, and so present it that she could impart a little of her own enthusiasm, and overcome their indifference, and inspire them with interest that they would attend the meetings regularly? Might we not take a lesson from the business methods of our merchants and even from the enthusiasm and persistency of our politicians? They never miss an opportunity that will further their interests, or be of any use in making their calling and election sure.

We should talk up our meetings, introduce them whenever we can secure a listener, or see a chance of gaining a recruit. Then, many would attend if they had some one to go with. Might we not so arrange and plan our work that we could call for them and bring them? After the novelty of the first appearance is over, they might, with a little encouragment, become regular attendants. But let us not be discouraged if our first or second invitation is not successful, but let us keep at them until we win them, even if it should take years.

Mrs. S. Gibson, of Napanee, read the appended paper on "Our Missionary Sunday:

MADAME PRESIDENT,—For some little time I had been wondering how our Missionary Sunday came into existence and only learned a few days ago that this privilege came masked—perhaps methought by our branch—came as a result of the comprehensive report of our work, as given by our conference representative, to the conference which met in Peterborough. They not only expressed their appreciation, but moved and carried almost unanimously, that one Sabbath each year be granted us to present the claims of our work to the people. This resolution was brought before our next branch meeting and was warmly accepted and is now one of the established ways of working for the good of our society. Coming from this source and along the line we most need—to get the hearing of all the people—it is no wonder our Missionary Sunday is becoming an essential to so many of our Auxiliaries. The larger number of our truly Christian people have been so occupied with the material and spiritual welfare of their own local church—feeling their responsibility for the maintenance of all the general funds of the church, that they are naturally loath to countenance any undertaking that calls for money, and in most of our committees, they have no wider view of our work than the financial one, so that we believe information of the the world's great need is the one main factor necessary to awaken them to their own responsibility in the matter. But the question has been, 'how are we going to reach them with this information.'

We have our open meetings where the programmes are specially prepared with this object in view, but as a rule those who attend are with our work, and the ones we are anxious to reach are conspicuous by their absence. Sometimes we have even laid aside our conscientious scruples and given our open meeting in the form of a social thinking, the end might justify the means but all to very little purpose. We have our crusade day and when this is rightly and persistently employed, is, no doubt, one of the best means of increasing our membership, and yet even this fails to accomplish all we wish.

Several circumstances combined make it most necessary (especially in the rural districts) to win the sympathy and interest of the men before we can secure the co-operation of the women, and it does seem, after a year's trial, as though there is no way so well adapted as coming before them once a year at the regular time and place of preaching.

Many of the older members of the church have formed the commendable habit of attending the Sabbath services regularly, without questioning who is to occupy the pulpit, and very often we find these the most unfavourable to forming a new society; but the fact of their minister's willingness to give such prominence to the W.M.S., paves the way for an indulgent hearing, and when once they are in that position, the way is made comparatively easy to impress them with the need and importance of our work. The very sanctity of the day, when the business and domestic affairs are in a measure laid aside and all hearts, young, and old, are more or less reverently impressed, makes this day the more seemly to enforce that one command, "Go ye into all the world and teach the Gospel to every creature"

Now, while we think and speak so favourably of this privilege accorded us, understanding so well the vantage ground it gives our Society in the estimation of the people, there are difficulties in the way. Who is to take up this work?

YOU MAY SAY

we must make use of the material we have at hand, but as a rule (there are a few exceptions) that material is composed of women having had no former training for any such work, and perhaps at the head of a large household, with very little leisure for mind or body, and incessant calls for the social side of home life—not of society—and oftimes it is a question whether the little leisure at command ought not to be given to making home bright and attractive to our young people, instead of getting ready to take up Sunday work away from home. Of coure no one is forced to take up this work—but, herein lies the difficulty. The strong desire to speed the cause, to do all in one's power to awaken a like r sponsibility in other hearts and lives, as well as not having a settled conviction from whence the call comes, from the wishes of the Auxiliary merely, or from a Higher Source through them, and the consequent fear of refusing makes many a one accept the invitation, even when debating the advisability. Some may think we are making more of this than the subject warrants, but the very benefit received from this service and the extensive use made of it makes it necessary for us to bring it before the branch, asking for some remedial measure. Before closing, as I am only allotted from three to five minutes, I would like to make a suggestion. Would it not be wise for us to put this yearly service into the hands of the resident minister; it would then disarm all prejudice that some have to women going out of their appointed sphere and coming from their authorized leader show more strongly the place our society fills in the church, and it would also tend to give our ministers themselves a more comprehensive view of, and consequently, more sympathy in, our work.

The various papers as they were read were discussed by the delegates present. The question of the length of time which should be taken up by an Auxiliary meeting raised a lively debate. It was held by some that it should not be allowed to take up more than an hour's time, whilst others again were sure that justice could not be done the object of the meeting in less than an hour and a half. The President asserted her belief that any woman could easily spare an hour and a half, as those who complained of the time lost at a long meeting were generally the ones that could give a whole afternoon to entertaining.

Mrs. (Rev.) M. E. Wilson, Newtonville, read the appended paper on HOW TO INCREASE MEMBERSHIP.

At present the salvation of the world is at best a mere theory, with a vast majority of Christian men and women. This radical error must be corrected and dispelled and in its place must be a deep, abiding conviction, that Jesus really meant what he said, when he declared that, "This Gospel of the kingdom must be preached in all the world.

We as a society, have had such success in our work and such blessings from it, that we believe this to be one of the best methods of publishing the "glad tidings" and our first responsibility is to win every Methodist woman to its membership. But as yet many Christian women hold aloof from our society.

I find by consulting the minutes of the last conference that 40,395 members of the church are reported in the Bay of Quinte Conference. Out of this number we can safely say more than half of them are women. But for fear of any mistake we will say only half are women. This will give us 20,197. In this branch, which includes all the above Conference, only 2,789 are members of our W.M.S., leaving a balance of 18,408 yet to be enlisted! How is this great number to be reached by so few? Some may say it is impossible. But if the starving millions of heathen lands are ever to receive the Gospel of the Son of God it must be done and that speedily.

There is no form of aggressive Christian work which contributes so much to the upbuilding of an Auxiliary as systematic visitation. The meetings may be attractive, the members spiritual, but unless some plan be adopted of coming into personal contact with those who are interested in this work of Christian women for their heathen sisters, we need not expect a very great increase in our membership.

It seems to me a very good and practical plan to follow for Crusade Dray, or in fact for any other day, would be, to request the society, with the aid of the president and other officers to make out a list of all the women in the church and community. When this is accomplished, each member, or perhaps volunteer members (as one volunteer is usually better than several pressed into service), take a certain number whom she will visit, and not only invite to the Auxiliary but to the best of her ability persuade to join the society. Let each one understand that a report of the work done will be called for and expected at

THE NEXT MEETING.

Much tact and perhaps some self-denial will be required for this work, but if done in the spirit of the Master, good results must follow. Each visitor should study the best methods of meeting the excuses usually given by those not interested in our work. A thorough knowledge of the Bible and how it may be applied in each case is needed. Sometimes a home may be visited where the following excuse is a real one,—"I have so many cares, my children are small, one little one is an invalid, and really I cannot leave them." Where this is true why not adopt the plan of the King's Daughters: Get some one to stay with the children while the tired mother takes an hour at the Auxiliary meeting. This might be work that a member of the Circle would do, and I am sure the reward to both would be gratifying. Occasionally the visitor may find some woman who actually has not the money to pay her fee and therefore cannot join the society. In our ranks there are women who have enough and to spare. Perhaps one of these if shown the necessity would be glad to give a less favoured sister a present of her Auxiliary fee. For this there will be needed much tact as many poor people will not receive charity. A study of the Deaconess work will help along this line.

Another very important factor in the acquisition of new members is the distribution of a knowledge of the needs of the work. One cannot be interested in something of which one knows nothing, therefore the necessity of spreading information. Our unawakened sisters have plenty of sympathy and zeal for that in which they are interested. Let each member do her utmost to stir up that sympathy for missions by keeping in touch with the latest information regarding our work and never failing to relate it whenever an opportunity affords itself.

One good way to interest many is to ask the pastor to preach a sermon in the interests of the W.M.S. Then follow this sermon by a tea, the next week, to which every woman in the community has had a special invitation, not from the pulpit alone, but by cards of invitation, such as one lady would send to another. This tea should not be for the purpose of raising money, but for welcoming new members, and for the purpose of enjoying a social hour together. Be sure and have a good, bright, interesting programme. Let both brain and heart contribute their share. Have a returned missionary if possible; also good music, and I doubt not that many, if not all of the guests, will wish to come again.

ANOTHER WAY

of distributing information is for the Auxiliary to take charge of the prayer meeting occasionally. Here the programme committee will have ample scope for all its ability. Careful preparation is very necessary, that the programme may be devotional, educative and interesting. Variety is essential, sameness and repetition mean failure. Avoid rests, but follow a definite plan.

In the Outlook some time ago I saw an account of a very successfully conducted prayer meeting programme. It was called a question programme. The committee gave questions to different members, asking that they consider prayerfully and answer honestly the question given, even if not very flattering to themselves. About 14 or 15 questions were asked. The following are a couple of samples:

"How do you feel with regard to foreign mission?" The young man who responded acknowledged that he had never given the matter any thought until that day, but was convinced that he should have have an interest in that work, and wanted to know something about it.

The young lady who always said, "I am not interested in missions," was asked, "Why are you not interested in missions?" Answer—"I know nothing of them, and what is more, do not know how to become interested." After the questions had all been answered, the pastor said "I am surprised to see how little you know, for now it is ignorance, not indifference, we have to overcome."

All stood up in response to the question, "Who is willing to make this subject a matter of study and prayer.

Some time during each year hold a thank offering service. Notes of invitation should be sent to every woman in the church. Here, as in the other services, the programme should be prepared carefully and prayerfully. There is a great responsibility resting upon the programme committee and the officers, for if their part is not efficiently done, we can not expect to increase the membership by inviting our sisters to the meetings.

In the election of officers care should be taken to not select them from one grade of society, but from all classes. Each officer will influence her own particular friends; and more than that, the different cliques of the church will be working for a common cause and consequently not only missions but the church at home will reap a rich reward.

It would be well for the increase of membership if auxiliary members would take a more active in the Circles and Bands, Sunday school and Epworth League. Much information could be given especially in the Sunday schools and Leagues, thus developing a missionary spirit which will result in Auxiliary members in the not far distant future. I know of one Auxiliary which takes charge of the League once a quarter, providing the programme and receiving half the collection.

In the preparation of boxes of clothing some sisters' hearts have been touched, and it is well to enlist the sympathy of as many as possible in this department of our work.

These are a few suggestions for hard work, and it must be continuous and united. Other methods will suggest themselves to the worker who is guided by the Holy Spirit, and does her work faithfully.

In conclusion, let me direct your attention to the very best means of increasing the membership of our society, and that is a faithful observance of prayer each day, and especially let us remember the Sabbath evening prayer hour. We pray for missions and missionaries and the different departments of our work, but do we always remember to ask God to send the Holy spirit in conviating power into the hearts of our unawakened sisters? We are told that "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." Let each one of us do our very utmost and through the blessing of our Heavenly Father many new members will be added to our ranks.

The secretary was instructed to procure a portrait of the Honorary President, Mrs. Catharine Parr Traill, to be placed on the walls of the museum.

The secretary was also instructed to notify the committee appointed to collect information respecting the early history from the viva voce reminiscenses of the early settlers still living.

The president appealed to the members to interest themselves in collecting articles for the museum, as this department of work was to be vigorously prosecuted this winter.

Among the articles donated, were a collection of old firearms by the president; a wood-inlaid reproduction of the house at Stratford-on-Avon where Shakspere was born, by Mr. Ed. Courtney, This and replica contains about 2000 pieces Canadian woods; Mr. Courtney has also deposited a relic of Waterloo, a sword worn by his grandfather on that historic and critical battle, and also a badge worn at the Tri-centenary festival of Shakspere, and a badge of the first St. George's Society in Peterborough, a medal commemorative of the Prince of Wales' marriage, and a legal tender certificate of Wilson S. Conger for 1s. 3d., dated March 28, 1839.

The Courtesy Committee in its report seconded a vote of thanks to the Trustees of the George street church, the ladies of the congregation, the members of the Epworth League and the Auxiliaries of the town.

A card was received from the Toronto branch which is meeting in Barrie. It conveyed greetings in the words of St. Paul, the first missionary, as found in Hebrew xiii, 20 and 21 verses.

The convention was brought to a close by the benediction pronounced by Mrs. (Rev.) Wilson, of Tweed.

SPAIN'S TRIBULATIONS.

Serious Trouble Between the Government and the National Bank.

London, Oct. 6.—A despatch from Madrid to the Central News says that serious difficulty has arisen between the ministry and the Bank of Spain. Application was made to the bank for 50,000,000 pesetas on account of the Cuban Administration.

The committee of the bank held a meeting to consider the application, and virtually refused to advance the money. Thereupon Senor Salvador, the new governor of the bank, demanded that the committee resign.

WEYLER BOOMS HIMSELF.

Says Cuba Has Entered Upon a New Lease of Life Under His Rule.

Madrid, Oct. 6.—Captain General Weyler has written an official letter to General Azcarraga, forwarded before the resignation of the Azcarraga Cabinet, in the course of which he declares that the condition of Cuba has improved to a remarkable degree since the date when he assumed control in the island. The Captain General says that "the country has received a fresh lease of life." He asserts that the Spanish general commanding in the eastern provinces reports an uninterrupted service of trains on all the railroads. The telegraph is operating from Ciejoavila to the city of Pinar del Rio.

The letter, which is much commented upon, alleges that the Spanish army in Cuba is "being maintained in an excellent state despite the fact that the pay is six months in arrears."

LUMBERMEN IN SESSION.

The Committee's Report and the Government's Reply Received—Tenor of the speeches.

Toronto, Oct. 7.—Col. John I. Davidson presided at the meeting of Province of Ontario lumbermen who, to the number of half a hundred, met at the Board of Trade building here yesterday. The meeting was called to receive the report of the committee appointed at the meeting of Aug. 19, to request the Government of Ontario to amend the pine timber regulations so as to provide that such timber cut under license on Ontario's Crown lands shall be manufactured in Canada.

The committee reported that by appointment they waited upon the Government of the Province of Ontario. All the Ministers were present excepting one, and the resolution was presented. After a very extended discussion of different phases of the subject the committee were promised that the request would be carefully considered. The committee were also informed that the Lumbermen's Association of Ontario had requested the Government to defer the declsion until that association had an opportunity of being heard in opposition to the request contained in the resolution. As that association has not held a meeting of its members for many years and is practically defunct, the committee regarded the request as wholly unauthorized, and an unwarrantable assumption of authority.

The following reply has been received from the Government:

Department Crown Lands, Ontario.
Toronto, Oct. 5, 1897.

Dear Sir,—The Government have had under consideration the resolution passed at the meeting of lumbermen, held on Aug. 17, and have had the benefit furthermore of the discussion which has taken place in the public press, as well as the letters which have been addressed to the department from time to time on the subject. A deputation of American owners of mills also waited upon the Government some time ago and urged their views. I understood that a meeting was to be called of the Lumbermen's Association of the Province of Ontario, and was asked by a representative of that association that action should be deferred by the Government until their meeting took place. Subsequently it was intimated for reasons that I am not aware of that the meeting would not be held.

It has already been announced that the Government entertain the opinion during the currency of the existing licenses such action as was proposed by the resolution of the meeting of Aug. 17 could not well be taken. I may say, however, that the Government are very carefully considering what policy should be adopted with reference to logs cut after the expiration of the existing licenses, and it is hoped that in a short time the public will be made aware of the course which may be determined upon. Yours very truly,

J. M. Gibson, Commissioner.

James Scott, Esq., care John Bertram, Esq., Toronto.

From this it appears that the Government has decided not to grant the request so far as the existing licenses are concerned, and that the matter so far as timber cut under future issues of licenses is concerned is still under consideration.

[Signed.] J. Scott,
John Waldie
E. W. Rathbun
John Bertram

The report was read by Ald. Scott and adopted.

Mr. John Bertram then submitted a resolution, seconded by Ald. Scott. It concluded:

"Without expressing an opinion on that point of the Government's policy relating to current licenses, we declare it to be in the public interest that when new licenses are issued after April 30, 1898, a regulation be embodied in every license that all timber on the Crown lands of Ontario shall be sawn, made into square timber or otherwise manufactured in Canada.

"That a copy of this resolution be sent to members of the Government of Ontario and to every member of the Legislative Assembly, and that all who approve of this policy use every legitimate effort to have it carried into effect."

These resolutions were then carried:

Moved by Mr. Rathbun, seconded by James Playfair:

That the Dominion Government be urged to give notice at the earliest practicable moment by order-in-council of the application of an export duty of $2 per thousand feet of lumber in log or timber form and equivalent on spruce wood cut during the season of '97-8, and exported, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the secretary of this meeting to the hon. Premier of Canada, with names of those supporting this resolution."

Moved by Mr. Scott, seconded by Mr. Bertram:

Resolved that a committee consisting of Messrs. Rathbun, Waldie, Bertram and Scott be appointed to consider the advisability of petitioning the Government of Ontario to grant the request contained in the resolution just adopted by this meeting, and that that committee is hereby authorized to obtain signatures to such petition (if deemed advisable) and to present the same to the Government. Carried.

Moved by Robert Watt, seconded by John P. Newman:

That the Dominion Government be urged to impose an import duty of $2 on all sawn lumber imported into Canada. Carried.

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering from some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and the discomfort seem less. Perhaps the nerves are most affected and this in turn disturbs the digestion. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The start of so-called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be that in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time, a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this character. It may be absolutely relieved upon. It affords lasting relief to a woman whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting a physician.

Butter-Making Rules.

The instructor at Cornell Agricultural College, Ithaca, N.Y., has sent out a list of rules about butter making and ripening cream. He says:

"The practical part of cream ripening is this: Keep your vessel so that it all may ripen evenly, and thus avoid loss in churning. Raise the temperature to 62 degrees or 65 degrees and keep it as near that temperature as possible until ripe, and then cool before churning. Well ripened cream should be coagulated or thickened. It should run from a height in a smooth stream, like oil. When a paddle is dipped into it and held in the hand, it should stick all over in a thick coat, not running off in streaks and showing the surface of the paddle. When the last drops run off the paddle into the vat, they should leave little dents or depressions, on the surface, which do not close up for an instant. The cream should have a satin gloss or fresh surface. Churn until the granules are the size of wheat kernels, then draw off the buttermilk, and wash through two or three waters, whirling the churn a few times around. Use from a pint to a quart of water per pound of butter. Have the water at a temperature of 40 degrees to 45 degrees in hot weather, and from 50 degrees to 62 degrees in winter, always depending upon the season, natural solidity of the butter, warmth of the room and size of granules. If you do not care about feeding the washings, I would put some salt in my first wash water. It will help to float the granules better, and perhaps dissolve out the casein to some extent. I would generally salt the butter in the churn."

Guaranteed Income Policies.

This Form of Policy has lately been introduced by the

"SUN" LIFE OF CANADA.

It is the most modern development of Life Assurance, and in the opinion of many comes nearer to perfection than any form of contract that has preceded it. The Guaranteed Income Policy provides for the payment of the sum assured in 10, 15 or 20 equal annual instalments, but it goes further and guarantees that if the beneficiary be still alive at the end of the 20 years, the instalment will continue to be paid to her during the whole of her subsequent life whether that be long or short.

Intending insurers should investigate this policy.

"Tears, idle tears, I know not what they mean," wrote the poet Tennyson. But tears always mean something. There are tears of melancholy, tears of joy, and of despair, and those saddest most pathetic tears of the nervous overwrought woman who has been bearing up as bravely as she may under a daily burden of weakness and dragging, torturing pain.

No wonder women weep. The wonder is that they are not oftener in tears for all they have to bear and suffer; and the saddest thing about it is how little their sufferings are understood. Even the doctor, nine times in ten says: "Oh, a little nervousness, that's all" or "neuralgia," or "insomnia," or "dyspepsia." If he suspects the real cause he insists upon examinations and local treatment,—about the very worst thing possible to a nervous, overwrought woman.

There is no need of these repugnant methods. Any woman may insure health and strength in a womanly way by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures the weaknesses and diseases of the feminine organism absolutely and completely. It was devised for this special purpose by one of the most eminent and experienced physicians in this country; an expert specialist in women's diseases.

For nearly 30 years Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Any woman may consult him by letter, free of charge. Her letter will be answered not by a mere nurse or uneducated, unscientific person, but by the most competent medical authority anywhere obtainable.

All women should read Dr. Pierce's thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser." It contains more clear and comprehensive advice on medical subjects than any other book ever published. THE SWEDISH RULER

CELEBRATION OF THE SILVER JUBILEE OF KING OSCAR II.

The Ceremonies Attendant Upon the Anniversary in the Swedish and Norwegian Capitals—The King's Personality and That of His Family.

King Oscar II. began the celebration in Stockholm on Thursday of the week ending Sept. 25, 1897, of the 25th anniversary of his accession to the ancient throne of the Swedes and Norwegians. The celebration was a notable event in Sweden's history. Every famous university, college and society in Europe had announced its intention of sending special deputations to Stockholm during the jubilee to confer honorary degrees on King Oscar. Chief among the institutions of learning that decided on this course were the Berlin Academy of Science, the Berlin Academy of Fine Arts, the University of Bologna and Oxford and Cambridge universities.

The jubilee celebration commenced with the imposing royal entrance into Stockholm of Prince Carl of Sweden with his young bride, Princess Ingeborg of Denmark. The streets, squares and buildings, private and public, had been invaded by an army of carpenters and decorators, and Stockholm looked like London during the Queen's Jubilee days.

On Friday a solemn religious memorial service took place in the ancient Church of the Knights in memory of the departed kings of the house of Bernadotte, and in particular to the memory of Charles XV., the brother of King Oscar, his predecessor and the beloved favorite of the Swedish people. Bishop Von Scheele preached the sermon. The altar service was impressive. A special jubilee cantata had been composed for the service by Professor Hallstrom, with the words by Count Snoilsky, Sweden's famous poet. The music was rendered by singers from the Royal Opera, accompanied by the royal orchestra and a military band from the Life Guards. The court, royal guests, and representatives, the diplomatic corps and high officers of the cabinet, army, navy and civil departments were present. In the evening the Crown Prince and Princess gave a musical reception at their palace.

The principal event Saturday was the Te Deum service in the palace chapel, it being the anniversary day of King Charles' death. On Sunday there was a grand military parade and field church service. Fully 25,000 men of the army, representing all branches of the service, were present, besides officers and sailors from the navy representing the North Sea and Baltic fleets, together with the officers and crews of 15 foreign war ships attending the jubilee. From Sept. 20 to Sept. 25 there were a series of fetes, banquets, a musical festival with a thousand picked singers, court balls, receptions, etc. On Sept. 25 the royal family, the court, royal guests, diplomatic corps, all left for Norway, where the celebration was continued. The Norwegians arranged an elaborate programme on about the same plan as the Swedish.

Before the French President's visit to Russia it had been arranged that the German Kaiser, the Czar and the Emperor of Austria-Hungary, with the Prince and Princess of Wales, the royal family of Denmark, and a hundred or more European royalties, should be present at the jubilee. President Faure's visit to Russia, however, changed the plan somewhat. The German Emperor was not present, but by Imperial order he commanded Prince Friedrich Leopold, attended by a deputation, consisting of an admiral, a commander, a captain, a lieutenant-captain and a lieutenant of the German navy, to represent him at the jubilee. The official representatives of Queen Victoria were the Prince of Wales and Prince Christian. The Czar was present in person. China and Japan were officially represented, and the King of Siam sent Prince Chira to Stockholm.

CROWN PRINCE GUSTAF.

Liberal and democratic in his views as King Oscar is, he made one great mistake with reference to his jubilee. That lies in the creation of a number of new nobles. The entire Swedish press, including the strongest ultra-conservative journals, condemned the idea. They frankly told the King that the "creation of nobles is out of date," and advised him that if he used his royal prerogative in amending the Swedish constitution with a clause that in the future no new nobles are to be created it would meet with unanimous consent from the Riksdag and meet the wishes of the majority of the Swedish people. Some of the most prominent Swedes who were approached by the King and offered a title declined with thanks owing to this feeling.

King Oscar, however, was in a predicament on the question. A certain class, the "nouveau riche," desired titles, and it was hinted that the Crown Princess Victoria wished the King to found a nobility that would be indebted to the house of Bernadotte for its titles. The Crown Princess is not a popular member of the royal Swedish family. On the plea of illness and poor health she stays as little as possible in Sweden. She is high bred, and in a certain way amiable in her manner, but neither she nor her husband, the Crown Prince, has obtained general popularity.

The trouble is the ancient nobility of Sweden does not look with any degree of deference upon the royal family. King Oscar is only a grandson of the Gascon law clerk Bernadotte and Desiree Clary, the daughter of a French wine merchant, and the Baden dynasty, from which Crown Princess Victoria comes, in its present line, sprang from the union of the last Zaehringer with one of his low-born mistresses. On the other hand, the members of the Swedish nobility—at least the majority of them—can trace their descent back for a dozen generations. They therefore refuse to take seriously the claims of her royal highness to regal prerogatives. If a new nobility was created the Crown Princess could form a court of her own sure to be subservient to her slightest wishes.

The founder of the Bernadotte family, the great marshal, the first king of the family, known as Charles XIV. Johan; his son Oscar I., Charles XV., the son of Oscar I. and brother to the present King and King Oscar himself, each gained popularity through his own great personality. Crown Prince Gustaf is certainly respected, but he is merely a military martinet, a great admirer of his wife's cousin, the German Kaiser. His two brothers, Prince Carl and Prince Eugen, are, on the other hand, very popular with the Swedes and Norwegians. Simple and democratic in their manner, they try on every occasion to sink their royal rank.

Prince Oscar Bernadotte, who married Miss Munk, devotes his whole time to religious matters. He leads Salvation Army meetings and goes round the country preaching among the country people. The Queen is seldom heard of except in religious affairs, and the Swedish court is one of the dullest in Europe. Therefore the marriage of Prince Carl to Princess Ingeborg of Denmark has been hailed with rejoicing, from the King himself to every citizen of Stockholm. The Princess is jolly, pleasant and fond of gayety, and it is expected that the Swedish court will soon return to the gay life of Charles XV., who was the most popular king Sweden has had for many generations.

King Oscar as an individual is interesting. His greatest charm is his universality. His whole private and public life has the impress of this, and the keynote of his character is found in his library. It is not a bibliomaniac's miscellaneous collection, but the library of the lover of good books and of a great reader, whose interest is attracted by everything good in the wide field of literature. If not one of the richest in number of volumes or literary curiosities among the great private libraries of Europe, it is certainly one of the best collected. This library is King Oscar's favorite place, and he makes it frequent and long visits. Each week his librarian reports whatever new book has been published in other countries, and a selection is made and added to the library. French literature is always given the preference.

As an author and as a poet King Oscar ranks high. He is also one of the finest speakers in Europe. If he had not been born to the throne he would still have made his mark in the world. He is a great lover of science and has contributed liberally for scientific purposes.

While King Oscar is a great admirer of pretty women, no breath of scandal has ever tainted his name. At great receptions or other large social functions he often gathers about him a small regiment of beauties. All this is done openly, without a shadow of reserve, either on the King's part or that of his fair courtieres. It may be for this reason that Swedish court life is singularly free from scandal.

With the Norwegians the King has always been popular as the King, and during the recent political troubles between the two he sought to avoid, as a statesman and a diplomat, any action that would diminish his popularity.

AGRICULTURAL SHOW HELD AT KEENE.

ANNUAL GATHERING OF THE FARMERS OF OTONABEE.

Improvements in Every Department of the Prize List—Increased Attendance and Receipts—Spirited Races on the Track.

The annual exhibition of the township of Otonabee Agricultural Society was held at Keene on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 6th and 7th, and calls for congratulations upon the directors, officers and members. The weather, though a trifle chilly on both days, was not unseasonably so. Thursday, the second day, was royal weather for a fair, and the result was a larger attendance of the thrifty farmers of Otonabee and their wives, sons and interesting daughters, than in previous years.

The number of entries was exactly one over last year's highest score, while the financial success was even more gratifying than 1896. The following shows the comparisons :

Entries, 1896—910.
Entries, 1897—911.

And the very satisfactory financial improvement shown was as follows :

Receipts, 1896—$164.
Receipts, 1897—(about) $175.

This society is well equipped as regards the grounds and buildings—ample and comfortable accommodation being provided by the society for both indoor and outdoor exhibits, as well as for the quarters of the painstaking secretary, Mr. A. Shearer. He was installed in the fine hall of the Independent Order of Foresters, adjoining the grounds, which was kindly placed at the disposal of the Directors of this live society.

WITH THE HORSES.

There was a large number of entries in each class—roadsters, carriage and heavy draught. The principal exhibitors were :—John Knox, John Edwards, Robt. Weir, Jos. Smithson, G. B. Cooney, Dr. J. M. Shaw, Joseph Steel, Hugh Wilson, W. Shearer, Joseph H Taylor, Gilbert Blezard, John S. Moore, M. J. Healy, George Cockburn, W. Manley, Peter Drummond, Walter Garnett, Stewart Bros., Wm. Newton, Alex Wood, Birdsall & Son, W. Drummond, John Lancaster, John Lancaster, jr., James Drummond, John Kindred, John Deyell, Henry Elmhirst.

Judges—T. Cavanagh, Walter Gigg and Jas. Wood.

Oak Hall's special prize of a $3 pair of trousers for the best walking team of horses was won by Wm. Shearer, of Otonabee.

Grafton & Co.'s three special prizes for the best team of agricultural or general purpose horses, wagon and harness were awarded as follows :—1st prize, $7.50, tweed suit, John Deyell, Otonabee ; 2nd prize, cobbler rocking chair, William Drummond, Otonabee ; 3rd prize, framed engraving (no prize awarded).

Gough Bros'. special prizes of a suit of clothes for the best pair of heavy draught horses, in wagon, was won by John Lancaster, jr.

CATTLE.

The entries of cattle was not quite so numerous, although those shown were a fine collection of the different grades. Special mention is made of the thoroughbred stock of F. Birdsall & Son, and of the grades by William Sharer, W. J. Miller, G. Howson, Joseph Steel, Joseph E. Taylor, Gilbert Blezard, Jas. Elmhirst, Adam Humphries, H. Humphries and Geo. Esson.

Judges—R. Dundas and M. Walsh.

SHEEP.

In this class there was a good exhibit, the exhibitors being W. Forsythe, Alex. Wood, jr., John Renwick, Birdsall & Son, W. J. Miller, Andrew Cameron, James Hanlon Judges—Sheep, Pigs and Poultry—H. C. Garbutt, Thos. Fitzgerald and James Baptie.

PIGS.

The show of swine was rather small, some of the farmers not being inclined to exhibit on account of the worry and trouble connected with showing their pigs. The exhibitors were Joseph H. Taylor, Wm. Manly, W. Newton, W. Forsyth, George Esson and Timothy Welsh.

POULTRY.

There was a very interesting collection of poultry, the exhibitors being Wm. Forsyth, W. Manning, A. Humphries, Jas. Elmhirst. Mrs. T. Walsh, Jos. Steele, Joshua Smithson, John Knox, D. Kennealy and Hugh Nelson.

DAIRY AND FARM PRODUCE—FRUIT AND VEGETABLES.

There was only a small display of butter and cheese, which should not have been the case, when it is known that such large quantities and fine samples are produced in this township. Home-made bread was well represented, but no matter how good the bread is, everybody likes their butter and cheese on top of it. There was a better display of grain, roots and vegetables. The samples of early and late potatoes and beets were ahead of those shown at the West Peterborough Exhibition. Fruit was a creditable display, the specimens of the Alexander variety of apples and Flemish Beauty pears by Thos. Thompson being extra fine, as was also some Northern Spies and Wolfe Rivers apples. The entries in these classes were quite numerous, the exhibitors being as follows : Thomas Thompson, W. Forsythe, W. J. Miller, W. Newton, W. Elmhirst, Walter Garnett, Herbert Miller, Gordon Laing, Peter Drummond, Dr. W. J. Harrison, James Gray, Adam Humphries, Wm. Shearer, John Laird, Jos. Elmhirst, James McNeil, Gilbert Blezard, Jos. H. Taylor, Wm. Newton, John Laird, Denis Kennealy, Joseph Taylor, Walter Garnet, W. Elmhirst, D. Moore, Mrs. T. Walsh, Miss Maggie Walsh, Hugh Nelson, John Renwick, jr., Jos. Steele, Geo. Esson, R. Hope, S. Walsh, Gilbert Howson, J. Hare, G. B. Cooney, Joshua Smithson, Mrs. D. Kerr, W. Manly, R. Weir, John Knox, J. Green, Andrew Nelson.

Judges—G. Allen, Robt. Braden, Alex. Watt.

DOMESTIC MANUFACTURES.

High praise was bestowed on the excellent exhibit of the ladies in this class. Woollen coverlets, blankets, gloves, socks, and mitts, white and coloured flannel, yarn and rag carpets, all were alike creditable to the industry and handiwork of the fair sex. The principal exhibitors were : Mrs. D. Kerr, H. Humphries, T. Thompson, Mrs. T. Walsh, Mrs. Renwich, D. Kennealy, Mrs. Arch. Weir, John J. Moore T. J. Miller, Mrs. Eliza Bellwood, Miss Mary H. Wood, Mrs. Alex. Campbell, Miss Sara Miller, Wm. Newton, Wm. Forsythe, Thos. Thompson.

Judges—W. Faint and Jas. Christie.

LADIES AND CHILDREN'S WORK.

A very handsome display of cut and blooming flowers added to the brightness of the ladies centre table. There was a splendid display in ladies fancy work, indeed the contributions from the ladies were rather the chief feature of special interest in the exhibition. There were many specimens of skillful and patient work of their two hands, and the competition was so keen and close that the judges had their hands full in making their decisions.

Fancy cushions, drapes, plain and fancy needlework, crochet, braided and wool work, log cabin quilts, fancy mats, etc., were all admired by groups of criticising visitors, and lessons and suggestions in home work for the winter evenings were plenty. The children also gave evidence of their industry and skill. The following were the principal exhibitors : Miss Miller, Miss Bella Miller, Mrs. W. Newton, Mrs. Gordon Laing, Mrs. Alex. Campbell, Miss Maud Campbell, Miss Ann Smithson, Mrs. J. H. Smith, Mrs. P. Drummond, Miss May H. Wood, Miss Eliza Bellwood, Mrs. Dr. Harrison, Mrs. James Gray, Miss Aggie McCrea, Mrs. T. J. Miller, Mrs. Jas. McNeil, Mrs. John J. Moore, Mrs. Arch. Weir, Mrs. W. Shearer, Mrs. D. Kennealy, Mrs. Renwick, Mrs. T. Walsh, Miss Maggie Walsh, Miss Maud Campbell, Mrs. R. English, Miss Mary Wood, Mrs. John Hore, Mrs. T. Walsh, Mrs. D. Kerr, Miss A. Renwick, Mrs. R. Weir and Mrs. J. Knox.

There were two excellent collections of stuffed birds and animals shown by Mr. James McNeil and Mr. Henry English, of Keene, which attracted considerable attention.

Judges—Mrs. A. Shearer, Mrs. R. Braden and Mrs. Thos. Fitzgerald.

FINE ARTS.

Some effective work was shown in oils and water colours, a landscape being especially admired, as was also a group of children, the judges awards not being beyond criticism. She exhibitors were Miss Ann Smithson, Mrs. J. H. Smith, Miss J. Kennealy, Mrs. J. Hore, Miss Mary Andrews and Mrs. T. Mather.

MISCELLANEOUS EXHIBITS.

There were a number of special exhibits which conjoined to make the inside display very successful, extended reference to which is made below.

Three of the enterprising clothing firms of Peterborough were represented.—Messrs. Grafton & Co., Gough Bros. and Oak Hall.

Messrs. Grafton & Co. had an effective exhibit of their clothing in the building, which was in charge of Mr. Conway, the local manager of the firm. Their firm courts the widest publicity for their "hand-cut and tailor-made" garments, and their display of fall and winter suits and overcoats was a lively centre of attraction.

Oak Hall was represented by a beautiful exhibition in a glass case of various pieces of silverware, which they give away to their customers. This was in charge of Mr. James Best who diligently employed his time advertising this firm as one of the leading entrances.

Gough Bros., the Wonderful Cheap Men, were on the grounds with their palatial palace car, depicting the ever-popular lines of their mammoth establishment, in which they show everything that men wear.

There was also a comprehensive display of carriages and sleighs by Mr. W. T. Mather and Mr. Sam Mather, of Mathers' Corners, the workmanship being equal to the best shown in larger places.

Mr. Doughty, of Warsaw, who has made such a success of the Oxford stoves throughout East Peterborough, made a fine display of his champion stoves and reaped a good return for the pains he had taken in showing so large a collection of these admirable ranges and heaters.

THE RACES.

The was a large crowd to witness these events, which were run off promptly and satisfactorily to all concerned. The track was very dusty and a stiff wind made it uncomfortable. The judges were Messrs. Chas Stapleton, George Fitzgerald and James Baptie.

The following summaries indicate the results :

TROTTING RACE.

Jas Elmhirst's "Fred S"	1 1 1
R Howden's "Robt S"	2 2 2
Robt Hull's "Blacksmith"	3 3 3

This race was an easy one for "Fred S."

RUNNING RACE.

W W Shearer's "Rob Roy"	2 2
John Elmhirst's "Harry Cooper"	3 0

Jos Brown's "Lightfoot Jim"	1 1

"Jessie B" bolted off the track in both heats.

GREEN RACE.

Joseph Steele's "Maud S"	1 2 1 2 2
Moore's "Black Pony"	3 3 3 3 3
Robt Hull's "Blacksmith"	2 1 2 1 1

This was a closely contested race, Hull's "Blacksmith" making good time for an amateur.

A reference to the special exhibits will appear to-morrow.

LAST NIGHT'S "AT HOME."

Under the Auspices of St. Andrew's Women's Foreign Missionary Society Branch.

A most successful "At Home" was held last evening at St. Andrew's Manse, under the auspices of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the church.

The attendance was large and the programme proved particularly interesting, every number being excellently rendered.

At the close of the musical programme refreshments were served and the ladies were quite pleased with the success of the evening, as it was feared the many other attractions might mitigate against its success.

Away Down East

From east to west people have heart trouble. This causes violent headaches, neuralgia, nerve trouble and prostration. Says Mrs. Somers, of Moncton, N. B. : "I tried many remedies but never found anything to give me such prompt relief as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done. I suffered from the above symptoms, but now gladly testify to the cure these wonderful pills have made in my case, and I hope all sufferers will try them."

NAPANEE EXCITED.

The Citizens Generally Believe Young Ponton Innocent.

DETECTIVES, HOWEVER, ARE MUM.

A Wide Range of Territory Being Searched by the Detectives for Evidence of the Robbery—Story of the Crime—How It Was Done Tracks Covered—Trial To-day.

Napanee, Oct. 7.—Sixteen subpoenas were issued by Magistrate Daly last night in the Dominion Bank robbery case, and one of these is said to be for a Mrs. Greer, whose testimony will be to the effect that Ponton did not sleep in his room on the night of the robbery.

Sixteen subpoenas were issued by Magistrate Daly last night, and one of these is said to be for a Mrs. Greer, whose testimony will be to the effect that Ponton did not sleep in his own room on the night of the robbery.

Travelers coming in to-night from Kingston, Belleville, Peterboro and other places say that intense interest in the case is being displayed in this portion of the Province. The robbery in connection with which Ponton is accused was most cleverly perpetrated on the night of Friday, Aug. 27, and was not discovered until midnight Saturday. It is claimed that when Teller W. H. Ponton, Messenger W. H. Green and Manager Baines left the bank Friday evening $32,000 in bills was safely stowed away in the vault. The only person supposed to know the combination of the vault were the employes. When business was resumed on Saturday morning the vault could not be opened, and after many futile attempts to work the combination an expert from Taylor's safe works, Toronto, was sent for. The expert, Mr. Young, arrived in the evening and found the combination had been changed. After several hours work he hit upon the combination that opened the vault. It was not until then that the robbery was discovered. The thieves had a clear 24 hours start, if they went away, and if the money was stolen that night. On examination the expert found that the inner coverings of the combination locks had been removed, a wheel in each combination having been carefully unlocked and the coverings replaced. The old combination numbers were thus disarranged. The operation must have taken considerable time, but the robber is generally thought to have anticipated the splendid start he would get before the safe was opened.

That the thief was thoroughly conversant with the combination there is no room to doubt. There were two locks on the safe inside the vault and each of these had a separate combination. No one in the bank was supposed to know the whole of either combination, and only two, Messrs. Baines and Durand, were thought to know the numbers, and then in such a way that it was necessary for both to be present to open the safe. The only possibility is that these combinations were in some way overheard.

The bank premises are situated on the ground floor of a three-storey brick building, at the corner of John-street and Market-square, the side entrance being on the latter thoroughfare. This entrance is a small annex and is only one storey. It is a frail affair, being divided off from an adjoining woodshed merely by a board partition. The woodshed is used by tenants of the top floor of the bank building, and is a ramshackle place. The door to it on Market-square is next to the side entrance to the bank.

In the wood partition right near this door a newly made aperture was discovered soon after the robbery. The hole was only 10 1-2 inches wide and 2 feet 10 inches deep. It had evidently been made to give an impression that that was the way the thieves gained entrance. It was not noticed for a time, as it was covered on the bank side with a couple of window screens that had been taken from the bank.

The detectives' theory is that this hole was merely a ruse of the thieves to throw them off the scent.

Detective Wilkes of the Pinkerton force returned here to-night from Lindsay and Orillia, where he has been on a trip regarding the case. Whether any of the stolen money has been recovered outside of the two unsigned $10 bills, which were got in Montreal some time ago is a matter of conjecture, but it is the belief of many that some will be recovered.

In reply to questions, the detectives have nothing whatever to say. They say that by giving any information whatever to the press representatives before the trial they are injuring their own case, inasmuch as the defence would take advantage of evidence made public.

The surprise in the case to-day was the return to Napanee of Messenger W. H. Green, whose home is on Cowan-avenue, Parkdale, who, with Cashier Durand, was so hurriedly transferred to the head office last Friday. He came this afternoon and went to work at the bank, but whether his re-appearance has anything to do with the trial to-morrow could not be ascertained. He said that Mr. Durand was in the bank at Toronto.

Judge Wilkinson, at whose residence Mrs. Ponton, the prisoner's mother, is being entertained, returned from the circuit last night. He could say nothing regarding the case, excepting that ex-Mayor Porter of Belleville would be on hand to-day to defend Ponton.

Ponton's wonderful popularity is a most remarkable feature of this affair. No one will say a bad word of him, and the most unpopular men in town are the detectives and reporters. From all accounts he was a steady, upright fellow, and his arrest is viewed as a public calamity. If you remark that the detectives must have something very serious against him before they could make the arrest the people laugh and say: How about the McLeod murder here a few years ago? How many innocent men were arrested for that?

Ponton is said to be taking his position calmly.

Most intense excitement is manifested throughout the community, and the idea of the prisoner's guilt is considered preposterous by nine-tenths of those who are talking of the case.

PONTON NOT SCARED

Prosecutors Do Not Seem to be In Any Great Hurry

TO BRING EVIDENCE INTO LIGHT

The Court House at Napanee Was Crowded All Day Day Yesterday - No Evidence Brought Forth Yet That Would Implicate the Accused in the Big Bank Steal.

Napanee, Oct. 8.—William Hamilton Ponton was duly charged with having burglarized the Dominion Bank vault and stealing therefrom $42,000 before Magistrate Daly to-day. Manager E. H. Baines of the bank was on the witness stand nearly all day, and the sensational developments that the Crown was expected to bring about did not materialize. The case will be continued to-morrow.

The court room was crowded with friends of the accused.

Mr. Gus Porter, assisted by Col. Ponton of Belleville, is conducting the defence, while Messrs. Deroche and Madden are prosecuting.

The witnesses subpoenaed by the Crown are: Manager Baines, W. H. Green, formerly clerk at the bank; Miss E. Blewett, Mrs. Hannah McGreer, who has a room next door to Ponton's sleeping apartments; J. L. Boyes, George A. Cliff, Fred Miller, George Dougherty, Pinkerton Detective W. J. Nemmile, Detective Greer, George Wilkes; another Pinkerton man, Clarence Bogart; inspector of the Dominion Bank J. N. Dewitt, and Thomas Whalen, janitor of the bank building.

Mr. Porter, on behalf of the prisoner, declined to plead or elect, and asked that the investigation go on.

Manager Baines testified that with the money in the vault on the night of Aug. 27 was an I.O.U. in the form of a cheque of Ponton's for $35; the I.O.U. was made with the manager's consent in June for $30, and afterwards increased to $35. It was reduced to $20 on Aug. 31 and on Sept. 17 the document redeemed. Ponton had a private savings account in the bank, and paid for his meals monthly by cheque. His salary was $50 per month less $1.50 for the guarantee and pension fund. This money was placed to his credit every month, and at one time he had about $70 in the bank. His account was closed about three weeks ago.

Mr. Madden produced a paid cheque for $14 drawn by Ponton on the bank, and payable to G. E. Ritchie & Co.

"Did that cheque go through the books of the bank?" asked Mr. Madden.

Witness examined the document, and said "No."

"Well; how was it paid?"

"Mr. Ponton must have paid it out of his own pocket when it was presented."

Witness was positive that it had not gone through the bank.

Mr. Madden produced three or four other cheques amounting to about $60 in all. These cheques had, with one exception, been given since the robbery, and had not gone through the bank books. The accused had evidently paid them himself when they were presented at the wicket.

An interesting bit of evidence was given by Mr. Baines when Mr. Madden showed him a pink sheet of paper. It was the back of the calendar, and written on it were the figures 39, 68, 80, 43, and it transpired that this was the combination of the inside safe. Witness recognised the figures as his own, but had no recollection of having written them. He repeated that only Durand and himself knew the combination of the inside safe, and to his knowledge Ponton never looked on when it was being opened.

At 12.30 the court adjourned for an hour for lunch.

At the afternoon session Mr. Porter cross-examined the witness at great length. Mr. Baines said he had been for twenty-three years with the Dominion Bank. Ponton had been at the bank since last November, and had done his duties fairly well. He was accurate, and the only fault to be found with him was that he was always anxious to get away from work early.

The amount of money in the vault the few days previous to the robbery was much more than on the night the money was taken, and the defence claim that if Ponton was the thief he would have chosen one of the other nights. There was $42,000 in the safe on the 26th, $46,000 on the 25th, $40,736 on the 24th, $53,632 on the 23rd, and $58,837 on the 22nd. In this connection Mr. Madden brought out that the amount of negotiable money in the safe on Aug. 27 was, with two exceptions, larger than for several nights previously. Ponton kept the book that showed the amount left in the safe and what kind of money it was. Witness was quite positive that Ponton had nothing to do with locking the safe before the other closed on the night of the robbery. Greene was the last one at the place that night, and he closed the vault.

The only evidence of the safe having been tampered with before the burglary was a drilled hole that was discovered just recently, although it was probably made a very long time ago. Mr. Greene discovered it and told the detectives about it. More interesting information regarding knowledge of the combination of the safe was brought out. Some time ago the locks were stuck owing to the oil in them freezing. Mr. Smith, a watchmaker, was sent for, as he understood the delicate part of locks. Mr. Smith thawed out the lock and was told the combination. Expert Young, the safe man of Toronto, also knew it. He broke a screw driver while trying to fix it after the robbery, and it is understood that a broken screw driver will be put in evidence to-morrow.

At 6.30 an adjournment was made. Mr. Madden did not want to go on with the case till next week, which is looked upon as a weakness of their case.

Mr. Porter desired the case sifted at once, and the magistrate thought the same way.

When the court was over at noon and to-night, Ponton's friends crowded around him and gave him encouragement, cigars and papers. Some of them wanted to know if the case would be concluded to-morrow night so that they could get the brass band out and celebrate. Ponton's mother, accompanied by Col. Ponton, visited the prisoner at the jail to-night, and the scene was an affecting one. In the building where Ponton is confined there is a raving maniac and another person awaiting trial for insanity.

THE PRESSING NEEDS

Of the Ottawa Valley Fire Sufferers are Bedding and Shelter—Relief is Now Coming In

Ottawa, Oct. 8.—The most pressing need of the fire sufferers in the Ottawa Valley is shelter. Bedding is also an absolute necessity. The burned-out people cannot long remain dependent on the charity of their more fortunate neighbors. A good many have gone to Ottawa, Hull and other places, in the expectation that friends and relatives will find work for them, but owners of lots on which houses were situated cannot well abandon their property. Very few carried insurance, and those who were without policies are entirely without resources.

There were large stocks of lumber in both South Indian and Casselman, but there is now none to be had.

Morse Shaver, in South Indian, obtained enough to begin yesterday the erection of a small house and store combined, and he expects to have it finished so that it can be occupied by the end of this week.

At Casselman no one had begun rebuilding, simply because there is no building material in the place. It is said that many would rebuild if they had lumber, so that one of the first things that should be done by relief committees is to send a supply of lumber, heavy beams and posts to the scene of the fire.

At South Indian and Casselman the sufferers wandered disconsolately about or grubbed among the ashes, in vain search for articles that had escaped the fire's ravages. In the morning they gathered about the cars belonging to the C. A. R., containing the provisions, and received their day's allowance. Each applicant stated for what number of persons he wished food, and loaves of bread, tea, biscuits, butter, cheese and canned salmon were dealt out to him.

At several places groups were seen gathered about fires near their old homes, brewing their tea and eating their meagre meal. Most of them are thoroughly dispirited and dejected.

Subscriptions are dropping into the relief fund quickly, and all cases of destitution will be attended to.

A Run on the Bank.

Montreal, Oct. 8. —(Special.)— There was a first-class run to-day on the City and District Savings Bank, one of the best-known institutions in the city and as solvent as the Bank of Montreal. The bank has five branches, and the trouble took place on St. Catherine-street east, where the street was blocked all day with small depositors getting out their cash. The run was also pretty lively at the head office, St. James-street, but the tellers paid out all that was required, and the excitement soon quieted down. In fact, at 3 p. m. there were few people in the bank, although it was kept open till 5. The annoying rumor was started by a paragraph in the French papers, referring to the Bank of Spain (Banque d'Espagne), which was taken to mean "Banque d'Epargne" (savings bank).

Advise Ticket of Leave Plan.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—The grand jury at the General Sessions presented their report to Judge McDougall yesterday, and pronounced themselves as being in favor of the "ticket of leave" plan. The idea suggested is as follows: When a man is sent down for a first offence, and behaves himself in prison during part of his time, that a commission take his case in hand. If he is good during that time, he should be released on probation. During his probation, which lasts until the end of his sentence, he must report to the authorities at stated intervals. If, during the probationary period, he makes "any mistakes" he must go back to prison without trial, and work out the remainder of the old sentence.

ANGRY GOLD SEEKERS

Threatened to Lynch Mayor Wood of Seattle.

THE TWO MEN HELD IN CAPTIVITY

Expeditions Headed by Them Became Stranded at St. Michael and When They Found They Could Not Get to Dawson City Became Furious at Wood and Howard.

Port Townsend, Wash., Oct. 8.—Sensational news of the condition of things at the mouth of the Yukon River, where Mayor Wood of Seattle, who took the Humboldt expedition north, and D. K. Howard, who had charge of the ill-fated Eliza Anderson, were practically held by the Vigilance Committee, made up of disgusted and desperate members of their klondike expeditions, was received here to-day on the arrival of the schooner Sailor Boy. The two men are threatened with lynching unless they succeed in getting the miners to the headwaters of the Yukon, which is now an impossibility, and their few friends, who came down to-day, express the greatest anxiety for both Wood and Howard. Some security was felt when it was learned that the United States soldiers are now on the way to St. Michael, where their presence will be needed to preserve order.

It is this condition of affairs that brought down the thirteen passengers on the Sailor Boy, it being their purpose to make a demand on the promoters of the Humboldt and Eliza Anderson expeditions for the return of the passage money and freights that were advanced for the trip to Dawson City, representing in all nearly $100,000. Attorney Phelan of Chicago is to be retained, and the enraged miners will keep Wood and Howard with them until they receive word that their demands are to be complied with.

A PRESBYTERIAN SCHEME

To Purchase the Property at Niagara-on-the-Lake known as the Canadian Chautauqua A Pleasant Site.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—It is stated that the Presbyterian Church of Canada is negotiating for the purchase of the Canadian Chautauqua grounds at Niagara-on-the-Lake. The Chautauqua, as is well known, is at present controlled by a Methodist syndicate.

This syndicate about 10 years ago conceived the idea of founding a Canadian summer resort and educational centre on the lines of the Chautauqua of New York State. A hundred acres of beautiful wooded land on the shore of Lake Ontario just west of the town of Niagara was secured and great preparations were made to draw crowds to the place. The Michigan Central Railway was prevailed upon to construct a spur line right into the grounds, a pier was run out into the lake for the convenience of vessels wishing to land passengers; for the accommodation of all who should come two big hotels and a lot of summer cottages were built, and to crown all a gigantic amphitheatre, in which public entertainments were given and the Chautauqua literary classes were conducted, was erected.

The enterprise "took" fairly well and ever since a lot of cottagers and campers have every summer frequented the resort.

The Presbyterians now, however, have a scheme on hand to secure the property for church purposes.

REFORMED WARFARE

Is Now to Be Practised Upon the Cubans by Spain.

London, Oct. 8.—The Madrid correspondent of The Times, referring to the Cabinet Council yesterday (Thursday), says:

"The Cabinet was unanimous in the opinion that the system of warfare in Cuba must be completely changed. Special attention was drawn to the deplorable condition of the sick and wounded soldiers now arriving. This aspect of the case was considered at the direct initiation of the Queen Regent.

"Regarding the finances, although the optimistic views of the recent Minister of Finance do not appear to have been justified, it is believed that with prudence sufficient resources may be counted upon, at least until the Cortes meets in the spring, to authorize supplies."

Madrid, Oct. 8.—The Spanish Premier has announced to the Cabinet that the Anarchists now in prison at Fortress Montjuich, for the bomb-throwing outrage at Barcelona during the procession of Corpus Christi, will be immediately sent into exile or released.

Four Killed, Ten Injured.

Monterey, Mex., Oct. 8.—Advices are received of a bad accident 25 miles south of here. A tunnel is being constructed by the Mexican National Railroad, and a premature explosion of a blast occurred, killing four men outright and wounding ten others seriously. The accident is being investigated by the authorities.

A Doctor's Leg Broken.

Newmarket, Ont., Oct. 8.—Dr. Campbell of this place met with a bad accident last night. He and Mrs. Campbell were driving to Brampton. On the way he stopped at a farmer's house near Maple and while driving down the lane from the house a cow jumped up and broke the shaft of the doctor's rig, causing the horse to rear and kick. After smashing the dashboard the horse struck the Doctor's leg, breaking the large bone near the ankle. The Doctor got out and stepping heavily on the injured leg broke also the small bone. Mrs. Campbell escaped with a sprained ankle and a good shaking up. The horse broke loose from the rig, but was caught uninjured. The Doctor was brought home on the train from Richmond Hill this morning and is doing fairly well so far.

Socialists are With Them.

London, Oct. 8.—The Amalgamated Society of Engineers, most of the members of which are either on strike or locked out, has received a telegram of sympathy and admiration from the Socialist Congress, which is now in session at Hamburg. The telegram affirms that it is the duty of the International Social Democracy to morally and materially support the champions of an eight-hour day.

Nervous Prostration

Sick Headache and Dizziness—All Cured.

Little Girl Has Grown Plump and Rosy Since Taking Hood's.

Nervous mothers and sickly children endure a vast proportion of the suffering which is caused by impure and impoverished blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives relief by purifying and enriching the blood. Read this statement:

"I was bothered with sick headaches and dizziness. I also had nervous prostration and weakness in my stomach, which made me feel very ill indeed. I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, which was highly recommended by many, and by the time I had taken four bottles I was in perfect health. About a year ago my little girl, then six years old, had bronchitis and chicken pox. We were told that her was the careful treatment she might receive at the hospital. We took her there and for eight days they had no hope of her recovery, but later she had a change for the better. Her sickness, however, left her very delicate and weak, and she did not grow any for a year. It was then I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla, inasmuch as I had used it for myself and found it such a good medicine for building up a constitution. She had not taken two bottles before she had improved wonderfully. She has grown rosy and plump and is quite herself again. I have great faith in Hood's." MRS. M. THE CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

Every farmer and every business man recognizes the importance of the Central Exhibition, and, of course, the importance of maintaining it in a condition of thrifty existence. The directors and officials who have been bravely advancing the interests of the society in the face of adverse conditions, deserve great credit for bringing the exhibition to a position where it is recognized by the public as one of the great Central Fairs. If the exhibition had not reached this position, the last exhibition would not, under the circumstances, have achieved the success it did, especially when the circumstances are considered. Everybody that knows anything of the matter, knows that an exhibition containing a more magnificent exhibit of live stock was never held in the district, exhibitors, entirely new to the Central being attracted to the exhibition by the name it has made. Then another proof of the confidence of the public is the large attendance on the second day, when the rain fell till nearly eleven o'clock. Everybody knows that rain is the worst foe of a show. The Industrial, Toronto, did not pay running expenses on a rainy day such as occurred this year. Yet the paid attendance at the Central on the rainy day in question was nearly 4,000 and counting members tickets, etc., over 5,000 persons were present. And it safe to say that the attendance would have been nearly double but for the rain. Farmers and farmers' sons, the latter especially, who, at great trouble, have got their horses and equipages in fine shape for the exhibition visit, dislike the idea of having all their labour spoiled by mud, and thus themselves are deterred from attending the fair.

In the most important respects the the exhibition this year was a great success. The superior exhibit of stock has never been surpassed and the encouragement of stock raising and the improvement of the quality of the dairy herds and flocks, and particularly the breed of swine is the most important work of an exhibition.

The thinking public the directors and officials of the Central are well pleased with the success of the recent exhibition, and the latter are encouraged to go on vigourously to make the exhibition the greatest and best in Central Canada. They are negotiating for the acquirement of new grounds, those of the Driving Park, adjoining the present grounds, and with increased facilities they hope to greatly advance the interests and enlarge the scope, of the exhibition. To secure this end they need the co-operation of all those interested. It is to be hoped that every wide-awake farmer will lend his aid. Any farmer who stands back and merely criticises the management of the exhibition, merely finds fault with himself. Any failure that may sometimes exist is due to the lack of action of himself and others who take a similar attitude. If he and others like him had been working earnestly for the success of the exhibition instead of grumbling, the greater success would be achieved.

It is to the interests of our business men to co-operate with the directors of the Society. The greater the success of the exhibition the greater the benefit, directly and indirectly, to the business men of the town. It is to be hoped that a spirit of cheerful and cordial co-operation will characterize all persons concerned, for with such co-operation the Central Exhibition can be made far and away the very best, as it is now one of the best in Central Ontario.

Below will be found a reference to a number of the exhibits at the Otonabee Fall Show deserving of special mention. The names of the officers and directors are also added :

THE OFFICERS OF 1897.

The following is a list of the officers of the Otonabee Agricultural Society for this year, to whose efficient management a large measure of the success of the exhibition is due :—

President—M. Kennealy.
Vice President—J. Elmhirst.
Secretary-Treasurer—A Shearer.
Directors—J M Drummond, W J Miller, Geo Eson, D Moore, J Moore, W W Shearer, Andrew Nelson, T Walsh, W Newton, J O'Keefe, G Fife, Thos Thompson, A Wood, P Drummond, R Hope, Wm Elmhirst, A Weir.

The thanks of the EXAMINER are especially due to the efficient Secretary, Mr. A. Shearer, for the kind courtesies shown to its representative.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

W. T. MATHER'S CARRIAGE SHOW

Mr. W. T. Mather made another creditable display of his carriages this year in the main building. He showed five handsome brand new rigs, fresh from his factory—three single buggies and two double. The extension-top Surrey shown was much admired, being a good type of a stylish and comfortable family turn-out, fit for the most prosperous in the land. It was trimmed and finished in an artistic manner, with all leather trimmings and spring backs and seats, and nickel-plated mountings. A feature of his tops is an automatic spring roller back curtain, which saves time and trouble. A fine roomy Democrat was also shown in carmine and black finish. The gear was skillfully combined and set on three good springs, and the wood work showed a first class and well practised hand at the business. The buggies shown bore evidence of the most substantial workmanship, combined with neatness and taste in finish. One very substantial and durable looking buggy was finished in black, with a piano box body, side bars, extension top and bellows back and seat. A lighter double-reach buggy was a trim looking vehicle, finely finished and trimmed with top and full back. Mr. Mather makes all his own buggy and carriage tops, and those shown were a credit to his establishment. Two other buggies which were in preparation for the exhibition was sold before leaving the warerooms. This firm is, without doubt, one of the oldest in Ontario, having been in operation over 60 years. The present proprietor has carried on the business for 22 years, which his father before him had continued for over 40 years.

GOUGH'S ATTRACTIONS.

Gough Bros.' enlargement and remodelling of their big store in Peterborough rendered it impossible to make an exhibition of their clothing at the fair. They have been holding a grand autumn re-opening, during which they display a mammoth new stock of fall and winter clothing, hats and furnishings, boots and shoes. Visitors are invited to call and view the extensive improvements which they have been making. The world is welcome! The big store, with all its many interesting features, should attract visitors in crowds. Although the new store adds immensely to the size of the establishment, the Wonderful Cheap Men have not outgrown those good old principles upon which the business has been so successfully conducted for nearly a quarter of a century. The firm were represented on the show ground by their "palace car," which was drawn up on the grounds in a conspicuous position. It was attractively emblazoned with coloured bulletins—announcements that they were sellers of everything that men wore, from head to feet.

MR. JOSEPH DOUGHTY'S STOVE DISPLAY.

This was one of the most seasonable, as well as attractive, exhibits of the Fair. At this time of the year, with the chilling frost in the air, the question of heating stoves, as well as kitchen ranges, is occupying a good deal of the attention of housekeepers and others. Mr. Doughty made a fine show of the popular "Oxford" Stoves manufactured by the Gurney Foundry Company, of Toronto, including a large Oxford Range with extended warming closet, cook stoves with reservoirs, attractive in design, perfect bakers and economical in fuel as well as in price. Mr. Doughty also showed the Oxford Triple Heater, which, it is claimed, solves the problem of providing the greatest heat from the least fuel. The extra work done by this stove is produced by the unique tubular construction of the stove. It will heat as much as a small furnace, has a large feed door and burns blocks of wood 30 inches long. It draws the cold air off the floor by flues at the bottom and distributes the heat by extra hot air pipes. The "Triumph" Double Heater was another powerful stove shown constructed on a similar plan, and is regarded as a triumph in stove architecture for wood burning. These heaters are just the thing in a farm house for burning up the rough wood. Mr. Doughty covers a lot of territory in representing these excellent stoves, extending from Warsaw and Lakefield to Keene and Warkworth, and has been complimented by the Guerney Co. on having earned the name of being one of the best hustlers for their firm.

OAK HALL.

Although Oak Hall made no general exhibit at the Keene Fair, they took a novel way of leaving a lasting impression of their name and enterprise on the minds of the crowds of thrifty farmers present. A reporter was informed that instead of their usual display of clothing, they were exhibiting the silverware premiums which they propose giving their customers. In a glass case was shown a collection of the beautiful silver presents, which are guaranteed to be full plated by the Crown Silver Plate Company, of Toronto. Each customer at Oak Hall gets a coupon to the value of their amount of purchase, whether it is ten cents or ten dollars, which enables every one to obtain a handsome piece of silverwear, guaranteed for ten years, and practically making a ten per cent. saving on all purchases.

Oak Hall has achieved a provincial reputation for the high standard of their ready made clothing. The immense clothing factory of the Sandford Manufacturing Co. of Hamilton, supply all the Oak Hall branches, and the magnitude of their business is one of the wonders of the commercial world. Oak Hall has no "middlemen's" profits to pay, because the stock comes direct from their own factory at manufacturer's prices. Hence they are able to make a profit while selling at lower prices than others buying from jobbers and retailers.

FANNING MILLS AND PLOUGHS.

Mr. C. C. McDonnell, of Peterborough, agent for agricultural implements, exhibited one of the famous Chatham Fanning Mills. This mill is so well known to most farmers that little explanation is needed. The mill is fitted with screens and riddles to clean and separate all kinds of grain and seed, and is sold with or without a handy bagger attachment. They have taken first prizes almost without number, and are selling as freely this year as ever. Mr. McDonnell sold three of these mills at the West Peterborough Fair, five at the Omemee Fair, and three more were sold at the Keene Fair, in addition to his regular weekly sales. Fifty-three were sold at the Toronto Fair. Mr. McDonnell also exhibited a new patent sulky riding plough for which he has the control of Western Canada. It is manufactured by W. H. Perrins of Smith's Falls, and is claimed to be lighter in draft than any ordinary walking plough. It is adjustable to any depth and is workable in any land. The price of this sulky riding plough is only $36.

Scott's Emulsion is Cod-liver Oil prepared as a food. At the same time, it is a blood maker, a nerve tonic and an up-builder. But principally it is a food for tired and weak digestions; for those who are not getting the fat they should from their ordinary food; for children whom nothing seems to nourish; for all who are fat-starved and thin.

It is pleasant to take; at least, it is not unpleasant. Children like it and ask for more.

ALMOST A MIRACLE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 9th, 1896.
To the Phrenoline Medicine Co., Ltd., Ottawa:—

GENTLEMEN,—I hardly know how best to express my appreciation of your valuable rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline. My son Gordon, who is 9 years old, has been a sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism for the past two years; was so bad at times that he had to be carried about on a mattrass; was attended by two city doctors apparently without the slightest benefit; spent 10 days at Caledonia Springs, came home with no marked improvement; took three bottles of a Homeopathic remedy now being extensively advertised, which did not relieve him in the least. I was beginning to give up all hope of his recovery, when by chance I mentioned the case to a friend who strongly advised me to give Phrenoline a trial.

I did so, with the result that when my boy had taken only half a bottle he was able to get on his bicycle and ride like any other boy around the block.

I certainly feel that I cannot say too much in praise of your medicine, and shall do all I can to make known its value to others.

Yours very sincerely,
(Signed) REUBEN CLARK,

Victoria Road, Oct. 8.—Dan Doherty, a middle-aged, unmarried man, was found dead here this morning. It was evidently a case of premeditated suicide. His throat was cut. The act must have been committed about 7.20 this morning, as Doherty had been seen earlier in the morning. The coroner was notified immediately.

Trade in Cattle With the U. S.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—The Dingley bill, it would appear by the statistics, has not stopped, as was intended, the trade in cattle between Canada and the United States. From east to west people have heart trouble. This causes violent headaches, neuralgia, nerve trouble and prostration. Says Mrs. Somers, of Moncton, N. I suffered from the above symptoms, but now gladly testify to the cure these wonderful pills have made in my case, and I hope all sufferers will try them."

CANADA PROSPERS.

Hon. W. S. Fielding Doing Good Work Spreading the News.

BRITISH INTEREST IN THE DOMINION

The Finance Minister Makes an Important Disclosure in Regard to the Tariff Next Year The Future Policy of the Ministry Other News by Cable.

London, Oct. 8.—(Montreal Star Cable.)—Hon. W. S. Fielding was very busy with the journalists yesterday, and the result is seen in much talk in the papers to-day, of Canada's prosperity, a policy which should serve to pave the way for the intended loan of two millions sterling.

In The Chronicle interview Mr. Fielding makes an important disclosure of Canadian policy. He says that though the present tariff falls short of his free trade intentions and ideas, tariff tinkering is most harassing to the trade, hence no material changes will be made next session.

When asked if after the expiry of the Belgian-German treaties in August next a preference would be given to Great Britain alone, Hon. Mr. Fielding said: "We entered on our policy with a desire to give a preference to British goods alone, and it is not likely we shall depart from it."

He went on to declare that Canada's willingness to meet reciprocity approaches from Washington always would exclude discrimination against England, which was quite impossible. An Imperial zollverein was not, Mr. Fielding declared, a very practical question at the present moment.

The papers generally speak of Lord Salisbury's refusal to admit Russia and Japan to the Behring Sea Conference at Washington as a victory for Canada.

The Standard (Government organ) states that the people generally do not seem to appreciate the reality of the feeling, which is now universal in Great Britain, that the differences between a colony and a foreign state are matters which the Imperial Government must regard as of vital importance.

YOUNG LAMONTS CASE.

Neighbours Much Interested in the Story—Everyone Thought That the Youngster Would Die, but he's Very Much Alive Now.

DUNDALK, Oct. 4.—Hugh Lamont, of McIntyre, has a young son who is an object of interest throughout this whole section of country. From infancy the boy had dropsy, and was bloated and swollen all over. It seemed to the parents that death could be the only release to one attacked so young by this disease. They heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and began giving them to the child. With the first box the bloating and swelling began to disappear. Six boxes effected a perfect cure and the boy is now just as healthy a youngster as stirs up the dust on the high roads of Western Ontario.

A LIGHTED MATCH

Dropped Among Dynamite Cartridges Causes an Explosion Which Blew a Farmer to Pieces

Morrisburg, Ont., Oct. 8.—Yesterday morning James R. Smith, Edward Herring, Thomas and George Fossell, all living near South Mountain, a village 20 miles northwest of here, started for the Rideau River on a fishing expedition, taking a quantity of dynamite with them. About three miles from Wellington, near Osgoode Station, they took two boats. Smith and Tom Fossell were in one, with the dynamite, which consisted of 15 shots and 50 shells. The other two men were to gather the fish in another boat. Two successful shots were fired. Fossell was sitting with his back towards Smith, when he heard the latter say: "Oh, Oh!" Looking around he found Smith had accidentally dropped a lighted match amongst the dynamite. A horrible explosion immediately followed, in which Smith was blown to atoms, only half of one boot and a portion of his skull being found afterwards. Fossell says when the explosion occurred the water appeared to divide and he seemed to be on land for an instant, then the water rushed together. He was picked up by the occupants of the other boat. He is in a terrible condition. The left side of his face and body are badly torn. The doctors think he will recover. Smith was well known in Morrisburg.

DR. BRYCE SENT.

The Ontario Government Taking Steps to Relieve the Distress at Casselman.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—The Government has decided to take immediate steps towards alleviating the suffering of those who have been burnt out in the Casselman district. Several hundred are reported to have lost everything, including their homes, and in the emergency Hon. E. J. Davis, who, as Provincial Secretary, is head of the Health Department, has instructed Dr. P. H. Bryce to go at once to the scene of the disaster in order to lend as much aid as possible to the local authorities.

Dr. Bryce's chief duty will be to see that the homeless people gain sanitary shelters, and that the water supply furnished them may be wholesome.

In order to attain the first object of his journey the doctor is negotiating with local milich authorities with a view to securing tents to shelter the burnt-out people. He also expects to secure tents from the department at Ottawa.

Outbreaks of contagious diseases often occur in communities reduced to destitution, as the Casselman region has been, and Dr. Bryce will use every effort to prevent such a secondary disaster occurring. He left for the stricken district last night.

The Great Life Line

That Has Rescued Thousands of Wrecked Mortals.

TAKE HOLD OF IT AND BE SAVED.

It is Known as Paine's Celery Compound the Disease banisher and Life-giver.

Tens of thousands of people in every walk of life have reason to thank Professor Phelps, M.D., of Dartmouth College, for the life-line he has thrown out on the surging and billowy sea of disease and suffering. This glorious, never-failing life line has blessed humanity to an extent that can never be equalled by any other agency on earth.

Life saving is a glorious undertaking, the most blessed and most noble work that human skill can engage in.

Professor Phelps, when he devised his wonderful and now famous Paine's Celery Compound, gave mankind an agency of life that men and women had for long years been praying for. The doctor's study of the nervous system and such diseases as nervous prostration, paralysis, neuralgia, rheumatism, kidney and liver troubles, dyspepsia and debility, led him to that marvellous discovery of the age, Paine's Celery Compound.

This wonderful medicine has been called by many "The Eleventh Hour Medicine" and justly so, because it saves life, builds up the system, and establishes health after the ordinary physician fails to cure.

The medicine will certainly meet your case, reader, if you are still struggling with disease and pain. The experience of thousands in this wide Dominion has proven that Paine's Celery Compound "makes people well."

Mr. G. J. Smye, of Sheffield, Ont., a cured man, writes as follows:

"It is with great pleasure that I testify to the value of your great medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. For nearly two years I suffered from indigestion, kidney and liver troubles. After trying several medicines that did not effect a cure, I decided to try your Compound. Before using it I was so low in health that I could not eat nor sleep. I could not lie in bed owing to the pain in my back; it was only by resting on elbows and knees I was enabled to obtain a slight degree of ease. Before I had fully taken one bottle of your medicine I began to improve. I have now taken in all fourteen bottles with grand results. I am a farmer and am now working every day. Anyone may refer to me in regard to these statements, or to any of my neighbours around Sheffield, where I am well known. I am a living witness to the worth of Paine's Celery Compound."

To remove worms of all kinds from children or adults, Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is a safe and sure remedy.

Mantles Extraordinary!

Lots of cold weather coming, perhaps you don't need to be reminded of it. Are you prepared for it when it does come? Do you think of buying a NICE WARM MANTLE so you can defy the cold? Likely you may say you can't afford a new one this season; when you remember the price you have been in the habit of paying, the vision of a change from last year's CAPE OR JACKET becomes more remote.

If you look over our stock and note the EXTRAORDINARY LOW PRICES we have marked our MANTLES you can certainly procure one this season.

OUR MANTLE DEPARTMENT is so complete and the values so remarkable that a visit to our store is necessary to realize the attractions we offer.

We have a collection of rare beauty and grace that will gladden your eyes—but finding words to describe them is like trying to describe a picture. Cold type in a newspaper won't do our stock justice, it must be seen and examined.

Pretty Quick Work and Hard to Beat.

J. J. Turner & Sons received an order yesterday afternoon from E. W. Maybee for a large awning for his new store, and to be lettered with large letters. This awning was cut out, made and his name and business lettered and put up this morning, which is conclusive evidence that J. J. Turner & Sons are the greatest hustlers on earth. Not one day from the time the order was given till it was on the store protecting the goods from the rays of the sun. 1d

ASSESSORS APPOINTED

To Valuate the New Buildings Which Have Been Erected This Year.

A special meeting of the council was called last night to consider the appointment of assessors to valuate the new buildings which have been erected this year.

The Mayor presided, and the members present were Councillors, Best, Lepiante, Robinton, Denne, Davis, Dawson, Cobb and White.

On motion of Councillors Best and Denne, Messrs. J. J. Hartley and T. B. McGrath were appointed to assess the new buildings at a salary of $2 50 per day. The work will have to be rushed, as it is necessary that the returns be made by the 14th inst.

The matter of the repair of the George street bridge was informally discussed, and the question of using piles to make the foundation more firm was considered. The outlay necessary will be about $1 000. Councillor Davis thought that the scheme of tunneling ought to be taken up before any further expenditure was made, and the diversion of the creek from its present course was referred to.

In such an event the creek would be diverted either at Hamilton's or at Jackson Park. The matter was left for further consideration.

Owing to the absence of Councillor McWilliams from town, the question in relation to the erection of a county poor house was not taken up.

HELP FOR THE SUFFERERS.

By the Recent Fire in Prescott and Russell Counties.

Yesterday afternoon Mayor Yelland received the following telegram, which it seems has been sent out from Ottawa to all the principal cities and towns of Canada:

To the Mayor of Peterborough:

The fearful fire which ravaged 300 square miles of Russell and Prescott counties on Tuesday, 5th inst., has resulted in the loss of five lives and rendered 2000 people homeless, and destroyed farms, buildings, dwellings, churches, schools and property generally to the value of thousands of dollars. Relief is urgently needed for the sufferers and we venture to appeal to you to help us in the emergency. A strong central committee is being formed in Ottawa to dispense assistance, and we will be glad to receive and properly apply any sum that your citizens may feel disposed to send us. The city of Ottawa is doing its utmost to help, but outside help is required.

SAMUEL BINGHAM,
Mayor of Ottawa.
W. C. EDWARDS,
M. P. for Russell.
ISADORE PROULX,
M. P. for Prescott.

The telegram was read at the council meeting last evening, and to the credit of the members be it said that not one but had a word to say in favour of some relief being forwarded to the unfortunate victims of the holocaust. If a deficit is to be faced this year the councillors expressed themselves as being quite willing to risk their chances of a defeat at the polls, if it was occasioned through an act of charity such as contributing to the relief fund.

On motion of Councillors Denne and Davis a cheque for $2 000 will be forwarded to the mayor of Ottawa immediately, to be applied to the relief of the sufferers.

Local subscription lists will probably be opened in order to give the citizens an opportunity of contributing.

TO BE TRIED BY JUDGE WELLER.

Minnicola, the Italian, Decides Not to be Tried by a Jury.

Philip Minnicola was brought before Judge Weller this morning on the charge of incest, in respect of his daughter, on which he was committed to gaol by Magistrate Dumble on Thursday.

He was asked whether he wished to be tried by the Judge or would wait until the assizes for a jury. He decided to be tried by Judge Weller, and the case will come up a week from Monday.

Meeting Postponed.

The County Stone Heap.

There are only two tramps in the gaol now, and in consequence there is not much stone-breaking being done. A short time ago there were eight of the gentry in limbo and they cracked four or five dollars worth of stone in a day.

Corbett and Fitzsimmons.

The original pictures of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons contest as photographed by Dan. A. Stuart's Veriscope at Carson city, on March 17, last, have at last been secured for Peterborough and they will be shown here on Tuesday night next. Manager Bradburn has been put to considerable expense in securing the real reproduction of the "contest of the century," as the views of the historic battle are in great demand in every large city in the land. He has succeeded in closing a contract, however, and the pictures will be produced at the Opera House on Tuesday, exactly as they were shown at the Academy of Music, New York. The views shown are the same as created such a sensation in Toronto, where they were shown to packed houses for sixty consecutive performances. The prices are 25, 35 and 50c, no higher seats are now on sale.

VICTORIA RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

The Annual Matches held Thursday—A Large Attendance and Some Good Scores Made.

The officers of the Victoria Rifle Association were somewhat unfortunate in choosing the day for their annual match, the weather Thursday being far from agreeable when compared with the bright calm weather of the past few weeks. The air was decidedly cool, and the wind was tricky and blew in gusts at times. Despite the drawbacks, however, the meet was very successful but the scores are lower than they would have been under more favourable circumstances.

Shortly before 8 a.m. the marksmen began to gather at the range north of the town, where everything was in readiness. Among those present were Capt. Dennistoun, Sergt. Bartlett, and Private Curtis, of the 57th Battalion, Peterborough, and the scores they made were as follows:

Match No. 1, Range 200 and 500 yards—Staff-Sergt. F. Bartlett, score 62 prize $7; Pte. Curtis, score 57, prize $2 00; Capt. Dennistoun, score 54, prize, $1 50

Match No. 2, score 400 and 600 yards—Capt. Dennistoun, score 58, prize, $3; Pte. Curtis, scord 51, prize $2; Sergt. Bartlett, score 44, prize $1.

Extra series match, range 200 yards—Capt. Dennistoun, score 46, prize $1.

THE HOUSE OF REFUGE.

Suggestions Asked as as the Best Way of Conducting and Obtaining it.

The Women's Benevolent Association of Peterborough are endeavouring to secure, furnish and maintain a shelter for the destitute, abandoned and helpless old and young in their midst. The town and county councils are taking the matter into consideration and a special meeting next week will deliberate upon it. It is important that the people of Peterborough should show practically their vital interest both in those who have a natural claim upon their charity and those who, left to themselves, become a menace to the well being of any community. As one method of securing the active co-operation of the public, suggestions are asked through the daily papers: first, as to how best to obtain and carry on this shelter; secondly, what will be the most effectual means of minimising poverty, vice and crime in our town in the future. Public-spirited citizens are earnestly requested to express their views on this matter.

EXPLANATORY.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In your report of the results of the Nicholls' Hospital examinations, which have just been held, a manifest injustice has been done to one of the nurses which I wish to correct.

Your report, which I assume was furnished you by the authorities, places Miss Clark first in the written examinations, Miss Fahruer first in two subjects, Miss Bryson and Miss Burnham each first in one. In competitive examinations the results depend upon the total number of marks gained, in which case the order of merit would be: Miss Clark 1st, Miss Bryson 2nd, Miss Fahruer and Miss Burnham following.

I am anxious to correct your report because of the injustice to Miss Bryson. That young lady being four months the junior of the other nurses, her success in the examinations reflects the highest credit upon her.

Yours truly,
FAIR PLAY.

THE THREE-FOLD VIEW OF WORK FOR YOUNG MEN.

NEW PROSPECTUS OF THE Y. M. C. A.

A Guide Book to the Excellent Privileges Presented by the New Building and its Equipments.

A concise conspectus of the scheme of work outlined by the Y. M. C. A. is furnished by the beautiful prospectus just issued from the EXAMINER presses, relating thereto. This exceedingly neat and tasty brochure is contained in a handsomely illuminated cover, in red and black, symbolical of the three fold character of the work conducted for young men—Body, Mind and Spirit.

It seems to superficial thinking that the apparent exaltation of the matter of physical training is inverting the order of importance. But the motto, mens sana in san corpore—which is as true in meaning as truth itself—indicates that a sound body is a prerequisite to the efficient condition and operation of the mind; and in regard to the spiritual culture, the greater the integrity of the bodily condition the better the young man is qualified to work out his responsibility in respect of improving his mental condition, and to perform those duties which the highest condition of spiritual culture imposes upon him.

In this connection the splendid equipment of the new gymnasium deserves special importance. This gymnasium, under the charge of a capable and experienced director, is one of the best equipped in the country, everything modern and up to the most advanced standard of modern equipment.

A reference to the little prospectus, which may be procured on application, will show the completeness of the equipment, and the completeness of the complementary accommodations. The fine system of baths, which permit of the practical application of the spirit of the remark made by Rev. John Wesley, curate of Epworth, in his celebrated sermon on dress—"Cleanliness is indeed next to godliness," are, therefore, specially appropriate to be associated with an organization which has for its ultimate object the development of the spiritual life of young men, and largely through the medium of physical and mental culture mentioned before. The rest of this little book refers to the conveniences for mental training. The educational side of the Young Men's Christian Association receives special attention, thus enabling young men so fit themselves for better filling the several positions they occupy, or may be called upon to occupy in life.

"The Best Life" is the title of the department that deals with the spiritual side of the triangle of life, which should have first place in every young man's life. The prospectus specifies the several bright and hearty services that are given from time to time in the rooms, in which the ministers of the town, regardless of denominational distinctions, give their help.

The last cover page of this little book gives a fine picture of the new building, the new home in every sense of the young men of the town who wish to take advantage of the excellent privileges which its complete and excellent equipment in all departments represents. The work compiled by the General Secretary, Mr. Geo. H. Williamson, indicates his appreciation of the importance of the position he fills with so much energy and discretion.

Accident on the Canal.

During the week an accident happened to two men named Frank Hynes and Patrick Hogan on the Trent Canal. The two men were engaged in taking the doors off the concrete walls, when part of the bank of the canal fell in on them, burying them up to the neck. The workmen around soon came to their rescue, but it was nearly an hour before they were rescued from their perilous position, severely bruised and shaken up. The men had a very narrow escape, as just over them was a bank of earth weighing about thirty tons, which was cracked about ten feet from the side, and if this had fallen on them they would undoubtedly have been killed.

ALL SAINTS' RE-OPENING SERVICES.

To be Performed by the Bishop of Toronto To morrow—Other Announcements Respecting the Important Occasion.

The members of the congregation of St. John's Mission are busy as bees with the preparations for the re-opening services which will take place to-morrow. Though the time has been short for the amount of work to be done, they will have everything in splendid shape and ready for the very important event.

The first service in the new building will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 8 o'clock in the morning. Rev. J. C. Davidson will be celebrant and the Rev. W. L. Armitage will assist. At 11 o'clock will be the dedicatory service, when the new name of "All Saints" will be given to the building. The sermon will be preached by the Bishop of Toronto. At the offertory the choir will sing the anthem "O Come let us Worship," arranged from Himmel. There will be a children's service in the afternoon, when it is expected there will be a full attendance of the Sunday school scholars, that all members of the parish may have part in this auspicious occasionn. A general invitation is also extended to all who wish to attend this service. The address will be delivered by the Rev. Mr. Armitage. The Bishop will preach again in the evening, and the choir will sing the anthem "Hark, Hark my Soul," a new composition by J. W. Fetherston, organist of the Memorial church, London, Ont. A hearty invitation to attend these services is extended to all. The offertory throughout the day will be for the Building Fund, and it is hoped a special effort will be made by each worshiper.

Those coming on bicycles will have their wheels cared for. A limited number of horses can be stabled near by.

FOR MEN.

On Sunday afternoon at 4.15 the men's meeting in the Y.M.C.A. will take the form of an open meeting.

Mr. H. H. Buxton will lead the discussion on the subject, "Wrestling." Last Sunday there was a large attendance at the first meeting of the "Christian Athletic Series."

If superintendents of Union Sunday schools not connected with any church or of any Sunday schools not having received programmes will send name and address to the corresponding secretary, Miss Jessie Munro, 25 Manning Arcade, Toronto, programmes will be at once mailed to them.

In the Gymnasium.

During the afternoons and evenings of this week the Young Men's Christian Association has been the gathering place of many young men; for the purpose of association, attending the gymnasium classes and also for joining the Association, thus becoming members of the gymnasium classes. Thus, the first week of their opening have been well attended; and there has been an extra class formed for young business men who could only attend one night in the week, which will meet on Wednesday evening from 8 to 9 o'clock. Young men are urged to become members of some class. There are also classes for boys and parents are requested to have them join; as exercise is a prevention of disease, thus making boys robust and healthy. Every man has a physical examination and their hearts and lungs are tested by Dr. Scott; this is done to prevent accident.

When the appetite fails there is no use in trying to tempt the palate with delicate food. No matter how good and well-cooked and "appetizing" the food may be, it cannot give any nourishment unless the stomach is able to digest it. Nature indicates the state of the constitution by the loss of appetite. This is an unfailing indicator. It shows that something is fundamentally wrong with the nutritive functions.

The only true natural relief must be as searching and fundamental as the trouble it aims to overcome. It is the thorough deep-searching character of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which causes the marvelous efficacy in all bilious and digestive difficulties. It creates that healthful vitality of the entire digestive and nutritive organism which produces both the natural desire for food and the organic capacity to assimilate and transform it into nourishing, revivifying blood and healthy tissue. It gives appetite, digestion and sound sleep, and builds up solid muscular strength and vital nerve-energy.

H. H. Thompson, Esq., of P. O. Box 4, Kippie, Blair Co., Penn'a, writes: "I had been troubled with extreme vomiting in summer season, always after eating; had to be very careful at times to get anything to stay on my stomach at all; had been taking other medicines, but without effect. I heard a friend speak of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and thought I would give it a trial. I used about five bottles of it and think it is the only medicine that did me any good, as I have a splendid appetite now, and am not using any medicine at all and don't think I need any more."

A man who is suffering from the evil effects of constipation doesn't feel like work, and can't even enjoy his leisure hours. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a sure, swift, safe, and permanent cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. Dishonest druggists try to get you to take a substitute for the sake of the added profit.

THE JOURNEY.

I think of death as some delightful journey
That I shall take when all my tasks are done,
Though life has given me a heaping measure
Of all best gifts, and many a cup of pleasure,
Still better things await me further on.

This little earth is such a merry planet,
The distances beyond it so supreme,
I have no doubt that all the mighty spaces
Between us and the stars are filled with faces
More beautiful than any artist's dream.

I like to think that I shall yet behold them,
When from this waiting room my soul has soared.
Earth is a wayside station, where we wander,
Until from out the silent darkness yonder
Death swings his lantern and cries, "All aboard!"

I think death's train sweeps through the solar system
And passes suns and moons that dwarf our own,
And close beside us we shall find our dearest,
The spirit friends on earth we held the nearest,
And in the shining distance God's great throne.

Whatever disappointment may befall me
In plans or pleasures in this world of don't,
I know that life at worst can but delay me,
But no malicious fate has power to stay me
From that grand journey on the Great Death Route.

IN BED FOR WEEKS.

And Every Breath she Drew was an Excruciating Pain — Rheumatism had Fastened his Talons on his Prey —South American Rheumatic Cure Snatched her from his Grasp.

"For fifteen years I had been troubled with rheumatism. It had settled in my back. At times the pain was so severe as to entirely lay me up for week at a time. I was just about discouraged and had given up hope when I was recommended to try South American Rheumatic Cure. I did so. The first bottle enabled me to leave my bed, and in one week from the time I commenced its use I was completely cured. It is undoubtedly the best remedy in the world for rheumatism." Mrs. John Beaumont, Elora, Ont. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Pain in the Back.

Mr. M. P. Halpin, Brookville, Ont., makes a statement as follows: "For two years I suffered from kidney trouble, causing severe pain across my back, dizziness, headache, sleeplessness, etc. I had often to lean on the counter when serving a customer, so intense was the pain in my back. On taking Doan's Kidney Pills I improved from the very first, and now after using three boxes am all right; all my pains, aches and dizziness having disappeared, thanks to Doan's Pills."

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego Cal says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c. Sold by John Nugent, 359 George Street.

A LITTLE BOY'S LAMENT.

I'm goin' back down to grandpa's,
I won't come back no more
To hear the remarks about my feet
A-muddyin' up the floor.
They's too much said about my clothes,
The scoldin's never done
I'm goin' back down to grandpa's
Where a boy has low some fun.

I dug up half his garden
A-gettin' worms for bait;
He said he used to like it
When I had shed so late;
He said that pie was good for boys,
An' candy made 'em grow;
Ef I can't go to grandpa's
I'll turn pirate first you know.

He let me take his shotgun
An' loaded it for me;
The cats they hid out in the barn.
The hens flew up a tree.
I had a circus in the yard
With twenty other boys
I got to go to grandpa's
Where they ain't afraid of noise.

He didn't make me comb my hair,
But once or twice a week
He wasn't watchin' out for words,
I didn't orter speak.
He told me stories 'bout the war
And Injuns shot out west,
Oh, I'm goin' down to grandpa's,
For he knows wot boys like best.

He even run a race with me,
But had to stop and cough;
He saw my blisters and laughed
It cost him kinder dear,
When you took me away.
When you talk to me of heaven,
Where all the good folks go,
I guess I'll go to grandpa's,
An' we'll have good times, I know.

Paragraphs to Read at Breakfast That Will Make the Day Bright.

Stranger—How is the water in this region?

Student—Well, judging from the beer, it must be quite good.—Fliegende Blaetter.

Pedestrian—It was only last week that I gave you money to bury your wife, and now you say she is starving.

Beggar—But, sir, this is a new wife I have.—Puck.

Mr. Benham—I wish I were single again.

Mrs. Benham—You horrid wretch! What would you do if you were?

Mr. Benham—Marry you again.

Mrs. Benham—Oh, you darling creature.—Modern Society.

Wife—John, what's the matter with you to-night? Here I've been talking to you for half an hour and all you've done was grunt and occasionally nod your head.

Husband—Well, I've found it possible to do that without interrupting you.

She—Have you always lived up to your income?

He—No; I've got a nice little sum laid by. But why do you ask? Surely you have no sordid motives in——

She (interrupting)—Oh, no. It's all right. I merely wished to let you know that I do not care to be the wife of a man who marries to save money.

SCIENCE AND SKILL.

Devoted to the Preparation of Diamond Dyes.

It is impossible for the makers of imitation and adulterated package dyes to put up colours for home dyeing work that can give any degree of satisfaction to the public. Imitators have not the scientific knowledge or the capital to do honest and good work.

Scientific men of the highest attainments in the chemistry of colours give the benefit of their knowledge and researches for the preparation of Diamond Dyes and the protection of those who use them.

Common dyes are gross frauds and are sold by dealers for the sake of extra profit. Diamond Dyes, though they cost vastly more to prepare, are made to give satisfaction to millions by their perfect qualities.

Beware of the dealer who says his crude dyes are equal to the wonderful Diamond Dyes. Goods coloured with Diamond Dyes are fast to soap, water and sun; of no other dyes is this true.

For the Eye of the Cook.

Keep a brick on the back of the stove, and set the food on it that is to be kept warm.

Add a teaspoonful of sugar to every pint of milk when the milk is to be thickened with cornmeal.

Make graham bread the same as white bread, and then steam it three hours, instead of baking it one.

Oatmeal is much improved if sugar is put in while it is cooking instead of being put on it at the table.

Tie a piece of stale bread to a white muslin cloth and drop it into the kettle with the boiling cabbage, to help absorb the offensive odor.

Never cut potatoes for baking, but for steaming or boiling draw the edge of a sharp knife half way around lengthwise, so that they will crack open nicely.

The best way to keep boiled mush from being lumpy is to stir up the meal with enough cold water to merely wet it, and then stir it into the kettle of boiling water.

Cut the thin skin from the outside of a leg of mutton or the mutton chops before cooking them, in order to remove the "woolly taste" that some find so objectionable.

When baking powder is used for biscuits the shortening should be stirred in after all the ingredients are added, including the flour, and they will be much lighter and more flaky.

If there are no potatoes to use for making bread, take a pan of clabbered milk, heat it boiling hot and strain the whey into the flour, and then proceed to mix the dough in the usual manner.

Tired, Nervous, Sleepless

Men and women — how gratefully they write about Hood's Sarsaparilla. Once helpless and discouraged, having lost all faith in medicines, now in good health and "able to do my work," because Hood's Sarsaparilla has power to enrich and purify the blood and make weak strong — this is the experience of a host of people.

Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic and liver medicine. Gentle, reliable, sure.

Burdock Pills, small, safe and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

CAN THIS BE TRUE?

The Food of Martin Thorn and Mrs. Nack Doctored to Make Them Despondent.

New York, Oct. 7.—The Evening World says that Sheriff Doht of Queens County has admitted that the food of Martin Thorn and Mrs. Nack has been doctored, the purpose being to induce nausea and lowness of spirits, so that one or the other of the alleged murderers would confess.

Christian Endeavor Convention.

St. Thomas, Oct. 7.—The Provincial C.E. convention opened auspiciously this morning. Sunrise prayer meetings were held in Knox and Grace Methodist Churches, held respectively by Rev. A. Graham, Lancaster, and Mr. O. H. Nelson, Paisley. The convention assembled in Knox Church at 9 o'clock, Rev. L. T. Barker, Hamilton, in the chair. Reports were received from numerous committee districts and local unions showing on the whole substantial progress.

From the China Mission Field.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—A letter received at Presbyterian headquarters states that China is being surveyed in different directions for railway purposes. A Belgian mission from Hankow to Pekin passed through Honan, following practically the same line of surveys as the American party of some months ago.

INDORSED BY GENERAL HENRY.

NEWLY APPOINTED CONSUL TO QUEBEC CITY RECOMMENDS PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

General William W. Henry, whom the President of the United States has appointed to be Consul to Quebec, has been Grand Master of a Grand Lodge of Masons, is a member of the I.O.O.F., and G. A. R., having been the second to be elected department commander in his state of Vermont.

His war record was brilliant. Enlisting as a private, he was engaged in the first battle of Bull Run. He was promoted for bravery to first lieutenant, soon rose to be major, was promoted to a lieutenant colonelcy, then became colonel, and in 1865 was brevited brigadier general for meritorious service during the war. He was wounded at the battles of Cold Harbour, Monacacy, and four times at the battle of Cedar Creek. He has been state senator for two different districts, was U. S. marshall for seven years, and mayor of Burlington for two terms.

Coming from such a man such an indorsement as follows must be appreciated by any one:

QUEBEC, Sept. 7, 1897.

To the proprietors of Paine's Celery Compound:

It gives me great pleasure to indorse Paine's Celery Compound, both on account of the results obtained from personal use of the remedy and knowledge of the remarkable cures it has performed. I believe it has no equal in curing diseases of the nervous system and building up those who are weak and out of health. It has cured several friends of mine of rheumatism in its worst form, and I have no hesitancy in recommending it to all afflicted with that disease.

Very truly yours,
William W. Henry.

Desperate diseases, such as rheumatism, blood impurity, neuralgia or nervous debility, that bring down the strength of the whole body, can not be got rid of as one does a scratch or a sprain, by letting them cure themselves. Heart weakness, kidney disease, chronic headaches and enlarged liver and spleen are not self terminating disorders. Like all the desperate diseases, they demand a thoughtful, scientific remedy.

There never has been a remedy so thoroughly grounded in a knowledge of what the sick body needs in these diseases as Paine's Celery Compound.

Paine's Celery Compound is the remarkable result of profound investigation and close medical study by that eminent professer of the Dartmouth and Vermont medical schools, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D.

It is the greatest nerve invigorator, blood purifier and regulator for the important organs of the body that has ever come to light.

The langour, the nervousness and the pain in the region of the heart or the kidneys are cured by Paine's Celery Compound because the origin of these disorders is easily traced to an impoverished condition of the nerves and a poor state of the blood.

This great invigorator does nothing at haphazard. Its aim is to feed the exhausted nervous tissues as soundly and rapidly as is consistent with healthy digestion and assimilation, and step by step with this building up process all over the body goes that other fully as vital work of driving out every trace of vicious humour and poisonous matter from the blood.

In every case—and there are thousands of such cases throughout the country—where Paine's Celery Compound has cured rheumatism, nervous prostration, neuralgia or that very common "run down" condition—in every case recovery has been by this same building-up process, that omits no step in making the cure lasting and for a lifetime.

KIPLING'S JUBILEE POEM.

Sir Walter Besant Says It Is the Finest Utterance of the Occasion.

This is what Sir Walter Besant says of Rudyard Kipling's Jubilee poem, called "Recessional":

"To my mind they are the finest utterance, the noblest and the fittest which has been called forth by the Jubilee. They stand out in bold relief; they are real; they are inspired; they are at once a prayer and a thanksgiving. They contain the very spirit of the Puritans, a spirit which must never die out among us. We have amongst us once more a poet who can make our hearts glow within us and can uplift our souls from the earth. Too long have we waited; singers there are with us in plenty; but the poet—where was he? Is this the only one? Nay, this one goes before; he leads the way; he is Chief and King; but poets create other poets; noble souls gather round other noble souls. For the mandolin we shall have the trumpet; for the feignings we shall have the sham, lovesick shepherd we shall have the soldier and the pilgrim. There are, among our singers, too long contented with the twanging of the mandolin, two or three who will surely feel the force and splendor of Kipling's muse insomuch that they, too, will open their eyes, and will see the world as it is and mankind as it may be. The words ring in the brain; they will be heard; they follow us into the shades of night; they will not let one sleep; they must be repeated over and over and over again."

The tumult and the shouting dies,
The captains and the kings depart,
Still stands Thine ancient sacrifice,
An humble and a contrite heart.
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

Far called, our navies melt away,
On dune and headland sinks the fire;
Lo, all our pomp of yesterday
Is one with Nineveh and Tyre!
Judge of the Nations, spare us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

Mistakes About Mountains.

Ninety-nine people out of a hundred appear to be under the impression that Mount Blanc is in Switzerland, whereas it is wholly within the French frontier Province of Haute Savoie. Next, Mount St. Elias is not the highest mountain in North America, but the peak, which is 1511 feet higher, named after Sir William "Logan," founder of the Canadian Geological Survey. And what is more, although so patriotically scouted by some, the assertion that both mountains are in British territory has been confirmed since 1887 by the Canadian-Alaska boundary survey. And of another mountain—Ararat: The usual statement that this was the place on which Noah's Ark rested has no foundation in the Hebrew text, which reads, "On the mountains of Ararat." Ararat was the ancient name of a district in Eastern Armenia, and has been used for all Armenia.

Boils, pimples, and eruptions, scrofula, salt rheum and all other manifestations of impure blood, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell. 25c. 50c. and $1.00.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, W. T. TAYLOR, Agency Supplies, P.O. Box 36, St. Henri, Que.

TABLE LINEN.

Simple Treatment to Keep It Spotless, White and Clean.

Table linens, to be quite correct, must at all times be spotless and perfectly white. In order to attain this result, each of the various processes of laundering must be carefully performed. Soiled table linens, as they accumulate during the week, must be placed in a basket kept specially for this purpose. It is not quite pleasant to picture it as freely mingled with the rest of the family wash either before or after laundering.

Before washing these linens, each piece should be separately examined for stains and frayed spots. To facilitate the laundry work, as well as to prevent stains from becoming permanent, they must be completely removed from the linens before these are placed in the tub. This may appear unnecessary to the mind accustomed to rubbing the spots with soap and complacently setting them on to boil; but her method is rarely successful, and to remove the spots afterward involves a large amount of extra labor.

Fruit stains disappear if rubbed with butter and scalded by pouring water from the boiling kettle through the spot, the linen treated being held over a bowl. Wine stains are taken out by dipping them in a pan of boiling water in which a spoonful of ammonia has been dissolved. Chocolate and cocoa stains are removed by thickly soaping them and then rinsing them in warm water.

Iron rust is more obstinate and requires stronger treatment, a treatment, however, that only the most careful and reliable laundress should be allowed to adopt. Indeed, this share of the work is best done by the owner of the linen, or under her personal supervision. For she, more than any one else, will see that all needful precautions are taken. She will look to it that the pan of boiling water is on the range ready for immediate use; that only the spot itself is moistened with cold water, and that not a grain of the salts of lemon that she spreads over it in a thin layer and watches as it slowly dissolves, shall by any chance fall elsewhere on the cloth. She will see that it is at once rinsed in the boiling water and immediately exposed to the hot sun or pressed with a hot iron. She will be careful to do all this, because she knows that she is applying a strong acid, and that a hole is worse than a stain. She will remember, too, that the term "salts of lemon" is misleading, for the bleach is in reality nothing else than powdered oxalic acid, and being a deadly poison, must be used with care and then be safely stored away.

Javelle water will remove all other stains. Linen treated with it also requires immediate and thorough rinsing in boiling water, for its strong ingredients are chloride of lime and washing soda. It can be bought in drug stores, but it can be made at home for less than half the cost. Directions for its preparation are on the boxes of chloride of lime one buys at the grocer's for disinfecting purposes. Strained off into bottles and corked, it will keep indefinitely, but as a safe precaution the bottles should be labelled and marked "poison" in prominent letters of red ink.

Only the best of laundry soap may be used on table linens. All others will turn them yellow and possibly rot the texture because of the free alkali they contain. The blue used to tint the linen after the last rinsing must also be of the best. Stains like iron rust are caused by the chemical ingredients of inferior blue mixing with starch and producing iodide.

Frequent rinsings in pure cold water after washing and an occasional bleaching upon the grass in the hot sun will render table linen white and sweet.

Lamps and Their Value.

Even young eyes suffer by the use, for reading or working, of flickering gas. The lamp-flare is steady, soft in color and grateful to the eyes. Formerly the clumsy student lamp was the only really reliable one for reading, but the "lamp craze" has evolved a multitude of new patent burners, all of them good, and all of them reasonable in price. For a couple of dollars one can buy an excellent lamp, complete with green porcelain shade; for three or four dollars a really handsome one may be had. Whatever the quality, in shape the reading lamp should be low, with a good broad base, so that it stands securely.

There is no one article in the house, excepting, perhaps, good beds, that can give as much solid comfort as lamps for reading and working by. Every grown member of the family should possess one. There should be one of extra lighting power on the children's study table, the library and sitting-room tables.

We all do without many things that would add to our comfort in life, not because we are obliged to do so, but from lack of knowledge or thought. It is not wise to coddle oneself, to search for new wants, to make new necessities which anchor us to one place because we cannot be comfortable elsewhere. But a personal lamp is a sensible luxury or indulgence, and the sooner it becomes a necessity, the better is our prospect of continued good eyesight, not to mention the splendid revenue of comfort enjoyed through all the evenings of our life.—Woman's Home Companion.

Another Flight.

If I should die to-night,
And you should come to my cold corpse and say,
Weeping and heartsick o'er my lifeless clay—
If I should die to-night,
And you should come in deepest grief and woe,
And say, "Here's that $10 that I owe,"
I might arise, in my white cravat,
And say, "What's that?"

If I should die to-night,
And you should come to my cold corpse and kneel,
Clasping my bier to show the grief you feel—
I say, if I should die to-night,
And you should come to me, and then and there
Just hint 'bout payin' me that ten,
I might arise the while—
But I'd drop dead again.
—Somerville Citizen.

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering from some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and the discomfort seem less. Perhaps the nerves are most affected and this in turn disturbs the digestion. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The start of so-called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be that in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time, a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this character. It may be absolutely relieved upon. It affords lasting relief to a woman whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting a physician.

Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

Strange Things Pneumatic.

This is the age of things pneumatic. A St. Louis man has invented a rubber cloak which can be transformed into a mattress by blowing it up. Everything is blown up nowadays. A patent has been granted a kind of cap which, being blown up, may be made to serve as a pillow at night or as a life preserver in case of shipwreck. This is a most convenient thing to travel with on the ocean. There is also a life-preserving corset. Better than any of these, however, is a peculiarly buoyant fabric devised by a German. It is interwoven with the quills of geese or other birds and is intended for wearing apparel or for linings. So light is it that a person on a voyage, if clad in a suit of it, may be sure of floating in case of disaster or falling overboard.

The Greatest Diving Feat.

The greatest diving feat ever attempted was that of the raising of treasure that sunk with a steamer, near Seal Rocks, New South Wales. News has been received here that every box of sovereigns that went to the bottom has been saved by the men who worked under the sea at a depth of 27 fathoms. The names of the divers are Briggs and May. At times they were subject to a pressure of 70 to 75 pounds to the square inch, causing them great suffering. The Cutterthun was wrecked in August, 1895, while on the voyage from Sydney to Hong Kong. Fifty-four of her crew and passengers lost their lives, including brave Captain Shannon. The vessel's cargo consisted of produce and £10,000 in sovereigns.—San Francisco Examiner.

CENTREVILLE'S ANNUAL SUCCESS.

SOUTH MONAGHAN'S EXHIBITION

A Reference to the Principal Exhibitors—Notes of the Live Stock—The Fine Exhibit of Ladies' Work—Notes.

Yesterday the South Monaghan Agricultural Society's Exhibition was held and the energetic directors have every reason to be well pleased with its success in every respect.

This year the show was thrown "open to world" and the enterprise of the directors had secured a much larger membership. The result was that there was a large increase in the entries—of about fifty over last year. Last year the entries were 780, this year they totalled nearly 830. And the attendance showed a gratifying increase in spite of the threatening weather with occasional mild dashes of rain mingled, however, with occasional bursts of warm October sunshine.

The exhibits were well up to the mark of one of the most fertile townships of the district.

HORSES.

The show of horses was an exceedingly good one, the township keeping up its reputation for good horse flesh, the speeding being a chief attraction.

The principal exhibitors in agricultural horses were Mr J W Hall, J J Herron, Jos Clark, Alex Anderson, N Dawson, Wm Bradshaw, T M Willan, John Hutchinson, Wm Whittington.

The general purpose horse exhibitors were Messrs J J Herron, Jos Byers, Thos McCamus, Alex Anderson, Jos Burns, N Davidson, Peter Dawson, T M Willan, W Whittington, Jas Green.

In carriage horses the principal exhibitors were J L Patterson, J J Herron, Thos Wood, D Wood, Jas Wood, Mrs W Laing, T M Willan, Bertie Lightfoot, Geo Berry, J Davidson, John Elgar, L J McElroy, T J Hazzard, D Halligan, A Woodhouse, D Ball, M Morrison and Jos Byers.

CATTLE.

The show of cattle was also good, some splendid animals being shown, the ages ranging from the venerable monarch of the herd to a six-weeks' Ayrshire calf—the youngest perhaps ever on exhibition at an agricultural show.

In Durhams exhibits were made by Messrs Wm Rutherford, Wm Stewart, A Anderson, N Dawson, Peter Dawson, A Dawson, P E Donaldson, T Redmond, S J McElroy.

Grade exhibitions were represented by Messrs Joseph Byers, Alex Anderson, W H Hutchinson, Peter Dawson, A Dawson, B Lightfoot, T Redmond, G L Fair.

SHEEP.

The exhibit of sheep, while not large, contained some excellent specimens.

In Long Wools the exhibitors were Messrs Wm Rutherford, J W Hall, A E Meadows, D Wood, Jas Wood, R L Holdsworth & Son, and Wm McKnight.

The Short Wool exhibitors were Messrs A E Meadows, R L Holdsworth & Son, and Wm McKnight.

SWINE.

The exhibit of pigs was fairly good, some excellent animals being shown by Messrs J J Herron, Jos Clarke, Jos Burns, R L Holdsworth & Son, T M Willam, Jas Kinsman, Jas Greer.

POULTRY.

The poultry exhibitors consisted of Messrs Wm Rutherford, J J Herron, Jos Clarke, D Wood, Alex Anderson, jr, E Slaven, Peter Dawson, T M Willan, and B Lightfoot.

THE INTERIOR EXHIBITION.

The interior exhibit was quite up the mark, the grain and roots being especially fine. One novel exhibit of grain was shown by Mr. Wm Pue, a bag of first class Manitoba hard wheat brought by him from the Northwest. There was a splendid display of fruit.

The ladies, as usual, made a grand display of their handiwork. Those exhibiting were Mrs E Kerr, Miss E Russell, Miss Lizzie Hall, Miss Tillie Hall, Miss Lizzie Clarke, Miss S A Barnard, Mrs R Nimmo, Mrs D Wood, Mrs B Wood, Mrs G L Fair, Mrs W Lang, Miss Russell, Percy E Rutherford, Mrs E Slaven, Mrs N Dawson, Mrs Wm Bradshaw, Miss Minnie Dawson, Mrs Alex Anderson, jr., Mrs J Lightfoot, Miss Barnard.

FINE ARTS.

A very creditable showing was made in this department, some of the work exhibited being of unusual merit. The exhibitors were Miss Lillian E Russell, with about a dozen exhibits; Miss Lily Hall, Miss Lizzie Hall, A T S Nimmo (pencil drawing and penmanship), Mrs G L Fair, Mrs E Kerr, Bertie Lightfoot.

SPECIALS.

There was a keen competition in the special exhibits.

Messrs. Gough Bros. offered a special prize of a suit of clothes of the value of $8 for the best farmer's turnout—"single horse, harness and rig." This was competed for by James Greer, James Baptie, John Elgar, Thos Cowan, S J McElroy, T M Willan, Alex Anderson, sr.

Oak Hall offered a prize for the winner of the walk, trot and run contest—a pair of trousers, value $3.00. For this the entries were: Thos Wood, D Chambers, Wm Bradshaw, A Anderson, jr., John Elgar.

Fairweather & Co. offer a special prize of a hat of the value of $1.50 for the best fat cow, steer or heifer. The entries for this were Jos. Byers, Thos. McCamus, J J Herron, Peter Dawson, and the prize was awarded to Mr. McCamus.

NOTES.

The village was overflowed with people, every available place being occupied with horses and vehicles. Stabling after 12 o'clock was impossible to procure, every stable and shed in the vicinity being crowded to its utmost capacity. The Rossin House could have used three or four times its stabling accommodation.

There was an abundance of fakirs, who did not want for hopeful agriculturists, who experimented with the well-recognized impossibility of beating a man at his own game. In fact some of the games pretty well monopolized the "beat" to themselves.

The great local clothiers had vehicular representation. Gough Bros' gorgeous van was peripatetically in evidence.

Grafton & Co. were present in a triple capacity, with their live musical agent, their big van and their freely distributed placards.

The solid appearance of the yeomanry that turned out in such large numbers, indicated the fertility of the farms and the thrifty condition of the occupants.

THE SPEEDING EVENTS.

These attracted universal attention, and resulted as follows:

In the running race the result was as below:

Princess May (F E Jones)	1	1
Jessie (F E Jones)	2	2
Phlox (T Meehan, Cobourg)	3	3

In the 2.30 trot the heats resulted as follows:

Red Hot (O Card, Colborne)	1	1	1
Duke (P J Cluxan)	2	2	2
William Henry (W Rudkins)	3	3	2

In the township running race particular interest was centered. It resulted as below:

T H Perrin's horse	1	1
B Lightfoot's horse	2	2
Fred Mallory's horse	3	3

STATES' CASE RESTED.

Luetgert Morosely Admits That the Case Looks Rather Bad for Him.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—The closing day of the rebuttal evidence of the prosecution in the Luetgert trial opened this morning with a continuation of the crisp impeachment evidence produced yesterday. Prof. George C. Dorsey, Field Columbian Museum, chief osteological expert for the State in this trial, was called to dispute the evidence of Dr. H. W. Allport, the principal expert for the defence.

The utter annihilation of the testimony of Mary Siemmering yesterday, together with impeachment of William Charles, Luetgert's business partner and confidential friend, seems to have had a chilling effect upon the defence. Luetgert was morose, and he admitted to a pal guard that the case looked bad for him at present.

The State rested its case this afternoon after a prosecution lasting seven weeks. Court was adjourned until next Monday, when the defence will probably put on a few rebuttal witnesses. Then the arguments to the jury will begin. These will last six days.

Ecclestone, aged 69, a well-known resident of this city, has for sometime been afflicted with Kidney disease, the symptoms of which were severe pains in the small of her back. Mrs. Ecclestone says the pains have never returned since her recovery, and her happiness over her restoration to sound health is indescribable.

Absurd Political Talk.

Ottawa, Oct. 8.—Dr. Guay, M.P., of Levis, is here on business with the Public Works and Militia Branches. In conversation, Dr. Guay stated that the reports concerning the excitement over the Quebec Lieutenant-Governorship were greatly exaggerated. He poohpoohed the idea of there being any possibility of obtaining an indignation meeting in Sir Wilfrid's division in Quemeeting in St. Rochs, he said.

San Francisco, Oct. 8.—F. C. Farnham, a mining engineer of Seattle, has just returned from the East, where he succeeded in organizing a company to build a steam railroad from Skaguay to Lake Bennett, over the White Pass. He says that the company has been incorporated under the laws of New Jersey by James A. McNaught, for many years solicitor of the Northern Pacific Railroad; Senator Watson C Squires of Washington; John A. Stewart, a prominent mining man of Washington, and James G. Malurin of New Jersey. The road will be narrow gauge, is expected to cost $450,000 and it is proposed to complete the road by June 1 of next year.

Baby Mass of Sores

Face Like a Slice of Raw Beef. Cried Night and Day. Would Rub Scratch and Scream.

Moisture from Sores so Great Changed Cloths 12 Times a Day. Hands Tied for Five Months.

After One Application of CUTICURA Child Slept. Cured Without a Scar.

My baby, when one year old (photograph herewith), broke out all over with a rash.

He was a mass of sores. You could not put your finger on him anywhere there was not a sore. His face looked like a slice of fresh beef, and he cried night and day. He would rub, scratch, and scream. The doctor called and left some powder to put on him, but it did no good. It would take two to hold him, and one to put medicine on him. We had to hold him sometimes an hour or two before we could get him quieted down. All said that they never saw such a face or body on any baby as on him. I had to cut the sleeves out of his clothes, and put gauze underwear on him to keep him cool. I had to keep pieces of soft cloth around his neck, it was so wet with moisture from the sores, and had to change the cloths sometimes ten or twelve times a day. I had to tie his hands tight in a cloth, night and day, for five months. My sister had used CUTICURA, and I began to use it and was surprised at the result. After only one application, he lay down and slept as he had not for a month, poor little fellow. After I had used CUTICURA REMEDIES a day he was glad to have me wash and dress him. He has not a scar on him now, and is as fair and his flesh is as soft as any baby just born. He was absolutely cured in three months by one cake CUTICURA SOAP, two boxes CUTICURA (ointment), and one-half bottle CUTICURA RESOLVENT.

CANADA GETS BLAME.

For the Present Deadlock in the Sealing Conference.

CANADA NOW ORDERS GREAT BRITAIN

Such is the Tenor of the Cable Despatch From London to The New York Tribune Mr. Chamberlain Working the Whole Business—Purchase by the U. S. Suggested.

New York, Oct. 9.—Mr. Isaac N. Ford, The Tribune's London corespondent, under the headings, "Mistress in Her Own," and "Our Lady of the Snows Dictates Britain's Sealing Policy," cables the following:

"The comments of the English press on the deadlock in regard to the sealing conference are amusing to anyone who knows what is going on behind the scenes

"Lord Salisbury ought not, however, to be charged with disingenuousness or bad faith. His heart is not in diplomacy just now, for his wife is in failing health and he seldom goes to the Foreign Office. He takes the advice of Mr. Chamberlain on all questions in which the colonies are concerned, and that statesman considers it necessary to allow Canada to have her own way in diplomacy relating to the Behring Sea fisheries. Indeed no English Foreign Minister would venture to affront Canada in the face of the differential tariff in favor of British manufacturers, and after the example set which all the merchants and traders of the United Kingdom hope will be followed by all the colonies.

"The plain facts of the situation, which the State Department and Americans generally will do well to recognize, are:

"First, that the control of the British policy on the sealing question has passed out of the hands of the Foreign Office into those of the Canadian Ministers; and, secondly, that Canada, having already nearly completed the destruction of the seal fisheries, would like to have the United States buy out her fishing rights and fleet at a high price. Evidently it is futile for the Washington Government to continue negotiations on the fisheries question with the Foreign Office, when the power of initiating new or directing old policies is not there, but in Ottawa. Such negotiations only cause irritation at the Foreign Office, where a proud-spirited diplomatist like Lord Salisbury does not like to admit that he is not the master of British diplomacy in every detail, and where every under secretary and official feels that Canada is an over-indulged child, who has passed beyond maternal control and discipline.

"England, with her great fur-dyeing and fur-dressing industry, would have offered no objection on her own account to the proposed conference of maritime powers for considering measures for the preservation of the herd, but Canada has dragged her out of the conference for her own purposes, and will retain in future full control of the British policy on the fisheries question. The British statesman who has real influence in this matter is Mr. Chamberlain, whose remedy for existing evils, whether in the neglected estates of the Empire or in international controversies, is always a judicious investment of money. With his fine commercial instinct he would probably suggest that the shortest way out of the diplomatic entanglement is purchase of the Canadian fisheries rights by the United States. Whether the fisheries still have a commercial value after the long period of Canadian devastation is a point upon which the American Government can satisfy itself after the conference with Russia and Japan."

ALEC PIRIE THE CHOICE.

Will Bear the Liberal Standard in North Wentworth—Convention in Dundas on Saturday.

Dundas, Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The Liberals of North Wentworth have been in convention here all afternoon, called together for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent them at the coming elections for the Legislature, in the place of Jonathan Flatt, resigned. The candidates who allowed their names to be presented were: Alec F. Pirie, editor of The Banner; Oscar Seeley and Robert McQueen. Mr. McQueen dropped out and left the fight between Messrs. Seeley and Pirie. The last ballot showed a majority of 16 in favor of Mr. Pirie, and the nomination was then made unanimous.

THE DESTRUCTION WAS HEAVY.

The Manitoba Fires Extended Over a Wide Section of Country.

Winnipeg, Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Reports of fires from the west since Saturday contain the following: Seven farmers lose stacks in Moose Mountain. Five south of Broadview lost buildings and stacks. Mr. Webb of Moose Jaw lost a large shop at Coral. Burns Olds lost 1500 tons of hay. Mowbray Moffatt of Assiniboia lost a frame stable and a large quantity of feed. Six farmers in the Stonewall district lost all. Nineteen farmers at Stream lost large quantities of hay. At Maple six farmers lost grain stacks. At Red Jacket three residents are heavy losers. At Fletcher fire last night destroyed a warehouse owned by Armstrong & Fletcher; 25,000 bushels of oats and 2000 bushels of wheat were also consumed.

HE HAD TWO WIVES.

Number One Did Not Want Him and Number Two Did, So David Got Out With a Light Sentence.

Kingston, Oct. 10.—David Howard of Arden was tried yesterday on a charge of bigamy. His wife, Mrs. Howard No. 1, nee Elizabeth Heffernan of Collingwood, appeared in court in the uniform of a Salvation Army lass and with a look of forgiveness on her peaceful countenance. Wife No. 2, Sally Boomhwer, was also present. David pleaded guilty. He thought wife No. 1 was dead, as he parted with her 18 years ago, and never heard of her again. The Collingwood woman did not want him, but wife No. 2 did. The judge gave him 60 days in jail. His wives congratulated him on his light sentence.

A STRUGGLE TO THE DEATH.

The Employers' Federation in England Grappling With Unionism as Represented in the Striking Engineers.

London, Oct. 9.—The most momentous crisis in the history of trades unionism in England has been reached, if the manifesto issued by the Engineers' Union is any criterion. The document shows every sign of the intense nature of the struggle.

The employers maintain their position of a week ago, refusing to meet the strikers in conference, and declining to depart in the slightest degree from the stand they have taken until the men return to work unconditionally.

The manifesto roundly denounces the employers' rejection of the overtures of the strikers. Their insistence upon the absolute submission of the workmen to their terms, the pronouncement declares, means their intention to crush the entire organization of trades unionism in the country.

"We appeal to our fellow-trades unionists generally," the manifesto continues, "to answer the challenge of the federated employers. The Engineers' Society has sustained its struggle alone until the present time, but financial aid is now imperatively necessary."

The manifesto then makes an appeal to the public to subscribe funds, to the end of checkmating the arbitrary domination of the Employers' Federation. It denies that the Engineers' Union has made any unjustifiable demands. It is fighting the battle of all who think that trades unions are essential, it says, and it declares that the men intend to go on as they have done, to the finish. The circular cannot say what the finish will be, unless large and immediate outside subscriptions are forthcoming, but the tearful rhetoric of many passages shows that the engineers are aware that they are at the edge of the last ditch.

The public are getting impatient at the absolute cessation of shipbuilding, in accordance with the naval program, and at the daily spectacle of contracts being sent abroad.

SIXTY-FIVE THOUSAND MEN OUT.

Construction of Warships Delayed—Bound to Kill Trades Unionism.

London, Oct. 10.—The Executive Committee of the Society of Amalgamated Engineers announces that 65,000 men are now either on strike or locked out. The sum of £38,000 was disbursed as strike pay Saturday. The committee of the London Trades Council has decided to appeal immediately to all trade societies and workmen's clubs of the metropolis for money to aid the strikers. Street collections will also be made on Oct. 17, on which date a trades union demonstration will be made in Trafalgar-square.

The factories at Blackburn engaged in the manufacture of textile machinery have been compelled to stop work, owing to the strike of the engineers.

The strike is causing great delay in the construction of warships. No new ships can be laid down in the Admiralty dockyards, and material is wanting for the completion of a number of vessels. The battleship Goliath wants her stem and stern posts, and the battleship Ocean requires castings and engine fittings. Both vessels were to have been launched this month, but the strike has rendered this impossible. The battleship Canopus is lying at Portsmouth, waiting for her belt of armor, and the cruisers Furious and Gladiator are both waiting for their engines.

Mr. Siemens of Siemens Bros. & Co., Limited, speaking in behalf of the Employers' Federation, says that it is desired to get rid of trades unionism altogether. If this is not done, the engineering trade of the country will go to the wall. He adds that it is impossible for the engineering firms to pay their men wages for 54 hours a week when they get only 48 hours' work from them.

Weyler to be Recalled.

Madrid, Oct. 7.—It is semi-officially announced to-day that Captain-General Weyler will be recalled from Cuba this month, and that it is probable the Cortes will be dissolved in December and that a new Parliament will be convoked in March.

Another Cut in Telegraph Rates.

New York, Oct. 9.—The Postal Telegraph and Cable Company announces another reduction in telegraph rates between its offices in the United States and Mexico. The rates from New York to Mexico City will be $1.50, instead of $1.85 for 10 words.

BY THE SCORE OF THIRTY-SEVEN POINTS TO NONE.

The Trinity College Players Put up a Game Fight, but the Local Team Was too Many for Them and Administered a Successful Defeat.

The Peterborough Rugby team won a great victory on Saturday over its old rivals the Trinity College fifteen from Port Hope, turning them down by the score of 37 points to 0.

Of late years the Trinity College students have had somewhat the upper hand of Peterborough in the matter of both cricket and football, but Saturday's sweep wiped out the humiliation of any defeats heretofore sustained. It was the best game the Peterborough boys have put up in many seasons and they carried away the honours from the visitors in all parts of the field. The local wings held their men down in great style and the scrimmage pushed everything before it. Peterborough's quarter and halves played a grand game, but the full back had little or no chance to show of what he would be capable of in an emergency.

Of course the Peterborough team was heavier than the visitors on although the T. C. S. have some hefty boys playing with them. The regular practice indulged in for two hours every afternoon by the students, however, should be a fair set off against the superiority in weight of the Peterboroughs, as there is a great deal in having regular practices in which each man can play his position every day and perfect the team play which counts for so much in a close game.

All of the local team did exceptionally well, but Lionel King was the bright, particular star of the match, playing a dashing game which helped materially to pile up the big score. Graham and Letellier assisted materially in starting him off on his great runs down the field, the former getting the ball out of the scrimage and passing back generally to Letellier, who speedily transferred it to King, and then a brilliant play would result, Lionel securing and dodging the whole length of the field until he either crossed the touch line or got very near it.

THE GAME STARTED

at half past four o'clock and the attendance was not nearly what it should have been, which fact is probably accounted for by the defeat of a week ago at the hands of Osgoode, but the boys had no experience and but little practice then. It is different now, and if the Brockville team is brought here next Saturday a great game will result.

Saturday Rev. Mr. McKenzie, of Lakefield, officiated as umpire, and Mr. Charles Bradburn as referee.

PETERBOROUGH WON THE TOSS and decided to play with the sun and wind. Lafevre caught the kick off and returned it down the field. A scrimmage ensued and Rickey kicked the line wall. Peterborough was allowed a free kick on the School's offside. The ball was promptly returned and crossing the side line was scrimmaged. The local scrimmage men carried the ball through the line and it rolled out in front of Burnham, whose long kick down the field was well followed up by King, who with a fine run crossed the touch line, scoring 4 for Peterborough. The "try" was not converted.

Shortly after the kick off, the School was given a free kick on Peterborough's off side, and the ball was almost kicked into touch, and but for the great scrimmage work the visitors would have tallied. By hard work five yards were gained, the ball being kept in the scrimmage all the time. Letellier and King made a neat run across the field together. This removed all danger for the present. Letellier's run, followed by a rush by Bird carried the ball well down the field, and King then carried it well across the line.

Graham passed to Letellier out of the scrimmage and the latter got into touch, making the score 8—0. The try was again missed.

THE SCHOOL'S KICK OFF

was well returned by Letellier and immediately afterwards King punted so well down the field as to force the ball over the line. The School's back missed it and a tackle followed. Score 12—0.

In the next scrimmage Graham had the ball, Hall heeled out to him and passed to King who made another good punt down the field across the side line. The ball was secured by Lefevre out of the scrimmage and he punted it over the fence, thereby counting a rouge, as agreed upon. Score 13-0.

The ball came out of the next scrimmage amongst the wings and there was a lively scramble for it. Burnham dribbled well down the field and Letellier coming up with a rush carried the ball into touch. Score 17 0. The try was not converted.

The ball was heeled out of the next scrimmage to Graham who made a dash across the field with it and passed to Letellier when tackled. Letellier ran on until he in turn was collared when he passed to King, the latter

GETTING INTO TOUCH.

This was probably the prettiest play of the day, all three men running well and passing most accurately. Score 21-0. Hal Burnham was given a chance to kick the goal and neatly converted the try. Score 23-0.

Letellier caught the ball from the school's kick off and made a fine run. He passed to Lefevre who punted it into touch over the fence, counting a rouge again. Score 24-0.

Half time was called shortly afterwards.

On resuming the game and changing ends the students expected to do something with the assistance of the wind, but the ball was heeled out to Letellier from the scrimmage, and he once more crossed the line after a grand run down the field. Score, 28—0.

LETELLIER MADE A GREAT

rush when he got the ball out of the next scrimmage, and King punted it over the fence, counting another rouge. Score, 29—0.

The Trinity players almost scored through being awarded a free kick when in dangerous proximity to the Peterborough touch line. Letellier, however, caught the ball, and by his fine running again scored for Peterborough.

King had the ball tossed to him by Graham out of the next scrimmage, and passed to Frad Lefevre, whose ensuing rush down the field was one of the features of the game. He almost crossed the line before he was tackled. By some really fine work the visitors scrimmaged the ball out of harm's way by some good rushes. Lefevre got the ball from a heel out however, shortly afterwards, and passed to King, who crossed the line. Score, 33—0.

Burnham, Letellier and Graham figured in the next rush, the latter getting over in fine style.

A Working Man

Able to Keep His Place in Spite of Difficulties.

He Writes About His Condition—Wife and Children Helped.

WALLACEBURG, ONT.—The following letter will prove of interest to working men and others who may be in a condition similar to that of the writer:

"For three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I have been working at the barber trade for about 20 years and for the last four years I have been very closely confined and have had my meals very irregularly. I was taken with a

Very Severe Cough

and the doctors said it was caused by my stomach troubles. I lost flesh and became so weak I was hardly able to stand up to the chair to work. One day I happened to be looking over some testimonial letters and I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before I had taken two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt finely and had gained 21 pounds in weight. I have taken nearly five bottles and now I feel like a man again. I am than I have ever been in my life. My wife and children have also taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for a blood medicine and realized much benefit from it. As for myself I cannot say too much for it. I firmly believe that if it had not been for Hood's Sarsaparilla I would not have been able to work at my trade any longer." JOHN W. COUGHLIN. Get only HOOD'S.

Stronger and Healthier

HIS WORK CUT OUT.

The New Premier of Spain Criticized by The London Times.

HIS CUBAN APOLOGY FOR A POLICY.

In Memory of Parnell—The Sultan's Check—Cecil Rhodes Ill—Britain and Egypt—Mrs Langtry Denies That She Will Marry Prince Esterhazy Incompetent Italian Officers.

London, Oct. 11.—The Times, commenting editorially on the Cuban situation, says:

"If Senor Sagasta fails to adopt a bold reform policy in Cuba likely to disarm American jingoism, it might turn out to have been wiser to have let General Weyler to finish the war in his own fashion."

The Standard, after asking why General Weyler was recalled, if it is intended to continue the campaign, says:

"It seems only too plain that Senor Sagasta's course hardly deserves the name of policy. It is at most a device for parrying America's importunate questions. We suspect that General Woodford presented something very like an ultimatum, and that but for American pressure nothing would have been heard of autonomy. We doubt if the Cuban settlement is much nearer. There will be more fighting and more negotiations. Senor Sagasta must walk warily if he proposes to be more than a diplomatic match for the American Ambassador.

"On the other hand, the Washington Cabinet has need to be circumspective. Spain has only Cuba and honor left, and any open interference with her rights over Cuba would kindle a fire of resentment in which all talk of autonomy would disappear and the struggle attain wider dimensions."

IN MEMORY OF PARNELL.

Celebration of Anniversary of His Death by Union Jicks in the Procession.

Dublin Oct. 10.—To-day is the sixth anniversary of the death of Charles Stewart Parnell. Five thousand Nationalists paraded the streets to the Glasnevin cemetery, where they [illegible] the grave of their famous [illegible] leader with flowers [illegible] all the counties of Ireland. The demonstration was unique. The Nationalists have had strict [illegible] character, but, in accordance with the decision of the leaders, that [illegible] was divested of all the tragic [illegible] its notes of woe and converted into a triumphal procession, lively nationalist airs being played.

There were more than 30 bands in the procession and every county and large town, as well as scores of smaller towns, sent [illegible] in county or [illegible] clubs, societies or other [illegible]. The procession was [illegible] marching a given point.

[illegible] banners were carried, bearing every county delegation raised [illegible] Stephen's Green next to the green flag. There was no speechmaking and nothing in the way of formal ceremony.

Turks and Greeks Fighting.

Vienna, Oct 10.—A despatch received here from Constantinople says that the Turks have repulsed a number of Greeks, killing several of their number who had crossed the Greco-Turkish frontier at Diskata. It is believed that these incursions on the part of the Greeks are the result of a renewal of the agitation against the Turks by the National Defence Society (Ethnike Hetairia).

Cecil Rhodes Ill.

London, Oct. 10.—Mr. Cecil Rhodes, the former Premier of Cape Colony, and the most influential Englishman in South Africa, is seriously ill at Inyanga. Rumors regarding his ill-health have been in circulation for a long time past. His constitution, although weak, has wonderful recuperative powers. He went to South Africa originally as an invalid; his health was, however, so thoroughly restored that he attained prominence as an athlete, and has within recent years won prizes in the contests of strength during the voyages to and from Cape Town. When the late Lord Randolph Churchill was on a visit with Mr. Rhodes at his residence at Rondebosch, near Cape Town, in December, 1891, Mr. Rhodes, whose habit it was to take an hour's canter before breakfast, generally in the company of the Hon. J. X. Merriman, who was then one of his colleagues in the Cape Cabinet, had a severe fall from his horse. He was carried home and remained for several weeks in a very critical state, and had not recovered consciousness when Lord Randolph embarked for England. In a few weeks, however, Mr. Rhodes had completely recovered. Like Mr. Arthur Balfour, he is somewhat troubled by a weak action of the heart and he has always regarded himself as short-lived.

MRS. LANGTRY DENIES

That She is to Marry the Prince Esterhazy—The Denial Positive.

London, Oct. 10.—Mrs. Langtry, the Jersey Lily, is out in a statement flatly contradicting the report that she is to be married to Prince Esterhazy. Her horses, it seems, are filling a larger place in her affections.

All London was beginning to believe the rumor. The gossips had settled in their minds that her American divorce would not be a barrier in law to the union, and they have even figured that the titled suitor was content to ignore the fact that the Catholic Church, to which he belongs, does not recognize divorces. So it came to be expected that the wedding would occur shortly.

ANOTHER OFFICER KILLED.

Hostile Tribesmen Attack a British Patrol Near the Khyber Pass.

Simla, Oct. 10.—A despatch from Jamrud, near the entrance to the Khyber Pass, says that the hostile tribesmen have been active there to-day, and have fired on a patrol of dragoons, killing Captain Jones, a British officer, and one private.

The Kaiser Thanks the Sultan.

Constantinople, Oct. 9.—The Sultan has received an autograph letter from the Emperor of Germany, in which the latter returns thanks for a number of cannon, captured from the Greeks during the recent war, recently presented to his German Majesty by Abdul Hamid. The Emperor in this letter praises the "wise moderation" exhibited during Turkey's negotiations for the conclusion of peace with Greece, and assures the Sultan that he enjoys the faithful friendship of Emperor William.

The Queen Appealed to by Jews.

London, Oct. 9.—In view of the Zionist movement, curious interest attaches to a petition addressed to the Queen by a number of Jewish artisans in Jerusalem. The signers of the petition declare: "We are now suffering the utmost misery." They "humbly beg her," the Queen, to "have pity on us, and to found for us an agricultural colony in Cyprus," and add: "We are hardy, temperate and submissive workmen, and should feel happy if we only had there daily bread for our families."

The petitioners implore the Queen to grant their supplication and invoke the Almighty to [illegible] her the good-will to comply with [illegible] ir request.

GLASGOW'S BIG CONTRACT.

Will Endeavor to Outdo Chicago in the Matter of a World's Fair.

London, Oct. 10.—Glasgow, the second city in Great Britain, having decided to hold an International Exhibition in 1901, the citizens have already started preliminary operations, and avow their intention of beating Chicago's record. The guarantee fund, though still in its infancy, amounts to $750,000. It is expected that the total, $5,000,000, will be raised within six months.

Italian Army Officers Incompetent.

London, Oct. 10.—A despatch from Rome says: A sort of secret Military Cabinet Council has been sitting at the Ministry of War almost daily, considering confidential reports from the recent army manoeuvres. The reports have shown that there is something radically wrong with the Italian army. The men are all right, but the stores are deficient, the equipments unsatisfactory and the officers not up to their work. King Humbert this week signed orders placing on the retired list no fewer than five Generals, who have shown gross incapacity.

WILL NOT MAKE TROUBLE.

Gen. Weyler Says He Will Always Loyally Uphold the Government.

Madrid, Oct. 9.—The Cabinet to-day held a four hours' session, during which the decision previously arrived at regarding the recall from Cuba of Captain-General Weyler was confirmed.

El Heraldo announces that the Captain-General of Porto Rico will be appointed acting Governor of Cuba, pending the arrival of Marshal Blanco.

In reply to an enquiry by Premier Sagasta, Captain-General Weyler has cabled the following statement to the Government:

"The principles which constitute my character, as well as my well-known

German Royalty on Bikes.

Berlin, Oct. 9.—Princess Louise, wife of the heir to the Saxon throne, has taken to bicycling in bloomers in the Dresden parks, accompanied by Prince Frederick Augustus, her eldest son.

Prince George of Oldenburg, an elderly but enthusiastic bicyclist, has been knocked down by a coach and his knee so badly injured that the Prince is obliged to remain in bed.

Princess Frederick Leopold of Prussia, Emperor William's sister, recently met with a severe accident while wheeling near Potsdam.

Prince Bismarck, it appears, is now an enthusiastic admirer of the bike. He approves of women riding and regrets he is too old and stiff to take part in the sport himself.

YOUNG LAMONT'S CASE.

Neighbours Much Interested in the Story—Everyone Thought That the Youngster Would Die, but he's Very Much Alive Now.

DUNDALK, Oct. 4.—Hugh Lamont, of McIntyre, has a young son who is an object of interest throughout this whole section of country. From infancy the boy had dropsy, and was bloated and swollen all over. It seemed to the parents that death could be the only release to one attacked so young by this disease. They heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and began giving them to the child. With the first box the bloating and swelling began to disappear. Six boxes effected a perfect cure and the boy is now just as healthy a youngster as stirs up the dust on the high roads of Western Ontario.

He is slowly starving to death.

KILLED BY THE CARS.

John McGlone of Eastbury, Mass., Receives Fatal Injuries at Claremont While Stealing a Ride.

Toronto, Oct. 11. An accident occurred yesterday at Claremont, on the C. P. R., by which John McGlone of Eastbury, Mass., lost his life. He boarded a freight train at Petenboro intending to beat his way into Toronto. He rode on the buffer beam until brakes were whistled for at Claremont. Then he got on the ladder and was looking round the end of the car to see which side the station was on, when his foot slipped and he went down under. The brake beam struck him and rolled him over a couple of times, throwing him out to one side with his body half across the track. Then the wheels passed diagonally across his body, crushing it in a line along the right hip to the left knee. The train hands picked him up and carried him to the station, where Dr. Eastwood saw him. He accompanied him into Toronto on the train and had him conveyed in the ambulance to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 5 p.m. Coroner Greig has called an inquest for to-night.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

The Bank Robbery Prosecution at Napanee Ask for More Time—Mysterious Numbers in Evidence.

Napanee, Oct. 9.—A decided sensation occurred in court this afternoon, when the prosecution, by the evidence of Mrs. Hannah McGregor, laid bare the manner in which they will try to prove that William H. Ponton broke open the safe of the Dominion Bank branch here and stole $32,000 on August 7. They will try to show that Ponton left his room through the back window and went to the back of the bank, which is only a few steps. It is also evident that they think there are two in the job.

The sensation in the crowded court room was caused when Lawyer Madden ordered the witness to identify a small piece of paper containing figures 74, 11, 45, 4. That is one of the combinations of the vault and it was picked up in Mrs. McGreer's dining room, which is next door to the room in the Grange building that was occupied by Ponton.

William H. Green, the Toronto youth who was junior clerk in the bank at Napanee at the time of the robbery, and has since been transferred to Guelph, was to-day under examination for five hours. He said that a short time before the robbery was discovered Manager Baines, while endeavoring to open the vault, remarked that his theory was that the safe had been entered and the combination changed. This does not agree with Mr. Baines' evidence yesterday, for the manager stated positively that he had no suspicion of a robbery until it was discovered.

There was a hum of excitement when Mrs. Hannah McGreer was called. She did not know whether she lived in Napanee or not. She lives two miles out of town, but she had three rooms in the Grange Building where Ponton roomed. They were for the convenience of her son, who was attending the Collegiate Institute. For the three years she has lived a great part of the time in the rooms. She came to Napanee at about 6 p. m. on the evening of the bank robbery and stayed all night. She retired at about 9 p.m.

Witness was very nervous and looked as if she was going to faint.

"Tell what occurred," said Mr. Madden.

The witness paused for fully a minute and then asked for water. She said she had been asleep about an hour and a half when she heard a noise, apparently in the room underneath. The noise was like the breaking of a window.

She heard footsteps across the lower room. She heard several sighs and then there was quietness for a quarter of an hour. Then footsteps sounded going toward the hall and in the room below there was a shuffling noise. She got out of bed and looked out of the window for five minutes but saw no one go out of the door. She retired again and there were footsteps coming in and out of the place, presumably by the window, seven or eight times, and after the second time there was more than one person's footsteps. This continued up till 3 a.m. by the town clock. The noise then ceased.

She heard footsteps across the lower room, but could not tell what was said.

Mrs. McGreer, to many questions, said a paper was picked up by Mrs. Begart, her sister, who was sweeping the dining room of her (Mrs. McGreer's) apartments on the Sunday nine days after the robbery.

"Is that the paper?" asked Mr. Madden, handing a document only an inch square, containing the figures of the combination of the vault.

"It is, I think, but I won't be certain," replied the witness.

This paper is supposed to have blown in through the open window, which was level with the roof of the annex at the rear of the Grange Building. Ponton's room was next to Mrs. McGreer's, and the keyholes in the door were blocked up.

"You have not been living with your husband for some time, have you?" said Mr. Porter, in opening the cross-examination.

"Yes, I am," said the witness.

Startling Evidence Promised.

Napanee, Oct. 10.—(Special.)—The prosecution promise some startling evidence in the bank robbery case against W. H. Ponton when it is resumed on Tuesday.

At the trial yesterday, during the evidence of Mrs. Hannah McGreer, a sensation was caused by the production of a very small piece of paper, which contained the figures 79, 11, 45, 4.

It was generally believed that the figures were the combination of the safe inside the bank vault.

Ponton says that as far as he knows the figures are not those of the combination, but that they are simply a specification of the number and denomination of bills he had on a certain day at the bank when he was balancing up his cash. For instance, 7 fives, 11 tens, 45 twenties and 4 fifties, and that a cross which is opposite each is merely a check of the figures. He says the figures are in his hand writing and that he made a similar slip every day while employed in the bank.

At the conclusion of Mrs. McGreer's evidence, Mr. Madden said the case was one of great complications, and that the evidence was hardly in shape to go on with the case on Monday. The next witness the prosecution proposed to call was ill and he asked for a remand of eight days.

Mr. Porter strenuously objected to this unless the prisoner was admitted to bail, and then they could make it eight months if they liked. He asked the magistrate to grant substantial bail.

Mr. Madden replied that the prosecution had gone as far as possible at present to connect the accused with the robbery, but the case was hardly yet launched and the Magistrate should very seriously consider the matter of bail. He said the Crown had evidence that Ponton was up till 3 a.m. on the morning of the robbery and that the accused knew the combination of the safe.

Mr. Porter urged that if the Crown were going to ask an enlargement the granting of substantial bail would be no injury to the public or to the bank.

Magistrate Daly said that the Crown should go on or else consent to bail.

It was ultimately decided to go on with the case on Tuesday.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, WM. T. MULFORD, Agency Supplies, P.O. Box 59, St. Henri, Que.

A TORONTO LADY TELLS ABOUT THE PROPER TREATMENT.

Mrs. Jas. Astleford, 228 Robert Street, Toronto, says:—"When I began taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a short time ago I was so excessively nervous that I was almost afraid of my shadow. Such things as the closing of a door or unexpectedly meeting any person would make me jump and completely upset me.

"I felt fatigued and worn out nearly all the time. My heart would palpitate violently, and my physical strength was at a low ebb. These pills have strengthened my nerves, restored healthy action of the heart and removed all the troubles from which I suffered so severly.

"I have been invigorated and built up in a remarkable manner by their use. You have no idea what a comfort it is to have regular healthy action of the heart when one has experienced the torture of heart trouble.

"I can only say that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are a magnificent medicine, for they proved so in my case."

Nature's Good and Evil.

One of the most deadly poisons and a common article of food are combined in a single plant. This is tapioca, a South American shrub that grows to a height of six or eight feet. The root, as well as the wood, of the plant secretes an acrid, milky juice so toxic that it kills in a very few minutes. This quality is eliminated by heat, and that which in a raw state is so deadly is thereby converted into a nourishing and agreeable aliment. The root is grated into pulp and subjected to great pressure, which extracts all the poisonous juice. It is then heated on metal plates, which transforms it into the tapioca of commerce. It is to be hoped that this information may not disturb the equanimity of consumers of tapioca. The process employed in its conversion from a poisonous plant into a substance entirely innocuous is absolutely infallible.

We have a collection of rare beauty and grace that will gladden your eyes—but finding words to describe them is like trying to describe a picture. Cold type in a newspaper won't do our stock justice, it must be seen and examined.

To-Night's Attraction.

What the Kingston papers say of the Three Guardsmen: Should Paul Caseneuve and his superb company come this way again they may be assured of a packed house. Caseneuve may have equals and rivals but he has no superiors. He has a true conception of the young Gascon who leaves his peasant's home to join the King's Guard, and whose fearless escapades and tee clever manner in which he wields his trusty "Bob" win for him the admiration of not only the three musketeers but all the King's Guard. He is humorous without frivolity, tragic without fustian and romantic with every feeling which the word conveys. His support was good throughout. Cardinal Richelieu was never better portrayed then that which the character received last night at the hands of John A. Lane. Miss May Stuart sustained the difficult role of Queen Ann of Austria in truly queenly style, winning warm applause for her cleverness. The whole cast is a strong one, presenting the story depicted by Dumas in entire faithfulness. Opera House tonight, prices 25, 35, 50 and 75c.

ALL SAINTS' DEDICATED.

The "Mission Building" Now a Church.

ENLARGED AND IMPROVED.

The New Church Happily Re-opened—Rt. Rev. Bishop Sweatman Performs the Ceremony in the Presence of Large Congregations—Sketch of the Work of Which Yesterday's Services Were the Culmination.

Peterborough is phenomenally progressive in her material pro ision for the promotion of the moral and religious interests of the town. Within the past ten or fifteen years all the church structures of the town have been renewed, enlarged or otherwise improved, and within the past half dozen years three new churches have been built,

One of these, the quaintly beautiful South Ward Mission building, was completed and opened free of debt about six years ago. At that time the completion of the new building was hailed with joy as a provision amply sufficient for the congregational needs of the Mission. But happily this satisfaction was short-lived, the work progressing so favourably that it was not long before the need was felt for increased accommodation for the increasing congregation and Sunday school. And the patient, persistent and energetic work of the clergy and congregation of the Mission has resulted in the completion of the beautiful new edifice which was yesterday solemnly dedicated to the worship of Almighty God.

THE NEW BUILDING.

The main part of All Saints' church edifice is 36 x 70 feet, corresponding to the original building erected six years ago. The entirely new chancel extension, whose length runs at right angles with the former building at its rear, is 25 x 45 feet, thus forming a projection of seven feet on each side, with exterior doors forming exterior entrances to the basement on one side and the vestry on the other.

The chancel extension just completed is really beautiful and seems to give a true ecclesiastical air to the older portion. A spacious and lofty arch of solid brickwork, neatly tuck pointed, serves the purpose of indicating the boundary between the chancel and the nave. The latter has been newly reseated with seats of oiled pine, with necessary pre-dieux to be added later.

On the south side of the chancel is a large vestry, and on the north side the organ chamber. The chancel proper, is seperated from the vestry and organ chamber by handsomely designed screens of oiled pine, about ten feet high, surmounted with an elaborately moulded cornice finished in machicolated style. This cornice is continuous with the cornice that bounds the upper rear wall of the sanctuary Beneath this is the reredos to the altar, consisting of a series of panels with Norman heads separated by double pilasters of a lighter wood than the recessed portion of the panel. A broad central panel corresponds to the width of the altar which is reached by a flight of five steps. The sanctuary is enclosed by a heavy oak railing, supported on wrought iron scroll work. The choir is accommodated in the front of the chancel by three seats, with corresponding desks in oiled ash, on each side. The side screen walls are broken by four circular headed arches, corresponding to the door openings and filled in with crimson cloth, which produces a rich relieving effect.

The groined ceiling of the chancel in oiled pine, with moulded dividing ribs, is broken on the west side by the gothic arch, for the

that lights the chancel. The chancel is artificially lighted with cruciform electroliers with three lights. Altogether the chancel is a very beautiful, as well as indispensable, addition to the former mission building, and makes the completed church of "All Saints" a most beautiful and church-like church, providing seating for 306 worshippers.

The new chancel extension has a basement 25x45 with 10½ foot ceiling, which is largely devoted to the infant class of the Sunday school building. It is separated by folding doors from the large basement Sunday school room, 30 x 70 feet, well-lighted and furnished for its intended work. The porch of the church gives front access to the basement also, and provision is made also for the keeping of six or eight bicycles in the porch. The nave of the new church is well lighted with low, circular-headed windows set with ice coloured glass, relieved by harmonising tints of other glass. The wainscotting of the nave is of oak and the walls are of red brick neatly tuck-pointed. The artificial lighting is by electricity. The style of the building without is of the Romanesque order, and the effect though quaint is strictly ecclesiastical, and when the proposed tower or belfry is added at the front, the improvements will be marked. The clergy, congregation and all interested in Church of England progress in the southern part of the town have reason to be well pleased with their new church and the opportunities for effective Christian work it provides.

SKETCH OF THE RISE OF THE MISSION.

The history of St. John's South Ward Mission is an illustration of the unwisdom of despising the day of small things, for the great work, one important stage of which was marked yesterday, had a very humble origin.

The condition of the work then and its present condition are well illustrated and typified by the illustrations presented herewith of the lowly building in which services were first conducted and that of the newly completed and enlarged structure. The contrast does not stop with the buildings themselves, for the advance in spiritual and religious matters is as marked as the improvement in the buildings.

REV. J. C. DAVIDSON, M.A.,
RECTOR OF PETERBOROUGH.

In the summer of 1882—fifteen years ago—Rev. Rural Dean Beck, late rector of Peterborough, suggested the idea of establishing a mission with a view to the work thus begun ultimately reaching the stage it has now arrived at. Four or five ladies acted upon Rev. Mr. Beck's suggestion. They were Mrs. Archer, Miss Rubidge, the late Miss Barlee and Miss Sherwood (Mrs. Quartermaine), the latter adding the duties of organist to that of teacher. The late Mr. W. H. Sherwood was the first superintendent. The attendance comprised about fifteen of the religiously uncared for children of the neighbourhood a contrast to the attendance in the Sunday school to day, which has 200 names on its roll, not counting a congregation of about 300 persons besides. Shortly after the opening of the school, Miss Chamberlen and Miss Maggie Rubidge associated themselves with the work, the latter assuming the duties of treasurer on the death of Miss Barlee, whose removal lost to the South Ward Mission one of its workers. Afterwards, as larger numbers were attracted to the school, Miss Watt, Miss Cairns, Miss Evans, the Misses White, Miss Claringbold, (Mrs. W. E. Conway) and others, devoted themselves to teaching, It is only due to the united, harmonious and untiring efforts of the ladies mentioned, that the work, which has since prospered under the divine blessing, so greatly, had its foundations so well laid.

At one time it became necessary to remove from the Mission building on Dalhousie street used at that time in common by several denominations, and the trustees of the School Board very kindly allowed the use of one of the rooms, of the South Ward School, (the southwest on the first floor) for the use of the Sunday school, until Miss Chamberlen—whose work for, and benefactions in the interest of, the school, continued even to the present day, are remembered with the liveliest gratitude, donated for the purposes of a Mission Sunday school, a property on the corner of Bethune and Dalhousie streets, a picture of which herewith presented. The dwelling was converted into a school room, which was used till the new building was constructed.

Religious service was begun here, the first being conducted by the late Mr. Herbert Hammond, then a lay reader of St. John's.

The ladies of the Sunday school not only faithfully performed the duties of the present that confronted them, but with a large faith wisely provided for the future. By a series of entertainments from time to time, and by other means, they accumulated a substantial building fund, and their zeal and energy were practically recognized by other residents of the South Ward, especially by the venerable Rev. V. Clementi, who has been in its days of struggles as well as triumphs a most staunch and substantial friend of the Mission, giving the benefit of both his with no sparing liberality.

RIPE EXPERIENCE AND MEANS,

During the summer of 1890 the idea of the erection of a mission building assumed concrete shape and work was vigorously set afoot. Miss Chamberlen, with the consent of the other legatees of the Chamberlen estate, exchanged the old site for the far more valuable and desirable one upon which the present Church of All Saints is situated. The new building was begun and completed ready for opening on January 22nd, 1891.

Since that time the history of the Mission has been one of progress, in all departments of work. The first curate specially detailed by Rev. Mr. Davidson, rector of Peterborough, to devote exclusive attention to the Mission, was Rev. W. E. Loucks. He was succeeded by Rev. E. W. Pickford, and he by Rev. Carl Smith. To Mr. Smith succeeded the present energetic and popular curate, Rev. W. L. Armitage, who came from London in the Diocese of Huron, under whose pastorate the work of chancel extension and general improvement has been effected.

THE DEDICATORY SERVICES.

Under the most favouring auspices, arising from beautiful weather, the new church of All Saints was formally dedicated yesterday.

There were four services during the day. At 8 o'clock there was a celebration of the Holy Communion, Rev. Mr. Davidson celebrant, with Rev. Mr. Armitige assisting. This service was very largely attended.

REV. W. LESLIE ARMITAGE,
CURATE OF ALL SAINTS.

At eleven o'clock the dedicatory services proper attracted a congregation that more than filled the seating accommodation, and supplementary seats had to be placed in in the aisles The new chancel was specially brightened with blooming potted flowers—altar as well as choir.

The service, which was special, was conducted by Rev. J. C. Davidson, assisted by Rev. W. L. Armitage, and the Bishop, who was present, gave the absolution. The hymns, 300, 435, 345, 242, were particularly appropriate, as well as the appointed Psalms, 122, 127 and 132. The lessons were the 8th chapter of I Kings and the 10th chapter of Hebrews.

The collection of the day was followed by special prayers, and Rev. Mr. Davidson took this opportunity to offer the warmest welcome of the clergy and congregation of the Mission to the Bishop, and thanks for his visit on this happy day. He could look with pleasure on his other visits, especially to the visit on the opening of the building, when he spoke cheering words of encouragement; the work had progressed, and the bishop was with us again.

THE BISHOP'S SERMON

was preached from Jeremiah, chap. vi. v 16:

Thus saith the Lord, stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall have rest for your souls.

The Bishop began by stating that it was a happy day that brought him to Peterborough, the successful accomplishment of a good work. He remembered the opening of the building six years ago, and the enthusiasm and hopes of the congregation, had been realized, and their hearts to-day were full of thankfulness. The mission hall in which they had worshipped was by the services of the day dedicated to be a church under the name of "All Saints." He shared the feelings of joy and gratitude of the congregation. The church would hereafter be devoted exclusively and solely to the worship of God—there would be no more entertainments. The Bishop complimented the congregation; the manner in which the work had been brought to the establishment of a new church and congregation was a credit to the interest of the rector and his assistants, and especially Rev. Mr. Armitage, to whom the success of the day would make it a day of gladness. The great help given by the congregation was not to be overlooked, nor the encourgement and assistance of Rev. Mr. Clementi, who with the congregation and clergy must have a large share in the thankfulness called forth. Thankfulness was not, however, the chief idea associated with a new church—there was the future to consider. It was to stand as a centre from which would radiate an influence over the congregation and the community. True worship affected the lives of the worshippers and all connected with them, as expressed in the relief of the sick, the teaching of the ignorant and the blessings which the ministrations of the clergy brought. The expression "new church" did not seem altogether right. The "old church" was the best thought. The present was a day of novelties and the text was a rebuke of the modern tendency to run after

NEW THINGS IN RELIGION.

This was a tendency characteristic of a new country and energetic people. This spirit was not to be sweepingly condemned. The speaker had little sympathy with those who perpetually prated of the "good old days." But there were things to be strongly condemned in the new order—lack of reverence for old age and its authority. It was mere superstition to venerate the old simply because it was old; but in some things the old was the

REV. FATHER FALLON SPEAKS IN ST. PETER'S.

CHARITY SERMON BY THE VICE-RECTOR OF OTTAWA UNIVERSITY.

He Makes an Appeal For Aid For the Children of Poor Parents and Afterwards Makes a Most Eloquent Address on the Merits of Catholicity.

The annual charity sermon at St. Peter's Cathedral was delivered last evening by Rev. Father Fallon, Vice Rector of the Ottawa University.

Father Fallon's name as a most gifted orator having preceded him, the cathedral was filled to over-flowing, a large number being present from the Protestant congregations of the town. The discourse delivered surpassed in fluency and eloquence the most laudatory praise which has hitherto been bestowed on the Vice Rector and those present were at times carried away by the language in which he clothed his utterances.

In opening Father Fallon stated briefly that at the close of his address a collection would be taken up and the money thus obtained would be devoted to the clothing of children of poor parents. He quoted the verse: "Thou shalt love the Lord Thy God with thy whole soul and strength" as a commandment given by Christ but stated that lest this might appear too difficult to some a second commandment, like unto the first had been given, viz., "Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself." Love of God would be a mockery unless it evidenced itself externally, and what better form could it take than the clothing of poor children against the rigours of winter.

As his text for his discourse the speaker chose the words:

"Now I beseech you brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing and that there be no divisions among ye; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment."—I. Corinthians, 1st chap., 10th verse.

When St. Paul, the great apostle, addressed these words to the Corinthians he had in mind the Saviour at the last supper and the words He addressed to His Father on that occasion:—"That they may all be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in Thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that Thou hast sent me. And the glory which Thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one: I in them, and Thou in me, that they may be made peefect in one; and that the world may know that thou has sent me, and has loved them, as thou has loved me."

OUR BELOVED LORD

begins by revealing to His beloved disciples all the love He had lavished on them, treating them as brothers, when in reality He was their Master, and was now about to lay down His life for them—greater love no man hath than to give his life for another.

But soothing as was this manifestation of the Saviour's love, yet this manifestation is coupled with an obligation as serious as the other is touching.

Christ came upon earth to establish a religion and was about to shed His blood for it, and the obligation He imposed was that unity be preserved, that "they all may be one, as thou Father art in me and I in thee."

For Him no curtain hung before the future. He saw what was hidden to the mortal eye. There with the shadow of the sepulchere falling across His path, His eyes were met by an awful sight from which He recoiled. He saw that the sacrifice of His life and the agony of His death would be nullified by the perversity of men.

He actually sealed the purchase of our future with His own blood, and with the history of His own church before His eyes, what did He see?

DISSENSION SPRANG UP

before His eyes to tell Him that His work was in vain. Science and Personal Pride boasted before Him of the thousands which they would have in their following. Is their any reason why He is not overcome with sorrow?

It was when he was overwhelmed with what he saw that He exclaimed, "Holy Father, keep them as one, as thou, Father, art in Me, and I in Thee."

With nineteen centuries of that Church's history before our eyes, can we wonder that He was overcome with sorrow! A hundred warring factors have played havoc indeed. Christendom is rent into fragments and is bleeding almost unto death.

There is not a reasonable man that will not regret these dissensions that make the Christian religion a mockery, even amongst the heathen.

We can then feel for the Old Man of the Vatican, known to the world as Leo XIII, whose great desire is to have all in the fold.

It was said by the blindly prejudiced that the Catholic church was the FOE OF THE BIBLE.

This was indeed a cruel calumy. Was it not she that saved the Bible, gathering it into her monastries when the heathen hordes overran Christendom.

The Epistle of St. John and in fact every page of the New Testament bristles with arguments in favour of Christian unity.

The church, as Christ's kingdom, should be conducted as any other well regulated kingdom. Unity should be compelled, one king acknowledged, one government and one set of systematized laws. Christ also speaks of His church as a sheepfold—what a beautiful emblem of unity. All the sheep cling together, go to the same pastures, follow the same paths, hearken to the same shepherd. O beautiful symbol of the unity which must exist where Christ's church is to be found.

Christ also compares His church to a vine with a common stem, but many branches, drawing substance from a common root.

Now as to the application of these comparisions.

Which of all Christian churches satisfies the conditions laid down by Christ himself?

IS IT THE CATHOLIC CHURCH?

Is she not the only one of the churches which can make a claim for unity?

Is she not the Kingdom with the Pope as the one head in the spiritual world; with one government and with one set of systematized laws?

All Catholics honour the Pope as their chief and all are held to obey the same set of laws.

Is not the Christian Catholic church a sheepfold? Do we not all work in the same spiritual pastures and feed on the same precious bread of life and be made strong and perfect Christians by the sacrament of Confirmation?

Is not the Catholic Church a perfect representation of the vine? Does it not spread its branches out through heathen lands and yet cling to the root, as to life itself?

Christ never spoke in the plural concerning his church. He said "Upon this rock I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

When the day arrived when the church was to begin her active career in the lives of men, it was not when the

that the Holy Ghost came down amongst them. The Acts of the Apostles tells us that the Holy Ghost came down when all were assembled together in the same place in Jerusalem, praying as one for the same object. This is the language of the Bible, and the inspired book sets sets forth in terms beyond contradiction, the necessity of unity in the Christian church.

Reason says there cannot be two true churches of Christ.

Unity is essential to truth, says Gladstone.

Is it possible that Christ desired that the church should be divided into two branches?

Is it possible that Catholics who kneel in holy adoration before the altar and worship the body, soul, blood and divinity of Christ? Is it possible that the Catholics who beseach the mercy of God in behalf of the souls in purgatory and the non-Catholics can both belong to the some true church?

The supposition is false and illogical and the Catholic creed lays down that in the true church.

It is said the Catholic church is the foe of liberty. This is not so but it it is the foe of license and always will be the foe of what goes to allow freedom of thought in religious matters. We are bound by a thousand chains to our creed. We are slaves in fact, but slaves to our God and glory in being free in the freedom of the children of God.

Protestants wonder at a Catholic turning so readily at every beck and call of the church, but the true Catholic's whole nature would recoil at the thought of setting self up against an institution founded by his God.

Father Fallon then went on to speak of the various universities in Rome, where Catholic students gathered from all parts of the world—the German and the Frenchman, always at war; Japanese and Chinese, immediately after ready to fly at one another's throat; Russians and English; Canadians and Americans—all coming together and preserving their identity and their love of country, yet grasping hands in friendship. Is it not the work of God? said he. Man could never accomplish such a marvellous spectacle.

It is to preserve this unity that the Catholic church shows itself so inexorable in the matter of a dissension. No creed of human origin can rear its head within the fold without being received with curses and anathema. The church will hear no tribunal because she is the highest. She is God's tribunal. She may look harsh, but the church is God's. It is the Lord's spirit on earth amongst men and to increase this influence should be our desire.

See the countless millions outside the church of Christ. Churches bearing the name of Christ but separated from Him by heresy and schism. In Canada and the United States there are as many religious bodies, all claiming to be the true church of Christ, as there are cities.

Am I wrong, continued Father Fallon, in claiming that our Grand Old Man of the Vatican speaks in the vein of the Saviour when he says there is but one fold and and one Shepherd.

When the true Catholic dies his heart is sustained and soothed by his faith and he passes away with a smile on his lips and hope in his heart.

In Montreal and Toronto, where the pictures have already been exhibited, his audiences at times have, not forgetting his qualities as an entertainer, clamored for one of his old time songs after they had seen the pictures and the favourite often, although tired of his exhaustive explanation of the picsures of the contest, has complied. William Whittaker, of Ashburnham, Meets With Another Accident.

Mr. Wm. Whittaker, who had the fingers taken off one of his hands through a barrel falling on them in Calcutt's brewery last spring, met with another accident this morning when working on the C. P. R. with the gang which is replacing the light rails with heavier ones.

He, with several others, were lifting a rail on a flat car. It is done in three lifts, from one support to another and the rail slipped suddenly. All got out of the way but Whittaker and it caught him on the leg just above the ankle, breaking it badly.

Dr. Bell, C. P. R. physician, was summoned and had the man removed to the Hospital. His conveyance thither in an open democrat surrounded by his mates, created quite a commotion on George street this morning.

STREET CAR ACCIDENT.

A Motor Runs Into a Buggy and Overturns it Near the C.P.R.

An accident occurred on Saturday afternoon just in front of Bowman's Hotel, near the C.P.R. track, when a motor car struck a buggy containing two ladies and throwing both occupants out upset the rig.

It appears that the buggy did not turn out far enough to let the car pass and the step caught the wheels, thus suddenly overturning the rig.

Mrs. Wilson, of Springville, was the driver and the other occupant of the buggy was a young lady who is visiting her. Both were badly shaken up and Mrs. Wilson's shoulder was bruised.

The buggy was almost totally destroyed.

The ladies refused to make a statement as to whether they had received sufficient warning or whether the car ran them down before they had time to get out of the way.

BRITISH LOSS IN INDIA.

Up to the Present 190 Have Been Killed in Battles.

Simla, Oct. 8.—The total casualties to British arms during the frontier troubles up to date have been 190 killed, including 14 British officers, and 580 wounded, including 34 officers.

General Sir William Lockhart, in command of the punitive expedition against the rebellious border tribes, has issued a proclamation to the Tirah Afridis and Orakzais, saying that in consequence of their breaking the treaty of 1884 the Government is sending a force to march through their country. The final peace terms of the Government will be announced to the tribes on the arrival of this force at their capital. Immediate submission to the British authorities is advised, in order to avoid unnecessary damage, otherwise punishment will follow any opposition to the British advance.

A Horrible Wholesale Murderer.

Rotterdam, Oct. 8.—Gustave Muller has surrendered to the police, confessing the murder of his wife and child. As proof of the truth of the confession he produced four human ears. The police, on searching his house, found the two bodies. Muller subsequently confessed that he had also killed his parents, mutilating their remains in the same fashion; and then he stated that he had similarly disposed of fourteen wives, whom he had married in various parts of the world.

BRITAIN AVOIDED THE TRAP

And The St. James' Gazette Says There Will be a Feeling of Relief

London, Oct. 8.—The St. James' Gazette this afternoon, referring to the formal announcement of Great Britain's declination to take part in the Behring Sea Conference with Russia and Japan, says:

"There will be a feeling of relief that Great Britain, in behalf of Canada, has finally declined to walk into the trap which was being arranged at Washington. America has never paid the damages for the illegal seizures of Canadian sealers, and has exhausted every diplomatic artifice to evade the award finally demanding a fresh conference. The Marquis of Salisbury consented, when upon America calmly proposed that Russia and Japan should have seats at the conference, with the obvious intention of outvoting England and upsetting to a side wind the Paris award."

The Globe's Opinion.

The Globe, commenting on the same subject this afternoon, remarks: "As a mere matter of business it is time that a firm check was put on the policy of the United States in dealing with this country. There is no cause to adopt the theory that the Marquis of Salisbury almost regretfully refuses to participate. In the interests of Canada it is well to let the United States understand that no settlement of the question will satisfy Great Britain which sacrifices a jot or a tittle of the just and equitable rights of the loyal Dominion of Canada."

Chamberlain Backed Cousins.

New York, Oct. 8.—The London correspondent of The World learns that the Canadian Government, in opposing the enlargement of the conference, was vigorously supported by Colonial Secretary Chamberlain in letters in which he transmitted to Lord Salisbury Canada's reply. His policy is that colonial sentiment should be paramount in all matters when it does not clash with Imperial interests.

Did the Kaiser Overwork the Troops?

Munich, Oct. 8.—In the Chamber of Representatives to-day Herr Schaedler interpellated the Government regarding the recent army manoeuvres, claiming that Emperor William of Germany wrongfully assumed command of the Bavarian army and needlessly sacrificed lives in the cavalry attacks. The Premier, Baron von Crailsheim, and the Minister for War, Baron von Asch, denied most of the assertions made, but admitted that there were a number of suicides during the manoeuvres, on account of the exhaustion of the troops.

An Invalid Count Dead.

Vienna, Oct. 8.—Count Heinrich Wurmbrand, the 19-year-old son of Count Wurmbrand, who was Minister of Commerce in 1895 in the Cabinet of Prince Windischgratz, has committed suicide. It is believed that he was suffering from mental depression, induced by the illness of his father, and was himself a sufferer from apoplexy.

Has Been a Love Tragedy.

Vienna, Oct. 8.—It transpires to-day that Count Heinrich Wurmbrand, the son of Count Wurmbrand, who was Minister of Commerce in 1895, committed suicide by shooting himself in a cab, owing to his unreciprocated attachment for the family's English governess, who declined to marry him.

CANADA AND BRITAIN

A Return Showing Our Very Large Trade With the Old Little Isle.

London, Oct. 8.—(Telegram Cable.)—Some interesting figures touching the importations into Britain from Canada have just been published. During September the number of cattle landed was 17,008, their value being £277,078; sheep and lambs, 11,835, valued at £47,386. There were received 28,846 cwts. of bacon, £47,336; 17,302 hams, £38,746; butter, 42,146 lbs., £169,928; cheese, 239,908 lbs., £529,016; eggs, 60,591 crates, of one hundred, £20,980; horses, 1624, £40,170.

The total value of the imports in September, 1895, was £840,417; in September, 1896, £857,997, and in September, 1897, £1,132,378.

Or, for a further comparison, take the nine months ending Sept. 30, for the same three years, and the totals respectively are £3,501,943, £4,283,792, and £4,616,258.

Horses, sheep, bacon and hams, compared with 1896, show a large decrease, especially the two latter.

The value of the exports to Canada for the September's of 1895, '96 and '97 are respectively £338,293, £362,047 and £399,766. For the nine months of the same years the figures are £2,955,342, £3,197,840 and £2,723,425. The export figures are, however, believed to be inaccurate.

CAPT. ALLEN BURNED.

Details of the Sad Affair Have Arrived from Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Oct. 9.—Mr. Finnegan was a settler who lost all in the fire. Fortunately he was at home at the time of the fire, and was able to save his mother, an elderly lady, in delicate health. Taking her to a potato patch he scooped out a hole, and actually buried her, covering her body with earth, except what would be required for the purpose of letting in a little air.

A man named McGregor was burned to death in a stable at Fleming. Four men slept in the loft, and McGregor, in blowing out the lantern, fell, rolling the flames in the hay. The others barely escaped, and McGregor perished.

Details of the burning of Capt. Allen, who was burned on arriving home with lumber are just made known. Jumping from the wagon, he tied up the lines and began to unhitch. The fire was almost upon him and the smoke becoming hotter and thicker every moment; and though the horses were loosened from the wagon they were terrified with fear, and would not move. He threw himself face downward and waited for the fire to pass. It did so in a second of time, leaving both horses dying and Allen's clothing afire. One garment after another had to be sacrificed until even his boots were thrown off to prevent his feet burning. In this naked condition he started for help and crawled four miles to the house of Mr. Bates. When he arrived there he was in a pitiable condition and died in a few days at Winnipeg Hospital.

A THRILLING ESCAPE.

Evangeline Cisneros Got Away From a Cuban Prison During Midnight.

Havana, Oct. 8.—The escape of Senorita Evangelina Cass.o, who assumed the name of Mother Cisneros, has caused a sensation in Havana. As announced by the Associated Press last night, the Senorita has disappeared from the palace of detention, known as the Casa de Recogidas. It is now asserted that the young lady escaped between 11 o'clock and midnight on Wednesday over the roof of a neighboring house, and through to the street below. On the roof of the adjoining house the authorities found three planks, each about a yard long and 18 inches wide, joined together by strong hinges so as to be able to serve as a bridge, enabling any one to pass from the roof of the prison to the roof of the house referred to. Some of the details of the young Cuban's escape are quite romantic.

The police are hard at work in investigating the escape and all the Spanish authorities along the coast have been communicated with, in the belief that an attempt may be made to embark the Senorita upon some vessel leaving Cuba for the United States or elsewhere.

SUITS AGAINST 38.

A Division Court Bailiff Seeks $100,000 Damages for Alleged Libel.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—J. W. Crossley, erstwhile bailiff of the Sixth Division Court of York, is the plaintiff in very interesting proceedings at the Court House, which began yesterday. He is seeking damages for libel from some of the best-known men in the County of York, men who are prominent as politicians, farmers and every walk in life. The defendants number some 38, and they are being sued for sums varying from $2000 to $5000 each, and making up a total of over $100,000 damages. Among them are: James Stokes, ex-Warden of York County; "Archie" McCallum, the big County Councillor from King; John Hutchinson, George Ferguson, George Lawson, William Monkman, Forbes Lloyd, John Carscallen, Milton Wells, James G. Hutchinson, W. E. Fox, George Knightly, Sonn A. McDonald, Frank McDonald, John Ireland, P. McMurchy, Joseph Spragg, John Gloss, Thomas Ferguson, Richard Wens, William Walkington and a number of others.

The suit arises out of the fact that these gentlemen signed a petition asking for the removal of Mr. Crossley from his office on the grounds, as they alleged, that he was "untruthful, guilty of fraudulent practices on many occasions; guilty of extortion and misconduct; devoid of the ordinary principles of honesty; had, contrary to law, accepted money for collecting accounts in addition to his fees."

Confessed His Crimes.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—DeWitt C. Kerr, 40 Close-avenue, who did brokerage business at 147 Yonge-street, was sent to the Central Prison for 18 months by Col. Denison for stealing bicycles from Messrs. Ellsworth, Munson and Rae. He also told how he had committed forgery, a charge which the Crown did not press.

His necessities drove him to forging the name of Mr. and Mrs. John Amos of Berkeley-street to a chattel mortgage on which he obtained $50 from Mrs. Mann of 131 Mutual-street.

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or a woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a great discourager of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what bad breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. There is no case of biliousness, indigestion, "heartburn," or any of the rest of the nightmare breeding brood that these little "Pellets" will not cure.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD
Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment generally, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why, should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

Love is the sun of woman's life. Its dawning is the maiden's tender sentiment; it brightens into the steady affection of the contented wife, and reaches its glorious noontide in the happy mother. Happy motherhood is a true woman's loftiest ambition. Her highest pride is in her fitness to fulfill this grand and sacred destiny. Nothing so clouds and darkens her existence as to be incapacitated for this noblest of womanly functions by weakness or disease.

A woman who suffers from any ailment of the delicate special organism of her sex, feels something more than pain and physical wretchedness. She is mortified with a sense of womanly incompleteness.

But no woman need remain under this cloud of misery and dissatisfaction. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription positively cures all diseased conditions and weaknesses, and restores complete health and strength to the feminine organs.

It is the only medicine of its kind devised for this one purpose by an educated and experienced physician, and eminent specialist in this particular field of practice.

It is the only medicine which can be relied upon to make the ordeal of motherhood absolutely safe and almost painless.

"I cannot say too much for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Miss Clara Baird, of Bridgeport, Montgomery Co., Penn'a. "I feel it my duty to say to all women who may be suffering from any disease of the womb that it is the best medicine on earth for them to use. I cannot praise it too highly for the good it did me. If any one doubts this give them my name and address."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the stomach, liver and bowels. Of all medicine dealers.

CLOVER AND TIMOTHY.

The Comparative Value of These Grasses on the Farm.

Clover and timothy are two of the most important fodder crops grown on the farm, especially in this country. They form the bulk of the food fed to our animals for the production of either milk, beef or work. It is, therefore, important to determine which of the two fodders is most valuable for the object in view, considering at the same time which is the cheapest to produce and how each affects the fertility of the soil; for it is high time that the farmer is looking into the problem of how best to keep up the fertility of his farm without having to resort to the use of commercial fertilizers.

Of all the food elements necessary for the growth of crops and that we are called upon to supply, nitrogen, phosphoric acid, and potash are most important; these are therefore, the one mainly to be considered in keeping up the soil's fertility. Some plants require a more liberal supply of these elements than do others; also, some plants have better facilities than others for gathering from remote source s their necessary amount of food. The latter ability depends upon the amount and nature of their root growth. Plants, such as clover, whose roots penetrate deeply into the soil, have an evident advantage, being able to draw food from a considerable depth; while shallow-rooted plants, such as timothy, must be satisfied with what available nourishment they find near the surface.

Now, whether you are feeding plants or animals, nitrogen is the most costly food element. About four-fifths of the bulk of the atmosphere is nitrogen in the free state; but this is useless as a food for either plants or animals. Clover belongs to a family of plants (Leguminosae), other examples of which are the pea, bean and vetch, that have grown on their roots small white bodies, which, by virtue of micro-organisms contained in them have the power to appropriate the free nitrogen of the air and convert it into such a form that these plants can utilize it as food for themselves. Timothy has not this power of utilizing the free nitrogen of the atmosphere, but must obtain its supply wholly from the available nitrogen compounds already in the soil.

If a crop of timothy be grown and fed on the farm, and the manure carefully saved and applied, the soil will have neither lost or gained in nitrogen. On the other hand, if a crop of clover be grown and likewise fed on the farm, and the manure carefully saved and applied, not only the nitrogen drawn from the soil will be returned, but also a large quantity which the clover drew from the air will be left to the soil in a form available for plant food. Thus, in the case of the clover, the soil will have gained enough nitrogen to enable it to produce a good crop of corn, potatoes, wheat or other grain.

Clover being a deep feeder its roots penetrate deeply into the sub-soil and draw a large amount of phosphoric acid and potash from a depth that the roots of ordinary plants never reach. Timothy, being a shallow feeder, draws all of its phosphoric acid and potash from the surface soil. In this we can see, that if fed on the farm and the manure returned to the land, clover enriches the surface soil by the amount of phosphoric acid and potash drawn from the sub-soil, while timothy has not this advantage.

If utilized on the farm, clover is unexcelled in keeping up the fertility of the land. Owing to its large development of roots, clover brings a great deal of organic matter (humus) to the soil (almost half the amount of its total growth is left in the soil as roots and stubble); it thus has no small effect in improving the tilth of soils naturally deficient in organic matter; making stiff clays more porous and sands more retentive. From what has been said we may draw that clover is especially valuable as a green manure; because of its extensive feeding habits and the large amount of organic matter it brings to the soil.

When compared on an acre to acre basis clover is more valuable pound for pound than timothy, especially when fed to cattle or sheep. Clover is rich in those substances which make brains what they are generally considered to owe a strong food for a working man. By the chemist these substances are called "albuminoids," or "protein." They contain practically all of the nitrogen in the plant, and are the chief materials in lean meat and the curd of milk. The remaining organic substances of the plant (viz., those that contain no nitrogen, such as starch, sugar and fat) are called "non-nitrogenous," or "non-albuminoids," and are valuable chiefly for keeping up the heat of the animal body. But, as all plants contain an abundance of these non-albuminoids they need not be considered in determining the value of fodders. A food is considered rich in proportion to the amount of digestible albuminoids that it contains; in other words, the greater the proportion of digestible albuminoids to digestible non-albuminoids the more valuable will be the food. Clover hay, fed alone, is a well-balanced ration for a milch cow or a beef animal, containing about one part of digestible albuminoids to six parts of digestible non-albuminoids; in other words, it has a nutritive ratio of about 1 to 6. Timothy hay is not so rich, having a nutritive ratio of only about 1 to 9. According to these figures two pounds of clover hay are worth three pounds of timothy hay. The manure resulting from the two fodders, if made under the same conditions, will show a similar comparative value, two tons of that from the clover hay being worth three tons of that from timothy hay.

It is a lamentable fact that so many farmers have not yet learned how to make good clover hay; and until they do they will not be able to appreciate, by experience, its real value over timothy.—A. T. Winnicke, at the East Simcoe Farmers' Institute.

The Saving Dairyman

One saving dairyman, not a stingy one, will make more money than two extravagant ones.

First, a dairyman should be saving of his cows, as a cow well cared for will be a useful and profitable animal for several years longer than one ill fed, ill housed and ill treated.

Even in summer cows should not be left exposed to violent rainstorms, but should be sheltered where there is less danger of their being struck by lightning, as when huddled together under trees, or being chilled by a prolonged drenching. The latter, especially, is damaging to the milk yield, for it may be noticed that cows always shrink in milk after a storm. Wise economy calls for measures that will obviate this, namely, a dry, warm shelter.

Be saving also of your feed. For instance, in giving milch stock corn fodder, when they trample it under their hoofs and waste as much as they eat, it is the dairyman who is wasteful, not the animals. The most economical way of feeding corn fodder is to spread it before the cattle when in stanchions, and only give them what they will eat up clean.

To be saving of the feed in the pastures don't put more stock into the field than it will support. On a farm not long ago they were talking about the cow pasture, horse pasture, sheep pasture, and calf lot. The owner was on the right track, as it implied that he kept his stock separated. Milch cows never do so well when compelled to pasture in common with other cattle.

Then, again, do not waste the milk. Even a drop of milk, which may represent the growth of one grass root, cannot afford to be wasted. In the first place secure all of the milk from the cow's udder by patient stripping. The richest comes last and you cannot afford to lose even a drop.

It is not a stingy course to see that the milk pails, pans, cans, etc., are well cleaned; and that your hired hands are so kind to the cows that the animals do not frequently kick over the milk pails and spill the fluid. Perhaps the most efficient way to save milk is to preserve its quality so well that none is wasted by scouring or tainting.

Be saving of the butter you make. In figuring on a good yield of butter from the cream, do not make the mistake of mixing some of the casein of milk in with the butter fat. This is done by skimming loppered milk, under the supposition that it is economy, when it really is the grossest extravagance, for you can never make first-class butter that way.

Richelieu's Tomb.

Negotiation of an historically interesting sort is about to take place between the city of Paris and the descendents of the relatives of Cardinal de Richelieu. The city wants to take over the Sorbonne Chapel, wherein is Richelieu's head, inclosed in a theatrical-looking tomb. The direct descendents of the famous statesman's family oppose this, on the ground that Richelieu built the Sorbonne out of his own money, on the condition that he, his relatives and theirs to come should be buried in the chapel. The city maintains that the Cardinal's will is out of date and of no account owing to the lapse of time. The living representatives of his family, however, intend to fight the matter out in order to prevent the chapel from being transformed into a lay department of the new Sorbonne.

A Famous Seat.

Among the many famous seats of the nobility of England is Eton Hall, the home of the Duke and Duchess of Westminster. So numerous are the rooms that sixty suites are set apart for visitors alone; but it is only on the occasion of a royal visit that the true size of this beautiful mansion is shown. When the Duke and Duchess are alone they prefer to occupy a house which is attached to the hall.

The Sun's Penetrating Rays.

The depth to which the sun's rays penetrate water has been recently determined by the aid of photography. It has been found that at a depth of 333 feet the darkness was, to all intents and purposes, the same as that on a clear, but moonless, night. Sensitive plates exposed at this depth for a considerable length of time gave no evidence of light action.

Baby Beauty.

You always think of a pretty baby as plump and chubby. Scott's Emulsion gives just this plumpness; not too fat, just enough for dimples to come. Babies like it, too.

Away Down East

From east to west people have heart trouble. This causes violent headaches, neuralgia, nerve trouble and prostration. Says Mrs. Somers, of Moncton, N. B.: "I tried many remedies but never found anything to give me such prompt relief as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done. I suffered from the above symptoms, but now gladly testify to the cure these wonderful pills have made in my case, and I hope all sufferers will try them."

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

best, as in case of religion. It was a characteristic of the day to follow after new religions. Nothing was too grotesque nor repellant to win followers, if it has the charm of novelty. It was a sad thing to see so many lured into paths of shallow conceits and palpable error. Surely we had cause to heed the words of Jeremiah, to follow after "the old paths"—to keep "the faith once delivered to the saints." God's revelation was complete; all that was good for man to know was revealed in his word. The fact that there were new churches was not a matter of congratulation as was a new church building. The Bishop claimed for the church of England that it was the old church; and in relation to it the words of his text could be boldly adopted. They who sought "the old paths" diligently would find them in the Church of England. The speaker boldly claimed that historically, as well as upon her record in the propagation of the truth, the Church of England was as old as Christianity itself. The fable was repelled that the Church of England only dated from the 16th century. History shows that it was not true. He spoke no disparagement of the evangelical Christian denominations whose work had been blessed of God; but in comparison with new methods the people of the Church of England could feel that they

HAVE BEEN FOLLOWING THE "OLD PATHS."

The Church of Rome the speaker said, propagated the story that the Church of England was founded by King Henry VIII. The church of Rome was an old church, but in the adoption of erroneous doctrines, and in comparatively modern times, such as the worship of images, adoration of relics, the dogmas of purgatory, the imaculate conception and Papal Infallibility—the two latter devised in our own day—in these and other ways the truth had been buried under error, and that church had forfeited a claim to be regarded as the old church of St. Peter. The Church of England was not only an old church—one of her creeds dating back to the Council of Nicea, A.D. 325, but she was an old church, that has kept the fountain of evangelical truth pure. The preacher said he could do no better than to exhort his hearers to seek 'the old way" and avoid novelties—seek the way that has been trodden by saints and martyrs—the way marked out by the Gospel. Having found "the old way," walking therein, and following in its ordinances, "you will find 'rest for your souls,'" and the rewards of godly living would follow. The bishop concluded a thoughtful, earnest sermon by praying that this might be the experience of the congregation of All Saints, and that the church might be to them a haven of rest and a harbinger of the eternal rest of the world to come.

THE AFTERNOON SERVICE.

At three o'clock in the afternoon a large congregation of Sunday School scholars and many of the congregation assembled in the church, and after a bright and inspiring service conducted by Rev. W. L. Armitage, in which the children joined with intelligent heartiness, the Bishop read the fourth chapter of the Book of Proverbs, and briefly addressed the children. He said it was quite right that the children should have their share in the rejoicings which Mr. Armitage very properly thought should occupy the whole day. The children were the hope of the church, and those present were the future congregation of All Saints. He remembered visiting the Sunday school when it occupied the very small and inconvenient Mission building first used. The Sunday school was very heartily conducted, and he congratulated the children on having so fine a new Sunday school building. The Bishop then gave them a charmingly familiar and instructive catechetical address on the scripture from the fourth chapter of Proverbs—"keep thy heart with diligence," drawing simple but beautiful lessons from the relations of the natural functions of the heart to its moral functions. The singing, led by the Sunday school choir, was particularly hearty and good.

The Evening Service.

In the evening All Saints was crowded in every part, aisles, porch and even the vestry was used in lieu of other room, and large numbers went away unable to gain admission.

The service, which was special to the occasion as to prayers, hymns and lessons, was conducted by Rev. E. V. Stevenson and Rev. W. L. Armitage. The Bishop preached the sermon, which he prefaced with a few remarks:—

In repeating his congratulations in regard to the new church he was pleased with the way in which the work had been carried out. The clergy and congregation had reason to be proud of their beautiful church and he was pleased to know that they were burdened with comparatively little financial responsibility upon their starting out as a separate congregation. The worshippers at the Mission Hall had contributed liberally, and the liberality of Miss Chamberlen, both as to the gift of a site and in relation to the new structure was emphasized. They would form on attachment to a church which a mere mission could not create. The Bishop thought it was a wise thing to establish a second church in the parish—there was ample room; but he trusted that they all would feel that they belonged to the same parish still. He did not intend when he came last night to preach twice at All Saints—but in the evening at St. John's—but the Rector was willing that the chief interest of the day should centre in the new church. He hoped that this spirit would continue, and that a great work would follow the establishment of the new church.

The Bishop took as his text the 9th verse of Psalm xcvi—"O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness." After saying that worship was even the most degraded peoples having some object and form of worship, the preacher pointed out that God demanded the undivided worship of man, and that He so formed him that worship was a necessity of his nature. Worship was defined as the setting up of something as the supreme object of our veneration. True worship was seeking God's glory in all things. Of secondary, though of great importance, was the worship of God in his house, for which He instituted His church—to worship Him in the beauty of holiness. The preacher did not disparage God's way of saving people through preaching, but the primary object was worship, worship of the wonders of His grace rather than the greatness of His works. After speaking of the reverence due the place dedicated to worship, the Bishop referred to the ritual to be used, and stated that the Church of England had prescribed one which, if faithfully carried out, no more fitting means existed of worshipping God, aright and acceptably, it was seemly and comprehensive and answered in the completest manner all the requirements of devout and reverent public worship.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

The music during the day was special, the choir having been specially reinforced for the occasion. The singing of the special hymns was extremely well done, and the offertory anthem in the morning, "O Come let us Worship," was exquisitely sung; the parts were well balanced and the shading and harmony were worthy of the highest praise. Miss Lily Jackson is deserving of especial credit for the charming manner in which she rendered the solo, never, perhaps, having sung better. The same excellence characterized the evening music. The offertory anthem, a beautiful arrangement of "Hark, Hark my Soul," by Fetherston, organist of the Memorial church, London, Ont., was sung with great spirit, Miss. Brundrett taking the solo, and Miss Brundrett, Mrs. Gilbert and Mr. Frank Wilson, the trio.

Among the special gifts to All Saints were two beautiful silver offertory plates, used for the first time yesterday at the opening services, presented by Mr. R. H. Shepherd, a member of the choir. Another gift was two and a half dozens of prayer books and hymn books by Mrs. Stevenson.

Rev. W. L. Armitage, curate is deserving of great credit for the energetic manner he has worked for the success of the opening services as well as in the previous preparations leading up to the event.

In the body of the report mention was omitted of the commodious and convenient culinary department in the basement adjoining the infant class room.

Rev. V. Clementi who has been a faithful and substantial friend to the work in the south ward was present at the opening services and occupied a seat in the sanctuary.

The flag on St. John's was flying yesterday in honour of the Bishop's presence and of the opening of the new sister church. A large number of the St. John's congregation participated in the church opening and in the Parish church sympathetic remarks were made and appropriate hymns sung.

The Bishop of Toronto had expected to have preached in St. John's in the evening but kindly fell in with the purpose of the Parochial authorities to concentrate attention on the southern mark of the parish. The warm interest of St. John's people has also been shown by several handsome subscriptions to the building fund.

The name of the new church, "All Saints" involves a happy coincidence. That was the name the rector of the parish had in mind. It was the name preferred by Rev. V. Clementi. It was a name dear to the late Rector, Rev. J. W. R. Beck, and it is the name of the first church with which Rev. W. L. Armitage was connected as a clergyman.

The offertory was nearly $100.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. OTTAWA VALLEY FIRE

Sympathy for the Sufferers is Very Wide-Spread.

THE FIRE LOSSES AND INSURANCE.

The Citizens of the Capital Assemble and Plan for the Relief of the Sufferers—The Government of the Province Sends a Representative and Promises Help.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—There was a good attendance at the public meeting of citizens to-night in the interest of the sufferers by the Russell County fire. Mayor Bingham presided. A letter from the Premier was read. Sir Wilfrid Laurier regretted that public business prevented him from being present.

Dr. Bryce said that his presence there showed that the sympathy of the Ontario Government was with the sufferers and that a grant would no doubt be forthcoming.

Rev. Mr. Herridge made an eloquent speech, after which Sheriff Sweetland moved, seconded by ex-Mayor McDougall, the appointment of the following committee, which will handle and distribute all relief: Mayor Bingham, Aldermen Campbell, Enright, McGuire, Powell, Grant, St. Jean, Durocher, Roger, Cook and Stewart; W. C. Edwards, M.P., I. Proulx, M.P., Warden Racine of Russell, Mayor Scott of Hull, Robert Gill (Manager Bank of Commerce), Warden McDonald of Carleton, and County Councillors Ballantyne and Rothwell and Councillor Stewart of South Indian.

The following telegram was read from Lord Aberdeen: "I send my best wishes for the meeting this evening, and shall be happy to contribute $200."

The Ontario Government will help the sufferers of Prescott and Russell. Premier Hardy has wired Speaker Evanturel as follows: "Have recommended to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council that an immediate grant be made towards the personal relief of those suffering from the late calamitous fire. (Signed) A. S. Hardy."

Mr. Evanturel's answer to Hon. A. S. Hardy reads: "Your message is one of consolation for the sufferers of our united counties. The prompt and generous action of your Government will evoke much joy and gratitude in the hearts of those who have been so cruelly tried. (Signed) Alfred Evanturel."

Dr. Bryce, the Medical Health Inspector, appeared before the local Fire Relief Committee to-day, and in a short address made several practical suggestions for the relief of the sufferers.

To City Clerk Henderson, the secretary of the committee, was entrusted the work of answering all correspondence relative to the work of relief.

The city of Brantford, through the Mayor, sends $116 to the fire fund. Rev. Orr Bennett, Presbyterian minister at Hawkesbury, also sends $2. His Worship Mayor Bingham received $275.25 to-day in aid of the relief fund. The Canadian Rubber Company of Montreal sent $25, the Church of England congregation at Vankleek Hill send $6.25, the amount of a collection at the harvest home festival. A friend from Prescott sends $1, M. M. M. from Montreal $1, and Lansing Sour of Montreal $10.

Saturday evening was a time of excitement around Bearbrook, as the fire had progressed to within a short distance of the village. A large number of the villagers turned out to fight the flames and were ably assisted by 25 men who had been sent down by the C. A. R. Company. Trenches were dug and the sand scattered broadcast over the grass to check the flames. All danger is now thought to be over.

The appeals that Mayor Bingham sent out to the other cities are meeting with a ready response.

SIR WILLIAM DAWSON FAINTS.

Another Step Taken Towards Getting the Montreal Harbor Improvements.

Montreal, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—This afternoon a step was made towards getting to work in the long projected Montreal harbor improvements, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. J. Israel Tarte and Hon. Sydney Fisher meeting in conference the Mayor and representatives of the City Council, Board of Trade, Corn Exchange, Chambre de Commerce and shipping interests. The whole question was threshed out for the twentieth time, and after Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Tarte had said some nice things, a resolution was adopted, instructing the Harbor Commissioners to go ahead with two piers, but nothing very definite was arrived at as regards the general plan.

This morning M. C. A. Cornellier, Q. C., came before Judge Wurtele and asked that sentence be not pronounced on his client, W. A. Grenier, whom the jury had found guilty of libelling Hon. Mr. Tarte, and that an appeal to a full bench be granted, because of the illegality of the proof. Messrs. St. Pierre and Dandurand opposed the motion, and the Judge will give his decision on Wednesday next.

The City Council voted $5000 this afternoon in aid of the sufferers in the burnt district of the Ottawa Valley.

A good deal of uneasiness was created at McGill University this afternoon when Sir William Dawson, while in the Redpath Museum, suddenly fainted and fell to the floor. He soon came to, however, and is now much better.

A butcher named Antoire Riendeau of Marieville jumped into a well on Saturday and was drowned.

The run on the City and District Savings Bank is over, and now those foolish depositors who withdrew their money are coming back to reopen their accounts.

LATEST B. C. MINING TOPICS.

They are Still Dickering for a Big Customs Smelter at Vancouver—The Athabasca Mine.

Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 11. (Special.)—Smelter matters are engaging the attention of the seaboard more than ever. The Vivians of Swansea, Wales, through Mr. Pellew-Harvey, will erect sampling works in Vancouver as soon as favorable freight arrangements can be made with the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Mr. Remington of Salt Lake City has his smelter offer now before the Council. He offers to erect a $1,000,000 smelter for a bonus of $100,000, on a basis of $1 a ton for the first 100,000 tons smelted.

Harry Symons, Q.C., representing an English syndicate, offers to erect a $1,000,000 smelter for a bonus of $65,000, on a basis of $1 a ton for the first 65,000 tons smelted. He further offers to transfer to the city in exchange for the bonus of $65,000 an equivalent in stock of the company, to deposit $5000 as a guarantee of good faith, and to pay the expenses of submitting a bylaw to the ratepayers.

An amalgamating machine, patented by Mr. Parke of Vancouver, was tested here this week. Twenty-eight hundred-weight of ore, crushed to 40 mesh, was put through the machine by a stream from the city hydrant in 45 minutes. The water washed it down a feeder into the quicksilver box containing 500 pounds of "quick," where it was forced through the quicksilver by means of steam, then across a matted rocker to the tailings tank. The rock was from the Fire Mountain properties, Garrison Lake, near Westminster City. It assayed, ounce by ounce, as it was put into the feeder, $82 in gold. The brick restored from the quicksilver weighed 5 ounces 12 pennyweights and 10 grains. Ten per cent. of the total value was lost in the tailings.

THE GULDENSUPPE MURDER.

Mrs. Nack Weakens—A Report Current That the Head of the Murdered Man Has Been Found.

New York, Oct. 11.—The World to-morrow will say: Through her counsel, Lawyer Emanuel M. Friend, Mrs. Augusta Nack has sent word to District Attorney Youngs of Queen's County that she is ready to tell all she knows about the murder of William Guldensuppe. Mrs. Nack asks in return that the authorities allow her to plead guilty to manslaughter in the first degree. The maximum sentence for this offence, if accepted, will be imprisonment in State Prison at hard labor for 20 years.

District Attorney Youngs has thus far refused to consider the proposition made by the woman. He is willing, however, to accept a plea of murder in the second degree, which would carry with it a sentence of life imprisonment.

New York, Oct. 11.—The mystery surrounding the disposition of the missing head of William Guldensuppe has been solved at last, if the story in this morning's World is correct. The account says: "The head lies on the fishing banks, where it was thrown by a friend and confidant of Martin Thorn. This man, whose identity is known to District Attorneys Olcott and Youngs, buried the plaster-incased head into the seas from the fishing boat J. B. Schuyler on July 21.

"This was two weeks after arrest of Thorn."

HE LIVED 90 YEARS.

Jacques Morin, One of the Familiar Figures of Ottawa, Passes Away.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—Jacques Morin, one of the oldest residents in Ottawa, died early this morning. Mr. Morin was 90 years of age, and lived with his daughter, Mrs. Frank Peterson of Rochesterville. Mr. Morin has for many years been a familiar figure on the streets of Ottawa and had many warm personal friends and hosts of acquaintances. It will be remembered that in 1893 he, with his wife, celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary. On that occasion they were honored by a visit from Lord and Lady Aberdeen. The old couple were then presented with a handsome memento by their distinguished guests. Mr. Morin remembered well the wars of 1837 and 1838. He came to Ottawa early in the fifties. He opened the old Thompson mills that used to be in the Chaudiere. He leaves behind his wife and a family of 10 children. The daughters are all married.

The children and grand children of Mr. and Mrs. Morin number about 150.

The Perth County Judgeship.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—It is understood that Judge Wood of Perth has formally sent in his resignation to the Minister of Justice, with an application for a retiring allowance. It is believed the application will be accepted and the allowance granted. Among the candidates for the judgeship are: Mr. John E. Harding, Q.C., of Stratford, a leading Liberal politician; Mr. J. A. Barron, Q.C., and Mr. Frank Anglin of Toronto.

His Back Was Broken.

Edmonton, Oct. 11.—A young man known as "Bernard," who drives a water tank, tried to drive into a livery stable sitting on top of his tank. He was caught between the tank and the door head, but he managed to pull back his team. A second time the team tried to go through the door and jammed him again. He was taken to the General Hospital with a broken back, still living, but cannot recover.

Woman Killed at Norwood.

Norwood, Ont., Oct. 11.—A Mrs. Brown, sometimes known as Ann Parker, a widow, residing on the sixth line of Dummer, was struck and instantly killed by an eastbound freight at noon to-day. She was close to the track when the train whistled, and in her fright she rushed toward it.

PONTON HAS AN ALIBI

Speculations Concerning the Mysterious Bit of Paper.

A DETECTIVE'S VISIT TO ORILLIA.

It is Expected That Mrs. Blewett, Whose Illness Intervened and Caused the Prosecution to Ask for Time, Will Be Able to Give Her Evidence To-Day—Money for the Defence.

Napanee, Oct. 11.—The detectives look upon the small piece of paper containing figures, which was produced in evidence against Ponton on Saturday, as important, inasmuch as by it they may be able to trace a packet of the missing bills. The explanation by the defence that Ponton made up the deposit slip as a specification of a certain packet of bills is quite plausible, but there is a possibility that it might have been one of the stolen packages. Whether any one package of stolen money contained an amount that would agree with the figures is known only to the authorities, and they are still very reticent regarding giving information.

It is stated that the defence, in the event of the prisoner's commitment for trial, can account for Ponton's whereabouts on the night of the robbery very easily, and that, although it will be unpleasant evidence for Ponton to have to produce, he will be able to do it.

Detective Dougherty, one of the Pinkerton men who is working on the case, is of opinion that a most valuable witness for the defence would be any man who was able to open the combination of a safe when he did not know what the combination was. The detective does not seem to think that there is such a man, although he is not absolutely positive. Even if a man is most expert in the safe business, the officer thinks it hardly likely that he could open a safe when he knew nothing whatever about the combination.

Mrs. Blewett, the witness on account of whose illness the prosecution asked the remand, has been unwell for some time, but will, it is expected, be able to attend and give her evidence to-morrow. If not, Lawyer Deroche said that the magistrate would in all probability wait upon the witness at her residence, which is directly over the Dominion Bank, and take her evidence. In conversation with The World, Mr. Deroche acquiesced that Mrs. Blewett's evidence will be to some extent in corroboration of that of Mrs. McGreer, given on Saturday. On the night of the robbery Mrs. Blewett heard a sort of crashing noise, similar to that which awoke Mrs. McGreer. It was probably the same noise that disturbed Mrs. McGreer, for it occurred at about the same time, and was apparently in the bank.

There is a story afloat around town which, if true, will explain Detective Wilkes' visit to the neighborhood of Orillia last week. It appears that when Ponton's effects were searched a photograph of a mulatto was found, and it was looked upon as a clue. Some of Fonton's friends said the original of the photograph was a clever boxer, with whom the accused, who was an all-round athlete, had sometimes sparred when up north. Detective Wilkes says there is nothing in the story and that his visit was of another nature altogether.

Mrs. Ponton, mother of the accused, is still the guest of Judge Wilkinson here, and is said to have to-day received a letter from a very wealthy Belleville lady, containing a most generous offer regarding funds for the defence of Ponton, should the case go to trial.

W. H. Green, who testified on Saturday, has gone back to Guelph.

A number of townspeople offered to pay the expenses of two constables and to furnish most substantial bail sureties if the prisoner would be allowed to stay at the Paisley House until the investigation was resumed.

Lawyers, detectives, witnesses and others engaged in the bank robbery case are arriving back in town to-night, prepared to continue the preliminary investigation. The community still refuse to entertain any idea of the guilt of the accused and some of his friends are to-night talking of arrangements to give him a great reception if he is acquitted. The prosecution are just as positive of a committal.

There seems to be no doubt that the detectives have a big card they have not yet played.

TIPS FROM THE CAPITAL.

The Premier Gone to Quebec—Judgment in the D. A. Railway v. the Queen and Queen v. Poupore.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier left this morning for Quebec and the only Ministers in town are Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. R. W. Scott, Hon. Dr. Borden and Hon. William Paterson.

A large deputation from Pontiac arrived this morning to interview the Premier on the distribution of patronage in that county. As Sir Wilfrid had started for Quebec, the deputation found they have lost their trouble.

In the Exchequer Court to-day Mr. Justice Burbidge gave judgment in the case of the Canada Atlantic Railway v. The Queen. The judgment was on a motion to make the judge's award as arbitrator a judgment of the court. The motion was refused for want of jurisdiction.

In the matter of the Queen v. Poupore et al, judgment was given for the defendants. In this case the Attorney-General sought to recover $44,909 as damages for alleged neglect of the defendants in allowing a boulder from one of their barges to remain in the Rapide Plat division of the St. Lawrence Canal, whereby the barge Acadia, sugar laden, belonging to A. E. D. Mackay & Sons, was sunk.

Buckskin Bag With $2500 in It.

New York, Oct. 11.—What was said to be the first gold received at the Assay Office direct from the Klondike was taken in there to-day. It was received from a man who said he was Charles F. Engle of this city, and that he had come direct from the Klondike. He carried with him in a buckskin bag about 130 ounces of gold dust, spangles and nuggets, which was said by the Assay Office experts to be worth altogether about $2500.

Boynton Must be Insane.

Leominster, Mass., Oct. 11.—John F. Boynton, a well-known resident of this place, shot and killed his wife this morning and then committed suicide by shooting. Family troubles are believed to have been the cause of the act; although several years ago Boynton was thought to be mildly insane.

Almost Distracted

Dreadful Suffering by a Newmarket Woman.

The Bones in the Nose Affected—Face Would Swell Until Her Eyes Were Closed—How Relieved.

NEWMARKET, ONT.—"I have had a good opportunity of noting the great medicinal powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years, and the disease had gone so far that the bones of the nose had become affected and particles had come away through an opening in the left side. Her eyesight was also affected to the extent that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered and at times was almost distracted. She was treated by four different doctors, one of whom was a specialist. They all said they could not do anything for her, as the disease had gone too far. Her nose would swell about every three days until her eyes would almost be closed. Then it would break through and the swelling would subside for a day or two. About Christmas she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has not been troubled with any swelling since, and the sore on the side of the nose has all healed. She is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it to any person who is suffering with catarrh." W. H. FURSIER.

DOWN WITH BRITAIN

Shouted the Delegates to the Irish I. L. Convention.

BITTER WORDS AGAINST ENGLAND.

The Resolutions Passed and the Speeches Made at the First General Convention of the Irish Independent League—The Redmond Leadership of the Parnellites Confirmed.

London, Oct. 11.—The Irish Independent League, organized by Mr. John Redmond, M.P., the Parnellite leader, opened its first general convention this afternoon in the Ancient concert rooms, here. Eight hundred enthusiastic delegates packed the hall and actively participated in cheering vociferously every point in the speeches. Mr. Redmond characterized Mr. Gladstone as "The Englishman who betrayed Ireland."

All the speeches paid tribute to the patriotism of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, and warm cheers greeted the entrance of the Redmonds, John Parnell and Patrick O'Brien into the hall.

Mr. John Redmond in a long speech denounced the Liberals for abandoning Home Rule, and declared that the only hope of Ireland was in independent action, without any alliance with the English parties. Mr. Redmond said there could be no reconciliation with the Dillonites unless the latter and their Liberal allies reinstated Home Rule as the first plank in their platform, and promised to appeal to the country if the House of Lords defeated Home Rule.

Resolutions were adopted reaffirming that the Irish question can only be settled by the concession of national self-government, and calling upon all members of Parliament who "for the last few years have pursued a mistaken policy" to "rejoin the Independent party, unite upon the principles of Charles Stewart Parnell, and demand the release of the political prisoners, as an act of simple justice and humanity."

Resolutions were also adopted, urging the Irish everywhere to commemorate the centenary of 1798, denouncing the Government for repudiating the report of the Royal Commission on the financial relations between Great Britain and Ireland, expressing regret at the necessity of raising a Parnellite fund, and calling upon Irishmen generally to respond to the appeal and "thereby remove from Ireland the stigma of ingratitude for the priceless services and devotion" of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, and "calling upon Messrs. Dillon, Davitt and Harrington to repay, out of the portion of the Paris fund allocated for that purpose, the £5000 due to the Parnell estate."

The climax of the convention was reached during the speech delivered by William Redmond, M. P. Incidentally he said that when the Dillonites rejected Parnell they "alienated the United States, thus killing the goose which laid the golden egg." Mr. Redmond said he would never walk into any room to be controlled by Dillon and Healy, though he was for unity, adding: "With all the royal processions through our streets it is time for Irishmen to say something. The great mass of the Irish people are to-day, and will be until liberty is given them, the enemies of England. England is a bully, a pirate and a savage. Whether in India or in Africa, the bloody flag of the British Empire has been advanced by plundering and destroying poor people. Our sympathy goes out to these poor people. God bless them and give success to their efforts. Three cheers for the men in India who are fighting England."

The delegates thereupon climbed upon their seats and shouted: "Down with Britain!"

There was much denunciation of Great Britain's proposal to give Ireland a Catholic university. The participation of the priests in politics was also denounced and the Healyites were denounced as the "assassins of Parnell."

There was no discord whatever, the resolutions were all adopted with enthusiasm, and the reading of a telegram from the Irish Independent League of New York was heartily cheered.

WILL CALL EVERYBODY OUT.

Four Hundred Thousand Workmen Will Quit Work in England.

London, Oct. 11.—The secretary of the Federated Trades, comprising 30 important industries, announces that the Executive Committee has definitely decided to call out all its members, in sympathy with the struggle of the engineers against their employers, on Friday next, when it is estimated that a total of four hundred thousand will be out of work on account of the great labor dispute.

The Executive Committee of the Amalgamated Engineers' Society threaten to withdraw the engineers in the ocean mail service in the event of a continuance of the present dispute.

This Looks Foolhardy.

London, Oct. 11.—William Oldham of Nottingham proposes to cross the Atlantic in a steel boat 99 inches long, 26 inches beam and 42 inches deep. It will be propelled by a screw driven by a bicycle-like arrangement.

A sort of hood, that can be used in rough weather, will completely protect the occupant. The boat will be provisioned for 50 days, in which time Oldham expects to reach New York. He essayed to start from Liverpool yesterday, but a defect compelled him to delay his departure for a week.

M Meline is Full of Hope.

Paris, Oct. 11.—Speaking at Reminsemont yesterday, Prime Minister Meline said: "We have succeeded in circumscribing, I hope in extinguishing, the conflagration in the east. Thanks to the inflexible tenacity with which M. Hanotaux clung to that safety anchor, the European concert, which formerly was an empty phrase, it has become a living reality and a great historic factor, opening a vast horizon full of hope for the future."

M. Meline added that the concert was chiefly made possible by the close union and identity of views of France and Russia.

Don't Agree With Mr. Blake.

London, Oct. 11.—(Telegram Cable.)—The Pall Mall Gazette comments on the speech made by Hon. Edward Blake at Toronto on the subject of Irish unity and the Irish abroad. In his speech Mr. Blake prophesied that the differences among the Irish would soon disappear, and, referring to this prophecy, The Gazette says it would be much more impressive if the arguments upon which it is based were stronger.

Marlborough Heir's Christening.

London, Oct. 11.—The heir to the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, born on Sept. 18, will be baptised on Saturday next at the Chapel Royal, St. James' Palace. The Prince of Wales will act as sponsor and the Princess of Wales will attend the ceremony if she is in London at the time.

Liverpool is Waking Up.

Liverpool, Oct. 11.—The Post of this city says that the Mersey Dock Board is preparing a great improvement scheme that will involve the expenditure of £4,000,000. It is said that the Board will modernize the central docks so that the largest vessels will be enabled to discharge at any state of the tide, and will probably build a new deep-water dock at Birkenhead, across the river from Liverpool.

ANTI-TAX RIOT IN ROME.

Angry Shouts Followed by a Raid of Police and a serious Fight.

Rome, Oct. 11.—A large procession of tradesmen, headed by the pro-syndic of Rome and the President of the Chamber of Commerce, marched to the office of the Minister of the Interior this afternoon, to protest against, and confer with the Government regarding, the increased taxation. Premier Rudini, who is also Minister of the Interior, received a committee representing the tradesmen and promised that all possible would be done to promote friendly relations and greater equity between the tax collectors and tax payers.

In the meanwhile a large crowd of people had collected around the Ministry, angry shouts were heard and some of those present tore up paving stones and otherwise assumed a very threatening attitude. This caused the police to make an attempt to disperse the violent portion of the crowd, and in the conflict which followed six policemen were injured and one rioter was killed.

The mob raised revolutionary cries while the fighting was in progress, revolvers were freely used, many persons in the crowd were injured and twenty of the leaders of the disturbance were arrested. The condition of three of the wounded policemen is serious.

Blanco's Intentions.

Madrid, Oct. 11.—General Ramon Blanco, the new Captain-General of Cuba, announces that he will act with great energy against the insurgents, and will employ all political means to restore equality of treatment in the various sections of the community. The Captain-General adds that he has the greatest desire to end the horrors of war and to establish peace by the system which he adopted in 1879.

The inhabitants of Palma, the birthplace of General Weyler are preparing to give him an ovation on his return to his home.

Japan and the Conference.

London, Oct. 11.—An official telegram received here from Yokohama says that Japan accepted the invitation to send a representative to the sealing conferences, shortly to be held in Washington, on the understanding that the whole sealing question is to be discussed and not simply the questions which are covered by the Paris award. Japan having no interest in the Pribiloff Islands.

CAME TO A SUDDEN STOP.

The Taking of Testimony in the Luetgert Case Concluded Yesterday Probably the Jury Will be Reached Saturday.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—The taking of testimony in the Luetgert trial came to a sudden and unexpected close to-day. Witnesses whom the defence had called in sur-rebuttal failed to respond when their names were called, and finally ex-Judge Vincent announced to the court that the case of the defence was all in. "We rest," concluded Luetgert's chief counsel.

A sigh of relief was heard in the court room. After a brief consultation by the counsel in the case, it was agreed to begin arguments to the jury this afternoon.

Assistant State Attorney McEwen opened. He will be followed by Attorney Phalen. Ex-Judge Vincent will close for the defence and State Attorney Deneen will close for the prosecution. The case will go to the jury probably next Saturday night.

Adolph L. Luetgert and his cell mate, Nic Marzen, who is under sentence of death for murder, helped make up a congregation of 400 male prisoners at the jail last night who took part in a Christian Endeavor meeting.

Wise Men Know

It is folly to build upon a poor foundation, either in architecture or in health. A foundation of sand is insecure, and to deaden symptoms by narcotics or nerve compounds is equally dangerous and deceptive. The true way to build up health is to make your blood pure, rich and nourishing by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills act easily and promptly on the liver and bowels. Cure sick headache.

Pain in the Back.

Mr. M. P. Halpin, Brockville, Ont., makes a statement as follows: "For two years I suffered from kidney trouble, causing severe pain across my back, dizziness, headache, sleeplessness, etc. I had often to lean on the counter when serving a customer, so intense was the pain in my back. On taking Doan's Kidney Pills I improved from the very first, and now after using three boxes am all right; all my pains, aches and dizziness having disappeared, thanks to Doan's Pills."

Piles! Piles! Itchin Piles.

Symptoms—Moisture intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumour. All druggists or by mail, for 50 cents. DYING FROM AN ABSCESS.

The Excitement of a Fire Caused it to Break and Now the Old Man is Improving—Winnipeg Notes.

Winnipeg, Oct. 11. — (Special.) — George Gooderham of Toronto, who has been visiting the city for some time, left for the west to-day.

Old man Frederick Huggins, aged 77 years, was in the burned-out section near Beausejour, and was not expected to live for days before the fire. When the fire came he was carried out on the river bank, where he remained without shelter 24 hours. The excitement broke an abscess, from which he was suffering, and brought relief. In carrying him out he was burned about the foot and back. He is now in the General Hospital here and much improved. This makes nine sufferers under treatment in the city.

CHARGED WITH PERJURY.

The Reeve of the Village of Shelburne and a Number of Farmers Sent for Trial on this Charge.

Shelburne, Ont., Oct. 11.—John Hamilton, Reeve of Shelburne, and a Justice of the Peace; James Simmons, Thomas Gallagher and Adam Loudon, farmers in the vicinity. John Coleman of Shelburne and James Small of Melancthon have been released on bail, to appear at the assizes, charged with perjury.

The Crown declares that it has in its possession information of a startling nature with regard to a widely ramified system of perjury, by which witnesses were kept on tap, and were "squeezed" for long or short memories, as the circumstances of litigation required.

The figure which stands out most prominently in these cases is that of Reeve John Hamilton, J.P., of Shelburne, who is known far and wide through the country as "Jack" Hamilton. Hamilton is an implement agent, who does a supplementary business in notes and mortgages. He is a shrewd man, and his note and mortgage business has developed largely. Once a plowboy, he has always kept in touch with the farmers, whom, the Crown says, he uses for his own purposes.

Hamilton is considered the chief figure in the conspiracy, but it is only fair to say that so far the evidence against him is least of all. This the Crown alleges is because it was Hamilton's plan always to work by deputy.

The authorities are confident that there will be a number of convictions. James Dick, a farmer at Melancthon, has made a voluntary but startling statutory declaration. Other arrests will follow, and there is a general scurry for cover.

The present sensation has been caused by the perseverance of a lone but resolute widow, who considered herself defrauded by Reeve Hamilton.

THE OLD, OLD STORY.

People Continue To Suffer Because They Use Worthless Medicines.

Paine's Celery Compound Never Fails to Cure.

Those who suffer from disease cannot hope for a cure while they go on experimenting with medicines that have no healing powers or life-giving virtues.

Paine's Celery Compound is the only medicine that gives a guarantee of cure. Its great and noble originator, Professor Edward Phelps, M.D., spent a lifetime before he gave his finished triumph, Paine's Celery Compound, to sick men and women. When it was finally launched on an ocean of suffering and disease, it carried an assurance of new life and happiness to tens of thousands who owe their present good health to it, and who have testified strongly in its favour.

The victories that Paine's Celery Compound have won in the cure of blood diseases are proofs that it is the best purifier of the blood that the world has ever seen. In every case it cleanses the whole system; it braces the nerves, builds up the flesh and establishes robust and lasting health.

Mr. A. E. Hammond, of Manonville, P. Q., who was wonderfully cured after all medicines failed, writes as follows:

"Some five years ago it was my sad mission to be afflicted with scrofula sores, of which I had five on one leg and three on the other. They were running sores for four years. In addition to this I was taken down with rheumatism in the small of my back so badly that I could not get off my bed; and to further intensify my sufferings, I had sick headache in the worst form.

"While in this condition, a friend of mine, Mr. Perkins, a merchant of this place, sold me a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, with the express understanding that if it did me no good I should pay nothing for it.

"In accepting this offer I had no idea of ever feeling any obligation to pay for the Compound, as I had no faith in its doing me good. To my very great surprise, however, I grew better; and by the time I had used three bottles I was as well as ever, and what I never expected to see was realized, viz, the sores on my legs were entirely healed.

"It would mean the use of pages to tell one half of what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. This marvellous cure has been in effect for nearly a year.

"There are many other cases of wonderful cures in this locality from the use of the same great agency, and no case of failure has ever been recorded, nor can there ever be one in my opinion after such tests as I have personally witnessed."

BURGLARS AT DAWSON CITY.

The Canadian Gold Commissioner's Quarters Broken Into and $3300 in Gold Stolen—Town Site of Skaguay

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 11.—The steamer City of Seattle arrived here last night from Skaguay and Dyea. Among her passengers were James Clark and C. A. Brown of Chicago, who left Dawson City on Sept. 7 and came down over the Dalton trail, making the trip in 26 days. They confirm previous reports as to the scarcity of provisions. She brings the news that on Sept. 5 burglars broke into the Canadian Gold Commissioner's cabin at Dawson and stole between $3000 and $4000 worth of gold dust and nuggets.

According to a story brought down by one of the Seattle's passengers, Bernard Moore is endeavoring to throw the town site of Skaguay into the possession of Canada by conveying to the British Yukon Company. Moore, it is alleged, is a British subject, but in his application to the United States Land Office at Sitka to make final proof and entry, it is alleged that he represented himself to be a citizen of the United States.

REV. CANON CHANCE.

This Useful Missionary of the Church of England to the Indians Passes Away.

Paisley, Ont., Oct. 11.—This morning early saw the close of a most useful life in the death of Rev. Canon Chance, father-in-law of Dr. McArton. He was born in Ambleote, on the banks of the Stour, Worcestershire, England, educated at the Endowed school of Red Hill and at the College of Cheltenham, but before graduating he received an urgent call to undertake missionary work among the Indians on the north shores of Lakes Huron and Superior. Accepting this call he left England in 1853, under the auspices of the S.P.G., with the promise of ordination in Canada, and was subsequently ordained by the first Bishop of Toronto, Right Rev. John Strachan, making his home at Garden River. He was the only missionary of the Church of England in that vast country other than Dr. O'Meara, Government chaplain to the Indians of Manitoulin Islands.

He declined the offer, in 1870, of Georgetown, Ont., Church, also the mission of Kanyungeh among the Six Nations, by Bishop Cronyn of Huron diocese, not feeling justified in then leaving the Indians. In 1871 he was again requested by Bishop Cronyn, and seconded by Hon. Mr. Botsford, to accept their offered charge. This time he yielded, leaving Garden River. Upon his removal from Toronto to Huron diocese he and his wife were tendered a hearty vote of thanks by the synod for valuable services to the Indians. He labored most successfully in his new mission from 1871 to 1879, when he was appointed by Bishop Hellmuth to the parish of Paisley and Pinkerton.

In 1880 he was made, by Right Rev. M. S. Baldwin, Lord Bishop of Huron, a Canon of St. Paul's Cathedral, London. On Sept. 29 he was stricken with paralysis of the left side, remaining conscious until Oct. 9, after which he was unable to speak. He has been most dear to many Paisley people, and had done great good here for his Master's cause. The funeral will leave here Wednesday morning via G.T.R. for Tryconnel.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, W. H. T. MULFORD, Agency Supplies, P.O. Box 59, St. Henri, Que.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 11.—A car on the Oregon City Electric line was held up by two masked men at Meldrum station, four miles from Oregon City, about 7 o'clock last night. There were 35 passengers on board and the highwaymen went through the pockets of all of them, getting about $90. Many of the passengers put their money and valuables in their shoes or dropped them on the floor.

OUR MANTLES AND JACKETS.

We drew your special attention yesterday to our superb MANTLES and JACKETS—we do so again to-day—they deserve our eulogies Those we have sold have carried our name mutely—though effectively, from one end of the country to the other. Those sold in future will do so just as effectively, and will establish our reputation for keeping the most select stock in Peterborough

The QUALITY of the cloth has been the first requisite we demanded when purchasing our stock—the STYLE was obliged to come up to our required standard of novelty—the TRIMMING was an important factor in our requirements—the LININGS were carefully examined and selected with the greatest deliberation,—the making and strength of the SEWING was thoroughly tested—and even the BUTTONS were accepted only when they agreed with the exacting mandates of the latest Fall and Winter fashions

You have—when purchasing from us—our guarantee that every detail, necessary for a first-class and attractive MANTLE OR JACKET, has been incorporated in the manufacture of our stock.

YOUR DECISION, after inspecting our goods will be in our favour. You will be delighted at our immense variety, as much as at our stylish and taking patterns. We await your judgment with calm confidence in our ability to please you in your choice.

THE PETERBOROUGH-MARKHAM LACROSSE PROTEST.

The Claim as Against Wilson Falls Through—That Regarding Glover Considered To-day.

A meeting of the Judicial Committee of the Canadian Lacrosse Association was held at the Rossin House, Toronto, last night at the call of President Craig, to consider the protests of Peterborough against Markham, and Streetsville against the Elms. The members present were:—Frank Nelson, chairman, President Craig and ex-President D. A. Rose. The Peterborough case was presented by Mr. Alf. Terrill and replied to by Mr. W. Hall, of Markham. It was claimed that George Wilson, and Glover, of Markham, were ineligible, the former as having changed his residence and played with another team; the latter, as an expelled player, who had not been reinstated. There was no difference of opinion in the committee on the Wilson case, and he was considered eligible; but the discussion over Glover's standing was so warm that Mr. Rose eventually withdrew, breaking up the quorum, so that no business was done.

The President called another meeting for to day at 11 o'clock, ex-President J. G. Roberts, of Toronto, and H. J. P. Good, of this city, being added to the committee.

LATER—THE PROTEST THROWN OUT.

(Special to the Examiner.

Toronto, Oct. 12.—Peterborough's protest was thrown out on the ground that Wilson played with Campbellford innocently, not knowing that it would disqualify him. Regarding Glover, the Committee decided that Markham played him, thinking he had been reinstated when he had not been. Although Glover is still suspended, yet Markham has been awarded the series, but must play the rest of the games without Glover. Peterborough gets protest money back.

NOTE. — There's something decidedly "queer" about this decision. The C. L. A. Board is altogether too "innocent."

OTONABEE WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Miss Agnes J. Nelson and Mr. Fred D. McIntyre.

An interesting ceremony was performed at the residence of Mr. Jas. Lang, Otonabee, on Wednesday, Oct. 6th, when Miss Agnes J. Nelson, eldest daughter of the late David Nelson, grand daughter of Mr. James Lang, sr., and niece of John Lang, Esq., M.P., was united in marriage to Mr. Fred D. McIntyre eldest son of John H. McIntyre, Esq., of Otonabee.

The wedding took place at 5 o'clock in the evening, the rite being performed by the Rev. F. Andrews, of Keene. It may be remarked as a peculiar coincidence that the bride's parents were married in the same room, on the same date and by the same minister twenty-five years ago. The bride, who was charmingly attired in a beautiful costume of white silk, orange blossoms and bridal veil, was led to the altar by her uncle, Mr. Jas. Nelson, while her cousin, Miss S. Nelson, played the wedding march. The bridesmaid was Miss Mabel Nelson, sister of the bride, who also beautifully dressed. The groom was assisted by Mr. Jas. Lang, druggist, of Peterborough.

At the conclusion of the marriage ceremony the wedding party, which was composed chiefly of relatives of the young couple, repaired to the dining room, where a sumptuous repast was served. Upon returning to the drawing room a very pleasant evening was spent, and at an early hour the newly-wedded pair, accompanied by a few intimate friends, departed for their new home in Otonabee.

The many warmly expressed wishes for future happiness, and the numerous beautiful and useful presents received by the bride and groom, attest the high esteem in which they are held by a wide circle of friends.

Foy was convicted on the charge and Judge Weller imposed a sentence of eighteen months in the Central Prison.

Grand Concert.

The appearance of Miss Ethel Webb, elocutionist, and Miss Lillie Norman, soprano soloist, at the Charlotte street Methodist church on Oct. 18th cannot fail to attract a large audience. The Guelph raid speaks in no uncertain sound as follows: "Miss Webb possesses all the natural qualifications that make a gifted and talented elocutionist. She gives evidence in her recitals of her English tuition, that deep but quiet forcefulness that marks the stage of the old school being a predominating feature. Miss Webb is equally happy in her delineation of humour and pathos, and her heavy passages are illumined by a passion at once strong and well sustained. In her sympathetic rendition of "Genevra," a tragic Spanish tale, her audience hung in her words with intense interest and delight."

GEORGE STREET BRIDGE TO BE AT ONCE RE-BUILT.

THE COUNCIL AWARDS MR. J. E. HAYES THE CONTRACT.

Mr. Ranney's Plans Approved—Animated Discussion over the Matter—The Responsibility for the Failure of the First Bridge Discussed.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held on Monday evening. Present, the Mayor in the chair, and Messrs. Dawson, Davis, Robertson, Deane, McWilliams, Neill, Best, Meldrum and Laplante.

The Mayor stated that the meeting was called in reference to the George street bridge.

THE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

Mr. McWilliams, chairman, presented the report of the Street and Bridge Committee as follows:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough.

Gentlemen,—Your Street and Bridge Committee beg leave to report, and recommend as follows:

1 That Chambers street be watertabled and a culvert put in at the corner of Chambers and Water streets.

2 That the contract for repairing the George street bridge, according to specifications prepared by Mr Ranney, be let to John E. Hayes, at the sum named in his tender, namely, $870, he to furnish security for the fulfilment of the contract.

3 That John Hoban be paid $10 for extra street watering ordered by the committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. B. MCWILLIAMS,
Chairman.

Peterborough, Oct. 11th, 1897.

Mr. Best objected that the report was based on a lack of authority on the part of the street inspector.

Mr. McWilliams explained that the action recommended by the report was based on a resolution adopted at the last meeting of the council in regard to repairing George street bridge. He explained that Mr. Ranney had prepared plans and tenders had been asked by Mr. Ranney of contractors who had appliances to do the work—Messrs. John E. Hayes, James Bogue and Kennedy & Wade, and the tender of Mr. Hayes as being the lowest and nearer the estimation of Mr. Ranney, had been accepted. The committee had decided on Saturday night that the contract should be let on the figures presented.

Mr. Best contended that Mr. Ranney had only been asked to ascertain the cost of the work and had no authority to ask for tenders.

Mr. McWilliams' asserted that there should be an investigation into the construction of the "rotten job" the George street bridge had proven to be. Either Mr. Best or Mr. Belcher was responsible for the extra expenditure on the George street bridge. Mr. McWilliams pointed out that girders had been put in strong enough to carry one hundred tons and that it was evident that some one had been working in the interests of the Bridge Works to enable that Company to dispose of certain girders they had on hand. The span had been contracted to allow of the use of these girders, and in no very uncertain way Mr. Best was associated with the transaction.

Mr. Best explained that the reduction of space had been made by the consent of the committee. Mr. Grant, the contractor, had pointed out to Mr. Belcher, the engineer, that the west wall should be piled. If Mr. Belcher had been afraid of the work not standing, why had he not acted accordingly? If his reputation was at stake on the reduction of the space, why did he not object to its being narrowed? Whatever had been done in the matter, had been done by the consent of the committee. In reply to Mr. McWilliams' implied taunt of his being in the pay of any concern, Mr. Best asserted that he had never made a dollar out of his position as councillor.

Mr. Dawson said he believed that the engineer's action had been without proper authority. He objected to the present mode of doing the work—a coffer dam should be built. He added that he believed Mr. Best was responsible for the reduction of the width of the opening. Mr. Belcher was not present at the time Mr. Best had said that the girders could not be got in time.

Mr. Best claimed that Mr. Belcher did not object to the reduction of the opening.

Mr. Dawson concluded his remarks by saying that he would not vote for accepting the present contract.

Mr. Best explained that Mr. Belcher was well aware of the facts, that girders could not be got in good time to finish the bridge before winter.

Mr. Dawson said that if Mr. Belcher had been left alone wooden girders would be used temporarily—till steel girders could be got from England.

Mr. Neill contended that both Mr. Best and Mr. McWilliams were, each in his own way, working for the interests of the town. He believed that the bridge should be repaired by tender. He believed that Mr. Ranney would act in the interests of the town in the matter.

On motion Mr. Bogue was heard in reference to the tenders for the bridge.

Mr. Bogue stated that Mr. Ranney had asked him to figure on the plan and he gave him an estimate as to what the work was worth; there were no specifications, no details as to the length of piles, class of work, &c., and he left the impression by his remarks that he had not regularly tendered for the work.

In answer to a question, Mr. Ranney said that he told Mr. Bogue that he was also asking others for a tender. He did not show the figures of any tenderer to any other prospective tenderer. He had told Mr. McWilliams about what the work would cost.

Mr. McWilliams asserted that Mr. Ranney had acted squarely. He had not betrayed any confidence in respect to the figures of any of the tenderers. Mr. McWilliams showed that Mr. Bogue was a bona fide tenderer, and he read a paper signed by Mr. Bogue, stating that he would do the work on the George street bridge, according to plans, for $985.

Mr. Hayes, being heard, said Mr. Ranney asked him to give a figure upon the repairing of the bridge. He had explained to him what was required to be done.

Mr. Best adhered to the opinion that the best way was to completely unwater and put timbers under the wall. He said it would only cost about $1000; Mr Bogue was willing to do it for that, and the latter being appealed to to sustain the statement, did so.

Mr. McWilliams pointed out that the large amount of extra work this process would involve in addition to the figures for the proposed plan made the proposition ridiculous.

A considerable difference of opinion was expressed as to the advisability of the plans upon which it was proposed to repair the bridge. Mr. Hayes and Mr. Ranney said the present plans would work well, and Mr. Bogue thought the work would not be permanent and effective as proposed.

The opinion of Mr. Wade, of the contracting firm of Kennedy & Wade, was asked as to the effectiveness of the plan of Mr. Ranney. He said that it was practicable. A good deal depended upon the velocity of the current. He would recommend sheet piling along the face of the piles proposed by Mr. Ranney's plan to prevent "scouring." There was little danger from a current of three miles an hour. Unwatering was a good plan if one got to a foundation that would not permit of "scouring"—say three or four feet below the bed of the creek.

Mr. McWilliams moved, seconded by Mr. Neill, the adoption of the report.

Mr. Best asked Mr. Ranney if he thought the plan proposed would be a safe one?

Mr. Ranney—Yes.

Mr. Best—All right; then you assume the responsibility?

Mr. Ranney—Yes.

The report was adopted and Mr. McWilliams introduced a bylaw confirming the contract with Mr. John E. Hayes, which passed its several readings and was signed. The clerk read a copy of the contract to which the securities necessary were annexed.

THE GOVERNMENT'S CO-OPERATION.

Mr. Dawson moved that the Government be asked to lower the water in the Little Lake as much as possible. He pointed out that if the stop logs were taken out as low as possible the danger to the bridge would be removed. If the lake had been lowered he thought the bridge would still be standing all right.

Mr. McWilliams said he had spoken to Mr. Rogers on the subject and if he declined to act as requested the government should be written on the subject. He seconded Mr. Dawson's motion.

Mr Geo. S. Matthews was heard respecting the bridge on Dalhousie street. Mr. Ranney had reported this bridge unsafe. It had since been propped up and the timbers were in such a position as to produce trouble with the ice in the spring.

Mr. Ranney said a new bridge was needed and the matter was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

After an informal discussion of several other matters, the council adjourned.

DO SOMETHING FOR THE GIRLS.

Young Men Should Not Monopolise Christian Interest to the Exclusion of Our Girls.

To-day Mrs. Beck, vice-president of the Women's Benevolent Association, in conversation with a representative of THE EXAMINER on behalf of the work she represents, entered a protest against the manner in which the care of homeless, parentless, and in the best sense, friendless girls is neglected and ignored. It was pointed out that young men are coddled and cared for, palatial buildings erected and expensively equipped and the town vigorously canvassed for subscriptions, while the quiet, modest struggling Association for young women is allowed to struggle along to a very large extent unaided and ignored by the Christian community.

Mrs. Beck voiced the opinion of her co-workers in expressing her regret at this condition of things. There were numerous girls, homeless, or without wholesome home influence, which is almost as bad, or without parents, who are allowed to go their way uncared for, exposed to nameless evils and dangers, with the result of often coming to moral destruction and too often through the agency of young men in whom as a class so much interest is taken; and no helping hand is stretched out to help them in a way at all comparable to the lavish care bestowed upon the looking after of our young men. It is far more important to look after our girls—if they fall their fall is sadder as to personal consequences than the lapse of a young man from the ways of good and honest living; besides, the girls of to-day will be the mothers of the future, and the necessity of giving them moral preparation for such great responsibilities should arouse the solicitude of every Christian worker and philanthropic citizen.

A DELICATE REPROOF.

A Reminder of a Corporation Promise.

Your scruples and arguments bring to my mind
A story to pat, you may think it is coined.
On purpose to answer you, out of my mint;
But I can assure you I saw it in print.
—Cowper.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

SIR,—I hope it will not be considered a dispargement of your valuable paper by asking you to give me a small space for what can only be of interest to but few of your readers. Well, I must not commit the error of those preachers whose sermons are all introduction. I do not know, Sir, if yo are in the secret that we had the promise of the material for a sidewalk on what is known as Babb lane. The promise was given by two set of councillors. This summer the work was begun; the old sidewalk has been taken away and nothing left for those who have to travel that way but to go through the dust at at present, and soon the mud will be worse. I do not know what to do in the matter. I have reminded some of the officials, but it seems to no purpose. Has it been forgotten? How are they to be reminded? With your permission I will try once more. The late Duke of Bedford, Hon. Lord John Russel, of free trade notoriety, had a rural seat in the county of Devon, bordering on the River Tamar, at one of the fording places. There is on the Cornish side a very neat cottage called the "Fisherman's Cottage." There once stood on the same site and old ruinous dwelling. The Duke on one of his annual visits promised the keeper of the boat a better house, but for some reason failed to give the proper instruction to build the house, so the poor old couple had to put in another winter much to their discomfort, but in fulfilment of the promise made long since, summer followed the winter, and the duke returned to his seat. It was then as now the custom of the nobility to attend the parish church, so the duke was in his place on the Sabbath day and so was the poor boat keeper. He was one of the officials and had to fill his place as clerk. It was his part to ask the choir to sing to the praise and glory of God a certain psalm; so he gave out this one: "How long wilt Thou forget me, Lord." The same psalm was sung every Sunday during the duke's visit. It was so peculiar that after the service on the last Sunday the duke asked him the reason for repeating the psalm. The clerk said His Grace had promised him a better house, but he had still to live in the old one and he thought His Grace must have forgotten it; they were much in need of a better. I need not say the pretty cottage was built, and the duke's next visit to the said church saw the old clerk with a happy countenance. The psalm was changed and "How Pleasant is thy Dwelling Place" was sung. "A word to the wise is sufficient.

Thanking you for this assistance, as in duty bound, I will ever pray.

Yours,
J. BABB.

When Women Speak they Mean What they Say.

Diamond Dyes their Favourites

Farmers' wives and daughters are large consumers of Diamond Dyes. These thrifty and economizing women well know how new dresses, new costumes and new suits can be made out of garments that have become faded and discoloured. Farmers' wives and daughters invariably make use of the Diamond Dyes because they are the strongest and most brilliant in colour.

Mrs. John I. Sexsmith of Roseberry, Man., who has been a user of Diamond Dyes for years, writes as follows:

"I am a farmer's wife and have used your Diamond Dyes for over ten years with most satisfactory results. I think they are unequalled for good colours and for their non fading qualities."

STONE BREAKING TRAMPS.

An Effective Cure for the Nuisance of the "Gentleman of the Road."

The street metal that has been deposited on Hunter street during the last few days is facetiously called eggs—jail bird eggs. It is stone broken by the tramp element in the yards of the county jail during the past summer. A member of the council thinks that it hardly pays considering the fact that a man has to be paid $7.50 per week to see that the tramps do their work properly. But there is this point in its favour. The tramps who thrus. their unwelcome presence upon the town are made to earn what they eat and their terrible fate of being compelled to work acts as a detriment with the result that there are now only two tramps in jail to do the stone breaking. One would think that within reasonable limits, we cannot pay too high a price for the luxury of being freed from the tramp nuisance.

ACETYLENE GAS.

Its Advantages Demonstrated — A Million Dollar Company Formed in Chicago.

Mr. J. S. Earle is in town representing Mr. D. R. Leavens, agent for the Automatic Acetylene Gas Apparatus. One of the plants has been operating with the greatest success in the fruit store of Mr. Philp, George street. Last night, when other users of the ordinary gas were groping in darkness, Mr. Philp's store was brilliantly illuminated. No better object lesson of the superiority of Acetylene gas could be furnished. The following from the Toronto Evening News of October 9th, will be of interest.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—A new gas company has entered the Chicago and suburban territory. Its capital stock is placed at $1,000,000 and every dollar of it has been subscribed. The new corporation, which is known as the Acetylene Gas, Light & Fuel Company, expects to be supplying Acetylene natural and coal gas to Chicago within the next thirty days. The price of illuminating gas will be $1.00 per thousand feet, and the tariff for heating purposes will be 50 cents per thousand feet. 1d

MARK STREET CHURCH NOTES.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. E. Moore, Ph. B., the morning service was ably conducted by Mr. W. Might, who took the place of Rev. E. Cragg, who was unavoidably absent. Mr. Might took as his text Joshua 24—15, "Choose ye this day whom ye will serve." He showed very ably that man is the only created being to whom the privilege of choice is given and that, therefore, man is under great responsibility. Man is not only allowed to choose, but is compelled to do so. He must choose between serving God and serving Satan, and both of these are bidding for his service, but we must remember that the wages of sin is death, while the gift of God is eternal life. For the servants of sin there awaits eternal punishment, but for the followers of God there await joys at His right hand forever more. Mr. Might preached an earnest discourse and urged all to choose the the service of God.

Rev. Mr. Grant, at the evening service took as his text Phil. ii, 12-13: "Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling, for it is God that worketh in you, both to will and to do of his own good pleasure." He gave an earnest discourse on the greatness and desirability of salvation, and urged all to accept it.

Rev. Mr. Moore was absent at Bethesda, the place where he first preached, conducting anniversary services.

The regular church prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday evening at 8 p.m.

On Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock the W.M.S. meeting will be held in the church, and all ladies, whether members or not, are cordially invited. Those who have autograph quilt blocks are asked to return them at this meeting.

The Finance Committee, which includes all the church officials, is to meet in the church on Thursday at 8 p.m. It is hoped all will attend.

Mr. Armstrong will conduct the cottage prayer meeting this week. It will be held at the parsonage on Friday evening. All will be welcome.

The attendance at the Sabbath school is increasing. Everyone, young and old, will be made welcome, and those who are willing to assist will find ample opportunity to do so. The school meets at 2:30. Come and enjoy the service.

WHEN DOCTORS FAILED.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, as Usual, Worked a Cure.

STRATFORD, Oct. 11.—There are few people in this city who do not know Mrs. R. Roberts, Downie street. She has been an invalid for some years, and her case awakened the sympathy of her neighbours, who were confident there was no cure for her. Judge of their surprise and delight on hearing what Mrs. Roberts tells thus: "I have been afflicted during three years with kidney disease. Have used doctors' medicines but could not get cured. I have used five boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am now cured. You may publish this if you choose." This is a short statement, but it tells a great deal.

A LETTER WRITTEN FROM THE YUKON.

MR. W. J. BAPTIE WRITES HOME FROM SKAGUAY.

An Interesting Communication From One of the Lakefield Party, Which is on its Way to the Klondyke Country—Many Discouraged Gold Seekers Returning.

Mr. W. J. Baptie, of Lakefield, who left with the G. A. Strickland party for the Klondyke, writes the following interesting letter home to his sister, Miss Maude Baptie. As will be seen it has been quite a long time on the road:

SKAGUAY, Sept. 18th, 1897.

Poly Strickland and I have just returned to Skaguay. We started out on the trail from here to Dawson City for a few miles to see what it looked like. It is something awful. Mud is over one foot deep, and the rain is so heavy here we have to wade through three feet of water in some places. It rains or snows in the mountains now all the time. We heard that the bridge over the river gave way owing to the heavy rains, and when we arrived at the place, there were hundreds of men there. Two men were trying to get a rope across the stream, in order to get a punt across to bring the men over. On this trail men pack their stuff on their backs, and put it on horses to get it over the mountains. You have no idea what this trail is like. There are hundreds of dead horses lying along it, and men nearly starving. Many of the men are returning dead broke, no money to get anything, and stand in a fair way of starving.

THE TRAIL IS BLOCKED

until it freezes up, and in many places you have to walk over dead horses. In some places it is only two feet wide.

Well they got the punt across the river all right, and we gave the two men a hand with it. The river here is something like ours in high water, only it is much swifter.

The men running the punt charge four bits to cross, which amounts to 50c. Money goes by bits here—two bits 25c., four bits 50c., etc. We stayed about half an hour and the two fellows made over $50 in that time. It was an awful sight to see the poor fellows who came over in the punt, all wet through, their clothes nearly torn off them, and a pack of one hundred pounds on their backs. They are some of the men who are returning. If Polly and I had know the bridge was gone we would have had a ferry there ourselves, as on our return another fellow had one, so we saw it was no use for us to put one on.

We arrived in Skaguay on Friday noon and I was quite glad to get here, for it was very rough on the boat. It was so rough that I had to get hold of my berth and hang on to keep on my feet. Everything was rolling about the cabin, and the bedding was thrown off the bed. It was a sight to see our room. The Mounted Police and I roomed together, and we were all

PRETTY WHITE AND SICK.

It is not the nicest thing in the world to be sea sick.

After arriving we went up town to see if Darcy Strickland had left any news for us. We found a man Darcy had left to look after us, and we were to stay in his shack which was a big relief for us. We then went to the boat to get our stuff, but we had to stay on until the afternoon, as the Inspector was going through our stuff. There being no dock here, the boat had to anchor out. The tide rises 25 feet here, and we had to wait till it rose enough to float the scow. While waiting we went on loading our stuff in a life boat. I went with the first load to help unload it, and when we got about 150 yards from the beach, the boat stuck fast. We then had to wade ashore with our stuff, and as we had over two ton, it was an awful job. I had two boxes of tried potatoes on my back, walking in three feet of water. Before I got to shore I was played out, and on account of the water I could not put them down to rest. I will

NEVER FORGET THE RELIEF

I experienced when one of the boys relieved me. I got a wagon and took one load to the shack and left Poly to bring the other. It was an experience I shall never forget. As I told you before, it rains nearly all the time, and it is pouring now. I have a whole rubber suit, and can go through four feet of water without getting wet. We got in the shack that night about 10.30 feeling pretty tired. The boys had a hot whisky for us, which braced us up wonderfully. We are all feeling pretty blue to-day on account of not having done any hard work for so long.

Skaguay is only six or eight weeks old, and there are hundreds of men here, but very few women. There are also lots of horses and mules around the place. There are all kinds of stores, and the gambling dens are flourishing. The mud on the streets is about a foot deep and you have to walk through it as there are no walks of any kind. There is a great deal of drinking and smoking done here, the price not seeming to make any difference. A drink or a cigar cost 25 cents. The blacksmiths get $10 for shoeing a horse here, and $1 has been paid for one horse shoe nail. There are horses here with the all over their backs from packing. The poor things have no shelter but are tied out to trees in all the rain. We expect G. A. Strickland and F. Barlee on Sunday.

Sunday, 19th—Everyone is working now, and you hear nothing but hammers going. Last night four of us took a walk around town to see the sights. We went into a big saloon and dance hall. All kinds of people were in it. Girls with bloomers and knee rubber boots on and all smoking, drinking and dancing. We then went to the Yukon Hotel, where gambling was going on in every form. On every table you would see a pile of gold or silver.

We are going by the Dyea route. It is four miles from here.

Sept. 20th.—We expected the boat every day and I had your letter to send back on her, but it only arrived to-day, so I opened the letter to give you a little later news. G. A. Strickland and F. Barlee did not come on the boat. We received word to-day that they were going to look up the Stickeen route, and we were to go in by the route we intended going. We expected G. Stone but he did not come. We are packing all our stuff into our sacks, as that is the only way Indians will pack it over the mountains. We expect to get a train of about twenty Indians to go. It costs thirty-five cents a pound to pack it over. We intend to start to-morrow for the pass. There was a big landslide here that buried up a number of tents and people, but it is not known how many are killed. The boys are ready to take this to the boat, so I will say good-bye.

W. J. BAPTIE.

FOUND DEAD.

Why did he do it? He had everything to live for,—happy home, wife, friends, money; but he shot himself through the heart. Why?

He couldn't have given a good reason himself. But everything looked gloomy to him. He was in a gloomy frame of mind. It was the way he looked at life that day. He had been living in too much of a hurry, rushing and driving at business, hustling through his meals, cutting short his sleep. His nerves got on edge; his stomach and liver got out of order; he grew dyspeptic and melancholy.

When the digestion is out of order there is little use trying to look on the bright side of things, practically there isn't any bright side. This is a dangerous condition to get into. Yet it is easy to get into and mighty hard to get out of it, unless you go about it in the right way.

There is a remedy that has pulled thousands of people right out of this depth of despair. It is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It acts directly upon the stomach and liver. It restores their natural capacity to nourish and purify the system. It purges away bilious poisons, feeds the nerve-centres with healthy, highly vitalized blood, and drives out the "blue devils" of melancholy and nervousness.

J. L. Warner, No. 1900 O Street, Sacramento, Cal., writes: "During the last five years I have been doctoring with as many as six different doctors here and in San Francisco for diseased stomach; but none of the doctors gave me even temporary relief. Two years ago I completely collapsed and had to give up all work. I have felt many times that I would like to leave this world. In looking over the ads in the San Francisco Examiner I ran across yours, and I now owe my life and present good health to Dr. Pierce's medicines. I have taken fourteen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four little vials of 'Pleasant Pellets,' and I am entirely well of all stomach trouble. Can sleep nine hours every night, and am now ready to go to work again."

SOAP BUBBLES.

Their Color and Their Wonderful Thinness Determined.

The extreme thinness of the bubble is indeed wonderful. It is estimated that the film in some places is only one three-millionths of an inch in thickness. Probably few of us can conceive of such thinness. Let us express it in another way. The Old and New Testament contain some three million letters. Now one three-millionth is such a part of an inch as the first letter of the Bible is a part of the sum of all its letters.

The bubble, however, is not of equal thickness at all points, and it is for this reason that it has the various colors. For instance, wherever the film is orange-red it measures about three one-millionths of an inch; where it is blue, eight one-millionths of an inch; and at a point where lemon-yellow is prominent, about twenty one-millionths of an inch. Perhaps you wonder why the colors change from one part of the soap bubble to another. This is because the film of the soap-bubble evaporates and grows thinner, but unequally so at different portions. A greenish blue with a pale rose-red spot near it indicates an extreme thinness, and at such a point the film is ready to give way at the least jar.

You will be glad to know the source of the beautiful colors. Everyone is delighted with them, even if not interested by the explanation of their origin. We may say that they come from the light. Light gives color to all objects, but not exactly as it does to the soap-bubble. White light from the sun can be broken into the seven colors which we have seen in the rainbow. In that instance the raindrops separate it into its parts. A glass prism will do the same, as you may prove by looking through a glass pendant from a hanging lamp. When the light reaches the surface of the soap-bubble a part is reflected from it, and we see images on its surface as if it were a curved mirror. Another portion of the light, however, enters the film and is separated so that a part of the seven colors are thrown into the bubble, and we can see them at various portions of the opposite surface. Another part of the light, after being broken by the film, is reflected by its inner surface back to our eyes, so that we see colors at the point where the light enters.—Jacob F. Butcher, in St. Nicholas.

YOUNG LAMONT'S CASE.

Neighbours Much Interested in the Story—Everyone Thought That the Youngster Would Die, but he's Very Much Alive Now.

DUNDALK, Ont. 4.—Hugh Lamont, of McIntyre, has a young son who is an object of interest throughout this whole section of country. From infancy the boy had dropsy, and was bloated and swollen all over. It seemed to the parents that death could be the only release to one attacked so young by this disease. They heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and began giving them to the child. With the first box the bloating and swelling began to disappear. Six boxes effected a perfect cure and the boy is now just as healthy a youngster as stirs up the dust on the high roads of Western Ontario.

Dairy Suggestions.

Every cow should yield 6000 pounds of milk per annum.

Many a cow is doing her best to run her owner into a poorhouse; many another cow is paying off the mortgage. There are cows—and cows.

Fast milking seems to increase the per cent. of butter fat in the milk. This is the conclusion of the Wisconsin experiment station, but no explanation is given.

The Making of Fruit Jellies.

Apples contain so much pectose that little labor or care is involved in jelly-making. Peaches and pears, and even currants, when over-ripe, contain so little pectose that an experienced jelly-maker may easily fail. Jelly made from currants under-ripe and fresh from the bush will congeal before you can transfer it from the kettle to the tumbler.—Mrs. S. T. Rorer, in Ladies' Home Journal.

Tents, Blankets, Stoves, Cooking Outfits, Lumber, Saws, Hammers, Nails and Spikes Asked for by Mayor Bingham—Col. Panet Comes Forward With a Lot of Blankets.

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—A special train left here to-day for Casselman to the scene of the fire. There were fourteen cars and 855 tickets sold. The tickets were $1 each, and the whole amount goes to the relief fund. Another special went to Casselman from Rockland, and it is said there were about 500 passengers. This amount will also go to relieve the distressed.

The death list in connection with the Casselman fire still remains at five, the reports as to further bodies being found having proved so far incorrect.

The Mayor has received applications from D. Racine, the chairman of the Casselman committee, for the following articles, with the hope that the relief will be prompt:

Twenty bell tents, 250 blankets, 20 stoves and cooking outfits, carload of lumber, scantlings, saws, hammers, nails and spikes. His Worship ordered the articles at once, and they were dispatched this afternoon.

Col. Panet called on His Worship and made an offer of a large quantity of goods from the Militia Department. The colonel states that there are in store at Quebec, London, Toronto and in this city about 1400 military blankets, which have been discarded owing to their being slightly moth-eaten. They will make excellent coverings in such an emergency as this. There are also a lot of fur caps and mitts that have been used, but are in good order. These, with a lot of other supplies, of which a list is being prepared, will be shipped to the order of the Mayor, he having agreed to see that transportation is made free. His Worship is of the opinion that all the railway companies will follow the example of the Canada Atlantic in giving transportation.

NOW IT IS SPELLED.

K-l-o-n-d-i-k-e is the Way Brother Jonathan's Geographers Decide.

Washington, Oct. 10.—The United States Board of Geographical Names has just rendered decisions determining the spelling of 140 geographic names. These include a number in Alaska, significant at this time in view of the Klondike excitement. Many variations of nomenclature for the same place are encountered and the board's action settles the uniform usage.

As to Klondike, the decision is to spell it as here given, and not Cloudyke, Klondyke, Chandike, Chandik, or Deer, Reindeer, Trondike, nor Thron Duick.

One of the lakes of the Upper Yukon was named Lebarge by the W. U. Telegraph expedition in 1868, after Mike Lebarge, a member of the exploring party, who is now living near Ottawa, Ont. Late publications have fallen into the error of spelling this Labarge, but the board adheres to the original form, Lebarge.

The inlet, river and village at the head of Lynn Canal, which now appears in the newspapers almost daily under the form Dyea, the starting point for the overland route, is an Indian word, which has appeared in many forms. The board adopts the form Taiya.

For the lake and river variously called Hootalinqua, or Hotalinga, or Teslin-Hima, or Teslin-Too, or Teslin, the board adopts Te-lyn. The termination Hina and Too are said to mean river in different Indian dialects.

THE SOCIALIST CONGRESS.

Resolution Regarding Participation in Election for Members of the Diet.

Hamburg, Oct. 9.—The Social-Democrat Congress to-day by a vote of 160 to 50 abrogated the prohibition against participation in elections for members of the Diet. The congress also passed the resolution, which was introduced on Wednesday by Herr Bebel, the Socialist leader, providing that in case of second ballots in elections to the Reichstag, instead of abstaining from voting, where their candidates are defeated on the first ballot, Socialists shall support whichever candidate pledges himself to vote against every sort of septennate or quinquennate, against the introduction of new taxes or the raising of existing ones, against exceptional laws and all measures involving encroachment upon universal suffrage or laws of association or press laws. The resolution also provides that if another candidate will pledge himself to these demands Socialists must abstain from voting, as they have done hitherto.

Finally it was decided that no compromise or agreement should be concluded with other parties.

The action of the congress in passing Herr Bebel's resolution is most important. Under the present Prussian electoral system it is almost impossible for the Socialists to elect a representative to the Diet. Their participation in the elections, therefore, may result in breaking the Conservative majority in the Diet.

Later it was resolved to re-transfer the headquarters of the party to Berlin, and to hold the next congress at Stuttgart.

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or a woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a great discourager of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what bad breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. There is no case of biliousness, indigestion, "heartburn," or any of the rest of the nightmare breeding brood that these little "Pellets" will not cure.

Away Down East

From east to west people have heart trouble. This causes violent headaches, neuralgia, nerve trouble and prostration. Says Mrs. Somers, of Moncton, N. B.: "I tried many remedies but never found anything to give me such prompt relief as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done. I suffered from the above symptoms, but now gladly testify to the cure these wonderful pills have made in my case, and I hope all sufferers will try them."

Dr. Low's Pleasant Worm Syrup removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

A Long Trip to the Klondike.

New York, Oct. 9.—The first regular expedition to leave this city for the Klondike will depart to-morrow, when the schooner Nellie G. Thurston, formerly a Cape Cod fisherman, will sail from the Erie Basin with a party of gold-hunters.

Captain Frederick Arthur Douse, formerly with the Metropolitan Steamship Company, and well known to "outside" tug boat mariners, will command the Thurston. There are twenty passengers in all, two of whom are women.

Captain Douse, speaking of the trip said: "We will go direct to Montevideo from here, and take on board more supplies. Then we will travel to the Straits of Magellan, where our passengers will prospect for gold. From there we will sail for San Francisco, and push on to the Yukon and the gold fields. We expect to reach Cook Inlet about March."

Murderer's Mother Suicides.

Morrisburg, Oct. 10.—Mrs. Brown mother of Clark Brown, who was hanged at Cornwall in 1883 for the murder of his father and sister, committed suicide at her home in Winchester to-day. She was about 70 years of age.

The Queen and Sir Wilfrid.

London, Oct. 7.—Vanity Fair to-day says: The Queen was very much grieved at the attitude of the United States eighteen months ago, and it is an open secret that Her Majesty, who has made a close study of the American people, holds almost pessimistic views in regard to the stability and future of the Republic.

The Queen's long conversation with the Canadian Premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, when that statesman was in England, would make most interesting reading.

Mackerel Fishery a Failure.

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 10.—The past season's mackerel fishery has been a bad failure, the New England catch of salt mackerel being about the smallest on record, and the few remaining vessels at Block Island and North Bay send nothing but discouraging news. The New England catch of salt mackerel to this date for 1897 was 8839 barrels; for 1896 50,226 barrels.

HOUSE GOWNS.

Dainty Women's Choice of Garments for the View of Feminine Friends.

A woman shows her individuality more in her house gown than in any other article of her wardrobe. If she be truly luxurious, then will she revel in a soft maze of silks and laces. If she be of an artistic temperament then will she have her house gowns or dressing sacques in perfect harmony with the colors of the room in which she means to lounge. If she be cheerful, then will she employ gay ribbons, flaunting bows and corners of bright satin, and her robes will laugh with bright-hued silks and ripples. If she be melancholy, then will she select sad grays and somber browns. If she be economical, she will wear neat patches.

Fashion has been kind to the lovers of comfort this season. Many varied and beautiful are the negligee costumes.

Black and white are quite the rage, even for home wear. A black and white dressing sacque has a square yoke, from which falls a magpie plaiting that looks to be solid black satin until it is shaken out, when the white silk stripes show from the folds of the plaits. The collar is of deep coral silk velvet. The angular lines of yoke are hidden by a narrow circular plaiting, cut in points, edged with a flounce of Chantilly lace, and a cabbage bow of the coral velvet covers the fastening on the left shoulder.

A goblin blue gamp-dour silk is made close-fitting at the back and sides. Designs of sapphire-blue velvet are appliqued upon the silk and are covered with ecru lace. The rolling collar is of sapphire velvet and the loose goblin blue satin front is covered with a fall of Brussels net lace. The lining is pearl white. No more queenly garb could be desired by a woman with auburn hair and blue eyes.

Nondescript complexions seem to require small figured patterns, with combinations of light colors. When one is best defined by negatives, such as "not dark and not fair," decided colors are unsafe. For such a one a French manufacturer has suggested a Dresden silk—white ground, in tiny sprays of rose and forget-me-not. A tea gown of this silk is made tight-fitting over the hips, with open fronts that turn back at the top and bottom in satin revers. Down the entire front that is set in two bands—one pink and one blue—alternate with double ruffles of lace. A wide fall of lace covers the upper part of the sleeves and dips from the points of the cuff, and a cascade of lace falls in the back from the neck to the edge of the demitrain. Is it not daintily conceived to preside over Dresden teacups?

Pink and gold are the colors most extravagantly admired. An elaborate pink satin brocade Watteau matinee is run through with a gold thread. The flowers in the pattern have pale green stems, a color that is repeated in the seven-pointed velvet collar. The lower edge of the sacque and the sleeve ruffles are cut, like the collar, in points. Around all these points is run lace insertion about an inch and a half wide, and to this is gathered in and out a full flounce of Queen Elizabeth lace to match.

Beautiful, indeed, for the display of an exquisite arm and fine hair is the accordion-plaited tea sacque. The plaiting falls from both neck and shoulders, with equal fullness back and front. It is unconfined at the waist. The shoulder seams are covered with a strap of satin ribbon surrounded with a lace ruffle. The high collar is of wide satin ribbon, tied in a double bow behind, with streamers reaching the length of the sacque. The sleeves are also accordion-plaited, and have two rows of lace insertion let in, like those in the skirt of the sacque. There are no cuffs or bands at the wrist, indeed, the full sleeves are flowing, so that in an easy attitude, with the hands lightly clasped at the back of the head, they fall away from the arms, showing to the best advantage well-rounded elbows and fluffing up behind a mass of loosely fastened locks.

Because of its adaptability to puff, ruffle or tuck, cashmere obtains largely as the best wool fabric for a house gown. Comfortable and hideous as the old-fashioned 'Mother Hubbard' is an apple green cashmere unsubdued by any other color. The sleeves are narrow and gathered across in folds with a double shirring at the back seam. The front gathered to a round yoke, falls in folds to the hem of the skirt; the sides are fitted in to a close lining and the back is full from the neck. A gown of this same cut is made up in puppy red and outlined with bands of narrow black velvet.

Another red semi-wrapper has a yoke so deep that it is shaped into the figure, like an empire waist. It is formed at the lower edge, back and front, into an inverted V, from which the inturned box plaiting falls. The sides of the skirt are gored. The sleeves are small and puffed at the shoulder, and the neck, the lower edges of the yoke, sleeves and skirt are finished with a ruching of crimson satin.

Empire gowns are extremely becoming to slender, graceful figures. A pretty empire is made of light gray challie broken with sprays of forget-me-nots. Bolero fronts, with pointed, turned back revers, are lined with light blue glace taffeta. The skirt has a separate lining of blue taffeta, finished with a scant sixteen-inch bias ruffle of the same. The neck is turned in a tiny V in front and is piped with blue silk.

Taffeta dressing sacques, to match the silk petticoats, are somewhat in demand. Violet taffeta is attractive when tucked and inserted with lace. Satin ribbons go well with this kind of silk. Cluster tucks and lace forming pointed yokes and pointed caps to the sleeves are stylish in taffeta.

A black and white tea gown suitable for an older woman is made of black and white silk. A wide collar falls square from the yoke. This is broken with circular bands of black lace insertion. A crush satin black collar finishes the neck, and the close lining is of white silk.

A decidedly new shape made up in cashmere and lace is the Russian blouse tea gown. The back is in one piece, falling full from the neck, where it is secured with a width of shirring. An inside lining holds the under arm seams rounded over the hips. The front is slightly gathered from the belt down, and the upper part is ornamented with lace edged ruffles that overlap and form themselves into a perfect blouse effect.

For the absolute comfort as a slumber robe and bedroom wrapper nothing has ever surpassed the Mother Hubbard. It has come back to us in all manner of disguises, with pointed yoke, yoke hidden by ruffles or collar, and in other designs.

Jerseys to Return.

This autumn the revived Jersey will have a successful inning. These trim, neat, rather smart, and decidedly comfortable garments are a boon to women for many reasons. The former objectionable features of these Jerseys are now removed by the addition of slight trimmings both on bodice and sleeves, and they are thus made no more outlining to the figure in their style than many of the closely adjusted dresswaists formed with outlining darts and curving seams, says The New York Evening Post. While fitting the figure perfectly, they are the easiest garments imaginable to wear. A finely fitting waist can be selected in 20 minutes, with no trouble of standing by the hour at the dressmaker's, no choosing of linings, buttons, trimmings, etc. The waist lies before you complete, and this year there are numberless colors, effects and styles to choose from.

GELATINE DESSERTS.

Jellies of Many Kinds, Snow Pudding and Spanish Cream.

There are few more acceptable desserts than clear, well-moulded jellies daintily flavored with wine or fruits. These jellies are easily made with the assistance of the always-ready gelatine.

When making jellies one should use the best qualities of gelatine and be accurate in measurments of the liquids for the amount of gelatine used, for when a jelly comes to be served and is in a semi-liquid condition or is as tough as rubber it is not a dish to be desired. The most acceptable jellies are made with the plain gelatines and flavors added to suit the taste.

A boiled custard or sweetened and flavored cream are served with jellies. The cream may be whipped and heaped around the mound of jelly. It requires less cream to serve jelly in this way. When you have no moulds for jelly, a pretty way of serving is to pour a layer of liquid in a square pan and let it harden. With a sharp knife, wet in cold water, cut the jelly into little square pieces and heap them upon a flat glass dish. With jelly moulded in a ring mould, the space in the centre should be filled with fresh berries, sliced peaches, pineapple or cherries that have been in sugar and a little wine long enough to penetrate the fruit.

The remains of a broken mould of jelly may be used again in an appetizing manner by letting the jelly stand a short time in a warm room and then taking a wire spoon and beating the jelly vigorously until it is a light white mass and again turning it into moulds to harden. It will have the appearance of being an entirely different dessert. Several kinds of jelly, in which the flavorings go well together may be utilized by beating them into one. When the jelly is partly beaten whipped cream may be added to make the amount desired to fill a mould.

Aspic jellies that have been used for garnishing dishes may be beaten in this manner and again moulded, thus gaining an entirely new appearance. The gelatine is best soaked in cold water or milk, as the case may be. Hot water draws out a strong, unpleasant taste, which all flavorings will not always disguise. There are many simple desserts made from gelatines, and a few rules may be of benefit to some inexperienced housekeepers.

For gelatine pudding: Dissolve half a package of gelatine in one pint of milk. Beat the yokes of four eggs with eight tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar. Put one pint of milk over the fire in a double boiler; add to this the milk and soaked gelatine. When the milk is scalding hot add the eggs and sugar, keep stirring until the eggs are cooked, take from the fire and add the whites of the eggs which have been beaten to a stiff froth. Flavor with vanilla or wine and turn the mixture into a mould to harden. Serve very cold with sugar and cream.

Snow pudding: Soak half a box of gelatine in one cup of cold water for one hour, then add one cup of boiling water and two small cups of sugar and stir until dissolved. Add the juice from two large lemons. Beat the whites of three eggs to a stiff froth. When the gelatine mixture is cold and begins to thicken stir the eggs in, beating the mixture very hard and until it will just pour. The dish containing the mixture should stand in a pan of ice water and it will congeal more quickly. Turn into a wet mould and stand in a cold place. When serving this pudding pour around the form a boiled custard flavored with vanilla.

Coffee blanc mange: Dissolve one box of gelatine in two cups of milk; pour over it one pint of strong coffee, boiling hot. Have one pint of milk over the fire in a double boiler, and when it is at boiling point pour in the coffee and gelatine mixture. Meanwhile beat three eggs light with one cup of sugar and stir in with the other ingredients. Remove from the fire and turn into moulds and put into a cool place to become set. Serve with sweetened cream.

Coffee also makes an excellent jelly. Soak one package of gelatine in one pint of cold water, then pour over it one quart of boiling water, add one pint of granulated sugar, the same amount of very strong coffee, and one tablespoonful of brandy. Strain this into a ring mould and put in a cold place. When serving, fill the centre with whipped cream, sweetened, also put the cream around the outside.

For prune jelly, wash one quart of prunes and soak them until soft in water enough to little more than cover them. Cook the prunes in the same water until they are tender. With a silver knife remove the pit from each plum and lay the plum in a wet mould. Have two ounces of gelatine soaking in a little cold water and turn the hot prune water over it; add the juice of two lemons and sweeten to taste. Stand over the fire long enough to have the sugar and gelatine entirely dissolved; then strain into the mould holding the prepared prunes. Stand away until perfectly cold, and then serve with whipped cream.

Another simple but good dessert is made with apples. Cook tart apples in a granite saucepan until tender, then strain them and slightly sweeten. To one quart of strained pulp and two cups of sugar and the juice from one large lemon. Have two ounces of gelatine that has been soaking in three-quarters of a pint of cold water, turn one and one-half pints of boiling water over it, and add this liquid to the other ingredients; pour into moulds and put in a cool place to become firm.

A favorite dessert is called Spanish cream. For one quart of cold milk use half a box of gelatine; cover and let them stand together about an hour. Then heat, but do not let the mixture boil. Beat the yolks of four eggs and add to them half a pound of fine sugar, turn the scalding milk over the eggs and sugar, stirring all the time. Return the mixture to the fire and stir until it is of the consistency of soft custard. Let the mixture become cold, stirring it occasionally as it cools. When it begins to thicken flavor with vanilla and lightly stir in the whites of the eggs that have been beaten to a stiff froth. Turn the mixture into a mould and put in a cold place. Make a soft custard and pour around this dessert when serving it.

Mistake Made by Mothers.

A woman is out of her element unless she is acquainted to a certain extent with the sciences of bakeology, boilology, broilology, stitchology, makeology, and mendology. How often we see mothers busily engaged in domestic duties like a slave, in order that the girl may enjoy ever luxury and do nothing; indeed, many hardly let their daughters soil their hands, says a quiet observer. There never was a greater blunder than to substitute good looks for good qualities. Every girl ought to be brought up to have regular domestic duties. Idleness should be forbidden her. The only dignified life is a useful life.

Fire-proof Paper.

To make fire-proof paper nothing more is necessary, says Hardware, than to saturate it in a strong solution of alum water, and when thoroughly dry it will resist the action of flames.

It Was a Long Wait.

"Grandpa, how old are you?"

Mr. Bickers—It is on as straight as could be expected.

"What do you mean by that?"

"Well, you can't expect your hat to be on perfectly straight, because you haven't got a level head."

The Differ nce.

Nonie—No, I think merely an attachment, for you know she has a tandem wheel and needs a patent attachment for the rear seat.—Pittsburg News.

A HEDGE OF DWARF PEARS.

There are numerous shrubs that are suitable for making hedges about one's lawn, whether one prefers evergreens or deciduous shrubs, but the number is limited that can be used in hedgerows that are of both use and beauty. The barberry is one of the latter, these bushes making a very graceful, but not dense-leaved, growth; but the barberry's fruit is not desired in large quantities, nor is it a desirable plant to have near wheat fields, as it harbors one stage of the "rust" fungus of the wheat.

On my place I am planting hedgerows of dwarf pear trees, using winter varieties of the fruit almost exclusively. Such a hedgerow is, of course, hardly suitable for the front of one's lawn, but for side rows and for use in the front of one's house, the dwarf pear is quite unobjectionable. As for beauty—well, any one who has seen a long row of these little trees in full blossom will not soon forget the sight. They are very attractive little trees, also, when in fruit, leaf, without the fruit, as they should be kept well trimmed back to secure good training, as well as a good bodice. It is surprising, too, what an amount of choice fruit one can raise upon even a small place. In my own case I am running a pear hedge around a two-acre lot, and am using also some cross hedges in the rear of the lot—some 600 in all, I think, at least 200 trees to complete the outside row. As this will in effect very little with the planting of fruit trees over the whole interior surface of the two acres, it will be seen that on a given amount of ground one can raise much more fruit by using this outside belt row method. It is best not to crowd the little trees in a hedgerow, because they will be on the outside, and can thus have plenty of air and sunshine, though very close in the rows of dwarf pear trees may be quite close to the inside, larger fruit trees, the latter are not crowded by the former, since they stand up above them. This sort of work is not advisable on large commercial acreages, but on the home acre, in the big lot, one wishes to make the best of every foot of ground.

Planting so many of those little pear trees, I select winter sorts, and even that is big among pears, the Anjou, and the scarcely less inferior Lawrence. Both these pears do fairly on the quince stock, and both are winter varieties. With such fruit one can store it in cool cellar and unload upon the market when the market is most in need of winter pears. With fall fruit, one is very nearly at the mercy of the market, for he cannot hold the fruit for any length of time.

My own trees are set about four feet apart. In future plantings I shall increase the distance somewhat. In setting the trees be careful to get the point where the pear stock and quince root join several inches below the surface, and for the first winter, at least, give the roots a mulch for protection.—American Gardening.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS
CURE WOMEN'S ILLS.

A SAFE, SPEEDY AND EFFECTIVE BLOOD BUILDER AND NERVE RESTORER.

Bright Eyes, Rosy Cheeks and Elastic Step, Follow the Use of This Unrivalled Health Giver.

WEAK AND EASILY TIRED.

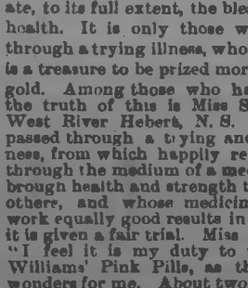
From the Moncton Transcript.

One of the happiest couples in Notre Dame, N. B., is Mr. Will Colborne and his wife. For the cause of so much happiness they are indebted in a great measure to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, by which Mrs. Colborne was quickly cured of a most stubborn malady. This is how Mrs. Colborne tells the story of her illness and cure:—"When I was three years old I had an attack of inflammation of the lungs from which for a long time I did not wholly recover. I was ever after a weak and delicate child, very languid and the least exertion fatigued me. I was extremely nervous, my appetite was never good, and my nights frequently sleepless. Growing up I felt my affliction less severe and as time went on I married. Shortly after my marriage all my old symptoms came back in an aggravated form. I could eat nothing and could could not sleep at all. My blood became thin and weak and I felt dull and spiritless. I had no ambition and the thought of moving about was distasteful to me. I was so easily fatigued that the exertion of walking upstairs almost overcame me, and I suffered from an almost constant bilious headache. My husband became alarmed at my condition and called in a doctor, though nothing beneficial resulted. I continued to grow worse and acting on the earnest counsel of friends of my husband, procured six boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I began taking them according to directions. Almost immediately I felt a change, my appetite became keen and I ate my food with a relish. I began to sleep well and the colour came back to my face. I became strong and ambitious and could do my usual housework. All the tired feeling disappeared so that I felt like a new person. I have not since felt the least symptoms of my former trouble, nor have I any fears that I shall. I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a great blessing to mankind, and I strongly recommend them to all."

NERVOUS DISORDERS CURED.

From the Amherst, N. S., Sentinel.

The rugged and the strong do not appreciate, to its full extent, the blessing of perfect health. It is only those who have passed through a trying illness, who feel that health is a treasure to be prized more than silver or gold. Among those who have experienced the truth of this is Miss Sabra Rector, of West River Hebert, N. S. This lady has passed through a trying and wearisome illness, from which happily relief was found through the medium of a medicine that has brough health and strength to thousands of others, and whose medicinal virtues will work equally good results in all cases where it is given a fair trial. Miss Rector says:—"I feel it is my duty to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they have done wonders for me. About two years ago I became very ill with a complication of diseases. I was suffering with indigestion, biliousness and the resulting nervous disorders, such as sick headache, loss of appetite and flashes of heat and cold. I began doctoring and although I had the best of care, I seemed to grow worse every day. I slept but little and when lying down I would grow so hot and suffer from a sensation of smothering that I would find it necessary to arise. Then the other extreme would come and I would shiver with cold. Time wore on and there was no improvement in my condition. I was not able to do any work about the house and even the exertion of moving about would tire me out. If I attempted to walk any distance or hurried in the least I would gasp for breath and could scarcely speak. I had a very poor appetite, and what food I ate did not seem to agree with me or furnish needed nourishment, and I also suffered with a severe pain in my side and back. During this time I tried many remedies, but they gave me no relief whatever. I had become so weak, and my system was so run down that life was a burden to me. At this stage my attention was directed to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I determined to give them a trial. After using four boxes I felt so much better that hope and encouragement came to me once more. I continued the use of the Pills and found myself steadily gaining. By the time I had used four boxes more I had fully regained my health and strength and I am not only able to do my full share of household work, but also attend to my Sabbath school class and other church duties. I look upon Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a priceless boon to suffering humanity."



LADIES' AILMENTS.

Many women suffer in silence for honourable reasons. They alone know the pains which afflict them—continuously or at regular intervals. Agonising backaches, headaches, prostration; irregularity of vital functions; the change of life; weakness easily accounted for. All those things have been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They cannot harm the most delicate girl or woman of advancing age. Read the cures.

A WORD OF CAUTION.

A few unscrupulous tradesmen—their cupidity excited by the great reputation of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—make up or buy in the wholesale market ready made, some cheap pills, coloured pink, which will sell as "Pink Pills" and offer as a substitute for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Such pills are a fraud. The receipt of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is known only to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. All substitutes are therefore useless. To be sure of having none but the genuine pills, purchasers should not ask for Pink Pills, but for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and see that they are put up in a package, the wrapper around which is printed with red ink on white paper and bears the full trade mark "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Inside the wrapper are Dr. Williams' directions for use. Pay no attention to any dealer who claims to have "the same thing under another name," or something else "just as good." In case of doubt it is better to write (enclosing price, 50 cents for one box or $2.50 for six boxes) to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

FAINT AND DIZZY.

Among the remarkable cures which have followed the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is that of Mrs. Geo. N. Godsoe, a well known resident of Anagance Station, N.B. Mrs. Godsoe, says:—For five years I was a sufferer from a most peculiar trouble, which seemed to baffle the skill of several physicians. The first symptoms of my trouble I cannot characterize better than calling them blind spells, as my head would get so bad that I could not see and a blindness would come over me. Then I would grow faint and dizzy and could not walk about. My hands and arms would become perfectly numb and would sometimes remain in this condition for days. Latterly the attacks grew more frequent and severe. I became so nervous and run down that life was indeed a burden to me. My appetite was very poor, and I was pale and emaciated. As regular treatment made no improvement in my medical condition, some of my friends strongly urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and at last I consented to do so. I had only been taking them for a short time when there was a decided change for the better in my condition. I continued their use and every day my nerves seemed to grow stronger. I gained in flesh and felt like a new women. I know the load of misery from which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have relieved me, and I am more than grateful and will never lose an opportunity for saying a good word of this grand medicine."

DEPRESSING HEADACHES AND WEAKNESS.

From the Alexandria News.

Another voice in Glengarry county is willing to swell the chorus of praise to the restoritive value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the township of Lancaster lives Mrs. Rory McCrimmon, the wife of a well known farmer. Years ago she became subject to severe headaches, intermittent in occurence and more or less painful in character. The advance of time saw no improvement. In the spring of 1894 her ailment assumed a more serious form, depressing headaches and extreme weakness. In this condition she consulted one of the best physicians in the vicinity, and after numerous visits and much medicine, there was no improvement. Before the summer was gone, with the hope of obtaining better results, a visit to Caledonia Springs was made. The visit lasted about three weeks, but, unfortunately for Mrs. McCrimmon, there was no discernible improvement arising therefrom. By this time the fame of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had reached her, and she was seized with a desire to share in their worth. The experiment was duly entered upon and faithfully carried out, until the looked for results came. The persistent headache, which defeated the skill of the doctors, has vanished, lost vigor is recovered, and the general health so completely restored that Mrs. McCrimmon has been able to work and go about with comfort as she had not been able to do for years. Unmistakably Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for her what other things failed to do. Since the first use of the Pills Mrs. McCrimmon has recommended them to others and occasionally taken them herself to advantage. Money spent in the purchase of health cannot be ill-spent.

BOTH BYLAWS CARRIED.

St. Thomas Is All Mixed Up Over the Selection of a City Hall Site.

St. Thomas, Oct. 11.—The two City Hall bylaws were voted on to-day, one to raise the sum of $40,000 to purchase the Idsardi site and erect the building, the other to raise $10,000 to purchase the Ellison site for the purpose of erecting a city hall thereon at some future time. The vote was spirited and resulted in both bylaws being carried. Ellison site, 641 votes for and 599 against; majority for, 42. Idsardi site, 663 for and 609 against; majority for, 54. The decision as to which bylaw will become law will either rest with the City Council or possibly may be carried into the courts.

TWO MEN STUNNED.

Lightning Struck Them and One Fell From the Wagon, Which Passed Over Him.

Port Elgin, Oct. 11.—During the thunder storm this morning lightning struck Mr. Edward Shiels and a young man named Anderson. They were out with the team hauling in some farm truck, when the lightning struck and stunned them both. Young Anderson fell off the wagon, which passed over him, and he sustained some internal injuries, which may prove serious. Mr. Shiels is recovering from the shock.

Smash on the C.P.R.

Toronto, October 12.—Word reached the city yesterday of a bad smash on the C. P. R. at Metaguma, forty miles this side of Cartier, on Saturday morning, owing to a broken rail. The passenger train was derailed, with the exception of the locomotive and mail car. Four cars were badly smashed and two passengers were injured, though they were able to continue their journey. Manager Tait and Superintendent Spencer were passengers on the train, and they made prompt settlements with the injured passengers for $150 and $35. A train sent from North Bay brought the passengers on east some 10 hours late.

SWEET PEAS.

A host of dainty, wing-like flowers,
A bowl of Dresden china,
Beguile to-day some lonely hours
With potency far finer
Than all the roses, wondrous fair,
Which languish in their glory
In stately vase of pattern rare,
Breathing the summer's story.

A swarm of pink-hued butterflies,
You seem to poise and hover
On your frail stems, and try to rise,
Seeking the wind, your lover.
Sweet peas! My fancy and my heart
You charm with your faint fragrance,
It challenges Dame Nature's art
To match you, lovely vagrants.

HANGED THAT HE MIGHT LIVE.

Peculiar Surgical Operation Performed in a California Hospital.

A very delicate and extremely rare surgical operation has been performed successfully at the French hospital in this city upon C. Hoffman, a young German farmer. By it not only his life has been saved, but he is on the speedy way to the recovery of health. Hoffman was employed on a farm near Knight's Ferry. During the latter part of July he fell backward off a wagon, striking the hard ground with the back of his head, and fractured the third cervical vertebra, an injury which in nearly every case proved fatal. An examination by the physicians in the county disclosed the seriousness of the injury, and they gave it as their opinion that not one in a thousand ever could survive it. The fracture prevented the moving of the injured man's head in any direction. The slightest attempt to move the head caused violent vomiting, brought on fainting spells and impeded respiration. The patient was given very little nourishment with a spoon, and had to be kept constantly in one position. His frame wasted away, and yet he lingered, suffering great agony.

On Aug. 11 he was brought to the French hospital in this city, where the physicians decided upon an operation as the only possible means of saving the life of the patient. In the presence of the hospital house staff and a number of consulting physicians the operation was performed Aug. 15. An incision was made in the neck, exposing the vertebrae, which showed the injury to the third process, the arch of which was removed, as was a portion of the second vertebra, thus removing the obstacle to the unrestricted motion of the head. The wound was closed and an extension apparatus applied.

The patient rests on an inclined plane. The weight of the body acts as a counter extension to the weight applied to the extension apparatus which is attached to the head, and the patient is virtually suspended by the neck until he shall be restored to health. The wound has been dressed four times since the operation was performed, and the patient is doing well. At the last dressing Dr. Oscar J. Mayer, the operating surgeon, was very sanguine that his patient would soon be restored to perfect health.—San Francisco Chronicle.

A Dart That Didn't Stick.

No better and at the same time no more courteous rebuke could well be imagined than that once administered by Beaumarchais, the author of the famous "Marriage of Figaro." He was the son of a Parisian watchmaker, but had gained fame, rank and wealth through his own talents and exertions. A conceited and envious young nobleman once undertook to wound the pride of Beaumarchais by an allusion to his humble origin.

In the presence of a large company of people who had a regard for the talented young author, this young man handed him his watch, saying:

"Examine it, sir, it does not keep time well. You can doubtless ascertain the cause."

Such was his rude haste that his hand left the watch before that of the surprised Beaumarchais had grasped it, and it fell to the ground.

"Pardon, monsieur," said the author, with grave courtesy, stooping to pick up the watch and hand it to its owner; "you see my father was right when he declared that I was too awkward to be a watchmaker."

Brought in "Pa's Prayers."

Once upon a time sickness came to the family of the poorly paid pastor of a country church. It was winter, and the pastor was in financial straits. A number of his flock decided to meet at his house and offer prayers for the speedy recovery of the sick ones and for material blessings upon the pastor's family. While one of the deacons was offering a fervent prayer for blessings upon the pastor's household there was a loud knock at the door. When the door was opened a stout farmer boy was seen wrapped up comfortably.

"What do you want, boy?" asked one of the elders.

"I've brought pa's prayers," replied the boy.

"Brought pa's prayers? What do you mean?"

"Yep, brought his prayers, an' they're out in the wagon. Just help me an' we'll get 'em in."

Investigation disclosed the fact that "pa's prayers" consisted of potatoes, flour, bacon, cornmeal, turnips, apples, warm clothing and a lot of jellies for the sick ones. The prayer meeting adjourned in short order.—Omaha World-Herald.

Rough on Pat.

Two Irish soldiers stationed in the West Indies were accustomed to bathe daily in a little bay which was generally supposed to be free from sharks. Though on good terms with each other, they were not what might be called fast friends.

One day, as they were swimming about one hundred yards from the shore, Pat observed Mick suddenly making for the land as hard as he could, without saying a word. Wondering what was the matter, Pat struck out vigorously after him, and landed at his companion's heels.

"Is there anything wrong wid ye?" inquired Pat, feelingly.

"Nothin'—nothin' at all," replied the other.

"Thin what did ye make such a sudden retrate for, an' lave me?" continued Pat.

"Bedad," answered Mick, coolly, "I spied the fin av a big shark about twenty feet ahead, an' I thought while he was playin' wid you it would give me time to reach the shore!"

It is not to be wondered at that Pat declined to bathe with Mick any more.

A Boat Built of Cement.

Stiffened cement has been used successfully in the construction of a boat by an Italian named Gabellini. The frame is of steel bars, a third of an inch in diameter, over which is spread a wire netting. On this the cement is laid, and the outer surface is polished. The boat is heavier than one built of wood would be, but it is cheaper and slips better through the water. Experiments have proved its strength.

TUBERCULOUS CATTLE.

Eastern Townships Farmers Slaughtered Their Herds and Want Compensation.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—Although the fact was kept rather quiet at the time, there was a serious prevalence of tuberculosis last year among the dairy cattle in the Eastern Townships, notably in the district of Bedford. Several farmers slaughtered their entire herds, and then represented to the Minister of Agriculture that, having taken this action in the public interest, they were entitled to be remembered by the Government for their loss. Hon. Mr. Fisher has accordingly appointed a commissioner, Howard Hurlburt of East Farnham, to enquire into and estimate the loss incurred by the petitioners and others who destroyed tuberculous cattle.

Rev. Dr Dewart at Buffalo.

Buffalo, Oct. 11.—Rev. Dr. Dewart of Toronto was present at the Genesee Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church to-day. IN THE PONTON BANK ROBBERY TRIAL

The Evidence-Taking Resumed at Napanee—Assistant-Manager Bogart on the Stand. The Investigation He Conducted and its Results. Ponton's Private Financing.

Napanee, Oct. 12.—The proceedings today in the bank robbery case brought out the testimony of Assistant Manager C. A. Bogart of the Dominion Bank, Toronto. Throughout this evidence the accused manifested more attention to the case than he has done at any other session of the enquiry. The court room was, as usual, crowded, and more than once the friends of the accused applauded the proceedings. The evidence of the detectives to-morrow is awaited with anxiety. It is expected that the preliminary investigation in the bank robbery case will probably be concluded to-morrow or next day, as it is understood that only a few more witnesses, including the detectives, are now to be examined.

Magistrate Daly occupied his place on the bench, and at the barristers' tables were Mr. E. Gus Porter for the prisoner and Mr. J. H. Madden and H. M. Deroche, Q.C., for the prosecution.

The first witness to take the stand this morning was Thomas Whalen, a typical old soldier and Irishman, who is caretaker of the Dominion Bank branch, a position he has held for ten years. He said he did not know of the robbery until the next Monday.

J. L. Boyes, gents' furnisher, Napanee, was next called, and deposed that Ponton was certainly not an extravagant buyer, and that most of the account was for mending old clothes.

T. J. Davis, the next witness, insured Ponton's life in July, 1897, for $3000, and was paid the first instalment in July. Witness said Ponton gave him a cheque, payable then, and one to be presented a month later.

George A. Cliff, Napanee, a contractor, who repaired the hole in the partition through which the thieves are supposed to have entered, was the next witness, and he produced the boards that had been taken away. The width of the three boards was only 8¾ inches, but with a small space near them it would make an aperture of 10½ inches. Witness also put a lock on the door on the upper compartment in the safe, and did not know what had become of the lock that was put on previously.

A. W. Grange of Napanee, the next witness, told of Ponton obtaining the rooms through Mr. Douglas, the hotel man with whom the accused boarded.

Grange told of his sister, Mrs. McGreer, handing him the slip of paper containing the numbers and asking him if it was the combination.

At the afternoon session A. E. Douglas of the Paisley House testified as follows: Ponton boarded and had a room at my hotel. Two months ago I asked him to take a room outside for my convenience, as the house was too full. Other boarders had done so and he said he would. He visited several places and they were unsuitable. Mr. Grange had three rooms in the Grange Block, which he offered me. I told Ponton and he agreed to take the rooms, after seeing them. Mrs. McGreer was living in the rooms and she moved upstairs.

The chambermaid who went over from the hotel the morning after the robbery was Miss Mary McCann. Witness said there was no nicer man than Mr. Ponton in his boarding house. He did not spend money freely and was highly respected by almost everybody.

There was a stir in court when the next witness was called. He was Clarence A. Bogart, assistant manager Dominion Bank, Toronto, a former Napaneean, who began as a junior and has served 16 years in the bank. His evidence was as follows:

To Mr. Madden: I was apprised of the robbery on Sunday, Aug. 23. I was advised of the vault being wrong on the Saturday by the general manager, and I had the Taylor Safe Company send a man down to Napanee. After consulting the manager I left Toronto with Detective Hodgins and arrived here at 2.30 a.m. Monday. I went into the bank at 7 a.m. I inspected the manner in which the place had been broken into and then got Mr. Baines to open the safe. There was no evidence that force had been used in opening the vault, nor on the exterior of the safe. When it was opened I found no marks of violence on the upper compartment and there was no lock on it. The lower compartment was not opened at that time, but it was subsequently. The upper compartment if locked could be opened by a key, and there was no evidence that it had been opened in any other way.

On opening the lower compartment I found some marks on the door of the lower compartment, as if inflicted with an instrument with teeth on it. There was a small dent or possibly two in the lower portion of a shelf that separates the two compartments. I do not remember any other marks of violence. I fancy I have opened that compartment some years ago by key. It is opened with a key, and, as far as I know, is the same now as it used to be. The key to it is held by Mr. Baines, who got it from Mr. Ponton, because at that time there was no lock on the upper compartment, and Mr. Ponton was keeping his cash in the lower one. I don't know what became of the key of the lower compartment after the robbery. I don't know how long the lock had been on, nor where it went to. Mr. Ponton said it came off the top compartment, of which Ponton held the key before the robbery, because he was the teller. The manager usually held the key of the lower compartment.

After breakfast Hodgins and I had a talk with different members of the staff and discussed surrounding circumstances connected with the opening of the vault. We spoke to Ponton, but the conversation only lasted for ten or fifteen minutes with each employe and was very superficial. Then we interviewed them again the same day with Mr. Hodgins in Madden's office. On that occasion I cannot say Ponton said anything of importance. He told where he was till 12 o'clock on the night of the robbery and was not asked then where he was after that time. I questioned him further the second day after that in the manager's room of the bank. There was no one else present. I asked his movements on the night of the robbery after 12 o'clock. He said he retired to his room about 12 o'clock, that he was not up during the night, and that there was no one in his room except himself. He said he heard no noises during the night, but made no other statement, nothing else of importance. I asked him of this because of the story I had heard regarding noises in his room. It was told me by Mr. Madden, and after by Mrs. McGreer. I went to Toronto that night.

Mr. Bogart then entered into a long statement of Mr. Ponton's financial position, during which he said:

"I saw there was a visible discrepancy between his statements and what I knew to be the fact. I had received information that Ponton had given his mother some money. I asked him what money he had given her since the robbery, and he said $5. My information was that it was more than that, so I asked him if he did not give her $10 also. He wanted to know why I asked, and I told him his mother had stated that she received the money. He then said he had given it to her, but had forgotten it. That made in all the sum of $15.

Mr. Madden then referred to his question regarding the safe, and the witness answered: "I first learned of a hole in the vault a few days after the robbery from Mr. Green. I examined it and did not attach any importance whatever to it. It was an old hole in the east side and the door of the safe on the north side. The hole was nowhere near the combination.

"Will you look at this little piece of paper, Mr. Bogart?" said Mr. Madden, handing to the witness the mysterious figures found in Mrs. McGreer's kitchen. "Have you ever seen it before?"

Mr. Bogart replied: "I first saw it in the hands of Mr. Hodgins about eight or nine days after the robbery. It was then in the same shape as now. All of the figures are in Ponton's writing. It is a portion of what is known as a teller's specification slip, but it is not made out in the regular way. A teller's specification slip is used for telling the amount in different packets, showing the denomination and the number of bills of each denomination. These slips are generally made up by the teller at the close of every day's work to show the amount of cash on hand. Then it is deposited in the safe with the cash. The figures on this slip correspond with the figures of cash on hand in Mr. Ponton's book on Aug. 26, the night before the robbery. The slips are not regularly made up.

"What were the figures of good cash that night?" asked Mr. Madden, and Mr. Bogart explained that there were 1079 five-dollar bills and that 79 was marked in the usual way on the slip and a small 16 in right angles to it in the corner underneath. There were 11 ten-dollar bills, and they were marked on the slip right. There were 45 twenties marked in the book, and on the slip they appeared as 45 and a '1' put on the corner. The '1' is in Ponton's handwriting. There were 4 fifties, entered right. That represents the good money in the bank on the night of Aug. 26, 1897. A figure 4 on the back of the slip is in Ponton's handwriting, and, in fact, all the figures are. I can't explain his object in "What would he want to copy them for?" asked Mr. Madden.

"For no reason known to me," replied the witness.

"Could it serve any legitimate purpose?"

"I don't think so. It is made out in a sort of a cypher."

"That slip corresponds with cash on Aug. 26, 1897?"

"Yes."

"Has such a thing ever been known to you before?"

"Never before. The slip was made out in such a way that it was only after considerable difficulty that I made it out in the book."

Reverting to Ponton's private financial matters, the money he received and paid out, Mr. Madden asked what was the result of the cheque and the payments of money. Mr. Bogart replied: "The result of the cheques and the payment of money is that there is a discrepancy in the neighborhood of $90, including the due bill of $5. Taking out of cash on hand, according to his own statement, and the amount he paid out according to my knowledge, there is a discrepancy of between $70 and $80 that he paid out over and above the money he had on his person at the time of the robbery.

Mr. Madden took his seat, and the cross-examination by Mr. Porter commenced.

"From that discrepancy you made up your mind that Ponton had robbed the bank?" loudly exclaimed Mr. Porter.

"Not altogether that," said Mr. Bogart.

"You did make out that he had robbed the bank?"

"Yes, I had suspicions."

In reply to a series of quick questions, witness said Ponton's salary from March amounted to $388.20. He was aware that Mr. Ponton had received $70 some time ago from an insurance company, owing to source of money outside of his salary, but that was over a year ago.

"That would make the amount $458.20, though, but without that show what payments Ponton made?"

Mr. Bogart showed $357 from the ledger, and of other amounts Ponton had paid, including the regular cheque, there was $64.37. In addition to that there were the I.O.U. cheques, $37, and Mrs. Ponton's $15.

"According to your figures, you have charged some of them twice?" said Mr. Porter.

"There will be a difference of about $43."

"It was a discrepancy in figures," said Mr. Bogart. "Figures and receipts of Ponton's salary and to payments I knew of, the discrepancy amounted to $90. If you give Ponton credit for $70 it would just about make the thing balance."

"If we had the money you have counted over twice," retorted Mr. Porter.

Mr. Porter conducted a vigorous cross-examination, scoring several points for his client. He explained that the figures on the paper slip meant $1000 in the safe and $75 in the teller's box; 100 twenties in the safe and 45 in the teller's box, and Mr. Bogart would not swear that such might have been the case, although he did not think there were.

After much argument Mr. Bogart said he could offer no explanation regarding the manner in which the slip was made out. He thought Ponton took a memo of the cash on Aug. 26 for some reason he could not express. Mr. Bogart said that Ponton was suspected before the slip of paper was found. Ponton's accounts with the bank were straight.

Mr. Porter enquired how the prosecution had become possessed of the cheques used in evidence, and it transpired that they had been taken from Ponton's pockets by Detective Dougherty before the warrant was issued, an action that Mr. Porter remarked looked very much like stealing itself. Mr. Bogart's examination was completed, the defence claiming to be much satisfied.

$5000 FROM THE PROVINCE

To the Sufferers by the Casselman Calamity—$130,000 More Needed to Carry Them Over the Winter.

Toronto, Oct. 13.—At a special meeting of the Cabinet Council, held late yesterday afternoon, the Ontario Government decided to contribute the sum of $5000 towards the relief of the Casselman fire sufferers.

Dr. P. H. Bryce, the secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, returned from the scene of the disaster yesterday. He says a population of 2500 do not know how they are to gain a living the coming winter. Four hundred families, consisting of 2000 persons, are so destitute that they must be housed, fed and clothed, for at least six months.

It will cost $2000 per week, or $50,000 in all, to feed them. Four hundred houses, at $150 each, will call for an outlay of $60,000, and it will take $20,000 besides to furnish these houses with the barest necessaries.

This means that from outside charitable sources the large sum of $130,000 will be needed to meet the requirements of the situation.

OTTAWA VALLEY FIRES.

They Flared Up Again, but Villagers, Aided by Rain, Overcame Them. An Intense Report.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 12.—As was generally feared last night, the sudden change in the weather, accompanied by a high south wind, stirred up the bush fires, and many villages were threatened with destruction. However, the work of the villagers, who were in many cases hard pressed, succeeded in keeping the flames from damaging the villages. The welcome rain, which fell in many sections during the early morning hours, assisted the fire fighters.

The report was current in the city this morning that Buckingham was in imminent danger of being destroyed by bush fires. This fear is dispelled by the receipt of the following telegram to-day from a special correspondent at Buckingham:

"Any reports of Buckingham being destroyed or partly burned by the bush fires in the district are completely false. No imminent danger has existed to cause the least alarm so far. The heavy showers we are getting to-day preclude all thoughts of any risk whatever."

Those who suffered at Casselman and South Indian will not long for work if they be inclined that way. A lumberman's agent of Murray-street is in a position to-day to offer employment to upwards of 800 men, and can give them employment immediately. To-day he received an order for 500 men from Fort William, Ont. The men are ordered in gangs of 100, and the first will be sent up next Saturday. He will begin hiring at his establishment on Murray-street on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, and will give the fire sufferers the preference.

Barney McGinnis of Hull Township, near Chelsea, was arrested this morning on a charge of setting fire to the barn and outbuildings of his sister, Miss Anna McGinnis. The offence is said to have been committed yesterday. The barns and buildings, together with their contents, hay, grain, etc., valued at about $1500, were destroyed, and McGinnis is charged with incendiarism.

Fractions.

"Suppose," suggested the teacher, "that you take a piece of beefsteak and cut it into halves, then cut the halves into quarters, the quarters into eighths, and the eighths into sixteenths, into what could the sixteenth be cut?"

"Hash," responded Tommy, whose mother kept a boarding house.

And the class in fractions was dismissed.—London Tid-Bits.

WHERE BRITISH BENEFITS COME IN.

The London Speaker points out that the Canadian tariff leaves it open for any country which grants Canada better terms than are now accorded her to get the advantage in return of our lower tariff. The difference is, from the free trade point of view, the Spectator says, all important. "An offer by Canada," the writer continues, "to grant the preference to any nation which will admit Canadian products on equally favourable tariff terms may induce some foreign nations to reduce their tariffs to the same standard and thus obtain the preference. England might lose a little by the competition of such foreign nations in Canada on equal terms with herself, but she would gain much more by lowering of duties in the foreign country, which would inure to the benefit of English as well as Canadian producers. Englishmen have much reason to be grateful for the courage and persistence shown by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Louis Davies in what was not an easy negotiation."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THERE will be some brilliant political pireitechnics in North Wentworth from this out. Mr. F. W. Pirie, editor of the Dundas Banner, is the candidate for "the local."

IN free trade England the proportion of unemployed is far smaller than in the taxed-up-to-the-neck United States. Yet there are those that claim that free trade is ruining Great Britain.

THE Laurier Government by its tariff discouraged the sweating of the tax-payer, and it now prevents the tax-payer from making the employee sweat. The government's regulations against the introduction of the "sweating" system into government contracts is—more than a step—a stride in the right direction.

HON. SPEAKER EVANTUREL'S quarters at the Parliament buildings are being fitted up for the use of Sir George Kirkpatrick and Lady Kirkpatrick, who will reside there until their new home on Simcoe street is ready for their occupation. The necessary arrangements will be completed by the latter end of this week, when his Honour and Lady Kirkpatrick will immediately take possession.

THE Toronto Evening News says: "The Premier's speech at the Board of Trade banquet was in admirable taste, such as his political opponents could enjoy equally well with his supporters. It was noteworthy also that all his references to the work of expanding our trade and developing our resources — schemes involving heavy outlays of capital—were as heartily applauded by Conservatives as by Liberals, which goes to show that the ancient cry of economy will not be raised to strangle any meritorious undertaking the Government may conceive. All that the country wants is, as Chairman Gurney said, 'that the Government shall spend their money as business men spend theirs.'"

THE chairman of Mr. Whitney's meeting at Beaverton explained that the small attendance at the meeting was due to the farmers being busy and to the lack of advertising. In regard to the first reason; if the farmers believed that the country was in such imminent danger of destruction by bad government, as Mr. Whitney would like to make them believe, they would rush as one man to hear the Whitney-Tupper plan of saving the Province. Evidently the farmers are not much afraid of direct taxation. As to the second reason for the small attendance; the enterprise that ignores the virtues of the press and printing ink, must be prepared for a large instalment of failure.

THE GAME LAWS.

The following paragraph, which we clip from an exchange, supplies information that will be valuable to our sporting readers:

"The only change made in the game laws of 1897 was the extension of the close season for wild turkeys, prairie chickens and English pheasants to 1900 and the prohibition of the sale of snipe, woodcock, partridge and quail to 1900. These are the only changes of importance affecting the game laws. The regulations as to deer hunting and the open season for all game remain the same as before; deer, Nov. 1st to 15th; moose, reindeer, elk and cariboo prohibited till 1900. No deer to be killed in the water, and no one to hunt deer without a license, to be had for $2. Only 2 deer to be killed by any one person. Open season for grouse, partridges, woodcocks, snipe, teal, plover, black and grey squirrels and hares, from Sept. 15th to Dec. 15th; quail, Oct. 15th to Dec. 15th; swans and geese, Sept. 15th to May 1st; ducks of all kinds, Sept. 1st to Dec. 15th. Cottontail rabbits may be killed at any time. No shooting allowed between half an hour after sunset and half an hour before sunrise. No game can be exported from the province, and no non-resident can hunt without a license. Open season for beaver and otter, Nov. 1st to April 1st, but no beaver are to be hunted or be taken before 1900. Muskrats may be killed from Jan. 1st to May 1st, but may not be shot during the month of April."

NORWAY RETALIATES.

Makes a New Tariff Against Canada Because of the Denunciation of the Treaties.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 12.—Norway, in consequence of the denunciation of the treaties by Great Britain, has passed a new tariff. The changes affecting the chief articles of Canadian exports are as follows: Rolled oats, formerly free, now 16 1-5 cents per 220 pounds; wheat flour, formerly 6 cents, now 8 cents per 220 pounds; fresh apples, formerly 2 3-4 cents, now 3 1-4 cents per 220 pounds; dried apples, formerly 9 3-4 cents, now 10 4-5 cents per 220 pounds; radiators (heating apparatus), formerly free, now $1.35 per 100 pounds. Mr. Sonstom, Canada's commercial agent in Norway, reports that self-binders will soon come into general use in Norway and Sweden owing to the growing scarcity and expense of farm help. A regular official test at the Government farm, which recently took place, of the self-binders was much in favor of the Canadian manufacturers. He writes: "Out of seven machines tested two were Canadian, and those took second place and third place respectively."

THE ENGINEERS' STRIKE.

The Crisis Involving the Life of Trades Unionism in England Delayed - Another Conference.

London, Oct. 12.—A meeting of the Federated Trades Unions was held at Carlisle yesterday for the purpose of discussing the question of calling out all of the men composing the unions represented Oct. 15, to be in sympathy with the strike of the engineers. If the question is decided in the affirmative, it means the stopping of thirty industries, including the boiler makers, shipwrights, carpenters, plumbers, blacksmiths and pattern makers.

The meeting did not decide the main question of calling out the trades unionists, but resolved to appeal to Mr. C. T. Ritchie, President of the Board of Trade, to summon a conference under the Conciliation Act of representatives of the Employers' Federation and the unions. This will delay the crisis for at least two weeks.

It has been said repeatedly that the Employers' Federation went into the present fight with the intention of smashing the trades unions, but the members disclaim any such desire. The Executive Committee of the federation has issued a statement affirming that it believes that Mr. Siemans of Siemans Brothers & Company (Limited), who is now on the Continent, was incorrectly reported the other day when the papers asserted that he had said that the federation wanted to get rid of trades unionism altogether.

The work of making heavy guns at Woolwich Arsenal is being seriously discussed owing to a shortage of steel, which is due to the contractors, including the Whitworths and Cammells, having locked out their workmen.

Simla, Oct. 12.—A despatch from Momund announces that the Jirga tribesmen have surrendered their rifles and have solemnly sworn to maintain the peace and drive out Umra Khan's followers.

POTATO CROP IN IRELAND.

Tim Healy His Best Sound on His Wheel and Says Things are Not So Desperate.

London, Oct. 12.—Mr. Timothy Healy, anti-Parnellite member of Parliament for North Louth, who has just returned from a cycling tour in Ireland, says: "The potatoes are generally bad; but all the crops have been saved where the farmers had the sense or the money to spray them. No doubt there will be keen distress in the southwestern and western counties during the coming winter and spring. In some places it may approach starvation."

Mr. Healy admitted that there had been some exaggeration of the difficulty.

THE SUGAR COMBINE.

The Trade Has Adopted a New Scheme to Get Benefit Without Danger of Legislation.

Montreal, Oct. 12.—The sugar refineries have adopted a new scheme to get the benefits of a combine with wholesale grocers without putting themselves in danger of legislation by the Government. In future the wholesale trade will be allowed a discount of 2 1-2 per cent. on all purchases up to 250 barrels, and on all lots ranging from 250 barrels and over the discount will be 3 1-2 per cent. At first sight this appears to be a substantial reduction. To recoup themselves for their generosity in giving the discount an advance has been made of one-eighth cent per pound, just about equivalent to the above discount. This makes the present refinery price 4 1-8 cents for granulated, and 3 3-8 cents to 3 3-4 cents for yellows, according to quality. Wholesale grocers will have no excuse to advance prices on the plea that the refineries have also advanced prices, thus ignoring the discount. It is understood that four local firms are still out of the combine, and they are cutting prices on sugar. Until they are persuaded or compelled to enter it is believed that cutting will be continued.

I have used five boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am now cured. You may publish this if you choose." This is a short statement, but it tells a great deal.

MR. TARTE HONORED.

Enthusiastic Welcome by the Tarte Club.

SPEECH BY SIR WILFRID LAURIER.

Montreal Harbor Improvements Discussed—The Government's Position—Interests of the Whole Country Must Be Considered Premier Asserts His Authority.

Montreal, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Tarte both made in a short compass important statements at the reception tendered to-night to the Minister of Public Works by the Liberal club which bears his name. The meeting, which was almost exclusively French-Canadian, took place at Maisonneuve, in the market hall, which will hold perhaps 1500, and which was packed to the doors.

The President of the Club Tarte, in opening the meeting, said that it was for the purpose of enabling the electors of the east end to hear Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Tarte, and also to congratulate Mr. Tarte upon defeating his calumniators in he recent libel case.

The Minister's Speech.

Mr. Tarte, having won that case and being further encouraged by the vindication of his views regarding harbor improvements at yesterday's conference, was in splendid form and aroused much enthusiasm. Having explained why he went to court against his defamers, he went on to say that he had entered the Government at Sir Wilfrid Laurier's request and would not stay in it one moment if it was to Sir Wilfrid's detriment. If it should happen that his presence was detrimental to Sir Wilfrid he would cheerfully abandon his portfolio, though still remaining a faithful follower, and would take up his pen again as a journalist. But there was one thing certain, he would not leave the Government to please his Conservative friends. (Applause.) Regarding the policy of the Government, he said that a vigorous railway policy had been adopted, and it was sought by means of the Intercolonial and in other ways to make Montreal the heart of Canada. In regard to the development of the port, he had been denounced by a certain paper because he was a French-Canadian, but he was one of those who might be crushed but would never yield his opinions except when necessary. (Applause.) At the conference regarding harbor improvements yesterday, he was surprised to see such a diversity of opinion among the business men. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking at the Board of Trade banquet, said he did not want to hear about the east and about the west, but only about the harbor of Montreal. But the plan of improvements which certain interested parties contemplated would involve the Government in an expenditure of millions for only a distance of 4000 or 5000 feet along the centre of the city. He would not sign that plan because he believed the real future of Montreal was in the east end of the city. It was not he who built the St. Lawrence, it was Providence. The centre would have a large share of the traffic as in the past, but because the east part is occupied by French-Canadians is no reason why it should be neglected. Why should French-Canadians not have their share?

Mr. Tarte, continuing, said that if French Canadians were to have their share they must be better educated, and referred to the fact that Sir Wilfrid Laurier spoke English as well as French, and in England had been an honor to his race. Sir Wilfrid had not been long in power, but he had done a great deal and was worthy of the continuance of their confidence. He therefore made a strong appeal for unity among them, because the whole country, and especially the Province of Quebec, needed Sir Wilfrid. He warned them against those who were stirring up ill-feeling against himself and against the Government, and added that this warm and sympathetic reception would stimulate his own courage.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier having alluded to his long acquaintance with Mr. Tarte, beginning with their schoolboy days, said that when he had joined the Liberal party he did not ask him to change his opinions. "So long as I continue to be leader of the Liberal party," said Sir Wilfrid, "the doctrine of the Liberal party will be to leave each member of it complete responsibility. But on questions which effect the discipline of the party I reserve the right to exercise my own judgment. I cannot always take the advice of every member of the party. I may commit errors but I will ask the Liberal party to have confidence in my judgment. I never sought the position of leader. I served under Mr. Blake and Mr. Mackenzie. No one gave them a more hearty support than I did myself. I made up my mind to serve to the last under Mr. Blake, but fate decreed that that great man could not continue the task, and the members of the party in Parliament chose me as leader. I would have been happy to continue to exercise my profession as a lawyer, but having accepted the task of leader I decided to devote to it my whole soul and life. That task we have fulfilled, and now, although we have been only fourteen months in power, our enemies say we cannot govern. I say that never was the country more prosperous than it is to-day. There is more work to-day than ever before, and next year there promises to be much more.

Continuing, Sir Wilfrid said they had still a task to fulfil. Mr. Tarte had explained the policy of the party. He and his colleagues understood perfectly that Montreal is the point of exchange between east and west. The policy of the Government was to work for the welfare of the whole country and not for one section or one Province. Mr. Tarte was right in what he said at the Board of Trade banquet deprecating sectional questions of east and west. The imports of the country should go to the west of the harbor, but the exports should go to the east. In conclusion, Sir Wilfrid said, that we have here the elements of a country greater than England and France combined. His Government acted through broad and not narrow ideas, and he believed the Government would last for a long time. He made a strong appeal for harmonious support, and expressed his pleasure at being present at the demonstration in honor of Mr. Tarte.

Pain in the Back.

Mr. M. P. Halpin, Brockville, Ont., makes a statement as follows: "For two years I suffered from kidney trouble, causing severe pain across my back, dizziness, headache, sleeplessness, etc. I had often to lean on the counter when serving a customer, so intense was the pain in my back. On taking Doan's Kidney Pills I improved from the very first, and now after using three boxes am all right; all my pains, aches and dizziness having disappeared, thanks to Doan's Pills."

REMARKABLE CASE WHICH HAS LATELY COME TO LIGHT.

Our reporter visited Mr. Alfred Crowhurst, and from him received the following statement. Said Mr. Crowhurst, "I have suffered greatly for sometime with pains across my body and in my side. The pain was often so great that I could not sleep. I took many kinds of medicine but they did me no good.

Finally I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at T. Geo. Watson's Drug Store, and have now used two boxes with the result that I am perfectly cured. My wife has also taken them with beneficial results, and as a kidney medicine I heartily recommend them, for I know of no other remedy which could exercise so benefical an influence in so short a time.

I esteem these pills a blessing to humanity, and trust that all who suffer as I did will give them a faithful trial."

The specific and direct action of Doan's Kidney Pills on the kidneys always restores them to healthy natural action, thus curing all diseases arising from disorder of the kidneys, bladder or urinary organs.

Backache, weak back, diabetes, Bright's disease, gravel, etc, all yield readily to Doan's Pills. Full directions with each box. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50. 64

To Break Up Sweating.

The English "Ladies' League" is making an effort to break up the sweating system in London, where considerable excitement has been raised by the discovery that a great many fashionable wedding outfits are made in this iniquitous way. Many fashionable brides took sick from the infection conveyed to them from the fever dens in the new clothes they had manufactured there.

"Natural Causes."

A London baby, three months of age, died recently, after being attended by six doctors, each of whom prescribed different medicines for it. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of "death from natural causes."

"I was troubled with constipation for many years, in fact, it was my only enemy, and was very distressing.

I tried a great many pills and patent medicines, but received no relief until I tried SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC; it helped me at once and affected a complete cure. I have recommended it to a great many people, and believe in every case it has given satisfaction.

Every spring I procure it from Mr. Phin, our druggist here, and think it an ideal blood purifier and system tonic."

Merrit Wilse, of Belmont, writes;

Please find inclosed post office order for $1, for which send 1 bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic. We think it an excellent medicine.

Mrs. Margaret McIntyre, of Wallacetown, says:

I have had a bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic and believe it has cured my liver. I have not yet used one bottle, and I have now no pain or ache so far, so I consider it my duty to recommend it to all whom I know need it. You can use my name if you wish in recommending it. OUR MANTLES AND JACKETS.

We drew your special attention yesterday to our superb MANTLES and JACKETS—we do so again to-day—they deserve our eulogies Those we have sold have carried our name mutely—though effectively, from one end of the country to the other. Those sold in future will do so just as effectively, and will establish our reputation for keeping the most select stock in Peterborough

The QUALITY of the cloth has been the first requisite we demanded when purchasing our stock—the STYLE was obliged to come up to our required standard of novelty—the TRIMMING was an important factor in our requirements—the LININGS were careully examined and selected with the greatest deliberation,—the making and strength of the SEWING was thoroughly tested—and even the BUTTONS were accepted only when they agreed with the exacting mandates of the latest Fall and Winter fashions

You have—when purchasing from us—our guarantee that every detail, necessary for a first-class and attractive MANTLE OR JACKET, has been incorporated in the manufacture of our stock.

YOUR DECISION, after inspecting our goods will be in our favour. You will be delighted at our immense variety, as much as at our stylish and taking patterns. We await your judgment with calm confidence in our ability to please you in your choice.

Saw the Prize Fight.

All the sports in town were down to see the Veriscope pictures of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight last night. The representation was most realistic, 350,000 photographs being required. The awful agony on Corbett's face could easily be noticed when he received the knock-out blow over the heart.

Shakspere at a Bargain.

Warren Conlan and his superb company of metropolitan players, will open a three days' engagement at Bradburn's Opera House on Monday, Oct. 18th, presenting the following plays selected from the repertoire of classic and romantic productions. Monday evening, "Othello;" Tuesday, "The Merchant of Venice;" Wednesday, "Damon and Pythias." This company will also give a special matinee performance on Wednesday of the romantic play, "Don Cæsar de Bazan," always popular with the ladies. Manager Bradburn has succeeded in persuading the business manager of the company to play at his house at reduced, instead of at an advanced scale of prices, which is the rule for Shakesperian productions. In doing so Mr. Bradburn feels confident that the theatre-goers of Peterborough will appreciate and eagerly take advantage of this never-before-offered opportunity of seeing a star of Mr. Conlan's reputation at bargain prices. The most sanguine expectations should be fully realised, for this attraction comes so as highly recommended, both star and support, in every particular by the leading American journals. All who desire to enjoy an intellectual treat should secure good seats, now on sale at Ormond & Walsh's drugstore.

MONCRIEF VS. THE TOWN.

The Case was on Yesterday Before Armour C.J., Falconbridge, J., Street, J.

Mr. E. B Edwards is in Toronto in connection with the case of Moncrief vs. Peterborough, of which the Globe speaks as follows:—

Moncrief v. Town of Peterborough.—E. B. Edwards (Peterborough), for defendants, appealed from judgment of County Court of Peterborough in so far as it dismissed the claim of the appellants for relief over against the third party, Fairweather. The plaintiff sued for damages for injuries sustained by a fall owing to a trap door in the sidewalk, and obtained a verdict against the municipal corporation, the defendants. The claim for relief over is based upon the fact that Fairweather is the tenant of the premises adjoining the sidewalk in connection with which the trap door was used. J. H. Moss, for Fairweather, opposed appeal. Not finished.

Another case of local interest was that of Ashe vs. Wilson. W. H. Irving for defendants, appealed from judgment of County Court of Peterborough in favour of plaintiffs for $93 in action to recover the cost of hauling a quantity of lumber from Chandos mill to Coebill station. The only question upon the appeal was whether the plaintiffs were bound by a measurement of the lumber made by one Dockrie. Poussette, Q. C., for plaintiffs, contra. Reserved.

VILLAGE COUNCILLORS.

They Discuss the Introduction of a Waterworks System.

The members of the Ashburnham Council met last evening to discuss the matter of putting in a system of water works for fire protection. Mr. Kennedy, of the firm of Kennedy & Wade, was present and it was decided that the system should embrace Elizabeth street from the bridge to Stewart street; north on Stewart to Stanley avenue and south on Stewart to Sophia street; south on Lake street to below James street; east on Douro street from Stewart to Brown; south on Mark to Robinson: Brown street from Elizabeth to Douro; Robinson from Lake to Mark street.

Mr. Kennedy was asked to give an estimate of the cost.

On this distribution of pipes there would be twelve hydrants. It is expected that the supply will be furnished by the Peterborough Water Co. and that payment for the same will be collected through annual payments or by metre.

The village council is not introducing the system as much for the convenience of the private residences as to afford fire protection. If arrangements cannot be made with the Water Company negotiations with the Dickson Company will be opened at once.

CANADIAN FARM MACHINERY ABROAD.

It is Highly Regarded in Norway—Prospects of a Good Trade.

A report of Mr. C. E. Sontum, representing the department of Trade and Commerce at Christiana, Norway, in a report to Sir Richard Cartwright contains the following in reference to Canadian farm machinery:

Self-binding harvesters from Canada are attracting attention in Norway. "It is only a question of time," said Mr. Sontum, "when they will come into general use, as the farmers have a great deal of difficulty in getting hands to do their work owing to the high rate of wages. Wages are very much higher here than they were a few years ago. A recent test of farm implements at the Government Farming School gave the second and third prizes to Canadian self-binders. These prizes were taken by the Massey-Harris Company. In Bergen next year there is to be an exposition and Canada should send an agricultural exhibit, as it would be the means of attracting immigration."

It is within easy possibility that self-binders may be shipped from Peterborough to Norway in the near future. Among the many good machines made in Canada there's not a better one than the Hamilton Light Steel Binder.

PETERBOROUGH'S PROTEST WAS THROWN OUT.

IGNORANCE IS NO EXCUSE IN THE EYE OF THE LAW.

But it Appears That it is in the Eyes of the Members of the Judicial Committee. Especially if the Ignorant Have a Long Purse.

Through the "off-side" finding of the Judicial Committee of the Canadian Lacrosse Association the claims of Peterborough have been completely ignored, and Markham has been declared the winners of the semi-finals, and champions of Eastern Ontario.

On Monday evening the Judiciary met and President Craig appointed Messrs. Frank Nelson, D. A. Rose and D. J. Slater as a committee to hear Peterborough's protest against Markham and to decide on the merits of the case.

As Mr. Slater was the referee in the match, it was decided that he was an interested party, and he retired from the committee, President Craig taking his place at the Board.

Secretary Terrill, of the Peterboroughs briefly stated the two causes of complaint, viz., that Geo. Wilson, who played in Markham, had, in violation of the rules, played a match in Campbellford with the club of that place against the Hastings team; the second ground of complaint being that Glover, of the Markhams, who had played in both games against Peterborough, had been declared a professional, suspended from the Association and never reinstated.

In regard to the first complaint it was pointed out by Secretary Terrill that last year James McCabe, of Peterborough, had been in Perth and played lacrosse there, though in reality a member of the Peterborough team, and having a certificate of membership in it. On his returning again to Peterborough and playing against Orillia he was protested successfully by the latter club, and the Peterboroughs thrown out of the series. Mr. Terrill held that McCabe's case was similar to that of Wilson, only the latter was a more aggravated offense by reason of the fact that Wilson had played with a team belonging to the C.L.A. and in the Peterborough District, whereas the Perth team was not affiliated with the C.L.A.

was quoted in support of the contention.

Any member of a club in this Association who shall play with any other club, whether such club be a member of this Association or not, shall have his certificate cancelled and shall be expelled forever from this Association, nor shall the Judicial Committee have power to reinstate such player; and the club for which he has played shall be suspended for the season, provided the Judicial Committee has reasonable grounds for supposing that such club was aware of the fact.

Markham's defense was as weak as could well be imagined. They held that Wilson was excusable for playing as the match was played for the purpose of encouraging lacrosse, and no admission fee was charged spectators.

Peterborough then produced declarations from various people who had paid an admittance fee of ten cents to the grounds and who had seen the bills advertising the game and stating the admittance fee to be as stated.

IN THE CASE OF GLOVER,

Markham stated that they played him "innocently," being under the impression that he had been reinstated.

Mr. Craig rose and stated that Glover had been expelled from the Association for professionalism and that he could not possibly be reinstated until his amateur standing had been restored by the Canadian Amateur Athletic Association. He was proceeding to make public another matter which will be referred to later, when the public were asked to retire and leave the members of the committee to settle the points in dispute amongst themselves.

After several hours discussion, Mr. Rose was observed to leave the committee room suddenly, and being followed by the other members of the committee, it was learned that a vote was about to be taken, and that seeing the decision was about to be made in Peterborough's favour, Mr. Rose had left his seat at the Board, thus breaking up the quorum before a verdict could be given.

UP TO THIS POINT

the impression had prevailed that the merits of the case were to be decided upon the evidence produced, but the hasty dissolution of the committee threw a totally different light on the matter, and the Peterborough representative knew for the first time what he was "up against."

It was then announced that two additions would be made to the committee next day, H. J. P. Good of Toronto, and Dr. Roberts of Brampton, being asked to sit on it, when the whole matter would be taken up.

President Craig made the explanation at this juncture of how the Markham team came to be under the impression that Glover had been reinstated. It seems that D. A. Rose, without notifying the President, called a committee of the C.L.A. together in Toronto, and decided to reinstate Glover.

There were just two members present at this meeting and yet they undertook to settle the matter. This, of course, was done at the instigation of Markham, and when it was found that was not going to work, Mr. Rose promptly broke up the quorum.

At this time Nelson was a strong supporter of Peterborough's claims, as well as Craig, but when the committee met on Tuesday morning he had been converted into a strong Markham supporter. Dr. Roberts did not arrive from Brampton, and Good, the other new member of the committee, was also a Markham man to the core before he ever sat on the case.

After a short discussion the committee announced that it had decided to award the series to Markham on the ground that Wilson played in Campbellford innocently not knowing that it would effect his standing, and that Markham was excusable for playing Glover. President Craig was a strong dissenter from both of these findings but could find no one to that the matter be settled by the teams playing a match on neutral ground.

The Peterborough representative was consoled by the committee stating that a different finding might have resulted, but that it was too late in the season to think of ordering the matches to be played over again.

The rotteness of the whole decision is clearly shown up in the last clause of the finding, where it is stated that Peterborough is to receive back the $25, which had to be deposited at the time the protest was lodged. If Peterborough was in the wrong, this money should have been forfeited to pay the expenses of the committee, and if the protest was upheld, the money should be returned.

The members of the committee, however, showed their hand clearly when they ordered the money to be paid back, as by such action they put themselves completely beyond reach of the law. If the money had been retained Peterborough would have been in a position to sue for it, the decision of the committee being so manifestly unfair that any court of the land would have upheld Peterborough's contention. By its astuteness in handing back this money the committee insures itself against any such action being taken.

As Mr. Lem Fetcher was supposed to have influence with Messrs. Rose and Good he was telegraphed to come up to Toronto to see if he could obtain fair play for Peterborough, but Markham had everything fixed too well for any change to be effected.

BUY ON WEDNESDAY.

It Offers Excellent Market Facilities.

People who run away with the idea that Saturday is Peterborough's best market day are mistaken. It is certainly Peterborough's biggest market day, but not its best. Wednesday is the best day for both buyers and sellers.

Farmers who have produce to dispose of will find, as between the two days, that Wednesday will suit them better. On Saturday there is a big crowd and plenty of bustle, but competition lowers prices, and all the people who flock to the market are not buyers. Again, on Saturday the stores are crowded, the merchants are busy, and visitors to the town have not the opportunity for selection and purchase afforded by the comparative quiet of a Wednesday afternoon.

If this idea that Wednesday is a good day to sell their produce could be impressed on farmers, and that Wednesday is an equally good day to purchase their supplies could be driven home to the housewives of Peterborough it would be better all around. It would help to relieve the crush of Saturday and would stimulate the trade of Wednesday.

Peterborough already possesses a good Wednesday market. There is a good deal of stuff offered as it is. The citizens should make a point of buying more freely on that day and thus encourage larger offerings.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB REORGANIZED AGAIN.

REV. H. SYMONDS RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE ORGANIZATION.

Other Officers Chosen—Votes of Thanks Passed to the County Council, Judge Weller, the Y. M. C. A. and the Press.

The Fortnightly Club met last evening in the Bible Class room of the Y.M.C.A. and re-organized for the year.

Rev. H. Symonds occupied the chair and delivered his president's address for the year as follows:—

Mr. Symonds said that it gave him great pleasure to welcome the members of the Fortnightly Club on the occasion of the opening meeting of the fourth year of the Fortnightly Club. Those who had experience of the conduct of literary societies knew how difficult it was to keep up an interest in them. The Fortnightly Club had enjoyed three years of success and he hoped the high standard it had set before it would be more than sustained this year. He proposed this evening to say a few words regarding the object which they should set before them.

The Fortnightly Club had never aimed at being merely a select association of ladies and gentlemen with literary tastes. Its object was in no exclusive or pharisaic spirit to seek to foster a love of the best literature in the community at large. It was a great mistake to suppose that the aim of the most enduring literature was simply to frame together fine words into beautiful sentences. Form was not the first consideration, but the second. The main object of great writers was to give the best possible expression to their best thoughts. It was true that people could, and many people did, live without any knowledge of the great writers of the world. But there could be no doubt that their lives could be made richer and happier and worthier by the study and assimilation of the ideas of the great authors and thinkers of our race. To stimulate a taste for high thinking, which must in the long run produce high living, was the object of their society. The Fortnightly Club was not an institution in Peterborough, but it was an institution of Peterborough. It desired to make its own particular contribution to the well-being of the community. Modern society, using that expression in its fullest signification of the whole body of the people living together in a town or city, was an exceedingly complex organism, to the perfection of which every good institution contributed something. Civilization meant the realization of the perfect man in the perfect society. We all have our private interests, but there are other interests, viz., social. The various societies in a town were like the members of a body (to use St. Paul's metaphor), each of which had its place and work, but which were not separated but bound together for the accomplishment of a common end. He thought the Fortnightly Club had given sufficient evidence of its desire to be not exclusive, but inclusive. It had in the past three years held many open meetings, at which papers worthy of any literary society in the country had been read. It had brought distinguished visitors to address the public, and so far it never charged a cent, or asked for any contributions towards the expense of any of its meetings. Turning from this statement of the ideals of the Fortnightly Club with which he was sure all its members sympathized, the President proceeded to speak of the proposals for the forthcoming season. It had been decided to do away with open meetings on various accounts. But on the other hand the annual fee, which had always been insignificant, was to be reduced to 25c. This would put its membership within easy reach of all those who had, or who wished to cultivate literary tastes, and he earnestly hoped the present members would interest themselves in adding to their membership. At the same time the privilege of inviting friends to the meeting would be retained and he appealed to all to endeavour to increase the sociability and good-fellowship that should prevail amongst the members. As would be seen an excellent programme had been prepared and if each individual did his share in promoting the work of the Club he was sure that they would have the gratification of realizing a most successful season. In conclusion he wished especially to thank the staff of the Collegiate Institute for the hearty and able way in which they had always supported the society.

It was decided that hereafter the meetings of the club would be held in the Y.M.C.A. building.

Officers for the year were elected as follows:

President—Rev. H. Symonds.
Vice-President—Sheriff Hall.
Secretary-Treasurer—R. M. Dennistoun.
Assistant Secretary-Treas—E. A. Peck.
Executive Committee—Mrs. Macfarlane Wilson, Miss Spence, Rev. S. J. Shorey, D. W. Dumble, C. Fessenden, Dr. Burnham, F. D. Kerr, J. Jeffries, H. S. Greenwood.

On motion of Messrs. Dennistoun and Brown, a cordial vote of thanks was passed to the County Council and to Judge Weller for the use of their rooms in the county buildings since the formation of the club.

On motion of Mr. H. S. Greenwood and Sheriff Hall, a hearty vote of thanks was also tendered the Y.M.C.A. for the use of their apartments.

Another vote of thanks was tendered the Press, on motion of Mr. F. D. Kerr and Dr. Burnham, for courtesies extended.

ART LOAN EXHIBITION.

It is to be Held on 3rd and 4th of November Next in the Y.M.C.A. Hall.

The adjourned meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. was held in the Association parlour yesterday and was largely attended.

Mrs. (Sheriff) Hall, the newly-elected president, presided for the first time, and in a few earnest remarks outlined the work and expressed confidence that the season would be marked by success.

The only business before the meeting was arranging for an Art Loan Exhibition, which, by a unanimous vote, it was decided to hold on the 3rd and 4th of Nov. in the Association building.

The aim of the Exhibition is not only to secure funds by means of the small admission fee which will be charged, but it is also designed to aid the Educational Department of the Association to increase an interest in the works and beauties of art as well as the preservation of curiosities of varied kinds.

The plan is to ask the citizens of the town to loan any works of art or curios that they may possess.

Committees have been organized to canvass in each ward for such articles, and apart from this, citizens are requested to send word by card or telephone to the Association of any article they wish to loan. This is done in case anyone should be missed in the canvas.

Glass cases will be provided for all pieces of China or such articles as would require them, in order to ensure safety.

A special policy of insurance will also be placed on the exhibits while they remain in the building.

Arrangements will be made to convey the exhibits to the building and also for their safe return to their respective owners.

During the evenings while the exhibition is going on, a musical programme will be provided. Also refreshments and confectionary for those wishing it.

It is just thirteen years since a similar exhibition was held, and the ladies who have the second one in hand are confident that with the progress of the years intervening they will be in a position to give an entertainment which will have the co-operation of all, and will please and edify all those who may be pleased to attend.

The success of the undertaking will be largely due to the co-operation of the citizens, and it is earnestly desired that every one who can contribute anything of interest, be it ever so small, will do so.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE,

BRIGHT AND HEARTY AT ALL SAINTS LAST NIGHT.

A Large Congregation Joins in a Joyous Service—Eloquent Sermon by Rev. Canon Sweeney.

A large congregation assembled at the newly-dedicated All Saints' church last night to join in a service of thanksgiving for the blessings of the harvest and opening of the new church.

The chancel was tastefully brightened with flowers and the special thanksgiving service was read by Rev. W. L. Armitage, assisted by the rector, Rev. Mr. Davidson, who took occasion to heartily welcome among them Rev. Canon Sweeney, Rural Dean of Toronto. They had been honoured yesterday by the visit of the Bishop and now one of the busiest clergymen in Toronto was with them, and their visit was a proof of the authorities and clergy practically sympathized with the church in its progress, and was an encouragement to all.

AN ELOQUENT SERMON.

Rev. Canon Sweeney preached the sermon taking as his text the 20th verse of the 8th chapter of Jeremiah—"The harvest is past, the summer is ended and we are not saved. These words were a wail over the continued captivity of the Jews. The harvest was used to impress many solemn and important truths in the Holy Scriptures. It stood for the end of the operations of nature through the growing season. The harvest also stood also for an ingathering as typified by the manna that fell for the Israelites to be saved. The fruits of the harvest were not for show, but for the good of man—"to give them meat enough." They were gathered that night to thank God for the blessings of the harvest. Another object was to fix the distinctive teaching of Christ in the great harvest parable of the wheat and the tares, of which Christ gave the interpretation in the 13th chapter of St. Matthew. "The field is the world" and all they that dwell therein. Then "the good seed" is the children of the kingdom, sown by the Son of Man, and the bad seed is the wicked in the bondage of the evil one. The angels are the reapers of the great harvest of the world; they do God's will as reverently and willingly in heaven as on earth;

THE ANGELS ARE THE REAPERS

who gather the wicked to their doom and the righteous to the Heavenly Garner. The last use of the symbolism of the harvest is in the Book of the Revelation, where the Son of Man is represented with a sharp sickle in His right hand, and when He "thrust in his sickle" the harvest of the world was reaped. Here the preacher drew a graphic picture of the great scene in which was involved the judgment and reward of the righteous and the doom of the impenitent. The preacher then went on to point out that all Christians must be struck with the appropriateness of the harvest symbolism, and his hearers were urged to reflect that if the Son of Man had not come to seek and save the lost there would have been no heavenly harvest, but trusting in Him they would never employ the wail of "The harvest is past," and a warm appeal was made to the unsaved to own fealty to the "Lord of the Harvest." Referring to the service of thanksgiving, the preacher said that in common with all Canadians we could rejoice in a bountiful harvest. We could join with others in thanking God for the two billion, three hundred and seventy-three million bushels of wheat which, according to the British statistics, constituted the world's crop; for the sixty million bushels that were garnered in Canada, to which this bountiful Province, according to the Bureau of Statistics, contributed twenty millions—all in fulfilment of God's promise recorded in Genesis that seed time and harvest should remain for ever. They were also to thank God for that had resulted in the opening of this beautiful little church, and for the work of their zealous and energetic rector. "And," said the preacher, "you call your church 'All Saints,' "a most appropriate and excellent name, for it suggested a congregation in sympathy with the saints that had gone to their reward. The name set up a high standard of emulation of those who had toiled and triumphed; it set up a high standard of holiness and evangelistic work, and he urged his hearers to be worthy the name, for "All Saints'" would stand in the community for just what they made it. It was the house of God. Others about might own their own homes, but this was the house of God if they made it so. It was the house of prayer, not where they came to have their ears tickled by sensational preaching, but it is the house of prayer if they made it such, and he earnestly charged them to make it the house of prayer. It was the "banquetting house for hungering and thirsty souls," and his banner over them would be love to all who sought, and they who come to the Lord's table would be fed with the bread of life. The church could be made an influence that would leaven the whole community and should do its share in removing the cause for the wail, "the harvest is past," etc. The congregation was urged to be faithful and loyal to the one who as their pastor—laboured among them—to and strengthen him by their prayers, sympathy and co-operation, forbearing criticism—he was of like passions as themselves, but they should remember that he stood there beseeching them in Christ's stead to be reconciled to Him.

The sermon was a most excellent one. No synopsis can do justice to it, nor give an idea of the graceful eloquence and lofty earnestness of its delivery.

NOTES.

The singing for the evening was specially provided. The hymns, in words, music and singing, had the glad harvest ring. The offertory anthem was "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem," and Mrs. Layfield and Miss Brundrette took the duet and Mr. Wilson the tenor solo with good effect. The singing of the choir was excellent throughout and the service was heartily congregational.

In connection with the music of not only the evening but of the entire opening services, the excellent services of Miss May Bullen, organist, should be especially recognized. She has been indefatigable in her attendance at practice, and in her warm interest is the success of the musical services.

The Harvest dinner on Thursday evening concludes the opening series of services. Rev. Mr. Symonds will deliver his interesting illustrated lecture on the "Reformation."

Several persons attending All Saints for the first time last night were very much pleased, especially with the beautiful interior. For this the many thanks are due to Mr. J. E. Belcher, who was the architect of both the original structure and the extension. His tastes are ecclesiastical, and neither hackneyed nor common place in church architecture. Thanks are not only due Mr. Belcher for the effects produced, but for his liberality—he furnished both plans on gospel terms—without money and without price.

The contractors, Mr. Henry and Mr. Enos Evans, are to be congratulated on the excellent and workmanlike manner in which the plans were carried into effect.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Mr. Burnham Resigns the Position of Secretary-Treasurer, giving Cogent Reasons for the Appointment of a Woman to the Office.

A general meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held in the Council Chamber yesterday afternoon, the President, Sheriff Hall, in the chair. The meeting was called to consider the resignation of Mr. J. H. Burnham as secretary-treasurer, and the question of the proposed refuge and shelter.

Mr. Burnham explained in detail and at considerable length his reasons for wishing the office of secretary-treasurer to be filled by a woman. More than three-fourths of the work of the society is of a sympathetic and helping character, and, therefore, in the cases of children and girls, can be done by women only. To take an instance: A report comes in from two or three reliable sources that a woman whose husband has abandoned her, and gone elsewhere to avoid the burden of a family, is leading an immoral life, and that out of a family of five two are girls, the elder being thirteen. The society's officers go together to see this woman. Kindly but careful reports show that the reports are true. The family is on the down grade. The girl has only ruin before her. Now here it is manifest that men can go no further. Women who possess at the same time the full authority of the society and the treasury to back them, can put themselves in connection with this family, establish a kindly social relationship, and whilst visiting them as friends, can also have an eye to conditions surrounding. It is hardly possible that the regeneration or rescue of this family should not follow. Such cases are very numerous. It is not law but friendly intercourse that is needed.

It is of course necessary that the woman at the head of these visiting parties should possess, as secretary, the full power conferred on the chief executive officer by the law which has been enacted after wide experience and great care. The agent, active and in every way a good responsible man, stands ready to do what the women cannot do, as for instance, driving into the country, serving subpoenas, etc. Such then was Mr. Burnham's opinion, and he urged the women to take up the work themselves, leaving the men to help them financially. Several cases of illegitimacy and misfortune in the cases of young women who applied to the Society during the year had perforce gone off to the fate that a scornful and unfriendly world might have for them. This should not be. There was a great amount of work to be done.

After expressions of approval of Mr. Burnham's efforts in establishing and helping to carry on the Society's work by some of those present, a resolution of thanks was passed, and Miss Clarke, of Brock street, was suggested by the Women's Association, and was elected as secretary-treasurer of the society for the ensuing year. Mr. Burnham will continue as a member to afford all the assistance in his power.

A resolution moved by Rev. Dr. Torrance and seconded by Mr. J. J. McBain, was passed unanimously, requesting the town council to proceed immediately with the town's share in the establishing of a refuge and shelter as in other places.

The Women's Association, with Mrs. Kendry as spokeswoman, will again interview the council in the matter at the first special meeting of that body.

In illustration of Mr. Burnham's remarks, a case came in this morning of a whole family of illegitimates who live by beggary, while the mother is currently reported to be leading an improper life. A somewhat similar case was also reported. In both these the sympathetic work of woman alone can be effective.

OBITUARY.

Death of Richard Thexton in St. Thomas on Oct. 3rd.

(St. Thomas Times.)

Richard Thexton died at his home on Sunday, October 3rd, at 8.30 a. m. He sustained a severe stroke of paralysis on August 14th and has been gradually losing strength. At no time since his illness has there been hope of his recovery, yet his death was not expected so soon.

The funeral occurred from his late residence Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. William Love, pastor of the Methodist church, conducted the funeral services, assisted by Rev. S. Andrews, of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. W. Valliant of the Baptist church. Many beautiful flowers and floral emblems were sent as tokens of respect to the deceased. The pallbearers were A. P. Buchanan, John Gansale, J. M. O'Connor, E. A. Taylor, Robt. Strachan and D. O'Connor. A large concourse of friends and relatives followed the remains to the city cemetery, where they were interred.

Richard Thexton was born at Kendal, Westmorelandshire, England, in February, 1819. He resided there until 1836, when he removed to Durham County, Ontario, and located on a farm near Peterborough. On March 15th, 1845, he was married at Peterborough to Elizabeth Garnett, who survives him. During the month of September, 1857, he removed to this city with his wife and three youngest sons, a number of his children having previously located here. Besides his widow, ten children survive him: John D. Thexton, Mt. Pleasant, Ont., Mrs. John Best, Peterborough, Ont.; Dr. Louis, Aurora, Ill.; Dr. R. E., Chicago; Walter, of Duluth; and Robert, Albert, Joseph, William and Henry, of this city.

Deceased was a devout member of the Methodist church, having joined that body by a profession of faith 42 years ago. He had a genial disposition and sterling character. His friends were legion and his death has cast a gloom over the entire community.

CAUSE FOR COMPLAINT.

Why the New-Married Man Was Sad and Downcast.

The young man with a very high turndown collar and a small mustache walked up to the lunch counter in the railway station and indignantly laid a small parcel on the counter.

"What's in it?" asked the attendant.

"One of your sandwiches. I don't want you to take it back," he hastened to add, as a forbidding expression crossed the other's face. "But it's of no use to me, and I don't care to throw it away. So I return it into your keeping without making any reproaches or expecting any apologies."

"Didn't the sandwich suit you?" inquired the attendant as he tore away the paper.

"It certainly did not. I don't know when I have been more disappointed."

"Look here!" came the indignant remonstrance. "You have no business running down this sandwich in that manner. You haven't even tried it."

"That remark implies a reflection on my veracity," was the response in ominous accents.

"You don't mean to say that you have tried it."

"Yes, sir; I do mean to say just that."

"But there isn't any piece bitten out of it."

"I didn't say that I had tried to eat it. Neither did I say that you were responsible for the manner in which I had been deceived."

"What is your objection to the sandwich, may I inquire?"

"I have nothing to say about the phenomenal thickness or the undoubted delicacy of the ham which it contained. But, when I found that the bread was fresh and light, I gave up. I am on my wedding tour, and my wife found that a protruding nail in her shoe was hurting her foot. I tried in vain to find something to hammer it out with. We had been reading the comic papers, and she suggested that a railway ham sandwich would be just the thing. I hurried here to get one and you can imagine my disappointment when I found that so far as any practical use was concerned I might as well have taken a piece of the wedding cake. I don't blame you, nor I don't blame the comic papers, but I do say that there ought to be some means of protecting the public from misrepresentation."—Detroit Free Press.

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or a woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a great discourager of affection. It wouldiprobably be more so if people only realized just what bad breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomacah, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. There is no case of biliousness, indigestion, "heartburn," or any of the rest of the nightmare breeding brood that thes little "Pellets" will not cure.

Feeding Charcoal.

Four turkeys were confined in a pen and fed on meal, boiled potatoes and oats. Four others of the same brood were at the same time confined in another pen and fed daily on the same article, but with one pint of very finely pulverized charcoal mixed with their food—mixed meal and boiled potatoes. They had also a plentiful supply of broken charcoal in their pen. The eight were killed the same day, and there was a difference of one and a half pounds each, in favor of the fowls which had been supplied with charcoal, they being much the fattest, and the meat being superior in point of tenderness and flavor.—Poultry Chum.

Barnyard Manure

Conclusions reached by a German authority are that the manure pile must be carefully constructed and protected from extremes of moisture and sunshine. It should be kept moist, but not wet. It is well to turn cattle in upon it occasionally to tramp it down, and thus exclude excess of air. When the heap is completed, it should be covered with earth. If these precautions are observed, the use of preservatives may be dispensed with.

WITHOUT A CAMERA.

HOW PHOTOGRAPHING FOR DECORATIVE PURPOSES MAY BE DONE.

The Materials Necessary are Within the Reach of the All—How to Make Them And the Work They Will Perform—some Happy Artistic Suggestions.

A great deal of amusement can be got out of this kind of photography. This is for those who are not able to afford a camera, yet wish to dabble in the fascinating art. The only materials needed are, first, a piece of window glass, 6x8, is the most convenient size, next a hinged backing board, four of the small clothespins, and some blue-print paper.

To make the board, procure a thin piece of board the size of the glass and saw it in two crosswise. Then put it together again with two tiny hinges. This is to form the back of your printing frame, the piece of glass forming the front. To use it, place the board hinges away from the glass, and snap a clothespin on each corner. When using, lay the paper first on the glass, then fasten the back on. When you wish to examine your print to see whether it is dark enough, take the pins from one end and turn back the board and paper; if not sufficiently printed, replace and expose it to the sun again. If the board were all of one piece, it would be impossible to get your work back exactly as you had it before.

In using the blue-print paper, print until all the deepest shadows are of a bronze tint, but not until all the details are lost. Then wash in two or three baths of clear water, and you have a clear, permanent print. If you want a very dark blue, print until the whole dark portion of the print is gray, then wash as usual.

And now we really come to our subject. The printing of pressed flowers and ferns is one of the prettiest bits of this class of photography. Place the fern or flower on the glass in the desired position, place over it the paper and print until the bronze tint comes in the background. This gives you a blue ground with a white flower on it. If you will use this print, when washed and dried, as a negative, you can obtain a blue flower on a white ground.

The lettering which accompanies the woodbine spray can be done with pen and ink on tissue or oiled paper, and placed between the spray and the printing paper. A verse, original or otherwise, is a very pretty addition to these photos. "Flowers and leaves" is a design of a pen drawing on oiled paper, to be printed off and used for a cover design to a book of these photos. If oiled paper is not to be had, use any thin, firm paper and oil it yourself, with tallow or suet, being careful not to get too much on. Just enough to make the paper clear is the rule.

Another way to make a blue design on white is to cover your glass with wax or tallow and draw the design with a pin. Put your paper on the opposite side and print as usual. The most satisfactory way, however, is to draw the design on paper with pencil or pen and print from your first print, as this gives a fineness of outline impossible if done with wax. Any pencil or pen drawing can be reproduced with pleasing effect.

To copy a wood cut in blue prints, soak the desired cut in clear water, lay face downward on the glass, smooth all bubbles and water out and let dry. When dry, dampen the back of picture and with the fingers carefully rub off the back of the paper. This leaves a very thin paper with the design on it, but takes off all letters or pictures that were printed on the other side of the paper. Now print as usual. A bit of fun is to copy an old photo in the same way.

As a suggestion for the use of this work in fancy articles, I give a design for a pretty little frame. The centre and outline should be cut from light proof paper and laid on the glass, and the bits of fern dropped between as fancy dictates. Place the paper carefully in place and fasten your hinged board in place. When the openings show a deep blue through the glass you will have a sky blue, and when it becomes a grey, the finished print will show a deep blue. Make in any size desired, and when it is nearly dry paste on cardboard and put to press until thoroughly dry, then cut out and finish as such frames are usually finished, with pocket behind to hold the photo and standard or hanger.

Walking Four Miles an Hour.

"There's no end of people," said a man who walks a great deal himself, "who think they could walk four miles an hour; and very likely they could, but they would have to move along very briskly to do it. As a matter of fact, very few people indeed do walk four miles an hour; three miles is a very fair gait, and when one exceeds that he is beginning to walk fast. If my recollection serves, the old 'common' time in the army carried a man two and five-eighths miles an hour, and 'quick' time two and seven-eighth miles an hour. The distances which the soldier covers in an hour have now been increased somewhat by slightly increasing the length of his steps, but my impression is that the 'common' time remains under three miles an hour. Certainly three miles would be good, fair walking and fully up to men's average speed."—Boston Journal.

The Crossbow

At Hastings the English bowmen first killed the Norman horses. The crossbow was a fairly dangerous weapon, for it had a certain weight, and it is curious to learn that it had been forbidden by war, at one time, but it was sanctioned by the Pope in the crusade of 1139. The trouble about the crossbow was its weight—fully forty pounds—and the strings were liable to become useless when it rained. In the time of Richard I. among the equipments of a soldier, after his iron headpiece, his coif, his coat of mail had been mentioned, we read of "a tissue of many folds of linen difficult of penetration and artificially worked with a needle, called a pourpoint."

A Consistent Suggestion

"They ought to change the name of that club of yours," said Mr. Bibbles' wife at the breakfast table.

"In what way?"

"They ought to call it the Klondyke."

"I—I must say that I don't see why."

"For the reason that when a man starts out to go there, there's no telling when he'll get home again."—Washington Star.

A Padlocked Heart.

How many women lock their troubles and sufferings in their own hearts and silently endure misery and pain which would cause strong men to cry out in agony.

The sufferings of women are more than half unknown and unappreciated. The refined sensitiveness of their organism lays them liable to a thousand exquisite tortures which a coarser nature can never experience or comprehend.

The least derangement or disorder of the delicate special organism of their sex overwhelms the whole physical and mental being with weakness and wretchedness.

But it is a mistake to suffer these troubles in silence. They may be cured in the perfect privacy of home, without the repugnant ordeal of examinations and "local treatment," which the family doctor is sure to insist upon.

No physician in the world has had a wider or more successful experience in the treatment of woman's diseases than Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. His "Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most obstinate and complicated feminine difficulties.

It is the only medicine of its kind prepared by an educated, skilled physician.

Mr. J. F. Sneed, of Omen, Texas, writes: "My wife was badly afflicted with female weakness. We tried three of the best physicians in the country without benefit, but at great expense. My wife grew worse, and we gave up in despair. She could not get in and out of doors without help; was not able to stand on her feet long at a time, complained of dragging down pains in abdomen. Nothing but an untimely death seemed awaiting her, when—happy thought!—the name of Dr. Pierce came to my mind. I wrote to Dr. Pierce received his advice, followed it, my wife improved perceptibly from the first two week's treatment, continued the treatment six months, and pronounced the cure complete, at a cost of less than one month's treatment by the last physician we employed before consulting Dr. Pierce. She used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and the lotions recommended by him. It has been two years since, and the good effect is permanent."

NEW FABRICS.

Charming Creations of Muslin Trimmed With Attractive Lace Ruffles.

Solid colored dress fabrics will be much worn the coming season. Bias-seye effects in self colored goods will be very popular. Armures come under this head and they are to be found in all of the new shades. A novelty suggests the Bedford cord, and it is called cable cord. In mixed materials there is a covert cloth, with iridescent figures. Vicunas are to be found in soft, shadowy effects. Broadcloths, camel's-hair and other soft textures will be much in evidence. All these materials promise that the tailor-made suit will be very popular this winter. Sac de raisin is a novelty from Paris, and it makes very desirable blouses with veiling and cashmere skirts, vests for linen gowns and collars and revers for linen and taffeta cloaks. Its coloring and design is oriental, and the background of coarse cotton cloth makes it very smart. Basques are slowly returning, to the delight of most women, for they are alike becoming to the slender and stout figure. Sleeves are an absorbing topic of fashion. A sheath sleeve, with one, two and three ruffles at the top, is the best one for wash gowns. The latest mousquetaire sleeve has the heading or tuck at the back of the arm graduated, beginning at a quarter of an inch at the hand and ending two inches and a half wide at the top. Sleeves with tucked uppers are much affected for fancy thin gowns, and the tucks are considered prettier when graduated. Some of the imported house gowns have a double sleeve, a sheath sleeve underneath and over it is a full sleeve hanging loosely down.

If blouses of silk or any fancy fabric are worn with cloth skirts they must match or harmonize and not contrast in color with the skirt. Black satin blouses with white and black skirts are deemed very modish. Gray will be worn not only during the early autumn, but throughout the winter. News comes from Paris that the changes in jackets will be slight. An Eton jacket in blue cloth is close at the throat and stands open at the waist line, and it has extremely snug sleeves. Another model of green cloth, braided in black, is cut box shape, and it is seamless, both in the front and in the back. The cuffs and collar are braided. Within the month the international golf cup will be played for at Wheaton on the links of the Chicago Golf Club, and the occasion promises to be one of great brilliancy. Fair matrons and maids are even now preparing their costumes for the tournament. Dressy afternoon gowns will be in demand, and the typical golf frock will be worn only in the mornings. A model of yellow muslin, just completed, is embroidered with black dots and it is built over white taffeta. The skirt is gored in the back and it is inserted perpendicularly with rows of inch-wide black lace. The bodice is plaited in the back, and the fronts fall over a wide band of green velvet. A chic black muslin is made on a foundation of scarlet silk. Each seam is ruffled with a cluster of narrow lace frills. The bodice consists of a moujik blouse of French lace, cut in square tabs over the hips. The belt and collar are of red velvet and the sleeves are of the muslin, ruffled with black lace up in the back seams. A large black picture hat completes this costume.

Tailor-made gowns for traveling and outing are very simple, but elegant. A novel trimming consists of coarse stitching of contrasting colors. Blue stitched with red is much in favor. Black and white silks are indeed the vogue. A charming creation of balck and white taffeta is trimmed in a festoon of black silk muslin ruffles. The bodice is a full blouse front, fastening at one side with a full ruche of the black muslin. The wrinkled belt is of black taffeta. Sashes continue to be an important accessory of all thin frocks, and they are most becoming, especially to slender women. One sash can be made to do duty with several frocks. A pretty sash of black taffeta silk is edged all around with an inch-wide ruffle of black Brussels net. The ends are gathered into a black taffeta girdle, with a pointed front and little fulled-in hems on both sides of the back. Black muslin sashes are very effective and they are much worn with white muslin dresses and large black silk muslin picture hats decorated with waving plumes.

Word comes from London that the apron is once more in fashion. There was a time when dainty women would not have appeared without their aprons. Then they were somber affairs of black silk, sometimes set off by a few tucks or rows of herringbone stitching and a little fine lace. Now aprons are made of muslins, batistes, filled with lace. The finest aprons, however, are fashioned of real lace. An English woman recently ordered an apron that cost $500. It is made of Brussels rose point in an exquisite floral scroll design, and it has a border of roses. She wears it while serving afternoon tea or when busy on a dainty bit of fancy work. Some of the lace aprons are pastoral pictures in which figures are introduced. Others are embellished with birds, blossoms and butterflies. Men like aprons, which assures their popularity. How the street-minded "new woman" will accept the apron is a perplexing question. It is doubtful if she will care for it, but fortunately she is in the minority and counts for little. Nothing is more distinctly feminine than an apron, and they give even a frivolous girl a domestic air. There is much in knowing how to wear an apron. The most exquisite apron ever made was worn by the Duchess of Orleans-Nemours in the last century. It was made of point lace and it was valued at $2000.

A Farce in Court.

"Parson," said the dying man, "do you believe in a deathbed confession?"

"Under certain circumstances," said the reverend gentleman.

"Well, it is this way. Years ago I was a passenger on the Great Consolidated Street Railway."

"Yes, go on."

"Oh, I hate to tell it."

"Go on."

"And one day, in a moment of vicious insanity, I beat them out of a nickel fare!"

He sank back exhausted.

"Listen," said the reverend man, "it may comfort you. Can you hear me?"

"Yes, yes."

"You needn't feel so worried about beating that gang of robbers out of a paltry nickel—I beat 'em every chance I get!"

And the dying man passed away with a peaceful smile.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Isn't it absurd what ideas people in small towns have of large cities?"

"Yes; there's just one thing more absurd."

"What's that?"

"The ideas people in large cities have of small towns."—Chicago Record.

Among the Poultry.

Geese and ducks should be full feathered before killing.

If eggs are stored in a damp place they will soon taste musty.

Buckwheat is a first-class egg producer.

Keeping fowls on a hard floor will frequently cause swollen feet and legs.

At night before they go to roost is a good time to give the fowls a little extra food.

Late hatched turkeys can be given a free range earlier than the early hatched.

When there is no check in growth the chickens will get over their feathering easily.

A rapid growth of bone, flesh and feathers demands frequent feeding.

If there are any hens to be sold this fall a good time to sell them is when they quit laying.

Dampness and lice are the great demoralizers among all kinds of young poultry.

A little flaxseed meal in their food will help the old fowls to pass through their moult quickly.

One hen that eats eggs will soon spoil a whole flock if allowed to run at large.

The flesh of the guinea is dark, but it has a delicacy of flavor that approaches that of wild game.

The best plan is to train the young poultry to roost in the poultry house from the start.

If young ducks are allowed access to a pond too early they are apt to have cramp in the legs.

The laying of unusually large eggs is pretty good indication that the hens are too fat.

When the hens stop laying a change of food will often start them to laying again.

Give the hens all possible freedom and there will be less trouble with soft-shell eggs, as they will secure the lime they need.

Early, well-developed pullets make good winter layers. Select them out before sending the fowls to market.

If the hens are too fat, change the grain ration and give a small quantity of whole oats daily.

One of the best times to commence feeding the fowls to fatten is just before they are fully matured.

Ducks will thrive best and fatten fastest on soft feed—one part cornmeal, one part bran and a little meat is a good fattening ration.

Wheat boiled until soft makes one of the best feeds to give young poultry. It is easy to prepare, clean and healthy.

YOUNG LAMONT'S CASE.

Neighbours Much Interested in the Story—Everyone Thought That the Youngster Would Die, but he's Very Much Alive Now.

DUNDALK, Oct. 4.—Hugh Lamont, of McIntyre, has a young son who is an object of interest throughout this whole section of country. From infancy the boy had dropsy, and was bloated and swollen all over. It seemed to the parents that death could be the only release to one attacked so young by this disease. They heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and began giving them to the child. With the first box the bloating and swelling began to disappear. Six boxes effected a perfect cure and the boy is now just as healthy a youngster as ever up the dust on the high roads of Western Ontario.

Away Down East

From east to west people have heart trouble. This causes violent headaches, neuralgia, nerve trouble and prostration Says Mrs. Somers, of Moncton, N. B.: "I tried many remedies but never found anything to give me such prompt relief as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done. I suffered from the above symptoms, but now gladly testify to the cure these wonderful pills have made in my case, and I hope all sufferers will try them."

To Find Out if a Room is Damp.

To ascertain whether or not a room is damp, a kilogramme of fresh lime should be placed therein, after hermetically closing doors and windows. In twenty-four hours it should be weighed, and if the kilogramme (2.204 lbs.) has absorbed more than ten grammes of water (that is, more than one per cent.), the room should be considered damp and classed as unhealthy. The question of the dampness of dwellings is a frequent cause of dispute between landlord and tenant, and is naturally solved in the negative by the former. The question can be settled in the future by the test of the hydration of lime, which will give irrefutable proof of the validity of such complaint.

Building Submarine Walls

A revolution in the building of submerged walls and piers is promised from an invention on exhibition in New York. The present method is to dump stones into the water until a sufficient pile is made on which to build the masonry. This new scheme arranges for the building of a solid wall from the river's bottom. A raft is placed between two scows and supported by ropes. A solid wall is then built on the raft, which sinks gradually as the weight increases. In this way the inventor claims that he can build a stone wall weighing three thousand tons and float it to any part of the bay or beach, and lower it in place wherever directed.

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

SIGMA'S WEEKLY LETTER.

HE MAKES SOME CAUSTIC OBSERVATIONS ON THE U. S. PRESS.

The Yankee Politicians also Come in for his Censure as well as the Capitalists.

Some of the United States press, even some that ought be more generous, are still harping on the wickedness of England, citing her treatment of India as an example. In the North American Review for last month I saw a few letters from General Grant hitherto unpublished. One was written after the General had been in India. "My idea had been rather that English rule in India was purely selfish, all for the benefit of old England and pampered sons sent here. I will not say that I was all wrong, but I do say that Englishmen are wise enough to know that the more prosperous they can make the subject the greater consumer he will become, and the greater will be the commerce and trade between the home government and the colony, and the contentment of the governed. This quarter (Signapore) is governed on this theory, and as far as my opportunities have given me the power to judge by a discreet, able and well chosen set of officials, my opinion is that if the English should withdraw from India and the East they would scarcely get off the soil before the work of rapine and murder and wars between the native chiefs would begin.

Again, in last month's Forum, Professor Hopkins bears strong testimony to the humane, sympathetic manner in which the Anglo-Indians deal with the natives "The Englishman is not in sympathy with the Indian; but so far as kind acts go there never was a conquering race in world which treated its subjects so generously and so thoughtfully." Even Senator Hoar, in the same journal, says: "England, doubtless, governs well." There are no better examples of a great governing race than the men she sent out to India during the last fifty years. "The Sahibs don't like us," said an Indian philosopher, "but they are absolutely just and they do not fear the face of man." While England has trained a race of gentlemen to govern well her 350 millions of subjects, the United States have not governed Alaska, nor their 250 thousand Indian dependants even decently.

The above extracts show what observing men, who have been on the spot, think of England's way of governing her vast possessions in India; but hardly a day passes but some large newspaper in the United States has its ugly fling at England. They seem to be too mean to retract what they have written in the past, and simply add insult to injury.

The braggart politician shows itself in almost everything the Yankees do. It would be a good thing for the United States, and the world at large, if the British secretary would simply ignore any communications sent by the United States in that hectoring bullying style adopted by the present secretary, Mr. John Sherman. After a couple of months silence the American Minister would diplomatically suggest that his chief would be glad to receive an answer to his communication. The British Secretary could answer at once that he was not in the habit of receiving communications written in such an undiplomatic strain, and that it might take some time to digest it. The hint would scarcely be sufficient, because the Americans always regard it as a sign of weakness when Great Britain immediately complies with a request couched in such "sturdy Americanism." Great Britain ought to exact the same treatment from the United States as she gives her. England has always shown how friendly her feelings are to the United States; she has assisted whenever assistance was necessary, and the United States does not scruple to ask for help when she requires it. At the time of the greatest strain between the two nations, during the Venezuelan complication, the Washington Government did not hesitate to ask the British Foreign Office to protect Americans who were implicated in the raid; and only lately the facilities on the Halifax dry dock were placed at the disposal of the United States naval authorities.

The Washington correspondent of the National Review has given a forecast of a gigantic trust now in course of formation, so far-reaching in its scope that those trusts already in existence are mere pigmies compared to it. He says that a report is in circulation that the Standard Oil Trust, the greatest of them all, has obtained, or is about to obtain, complete control of the lead, leather, tobacco and whiskey interests, and also the gas works of the larger cities. The capitalisation of this octopus will be in the neighbourhood of $1,000,000,000. If you bear in mind that the Standard Oil Trust, or rather the half-dozen magnates who control that organisation, already exercise a dominating influence in the business of the country in oil, iron ore and sugar. They are about to take in the steel and coffee industries; they are directly interested in several of the trans-continental railroads and can dictate terms in the matter of freights. It is said they have to find investments every year for $50,000,000 of surplus profits, and it is easy enough to understand that with this tremendous amount of money at all times available to pick up the stock of corporations, or to finance new enterprises, it is easy enough for them to obtain control of whatever appears to afford profitable investment.

The rapidity with which the command of American capital is concentrating in a few hands is enough to make the soberest thinker pause and tremble. The prospect of all the free born citizens of the United States becoming wage-slaves of a handful of multi-millionaires, whose sovereign will and good pleasure alone allow them house and livelihood, is ghastly enough in all conscience. It helps one to understand the night mare dread with which some of the choicest Americans regard the advance of consolidated capital. Certain it is no devil with horns and hoofs ever exercised the minds of ancient saints with more terror than "the plutocracy" inspires in the breasts of thoughtful patriots in the States.

A TERRIBLE ECZEMA

Her Face Covered with Scales. Could Not Leave Home. Had to Sacrifice Hair.

Tried CUTICURA REMEDIES. Improvement in Three Weeks. Six Weeks Complete Cure.

Four years ago Eczema made its appearance on my head in its worst form. I was attended by two physicians, but notwithstanding their treatment it continued spreading, until my face was covered with scales and became a horrid, loathsome sight. For three months I did not leave the house. I had a fine head of hair, seven years' growth, and had to sacrifice it. I was in despair. The physicians had failed even to relieve me, when one of them recommended CUTICURA SOAP. I used three boxes of CUTICURA (ointment), one half dozen cakes of CUTICURA SOAP, and one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and in three weeks from the time I began, the scales had left my face and the skin lost its florid hue. In six weeks I was entirely cured. My face was smooth and my complexion clearer than it had ever been before. MARION A. SMITH, Sunbury, Pa.

"SALADA" TEA.

Oh, there are drinks and drinks and drinks,
Enough to drown the sea;
But of the multitude, methinks,
The best, "SALADA" tea.

Oh, come not here with Japan teas,
Coloured with Prussian Blue;
And do not come with China teas,
Hand-rolled and doctored, too.

But get the tea, "SALADA" tea,
Of exquisite choice flavour;
That for a drop a man might swap
His hope of heaven's favour.

Then gently pour hot water o'er
Its tiny rolls of fragrance,
But do not stew as makers do
Who feed poor railway vagrants.

Oh, let it slip beyond your lip,
And for your comfort perish;
And deep within your soul shall grin
And long the memory cherish.

Oh, there are drinks and drinks and drinks,
Enough to drown the sea
But of the multitude, methinks,
The best, "SALADA" tea.

YELLOW FEVER PANIC.

Travel Almost Completely Blocked Shotgun Quarantine in Many Towns of Texas.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 12.—The most serious situation now confronting the people of Texas is the almost complete blockading of travel, owing to the yellow fever scare. Many trains on all the principal lines have been abandoned and local lines have stopped running entirely. Every small town in the state is rapidly organizing shotgun quarantines, so that trains cannot stop except at the big cities. The situation in the entire state is highly panicky and the feeling is one of growing alarm and apprehension. By to-morrow night, unless the situation is soon relieved, the entire southern and central portions of the state will be practically without railroad facilities, as all trains will be stopped.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars.—G. WALTER GREEN, P. O. box 361; Telephone, 92.

Particular Men

Who prefer being measured and having their garments made to their special order, will find perfect satisfaction in our Custom Tailoring Department. We make to order all the latest styles of Fashionable Clothing, represented on the British and New York Fashion Plates for the Fall and Winter season of 1897. But what we particularly want to emphasize is on the price of High-Class Garments made to order at GOUGH BROS. Compare these quotations with any others you know of:—

WHAT YOU CAN SAVE

Made-to-Order Overcoats.....$10.50 up
Made-to-Order Suits.....$11.50 up
Made-to-Order Trousers.....$3.00 up

If you get a New Suit or Overcoat made to measure now you'll save from $4 to $8: that's a lot, but we are willing to work close to the cost of manufacture just to show you what we can do. Besides, we're making and selling Clothing alongside of a large trade in everything else that men wear—hence the advantages we have of saving you money which are positively unobtainable from other exclusive Merchant Tailors. If you buy your Hats and your Boots here surely you can understand how we can make a saving to you in your Suit or Overcoat.

OUR STOCK OF CLOTHS.

Fully represented in our Cloths are the Newest and Most Expensive Suitings and Pantings, such as French Worsteds, English Venetians, West of England Cloths, Serges, Scotch and Canadian Tweeds, as well as the leading lines of OVERCOATINGS, such as Beavers, Meltons, Thibets, Naps, Frieze, &c.

There's nothing missin—not a style of cut, pattern, designable make or fabric, that the most fastiduous Dresser longs for, but what is here—consistent with the popular demands of the season of 1897.

Step in and let us Take Your Measure.

The President's annual address dealt with the Dominion plebiscite, the field of an extended franchise to women, the attitude of the various political parties to the drink traffic, and the need of increased and more concerted effort for the successful accomplishment of the objects of the association.

SLIP OF PAPER WITH AN IMPRESSION

Of What Looked Like Manager Baine's Key Alleged to Have Been Found by the Detective Who Made the Search—Cross-Examination of the Hawkeshaw.

Napanee, Oct. 13.—For nearly nine hours to-day George Doughtery, one of the Pinkerton detectives, occupied the stand as a witness in the bank robbery case, which he has been actively engaged upon for some time. His evidence, although in the line of the expected bombshell, was somewhat of a surprise.

There was a murmur of expectation when Detective George Dougherty, Assistant Superintendent of Pinkerton's National Detective Association, New York division, took the witness stand. He told his story as follows:

"I have been in the detective business fifteen years, and arrived here on Sept. 15. I conferred with Mr. Wilkes of our agency and Detective Greer. I examined the outside of the vault and found no marks of violence or drilling or anything of that kind. I examined the knob of the combination and also the inside and outside, but found no evidence of violence. I next examined the safe, and my attention was called to a little boring, but no one seemed to know how long it had been there. It did not look like a recent boring. I found no tools of any kind. I found no evidence of violence either on the door or the combination lock. On the interior I found no evidence of any machine or tool having been used on the upper compartment, but the lower compartment, apparently, had been forced, there being the mark of an edge tool near the top and under a shelf. I found what I considered a rather peculiar mark on the inside of the lower door on the top edge that looked as if it had been made after the safe was opened. I found no corresponding mark on the bottom of the shelf. If a tool had been inserted over the top of the door my opinion is there would be a corresponding mark on the bottom of the shelf. Mr. Ponton informed me that the lock on the lower compartment was once on the upper compartment.

"I heard Mrs. McGreer's story," continued the witness, "and after investigating her family and character I interviewed Mr. Ponton on Sept. 20.

The interview lasted nearly two hours. From my conversation with Ponton I developed the fact that he had heard of a contemplated burglary of a store in May. He said Mr. Baines told him.

At the next interview with Ponton, on the following day, I went into the story of the discovery of the mode of entry.

My next interview with Ponton was on Sept. 23, in my room. I took a general statement as to his movements on the night of the robbery and had it investigated. It was corroborated, excepting some small changes between half-past 10 and 12. The time is not fully covered.

On being asked by me again, Ponton said there was no one in his room that night. I told him it would be unfair of him, in the event of my discovering that someone was there, to come to me afterwards and say there was someone there.

"I took up his financial affairs, and he said he had about $20 and some Tin Horn mining stock, which he paid $25 for, but which he thought was worth $75. I asked him how much money he had between Aug. 15 and the date of the robbery. He said about $20, which he had saved to go on his holidays on Oct. 1. He said he hadn't borrowed, won or had any extra money. All he had was $20. He said there was an I.O.U. in the cash box, but he could not recollect the amount. He told me what salary he received—$48.50 a month—and said it was hard to save any of it. He paid $16 per month for board, $10 on bicycle and $10 to his mother. He could not figure out just what his personal expenses were.

"Ponton spoke of wanting to go to a funeral in Belleville, and seemed to think he ought to have permission from someone. I told him I had no objection to his going, and it was kind of agreed that we would drop the matter till he returned.

"I asked him if he objected to me going to his room to make some examinations. He said he did not. We went over together and he showed me his things. He was in a hurry and wanted to catch the train, so I asked him to leave me the key. He did so, and on his way to the train remarked that if I could find anything that would incriminate him I could keep it. He said the room was at my disposal. He went to Belleville.

"Next day Wilkes and I went to Ponton's room and searched everything. I found some cheques in his vest pocket."

The cheques that have been in evidence were identified by witness.

Witness continued: While I was at the clothes Wilkes was at the bureau. He said: "Here's a paper slip of the Dominion Bank!" I asked: "Is there anything on it?" He said "Yes," and we found that there were three key impressions on it."

This produced a sensation in court, and the slip of paper was put in as an exhibit. It was about 5 inches long and 2 1-2 inches wide.

Dougherty continued: "I found a board on the window sill in the middle room which had apparently had marks on it, but they were now almost entirely obliterated. They had evidently been circles. What-ever was on the board had been cut out with a penknife."

Witness continued: "There was nothing else that we thought incriminating, and we went back to the hotel. Ponton got his key. He said he would write to the general manager of the bank. He thought the matter had gone far enough. I told him to do as he pleased. We finished our search in the forenoon."

Witness said: "The slip of paper with the key impressions was compared with Mr. Baines' key of the lower compartment and it fitted exactly. It was the key of the lower compartment of the safe prior to the robbery."

The key was put in as an exhibit.

"Mr. Ponton asked me if I wanted his room key again, and I said I would leave that entirely with him. I got the key and asked him if he had written to Toronto. He said: 'No.' I gave the key to Wilkes and Greer.

At the afternoon session of the court Dougherty's examination was continued and he said: "I told Ponton that his explanations were confusing, and that ended the interview.

"I taxed him with telling an untruth about the money he gave his mother, and he admitted giving her $5 when she was here on Aug. 31 and sending her $10 in September, and he said he had forgotten them. He had been in the habit of sending her $10 per month, but had not done so during July and August, as his mother had heard that he had bought a bicycle and had told him to look after that. The safe had been opened by someone knowing the combination and working the knob to unlock it."

Cross-examined at great length and with much skill by Mr. Porter, Detective Dougherty told that since last April he had been an assistant superintendent of the Pinkerton's agency.

The Dominion Bank was paying the agency he represented for his services. He got $35 a week and a bonus, but no rewards. With him the case was simply a matter of business.

Mr. Porter asked if it was true that thirteen States in the United States would not recognize Pinkerton's agency. Witness refused to answer the question.

"Who is Mr. Wilkes?" asked Mr. Porter.

Detective Dougherty explained that application to the general superintendent had been made for services in connection with this case, and he was consulted about it. Wilkes was sent about Sept. 8. When I arrived here on Sept. 15 I consulted with Wilkes and Greer, but no special theory had been formed excepting a theory that the work originated in the inside.

"Had Greer formed a theory?" asked Mr. Porter.

"He was kind of on the fence, like I was," said Dougherty. "He had not positively an opinion. That was the difference between him and Wilkes. On the 15th, when I came here, I leaned to an inside originator and worked to that effect. My theory would not work unless the combination could be reached by an outsider. I ascertained that a duplicate of the combination was sent under waxed seal to the Dominion Bank, Toronto, and I have since ascertained that the seal on the envelope has not been broken. I asked if employes had given each other keys and they said 'no.' I was inclined to disbelieve that any of them told the truth in connection with the combination numbers. If their statements were absolutely true the theory fell to the ground."

"Therefore you were determined to make the theory good?" said Mr. Porter.

After a little cross-firing the witness continued: "I have ascertained in connection with Durand that what he told me was not true, and what Baines told me was not true. Manager Baines told me he was positive he had never written down the numbers of the safe combinations. I found that to be untrue by his own discoveries. With regard to Mr. Durand, a young man who was employed here from Toronto, and going away for a holiday he forgot to leave the combination. He wrote the numbers of the vault combination and enclosed it in an envelope and it was delivered to Mr. Tucker, who was a junior clerk. Tucker says he put it in his pocket, and while at a party he showed it. Durand, when seen by me, could not recollect it. In fact he positively denied it."

"When Manager Baines found the figures and gave them to you, what did you think?" was asked.

"I think it was a very honest thing to do. Manager Baines did the very thing to prove his innocence and his honesty, having had no recollection of writing the figures."

Mr. Porter frequently referred to the Wilkes theory, eventually remarking that the theory had to work out or the game goes up.

Mr. Dougherty said: "I don't like the expression 'game goes up.'"

When a little storm was over, witness continued: "I went through the waste paper in the cellar about Sept. 22, at which date we had no more special suspicion against Ponton than anyone else. The only suspicion against him was the story told by Mrs. McGreer. The bank cellar was searched for papers, and I was looking for Ponton's writing in particular. I found nothing against or for him. After the fruitless search a visit was paid to Ponton's rooms; when Ponton granted permission he did so willingly. He invited inspection of the bureau, opened up his leather trunk and valise full of clothes and offered every chance, and when I asked an opportunity to complete the examination next day Mr. Ponton made no objection to giving the key, and the following day I went with Wilkes to make a search. Ponton evidently gave the key in perfect confidence. We were in the first two rooms for about two hours before he found anything, and then we went into the sleeping room and were there two hours. Wilkes was at the bureau, and he said, 'I have found a slip of the Dominion Bank.' I was working at the clothes, and as I went towards him he remarked: "There is the impression of a key on it.'

"Did it ever strike you that Mr. Wilkes could put the paper there himself?"

"I know Mr. Wilkes too well to imagine such a thing."

"Could he put it there?"

"It could be done."

"Do you know whether he did put it there or not?"

"I do not."

"Does anyone else?"

"I don't know."

"Is it not a part of your theory that the impressions of the key were made in that paper in order that Mr. Ponton might have a key to the lower compartment in the safe?" asked Mr. Porter.

"I refuse to answer. Theories are not facts; they are not evidence."

Mr. Porter continued: "Mr. Ponton's having the key to two compartments would be useless to him unless he had the combination of the safe. Did you find any impression of the combination?"

"No; I have no evidence whatever that he ever had that combination only for the opportunities which were provided in the figures on the calendar or the figures being given to him by another. Unless he had a knowledge of the same I know of no other way in which he could get them. All the statements made by Ponton in the interviews were true except as regards his finances. I cannot tell anything Ponton said that was untrue, leaving out what he said regarding his finances. I had not made up my mind of Ponton's guilt until we found the impression of the key. When Ponton went to Belleville and he gave the key he was not followed or shadowed. It would have been very unfair to search rooms in Ponton's absence, had he not left his key and consent.

"I would not say that action was consistent with innocence, but if a man was perfectly innocent it is just such a thing as I would expect him to do."

After a few questions by Mr. Madden, Mr. Dougherty's examination closed, after lasting nearly nine hours.

More detective evidence will be put in to-morrow, and the case may close at night.

THE GRAND TRUNK.

The Old Line Has Now a Through Road From Chicago to the Sea Commands on the Deal.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—(Special.)—As might be supposed, the passing of the Central Vermont under absolute Grand Trunk control has created a good deal of comment, yet general satisfaction is expressed. At the office of the General Manager of the Grand Trunk to-day the correspondent was told that few details had reached headquarters, except that the amalgamation was reached between the Grand Trunk and the committe appointed some time ago by the boudholders of the Central Vermont. It is not yet known if the new road will be managed direct from Montreal, like the Chicago and Detroit section, yet the supposition is that such will be the case. The new acquisition comprises about 700 miles of road, from St Johns, Que., to White River Junction, Vermont, and the line to New London.

It looks now as if Mr. W. A. Grenier will be sentenced for libelling Hon. Mr. Tarte, as Judge Wurtele refused to-day a motion to appeal, but His Honor did not pronounce sentence, as Mr. Cornellier said he had another motion to make. If all appeals are rejected, it is rumored that a nolnal fine will be imposed.

The Council of the Board of Trade decided to-day to support the western trade organizations that are asking the Government to explore an all-Canadian route to the Yukon.

La Patrie publishes this evening an ample apology to Mr. Jules Helbronner, editor of La Presse, who had Hon. Mr. Tarte's son arrested a few days ago, charged with criminal libel.

IN A PET.

Jacob Grose, a Farmer in Easy Circumstances, Hanged Himself Because of a Dispute With His Wife.

Alma, Ont., Oct. 13.—Jacob Grose, a comfortably situated farmer, living at Creek Bank, a small village three miles from here, hanged himself this afternoon. Mr. Grose, together with his wife and some friends, attended a funeral at Floradale this morning, and on their homeward journey some small dispute arose between husband and wife, the former stating they would not be together much longer. Upon their arrival home Mr. Grose went to the stable to put away the horse and he did not return. After a length of time his wife went to look for him and found him hanging to a beam in the barn. He died shortly afterwards. No reason other than the above can be assigned. He leaves a wife and two daughters, who are almost heartbroken over the sad event.

IN WEST DURHAM.

Messrs. Hardy and Davis Address a Big and Enthusiastic Audience at Orono

Orono, Oct. 13.—(Special.)—In the clamorous and enthusiasm of the audience that greeted the Premier and the Provincial Secretary to-night was a presage of victory that will crown the laurels of the Liberals of West Durham upon the decisive day of the coming election campaign. The audience was not only large and enthusiastic, but it was representative of the best citizenship of the district. Liberals were present in full force, but their Conservative friends were also on hand, and they gave the Ministers a fair and appreciative hearing. Mr. Hardy, in an eloquent speech, defended the policy of the Province, and Mr. Davis followed with a complete answer to the cries of their opponents.

Abducted in Paris—Found in Chicago.

New York, Oct. 13.—Acting Captain McClusky of the Detective Bureau has discovered the whereabouts in Chicago of Louise Ripp, 16 years old, of Corbeil, near Paris, who was abducted in March last. Henri Pailluaseau, who was arrested on his arrival in Havre, was one of the men who abducted Miss Ripp.

Pailluaseau is wanted here for the robbery of jewelry belonging to Miss Day, owner of the yacht Scythian. The girl went to Paris to the Mardi Gras festival. Pailluaseau and one Edouard drugged her and conveyed her to England and then to this city. Louise fell ill while here, and was sent to Saratoga to recuperate. When she recovered she was taken to Chicago by Edouard and placed in a house there.

Col. Otter Will Remain in Toronto.

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—Hon. Dr. Borden was shown to-day an Ottawa despatch in The Mail and Empire, stating that he had said that Lieut.-Col. Otter was to be removed from Toronto. The Minister of Militia made no such statement. There is no intention at present of removing Lieut.-Col. Otter.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Mr. H.P. Kennedy is still keeping things lively in the live stock business. Last week he shipped 600 lambs and six cars of cattle from different points, principally to the Buffalo markets, besides having a few cars of hogs for the Geo. Matthews Co.

The Toronto World speaks as follows:—"Mr. H. P. Kennedy of Peterborough is becoming a regular buyer at our live stock yards. Friday last he bought several cars of stockers at prices ranging from 2c to 3¼c per lb. Tuesday he made several purchases as follows: One bunch choice steers, average 825 lbs, 3¼c; one bunch choice steers, average 800 lbs, 3 1-4c; one bunch steers, averaging 750 lbs, $21 per head; one load 21 steers, averaging 950 lbs, 3c lb, with $1 per head back. This load was shipped back to the country and sold to farmers for feeding purposes.

The prospects as given by Mr. Kennedy for the near future are lower prices for everything except choice stock.

Live hogs are also lower in price and likely to be $5.25 as the country price next week.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, as Usual, Worked a Cure.

STRATFORD, Oct. 11.—There are few people in this city who do not know Mrs. R. Roberts, Downie street. She has been an invalid for some years, and her case awakened the sympathy of her neighbours, who were confident there was no cure for her. Judge of their surprise and delight on hearing what Mrs. Roberts tells thus: "I have been afflicted during three years with kidney disease. Have used doctors' medicines but could not get cured. I have used five boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am now cured. You may publish this if you choose." This is a short statement, but it tells a great deal.

Your anxiety is for your delicate child; the child that in spite of all your careful over-watching, keeps thin and pale. Exercise seems to weaken her and food fails to nourish. That child needs Scott's Emulsion with the Hypophosphites—not as a medicine, but as a food containing all the elements of growth. It means rich blood, strong bones, healthy nerves, sound digestion. PROPOSED COLLATERAL CONFERENCE

Would Leave the Question Just Where It Is To-Day, Says The Graphic—The Times Says There Is No Reason to Quarrel With Secretary Sherman's Note.

London, Oct. 14.—The Daily Graphic says editorially this morning: "With characteristic ill-grace, Secretary Sherman has at last climbed down and agreed to Lord Salisbury's view of the Behring Sea Conference. If the proposed collateral conference with Japan and Russia ever meets, it will leave the question just where it is to-day."

The Times says: "Allowing for the peculiarities of American diplomacy there is no reason to quarrel with Secretary Sherman's reply on the subject of the Behring Sea Conference. We entirely disbelieved that Lord Salisbury, in his oral communications with Ambassador Hay, ever departed from the position adopted in his final note of July 28. But it is unnecessary to deal seriously with expressions of astonishment obviously intended to cover the failure of an attempt to bluff the British Government in a manner disapproved by the leading organs of American opinion."

The editorial continues: "When we have settled our remittals with the United States on the basis of the Paris award, it may be practicable to establish a wider agreement for the protection of seal life by land as well as sea. But meanwhile a much more urgent matter that Saturday's Cabinet Council will have to deal with is the reply to the Wolcott Commission."

M. MAERTENS,

The Russian Will Act as Umpire in the Dispute Between Great Britain and Venezuela.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The International Court of Arbitration, which is to pass on the British-Venezuela boundary, has been completed by the selection of M Maertens, a distinguished Russian jurist, as umpire, and arrangements are being made for the assembling of the court at Paris, during the late summer or fall of next year. In the meantime the briefs of Great Britain and of Venezuela are being prepared, but none of the papers have yet been submitted. M. Maertens will not only act as umpire, but also as President of the Court. M. Maertens has a worldwide reputation as an authority on international law, and it has led to his frequent selection as arbitrator and umpire in international differences. He is an official of the Russian Foreign Office, Professor of International Law at the University of St. Petersburg, and author of Maertens' Treaties, the standard book of reference on all the treaties of the world. Little doubt is felt as to his acceptance.

MR. BLAIR BANQUETED

New Brunswick Honors Its Cabinet Representative

A NON-PARTISAN AFFAIR IN ST. JOHN

Brilliant Demonstration—The Minister's Remarks—The Transportation Question Frankly Discussed—What the Government Has Done.

St. John, Oct. 13.—(Special.)—The non-political banquet to Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, to-night was the most brilliant affair of the kind ever held in this city or province. No hotel had dining hall accommodation sufficiently large, and the committee had to arrange to have the banquet held in the assembly rooms of the Mechanics' Institute. Even these were found far too small to provide for all those who desired to do honor to New Brunswick's representative in the Dominion Cabinet, and the sale of tickets practically closed a few days ago. An effort had been made in some quarters to keep away a better class of Conservatives, but the list of guests shows that the attempt was a great failure there being upwards of fifty leading Conservatives in attendance.

The chairman said the very pleasant duty devolved upon him to propose the toast of the guest of the evening. It had been said that a non-political banquet could not be a success. He ventured the prediction that this banquet was a success. The people of St. John were delighted to have the Minister of Railways with them to-night. (Cheers.) They honored him as a man and were proud of him as a citizen. (Cheers.)

It was midnight when Hon. Mr. Blair rose to respond. He was cheered time and time again and it was several minutes before he was given an opportunity of beginning his address. He said he experienced great difficulty in giving anything like an adequate expression to his feelings. He was much moved by the words of His Worship and by the hearty nature of the reception accorded him.

The great problem at the present time in this Dominion was the question of transportation. How to get the produce of the interior of the great west of Canada to the seaboard was a matter of vital concern to the people of Canada. The Government had made an arrangement whereby the C.P.R. would carry the produce of the west at a lower rate than formerly. They had also arranged for the deepening of the canals, whereby the produce of the west would be brought at a cheaper rate to the ports on the St. Lawrence, and ultimately to the ports of the Maritime Provinces. (Cheers.) He could not refrain from discussing political subjects, but he would not discuss a party political subject. Both great parties were interested in the question to which he had referred. The future of Canada—of the whole Dominion—largely depended upon the development of the Northwest. We need population there and the best and easiest way of getting it is to reduce the cost of transportation. He was not sure, in the light of recent events, that it would not have been better if the Government of Canada owned a trunk line railyway of its own through to the west. That would have enabled the Government to make the question of freight rates eminently satisfactory to the people of the west. The fast mail and freight service grows out of the need of our having independent connection through our own territory. He knew there was a doubt in some minds as to whether Canada should assume such a large expenditure as that involved in such service. If the national aspect be considered he doubted if many men could be found who would think that the Government had made a mistake. He trusted the day was far distant when anything would happen to interfere with the friendly relations between Canada and the United States. (Hear, hear.) Were Canada, however, would be blind if we did not see that it was possible that a party might grow up in the United States whose policy would be to enforce non-intercourse. (Applause.) He knew that the better class of the people of the United States were opposed to any such policy. We know that it was not long since action was taken by Congress which read very much like a repeal of the bonding privilege.

In view of future possibilities, and with no feeling of antagonism for our neighbors to the south of us, it was desirable that we should have an independent roadway through our own territory. (Great applause.) An all-Canadian line was necessary in the interest of immigration from Great Britain, and in this connection he referred at some length to how much better Canada is now known in England than she was some few years ago.

It was after 1 o'clock when Mr. Blair had finished what his friends here regard as the ablest speech of his life.

NO GLANDERS.

The Department of Agriculture Has Received No Report of Any Case of Glanders in Our Horses.

Ottawa, Oct. 13. — The Department of Agriculture have received no report of any case of glanders or suspected case of any sort amongst the horses shipped from Canada for the English market.

"It looks as though the horse complained of had not come from here," said a high official. "Usually we immediately receive a report from the High Commissioner's office if there is anything wrong, and we have received no report yet. It is to be hoped it is not true, as they might shut us out from sending any more horses."

"Is there any inspection of horses before they are shipped?"

"Yes, a severe one at Montreal or the port of export. It is very unlikely that any diseased animal has been allowed to pass."

A letter received at the Geological Survey from Prof. Prince states that he is at present at Prince Albert, N.W.T., examining the piscatorial resources of the lakes in that district. He has made many interesting discoveries.

SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC

Robeson Brown, of Valetta, July 28th, 1891, says:—

"I am sorry under the circumstances to write to you, but I feel it my duty, as I have been troubled with Dyspepsia for years, took dollars' worth of medicine and pills, but got no relief till I commenced taking your Sloan's Indian Tonic. I think I have taken 8 or 10 bottles in all, and I feel as if I have got a new lease of life, I feel so much better. I was in the habit of keeping a bottle in the house so when costive I would take a dose or two with instant relief. Now I am troubled with costive spells very often, and it was the only medicine that gave me instant relief. It seems as if I have lost my best friend. Now I would like to hear from you by return mail, as I would like to have a bottle as soon as possible.

Mrs. H. Palmer, of Ridgetown, Ont., says: I was afflicted for a number of years with Erysipelas and Neuralgia in my face, and one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me entirely, and I would recommend it to others, either for Erysipelas or Neuralgia.

Mrs. Henry Hale, of Blenheim, Ont., says: Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me of Malarial Fever and Chills and Neuralgia. When I was down sick in bed I purchased a bottle of the Tonic and it cured me entirely, and I have not been troubled with Fever or Neuralgia since.

OUR MANTLES AND JACKETS.

We drew your special attention yesterday to our superb MANTLES and JACKETS—we do so again to-day—they deserve our eulogies. Those we have sold have carried our name mutely—though effectively, from one end of the country to the other. Those sold in future will do so just as effectively, and will establish our reputation for keeping the most select stock in Peterborough.

The QUALITY of the cloth has been the first requisite we demanded when purchasing our stock—the STYLE was obliged to come up to our required standard of novelty—the TRIMMING was an important factor in our requirements—the LININGS were carefully examined and selected with the greatest deliberation,—the making and strength of the SEWING was thoroughly tested—and even the BUTTONS were accepted only when they agreed with the exacting mandates of the latest Fall and Winter fashions

You have—when purchasing from us—our guarantee that every detail, necessary for a first-class and attractive MANTLE OR JACKET, has been incorporated in the manufacture of our stock.

YOUR DECISION, after inspecting our goods will be in our favour. You will be delighted at our immense variety, as much as at our stylish and taking patterns. We await your judgment with calm confidence in our ability to please you in your choice.

St. Andrew's Sunday School.

At a business meeting of the officers and teachers of St. Andrew's Sunday school, last evening, Mr. Geo. Mulligan, superintendent, was selected as a delegate to the Provincial Sabbath School Association, which meets in Hamilton on Oct. 27th, 28th and 29th.

A Voters' List Court was held by His Honour Judge Weller, in the council chamber, North Monaghan, this (Thursday) morning. Several names were added to the list and some others removed who were not entitled to vote at elections to the Legislative Assembly. Mr. R. R. Miss Webb is one of the best known elocutionists of the day, and is very highly spoken of by the Canadian press. Miss Norman is a vocalist who has sung with great success in the critical musical centre of the Province, Toronto. Admission 15c.

To Real Estate Purchasers.

Remember the sale of Mr. Chas. Stapleton's double residence to-morrow at 2 o'clock, Water street, opposite the beautiful Court House Park. This property affords an opportunity for home seekers to become the owners of modern property in a most desirable location, and to investors a good return for money invested.

The adjourned sale of the McKee Terrace of three solid brick houses, situated on Water street, just north of the Court House Park, will also take place. These three tenement dwellings are readily rented, always to good tenants and will be disposed of, subject to a small reserve bid, as Mr. McKee and family are leaving town. Sale of both properties at 2 o'clock, Friday, Oct. 15th, at Mr. Stapleton's residence.

A Sublime Story of Brotherly Love.

A correct and finished production of "Damon and Pythias" will be given at Bradburn's Opera House next Wednesday evening, Oct. 20th, by Warren Conlan and his talented company. As this is the first time the people of Peterborough will have an opportunity of seeing classic productions at popular prices, the houses should be crowded at every performance during their three days' stay. The company comes to us highly recommended by the press everywhere they have appeared. The drama of "Damon and Pythias" was written by John Banim, of Ireland, then a young college student. It was first produced in 1821, with great success. Since then Banim became celebrated by a series of novels under the title of "The O'Hara Tales." This beautiful story of brotherly love is the most inspiring and effective that the stage can offer and as a stage production it will be found to be highly instructive and interesting, doubly so on account of the grand and intellectual manner in which it is staged and interpreted by Warren Conlan and his excellent company of metropolitan players. All who desire to enjoy this cleverly illustrated lesson of brotherly love, should secure good seats now on sale at Ormond & Walsh's.

A BOLD STEAL
Over a Ton of Butter Carried Off in a Single Night.

The boldness of the theft of Bennet Bros. steam launch on Stony Lake last winter has been eclipsed by a daring robbery up west, where the thief got away with over a ton of butter.

Chief Roszel has received the following particulars:—

Stolen from L. M. Lash Creamery, near Hanover or Chesley, Oct. 9th: 36 boxes of butter, containing 56 pounds in each. Track of waggon plainly seen and doors of factory burst in. Supposed to be a party described as follows: Age between 28 and 35; length 5 feet 10 inches or 11 inches; dark hair and dark moustache; dark worsted coat and vest, brown pants and brown Fedora hat; weight 160 or 165 pounds; rather high cheek bones. The above describes a man who drove a bay horse and top buggy, who called at the creamery a few days previous to the theft and asked very inquisitive questions for a stranger. He asked the man employed to be shown through the factory, which was done. He saw a large amount of butter in storage room. Asked the employee if he remained in the factory over night and if he had any friends living in the locality. He was told he had friends at Walkerton and visited them every Saturday night. Stranger was asked where he lived when at home. He replied "Desboro." Enquiries have been made and such a party has not been known in that locality.

$25 00 reward will be paid for conviction of thief or discovery of butter. All communications to be addressed to Constable Hefferan or to Constable Gray, Chesley.

A PRESENTATION
To Mrs. Samuel Long by Her Sunday School Class.

Mrs. Samuel Long is leaving on Monday next to join her husband at Wahnipatae, and last evening her Sunday school class of St. Luke's church took occasion to present her with a handsome silver inkstand and a china pitcher ere her departule.

The presentation was made by Miss Greta Symonds and Miss Jane Moore, whilst the following address was read by Miss Madeline Stone:—

Dear Mrs. Long:

We the scholars of your Sunday school class have heard with much regret that you are about to leave us. During the time that you have taught us we have greatly enjoyed attending Sunday school and we shall try and remember the lessons we have received from you.

We hope you will accept the accompanying presents as mementos of the affection and esteem with which we regard you, and that when you use them you will sometimes think of us.

We wish you a very happy winter and shall look forward to your return in the spring.

Signed on behalf of your class.

JANE MOORE,
MADELINE STONE,
GRETA SYMONDS,
HAZEL HICKEY,
MARY PRATLEY,

Mrs. Long has been a most faithful worker in the Sunday school of St. Luke's and her cheerful presence will be greatly missed.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.
What the Chief's Correspondence Brought in This Morning.

The Chief this morning received a circular giving the names of the constables in the towns, villages and townships of Ontario county. Such a list is of great assistance to constables in other places and is beside quite an advertisement for the local men as it ensures their being used in all cases instead of some man picked by chance in the municipality.

The Brantford police are enquiring concerning a missing 1897 Regent's gentlemen's wheel, green enamelled, silver mounted frets and handle bar, rams horn handles, 24½ inch frame, 73½ gear, metal pedals, no rubber, Dunlop tires, hard leather saddle, natural wood rims, enamel worn off top bar of frame by tool bag straps.

MONORIEF VS. THE TOWN.
Leave Given the Town in the Division Court to Appeal.

Moncrief v. Town of Peterborough—E. B. Edwards, (Peterborough) for defendant. J. H. Moss for Fairweather, the tenant, a third party. Argument of appeal from judgment of County Court of Peterborough dismissing claim of appellants for relief over against Fairweather continued from yesterday. Leave given to defendants to appeal against judgment dismissing claim for relief against another third party, the landlord, and present appeal to stand meanwhile.

FATAL RAILWAY COLLISION AT BELL'S CORNERS.
A Freight and the C. P. R. Express, East, Collide — Four Persons Killed—A Bad Wreck.

(Special to the Examiner.

Ottawa, Oct. 14th—The Toronto express on the C.P.R., due here at 6 a.m., collided with a freight train between Stittsville and Bell's Corners, fifteen miles from Ottawa, about 5 a.m.

Engineer Larondeau, of the express, and R. Peden, mail clerk, were killed; also two tramps on the freight. The wreck is a bad one.

BREAK DOWN ON THE G. T. R.
The Axle on a Freight Locomotive Gave Way Yesterday.

A freight which pulled out just ahead of the Midland excursion train yesterday broke down about two and a half miles west, through the giving away of an axle in the locomotive. Another engine was sent out and brought the freight back to town.

The excursion train was delayed about twenty-five minutes by the accident.

There was no damage done other than the breaking of the axle and the freight was sent on its way as soon as the disabled engine could be replaced.

LACROSSE.

The following letter appears in to-day's Mail and Empire:—

Sporting Editor Mail and Empire:

SIR,—I wish you would explain in detail the reasoning by which the Executive Committee of the C.L.A. came to the conclusions they did in the Peterborough-Markham protest. Last year, I remember, the same C.L.A. Executive threw Peterborough out of the finals because they played a man who was born in Peterborough and lived here all his life, with the exception of a few months he spent at Smith's Falls, and because he played a game or two there Peterborough got "the dope."

More "knock out drops" were administered at this latest meeting of the freaks that constitute the Executive of the C.L.A. Poor innocent Markham didn't know it was against the rules to play a man who had played in another town the same season! Imagine the smiles of those rural innocents, who have gone through more protests and have had more reason to know the real meaning of all the rules than almost any other club in the C.L.A. Imagine, I say, their smiles when the Executive says officially that they didn't know what they were doing. There are certain clubs whose managers have spent nearly all their time devising schemes to over-reach the laws against professionalism and crooked playing and the club in question is not the most innocent of them all.

Talk about "a Daniel come to judgment," they were all Daniels—this Executive. They first decide against Peterborough, and then return to that club the money which has to be lodged with every protest, to be forfeited if the protest is be not sustained. This adds insult to injury. If Peterborough did not win their protest they should lose their money. Peterborough asked for justice, not charity.

"For the intent and purpose of the law, Hath full relation to the penalty."

Yours, etc.,
OLD TIMER.

CURLIANA.

—The Granite Curling club will meet on Friday evening in the rink parlours, Charlotte street, for the purpose of electing officers for the year and talking over several matters which will come up for discussion at the annual meeting of the Association. A full attendance of members is requested.

The Lindsay Curling Club has reorganized for the season. Twenty new members have joined the ranks. The following officers were elected:—Patron, Mr. Geo. McHugh, M.P.; president, Mr. F. Knowlson; vice-president, Mr. M. W. Kennedy; secretary, Mr. J. C. Harstone; treasurer, Mr. J. D. Flavelle; chaplains, Rev. H. R. O'Malley, Rev. J. W. Macmillan; representatives to Ontario Curling Association, Messrs. J. D. Flavelle and W. Needler; representatives to Midland Colts' Association, Messrs. J. H. Hart and J. W. Greer.

Ontario Tankard Skips—Messrs. J. D. Flavelle and W. McLennan.

Dryden Cup Skips—Messrs. J. A. McMillan and G. A. Little.

The consideration of the changes proposed by the Ontario Curlers' Association gave rise to a very full and free discussion on the proposed changes. It was the very general feeling of the club that the club should not be guided in these matters by any selfish spirit, but that the success of curling throughout the province should be aimed at. Though the meeting thought that the representatives chosen would do what was best for the game, yet Mr. Flavelle asked that the club express itself freely on the changes so that he may really know what the mind of the club is. The club instructed their representatives to oppose the proposal to change the number of ends, the proposal to change the maximum weight of a stone, and the change to do away with districts and to substitute a single rink competition held at some place for the whole province; to agree to the grouping of Lindsay with Toronto Granites, Queen City, Parkdale, Hamilton Victorias and Scarboro, but the representative was given no unmistakeable evidence that the club thinks that the Toronto clubs should be moved out of the city more frequently than they are in these primary competitions.

The following skips were selected for the season:—Messrs T Brodie, F Crandell, W Dundas, J G Edwards, T Bell, J D Flavelle, J C Harstone, G H Hopkins, J Keith, M W Kennedy, F Knowlson, H Knowlson, J M Knowlson, G A Little, R Miller, Dr McAlpine, J McAdams, D McGibbon, W McLennan, J H McMillan, J McSweyn, T McConnell, W Needler, Dr Simpson.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES!

Of every five dollars which the average labouring man receives, from three to four are spent on food alone.

If, therefore, there is anything which should interest the workingman's wife, it is that which will give more food and better food for her money.

The thoughtful housekeeper who will make a test case of buying all her Teas, Coffees, Sugars. Provisions and General Groceries at our store for one month, will discover that a substantial saving has been made when compared with her outlay for any previous four weeks.

It is no more surprising that overchargeing should explode a gun than that the same thing should burst a business. We buy for Cash and sell for Cash, and don't have to Overcharge.

Buying as we do for Spot Cash, and in large quantities, IN FACT NO QUANTITY TOO LARGE FOR US, the larger the quantity the cheaper we can buy, makes our store an outlet for the manufacturer. These goods are now to hand ready for your inspection, and are beyond doubt the biggest bargains ever offered in Peterborough.

They are all new goods, up-to-date styles, made for this season's trade, and will with our own stock of this season's importations be slaughtered at the following unheard of prices. The goods must be seen to be appreciated as they cannot be described, and when we refer to quotations they are possibly the same as other lists, but the open question is, what do we supply at a certain price, and what will others give at the same price.

NORWOOD WEATHER FOR NORWOOD SHOW.

THE EAST RIDING'S USUAL GOOD LUCK.

A Good Exhibition Blessed With Superb Weather—A Very Large Attendance—Excellent Live Stock Exhibit—Grand Show of Roots —An all Round Success— Notes of the Principal Exhibits.

The East Riding Agricultural Society is certainly on the right side of the weather clerk. The exhibition was advertised for the 12th and 13th. The bad luck that popularly attaches to the number, thirteen, was exorcised for this exhibition, the bad luck coming on the 12th, the first day, when the placing of exhibits was made in a downpour of rain.

But the weather for the second day was glorious, as good as could be wished—bright sunshine and a warm balmy autumn air.

Consequently in point of attendance, as well as all other respects, the show was a great success.

The attendance was very large; according to the returns of the turn-stile custodians, there were at least 3000 visitors on the grounds during the afternoon of Wednesday.

In view of the large attendance it was fortunate that the Society had added four acres at the southern part of the grounds. This addition admits of much needed room for the display of stock and the convenience of judges and visitors. The speeding track has been enlarged to within a few feet of the half mile. The track is well banked at the turns and through the first year of using it is a little rough and heavy, it has in it the making of an excellent speeding course. A judges' stand and necessary accessories are provided.

THE LIVE STOCK EXHIBIT.

This was a very strong feature of the exhibition and a practical tribute to the fertility of the district, and to the enterprise of the farmers in the district contributing to the exhibits, and in this respect it is doubtful if the society ever had a larger or better show.

HORSES.

Everybody loves a horse, especially a good one, and even the most hard-headed and most practical farmer delights to draw the rein over a good, spirited stepper. The principal classes were well filled.

Of course there were not many blood horses entered, the only two exhibitors being Messrs. W. G. Patterson and Boland Bros. But it was different with Roadsters—in which competition was keen and many fine beasts were exhibited. The principal exhibitors were: Wm. Stillman, Jno. Lock, T. Howard, And. Stillman, A. W. Free, H. Dunham, Wm. Elmhirst, H. Nelson, Jas. Moore & Son, Joseph Johnston, Jno. Kelleher, Henry Elmhirst, J. B. Ewing, Geo. Skinkle, Chas. Skinkle, C. H. Curtis, Jas. C. Curtis, M. Walsh, John Lancaster, John Breckenridge, W. A. Sherwin, Wm. Elmhirst, B. Caldwell, M. E. Bennem and Boland Bros.

Carriage horses.—The carriage horses shown were excellent. The exhibitors were: Jno. Lock, F. Harding, F. Bonnycastle, And. Stillman, W. A. Free, H. Dunham, Wm. Elmhirst, F. W. Macoun, W. G. Patterson, Wm. Oliver, Jas. F. Doherty, T. J. O'Neil, O. Robson, Jno. Kelleher, E. J. Loney, J. B. Ewing, W. H. Down, Geo. Skinkle, Chas. Skinkle, Jas. E. Cullen, M. Walsh, John, Weir, Geo. E. Garbutt, W. A. Sherwin and Wm. Elmhirst, Mark Manley, M. D. Timlin, Jas. Foley, Benj. Cardwell, F. Bonnycastle, John Harris, Daniel Kelly, T. J. O'Neil, P. Howard, J. F. Doherty and T. H. Patterson.

Agricultural Horses.—Some splendid farm horses were shown in this class, the owners were:—W. J. Healey, H. Dunham, John W. Beavis, Frank Greenbanks, Jas. F. Doherty, Geo. Skinkle, Chas. Skinkle, John Breckenridge, John Doherty.

Heavy Draught.—There were some fine horses shown in this class. The exhibitors were John Breckenridge, John McCubbin and Henry Dunham.

HORNED CATTLE.

The cattle byres were well tenanted by exhibits of a very superior class. Besides being good the exhibits were numerous, there being by actual count 135 head of cattle on exhibition, from the giant Durham or Holstein aged bull to the beautiful little, sleek, well-groomed Jersey calf of a few months old, the latter a decided pet, the envied property of Mr. W. H. Brethen.

All the principal classes were well represented, and among the large stock of animals shown there was hardly one to be seen that would not be a strong competitor with the others in its class. A feature of the exhibition was the large number present from outside the county.

Durhams—In this class there were some fine animals shown, F. Birdsall & Son having their fine herd on hand. Other exhibitors were Messrs. Jas. F. Doherty, Michael Walsh, Boland Bros., Geo. English, G. Blezard and John Knox.

Ayrshires—In this class W. Stewart & Son, of Seymour township, had their splendid herd on exhibition. Other exhibitors were H. Durham, A. Terrill, Jno. W. Beavis, Jas. F. Doherty, Joseph Johnston, Chas. Skinkle, Geo. English, A. Humphries, Jno. McCubbin and John Breckenridge.

Holsteins—Wm. Stillman, W. Dunham, R. O. Morrow, F. Greenbanks, Duncan Campbell, Henry Elmhirst and Richard Honey with a large exhibit.

Jerseys—This was the peoples' pet exhibit and there were plenty of good animals to admire. The exhibitors were Messrs. F. J. Macklin, D. H. Ketcheson, W. H. Phillips, F. Birdsall & Son, C. H. Curtis, W. H. Brethen.

Grades—These were shown by Messrs. Jas. Moore & Son, Frank Greenbanks, A. Robson, Michael Walsh, Boland Bros., Chas. Skinkle, W. R. Howson, W. H. Brethren and M. Walsh, who also showed fat cattle.

Mr. Chas. Nicol had on exhibition a Polled Angus bull calf.

SHEEP.

There was an unusually large exhibit of sheep—Long and Short Wools—shown. There were 142 heads in the pens. In every class there was strong competition and some splendid specimens.

Cotswolds—These were shown by Messrs. Wm. Stillman, F. Bonnycastle, H. Elmhirst and R. Honey, who had a large exhibit and had the solitary distinction of being the only exhibitors of Leicesters on grounds.

Southdowns—Mr. E. H. Bates had a large exhibit, as also had Mr. R. L. Holdsworth & Sons.

Shropshires—The exhibitors of this fine breed were Messrs. D. H. Ketcheson, W. H. Phillips, W. J. Miller, J. B. Ewing and C. H. Curtis.

Oxfords—The exhibitors in this class were T. Birdsall & Son, and A. Terrill, who offered strong competition in this class. Other exhibitors were Jno. E. Roxburgh and Chas. Skinkle. In grades, Short Wools, the exhibitor was W. H. Phillips, who also showed fat sheep.

SWINE.

The swine were well represented, there being 66 snouts, among which were some huge beasts.

Improved Berkshires were shown by A. Terrill, J. H. Tierney, W. H. Phillips, David Forsythe, Jas. Moore & Son, R. N. McDonald, J. B. Ewing, J. A. Sexsmith, R. Honey and Wm. Stillman.

Improved Yorkshires were shown by Wm. Stillman, Paul Scott, D. Campbell, H. Elmhirst, L. A. Darling, John Breckenridge.

Chester Whites were exhibited by F. Birdsall & Son, C. H. Curtis.

A new breed of hogs, Duroc Jerseys, was exhibited by Geo. Elliott and Arch. Patterson.

Tamworth's were shown by E. H. Bate, J. H. Tierney, G. L. Duncan, R. N. McDonald and John Breckenridge.

Poland Chinas were exhibited by Messrs. E. H. Bate and C. H. Curtis.

POULTRY.

The chicken fanciers of the district never had a better chance to study the different varieties of poultry than was offered at this exhibition. Some noted poultry breeders had their stock on exhibition among whom were, W. Stewart & Son, C. H. Curtis, T. Learmouth, F. J. Macklin, R. N. McDonald, A. Humphries, J. E. Cullen, Chas. Nicoll, W. H. Brethren, Stephen Oliver, R. O. Morrow, John Breckenridge, Willie Pearce, R. N. McDonald, R. Honey, A. Humphries, Wm. Stillman, Jas Thompson, Miss Robinson.

THE INSIDE EXHIBITS.

It would have been well for the society if they could have arranged for the enlargement of the main building as well as the sheds for its capacity was severely taxed by the fine exhibits it contained. As it was one of Turner's tents had to be utilized for the splendid exhibition of grain.

The inside exhibit, was in all respects, an excellent one. The usual East Riding in roots was scored, the lateness of the season permitting roots and vegetables to attain about full maturity. There was a mammoth collection of roots. Mangolds like big blocks of fire wood. Squashes and pumpkins of the size of bushel baskets. There were baskets upon baskets of robust potatoes, luscious looking enough to make the proverbial tuber-loving Hibernian's mouth water. The exhibit of fruit had also the advantage of full ripening, and there was a splendid display of apples. The show of dairy products was fine. Cheese and butter, especially the latter, being present in abundance.

Domestic manufactures were especially well represented.

As remarked a special tent had to be provided for the grain exhibits, which were universally fin, the director in charge asserting that it was the best ever made on the ground, and the fine quality, apparently bore out his statement. The society has taken measures to see that the exhibit of grain is a bona fide test of good farming. They impounded the prize bags and other best bags of grain to guard against their being kept and shown another year. Thus next years exhibit will be of that years growth and will be a fair sample of the work of the farmer.

But the show of ladies' work was unusually elaborate.

Never before in the history of the society was the competition in ladies' work so strong, but although the number of entries was large, the work was generally excellent, and the ladies deserve a great deal of credit. The principal exhibitors were Mrs. J. W. Tully, A. W. Free, Miss Mary M. Brooks, Miss S. Comstock, Mrs. F. G. Macklin, W. H. Phillips, Mrs. W. A. Bell, Carrie E. Payne, Mrs. Jas. Moore, Mrs. J. H. Smith, Mrs. E. J. Honey, Maggie Miller, Mrs. Geo. Skinkle, Mrs. T. Walsh, Mrs. J. O'Neil, Miss Maude Campbell, Miss M. Curtis and Maggie Sexsmith.

In the fine arts section the admirers of the beautiful had a chance to spend a Successful Harvest Festival at St. Mark's.

The annual Harvest Thanksgiving at St. Mark's church, Otonabee, on Sunday and Monday last was the most successful in the history of the parish. The church was very tastefully decorated with a profusion of grain and fruit and such flowers as had escaped the late severe frosts. Rev. Rural Dean Webb, rector of Colborne, preached in the morning and evening to crowded congregations and delivered practical and instructive addresses on both occasions. The Rural Dean expressed himself as highly pleased with the heartiness of the services and the large number of communicants at the morning service.

On Monday evening the Forester's Hall was packed with a large and appreciative audience, who, after partaking of a bounteous spread prepared by the ladies, in the basement of the building, listened to a lengthy and excellent programme. The Rev. W. L. Baynes Reed, the incumbent of the parish, after welcoming the assembled gathering, introduce the following progremme:

At a vestry meeting held at St. Mark's church, Otonabee, on Monday afternoon Mr. Geo. Taylor was elected People's Warden for the balance of the year in place of his brother, the late Thomas Taylor, jr. A motion was passed, expressing the keen sense of the loss which the congregation had sustained in the death of the late Thomas Taylor, jr., and assuring Mr. Taylor of the deep sympathy of the Vestry.

BEYOND.

Beyond the gloom is glory,
Beyond the cross a crown:
Not half we said life's story,
Did we look up, not down.

We need but to rise higher,
Above the clouds and night;
To feel the heavens nigher
And see the eternal light.

The sowing, then the reaping,
We pass through death to life;
Comes gladness after weeping,
And sweet rest after strife.

Earth to-day, Heaven to-morrow!
Oh, my soul, since God is there!
Into singing turn thy sorrow—
Into praise thy prayer.

A Prominent English Divine.

The Rev. Dr. Charles A. Gore, canon of Westminster, who held meetings in Toronto on the 22nd and 23rd Sept., is one of the most prominent high church men among the Anglican clergy. He is the head of the English branch of the order of Resurrectionists, and one of his chief objects in visiting this country is to establish a branch of the society. While in this country he will also conduct the annual retreat for the clergy, which is held in the cathedral at Albany, N.Y., under supervision of the bishop of Albany.

Despite his high position in the church Dr. Gore is looked upon from many sides as heretical, largely on account of the views that were expressed on the inspiration of the Bible in a volume of essays entitled 'Lux Mundi," which he edited a few years ago. His Bampton lessons, delivered two years ago, excited even greater opposition, as the views expressed on the second person of the trinity seemed to assail the divinity of Jesus.

On account of these views much surprise has been manifested at his being invited to conduct the retreat at Albany, and a rival retreat has been arranged for at Atlantic City under Father Huntington, of the order of the Holy Cross. The order of Resurrectionists, of which Canon Gore is the head, is composed of Advice to Wheelwomen.

Assist your machine when going over bad roads. For instance, if it gets into a rut, help the steerer by throwing all your weight on the back wheel and lifting the handles. Directly the front wheel is out, lean with all the weight you can on the handle bar and down-going pedal, and to assist the rear wheel out of the rut. These movements rapidly performed have saved many a machine from smashing when the rider has suddenly come upon a drain running across his road.

Pressure on the Pedal.

According to M. Bouny, the French investigator, the pressure on each pedal of the average bicycle necessary to attain certain speeds is as follows: Ten miles an hour, 18.58 foot-pounds; fifteen miles, 47.50 foot-pounds; twenty miles, 83.62 foot-pounds. Every mile added requires a disproportionate increase of force. Hence the distressing effects of racing.

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or a woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a great discourager of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what bad breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. There is no case of biliousness, indigestion, "heartburn," or any of the rest of the nightmare breeding brood that these little "Pellets" will not cure.

Pain in the Back.

Mr. M. P. Halpin, Brockville, Ont., makes a statement as follows: "For two years I suffered from kidney trouble, causing severe pain across my back, dizziness, headache, sleeplessness, etc. I had often to lean on the counter when serving a customer, so intense was the pain in my back. On taking Doan's Kidney Pills I improved from the very first, and now after using three boxes am all right; all my pains, aches and dizziness having disappeared, thanks to Doan's Pills."

GREAT BRITAIN WINS

The Controversy on Behring Sea Question.

BRITAIN, CANADA AND THE STATES

Will, Therefore, Now Be the Only Parties Represented in the Conference - Great Britain Only Waiting to Receive Secretary Sherman's Reply in Detail.

Washington, D.C., Oct. 12.—Secretary Sherman has written a reply to the note of Lord Salisbury, expressing Great Britain's declination to take part in a Behring Sea Conference in which Russia and Japan are to participate. The essential features of Mr. Sherman's reply have been sent by cable to the British Government, and the reply in full is now on its way to the British authorities. Lord Salisbury's note of declination, it can now be stated, bore date of Oct. 6, so that the response is made with promptness.

The answer states that the United States Government views with astonishment the determination of Great Britain not to participate in a conference including Russia and Japan, and the statement is made that up to the 23rd of last month the United States authorities had fully expected that the conference would proceed with Russia and Japan as well as Great Britain present. It is pointed out that aside from the written correspondence to which Lord Salisbury had called attention, there were verbal negotiations between Ambassador Hay and His Lordship, in which specific reference was made to the participation of Russia and Japan. At one of these verbal exchanges, it is stated, Lord Salisbury said he would advise with the officials of the Foreign Office concerning the subjects discussed, which included the participation of Russia and Japan. Subsequently, on July 29, Ambassador Hay wrote to Lord Salisbury, saying the President hoped to have Russia and Japan participate in the conference. In view of the circumstances, the United States had confidently expected that Great Britain would take part in the conference, and that Russia and Japan would be represented with the approval of Great Britain. Besides the foregoing reply, and in view of the differences which have arisen, the State Department suggests a conference in accordance with the terms of Lord Salisbury's agreement, as he construes it, namely, between experts of Great Britain and the United States and Canada. This last feature is now under consideration by the British Government, its substance having been transmitted by cable, but it is not expected that an answer will be made until Mr. Sherman's answer in detail reaches London. In the meantime, preparations for the conference between the United States, Russia and Japan are proceeding. The Japanese delegates, who are now en route from San Francisco, have decided to stop over for two days at Chicago, and will not reach Washington until next Sunday night. Two of the Russian delegates, Mr. Botkine and Mr. Rontkowsky, are here, and the remaining delegate, Mr. Grelsnitzky, is expected soon. The expectation is that all the delegates will be brought together on Oct. 20.

Fruit Culture in Manitoba.

Winnipeg, Oct. 12.—Many fruit trees have been sold to farmers in Manitoba this year by Eastern firms. Plums are the favorite and prove very prolific in this climate. Several farmers grew apples this year, while small fruits, plums and crabs have been a marked success.

Restoring Fertility to a Farm.

Then years ago I took possession of a run-down farm, which would not produce over five bushels of wheat and ten bushels of corn per acre, says C. M. Bennett in Practical Farmer. By the use of the cheaper forms of the chemical fertilizers with the legumes, and a careful saving and a judicious application of all the manure from the farm animals, I have succeeded so far in restoring the fertility that it will now bring twenty bushels of wheat and fifty of corn per acre. Any farmer owning one of these worn-out farms can do as well and perhaps better, if the right means are used in the right way. However, it will take plenty of hard labor of both hand and head to succeed. A sufficient quantity of all the elements necessary for the growth of plants is usually supplied by the rains, air and soil, except nitrogen, potash and phosphoric acid. Most worn soils lack all three of these essential elements. To restore these the following is about the best rotation to follow at first. In September apply a mixture of three hundred pounds of acid phosphate and two hundred of potash per acre, and sow to crimson clover and rye, plowing under the following spring. Spread over the land twenty-five bushels of lime and plant in corn. The lime causes a more rapid decay of vegetable matter in the soil, and prevents the tendency to acidity during hot weather. At the last working of the corn, sow cow peas amongst it; they should not be cut, but be allowed to die down upon the land. In August or September sow crimson clover among the peas and corn, and plow under the next spring and sow the land in peas. Cut them while green and cure for feed. Plow the stubble and put in wheat and clover, again using the acid phosphate and potash. After the soil is well supplied with humus, the clover and peas should not be turned under, but should be pastured or cut for hay and fed to stock. The stubble turned under will supply sufficient organic matter for succeeding crops after the land is well started in improvement.

I speak whereof I know in saying that by the method outlined above any land, however poor, may be brought to a high state of fertility.

Figures, like actions, often speak more eloquently than words. They certainly do in this case:—

NAMES.	Income 1896.	Income 1896.	Increase.
Temperance and General	$ 142.448	$ 151.319	8.871	Increase of all other Canadian Companies Combined, $296.178.
Ontario Mutual	590.163	601.617	11.454
Dominion Life	53.395	65.565	12.170
London Life	160.889	177.004	16.115
Canada Life	2,006.801	2,025.716	18.825
Manufacturers	324.449	355.149	30.700
Great West	122.598	156.033	33.435
North American	485.354	539.762	54.408
Confederation	852.874	907.322	54.448
Federal	257.647	312.399	54.752
SUN LIFE	1,301.221	1,650.484	349.263
TOTALS	$6,297.929	$6,942.370	$644,441

From the above it will be seen that the Sun Life's increase was more than that of all the other Company's combined. These figures are taken from the Official Report of the Government Superintendent of Insurance, and cannot, therefore, be disputed.

When an innocent man is jailed by mistake he prefers to come out the same way he went in. He may break jail and be caught and put back again. He'd rather have the door unlocked and walk out and stay out.

A sick man is a prisoner in the jail of disease; he has gone in by some door of carelessness or neglect or irregular living, and he must unlock this same door by careful, sensible habits if he wants to be a free, well man again.

If dyspepsia and biliousness or constipation is the way he got into disease, he has got to overcome just those troubles before he can get out.

The majority of diseases begin with some trouble of the digestive organs or of the liver, which prevents the supply of proper nourishment to the system. The best remedy for these troubles is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, because it gives the digestive and blood-making organs power to assimilate food and transform it into pure, nourishing blood, vitalized with an abundance of red corpuscles.

It acts directly upon the liver and gives it capacity to filter all bilious impurities out of the circulation. It builds up solid, muscular flesh and healthy nerve-force.

In obstinate constipation the "Discovery" should be used in conjunction with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the most natural and thoroughly scientific laxative ever devised. The "Pellets" regulate and invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One is a gentle laxative; two act as a mild cathartic.

"My wife had suffered for seven years with dyspepsia, sick headache and costiveness," writes Mr. Alonzo D. Jameson, of Dunbarton, Merrimack Co., N. H., "we tried many doctors and many kinds of medicine, but all were of no avail. We purchased six bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which together with the 'Pleasant Pellets' has entirely restored my wife's health, and we cannot say enough in thanks to you for these valuable medicines."

FOUR GREAT ENGLISHMEN.

NAMES WHICH CALL FORTH PRIDE OF RACE WHEN MENTIONED.

Gladstone in Politics—Kipling in Literature—Sir Henry Irving on the Stage—Spencer as Philosopher and Thinker What is Thought of Them.

William Ewart Gladstone has stood for more than half a century as the great representative of reform in the British Government. As the leader of the Liberals in Parliament, and four times head of the Government, he has been able to accomplish more than any other living man for the purification, liberalization and strengthening of the British Empire.

He is the most admired man in the world. He is accorded real greatness of character. His wisdom, his honor, his vast learning and critical power, his strength, and his fine personality all combine with the memory of the great accomplishments of his life to place him supreme among his fellows, and make him in truth "the grand old man" of a great nation.

Time after time Gladstone has stood at the front of great movements of the popular will. Within the year or two just passed, although withdrawn from public life, he has led the whole English-speaking world in an expression of righteous indignation against the unspeakable horrors of the great assassin and for the succor of the oppressed victim—the Armenian race. He has been the friend of the Irish. To him was due the extension of the suffrage in England, the disestablishment of the church in Ireland, and the movement for home rule has always counted on him as its tower of strength.

Gladstone is a great orator as well as a great statesman. His various debates on political and financial questions, both in parliament and on the public stump are masterpieces of eloquence and powerful instruments of conviction. Gladstone is a man the world will not soon forget.

Rudyard Kipling is without an equal in the writing of English short stories, and if short stories be considered typical of the fiction of this generation, as novels were typical in the last, it would be hard to point out any writer of a rank equal to his. As a poet, too, Kipling stands among the first. In fact, all of his best work, whether it be clothed as verse or as prose, is poetical. More than this, Kipling has developed original veins of fiction. His East Indian tales, his Barrack-room Ballads and his Jungle Books have all worked in new fields of human life and show the freshness and vigor of real genius.

Kipling is only 32 years old, and he was famous before he was 25. He was born in India, but educated in England. At the age of 16 he returned to his birth land, where he devoted seven years to newspaper reporting, gathering in experience from all sides. Then he wandered over America and Europe, filling himself with all the different phases of life. In 1889 he went to London, where he published the first volume of the stories that have made him famous. He married an American girl, Caroline Balestier, and has since made his home part of the time in Vermont and part in London.

Kipling's latest published volume is "The Seven Seas," in which, besides a number of new barrack-room ballads, he has sung of the romance of the age of steam and machinery. This is an idea which he is now engaged in carrying further, and the poetry of the steamboat engine and of the locomotive and the rushing industrial life of the end of the nineteenth century is what is fast coming from his pen.

Sir Henry Irving is not only the greatest living English actor, but he is also the man who has done the most for the elevation of the English stage during this century. Above all other qualities, he is a student of the theatrical art, and the success which he has attained must be laid as much to his lifelong studies and thorough concentration as to his natural genius.

He was born near Glastonbury in 1838. Deserting business at an early age, he committed himself to the vicissitudes of an actor's career—to tell the truth with no great promise at the start. Before he was 21, however, he was able to get good engagements, and he appeared with the best companies both in London and in the provinces. By 1866 he had earned a high position as an actor, appearing in leading roles at the St. James Theatre in London. His great successes have been made in Shakespearean plays, and in the interpretation of characters in some of the best plays written during this century. His productions of Shakespearean plays have been, many of them, notable events, on account of the richness of the setting and the originality of the treatment. There is no doubt but that Shakespeare is now given vastly more attention both on the stage and in general reading circles than he would have been but for Irving's work in that direction.

Irving is a sympathetic man and possessed of an astonishing celerity of thought and changeful emotion. His face is wonderfully expressive and he uses every portion of his body in a most skilful way. In the most hackneyed parts he has an original view of the characters he portrays.

Herbert Spencer is the most comprehensive thinker of the century. He is the philosopher who in his writings has treated the whole universe from one standpoint and who has brought together and collected almost the whole sum of human knowledge. Other philosophers may have originated more bold and striking theories on special topics. Other scientists may have been more careful and exact in the details of their special investigations. But Herbert Spencer, both philosopher and scientist, still stands as the only man who has taken his cosmic theory and worked it out through all the separate fields of knowledge as thoroughly as if he had confined himself to but one science.

This great accomplishment of Spencer, given to the world as his system of synthetic philosophy, is truly his lifework. To it he has given all the energies of half a century of unceasing toil. From the time his first book, "Social Statics," was published in 1850, until less than a year ago his work has gone steadily on against obstacles that would have daunted any other man, until the great system has been finally brought to an end and the ideals which at the beginning of his life he hardly dared cherish, for a moment have been realized.

Spencer was born at Derby in 1820 of a cultivated and scientifically minded ancestry. He was at first a civil engineer, but soon gave that up and devoted himself entirely to philosophy. He has always refused to enter into connection of any kind with the universities of his land, and he has spent his own fortune and all the income from his books in prosecuting his studies.

YOUNG LAMONT'S CASE.

Neighbours Much Interested in the Story—Everyone Thought That the Youngster Would Die, but he's Very Much Alive Now.

DUNDALK, Oct. 4.—Hugh Lamont, of McIntyre, has a young son who is an object of interest throughout this whole section of country. From infancy the boy had dropsy, and was bloated and swollen all over. It seemed to the parents that death could be the only release to one attacked so young by this disease. They heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and began giving them to the child. With the first box the bloating and swelling began to disappear. Six boxes effected a perfect cure and the boy is now just as healthy a youngster as stirs up the dust on the high roads of Western Ontario.

Why They Gave It Up.

Mrs. Bradish—I thought you were going to spend the summer in your cottage out on the lake shore?

Mrs. Huntley—We did intend to do so, but we've had to give it up.

Mrs. Bradish—Why, is it impossible for your husband to attend to business and go so far out every evening?

Mrs. Huntley—Oh, no, he could do it all right; but our hired girl's beau can't.—Cleveland Leader.

A Criticism.

"These verses," remarked the elderly man, "have a very agreeable sound. But there's too much in them about 'running brooks' to strike the popular chord."

"But it's something that most poetry has in it."

"If that's the case, it explains why most poetry is not popular. The public just now isn't caring whether the brooks run or not. What it wants is to see the factories get started.—Washington Star.

Can Work all the Time.

"My daughter was suffering with catarrh of the stomach, and tried many different prescriptions without benefit. Finally she began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and it helped her at once. She has taken fifteen bottles and is now able to work all the time. We prize Hood's Sarsaparilla very highly." ANNA MERRILL, Eaton, Que.

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Cure all liver ills. 25 cents.

Away Down East

From east to west people have heart trouble. This causes violent headaches, neuralgia, nerve trouble and prostration. Says Mrs. Somers, of Moncton, N. B.: "I tried many remedies but never found anything to give me such prompt relief as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done. I suffered from the above symptoms, but now gladly testify to the cure these wonderful pills have made in my case, and I hope all sufferers will try them."

Making an Asparagus Bed.

Asparagus roots may be planted in spring, or fall, provided the ground is moderately dry, otherwise it is better to plant in the spring. The land must be well prepared and can hardly be too rich. Good strong, one-year-old plants are by many preferred to older ones. For garden culture the rows should be not less than three feet apart and the roots planted two feet apart in the rows. In field culture, where horse cultivation is practiced, three to four feet of space is given each way. The easiest way of planting is to make furrows with the plow, 10 to 12 inches deep. Level and mellow the bottom of these, and if the ground is not already very rich, spade in some decomposed manure, filling up the trenches so that the bottom is about six inches below the surface of the land. Plant the roots in these, covering them with three inches of soil, and as the shoots grow, fill in the trench gradually until it is level. The ground is to be kept mellow and clear of weeds throughout the season. After two years a few stalks may be cut off each year, but a full crop should not be cut before the third year.

Lime and Sulphur Wash.

The many washes for destroying insects introduced lately leads one to forget the old one, and still the best of all, where it can be applied, viz., lime and sulphur, mixed with water to make a wash. Applied to the trunk and limbs of trees it destroys every form of insect it comes in contact with, including San Jose and other scale.

HAVE YOU BACKACHE?

If you have, you don't need to suffer with it another day. Get Dr. Chase's Kidney Pills and they will give you relief as promptly and effectually as they did MR. D. C. SIMMONS, of Maybee, Ont. He says his kidneys and back were so bad he was unable to work or sleep. His urine had a brick-dust deposit, and he had to get up 3 or 4 times in the night to pass water. He has only taken half a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the back pain has gone, he sleeps well, and feels well enough to do any kind of work.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporising measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognised this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

In the bicycle race there were only two starters, who won in this order:—J. P. Farmer, L. J. Ferguson.

NOTES.

The number of entriers was 2,485—four more than last year.

The Norwood brass band, under the leadership of Mr. Archie Freeman, furnished excellent music during the day.

The ladies of St. John's Anglican church had a dining booth on the grounds and furnished hundreds of excellent meals, besides lighter refreshments during the day. This seems to be a fixed feature of Norwood exhibition.

Among the visitors was also noticed Rev. Father Conway, the popular parish priest of Norwood, Rev. D. O'Connell and Rev. Father Fitzpatrick. The latter is a native of Asphodel and spent a very pleasant afternoon in meeting his hosts of friends in his native township.

Norwood Fair is a great annual event, and the people of the surrounding country appreciate it accordingly. It, besides, attracts the former residents from distant points. Among these was Mr. Alexander Foster, of the Dominion Hotel, Bracebridge, at one time a resident of Norwood.

The special car for Peterborough was specially late. It was understood that it would leave Norwood at 7 o'clock and everybody was on hand; then the hour was fixed at 8 30 and everybody, including those who had gone down town, was on hand again; and then there was another long wait till nearly ten o'clock. The special reached Peterborough about eleven o'clock.

Among the visitors on the grounds were noticed Mr. T. Blezard, M.P.P., and several directors of the Central Exhibition—Messrs. Geo. E. Elliott, president, T. M. Hunter, Geo. Fitzgerald and W. Rutherford. Mr. R Renwick, president of the Harvey Agricultural Society, was present in a judicial capacity. Mr. Renwick was a director at the first exhibition of the East Riding Society in 1868.

There was a serious accident on the grounds owing to careless driving. A fine team of Mr. W. A. Sherin, of Ainwick, after having been awarded the red ticket, was jogging around the track, when a man in a road cart approached driving rapidly in the opposite direction. The driver of the team turned his horses to the right and the driver of the cart turned his horse to the left, the outside part of the track being occupied by another. The consequence was, of course, a collision, and perhaps a fatal one, the shaft of the road cart striking the off horse squarely in the middle of the chest and penetrating about five inches. Two veterinary surgeons were on the grounds attended to the injury, and succeeded in stopping the profuse bleeding. The team was a very fine one, having been prize-winners at four exhibitions this fall — Warkworth, Roseneath, Hastings and East Peterborough. Though the horse was alive when this report closed, his condition is very serious and the wound was a bad one in a vital region.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

THE EVANS PIANOS.

Mr. W. L. Taylor, the energetic general agent for the fine mellow-toned Evans pianos, exhibited a cabinet grand style near the main entrance of the building. The elegant construction and finish of this instrument, combined with its remarkably good tone and full volume, attracted crowds of people to this part of the hall. Mr. Jas. Henderson, of Barrie, a clever pianist, kept the crowds around him listening to his excellent playing. The manufacturers of the Evans pianos endeavour to make a perfect piano, and all that piano wisdom can do is done for these instruments. Quite a large sale of these pianos has been made in and around the county of Peterborough. They are to be found in many of our best houses, musical academies, convents and schools, and are preferred by piano teachers and musical artists. Mr. Taylor claims he can offer superior value in the Evans Pianos to any instrument in the market. The very low price of these instruments is one of the secrets of the manufacturers. It sometimes happens that the good qualities of a piano, like beauty, are but skin (case) deep. An elegant case is an absolute essential, and of course the Evans makers take care that all their instruments have a beautiful exterior. But they go much farther, and take care that the inside is equally satisfactory. So that the owner of an Evans piano may feel perfectly sure that the action, tone, durability and capacity for keeping in tune, is the best that experienced artists can supply. Mr. Taylor had no difficulty in disposing of the Cabinet Grand which he had on exhibition before the close of the fair, as well as securing a number of good prospects for future sales. Mr. Taylor's piano warerooms are on Water street, Peterborough, opposite the market. He also makes a specialty of the Karn and Goderich Organs and invites all looking for good reliable instruments to come and see what cash will do.

TURNER'S TENTS.

J. J. Turner & Son, the widely known tent, sail, awning and flag manufacturers of Peterborough, made a large and varied exhibit of their tents on the show grounds. More than a dozen different styles of tents were shown. A large exhibition tent, 20 x40, was used by the directors for showing the grain exhibit, and filled the bill admirably. There was also a large photograph tent occupied during the show, and several others used for holding special exhibits. Camping and square tents were pitched near the secretary's office, showing a handy portable stove and Eureka camp cot, the most convenient thing of the kind ever seen. Garden and lawn tents in pretty red striped duck, were greatly admired, as well as a very roomy and comfortable square wall tent. It was the largest exhibit of tents ever shown at the fair and formed quite an interesting part of the outside exhibits.

The remainder of the special exhibits will be published to-morrow.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars. — G. WALTER GREEN, P. O. box 361; Telephone, 92.

ST. ANDREW'S BROTHERHOOD.

Nearly All the Countries of Christendom Will be Represented at Buffalo.

Buffalo, Oct. 13. — Delegates to the International Brotherhood of St. Andrew are arriving in large numbers. Seldom, if ever, has this city entertained a gathering of men of such high intellectual and moral calibre. Canon Gore, the Bishop of Rochester, and Cyril Arrington are household names in the Episcopal Church. Bishop Potter represents the wealthiest and greatest diocese in the United States. Scarcely second in importance is the diocese of Washington, D.C., at whose administrating head stands Bishop Satterlee. From Canada comes N. Ferrar Davidson of Toronto and R. Vashan Rogers of Kingston, president and vice-president respectively of the Canadian Brotherhood.

The Lord Bishop of Huron, Bishop Leonard of Utah, Bishop Tuttle of Missouri, Dr. Sturgis, Prof. J. McMahon of Ithaca, Edward Billings of Boston, head of the Wells Institute for Workingmen; John M. Locke, the well-known dry goods merchant of Chicago; Palmer Coxe, Hector Baxter of Minneapolis, Bishop Deane of Albany, Bishop Gailor of Tennessee, Rev. Enos Nuttall, Archbishop of the West Indies, and Jacob A. Riis, author of "How the Other Half Lives," are among the distinguished visitors who will attend the convention, and some of them will be heard on the platform.

This convention marks the beginning of the Brotherhood's international growth. It is the first international gathering in its history. At present nineteenth-twentieths of its membership is confined to this country. Henceforth it is expected that the growth on English soil will be more rapid than here. The Brotherhood there is at present in its infancy, and the field there is also larger on account of the greater number of church parishes and communicants.

This morning a number of business meetings of National Councils and of the International Committee were held behind closed doors. Routine and other matter of no interest to the general public was considered. This afternoon devotional services, known as "quiet hours," were held at St. Paul's Church, presided over by Canon Gore of Westminster. This evening there will be an informal meeting of delegates, followed by a conference of members of the National Councils.

Mess Arson Case Enlarged

Stratford, Ont., Oct. 13.—The North Easthope arson case was continued before the police magistrate to-day. Witnesses were called to prove the ownership of the property and the placing of the insurance in the South Easthope Mutual. W. A. McCutcheon of Galt, who roomed with Hess while there, testified to having seen him experimenting with candles as to how long they would burn, and understood he was arranging to burn some building, but did not know where. James Wilkie of the same place, who accompanied Hess on his drive to the scene of the fire on the night of Aug. 29, disclaimed any knowledge of his intention or what he had done, and said he knew nothing of the fire till a couple of weeks ago. The further hearing of the case was adjourned till Thursday morning.

Be a Strong and Healthy Woman.

Paine's Celery Compound Can Renew Your Life.

Every woman in Canada now suffering from nervousness, sleeplessness and general debility can quickly enjoy the full blessings of life. Medical science has given to women the most efficacious medicine that has ever been devised. It is known as Paine's Celery Compound, the prescription of Professor Edward Phelps, one of the ablest physicians that ever lived, and is peculiarly adapted to woman's system. It makes them well and keeps them strong.

Mrs. E. Hurd, Summerville, N.S., says: "I cannot speak too highly of your wonderful curing medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, from which I have derived such direct benefit after suffering from nervous prostration, sleeplessness and general debility. I first used one bottle and was greatly improved; I afterward used two bottles more, and found myself quite well. I wish to recommend Paine's Celery Compound to others, and trust that it will be found in every home where sickness prevails, so that health may be restored."

GREENS OF THE SEASON.

Two Stylish Shades Produced by Diamond Dyes.

The latest London, Paris and New York fashion journals say that certain shades of Green, such as Bottle Green and Russian Green, will claim the attention of ladies who wish to conform to fashionable autumn colors. The shades of green just mentioned are worthy of admiration, as they are most becoming and durable colors.

Now is the time to make use of the wonderful Diamond Dyes. Any light coloured, faded and cast off dress can be made as good as new and fitted for fall and winter wear. From two to three packages of Diamond Dye Fast Bottle Green for Wool will be required to colour a dress and make it a new creation. The new shade, Russian Green, is a shade lighter than Bottle Green and is made from the same dye—Diamond Dye Fast Bottle Green for Wool. Thousands of ladies who manage to dress well and stylishly are using the Diamond Dyes every day, and are saving scores of dollars every year. If you admire rich and nobby greens for autumn, do your work of dyeing with the Diamond Dyes.

IN MEMORIAM.

IN MEMORY OF MARY C. DOHERTY, WHO DIED SEPTEMBER 3RD, 1897.

Our sister dear
Has gone to rest,
To God above
Who loved her best.

She lay with her white arms folded,
Across in a meek embrace;
And a beauty and light immortal
Spread over her pale young face.

And yet we prayed she might linger,
And hoped for a respite brief;
Could she but stay till autumn,
And fade with the falling leaf.

But our love was only cheating,
Conviction that gave us pain;
For a beautiful form white shrouded,
Was soon laid where she once had lain.

And we moved with a muffled footfall,
Through the gloomy and silent room;
Though we knew that her gentle spirit
Had gone from its dusky gloom.

A QUARTETTE KILLED

By an Express-Freight Train Collision Near Ottawa.

A LIKE NUMBER MORE OR LESS HURT

Canadian Pacific Trains Meet at Full Speed Between Stittsville and Bell's Corners—The Wreck a Fearful Sight—Deputy Minister Smart of the Interior an Eye-Witness.

Ottawa, Oct. 14.—Four persons were killed in a collision between the Toronto express on the C. P. R. and a freight train between Stittsville and Bell's Corners about 5 a.m. The express train was due here at 6 a.m., and the collision took place about fifteen miles out from the city. The names of the killed are:

Robert Peden, mail clerk, Ottawa.
Samuel Hastey, brakeman, Carleton-place.
Frank Larondeau, engineer, Ottawa.
R. Kearney, drover, Cantley, Que.

The wounded are: Harry Kavanagh, fireman; James Fleming, Cantley, Que., driver on freight, head and body cut, but not serious; Alex McCuaig, engineer on express, leg broken, and T. Birchall, mail clerk.

Both engines are piled up in a shapeless mass and the debris and wreck is strewn about the place for some distance. At this point of the road a short valley occurs with grades both ways, and both trains were on the down grade when they met, going at a terrible rate of speed. One of the trains was the "Cannon Ball" express from Toronto, carrying a large number of passengers, and the other a special freight from Ottawa. None of the wreck took fire. All the bodies have been recovered with the exception of Larondeau's, which is under the pile of wreckage and cannot be got at.

Some parties attribute the accident to the negligence of the operator at Stittsville section, M. W. McNish, who, it is stated, received instructions from Ottawa by the despatchers to hold the Toronto train until the freight train passed. This, it is alleged, he neglected to do. On the other hand it is said that McNish did not receive any orders. The smash-up occurred at a spot on the farm of Mr. Hodgins, M. P. for Carleton, opposite the village of Haseldean. The track is surrounded by bush on both sides.

Mr. J. A. Smart, Deputy Minister of the Interior, occupied a berth in the sleeping car of the Toronto express, which was in the smash-up this morning. Mr. Smart told a reporter on his arrival in town that he was asleep when the collision occurred. "The shock woke me up," said Mr. Smart, "and I did not know at first what had happened. There was a sort of rumbling noise as if the Pullman were rolling over the ties. I jumped out of my berth, robed in my night dress, and rushed to what I thought was the front of the car, but came out upon the back platform. I could see no cars behind, and, therefore, concluded that our Pullman had been cut adrift from the other cars. In a moment, however, I realized the truth of the situation, there had been a collision. I then looked about and saw one of the worst wrecks I have ever looked upon. Both engines piled up on one side of the track were a shapeless mass. All the freight cars were likewise. Everything mixed up in confusion.

"Fleming was pinned under a pile of debris, and was crying out most pitifully. People told me that they could hear his yells a mile away. We then found Hastey, the brakeman of the freight train, pinned down under the tender of one of the engines. I approached and asked him if he were badly hurt. He told me yes, that he felt very sore. Larondeau, our engineer, could not be found. He was likely pinned down by his engine. Up to the time I left the scene his body had not been taken from under the wreck. We administered stimulants to those whom we saw injured, and helped to ease their pain as best we could. Fleming, the tramp, ceased his cries for a time, but shortly afterwards resumed them. He was next pulled out of the wreck, and was all covered with water, dirt and blood.

"What with the crying of the tramp, the groans of the injured, the appearance of the wrecked cars, the inextricable confusion of the whole affair, the sight presented was terrible."

Samuel Hastey, one of the men killed, was just jumping onto the car when the crash came. He was thrown some distance, and was found amongst the wreck of the engines, pinned to the ground with the wreckage. He lived in that condition for some time, but as soon as the weight was removed he bled profusely and died immediately afterwards. He lived long enough to tell how he was going to jump on the car.

Lyman Annable, the fireman of the engine which pulled the passenger train, is at his home to-day, resting. He states that his train arrived at Stittsville on time, and as a red light was out, they stopped there, thinking that some passenger wished to get on board. The red light was, in the meantime, removed, and the engineer thought the track was clear and started off at a forty mile an hour speed. Annable was keeping watch, but he could not see more than twenty feet ahead, as the light from the headlamp could not pierce the fog. The train had just entered the dip near Haseldean when he suddenly caught sight of a headlight only a short distance ahead. He yelled to Larondeau, the engineer, "there's a headlight!" and then jumped. He landed in the ditch, but he went rolling up against the fence and received a gash over the eye. He says the train was going at the rate of about forty miles an hour when the collision took place, but the freight train was so close to them when first sighted that nothing could be done to avoid the smash. Larondeau, when Annable yelled to him, leaned out of the window, and that was the last he saw of the engineer. He is positive that they did not receive any orders to wait at Stittsville for the freight train.

Robert Peden, the mail clerk, was picked up from the side of the mail car by Walter Booth, the baggageman. Peden was half unconscious, and lived only a few minutes. He groaned, and endeavored to speak. His body was taken to Stittsville until this morning at 11 o'clock, when it was brought up to the scene of the wreck in a baggage car, and shortly after 2 o'clock was brought to the city. Judging from the injuries Peden received, he must have been almost instantly killed. One of his legs is broken over the left temple is a dreadful mark, and also under the jaw he was struck with something heavy, the teeth in the upper part of the mouth were smashed, and blood was oozing from the mouth. He was dressed in a black suit and negligé shirt.

Drover Kearney met a horrible death. His body was found under one of the cars. A wheel lay on both legs, and he was completely hemmed in. After much difficulty the body was taken out and the pockets of his clothes examined. In the breast pocket was found a letter addressed to the deceased's brother in Minnesota, asking him for $24 to take him out there. A handsome gold watch and chain hung from the man's vest pocket, and some small change was found in his trousers' pocket.

CONGRATULATORY SPEECH

By Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson Demonstrated That the Grand Trunk Accounts Show a Surplus.

London, Oct. 14.—At the semi-annual meeting of the stockholders of the Grand Trunk Railroad of Canada the attendance was large and harmonious. Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, President of the road, congratulated the stockholders on the announcement that the accounts showed a surplus of $13,540. He said the prospects of the road were brighter than for four years past, adding that while the passenger traffic had greatly decreased, owing to the commercial depression, the revenue therefrom had declined but little because of the greater care taken in collecting tickets. The increased revenue, the President further explained, was due to reforms, the decreasing of the working expenses, improved management and the establishment of permanent economics in the operation of the road.

The agreement with the Chicago & Grand Trunk Railroad, Sir Charles remarked, was less unfavorable than the agreement of 1896. The same ratio of improvement was not expected for the coming six months, but, he added, Canada and the United States were undoubtedly entering upon a period of increasing prosperity.

Referring to clause 22 of the Dingley bill, the President said he was happy to announce that Attorney-General McKenna had declared it to be unconstitutional, thus removing a cause of friction. The President then expressed the hope that his proposal to the Central Vermont bondholders would be accepted and that a permanent alliance with the Wabash Railroad would be effected. The President praised the management of the Grand Trunk Railroad, and emphasized the importance of encouraging factories along the line.

Mr. Baker, a shareholder, attacked the Board of Directors, saying that they did not show any special qualifications for managing an American railroad. The condition of the Grand Trunk, Mr. Baker continued, was due to the reckless acquisition of subsidiary lines. He was surprised at the President presenting so incomplete a statement, and denounced the appointment of an American, Mr. Charles M. Hays, as general manager, as he claimed the management of American railroads was notoriously rotten.

President Wilson warmly praised Mr. Hays, saying the Grand Trunk had too few Americans in its employ, but, he continued, those the road had were a legion in themselves.

The report was adopted without opposition.

CHAMBERLAIN ON SIR CHARLES.

Did the Colonial Secretary Compliment the Ex-High Commissioner.

London, Oct. 14.—(Telegram Cable.)—In Canadian circles here considerable talk has arisen over a cablegram of a Montreal newspaper, in which Hon. Joseph Chamberlain was credited with making a complimentary reference to Sir Charles Tupper because he abstained from taking part in the jubilee festivities. Further reference was said to have been made by Mr. Chamberlain claiming enormous success for all schemes associated with Sir Charles Tupper's name. Well-informed people are disposed to doubt the accuracy of these remarks put in the mouth of Mr. Chamberlain, and refuse to believe that he ever made any such statements.

A meeting of the Vancouver, B.C., Exploration Company was held to-day. The chairman declared that the result of developments was not at all satisfactory. The first reports of the property, he said, had been exaggerated. Hope was expressed that the Galena farm property would pay. The report was finally adopted.

CASE OF W. H. PONTON

Detectives Greer and Wilkes Were on the Stand

BUT GAVE NO STARTLING EVIDENCE

One Pinkerton Thinks the Accused Was Not Fairly Treated Ponton, He Says, Should Have Been Asked for an Explanation of Slip of Paper—Racy Cross-Examination.

Napanee, Oct. 14.—The only witnesses examined to-day were Detective William Greer and Detective George Wilkes. This closes the detectives' testimony; but the prosecution will put witnesses on the stand to-morrow with a view to strengthening their case. The crowd was small in the morning, but it increased until the court room was full to overflowing before night.

The prisoner seemed in good spirits during the morning, but during the evening appeared gloomy, and his confinement as well as the trial is no doubt worrying him greatly. His mother goes to the jail to see him every night.

The only witnesses examined to-day were Detective William Greer and Detective George Wilkes, and Mr. Porter, for the defence, fired some very warm questions at the latter regarding the finding of the slip, and he replied indignantly.

Detective William Greer of the Ontario force took the stand first this morning and gave his testimony. He has been in the service 21 years and had been detailed on this case by the Attorney-General's Department. He arrived in Napanee on Sept. 6 and saw Green, Durand, Baines and Ponton. He examined the safe and corroborated other evidence as to the manner in which he found it. He had also interviewed Ponton regarding his whereabouts on the night of the robbery and had been told the same story.

Cross-examined by Mr. Porter, he was asked: "Have you yourself discovered any evidence in this case?"

"Nothing more than I have stated."

"Well, then, you have discovered very little or no evidence."

"Oh, there are a lot of little things to look after."

"Of course, but we won't go into those now."

The position of the vault and the appearance of the inner compartments were gone into fully during the examination. Witness said there were four screw holes, and, continuing, in answer to questions, said: "I would not swear that no one could go into the safe and pick up the combination, because I have never known a similar case and I do not know that it is possible. To open that safe it is my firm conviction that it is necessary to know the combination."

"In my search for evidence I found nothing to prove that Ponton had the combination of the inner safe. Having the key to one or both inner compartments would be absolutely useless without the combination, unless the safe was left open."

"Was there any one statement Ponton made to you that you have proved to be an untruth?"

"Leaving out Mrs. McGreer's statement, so far as I know Ponton told me the truth from start to finish."

Witness first heard of the impression of the key on the paper from Mr. Dougherty, who said Wilkes had found it in Ponton's bureau drawer. I asked him nothing further about it and he did not tell me.

"On Oct. 1, when Mr. Wilkes and I went over to Ponton's room regarding the money, we heard the drawer open and close—quite naturally—I should say I would swear it was a drawer.

"Mr. Ponton gave Wilkes the key, and after Greer had left Ponton he went back to the rooms, where he found Wilkes. A casual examination of the drawer was made, but nothing suspicious was found.

"I have never had the keys of the inner compartment of the safe, and don't know where they were kept in the bank.

"I found no bank deposit slips in Ponton's room, and know of none being found there, excepting the one of which Mr. Dougherty told me.

Detective Greer's testimony was completed in time for him to catch the noon train for Toronto.

The next witness called was George Wilkes, the Pinkerton man who has been associated with Assistant Chief Dougherty in the case. This is Mr. Wilkes' story as told to Mr. Madden: "I reside in New York and have been an employe of the Pinkerton National Detective Agency for more than four years, and I was detailed to the Napanee robbery on Sept. 4 and reached Sept. 6. I had some particulars of the robbery from Mr. Brock of Toronto and also some newspaper clippings. Witness then told of all the stories he got from all and sundry, and which have incidentally come out in other examinations. Of Mr. Ponton he said: "His habits were generally stated to be good, though his associates were not always of the best. The first time I examined Ponton's rooms or effects was on Sept. 24, with Mr. Dougherty. I recall Mr. Dougherty picking up a piece of wood. We next proceeded to the bedroom, which contained bedstead, washstand, bureau, table, a valise, a quantity of clothing and other articles. When I entered the room I proceeded to the washstand and Dougherty examined the clothing. I next examined the bed and afterwards the bureau. In the upper drawer I took out the contents and I picked the corner of a newspaper which had been placed in the drawer for lining. I saw under that newspaper what appeared to be a bank form, a printed form. I remarked to Mr. Dougherty that there was another of those bank forms, and I gave it a critical examination."

Here the witness was shown the bank slip with the impressions on it, and he continued:

"That is the bank slip just as I found it, excepting that the impressions do not seem to be so clear."

"Had you ever seen that document before that moment?" asked Mr. Madden.

"No, sir," replied Mr. Wilkes.

"Did you put it in the drawer?"

"No, sir. I would not be guilty of any such act as that."

"Had Mr. Dougherty been near the bureau before you were there?"

"No, sir."

The witness continued: "The only time I had been in the room before was when I interviewed Mr. Ponton. I had seen similar bank forms in the woodshed at the rear of premises. Dougherty asked:

"Dear Sirs:—I think it my duty to let you know what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I was suffering with severe headaches daily and also with catarrh. One day a paper was left at my house and in looking it over I read of your great medicine's value to my fellow sufferers. I reasoned that if it cured them, why would it not cure me, although I must own I had some doubts about it, as I

THE COMING OF MOODY.

The coming of Mr. D. L. Moody, the great evangelist of world-wide reputation is an incident of the first importance in the religious history of the town; and the Christian community is under a debt of gratitude in this regard to the Young Men's Christian Associations of Montreal and Peterborough, through whose influence and under whose auspices Mr. Moody will be in Peterborough on Wednesday and Thursday next, and remain till Friday morning. Elsewhere in this issue is to be found details respecting the meetings that Mr. Moody will hold.

Mr. Moody is a colossus among evangelists. His methods are not marred by unwholesome sensationalism. His style is simple, direct, free from cant, and he is a believer and a preacher of the gospel that will make a man, religiously honest, not merely cover him with an evanescent veneer of ostentatious piety which, like a vegetable parasite, strikes no deep root into the heart. Mr. Moody inculcates a religion of principle, not expediency, a religion that renews the heart in every portion. And this is as it should be; the religion the world needs is the genuine article that men and women put on with their every-day clothes, and carry with them as a guiding principle in all the actions of life—in business, pleasure, society and the church.

His coming visit does not derive its importance from the mere presence of a great evangelist, to whose credit a grand total of good work is placed, nor in the immediate results of his visit, but in the impetus to religious work and achievement which he will give. Christians workers, as well as others, are apt to drop into ruts, and it needs a strong hand like Moody's, to lift them out and direct their energies into practical courses of action. Any persons who can give any assistance in completing arrangements for the coming meetings are urged to be present at the meeting in the Y.M.C.A. Hall to-night at 8 o'clock.

NORWOOD'S FINE EXHIBITION

THE SPECIAL EXHIBITS THAT WERE TO BE SEEN.

Continuation of Yesterday's Report What was Worthy of Special Attention at the East Riding Exhibition.

Below will be found continued references to the special exhibits at Norwood on Wednesday, for which there was not space in yesterday's edition:

OAK HALL CLOTHING.

An advance guard of the Oak Hall clothing store of Peterborough had arrived in Norwood early in the day, and monopolised nearly all the local bill boards with their conspicuous placards and business announcements. Mr. W. J. Wattam, manager, was ubiquitous during the day, and was almost as well known a man on the grounds as if he had been one of the early settlers of East Peterborough. He was assiduous in his attentions to the interests of Oak Hall clothing, and busied himself during the day in enlarging the circle of his acquaintances with the urbanity of a politician on the eve of an election. Oak Hall customers can be picked out in every section of the county—from Apsley in the north to remote parts of Belmont and Asphodel. The Peterborough branch is sustaining and strengthening its record day by day, the business of this fall already leaving past records behind in increased sales. Every garment they sell has the name of the W. E. Sanford Manufacturing Company as a guarantee of being just what it is represented to be. The Peterborough Oak Hall have added underwear to their stock this season in order to meet the urgent demands of many of their customers.

WHYTE'S PLOUGHS.

The J. Whyte & Co., of the Ontario Foundry, Campbellford, exhibited a finely finished specimen of their general purpose ploughs, which was sold on the ground. These ploughs have been before the farmers of Peterborough for a number of years, and have taken prizes wherever shown. Their superiority has been permanently established and they are to-day just as popular and as much admired as ever. Farmers declared that they had not seen any ploughs at the big Toronto Fair so well got up as the one shown. The steel mould board was highly spoken of. It is tempered with a chemical which gives great durability and will stand any amount of hard work. This iron beam plough is made to do clean work in all kinds of land, and turns as fine a sod as any ploughman would wish to see.

GOUGHS' PALACE CAR.

Of the unshaken faith in the value of advertising, Gough Bros., the Wonderful Cheap Men, of Peterborough, furnish a splendid example. Every man and boy in this part of the land has heard of Gough Bros., and very many of them are walking advertisements for the firm. Gough's palace clothing car was the newest, most striking and novel advertising feature on the fair grounds this year. It was brilliant with colours and stood out so conspicuous that every visitor within half a mile of the grounds must have seen it. An artist's brush had effectively emblazoned the entire structure with attractive lettering in harmoniously blended colours, radiant with well executed shadings and designs. The car, after parading the streets of the village, was drawn on to the grounds and occupied a conspicuous position during the rest of the day. Gough Bros. have been positive benefactors in levelling the price of clothing. They are equipped to the hilt for the fall and winter of 1897. They are ever on the alert for bargains for their customers. When the big wholesalers want to find an outlet for their overproductions, Gough Bros. generally get the preference, at a fraction of its cost, and next week it will be found in their big store in the shape of snapping bargains in overcoats, suits, gentlemen's furnishings, hats caps, boots and shoes. In fact everything that the heart of man can desire or the body of man can wear, is found "always good at Goughs." The biggest stock of the best goods in Canada is the significance of the brilliant vehicle that majestically meanders among the multitudes that attend the fairs.

BUGGIES AND WAGGONS.

No exhibit on the grounds attracted more attention than the fine display of buggies and farm waggons shown by Messrs. Finlay & Sons, Norwood, manufacturers of the celebrated Sarven wheels, spokes, hubs and poles. The exhibit consisted of three buggies and three waggons, and occupied the central portion of the grounds. The buggies were built with Corning box bodies, so handy to get in and out. They were supplied with standard A wheels, full extension canopy tops, and full solid backs. Side gear was used on the highest draught rigs and end gears on the others, the workmanship on the wood and iron being well executed. All leather trimmings were used, in which the upholsterer had shown good taste and skill. Bellows backs and strong, well-stuffed cushion seats added comfort and luxury to the several turn-outs. The painting and finish were of a superior character and was much admired, two being in black and one in carmine and black, with silver-plated front rails and mountings. The three waggons shown were substantial types of the double box farm waggons, with high spring seats conveniently placed. Hubs, spokes and and general wood work were of that strong and durable character so essential for heavy loads, while the broad tires and heavy iron work was got up for practical wear and tear. They were finished in good strong colours, attractively striped in harmonising shades, and altogether well calculated to make the favourable impression which they did on the many farmers who inspected them during the fair. Messrs. Finlay & Son do an extensive trade in these vehicles, as well as in cutters and sleighs. The favourable figures at which they are able to sell gives them special advantages in this respect. Part of their exhibit was sold during the fair.

SULKY RIDING PLOUGH.

Perrin's new Sulky Riding Plough was another attraction which received favourable attention from the farmers. This new plough is automatically adjusted for any depth of ploughing and is workable on any land. It possesses many conveniences and improvements, being lighter in draught than any ordinary walking plough. Mr. Chas. C. McDonnell, of Peterborough, implement agent, exhibited this plough, along with the well known Chatham Fanning Mill. Any repairs required can be supplied by Mr. McDonnell. He made engagements with quite a number of farmers to make an exhibition of his Sulky Plough on their farms, previous to closing sales with them.

GRAFTON & CO'S CLOTHING EXHIBITION.

The energetic and pushing clothing manufacturers, Messrs. Grafton & Co., Peterborough, made another very attractive exhibit of their clothing at this Fair. The persistence shown by this firm in placing the claims of their hand-cut and tailor-made clothing before the people of this district is very commendable and must be productive of good results. There is scarcely a hole or corner of the East or West Riding and neighbouring counties where the name of Grafton & Co., has not been heard. At the Norwood Fair they were conspicuously the head and front of the ready-made clothing interests of the district. Mr. W. E. Conway, the pushing, gentlemanly local manager, was present with the gorgeous advertising van of the Peterborough firm, and their attractive tented display of clothing was admired by thousands. The numerous effective coloured placards announcing the merits of Grafton & Company's high class clothing were exposed on all the conspicuous vantage grounds of the fair. The varied styles of clothing for autumn and winter wear were fully represented. In men's wear their were blizzard-resisting overcoats and ulsters, suits in fashionable dress and cutaway sacks, walking coat suits, business suits and a great variety of trousers. In boys' and children's suits they are very strong.

The firm secured a front position as usual on the grounds. The arrangement of the exhibit was skilfully and tastefully executed, and reflected credit on Mr. Smith, whose work in this respect was complimented by good judges.

BIRDSALL & SON'S THOROUGHBRED STOCK.

Among the exhibits as a whole and in their respective classes none attracted more attention, and more deservedly, than those of the reliable breeds of high class stock of Messrs. Birdsall & Son. The success that has attended their efforts for the past quarter of a century to improve the stock of the district has been great and has been accomplished by honest, straightforward work. They have won a reputation for reliability, in respect of their stock, which is better than riches. This has been done by keeping the best stock of the kind which they breed, something that farmers wishing to improve their own herds and flocks could depend upon. Their splendid Jersey herd is headed by the celebrated bull brought from Mrs. Jones of Brockville—"Royal St. Lambert"—and he is indeed a royal animal and the farmer that selects him impresses upon his dairy herd the best points of the butter building Jersey and makes no mistake. The same applies to their thoroughbred Durham bull "Warden." The finest possible specimen of this magnificent general purpose breed. Their Shrops and Oxfordown sheep are also leaders in their class, and even in pigs, Birdsall & Sons' Chester Whites are leaders. In all departments of stock raising the farmer who wishes to improve his stock either by purchase or breeding can find with Messrs. Birdsall & Son, the best facilities in the district, and among the best in the province. There is no use going long distances abroad, when at their very doors farmers have the splendid opportunity of access to the varied lines of thoroughbred stock to be found in the Bellevue Stock Farm of Messrs. Birdsall & Son, Birdsall Post Office. It is best to patronise home industry when it is the best, and there is the opportunity of dealing with high principled men that are known and can be depended upon.

SIX MONTHS IN JAIL

Is the Sentence Imposed on W. A. Grenier

FOR LIBELLING THE HON. MR. TARTE

His Abettors Censured and He is Ordered to Find Bail to Keep the Peace—Judge Wurtele's Address—The Sentence Received in Silence—A Day's Clemency.

Montreal, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—W. A. Grenier, publisher of La Libre Parole, was sentenced to-day to six months in jail without hard labor for criminal libel on Hon. J. Israel Tarte. The first proceeding was an application by Mr. Cornellier for a further stay of sentence until the Attorney-General had refused or accorded permission to appeal from His Honor's decision of yesterday rejecting the motion for a reserved case.

Judge Wurtele's Address.

Judge Wurtele refused further delay, and then addressed the prisoner as follows: "You have been accused of having published a defamatory libel against Joseph Israel Tarte, and the jury, after a trial which has lasted six days, has found you guilty. The offence of which you are accused of a serious offence; it is an offence of the greatest gravity. You have published a libel against a Minister, against a public officer. Most of the accusations you brought were not proven to be true. The offence of which you are guilty is not only an offence against the individual, but it is an attack upon the honor of the country to accuse one of the public men of the country of being false to his trust. If the accusations you made were true the man you accused would no longer deserve the confidence of his fellow-citizens. The most serious accusation you brought against him was that of having introduced into the Department of Public Works the era of boodling. That was a grave accusation, an imputation against the honor of the public men of the country. If it had been proven to be founded, the effect would have been serious to the country. It would have been said of Canada that it was a country whose public men were guilty of malversation. The whole tone of the article indicates ill-will on your part, and vexation, and constitutes the gravest kind of libel. What showed the animus which inspired you was the manner in which you gave your evidence. If you had been an ordinary witness the court would have been obliged to condemn you summarily for contempt of court. But the case was your own case, and I did not desire to increase the difficulty of your position. That was the only reason why your behavior in the witness box was not punished as it should have been. The offence of which you have been found guilty has always been considered as one of the greatest gravity. On many occasions it has been punished with severity. In the course of your defence you have invoked the privilege of the liberty of the press. I hope that in a free country like ours this liberty of the press will always exist. This liberty constitutes one of the safeguards of public liberty. The liberty of the press contributes to the maintenance of public liberty. But this liberty of the press must not degenerate into license. Public journals must remember that they have a right to criticise public men only in so far as regards their public acts, and that they must not attack the men personally. Untrammelled discussion of public acts is permitted, but, beyond that, the liberty of the press is only license. With a newspaper or magazine more harm can be done than can be done by criminals brought before the courts of justice. Libel is worse than theft. The thief steals the purse; the libeller steals the man's good name, attacks his honor, tarnishes his reputation, destroys the happiness of his home, clouds the lives of his children.

Examples Quoted.

The courts decided once that a libel had been committed against an eminent public man, now dead, the Hon. Mr. Lafiamme. He was a Minister of the Crown at the time, and The Toronto Mail accused him of a certain offence, committing an atrocious libel against him. The Mail was condemned to pay ten thousand dollars' damages, not real damages, but punitive, or as a punishment for committing the libel. The penalty was thus severe because the libel had attacked the honor of a public man. At Quebec the Chief Justice at the time, the late Sir Antoine A. Dorion, presided at a trial similar to that just concluded. A man named Maguire had published a libel against the Hon. Francois Langelier, and the court condemned him to imprisonment for six months and a fine of $250. I mention these cases to show how the courts regard the offence of which you have been guilty. The article of our code which deals with your offence renders you liable to two years' imprisonment and a fine of $400 for your offence. The law also permits the Judge to take measures to prevent the guilty person from repeating his offence. The law permits the Judge to order that the guilty man give security to keep the peace; that is to say, to behave himself like an honorable man, and not break the peace by publishing any fresh libel.

His Abettors Censured.

Now, I do not desire to be severe, although I have no sympathy for you. I feel—I believe—that you have manifested a spirit of ill-will, vengeance and malice, but I believe that you were urged forward and encouraged by others, and that had you been left to yourself your better nature would have asserted itself in time, and you would not have committed the offence. I am convinced that you were encouraged in your evil disposition by others, who profited by your irritation to wreak their own vengeance and see insults hurled at a man whom they hated. But you have published the libel, and you cannot escape the consequences of your offence. You allowed yourself to be carried away by the irritation of the moment, and you cannot now be excused. I am not disposed to impose the maximum penalty. But it is necessary that I should make an example—a public example—that the people may see that it is not permitted to a man, to satisfy his malicious feelings, to satisfy his evil spirit, to hurl insults at a public man. I shall not, I say, impose the maximum penalty. I might impose a fine; but what would be the use? Those who have been the cause of your publishing this libel and of bringing you into the dock, where you are now standing, would pay the fine, and you would not have been punished. I must, therefore, sentence you to jail. I shall impose one-fourth of the maximum penalty. I condemn you to be imprisoned in the common jail for six months, without labor, and I order that, at the expiration of the term, before leaving jail, you find security to keep the peace for two years, yourself in five hundred dollars and two sureties in two hundred and fifty dollars each; and that, in default of finding security, you be imprisoned, according to the terms of the statute, for another year provided that you may be released at any time during that year at which you find the security."

Silence followed the rendering of the sentence. The Judge then ordered that a man should be detailed to accompany Grenier about during the day, so as to enable the condemned man to transact any private business he had on hand before his term of imprisonment commenced.

LUMBER REGULATIONS.

Premier Hardy in a Note Informs Col. Davidson That They Will be Considered Next Session.

Toronto, Oct. 14.—Premier Hardy has sent the following letter, dated Oct. 14, to Lieut.-Col. J. I. Davidson, chairman of the meeting of lumbermen held at the Board of Trade building on Oct. 6:

"My Dear Sir,—The Commissioner of Crown Lands has already acknowledged the receipt of the resolution passed at the meeting of lumbermen held in the rotunda of the Board of Trade building on October 6, and which was forwarded to him by Mr. Wills, the secretary of the Board of Trade. The Government have had under consideration for some time past the question to which the resolution relates, and in that connection the resolution of the earlier meeting, which was presented by Messrs. Waldie, Rathbun, Scott and Bertram. What I understand is that the majority on both meetings desired that a new regulation be passed by order in Council, which will require all pine timber cut upon Crown lands to be manufactured into boards, or other sawn lumber, or into square, waney or board timber, in Canada; and that this regulation shall apply to timber cut upon all limits, including those which were originally sold by the Crown without the imposition of that condition. The proposition is a very large one, and the suggested course is not free from legal complications. It is learned that the lumbermen of the western part of the province are almost unanimously in favor of the proposition, while some of the larger operators and some of those who do not operate so largely in the eastern part of the province are adverse to it.

"It has been urged upon the Government in opposition to the resolutions that the adoption of such a regulation would affect very seriously large timber interests held by both Canadians and Americans, and that individual holders would suffer serious loss; and it is represented that the aggregate depreciation in value could only be approximately estimated.

"The question, therefore, as I have already intimated, assumed very large proportions, and is, the Government cannot but feel, too weighty and momentous to be dealt with simply by order in Council without publicity and in the privacy of the Council chamber, and the more so as the intent of the resolution is that the regulation shall apply to the timber on all limits without reference to the length of time which has elapsed since the latter were sold by the Crown, or to the prices at which they have since been purchased.

"After very full consideration we are of opinion that the question is one of such gravity and importance as regards both public interests and private rights, that instead of dealing with it by order in Council, the Legislature at the approaching session should be asked by the Government to enact such legislation as the public interests may require and the exigencies of the situation may appear to demand, in which case the whole question may be fully and openly discussed before definite action is reached.

"The Legislature will doubtless meet early enough to enable any necessary measure to be passed before the time arrives for the issue of the licenses for the next license year."

WHEN DOCTORS FAILED.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, as Usual, Worked a Cure.

STRATFORD, Oct. 11.—There are few people in this city who do not know Mrs. R. Roberts, Downie street. She has been an invalid for some years, and her case awakened the sympathy of her neighbours, who were confident there was no cure for her. Judge of their surprise and delight on hearing what Mrs. Roberts tells thus: "I have been afflicted during three years with kidney disease. Have used doctors' medicines but could not get cured. I have used five boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am now cured. You may publish this if you choose." This is a short statement, but it tells a great deal.

Toronto Testimony Comes Home to Toronto People.

Here is what Mrs. Robt. Mitchell 78 Huron St. says, "Three years ago I had rheumatism, since then I have had serious heart troubles, my physician said caused by the former attack of rheumatism.

My heart was so badly affected that I could not go upstairs or walk a short distance without experiencing violent palpitation, sometimes so badly that I could hardly breathe.

Sleep was almost impossible to obtain on account of the smothering nervous feeling which affected me. Frequently I was so bad that I could not lie down, or even sit down on account of my heart and the shortness of breath.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have changed these distressing and alarming symptoms. They have strengthened the muscles of my heart so that it now performs its duties in a natural way. I can now walk about without inconvenience, and sleep naturally and well.

Exertion does not affect me or cause my heart to beat unnaturally as before, and I am a great deal stronger and better than I have been for a long time. They have done me a world of good, and I heartily recommend them." 137

SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC

Robson Brown, of Valetta, July 28th, 1891, says:—

"I am sorry under the circumstances to write to you, but I feel it my duty, as I have been troubled with Dyspepsia for years, took dollars' worth of medicine and pills, but got no relief till I commenced taking your Sloan's Indian Tonic. I think I have taken 8 or 10 bottles in all, and I feel as if I have got a new lease of life, I feel so much better. I was in the habit of keeping a bottle in the house so when costive I would take a dose or two with instant relief. Now I am troubled with costive spells very often, and it was the only medicine that gave me instant relief. It seems as if I have lost my best friend. Now I would like to hear from you by return mail, as I would like to have a bottle as soon as possible.

Mrs. H. Palmer, of Ridgetown, Ont., says: I was afflicted for a number of years with Erysipelas and Neuralgia in my face, and one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me entirely, and I would recommend it to others, either for Erysipelas or Neuralgia.

Mrs. Henry Hale, of Blenheim, Ont., says: Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me of Malarial Fever and Chills and Neuralgia. When I was down sick in bed I purchased a bottle of the Tonic and it cured me entirely, and I have not been troubled with Fever or Neuralgia since.

OPENING SERVICES IN ALL SAINTS'.

SUCCESSFUL HIGH TEA AND ILLUSTARTED LECTURE.

Culmination of the Services in Connection With the Dedication and Opening of All Saints' Church.

The larders of the ladies connected with All Saints' church must be exceptionally well supplied as the heavy call which was exercised on them for two hours and a half last evening would have caused a famine in any ordinary pantry.

It was the occasion of the first high tea in connection with the new church, and the interest which the South Ward people are taking in the work was evidenced by the exceedingly large attendance.

From half past five until eight o'clock the pretty waitresses, selected of the congregation, were kept busy supplying the wants of those present and a chair at a table was never vacant longer than the time necessary for an exchange of occupants to take place.

The menu was excellent, there being quality as well as quantity. There was plenty of cold fowl and meats, as well as hot vegetables, and the salads deserve a special paragraph to praise, they were so appetising. The pastry was also above criticism.

The ladies of the new All Saints are certainly workers, and if they throw the same energy into all their undertakings in connection with the church as they did into the preparation of last evening's tea success is bound to attend their every effort.

The tea was served in the large, airy basement, and afterwards an entertainment took place in the body of the church.

Miss Lily Jackson opened the programme with a solo, "The City of Rest," which she sang very prettily, being accompanied on the piano by Miss Daisy Jackson.

Rev. H. Symonds, of St. Luke's, then gave his lecture on the "Reformation in the English Church," being particularly interesting to those owning allegiance to that creed. He traced the church from its inception in England in the first and second centuries after Christ to the present day, laying particular stress on the incidents relative to the translation of the Bible, the introduction of the Book of Common Prayer, and the destruction of the Spanish Armada as being epochs in its history.

Mr. Symonds has a number of interesting stereopticon views with which his lecture is illustrated, as he advances, and these were thrown on the canvas last evening by Mr. R. M. Roy.

Both Rev. Mr. Symonds and Mr. Roy were heartily thanked by Rev. Mr. Armitage at the close of the entertainment, and as a fitting close to the lecture the congregation sang, "The Church's one Foundation."

MOODY'S OPINION OF HIS OWN WORK.

A Characteristic Anecdote of the Evangelist.

It is related of D. L. Moody, the great evangelist, that on a return visit to a town where he had previously laboured, he was walking through the streets with a citizen, when a man in an advanced stage of intoxication and presenting a sadly dissipated appearance was met. On the matter being mentioned the citizen said:

"That's one of your converts, Mr. Moody."

"Very likely," was the prompt reply, "it looks just like work I would do. If he had been one of the Lord's converts it would have been different."

This brief reply contains volumes and is characteristic of the great evangelist, whom the people of Peterborough will have the pleasure of hearing on Wednesday, Oct. 20th, at 3.30, in the George street Methodist church, and in the evening at the same place; and the day following in the afternoon at 3.30 and in the evening at 7.30, in St. Paul's Presbyterian church.

These two churches are selected because they have the largest seating capacity and will come the nearest—which will not be very near—to accommodating the multitudes that will throng these churches.

POLICE COURT.

A Tenant Charged With Taking Boards From his Shed for Firewood.

Charles Munden, who has charge of the R. T. Kerr estate, was the complainant against one of his tenants to-day in the police court, charging him with wilful destruction of property.

Munden stated his belief that the defendant had removed a number of boards from the shed of the adjoining property, also belonging to the Kerr estate, and had also taken a number from his own shed to use as firewood.

Defendant testified that the boards were gone from the shed of the property which he rented himself when he went there, and that he knew nothing whatever of those which had disappeared from his neighbor's premises.

The case has been enlarged until to-morrow. Mr. J. Williams Bennet appeared for the complainant.

Parcels may be sent to W. W. Johnston's store, George street, to Mr. Bennett's residence, No. 309 Park street, or to the sexton of St. Paul's church. Both express companies have offered to forward all contributions free of charge.

WEDDED IN TORONTO.

Nuptials of Miss Mary E. Smart, of Toronto, and Mr. Geo. Gobeen, of Town.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated on Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Smart, 328 Euclid avenue, Toronto, when their daughter, Mary E., and Mr. Geo. Gobeen, of Peterborough, were united in the bonds of matrimony by the Rev. S. Bates, of College street Baptist church.

The bride was dressed in a cream silk muslin, with lace and ribbon, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses.

Her sister, Miss Maggie Smart, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Alf. Plummer, formerly of Peterborough, supported the groom.

After the ceremony the guests, numbering about sixty, sat down to a sumptuous breakfast. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents, among which there was a set of cutlery from the members of the College street Baptist choir, of which Miss Smart was soloist for a number of years.

LOST IN THE WOODS.

A Peterborough Young Man Missing at Wahnipitae.

A despatch from Wahnipitae, [Algoma District, states that a young man named O'Brien, a blacksmith in one of the lumber camps in that vicinity, had gone hunting on Sunday, Oct. 3rd, and had not since been heard of.

When he failed to return it was at first thought he had strayed to one of the other camps in the district, but as time went on it was learned that he had not been seen.

There is no apparent reason why he should leave the country, as he was not in trouble of any kind, and his employers owe him money, hence his friends fear that he met with an accident in the depths of the forest by the premature discharge or bursting of his gun. Search parties have been out, but no trace of the missing man could be found.

[William O'Brien, the young man mentioned, hails from Ashburnham, being a son of Mr. Edward O'Brien, Stewart street. He will be remembered as having been connected with the Peterborough baseball club as catcher for several years. His friends here are very anxious as to his whereabouts.

BIG BLAZE AT HARWOOD.

A FIRE LAST NIGHT DOES $11,000 DAMAGE.

Phoenix Hotel, Harstone's General Store and Bell Telephone Offices Destroyed.

Special to the Examiner.

Harwood, Oct. 15.—A disastrous fire took place last night about eleven o'clock in the village of Harwood, situated on Rice Lake.

The fire originated in the Phoenix Hotel sheds and quickly spread to the hotel, completely destroying that building with its contents.

From the hotel the fire swept to Wm. Harstone's general store and dwelling making a complete wreck of both. The Bell Telephone office and post office were situated in Harstone's store, but nothing was saved except the mail bags.

Mr. Cross who occupied Mr. Harstone's residence lost all his furniture. Mr. Harstone's loss on building and contents is $5,000, partly covered by insurance. Mr. Cross' loss is $1,000. Mr. Johnston's loss on hotel, sheds and contents is about $5,000, partly covered by insurance.

FIRE IN NORTH MONAGHAN.

House, Barns and Stables Destroyed on Mrs Hook's Farm.

A rumour was prevalent on the street this morning to the effect that the house, barns and stables on the farm on the 10th line of North Monaghan, occupied by James Trotter, and owned by Mrs. Hook, of town, had been totally destroyed by fire last night, the family barely escaping with their lives.

It is said there was no insurance on the buildings or contents.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheeling and Other Items of Local and General Interest.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

The Toronto World contains the following items of local interest: When asked yesterday, Adolphe Letellier, late of Queen's, said that Principal Grant's decision, refusing to allow outsiders to play with Queen's, would likely bar Slater, Low, Hunter and perhaps Guy Curtis. ....Letellier, who played full back for Queen's II in '94 and '95, and half back for the Granites last season, is in town and should be looked after by some of the teams. He is a fast half, a sure kick and tackler....Vic. McWilliams, who played half for Osgoode II at Kingston, will likely be promoted to the senior ranks.

PROBABILITIES—Fine and cooler.

DECISION.

Joel 3:14.

(Suggested by Rev. A. T. Dykeman's prayer.)

In the valley of Decision,
There are multitudes to-day;
May they see in clearest vision
Him who is the Living Way.

While we join in interceding,
In their hearts Thy work begin;
Now regard our earnest pleading,
And convince them of their sin.

Show them Him who by His dying,
Did for all their sin atone;
May they each be found relying
On His sacrifice alone.

Now the word of life receiving,
May they once, for all decide;
In the risen Lord believing,
May they in His love abide.

Banish all delusive dreaming,
Set them from sin's bondage free;
May Thy light in splendor streaming
Lead each heart to trust in Thee.

Make Thy children true and willing,
For the wandering ones to care;
With Thy love our spirits filling,
All thy truth through us declare.

MOODY! MOODY! MOODY!

THE GREAT EVANGELIST'S VISIT A CERTAINTY.

Positive Assurance That D. L. Moody, the Great Evangelist, Will be Here Next Wednesday and Thursday.

As announce in these columns yesterday Mr. Moody's visit to Peterborough is now a settled fact. He will arrive at 4 10, via C. P. R. from Kingston on Wednesday next and remain until Friday morning. Mr. Williamson, the general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., under which auspices the great evangelist comes, received a letter from Mr. D. A. Budge, the secretary in Montreal:

MONTREAL, Oct. 12th.

DEAR MR. WILLIAMSON—I have yours of October 11th in reference to Mr. Moody. I have fixed the dates for Peterborough for 20th and 21st. I hope you will have good meetings. Especially secure the attendance of business men. You ought to announce it in all the outlying towns. Try and plan this if you can.

Yours respectfully,
D. A. BUDGE.

According to the present arrangements four meetings will be held:

On Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 20th, at 3.30, and in the evening at 7.30, in the George street church.

On Thursday afternoon at 3 30, in St. Paul's church, and a meeting at 7.30 for men only in the same place.

Arrangements will be made for overflow meetings.

A meeting of the committee of arrangements will be held to complete the same this evening in the Y.M.C.A. parlours at 8 o'clock.

Any citizens who can assist the committee are invited to attend the meeting.

The secretary has received word from Lindsay that a special train would come from that place on one of the days of Mr. Moody's visit.

LUMBERING ON VANCOUVER ISLAND, B. C.

M. M. Boyd & Co. of Bobcaygeon, Own a Big Limit—How the Work is Prosecuted.

Mr. Wm. Creswell, M. M. Boyd & Co's trusted lumbering foreman, returned yesterday from Vancouver Island, British Columbia, whither he went in June last to take charge of a large camp operating in the firm's extensive limit on the island. The limit, supposed to contain over 300,000,000 feet of fir timber was acquired some years ago, together with a saw mill capable of cutting 100,000 feet of lumber per day, but the latter was not operated this summer, as the firm were under contract to take out about 10,000,000 feet of logs for another firm. Lumbering in that country is not prosecuted in accordance with north country methods. To begin with, the fir timber is all cut during the summer months, during what is known as the "peeling" season—beginning early in May and lasting till about the middle of August. The reason is that all board timber must be peeled as it falls, and after the date mentioned the sap dries and axes must be used to strip the bark, necessitating much extra labour, in fact eight men would hardly be able to accomplish the task done easily by two at the proper season. Winter operations are confined to getting out timber for piles, which are never denuded of the bark.

The fir trees are of great size, many of them containing 6,000 feet board measure, and towering 120 feet in height. Roads ten and twelve feet wide are cut into the limit as operations progress, and round logs are bedded into the earth about eight feet apart. When a tree has been cut down it is at once sawn into sections of the required length, the bark is removed, and by means of a block and tackle affixed to near-by forest monarchs, the huge logs are drawn to the road by a "team" of six or eight horses. Being newly peeled the logs slide easily over the skids set in the road bed, and if trouble is experienced, grease is applied with a liberal hand.

Mr. Wm. Gidley, for many years superintendent of M. M. Boyd's mill at Bobcaygeon, is now in charge of the firm's interests at Cowitchan, as their limit is called, and it is likely that next season the firm will get out a large quantity of timber to be cut at their mill.

The company have not sufficient cars to accommodate the present great rush of freight, and hold-over privileges are being curtailed all along the line.

The quantity of stock shipped weekly from the north country is exciting the wonder of our local shippers, and bears out the claim that Haliburton county is fitted to be a great grazing district. Nine carloads arrived here this morning—two from Haliburton, two from I. B. & O. R. R. points, one from Kinmount, one from Gelert, and three from Fenelon Falls.

A Mother's Story—Her little Girl Cured of Croup.

Having tried your medicine, my faith is very high in its powers of curing Cough and Croup. My little girl has been subject to the Croup for a long time, and I found nothing to cure it until I gave Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine, which I cannot speak too highly of.

HOW HE CONQUERED.

How He Knew the Only Vulnerable Spot in the Modern Woman.

It was the woman who spoke first.

"It is as well," she said, "that we understand each other."

The man shrugged his shoulders with an awkward attempt at indifference. It was plain that a crisis was at hand.

"Go on," he said.

The woman at his side remained thoughtful for some time, her mind at work collecting all the evidence in the past that was against him. At length she broke the silence, now becoming painful.

"Not long after we were married," she said, "it became apparent to me that you, in common with the majority of men, assumed that you had united yourself to an inferior being. You loved me, but it was the love of the strong for the weak. I was the creature whose sole happiness rested upon your favor, who was dependent alike upon your patrimony and the whims and fancies that might sway you. At that time I was blind to my natural rights and accepted your love in the same spirit in which it was given. It happens, however, that a new light has come to me."

The man visibly shuddered.

"Yes," she continued, "I am no longer a pliable weed in your hands, compelled to take with cringing the paltry allowance you bestow, accepting meekly your criticisms on the conduct of the household, going where you bid me and obeying all your dictates. I am now a being fully equal to yourself, an individual power side by side with you, with resources of my own, acknowledging no master, taking what is my bounden right without question and doing my own part in my own way."

Her husband, true man as he was, listened to the end. Then proudly, triumphantly, with all the power which comes to those who are sure of themselves, he said haughtily:

"Very well, madam. After this you will clean your own wheel."

Fifteen minutes later a tearful, sobbing woman was clinging to a hard, immovable man, as with a voice of contrition she exclaimed:

"Darling, forgive me. I knew not what I said."

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or a woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a great discourager of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what bad breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. There is no case of biliousness, indigestion, "heartburn," or any of the rest of the nightmare breeding brood that these little "Pellets" will not cure.

Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

"Unaccountable" Fires.

As is well known, a frequent source of "unaccountable" fires turns out to be, in reality, the spontaneous ignition of various materials more or less saturated with oils or fats. The following is considered a reliable list of common materials of the class which, when containing oily matters, will, under favorable conditions, oftentimes ignite naturally: waste, tow, rags, sawdust, shavings, cotton and woollen cloth, roofing felt, and, in fact, all porous combustible bodies containing an oily or resinous substance having an affinity for oxygen. All vegetable and animal oils have more or less affinity for oxygen, while those produced from the distillation of petroleum and shale are practically unacted upon by the element; but the oils which oxidize in the air most rapidly are the vegetable oils, such as linseed, hempseed, poppy oil, etc. Briefly, by far the most frequent sources of fires from spontaneous combustion are those which result from heat induced by the absorption of atmospheric oxygen.

Riveting With Compressed Air.

In regard to riveting with compressed air, the master mechanic of the Santa Fe road is quoted as saying that by the use in the Santa Fe shops of a stationary riveting machine three men are enabled to drive 2000 rivets per day of ten hours at a cost of $4.75, as compared with 200 rivets per day at a cost of $7 by hand labor; the truck riveters—the machine being operated by two laborers at a total cost of $3 per day—drive 3000 rivets, as compared with 175 rivets driven by hand labor by three men in a day at a cost of $6, while the staybolt breaker makes an average daily saving of $10. Further, the mud-ring riveters will drive as many rivets as can be handed to them and will make a saving of $12 to $15 a day for that class of work. Not only is this method credited with the great saving named, but is declared to insure every rivet hole being filled entirely and insures tight work, while of hand-driven rivets in mud-rings a large percentage invariably leak.

Pain in the Back.

Mr. M. P. Halpin, Brockville, Ont., makes a statement as follows: "For two years I suffered from kidney trouble, causing severe pain across my back, dizziness, headache, sleeplessness, etc. I had often to lean on the counter when serving a customer, so intense was the pain in my back. On taking Doan's Kidney Pills I improved from the very first, and now after using three boxes am all right; all my pains, aches and dizziness having disappeared, thanks to Doan's Pills."

A GREAT INCREASE.

In the Railroad Business During the Year 1896-6 Over That of the Former Year.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The ninth statistical report of the Inter-State Commerce Commission for the year ended June 30, 1896, contains the following data concerning the railroads of the United States:

The total railway mileage on June 30 1896, was 182,776, an increase of 2113 for the year.

An interesting feature of the report is a summary showing the amount of compensation paid to the railway employes of the United States, who aggregated 886,200. Their aggregate compensation amounted to over 60 per cent. of the total operating expenses of all railways.

Passengers carried during the year numbered 511,772,737, an increase of over 4,000,000 compared with the previous year. Freight tonnage amounted to 765,891,385, the largest ever reported for railways in this country, and an increase of nearly 70,000,000. Gross earnings amounted to $1,150,103,375, an increase of nearly $75,000,000. Nearly 1900 employes were killed and almost 30,000 injured during the year. One hundred and eighty-one passengers were killed and nearly 3000 injured. The number of persons "other than employes and passengers" killed was 4406 and those injured 5845.

SIR WILFRID'S LATEST.

The Premier Will Undertake a History of the Hudson Bay Company—British Trade With Canada.

London, Oct. 13.—(Montreal Star Cable.)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has undertaken a work of the highest historic interest. The Canadian Premier has arranged with a leading firm of London publishers to write a history of the Hudson Bay Company. It will be based on information from the archives of the company, which, with their state secrets of 250 years, have been carefully guarded from the public eye. Mr. Beckles Wilson will be associated with the Canadian Premier in this work.

Baroness Macdonald of Earnscliffe has written an article on the career of the late Sir John A. Macdonald, her distinguished husband for the November Pall Mall Magazine.

The British exports to Canada declined £12,000, or 4 per cent., in September, and £368,000, or 13 per cent. in the nine months ending with September, as compared with the same period last year. In the item of railroad iron alone the decrease in the British exports fell £120,000 in the nine months. British exports to all countries declined 7½ and 2½ per cent. respectively in September and the nine months ending with it as compared with 1896. Imports from Canada increased £585,000 or 32 per cent. September, and £2,141,000 or 24 per cent., in the nine months ending with September.

Henry George Says He Will be Mayor.

New York, Oct. 13.—In an interview regarding what he proposed to do if elected Mayor of Greater New York, Henry George to-day said:

"My stand here for local election is based almost entirely on national issues, and I think much of my strength comes from that very attitude. In fact my grounds for believing that I will be elected are to a great extent based on that very fact."

The Boring is to Begin.

Belleville, Oct. 13.—Mr. E. C. Rosenzi, manager of the Canadian-American Natural Gas & Oil Company, who intends to bore for oil in this vicinity, has arrived. He is very confident that they will be successful, and says operations will be commenced within a few weeks.

Why He Married.

In the North of England, where rabbit coursing is most in vogue, swift, well-trained dogs often win large sums in prizes. It is therefore little to be wondered at that the owners of these animals should bestow so much attention on them.

An old Yorkshire collier, well known for his success in the coursing field, recently surprised all his mates by marrying a very unprepossessing pauper woman. He had always been reckoned a confirmed hater of the other sex.

"Why has ta gone an got spliced, lad, at thy age?" one of his friends asked him.

"Oh, that's not much of a tale," answered the old man, stolidly. "I agree wi' ye 'at Betsy yonder is no beauty—if she had been I shouldn't have wed her. But that there dog o' mine he was simply pinin' for somebody to look after him while I was away at t' pit. I couldn't bare to leave him in the house by hissen, so I hit on the idea o' marryin' Betsy. She's not handsome, but she's mighty good company for the dog!"

Baby Beauty.

You always think of a pretty baby as plump and chubby. Scott's Emulsion gives just this plumpness; not too fat, just enough for dimples to come. Babies like it, too.

Terrible Canning Factory Accident.

Picton, Ont., Oct. 13.—A scalding accident occurred in W. Boulter & Sons' canning factory about 5 o'clock this evening. Harry Wilson, a lad about 16 years old, was working with others in the bathroom, when one of the cookers in which pumpkin was being cooked exploded, or the door of the cooker was forced open by the pressure of steam with such force that young Wilson was blown 25 or 30 feet against a door, breaking through it. All the upper part of the body is badly scalded.

Hon. G. W. Ross Predicts Victory.

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—Hon. Geo. W. Ross, Minister of Education was in the city to-day and paid a flying visit to the Normal School. Speaking to a reporter he expressed the utmost satisfaction with the political prospects in Ontario. The Hardy Government is very popular in the country, and he has not met with any of those Liberals who were being reported as being desirous of a change. Mr. Ross is of the opinion that the Government will carry the Province with a considerably larger majority than at the last election.

Out Into the Darkness.

What mother would turn her young daughter out alone unprotected into the stormy night? Yet many loving mothers allow their daughters, who are just coming into the time of womanhood, to proceed without proper care and advice all unprotected and alone into the perils of this critical period.

Young women at this time often suffer from irregularity and weakness which may afterwards develop into dangerous disease and fill their whole lives with wretchedness.

It is a mother's duty not to pass over such matters in silence, but to promote her daughter's womanly health and regularity by every reasonable means.

These delicate ailments are easily overcome in their early stages by judicious self-treatment without any need of the obnoxious examinations which doctors uniformly insist upon. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive specific for all diseases of the feminine organism.

It restores perfect health and regularity to the special functions, and vital vigor to the nerve-centres. It is the only medicine of its kind devised for this one purpose by an educated, experienced physician.

During nearly 30 years as chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce has acquired an enviable reputation. His medicines are everywhere recognized as standard remedies. His "Golden Medical Discovery" alternated with the "Favorite Prescription" constitutes a thorough and scientific course of treatment for weak and impoverished conditions of the blood.

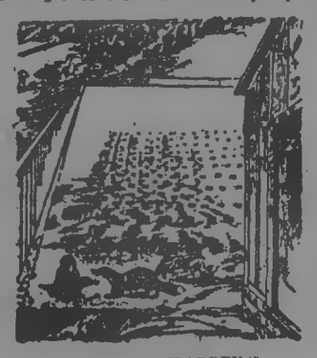
A headache is a symptom of constipation. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, promptly and permanently. They do not gripe. Druggists sell them.

HOW TO FARM SKUNKS

THERE'S MONEY IN THE ODORIFEROUS LITTLE ANIMALS.

Dr. Galen Wilson Describes His Visit to an Eight Acre Skunk Farm—An Illustration Which Gives the Inquirer Pointers.

There has been much said in the papers about skunk farming, and a considerable interest has been aroused, especially among the boys, to know what one looks like, and how it is conducted. As a good black pelt brings from $1.50 to $2, I never, in recent years, saw a bright farm boy who did not have from one to half a dozen steel traps, and was watching opportunities, in the season of them, to entrap the odoriferous animals for the money they could get for the pelts. Seeing there was money in skunks, men in various parts of the country have undertaken to raise them on a large scale, but with what financial results could not be learned, as the manager of the one visited by myself.



A SKUNK "WARREN."

an artist and a few friends, was reticient on the subject. The illustration shows how the "warren" is constructed. A ditch three feet deep is dug around it and filled with stones and grout so the animals cannot dig out. Upon this is built a tight board fence six feet high, with a six-inch capboard extending inward so they cannot climb over. The building partly shown is the feed and cookhouse. It stands on a wall two feet high, that the animals may not run in at the door. There are apertures in the wall so they can go beneath the floor. The enclosure represented embraces eight acres, and the number of skunks within it is about two thousand. The burrows are made by digging trenches into the side hill about eight feet, and the ascent of the hill is so steep that the bottom of the back end of the trench is three feet under ground when the trench is filled. Three boards eight feet long are nailed together, placed in the trench, and then the earth is returned. The animals dig further in, make their own nests, and generally arrange their own internal affairs for "housekeeping." They must be provided with dried grass or leaves for bedding. Running water is a necessity in the warren. The feed is refuse meat and bones from the butchers, and bran, middlings and cornmeal, all cooked. The meat must be free from taint. Unlike other "farm stock," they require very little feed in winter, as they hibernate during cold weather. Skunks to start with are obtained by catching them in box traps. They breed twice a year, and have on an average as many young at a litter as rabbits have.

Contrary to expectation, there was not a scent of the animals about the premises. They are as tame as house kittens, but in stepping about among them one is a little nervous, fearing what might happen should an animal be stepped upon. They are handled by grasping the tail. In that position they cannot emit their scent. The only enemy skunks are apt to suffer from when in a warren is owls. Both are night prowlers. If trees are near, owls sometimes perch upon them and watch chances to sweep down upon and carry off a young skunk. When the animals are to be slaughtered, they are caught by the tail, placed in a tight box and chloroformed. Skunk's oil is a considerable article of commerce. The fat is "tried out," and sold to wholesale druggists.—Dr. Galen Wilson, in Practical Farmer.

Scientific Farming

The day of the happy-go-lucky farmer is gone, says The San Francisco Chronicle. There is no use trying. He cannot make it. If he will not change his methods he may as well be down and die easy and have it over with. The struggle of the old-fashioned farmer to live upon modern conditions is like the struggle of a man dying of dropsy. He is in constant agony for breath until he can breathe no more. There are now many farmers who have thrown off the ancient traditions and have learned to know the facts before they act. If they are dairymen they know what their milk costs them, and if it is costing too much they find where the loss is. If they are stockmen they know how to feed all that their stock can digest, and no more, and they do it. If they are wine-makers they understand what happens in wine fermentation and so control conditions that the right thing happens. If they are orchardists they so understand the structure of plants and the functions of their organs that they can detect the approach of disease in time to protect from its ravages. In short, whatever branch of agriculture is adopted they understand the essential facts underlying it, so far as they are understood by any one. The more they know the more they distrust their own knowledge, and the more anxious they are to learn.

It is such men as these who are able to produce goods cheapest, and they are running their old-fashioned competitors out of business. They are making a little something even now, and hereafter the farming business, like that of all other lines, will be controlled by those who know how to make first-class goods by the cheapest methods. Many farmers who will not learn are out of debt. They can live, doubtless, although probably gradually reducing their capital, but the old-fashioned farmer who is in debt and will not learn is gone. Like a fish on the bank, he may flop for a time, but gradually it is harder work, and pretty soon he lies still.

Hens' Nests of Poultry Fencing.

Did you ever try making nests from bits of poultry fence netting? They may be shaped from ends left of the fencing by bending, and holding in place with wire, and nailed to the wall, either in the chicken house, or in sheltered places outside, by staples such as fence is made with. They are so easily cleaned, are inexpensive, durable and practically vermin proof. That reminds us that "moth balls," which can be procured at any drug store as a preventive of moth, are said to be equally good for driving away lice and mites from the poultry house. Some of our friends have tried them and pronounce them a complete success. Three or four balls placed in each nest and, presto! lice and mites are gone, and stay gone.

YOUNG LAMONT'S CASE.

Neighbours Much Interested in the Story—Everyone Thought That the Youngster Would Die, but he's Very Much Alive Now.

DUNDALK, Oct. 4.—Hugh Lamont, of McIntyre, has a young son who is an object of interest throughout this whole section of country. From infancy the boy had dropsy, and was bloated and swollen all over. It seemed to the parents that death could be the only release to one attacked so young by this disease. They heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and began giving them to the child. With the first box the bloating and swelling began to disappear. Six boxes effected a perfect cure and the boy is now just as healthy a youngster as stirs up the dust on the high roads of Western Ontario.

Bits of Natural History.

The fly lays four times each summer, and 80 eggs each time.

A bumble bee has been known to distance a locomotive going 20 miles an hour.

Female spiders are much larger and more ferocious than the males, and often devour their husbands.

A female queen ant is always attended by one or more servants to carry off her eggs, of which she lays from 5000 to 10,000 a year.

Along the coast of Florida and Georgia the musical notes of what the old fishermen call the "singing shad" are often heard. They differ from the common shad in being smaller and also in the formation of their mouths. Their singing is pleasant at first, but soon grows monotonous, owing to the fact that it is a constant repetition of the same sounds.

Facts for Farmers.

Flax is very exhaustive to the soil.

Insure your buildings against cyclones.

Shallow cultivation of corn should be the rule.

Drainage will greatly increase the value of wet ground.

Roots cannot penetrate a subsoil that is as hard as a stone.

The silo will enable the farmer to keep more cows profitably.

In sections where cyclones are likely, a storm cave shows wisdom.

Spare the harrow in the early stages of corn growth and spoil the crop.

The hired man should be a gentleman among the children in the home.

We do not like the barbed wire fence and would not have one while other fencing can be had.

When the surface bakes after a rain, a light harrow should be used, whether the crop is up or not.

Eighty acres, intensively cultivated, are better than 100 acres under the too often loose system of farming.—Western Plowman.

Practise Economy

In buying medicine as in other matters. It is economy to get Hood's Sarsaparilla because there is more medicinal value in Hood's Sarsaparilla than in any other. Every bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla contains 100 doses and will average, taken according to directions, to last a month, while others last but a fortnight.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Easy and yet efficient.

Away Down East

From east to west people have heart trouble. This causes violent headaches, neuralgia, nerve trouble and prostration. Says Mrs. Somers, of Moncton, N. B.: "I tried many remedies but never found anything to give me such prompt relief as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done. I suffered from the above symptoms, but now gladly testify to the cure these wonderful pills have made in my case, and I hope all sufferers will try them."

To remove worms of all kinds from children or adults, Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is a safe and sure remedy.

A DOMESTIC IDYL.

"Now wake me up at 6 o'clock,"
Said he, on going to bed;
"To-morrow is my busy day,
"And I'll get up," he said.

His patient wife, who previously
Experiments had tried,
Said nothing—only looked at him
And softly, sadly sighed.

The night passed on, the morning came,
At six she said, "My own,
"It's six o'clock. You know you said—"
He grunted, "Lemme 'lone."

At seven she gently tried again,
But once again without
The slightest semblance of success—
He only snapped "Get out!"

At eight her courage almost failed,
And turned to wholesome dread.
For as she spoke she had to dodge
A boot flung at her head.

Again she came at nine o'clock,
But gave up trying then;
And he whose busy day it was
Got up at half past ten.

Then came the tide of bitterness
That overflowed her cup;
For he remarked, "What! half past ten?
Why didn't you wake me up!"

ON A JOURNEY THROUGHOUT CANADA.

Seeing Something of the Country's Growth and the Progress of its Railway Systems—A Complimentary Reference to Peterborough.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Away back in the seventies I had seen something of Canada's rising commercial and agricultural prospects, but even at that early date many parts of the Dominion were regarded as mere unfrequented districts or barren wastes, where human enterprise had not entered or the husbandman's ploughshare penetrated the virgin soil. This backward condition of things was necessarily due to the lack of railways in those days, for the thrifty descendants of the hardy pioneer settlers were always noted for their diligence and sturdy perseverance in agricultural and other pursuits, but they did not have the needed facilities or means of transportation at their command. The ordinary four-wheeled vehicle or ox team could and did help industrious farmers to break new ground and convert portions of wild forest land into prosperous homesteads, but it required the whistle of the locomotive to fire men's minds with new ideas of enterprise and progress, or the determination to "get up and get." To be sure, we had then the grand old pioneer Grand Trunk Railway, which rendered splendid service in opening up the new country from Norton Mills, the boundry line in the east, to Sarnia in the west, and throughout the other districts traversed in days more remote; but we had no Canadian Pacific Railway then to cover the vast territories that lie between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. But to-day the Dominion prides itself in the possession of that great road which is only in the vigour of its youth, and yet has already done so much in carrying new commercial life in various centres in the older provinces of Quebec, Ontario and Nova Scotia, while it has created and social life in British Columbia, Manitoba and in the Northwest Territories, and this rising tide of trade and commerce in these new lands is only in the beginning of its career, for less than two decades ago there was nothing but unknown prairie wastes where abundant wheat fields are seen to-day, producing untold millions of bushels of the best quality of grain and supplying food-material for millions of people beyond the confines of the country itself. In this present sketch, however, the vast possibilities of the new regions, opened out and fed by the great railway corporation named above, can only be barely touched upon as we have just set out upon our journey and intend to take a close look at the condition of business in the towns and cities of Ontario and Quebec as we go along.

NEW STREAMS OF HUMAN INDUSTRY

And while we confine our remarks to-day to the status of the thriving town of Peterborough, a little latter we may have something to say of the progress and growth of the Capital itself, and then of the large metropolitan centres of mercantile activity, for the right gauge of a nation's wealth and prosperity should be determined by the state of commerce and industry as they may be found in that country's headquarters and commercial metropoles. But a description of this stirring Ontario municipality is the work of the present hour, and to give due detail of the prominent features of the town one needs to take time to give proper consideration to their solid character, because this place has all the equipment, both as regards population and material wealth, to entitle it to city rank. It has, in its George street, a leading business thoroughfare in which any city in Canada might well take pride, and in its residential streets and splendid suburbs it has a variety of cosy homes which tell of the good taste and wealth of its citizens. Some of the dwellings we saw were and nowhere did we discern any symptome of neglect or decay in the residential part of the town, and this of itself is clear evidence that the people are imbued with a spirit of thrift and hopefulness; because a prosperous community loves neatness, good order and cleanliness. The place is well stocked with manufacturing industries, which keep the poorer classes pretty well employed all the year round. The Edison Electric Works and electric railway, are acquisitions of rather recent date, but they contribute to the circulation of money and the support of wage earners.

A stranger viewing Peterborough for the first time is much impressed by the substantial appearance of its public buildings, which no doubt have been constructed with an eye to the future enlargement of the town. The several banks, the Custom House and Post Office are fine structures, and well adapted to their purposes. In educational matters things are in an advanced state. The Public Schools are spacious, and are conducted with great order and efficiency, and the large Roman Catholic element of the citizens have Separate Schools of a high order under the tutelary guidance of Mr. Kehoe, and the supervision of the Rt. Rev. Dr. O'Connor, and more immediately cared for by the official duty of Ven. Archdeacon Casey, one of the Reverend Fathers of the Cathedral staff.

In the matter of churches this place is as well off as any community of ten thousand people can ever hope to be, for the different creeds are fittingly represented here, and the moral status of the inhabitants generally, will make favourable comparison with that of any other town in the Province. The religious prestige of Peterborough is strengthened by the fact that the town is the episcopal seat of the Right Rev. R. A. O'Connor, D. D., third bishop of the diocese of the same name. The esteemed prelate is a man of peace and a propogator of harmony, and it is recognized that his presence here has had a strong tendency to sweeten the religious and social relations of the whole community. Mgr. O'Connor has acquired fine church property and splendid episcopal residence, and his cathedral congregation numbers at least three thousand souls. Some years ago a large Catholic Hospital was established in the adjoining village of Ashburnham, and this refuge of charity is conducted by the sisters of St. Joseph under the direct management of Rev. Mother Vincent. According to its capacity this is a veritable house of shelter for the aged and afflicted of all creeds, for it is founded upon the broad principle of true charity, and can exclude no sufferer from its doors so long as the hand of affliction is upon them. It differs in this respect from its sister institution, the Nicholls Hospital, which, in obedience to the will of its benefactress, the late Mrs. Nicholls, only gives relief to sufferers of the Protestant denomination.* In this sphere it does a great amount of good, as the waifs of society and the helpless ones of God's poor have to be cared for.

Broadly viewed by the impartial eye of a visitor this healthy and energetic town is a desirable place to live in. It is quite up-to-date in all its bearings and unquestionably has a bright future before it. In its own internal commercial vitality it has the means and force to go ahead; and from the rich agricultural country around it can be drawn immense resources for further development and upbuilding. The early looked for upon which large sums have already been spent, will prove a commercial boon to the town and district. The business men are of course deeply interested in the work and will press it forward with their accustomed energy and tact and with such men as Hon. Senator George A. Cox to press their claims the progressive Government at Ottawa will give attentive ear to the project. In its geographical aspect the town is well situated, having a fertile district all around it, combined with a landscape and varied scenery that impart a feeling of enchantment to the eye and senses of the visitor. We don't know if the citizens themselves appreciate their natural advantages to the full measure, but to the vision of the stranger nature has proferred them gifts which ought to be valued at their true worth. In ration to its communication with the outside world, Peterborough has adequate railway facilities, for besides the Grand Trunk lines that pour their streams of trade in to it, there is the Canadian Pacific running through it on its direct course between Toronto and Montreal, giving it outlet and business intercourse with these two great cities.

After a few pleasant and profitable visiting days, we reluctantly took leave of this charming town, hoping at some future day to see it again.

WM. ELLISON.

*Mr. Ellison has received the erroneous popular impression in regard to the Nicholls Hospital, which we are glad to be able to remove. As a matter of fact Roman Catholics have been admitted, and are still eligible for admission as patients to the Nicholls Hospital. One of the conditions of Mrs. Nicholls bequest, however, is that the management of the institution and the medical staff must be exclusively Protestant.—ED. EXAMINER.

CASE OF W. H. PONTON.

Is there anything on it?" At first of all answered 'No,' but a few seconds later I said yes, there were impressions of a key on it.

"We afterwards went to Mr. Dougherty's room, and found that the key of the lower department, or a similar key, had made the impressions on that paper. I first saw the key on the bank premises on the occasion of my visit to the bank on Sept. 6. The key was then on the ledgerkeeper's desk, directly in front of the vault door. I should observe from this key that it was from a similar key the impression was made I was in the rooms again Sept. 28 with Inspector Greer for the purpose of making a further examination of the premises."

The cross-examination opened warmly, and was very interesting throughout. Wilkes made a good witness, but once or twice became disturbed. Mr. Porter opened the ball by asking if it did not take very little to satisfy the witness that the tramps had nothing to do with it, while it did not take much to make believe Ponton did it. Mr. Wilkes said he was sorry to have to procure evidence against a young man of good character and standing. He had absolutely no evidence against the tramps, whereas he was satisfied that the crime was committed by someone inside, and, after hearing Mrs. McGregor's statement, he suspected Ponton.

Continuing, Mr. Wilkes said, in answer to questions: "I imparted to Dugherty my conclusion that the robbery had been perpetrated inside the bank. I had been here ten days then working upon that conclusion and other possibilities, and during that time I had interviewed people and had made a casual examination.

"Ponton granted any request I made willingly. He answered questions frankly. I cannot say he answered one question untruthfully. I have found his reputation was good, and I should judge it was above the average of most young men. There is a great deal of criticism regarding some of his associates."

Speaking of the combination written on the calendar, and found in Baines' office, Mr. Porter asked: "Did you examine the manager's office?"

"I simply made a casual examination on every occasion I entered the office. It occurred to me that the combination had been written down, and I told Baines, who said he had never written it."

"Without any knowledge of what impression of what key that was, you went directly to Mr. Baines and asked for the exact key?" significantly remarked Mr. Burns.

"Yes," continued the witness, "and it was quite natural we should do so, suspecting Ponton. When I found the slip it made me more suspicious of him. It was my opinion that the paper and impressions should have been shown to Ponton. I should like to have heard his explanation. That would have been fair play.

"How do you make impressions of keys on paper?" asked Mr. Porter.

"By putting a piece of paper over the key and rubbing it. I tried to make a similar one with a hammer first, just out of simple curiosity. Dougherty suggested rubbing it with my thumb and I did so with success. I never tried to make an impression of a key that way before."

"You have never found evidence against Ponton when anyone else saw you find it?"

"That slip is the only piece of evidence I have found against him."

"You will admit that you could have put the paper in the drawer had you have been so disposed?" said Mr. Porter.

"I suppose I could, but I was not so disposed," hotly remarked the detective, and he most indignantly said that he would have no object whatever.

"No purpose for doing such a thing?"

"I have no ill-feeling against the young man," he said. "I present what I find and nothing more. If the paper had not been there it would not have been produced in this court. I am not here to make insinuations as you have been doing for the last hour."

The examination was concluded at 7 o'clock, and after the evidence of the witness had been read to him an adjournment was made till to-morrow morning.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars. —G. WALTER GREEN, P. O. box 361; Telephone, 92.

"THREE CHEERS FOR CANADA."

Montreal Capitalists and Bankers are Tendering for a Large Slice of the New Canadian Loan.

Montreal, Oct. 14. — (Special.) — "Three cheers for Canada!" This is what the capitalists of Lombard street will say to-morrow when the opening of tenders for the new ten-million, Canadian loan will reveal the fact that tenders for fully one-third of the whole will be from Montreal. It was noticed all day that excitement reigned around the Bank of Montreal and other monetary centres of this city, and investigation proved that Mayor Wilson Smith, the Bank of Montreal and several other institutions had clubbed together and cabled a tender for over $3,000,000 of the Dominion's 50-year 2½ per cent. loan. Whether the Canadian Finance Minister allots a portion of the loan to the commercial metropolis of Canada a few hours will tell, but the fact remains that Canada has enterprising capitalists and men who have confidence in their country.

PRINTERS' STRIKE IN BUFFALO.

Hand Compositors on The Express Walked Out—Courier-Record Men Working.

Buffalo, N.Y., Oct. 14.—The hand compositors in the different newspaper offices in this city recently presented a new scale to all newspapers in Buffalo, which would increase the wages paid to these men about $1 per day. Conferences have been held without result and to-night an ultimatum was presented. The proprietors of The Express refused to grant the increase and all of the hands employed in the composing room walked out. The Courier-Record management promised to grant the increase and their men are at work. The Express will appear as usual in the morning, the management says. What action is to be taken by the evening papers is not yet known.

W. H. Ponton on the Witness Stand at Napanee,

MAKES SPECIAL AND GENERAL DENIAL

Of the Robbery Itself, and of the Slip of Paper Which Carried the Key Impressions The Magistrate Thinks the Prosecution Has Made Out a Prima Facie Case.

Napanee, Oct.—Yesterday W. H. Ponton was on the stand, but he did not prove a star witness for himself. The most telling news of the day is that the Magistrate thinks a prima facie case has been made out. The case goes on to-day.

At the conclusion of Mr. Baines' evidence Magistrate Daly called upon the prisoner, William H. Ponton, to make a statement if he so wished, according to the statute.

Mr. Porter arose and submitted that no case whatever had been made against Ponton which would be sufficient to put the prisoner on his trial, for the case narrowed down to three or four points. First, the evidence of Mrs. McGreer, as to noises in prisoner's rooms on the night of the robbery; the discrepancy in his own cash account; the finding of key impressions on a paper in Ponton's room. It was Mr. Porter's contention that this evidence was of mere suspicion, and not of guilt.

Mr. Deroche, on behalf of the prosecution, maintained that the evidence put in called for an answer from the prisoner. He cited the case as so far made out by the Crown.

Mr. Porter made a strong appeal on his client's behalf. He was a poor man and was for that reason singled out.

When Mr. Porter had finished some of the women in court were wiping away their tears.

Magistrate Daly said he was not trying the case. The prisoner had deprived him of that by his election. He was there to decide if a prima facie case had been made out. The accused might put in a defence, he was bound to hear it, but he was not in a position to balance the evidence. The Crown may have only put in a small portion of their evidence, and if the accused made an explanation he would not be in a position to balance the evidence.

Some argument followed this, Crown Attorney Warner eventually pointing out that in such a case as this the prisoner could put in a defence by explanation, but not by contradiction.

The magistrate said he would hear the explanation if the defence desired to make it, and the accused would have the benefit of it if he chose to change his mind. Mr. Porter thanked the magistrate, and called upon his client to testify.

David M. Young, a safemaker, employed by J. & J. Taylor, has been at the business 23 years and he said his firm had manufactured the safe and the vault door. He described how the locks and material of the safe and vault door were made. On the day after the robbery, he came down to Napanee to open the vault and safe and found that the last number of the combination had been changed. This had been done by inserting the key on the inner part of the lock and turning it to the left. There is no other way in which that can be done.

If the combination had not been given you that evening, how could you have got in? asked Mr. Madden.

By cutting open.

Is that the only way to your knowledge?

It is.

Cross-examined by Mr. Porter: Would you go so far as to say it can't be done, or that you think it can't be done? asked Mr. Porter.

I'll go as far as to say that it is impossible for it to be done, emphatically declared the witness. The keys to the combination were in most cases kept at the bottom of the safe. It was just a straight key with a wing on.

When Mr. Young was shown the impression of the keys he said he had been shown the same slip by Detective Dougherty in Queen's Hotel, Toronto, a couple of weeks ago, and it may have been with a view to influencing his evidence.

At the conclusion of Mr. Young's evidence an announcement came as a surprise: "That's the case for the Crown, Your Worship," said Mr. Madden, at exactly 3 o'clock.

"Do you wish to put in any evidence, Mr. Porter?" asked the magistrate.

"I would like to ask Mr Baines one or two questions," was the reply, and Mr. Baines was sent for.

E. H. Baines, the manager of the bank, being called, was asked some questions by Mr. Porter regarding the slip of paper picked up in Mrs. McGreer's kitchen next to Ponton's rooms.

To Mr. Madden witness said the slip of paper was similar to the specification of letters cash for Aug. 26, the day before the robbery and that he could see no special object in making it out at all, as there was a book for the purpose.

William Hamilton Ponton took the stand and was handed the slip of paper, which was picked up in Mrs. McGreer's kitchen. He said: "I have seen that slip before, I guess, and I evidently made it out at some time. It is a specification slip that I made every night when balancing my cash and it shows the amount on hand in the evening. The figures 19 and 1 indicate what cash I had in the safe on the day that they were made out. The other figures go to indicate what I had in my cash box at 3 p.m. I used one every night and those figures were not put there for any other purpose. If there was any difference in my cash I usually carried the slip in my vest pocket over night and in the morning after I had used it, it would be thrown in the waste-paper basket. I did not leave this slip of paper in Mrs. McGreer's kitchen and I had no opportunity to do so.

"On the night of the burglary I was at the Paisley House to tea; I crossed over to the Dominion Bank, where I lit the gas jet in front of the vault, which burns all night. I then went to the Merchants' Bank and met Fred Smith, the junior clerk. I went from there to the Campbell House, where I met Sam McCoy. We went up to the Dominion Bank to hear the band playing in the square. I next went to the Paisley House. I waited until a few minutes after the band had stopped. I went from the Paisley House to the Merchants' Bank and met Messrs. Coates and Smith and others. We chatted till Smith got tired and went home. I walked down with Mr. Coates to the stone railway bridge. I talked to him a while and came back to the Tichborne House, where I saw Rowland Hawley and Night-watchman Perry. We went up to the Paisley House and talked for a short time. Then I got a jug of water and went to my rooms. This was between 11.30 and 12. I told Detective Hodgins in our first interview that it was 12 o'clock. There was no one in my room when I arrived there, and the place had not been disturbed. I lit a lamp and went right to bed. The windows of my room were up.

"I did not leave the premises until 8 o'clock next morning. There was no person or persons, either male or female, or of any kind or description in my room. I made no noise that I know of. There was no pushing or moving or stirring around in my room. I left it at 8 a.m. or a little after. I have heard Mrs. McGreer's evidence, and it is not possible the noise or noises could have been in my room. There were only two keys to it. I had one, the other was at the hotel. I came to Napanee last November. From the time I arrived I have spent no money except my own money. I had some money I had saved from my salary and an accident insurance policy which I held. At one time I had almost $100 saved, but I used some of it in Toronto. When I came to Napanee I had, as near as I can recollect, in the neighborhood of $80. I had saved the money for the particular purpose of buying a bicycle in Toronto, but did not purchase there. I arranged with Normile to get a wheel some time in the spring, and I did not use the money saved for it after I came down here. My salary was quite sufficient for living purposes.

"I incurred some little debts, very few These we have heard spoken of in evidence. I incurred the debts while I had the money in my pocketbook. The idea was to get a wheel, and I made an arrangement with Normile in accordance with that. I eventually paid the debts partly with my salary and partly with the money I had attempted to save. I paid these debts all within a small space of time, because I saw I could not save the money and pay on the bicycle too without putting off my debts indefinitely. My mother had requested me to pay the money I owed to Ritchie for my clothes. The cheques have been put in as evidence. My object was to keep the cheque as a receipt. When the cheques came in I took them up with my own money. There was nothing in that contrary to the ordinary mode of procedure in the bank. I was first interviewed by a detective on the Monday after the robbery, and from that time till my arrest I was interviewed a great many times. On two or three occasions I was interviewed regarding my finances. The detectives have stated that I possibly denied having sent money. I told them I did not remember having sent for the money. I never denied it. The statements I made to the detectives were, to the best of my memory, true. I told the detectives I had saved up the money, but I do not remember them asking me where I kept it. I didn't tell them. I offered to give Mr. Dougherty a statement if allowed to see the bank books, but I was never requested to do so as far as I could remember. I answered regarding my finances. Dougherty said I would probably bring the statement out all right and I said I certainly would. When I was asked about my finances I thought it was an impertinence, and for that reason I did not make a full disclosure. I had no other object in withholding the information.

Here Ponton was shown the paper with the key impressions on it. He looked at it intently and said:

"I never saw that paper until it was brought into court."

This caused a round of applause. "Order, or the court will be cleared," said Chief Adams. "This is not a concert, it's a court of justice."

Did you put those impressions on either of them upon that paper? asked Mr. Porter.

No sir, I did not.

Have you any knowledge from any source by whom, when and how they were put on there?

I have not.

Did you ever put that piece of paper with those impressions on it in your bureau drawer?

Indeed I did not.

Have you any knowledge of how this burglary occurred?

Most certainly not.

Was it committed by you?

Most certainly not.

By your connivance?

No.

Was it aided by you in any way whatever?

Certainly not.

Mr. Madden here took up the cross-examination:

Did you ever get a letter containing the words, "don't be afraid of arrest, trial, warrant or anything of that kind from Frank Jackson?

Witness said he did not, but he had had letters from him.

What did you do with these letters?

Oh, I don't know; I don't remember getting a letter from Jackson for a long time.

Ponton could not say how long. Jackson's address is now Bucas Del Foyo, Republica de Columbia, South America.

What business is Jackson in?

I don't know. Some kind of fruit business. He followed no business in Canada. When he came to Toronto he was talking of getting a secretaryship, and trained for a cross-country run.

The witness repeatedly contradicted himself and got badly mixed up.

His cross-examination was a severe disappointment to many of those in court. Mr. Madden was unable to make much out of him, and the case will go on again to-morrow.

THE LION AND THE EAGLE.

At a Detroit Dinner Statesmen Counsel Peace and Say Our Diplomats Win.

Detroit, Oct. 15.—Many prominent citizens and members of the bar tendered a complimentary dinner to the Hon. D. M. Dickinson, senior counsel for the United States in the Behring Sea arbitration, at the Detroit Club last night.

On the menu card the Union Jack and the American flag met over a bunch of seals on cakes of ice, and the first article on the menu was "Canada Behring" with Canadian Club cocktails. Mr. Dickinson made mention of some of the points for which he had contended in his recent argument before the Behring Sea Commission, and in closing his address referred to the lack of diplomatic talent in the United States.

"This country has never made a treaty of arbitration with Great Britain," he declared, "in which we have not been beaten by diplomacy before the Court of Arbitration ever met."

Among the speakers was Edwin F. Conely, who counseled peace with Great Britain as long as possible, and deplored the fact that the American system of Government made necessary the turning out of [illegible] officials just when they were beginning to know their business.

A SPLIT IN THE PARTY

Will, in Lord Londonderry's Opinion, Happen to the British Conservatives Unless There Is a Change.

London, Oct. 15.—At the conference of the Northern Union of Conservative Associations at Berwick-on-Tweed to-day, Lord Londonderry tendered his resignation of the presidency of the Union. His reasons were set forth in a letter to the Executive Committee, in the course of which he said:

"The principles of true Conservatism have been cast to the winds by our leaders in passing the Workmen's Compensation bill. Among Conservatives throughout the North of England the feeling is one of bitter disappointment and disaffection at the conduct of those leaders. If unallayed it will lead to a serious split in the party. It is due, I am convinced, to a subordination of Conservative principles to the dominating will of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, whose radical views on home politics Conservatives have always disapproved, however much they may have admired him as an Imperialist.

"In these circumstances the committee will understand my reluctance to continue as President of a Union nominally Conservative but which, unless it puts a check upon the action of our leaders in allowing Mr. Chamberlain so free a hand in home legislation, is virtually an organization for the promotion of radical measures."

Lord Londonderry's position and definition of policy were unanimously endorsed by the Union and he was re-elected its President.

Liberal Papers Jubilant.

London, Oct. 16.—The Times says: "It would be in the highest degree imprudent to ignore the incident. Without doubt the revolt represents a considerable body of Unionist opinion."

The Standard sorrowfully reproaches Lord Londonderry for "his dangerous attitude."

The Liberal organs are jubilant. The Daily News says: "As Mr. Chamberlain is not the man to bow before a storm, we may expect lively times. Liberals can only wish more power to the elbows of both combatants."

AMBITIOUS CITY MAN KILLED.

Struck in the Back by a Train Near Longwood Station.

Mount Brydges, Ont., Oct. 15.—Seewest of this station. By papers found on him he is supposed to be Mr. William M. Leishman, brother of Mr. J. F. Leishman of the Hamilton Gas Light Company, Hamilton. The last seen of him alive was on Wednesday night, when he asked a Mr. Grigg, who lives between Longwood and here, for a night's lodging, and was referred to authorities here. It is supposed he was struck by some train while walking along the track towards the village. His death resulted from a blow on the back.

SEAL EXPERTS WILL MEET.

According to Salisbury's Proposal—Threat That U. S. Will Exterminate Seals.

London, Oct. 15.—The British Foreign Office to-day intimated to United States Ambassador Hay that a meeting of sealing experts of Great Britain, Canada and the United States will occur, as agreed upon by the Marquis of Salisbury. Prof. Darcy Thompson, the seal expert of the British Foreign Office, will start for the United States immediately.

The Review of Reviews says that Editor W. T. Stead, while in Washington recently, discovered that unless the sealing question is speedily settled the U. S. Government will order the destruction next season of the entire herd of the Pribyloff Islands.

That Glandered Horse

Montreal, Oct. 14.—A Star cable from London says: The Canadian horse suspected of glanders was landed from the steamship Kildona at Tilbury on Sept. 9. It is believed that the shipper was R. S. Marlon. The horse was bought by Luke Cox of Chiswick on Sept. 14. This party last Friday reported glanders. Dr. Hunting, a veterinary expert, was at once deputed by the Canadian Government to investigate the matter. A post mortem was made on Tuesday. Dr. Hunting reports that the infection is so recent that he is almost certain that the animal was not diseased when landed. He believes that the time of infection is well within three weeks. The Board of Agriculture have taken no action as yet.

Nervous Prostration

Sick Headache and Dizziness—All Cured.

Little Girl Has Grown Plump and Rosy Since Taking Hood's.

Nervous mothers and sickly children endure a vast proportion of the suffering which is caused by impure and impoverished blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives relief by purifying and enriching the blood. Read this statement:

"I was bothered with sick headaches and dizziness. I also had nervous prostration and weakness in my stomach, which made me feel very ill indeed. I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, which was highly recommended by many, and by the time I had taken four bottles I was in perfect health. About a year ago my little girl, then six years old, had bronchitis and chicken pox. We were told that her was the careful treatment she might receive at the hospital. We took her there and for eight days they had no hope of her recovery, but later she had a change for the better. Her sickness, however, left her very delicate and weak, and she did not grow any for a year. It was then I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla, inasmuch as I had used it for myself and found it such a good medicine for building up a constitution. She had not taken two bottles before she had improved wonderfully. She has grown rosy and plump and is quite herself again. I have great faith in Hood's." MRS. M. ONTARIO TIMBER INTERESTS.

The note of Premier Hardy published in yesterday's issue respecting the Government's relation to the timber question demonstrates the difficulties that surround the matter. It is plainly not one that can be dealt with at a moment's notice. It requires very careful deliberation and any action to be in the best interests of the province must be based upon a careful consideration of all the facts and circumstances involved and all the interests concerned.

If action is taken precipitately and unadvisedly, we incur the danger of the United States bringing into effect the duty of $4 per thousand upon lumber, a danger, however, which the most carefully matured scheme will not remove. It is the plain duty of the Government to protect our interests and if in this process our neighbours feel themselves provoked to unneighbourly reprisal, such a consequence must be borne with the best grace possible. Our timber interests are important and we are responsible for their protection. We must see that Canadians get the full benefits of the operations of our lumbering industries. The United States are not consulting their own interests in their attitude towards Canadian lumber. We must look out for our own interests, which clearly lie, subject to existing contracts, soon to expire, (for faith must be kept,) in securing from our timber resources the largest possible revenue for the benefit of the people, and giving the greatest possible employment to Canadian labour.

OUR DIVORCE RECORD.

During the thirty years of Confederation the Parliament of Canada has granted only 57 divorces. In four provinces—Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, British Columbia and Prince Edward Island—divorces are obtained by judicial process. In three of these provinces—there being no returns from Prince Edward Island—the number of divorces in the last 30 years was 187. Thus in proportion to population, and taking the actual figures the rate of divorces to population was eight times greater in the provinces where the courts attended to the removal of the galling bonds of the matrimonial state. This goes to show that the greater the facilities for procuring divorce the more easily will mis-mated husbands and wives find it impossible to share the same house. The more rigidly the sacredness of the integrity of the matrimonial tie is maintained the better for the morals of the country and the safety of society. We can stand a good deal when we are compelled to do so, and many a husband and wife who apply for and obtain divorces, if the latter were more difficult to procure, would exercise enough mutual forbearance to permit of their living in comparative harmony—if they tried hard enough.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The cigarette never gets above the level of the dime novel; it is always bound in paper.

Puff velvet crowns for ladies' hats are becoming the vogue. It is a natural consequence that the same fashion will not apply to husbands' and fathers' purses.

In 1893 the total wheat crop of Manitoba was five and a half million bushels. The heaviest crop was harvested in 1895, thirty-one and three quarter million bushels.

Sir Charles Tupper can now sympathise with Sir Mackenzie. The latter had his heart skinned by the kicks of kickers in his cabinet, and now Sir Charles' turn has come. Mr. Whitney repudiates him.

Mr. St. John is the father of the Ontario hog, but a Mr. Mickel of Tweed, is a step farther. The saintly critic simply denounces the solitary denizen of the piggery as afflicted with choleraic proclivities. Mr. Mickel at Mr. Whitney's meeting at Tweed called the Ontario Cabinet hogs, and said they had built a home for themselves on the Humber. This is really alarming. When an obscure country place like Tweed develops such lofty statemanship, as Mr. Mickel displays, the Opposition becomes positively dangerous.

As an evidence of the increased interest that the people in this Province are taking in good roads, the St. Thomas Journal remarks that, it is worthy of mention that Mr. A. W. Campbell, provincial instructor in road making, has received more than fifty application from rural municipalities asking him to inspect each of the several districts, and report upon the best way of improving the highways. A remarkable fact in connection with the movement is that close upon $50,000 has been spent in road-making machinery throughout the province during the year. There is every prospect that before long the whole Province will be provided with passable thoroughfares.

The promptitude with which the Ontario Government has sent Mr. Archi. Blue, director of mines, to the Michipicoten gold fields, is an evidence of the deep and practical interest taken by the Government in protecting the interests of the province and of miners in that new Eldorado. The director of the bureau has opened an office and will see that justice is done to prospectors. Arrangements have been made to put a stop to the "blanketting" of claims by providing that those who had applied for claims covering forty acres will be compelled to restake on the smaller area of twenty acres. This of course will give rise to the discontent among Americans, who got into the country ahead of the general rush and blanketted as much country as possible. No claim jumping will be allowed. Licensed prospectors are to have no advantage over the unlicensed priority of discovery only counts. The indications are that this region is very rich in gold and the government is to be highly commended for so promptly giving fair and honest direction to mining and prospecting operations and seeing that fair play, as opposed to grabbing, is exercised.

Two Agonizing Diseases

Quickly Banished by Paine's Celery Compound.

Two Thankful Letters that Should be Read by Suffering Men and Women.

For the effectual banishment of rheumatism, sciatica and neuralgia, Paine's Celery Compound is without doubt the best medicine that human science has ever produced. This marvellous remedy, devised by Professor Edward Phelps, M.D., one of the ablest physicians that ever lived, has won the hearty praise of millions of people for the wondrous cures it has wrought in all lands. It is only a medicine with such a record of cures that can attain a world-wide reputation. It has saved men, women and children, many of whom had been up by the doctors. It does its work quickly and well; it eradicates every trace of disease; it builds up, fortifies and makes active every mortal whose limbs have been crippled and deformed by rheumatism, and drives away the terrors of neuralgia.

To-day the ablest doctors are freely prescribing Paine's Celery Compound for tortured, rheumatic and neuralgic people. The thankful letters received each year from the cured in every section of Canada would, if published in book form, make a large and interesting volume.

The following letters will surely inspire all rheumatic and neuralgic sufferers with a new and lively hope of a better and happier life. Mrs. F. McMann, of Thorold, Ont., says:

"I think it my duty to let you know what Paine's Celery Compound has done for my husband. For two years he suffered very much with rheumatism in the back, and became so bad that he could not bend, stoop, or sit in a chair at table, and I was obliged to take his meals to him while he lay in bed. He was treated by various physicians, but received no benefit until he used Paine's Celery Compound. The first bottle gave him relief, and after he had used six bottles he was quite free from the rheumatism. He was troubled with piles for fourteen years, and found great relief from the Compound. He says he feels like a new man just now. We think there is no medicine like Paine's Celery Compound."

Mrs. A. Acheson, of Montreal, says:

"Two years ago I suffered intensely from neuralgia in the head, face and shoulders. I was in a terrible condition, and often so tortured that I could not rest or sleep. I became very weak and feeble, had giddy and faint spells, and often could not attempt to go out on the street. My appetite became poor and digestion very weak. At night, while in bed, I often had oppressive and smothering feelings; my whole nervous system was run down and very weak.

"I had been under the care of a medical man and used various medicines, but no relief came to me from these sources. I fortunately heard of your Paine's Celery Compound; I decided to give it a trial, and I bless the day I commenced with it. I used it for several months, and now feel as well as I ever did. All my pains have been banished, I sleep and eat well, and find myself a new woman. I heartily recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all who are in need of an honest and true curing medicine."

Special Advice to Ladies Who Contemplate Colouring Cotton Goods.

If a merchant or any one else tells you that package dyes prepared for all wool goods will colour cotton goods equally well, do not believe him. A person making such an assertion knows little about dyes and dyeing work.

Vegetable fibres require special dyes. Such dyes are not made by the makers of imitation and common package dyes. Special dyes for vegetable fibres, such as cotton and mixed goods, are made only by the proprietors of Diamond Dyes, and every colour is simply perfection.

These special Diamond Dye cotton colours are great chemical discoveries, and confined entirely to the Diamond Dyes. The colours are sixteen in number, are immensely popular with carpet, rug and mat makers everywhere. Cotton goods dyed with these Diamond Dye Cotton colours never fade in sun or washing.

If you are about to dye cotton goods, or desire to colour rags for carpets and mats, be sure and ask your merchants for Fast Diamond Dyes for Cotton and Mixed Goods. He should keep the full variety—sixteen useful colours.

In every respect the Canadian Order of Foresters is a representative national society. Its work is confined to Canada, yet it protects and guards its members in whatever part of the world they may reside. It insures its members for $500, $1000, $1500 or $2000 at rates running from 35c. to $2 monthly—according to age and amount. Sick benefits are also available at low rates. For nearly 20 years the Canadian

THE $10,000,000 LOAN

Subscribed More Than Twice Over at the World's Capital.

CANADA'S FAITH IS GRANDLY SHOWN.

By Our Capitalists Taking Up Over One-Half of the New Loan—A Great Financial Achievement The Dominion's Best Loan Favorable Comparison.

Toronto, Oct. 16.—The subscription books of the new Canadian loan of $10,000,000, which were closed yesterday, showed a great success. The applications for the loan aggregated over $24,000,000, or more than double the amount asked for. This loan is the best ever floated by the Canadian Government. The rates of the allotments will yield the investor only about 2 3-4 per cent. The yield of British Consols, which rank higher than any other public security, is 2 1-4 per cent. per annum on the investment.

Toronto capitalists were not much behind their Montreal friends in tendering for this loan. It is understood that a number of them joined forces and tendered for between $2,250,000 and $3,000,000 worth of these bonds. They cabled their offers on Thursday in order to be in time. Following are the Toronto companies and firms that tendered:

Canada Central and Savings Company.
Canada Life Assurance Company.
Imperial Life Insurance Company.
George A. Stimson & Co., brokers.
Canadian Bank of Commerce.
Bank of Toronto.

The prices bid ranged from £91 2s to £93, and it is stated that 42 per cent. of the bonds were allotted at £91 2s and the balance at £93. To yield the investor 2 3-4 per cent. the price would be 93.23.

More than half the amount of the loan was cabled for from Toronto and Montreal alone. The Canadian concerns will get the amounts they applied for.

This is the greatest achievement in the history of Canadian finance. It is the first loan of importance floated in London where Canadian institutions were anxious to obtain a large share. They will get more than one-half of the total bonds issued, the yield on which will be only 2 3-4 per cent.

What does this mean? As a banker stated yesterday: "It means that Canadians have confidence in the future of the Dominion, and that the resources of the country are rapidly increasing. The accumulations of money have increased enormously the past five years, and the result is that Canada has now borrowed $10,000,000 at the lowest rate in her history."

This new loan is to run 50 years, and bears 2 1-2 per cent. interest from Oct. 1.

When consideration is taken of the present state of the money markets, the greater is the success of this financial operation. For some months past the London money market has been gradually hardening. The Bank of England discount rate is up to 3 per cent., while for two years previous to September, 1896, it ruled at 2 per cent., and in the open market in London 60-day paper has advanced from 3-4 to 2 1-2 per cent. within a few months. The cash reserve of the Bank of England is to-day smaller than it has been in a number of years, and with gold flowing to the United States and elsewhere, the tendency is for still dearer money in England.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, W.N. T. Mill Supplies, P.O. Box 58, St. Henri, Que.

Heretofore Canada has held aloof from taking up Dominion loans on account of the comparatively higher rates for money in this country than in Britain. But important changes have been gradually taking place within the past few years. The money markets of Canada and England are practically now within 1-2 of 1 per cent. of each other. No Canadian would have believed such a thing possible ten years ago.

Our savings banks, chartered banks and loan and trust companies now hold more of the people's money than they ever did.

A question of some concern is how this purchase of $5,000,000 worth of bonds by Canada will affect the money market here. Naturally, one would think that rates would stiffen. In place of £10,000,000 coming in mostly, it is presumed, in the shape of imports of merchandise, only half this amount will be placed to our credit by foreign bankers. If the bonds are held by the Canadian companies who have successfully tendered, the tendency would be towards higher rates of interest. On the other hand, the interest would be paid and remain here on the amount of bonds held in this country. This would, of course, please a large part of the community, and especially those who believe that this country should never go abroad to borrow money.

The Loan in Montreal.

Montreal, Oct. 15.—(Special.)—It goes without saying that a thrill of pride went through every patriotic heart on learning this morning that Canadian banks had tendered for not less than £800,000, or $4,000,000, of the Canadian loan of $10,000,000. "We could have tendered for the entire loan had we had more time," Mayor Smith remarked, and His Worship appears to have been the moving spirit as far as the Montreal institutions were concerned. As a matter of fact, Montreal's Mayor organized in a few hours a syndicate and handed into the banks of Montreal a tender for a quarter of a million pounds sterling, the following, comprising the syndicate: Merchants' Bank of Canada, £100,000; Molsons Bank, £50,000; Jacques Cartier Bank, £25,000; Hochelaga Bank, £25,000, and Mayor Wilson-Smith, £50,000, making a total of £250,000, or $1,250,000 in Canadian money. Outside of this syndicate the Bank of Montreal, the Imperial Bank of Toronto, the Canadian Bank of Commerce and other institutions tendered separately, making the total amount offered from Canada, as before intimated, at the splendid sum of $4,000,000, or nearly half the amount required by the Canadian Minister of Finance. Of course it is not to be supposed that all of this sum has been allotted to our Montreal and Toronto tenderers, but a cablegram to the Bank of Montreal, received this evening, conveys the important news that the Mayor Wilson-Smith syndicate had been allotted the full amount of their tender, viz., $1,250,000. Some months ago the Mayor surprised the financial world by taking the new provincial loan of $3,000,000, and he has perhaps done more than any other man in Canada in impressing the all important fact upon the local and federal Governments that Canadian capitalists and Canadian banking institutions can handle at least a good part of the loans required in the Dominion.

The Cabled Reports.

London, Oct. 15.—The subscriptions to the loan of the Government of the Dominion of Canada, invited by the Bank of Montreal, amounting to £2,000,000 in 2 1-2 per cent. inscribed stock, at not less than £91, have been closed, and totaled up £4,205,460, at an average of £91 10s 5d.

Some tenders for the Canadian loan were at £96, but 42 per cent. of the loan was allotted at £91 2s.

WHEN DOCTORS FAILED.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, as Usual, Worked a Cure.

STRATFORD, Oct. 11.—There are few people in this city who do not know Mrs. R. Roberts, Downie street. She has been an invalid for some years, and her case awakened the sympathy of her neighbours, who were confident there was no cure for her. Judge of their surprise and delight on hearing what Mrs. Roberts tells thus: "I have been afflicted during three years with kidney disease. Have used doctors' medicines but could not get cured. I have used five boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am now cured. You may publish this if you choose." This is a short statement, but it tells a great deal.

Verdict for 33 Defendants.

Toronto, Oct. 16.—Thirty-three happy-looking men filed out of the Court House on Adelaide street yesterday afternoon, and were immediately surrounded by a host of congratulatory friends.

They were the defendants in the Crowley libel suit, in whose favor the jury had just pronounced.

Justice MacMahon, in summing up, spoke strongly in favor of the defendants, on the facts, while leaning towards the plaintiff as far as the technical points were concerned.

The jury were out a little over an hour, and returned with a verdict for the defendants. This carries costs said to be about $4000, and they will be argued next week.

THE ONTARIO ELECTIONS.

Toronto, Oct. 16.—Yesterday Premier Hardy said the House would meet about the usual time—February—the coming year. As the current timber leases do not expire until April, this date will give the House ample time to pass an act dealing with the demands of the lumber men before the time for renewing the leases. Mr. Hardy positively assured the correspondent that there would be another session of the House before the elections, which, he said, would be held in June or July next.

PRONOUNCED INCURABLE.

No Case of Catarrh Too Acute, or of Too Long Standing but Dr. Agnews Catarrhal Powder Can Allay and Cure—When all Else Fail it Cures—Try it First and Save Experimenting.

"Five years ago my little daughter was attacked with catarrh of a very severe type. We used all known Catarrh cures, and treated with most skillful physicians for over three years, and her case was pronounced chronic and incurable. Last winter we heard of the wonderful cures effected by Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. A bottle was procured, and I here state for the benefit and encouragement of all sufferers from this dreadful malady that after using two bottles my child was completely cured, and I consider it my duty to give my testimony for the benefit of like sufferers." SOCIAL SENSATION AT HALIFAX.

The Wife of Major Frederick Arnold Enters an Action for Divorce.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 15.—A social sensation has been caused here by the wife of Major Frederick Arnold of the British army commencing an action for divorce, charging her husband with infidelity, cruelty, drunkenness and threatening her life. The Major and his wife, who reside at the Queen's Hotel, are both well known. Major Arnold, who was connected with the army pay department, retired this month, after a service of 23 years. The family have lived in Halifax since May, 1896. A former domestic of the Grosvenor Hotel, where they resided before going to the Queen's Hotel, is named by Mrs. Arnold as having had guilty relations with the Major. The latter alleges that he will fight the divorce suit, and that he will have a sensational answer to the charges of his wife.

Toronto, March 16th, 1897.

My boy, aged fourteen, has been a sufferer from Catarrh, and lately we submitted him to an operation at the General Hospital. Since then we have resorted to Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure, and one box of his medicine has made a prompt and complete cure.

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Thus, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC

Robson Brown, of Valetta, July 28th, 1891, says:—

"I am sorry under the circumstances to write to you, but I feel it my duty, as I have been troubled with Dyspepsia for years, took dollars' worth of medicine and pills, but got no relief till I commenced taking your Sloan's Indian Tonic. I think I have taken 8 or 10 bottles in all, and I feel as if I have got a new lease of life, I feel so much better. I was in the habit of keeping a bottle in the house so when costive I would take a dose or two with instant relief. Now I am troubled with costive spells very often, and it was the only medicine that gave me instant relief. It seems as if I have lost my best friend. Now I would like to hear from you by return mail, as I would like to have a bottle as soon as possible.

Mrs. H. Palmer, of Ridgetown, Ont., says: I was afflicted for a number of years with Erysipelas and Neuralgia in my face, and one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me entirely, and I would recommend it to others, either for Erysipelas or Neuralgia.

Mrs. Henry Hale, of Blenheim, Ont., says: Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me of Malarial Fever and Chills and Neuralgia. When I was down sick in bed I purchased a bottle of the Tonic and it cured me entirely, and I have not been troubled with Fever or Neuralgia since.

A GIFT TO THE VICTORIA MUSEUM.

How the Public May Advance the Interests of the Museum.

The curator of the Victoria Museum acknowledges with thanks the receipt of three valuable and interesting Indian relics from Mr. Samuel McKibbin, of Smith Township. They consist of a stone chisel, a stone gouge and a sharpening stone, the latter being quite hollowed out, showing the effects of frequent or long-continued use. There must be thousands of interesting relics and curios in the possession of residents of the town and county. If the owners of them would present them to the Victoria museum, the extent, interest and value of the collection would be greatly increased. It is not necessary that they should be given outright to the society. Where the owners would prefer not to part with their curios, they might consent to loan them—the same purpose would be served. There would be no danger of them going astray. Every article would be plainly labelled with the donor's or lender's name to permit of prompt identification in case they were required to be returned.

Wednesday—3.30 p.m. in George street church.
Wednesday—7.30 p.m. in George street church.
Thursday—3 p.m. in St. Paul's church.
Thursday—7.30 (for men only) in St. Paul's church.
Doors open in the evening at 7 o'clock.

Last evening the committee of arrangements met in the Association parlours.

It has been arranged that both churches will be used at all the meetings in case of an overflow. Mr. Moody, of course, will address all the meetings.

The matter of ushers has been left in the hands of those of the respective churches associated with the Y.M.C.A. workers.

The singing will be left in the hands of the choirs of the churches where the meetings are held—they, of course, assisting Mr. Burke, who accompanies Mr. Moody.

The committee urge that as far as possible children be left at home as a meeting will in all probability be arranged for them separately.

Mr. Moody makes no stipulation for money in connection with his meetings. However, as he depends altogether on collections at the meetings it is to be hoped the people of Peterborough will prepare to respond liberally.

Collections will be taken at all the meetings, and a free-will offering at the closing meeting on Thursday.

All money received by the Evangelist over expenses goes to the support of his schools in Chicago and Whitfield, for the fitting of young men for Christian service.

FLAGGED THE TRAIN.

Mischievous Tricks of Some Small Boys a Few Days Ago.

A local tournament was played this afternoon at the golf links on the other side of Jackson Park.

White flags are now used as markers on account of a peculiar incident which happened not long ago, when some small boys stole one of the red markers and flagged the local G.T.R. express with it for mischief. To their great delight the train came to a full stop, but the train officials did not see the force of the joke, so the golfers have had to change their colours if they wish to play along the track.

SATURDAY MARKET.

Plenty of Produce Brings Good Prices To-day.

Although it was wet and discouraging this morning, yet the market was a good one and the farmers all wore pleasant smiles, as the rain was badly needed for the fall wheat and the pasture.

Prices ranged about the same as last week. Potatoes brought 50 cents a bag, corn 8c. per dozen, cabbage two for 5c., blue cabbage 10c. per head, onions 15c. per peck, beets, parsnips and carrots 5c. a bunch, squash 10c. each, red peppers 5c. a dozen, cauliflowers from six for 25c. to three 25c., celery 10c. per head.

Tomatoes are looking especially firm and well coloured this fall. There is a good demand for them and they are bringing 10 cents a basket.

FOR SETTLERS.

Free Licenses to Shoot Deer to be Given in the Northern Districts.

The Ontario Government has decided to give settlers in the northern districts permits to shoot two deer each, free of charge.

In defining the districts to be thus favoured it was necessary to draw the line at some fixed point, residents north of which would be considered settlers entitled to free permits.

In Peterborough the line is drawn so as to make the district of free permit settlers, the portions including and lying north of the north halves of the townships of Harvey, Burleigh and Belmont.

The Port Hope Times says:—"The town did a wise thing in securing the services of Engineer Belcher to make the plans and fix the levels for the sewer down Walton street. Engineer Belcher has had a large experience in sewer building. He planned the extensive sewer system which Peterborough is building and the work has gone ahead without a hitch. It would be a splendid idea for the town to engage Mr. Belcher to make plans for a complete sewer system for Port Hope and estimate the cost for the building of it. Then the work of sewering the town—which is only a question of time and certainly a necessity to make the waterworks pay—could be taken up any time, section by section."

WHERE THE MONEY GOES!

Of every five dollars which the average labouring man receives, from three to four are spent on food alone.

If, therefore, there is anything which should interest the workingman's wife, it is that which will give more food and better food for her money.

The thoughtful housekeeper who will make a test case of buying all her Teas, Coffees, Sugars, Provisions and General Groceries at our store for one month, will discover that a substantial saving has been made when compared with her outlay for any previous four weeks.

It is no more surprising that overchargeing should explode a gun than that the same thing should burst a business. We buy for Cash and sell for Cash, and don't have to Overcharge.

OBITUARY.

Demise of James Lang, Father of John Lang, M. P.

The funeral took place on Thursday last of Mr. Jas. Lang, of Otonabee, his death having occurred on the Monday previous. The deceased was the father of Mr. John Lang, M. P. for east Peterborough and resided at the homestead near Lang Post Office. He was in his 91st year and was universally respected throughout the country.

Mr. Lang was born in Renfrewshire, Scotland in 1806. When a young man of twenty-six he emigrated to America and for a time resided in the United States, afterwards removing to the village of Keene, where he settled. He remained there gaining a livelihood as a shoemaker until 1853, when he bought the farm that constitutes the homestead, and thre he resided until his death.

Mr. Lang was married in 1838 to Agnes Stuart, also a native of Scotland. Mrs. Lang died some years ago. The family is composed of Mr. John Lang and Mr. Jas. Lang, Mrs. Jas. Nelson and Mrs. J. Miller, all of Otonabee. The late Mrs. D. Nelson was also a daughter. The deceased was a brother of Mr. Wm. Lang, of Keene, ex-Warden of the county. The latter, though eighteen months older than his brother who has just died, still enjoys the best of health. Mr. Lang was a Presbyterian in religion and a Liberal in politics.

Mr. John Lang, M. P., was unable to be present at the funeral of his father, being abroad and only sailing for home on Friday last.

REORGANIZATION OF GRANITE CURLERS.

OFFICERS AND SKIPS ELECTED FOR THE SEASON LAST NIGHT.

The Club's Representatives Will Urge on the Association the Adoption of a Rule Setting the Maximum Weight of Stones Used at 45 Pounds.

Although the thermometer was hovering down about the nineties yesterday the enthusiasm of the Granite curlers was at the freezing point until evening, when they turned out in great force at their annual meeting to re-organize and elect their skips for the coming season.

Mr. H. M. Allen, president, occupied the chair and it didn't take long to choose the officers, a most noticeable unanimity of feeling pervading the meeting in this respect. The following gentlemen were selected:

President—R. E. Wood.
Vice-President—W. D. Parker.
Secretary-Treasurer—W. L. Allen.
Executive Committee—E. B. Edwards, D. W. Dumble and Geo. Edmison.

The following new members were received into the club: Dr. Young, W. J. Montgomery and A. T. Lefevre.

In the absence of the newly elected president, Mr. W. D. Parker, vice-president, was asked to take the chair, and in doing so expressed his great gratification at being elected to that office, all the time at his command to the forwarding of the interests of the club.

PROMISING TO GIVE

The following skips were elected to act for the season: Messrs. T. P. Attrill, H. M. Allen, D. W. Dumble, E. B. Edwards, Geo. Edmison, Dr. Boucher, Judge Weller, T. S. Davidson, G. W. Hatton, W. D. Parker, J. Connal and J. Jeffries.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun's name was dropped from the list at his own request and Mr. J. Jeffries was elected in his place.

Mr. Jeffries will be allowed to select his own rink from amongst the Collegiate staff, but the other skips are expected to adhere strictly to the rules and not pick their first and second stone players until a meeting is called for that purpose.

The rule regarding the playing of substitutes in inter-rink matches was condemned, and this season an effort will be made to have every skip play his own rink in each match.

Dr. Boucher and Mr. E. B. Edwards were appointed representatives to the annual meeting of the Ontario Curlers's Association in Toronto.

Mr. Edwards brought up the matter of endeavouring to arrange for the abolition of the practice of allowing leads to use stones heavier

THAN FORTY-FIVE POUNDS.

Mr. Attrill pointed out that outside clubs going into Toronto to play in the Tankard matches had no chance, if they did not have heavy stones for their leads, as their opponents always used them.

Mr. Dumble moved "that the use of stones of extreme weight gives an undue advantage to the club using them, as against those playing with lighter ones and in the opinion of this club such practice breaks in on the true spirit of sport and implies a desire to win a game at any cost and it is therefore resolved that our representatives be instructed to seek the passage of such a motion as will remedy this state of affairs."

Mr. Dennistoun did not like the wording of the resolution. He pointed out that it was perfectly fair to use the heavy stones, as no infraction of the rules was committed.

Judge Weller thought likewise and thought that if the motion was couched in milder terms Mr. Edwards might use stronger language when speaking to it at the meeting.

Mr. Dumble urged that the resolution should in order that it might educate such representatives as saw it at once.

EMBODY THE ARGUMENT

Mr. G. M. Roger suggested that the resolution read this wise: Resolved, "that the character of the game would be improved by reducing the maximum weight of the stones to forty-five pounds, and that the representative members be instructed to present this matter before the annual meeting of the Ontario Curling Association, and press its adoption."

Messrs. Attrill and Weller fathered the resolution and it was passed.

Mr. Edwards suggested that a series of inter-rink matches be arranged, and that the club be divided into two sections to play them off. He thought every skip should know what matches he had to play each week in the season, and then there would be no trouble in getting the ice reserved.

This matter was left over until the next meeting.

Before adjournment Messrs. R. M. Dennistoun and R. S. Davidson moved a vote of thanks to the retiring president, Mr. H. M. Allan, for the eminently satisfactory manner in which he had discharged his duties.

In replying Mr. Allan thanked the members for their kind expression of thanks, stating that if they had been satisfied with him they were very easily satisfied. He had always had the interests of the club at heart, and hoped that a very successful season would be enjoyed, terminating in the winning of the tankard. (Cheers.)

The meeting then adjourned.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual October meeting of representative members of the Ontario Curing Association takes places next Tuesday afternoon in the Walker House, Toronto, when arrangements will be completed for the winter games on the ice. The chief business will be the grouping of the different clubs for the Ontario Tankard competition, the greatest of all curling contests, and it is likely the plan that was prepared recently by the Executive Committee will be adopted.

EAST RIDING CONSERVATIVES

THE ASSOCIATION ORGANIZES BY ELECTING OFFICERS.

Public Addresses in the Evening by Local Speakers. Dr. Meacham and Mr. Whitney, Leader of the Opposition.

Yesterday was a field day for the East Riding Conservatives, who combined business with pleasure by a meeting of the Conservative Association and by listening to addresses by Dr. Meacham and Mr. Whitney, the Opposition Leader.

In the afternoon at a largely attended meeting in the town hall, Mr. W. H. Stephenson presiding, a reception committee to meet Mr. Whitney, who was to arrive from the east on the 3.40 train, was appointed, consisting of Col Hughes, Mr John Burnham, ex-M P, Mr J B Peoples, reeve of Belmont, Mr W H Stephenson, Dr Ford, Dr Pettigrew, Mr F Birdsall, Asphodel; Mr G J Sherry, Norwood; Mr Wm Andrews, reeve of Asphodel; Mr Geo Reid, ex-M P, of Keene; Mr J L Squires, Norwood; Mr R C Strickland, Lakefield; Mr Geo Kirk, Dummer; Mr J A Sexsmith, deputy-reeve of Belmont; Mr Wm Elliott, of Dummer; Mr W H Brethren, Norwood. Accompanied by the Norwood brass band this deputation received Mr. Whitney and escorted him to the town hall, where he was cordially welcomed, and, after an informal reception, Mr. Whitney and his entourage retired to his hotel and the business of the association proceeded; the following officers were elected.

President—Mr Frank Birdsall.
Vice-President—Dr Ford.
Secretary—Mr J G Sherry.
Treasurer—W H Brethen.

The Executive Committee, consisting of vice-presidents and another from each municipality was elected as follows:—

Asphodel—Jas Andrews, and Richard Birdsall.
Belmont and Methuen—J B Peoples and J A Sexsmith.
Norwood—J L Squires and John Walker.
Havelock—S S Joyce and A McAuley.
Dummer—S S Spence and Geo Kirk.
Douro—James McCliggott and James Watson.
Otonabee—John Lancaster and Dr Shaw.
Burleigh and Anstruther—Robert Edgar and Wm Stone.
Chandos—Wm Hales and Aaron Post.
Ashburnham—H Calcutt and E A Peck.
Lakefield—J F Lillicrap and C J Burgess.

THE MASS MEETING.

At the evening meeting in the skating rink, which was finely decorated, an audience of over 700 persons, among whom were many ladies, assembled.

Mr. Birdsall, president of the Association, was, on motion of Mr. John Burnham and Mr. Squire, placed in the chair.

On the platform were Mr. Whitney, Dr. Meacham, Lt.-Col. Hughes, M. P., Messrs. W. H. Stephenson, John Burnham, Dr. Ford, C. W. Sawers, J. L. Squires and Rev. John Gibson.

After a few remarks by the chairman, Dr. Ford explained that there was a mistake in the posters, stating that the meeting of the afternoon was called to select a candidate. The meeting was merely for organization. In view of Hon Mr. Hardy's note to the lumbermen, intimating that there would be another session, the present selection of a candidate was not necessary.

After brief addresses by Mr. Burnham and Col. Hughes, Dr. Meacham addressed the meeting for an hour on the financial and school issues, and Mr. Whitney gave his usual address. The meeting closed with cheers for the Queen and Mr. Whitney.

BETTING WITH A GIRL.

It Does Not Always Turn Out as Expected.

"Why do you seem to try to avoid Miss Sweet?" asked the man with the cigar. "Only a week ago you were devoted to her."

The man with the cigarette scowled.

"Don't speak of her," he said. "She is the most aggravating, underhanded and designing girl that ever walked the earth."

"What has she done?"

"Oh, she hasn't done a thing but play a regular confidence game on me," returned the man with the cigarette. "You see, we made a bet."

"Yes."

"I bet a box of candy against a kiss on what was practically a certainty in my favor and she knew that there wasn't one chance in a thousand of my losing."

"I see. The inference being——"

"The inference being," said the man with the cigarette, with emphasis, "that she would a little rather lose the bet than win it. Naturally, I was considerably elated, but to avoid any possible mistake I made her promise that she would surely pay if she lost and not try to get out of it on any technicality."

"And she agreed?"

"Promised faithfully—in fact, seemed offended to think that I had deemed it necessary to exact such a promise; said she was a girl of her word, and whatever she promised she would do. And then I won the bet."

"Yes—and she?"

"Well, she kept out of my way for a while, so that I had no chance to collect, but finally I caught her and asked her if she intended to pay the bet."

"'Pay it,' she cried. 'Why, I've already paid it.'

"'I've never received that kiss,' I asserted.

"'Then, you've no one but your sister to blame,' she answered. 'I gave it to her to give to you.'"

The man with the cigar gave a low whistle.

"That was a mean trick," he admitted.

"But that wasn't the worst of it," continued the man with the cigarette. "It knocked me out so that I hadn't a word to say, and the next day she told my sister that she didn't think much of a man who hadn't the gumption to collect a kiss that he had fairly won. I tell you, a woman is the most aggravating and contradictory thing that was ever sent to torture man."—Chicago Post.

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or a woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a great discourager of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what bad breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. There is no case of biliousness, indigestion, "heartburn," or any of the rest of the nightmare breeding brood that these little "Pellets" will not cure.

Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

Indian Philosophy.

No man of much brains ever gets the "big head."

A rich woman is a crown of glory to her dressmaker.

There is a moral in a great many things that are immoral.

The darky and the watermelon are two souls with but a single thought.

If the sheep had the courage of its size it could whip most dogs. Some men are like sheep.

If men could become birds at will, there would be a great many more buzzards than there are now.

A man wouldn't minds so much his hair dropping out if his teeth didn't drop out at about the same time.

Life differs from a basket of peaches, because very often the largest and best fruit is very often found at the bottom.

If you know anything good of a neighbor, tell it to the world. If you know anything bad, keep it to yourself.

If you have all the good time in your youth, you must not growl if only the memory remains in your old age.

Eternal Vigilance

Is the price of perfect health. Watch carefully the first symptoms of impure blood. Cure boils, pimples, humors and scrofula by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Drive away the pains and aches of rheumatism, malaria and stomach troubles, steady your nerves and overcome that tired feeling by taking the same great medicine.

Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic and liver tonic. Gentle, reliable, are.

Pain in the Back.

Mr. M. P. Halpin, Brockville, Ont., makes a statement as follows: "For two years I suffered from kidney trouble, causing severe pain across my back, dizziness, headache, sleeplessness, etc. I had often to lean on the counter when serving a customer, so intense was the pain in my back. On taking Doan's Kidney Pills I improved from the very first, and now after using three boxes am all right; all my pains, aches and dizziness having disappeared, thanks to Doan's Pills."

A HORRIBLE DEATH.

William Green Suffocated in a Wheat Bin in a Chatham Elevator Paulucci's Escape.

Chatham, Ont., Oct. 15.—A horrible fatality occurred at the Stevens-Campbell elevator here to-day, William Green of this city meeting his death by suffocation. Green was working in a wheat bin with William Paulucci, and by some means, when there were six or seven feet of grain in the bin, got his feet in the hole at the bottom of the bin. The weight of the wheat immediately drew him down and, seeing his danger, Paulucci attempted to extricate him. The weight of the wheat was too great, however, and Paulucci himself had a narrow escape from meeting a similar fate, being drawn down to his waist. A hole was cut in the floor of the bin and the wheat was allowed to drop to the next floor. Green's body also came through the hole, but life was extinct. Altogether the victim was under the wheat fully 15 minutes.

Provisions.

Receipts of grain were fairly liberal today, and about 7000 bush. all told, were delivered. The wheat market was not quite as firm as on Thursday; 2500 bush sold at the following prices: White 80c to 80½c, red 82c to 83c, and goose 76c to 77c. Rye, 300 bush. sold at 41½c to 42c. Dressed hogs, prices easier, light selling for $6.20 to $6.35 per cwt., and heavy $5.50 to $6.

Potatoes plentiful, selling at 55c to 60c per bag. Large supplies of poultry came forward, and the weather being warm, prices declined. Prices will be found below.

Toronto Live Stock.

The deliveries of live stock yesterday amounted to 45 carloads, composed of 833 cattle, 1513 sheep and lambs, 25 calves and 3000 hogs, which, taken with what was left from Thursday, made a large market. The supply of export cattle was small but ample for the present demands. This portion of the trade has been practically demoralized for the past three weeks, on account of bad reports from the English markets.

There were a few export dealers on hand, and a few sales were made at very low prices, $4.25 per cwt. being the outside limit, but that was said to have been paid for one load. The highest price we noticed paid was $4.12½ per cwt., and there were more sold under that price than over it.

LA GRIPPE SCOURGE.

Who Has not Been a Victim?—Who has not had Just the Experience of Mr. Curtis?—Who May not Have the Relief South American Nervine Afforded Him?

"As a result of a severe attack of la grippe I suffered greatly from weakness ness and loss of appetite. I saw testimonials of the curative powers of South American Nervine and determined to give it a trial in my case. Purchased it and almost immediately began to improve. My strength began to return to me very very rapidly. When I had taken three bottles I had developed a voracious appetite. I am as well to-day as ever I was, and am safe in saying that I can attribute it to South American Nervine, and no words of mine in recommending it could be too strong."—C. J. Curtis, Windsor, Ont. Witnessed by F. H. Laing, druggist. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Away Down East

From east to west people have heart trouble. This causes violent headaches, neuralgia, nerve trouble and prostration. Says Mrs. Somers, of Moncton, N. B.: "I tried many remedies but never found anything to give me such prompt relief as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done. I suffered from the above symptoms, but now gladly testify to the cure these wonderful pills have made in my case, and I hope all sufferers will try them."

Burdock Pills, small, safe and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego Cal says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c. Sold by John Nugent, 389 George Street.

BISZLING SHERMAN.

St. James' Gazette Gives the U. S. Secretary a Pretty Lively Roast.

London, Oct. 14.—The afternoon newspapers to-day take the same view of Secretary Sherman's latest despatch to the Marquis of Salisbury on the sealing conference question as expressed by the morning papers. The St. James Gazette says: "It will be a relief if this trans-Atlantic Polonius is restricted in the future to playing the fool in his own home, and the foreign affairs of his country are transferred into more capable hands. But we need not count upon this too confidently. We ourselves allowed an elderly statesman to play tricks in the national name with national interests for many a long year."

The St. James Gazette taunts Mr. Herbert Gladstone with "copying Secretary Sherman's manner in a speech yesterday evening, in which Herbert Gladstone said that the Venezuelan question would not have been peacefully settled if there had been no United States concerned, adding that in the latter case: "Our ironclads would have been sent there and our troops would have made short work of the Venezuelan question. But the United States appeared on the scene and the virtues of arbitration became obviously apparent."

Nature's Detectives.

When a crime is committed, no matter in what corner of the earth the criminal tries to hide, he knows that probably somewhere or other on the look-out is a detective waiting to lay his hand on him.

When any disease attacks mankind and hides itself in the human system, matter how obscure or complicated the disease may be, Nature among her great force of detective remedies has one that will eventually hunt down and arrest that particular disease.

Lung and bronchial diseases are among the most baffling complaints which doctors have to deal with; because it isn't the lungs or bronchial tubes alone which are affected, but every corner of the system furnishes a lurking place for these elusive maladies.

They change and reappear and dodge about the system under numberless disguises. They are almost always complicated with liver or stomach troubles, nervousness, neuralgia, or "general debility."

The best detective remedy which Nature has provided to search out and arrest these perplexing ailments is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It lays an arresting hand directly upon the poisonous, paralyzing elements hiding in the liver and digestive organs.

It gives the blood-making glands power to manufacture an abundant supply of pure, red, highly vitalized blood which reinforces the lungs with healthy tissue; feeds the nerve-centres with power, and builds up solid muscular flesh and active energy.

For weak lungs, spitting of blood, shortness of breath, nasal catarrh, bronchitis, severe coughs, asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. While it promptly cures the severest cough it strengthens the system and purifies the blood.

ALL HE CARED FOR.

St. Peter stood at the pearly gate,
And gazed down the narrow way
Up which toiled the souls of those whom fate
Had numbered to die that day.

And marvelled he much that among the throng
Was one who was blithe and gay,
And merrily trundled a wheel along
Up the straight and narrow way;

Nor did he appear to burdened be
O'ermuch with his load of sin,
For, doffing his cap to St. Peter, he Proceeded to enter in.

But Peter cried: Not so fast, my friend,
Your sins have been too great.
I'm sorry to say your journey's end
Is not at the pearly gate."

The merry wheelman knew not dismay,
But answered, "Good Saint, 'tis well—
I'd be much obliged if you'd kindly say
How the roads are that lead to hell."

"Now, stay," cried St. Peter, "and tell me, I pray,
How is it you seem not to care
Whither you go or where you stay,
And not for your soul's welfare?"

"Oh, as for me, it matters not,"
The wheelman quickly replied,
"If the place be cold or it be hot,
So long as I can ride."

Subtle Reasoning.

Wallace—Did you know what the proportion of bald-headed men among criminals is exceedingly small?

Perry—No, I never heard of it before, but it only proves what I have contended all along.

"What is that?"

"That matrimony had a tendency to keep a man from crime."

YOUNG LAMONT'S CASE.

Neighbours Much Interested in the Story—Everyone Thought That the Youngster Would Die, but he's Very Much Alive Now.

DUNDALK, Oct. 4.—Hugh Lamont, of McIntyre, has a young son who is an object of interest throughout this whole section of country. From infancy the boy had dropsy, and was bloated and swollen all over. It seemed to the parents that death could be the only release to one attacked so young by this disease. They heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and began giving them to the child. With the first box the bloating and swelling began to disappear. Six boxes effected a perfect cure and the boy is now just as healthy a youngster as stirs up the dust on the high roads of Western Ontario.

For the Bike Girl.

Wearing corsets awheel is very injurious. Stays interfere with the action of the lungs, impeding breathing, and with the action of the heart, and, in consequence, with the circulation of the blood. For those who must have something, whether for looks or support, the athlete's flannel bandage is an excellent thing; this will allow every muscle full play, and yet afford support.

The latest skirts for wheeling have a small side pocket set into the right side flap that goes under the buttonholes; then the opening is out of sight and it is a very easy matter to undo a button or two in the front of the skirt to get at it, and a pocket is convenient for carrying the handkerchief.

We know the great cures of Hood's Sarsaparilla are genuine because the people themselves write about them.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell. 25c. 50c. and $1.00.

BABY WAS CURED.

DEAR SIRS,—I can highly recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It cured my baby of diarrhœa after all other means failed, so I give it great praise. It is excellent for all bowel complaints.

YOUR NEW FALL HAT.

THE GAINSBOROUGH WITH THE VICTORIAN SIDE FLARE.

Such a Hat! So Tipsywise, Tip-Tilted and Mountainous With Feathers Is the Latest Millinery Creation For the Fashionable.

The fashionable new fall hats are remarkable, but the most remarkable thing about them is the extremely novel way in which they are to be worn.

The illustration shows the most fashionable hat of the coming season. To the uninitiated it appears as if it were resting upon the head merely by accident and would soon grow tired of doing so. The hat is not falling off. Instead it is being worn according to the latest Parisian fashion.

It is not so very long ago that the edict came from abroad that all the most fashionable hats were to be worn well over the forehead. Eyebrows were not to be visible, and the more tilted the hat in front the more correct it was considered. Now a new fashion is to be introduced.

The hat which inaugurated this peculiar style is to be the millinery novelty of the coming season. It is called the Gainsborough, with the Victorian side flare. The broad brim flares conspicuously at the left side and at the right droops picturesquely over the hair, entirely covering it from view. The hat in the illustration also shows clearly the newest way of using feathers and also the very latest crown.

In coloring, the hat is in the varying shades of gray. The brim is of chenille and silk braid woven together. It is pale gray in color. Two broad cordings of a darker gray velvet edge the brim. The crown is a high puffed affair with somewhat of a Tam o' Shanter effect. It is in gray velvet, the same tint as the cordings. Its chief novelty is that the puffs are separated by bands of pearl gray velvet, tightly shirred.

At the top of the crown a steel buckle is caught. Resting against the hair, where the hat flares at the left side, a soft coil of moire gray taffeta ribbon is loosely twisted, which ends in an effective bow. Through the centre of the bow another steel buckle is fastened.

Four silvery gray feathers trim the hat. Instead of tips, which heretofore have been used for this purpose, these feathers are long plumes. They fall picturesquely against the crown, while one particularly long plume follows the outline of the brim and wanders down far over the hair.

The remarkable feature of this feather is that it is used wrong side out. In addition to the feathers, one big, wavy, white aigrette completes the trimming of this latest millinery novelty.

On a number of the Gainsborough hats with the Victorian side flare a feather is worn close to the hair, in place of the coil of ribbon. Feathers are to be largely used on the fall and winter hats.

One novel feather trimming consists in using a long plume, much as if it were a feather boa twisted about the crown. At the left side the end of the feather is caught up so that it looks like a small Prince of Wales plume.

As to the coloring of the new hats, the rainbow and kaleidoscopic effects have departed. The most exclusive hats show varying shades of one color. All the tints of castor are high in favor for early fall. Grey is much the vogue, and Jockey Club, which is the new name for a peculiar shade of heliotrope.

Velvet hats are to be worn more than they ever have been before. As a trimming, uncut velvet ribbon will be in favor. A novelty of the coming season is an entire hat of shirred velvet. It requires but little trimming and is most effective. Narrow bands of shirred velvet, as well as velvet cordings, finish the brims of many of the new picture hats.

Spangled crowns will be a feature of the season's millinery, and a number of the ribbons used in bows and loops will be edged with a narrow line of spangles.

NORMAL POISE OF THE BODY.

How to Acquire It in Six Positions, Faithfully Practiced.

The fashionable maiden desires above and beyond all things to acquire physical buoyancy and lithe movements. If in earnest, she should give her attention a moment to her centre of gravity.

This, perhaps, she may not know, should never be over her heels, but over the ball of her feet. When one first tries the experiment of balancing in the correct way, the sensation is very much that of tumbling over.

But ten days later and one exclaims, "Oh, I feel so much lighter and younger than when my weight rested on my heels."

It is, indeed, the easiest position possible, and worth taking some trouble to acquire. The preliminary step in learning the art of true balancing is to practice heel elevation or toe standing, as taught by the Swedish movements.

Exercise 1—Raise the heels quickly from the ground and stand as high on tiptoe as possible, then lower the heels with moderate speed, without tipping the weight of the body backward. To decrease the difficulty of balance after one has become a little expert, go through the exercise with the arms raised upright.

Exercise 2—Keep the heels on the ground and lift alternately the balls of the feet and put them down with a slight pressure; one foot moving up as the other moves down. The speed should be about seventy movements per minute. Care must be taken not to move the shoulders from side to side—a common fault.

Exercise 3—Lift the heels, bend the knees, straighten the body, then sink the heels. The knees must point in the direction of the feet, and remain bent at right angles. This is a true balance movement, to be done with moderate speed.

Exercise 4—Lift the heels, bend the knees again at right angles to the body, and sit down with the body erect.

Exercise 5—Bend the knee, lift the leg slowly upward and forward until hip and knee are bent at right angles. The instep should be stretched so that the toes point downward, the knee pointing sideways forward. Common faults in practicing this exercise are to incline the body backward, tip the shoulder to the opposite side, and to bend the knee of the leg which holds the body.

It must be understood that these movements are to alternate, first with one foot and then with the other.

Exercise 6—Standing with the hips firm, move first the right and then the left foot, parallel with itself, twice its own length forward, and place it on the ground with a gentle pressure on the ball of the foot, the weight of the body being carried equally by both feet. The movements should be taken backwards as well.

These exercises bring into play all the muscles of the legs, as well as those about the waist.

Walking on tiptoe is an excellent balance movement. The shoulders should be kept level throughout the exercise, which is then one of the best means of correcting the habit of tipping the shoulders from side to side when walking. In walking on tiptoe one lands on the ball of the foot, which is the point of the matter—the great desideratum—if a lithe, graceful gait is to be cultivated.

Anæmia means "want of blood," a deficiency in the red corpuscles of the blood. Its cause is found in want of sufficient food, dyspepsia, lack of exercise or breathing impure air. With it is a natural repugnance to all fat roods. Scott's Emulsion is an easy food to get fat from and the easiest way of taking fat. It makes the blood rich in just those elements necessary to robust health, by supplying it with red corpuscles.

THE DANDELION'S COMPLAINT.

Oh dear! Oh dear!
How strange I must appear!
My head is so bare,
That every one I stare
At me now.

Once like a golden star
I shone out from afar;
Then a light breeze blown down
Made a locket of my crown
Of ring-lets.

But this morning, oh dear!
It all seems so queer—
There came a little wind,
And passed upon the grass
By the way.

She wished something very low,
And then began to blow,
And my curls with a hurr
Went floating through the air
And are lost.

"I blow this to tell every
And wish," I heard her say,
But I know I shall take cold,
And it makes me look so old—
Oh, dear!

Great Reason.

"Congratulate me, old man!" shouted the young father: "It's twins! Twins boys!"

"Call that cause for congratulations, on your salary?" asked the other cynic.

"You bet. I'm going to name one for my rich uncle and the other for my wife's rich uncle."—Indianapolis Journal.

Tells how Dr. Chase Saved her Boy.

His Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine a Precious Boon.

MRS. A. T. STEWART, Folgar, Ont., says: "From the 7th of January to the 30th, we were up night and day with our two little boys, employing doctors and trying every kind of patent medicine we ever heard of. At this time we did not know of Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine until after the 30th, when our youngest darling died in spite of all we could do. Sometime in February the doctor told us our other boy couldn't live till spring. We were about discouraged, when I got my eye on an advertisement of Dr. Chase's Syrup.

"I tried at once to get some, but none of the dealers here had it. A neighbor who was in Kingston managed to purchase two bottles which he brought straight to us, and I believe it was the means of saving our only boy.

"One teaspoonful of the Syrup stopped the cough so he could sleep till morning. Our boy is perfectly well now, and I would not be without Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house."

PRINCE ALBERT ROUTE TO THE KLONDYKE.

A New and Good Route Claimed to be by way of Prince Albert—A Brief Description of the New Route.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Enclosed you will find instructions as to a direct route to the Klondyke gold fields, and as I was in your nice town a few weeks ago and heard considerable talk about the gold fields there, as well as in every other town I was in, I thought to lay this route before the people of Peterborough who may think of trying their fortunes in the Klondyke next spring. There is a party of about ten of us going to start by this route in the spring. We have old Hudson Bay men who have been over this route and they say it is much shorter than by Edmonton and less dangerous. There are boat-builders here who can get the boats ready in a short time. If it would not be imposing on you I would ask you to publish the enclosed clipping, from the Prince Albert Times, in your valuable paper,

Yours truly,
R. T. GOODFELLOW.

Prince Albert, Oct. 4th, 1897.

Citizens of Prince Albert claim, upon the authority of traders and H. B. Co. officials that the old H. B. Co. route from there to Fort McMurray on the Athabasca river is an easier road to travel, although longer, than that from Edmonton, Fort McMurray is north of the Grand Rapids on the Athabasca. These rapids are the bad feature of the route from Edmonton. The road from Prince Albert escapes the rapids. From Edmonton to McMurray is about 550 miles. From Prince Albert to the same point is 500 miles. From Regina to Fort McMurray, therefore, the road is shorter by 237 miles by Prince Albert than by Edmonton

The Prince Albert Times says of the route:

The people of Prince Albert are just realising that while all eyes have been strained towards the Klondyke and the modes of reaching there by way of Dyea or St. Michael's, with all the delay and expense and hardships involved, there is a road to that golden region starting from our very door—not a new or an untried road, but one used for generations by the Hudson's Bay Company—well known to many of our own citizens, some of whom have repeatedly travelled the whole route, while a greater number are familiar with considerable portions of the way. This route is by way of Green Lake, Isle la Crosse and the Clearwater river to Fort McMurray on the Athabasca river and thence down that river and intervening lakes to the Mackenzie—down that magnificent river to Fort McPherson, thence to the headwaters of the Porcupine, which flows into the Yukon, bringing the traveller to Dawson City. * * *

What we wish to point out is that via Prince Albert there is a well-beaten, long-used and perfectly practicable route to the Yukon—practicable throughout the whole year—very much shorter than any of the roads via Dyea or St. Michael's, and what is of more importance to Canadians, a road entirely over Canadian Territory. While this road is practicable during the entire year its advantages are more conspicuous during the summer. From Green Lake, which is about 150 miles from Prince Albert, the traveller can go right to Dawson City by water, with the exception of a few short portages. From Fort McMurray to Fort MacPherson the Hudson Bay Co. have steamers employed in carrying their supplies and furs, while the whole way is dotted with posts and stores at which the traveller can supply himself with provisions and other necessaries. The whole way, however, passes through a country rich in fish and game, so that starvation, under the most adverse circumstances, is out of the question. The advantages of the route are certain to attract travel in this direction as soon as the public are made aware of them, and steps should at once be taken having this end in view.

A Common Experience.

Scene I.—Mr. Johnston is obliged to give up work, remain in the house and take care of himself on account of dreadful scrofula sore on one of his limbs.

Scene II.—Mr. Johnson reads a testimonial which tells of scrofulous troubles cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

He resolves to try it, sends for a bottle and begins taking it.

Scene III.—Mr. Johnson has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla. His scrofula sores cured. He is feeling stronger, has a good appetite and is able to attend his work. He writes a testimonial telling of his experience with Hood's Sarsaparilla, and recommends it to others.

Quebec Chronicle:—Amongst the passengers on board the SS. State of California, which arrived here Saturday evening, were 200 British tars bound for the Pacific coast, and, as their contract with the Canadian Pacific Railway provided for a 40-minute stop every six hours for recreation during their trip from here to the coast, the tars decided that a few games of football would be the best possible exercise they could have, and, therefore, secured from the Griffiths Cycle Corporation, Limited, St. John street, half a dozen "Bull Dog" footballs. The tars ought to be able to give a good account of themselves with any of the coast teams on their arrival there, under the able captaincy of Mr. Geo. Duncan, the popular agent of the C. P. R. here, who accompanies them to the coast, and who was unanimously elected captain of the several teams. The Quebec Rugby Club should not lose sight of him on his return after such an experience.

Although the local Rugby team was unable to arrange a match for to day, still two good ones are promised in the near future. Knox College will send a team down next week and Trinity University plays here the week after. Both these matches will be close and exciting and as the local boys are now in splendid shape they hope to win both.

HEARTILY APPROVED BY ORGANIZED LABOUR.

DOMINION AND ONTARIO GOVERNMENTS WARMLY COMMENDED.

The Trades and Labour Council Gratified With Hon. William Mulock's Order Respecting the Mail Bag Contracts.

Organized labour in Toronto on Thursday night placed on record its appreciation of the action of the Ontario Government and Postmaster-General of the Dominion in recognising the justice of the contention that fair wages should be paid for fair work. It also gave expression to its gratification at the declaration of Sir Wilfred Laurier that the principle enunciated by Hon. William Mulock in his departmental order respecting contracts for mail bags should be extended to all departments of Government.

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

The Legislative Committee in its report said:—"No doubt your body will be much pleased in learning that on the suggestion of organized labour and because of the principle involved the Government of Ontario, of which Hon. A. S. Hardy is Premier and Attorney-General, has recognized the justice of the contention that at least fair wages should be paid by contractors on work or for goods and supplies furnished to the Government of the Province, for in a contract entered into between the printing and binding firm of Brown Bros., of Toronto, and the Department of the Attorney-General, signed and dated the 25th, of last month (September) for the manufacture of municipal cash books for use by municipal treasurers in the Province of Ontario, it is among other things provided: That in respect of the printing, binding and other works to be done in connection with the publication of the said books, they (the parties of the first part) will pay a rate of wages at least equal to what is known as the union rate of wages."

Following upon

THIS WISE AND JUST ACTION

on the part of the Ontario Government, comes the more comprehensive step determined on and given effect to by the Postmaster-General of Canada (Hon. William Mulock), and the distinct promise of the Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of the Dominion, that the principles and provisions enunciated in the departmental order of Hon. Mr. Mulock respecting all work performed by or under contract for the post office are henceforth to be part of and shall be embodied in all contracts for the several departments of the Government of which he is the honoured and able head and leader."

The committee recommended that the council, by resolution, give definite expression to its appreciation of the action of the Ontario Government and of the Postmaster-General.

LINES WRITTEN IN A JUNK YARD

(With apologies to Rudyard Kipling.)

A fool there was and he bought a wheel,
(Even as you and I),
Some leather and rubber and a hunk of steel,
(We knew how sore in a week he'd feel),
But the fool only thought of the miles he'd reel,
(Even as you and I).

Oh, the trouble he spent, and how double he bent!
(The fool with his badpipe wheel),
For the dealer had secured of honest intent,
And had told him 'twas cheaper to buy than rent,
But that wasn't at all what the dealer meant,
(The dealer that sold the wheel).

For the wheels weren't round, and the tubes weren't sound,
(The wheel that lies there on the heap);
And the tires were made of paper, he found,
While the bearings were cast-iron balls—unground,
And he'd sell the whole thing for a cent a pound,
(The wheel that he got so cheap).

Overheard in the Park.

"Don't you think," said the girl with the blue sash, "that Charley Travers is about the silliest thing you ever saw?"

"Oh, I don't know," replied the girl with the red sash; "I think I've seen more foolish people than he is."

"But he says such stupid things!"

"Does he? Perhaps he only says stupid things when he happens to be in the company of stupid people."

"Why, Jess, how you talk! You know you used to say that he reminded you of a jumping jack!"

"Mame Brubank, I never said such a thing in my life!"

The girl with the blue sash was silent for a moment. Then she rather angrily replied:

"Well, I suppose you have your own reason for being contrary to-day."

"I'm not contrary," the girl with the red sash replied, and there was a savage flash in her eyes. "If you must know it, I'm engaged to be married to Charley Travers. Don't worry, though, about a wedding present!"

Then the girl with the blue sash went over and sat on another bench, and punched the gravel with her parasol, and thought.—Cleveland Leader.

BIKE AND BLOOMERS.

At the Cycle Club.—First Member—How would it do to agitate for a law allowing bicyclists to use the sidewalks and compelling pedestrians to walk in the middle of the street?

Second Member—Well, that idea seems a little premature just now. After a time we might demand such a law on the principle of the greatest good of the greatest number.—Puck.

Wheeler—I find I can keep nicely cool by riding on my wheel.

Ryder—Yes; that ice wagon of yours ought to keep anyone cool.—Indianapolis Journal.

"No, sir, you don't catch me having anything to do with a wheel. I've had enough of it. Lost two teeth and a knee cap."

"But you shouldn't be discouraged so easily. Try it again."

"Try it again! Why, good lordy, I was walking."—Cleveland Plain Dealer

The Console:—Oh, well, Longsout wasn't so very slow in that bicycle race, although he didn't come in first.

The Sorrowing One—No: I believe he did say the color in his sweater was fast.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

"Now, then," exclaimed the irate father, as he squared off and began rolling up his sleeves, "I want you to explain why you stole my daughter away."

"I didn't steel her," the young man replied. "She went willingly, and there isn't a court on earth that will not agree with me."

"You lie!" the trembling old gentleman cried; "you know you lie! You got her out onto that tandem bicycle of yours and carried her away. Speak! Is it not so?"

"It is true," the other replied, "that we went away on a tandem; but that fact only proves that I could not possibly have taken her against her will. Have you ever been on a tandem?"

"No!" screamed the stricken father, "never!"

"Then that accounts for your ignorance in the present case. Didn't you know that a woman generally sits in front, and picks out the course to be pursued?"

With a heart-breaking groan the white-haired old man sank down, crying:

"Alas! 'tis true! I hadn't thought of that. What'll you have?"—Cleveland Leader.

AN AWFUL SORE

A Babe's Untold Suffering And Mother's Many Sleepless Nights.

CUTICURA WORKS WONDERS.

I herewith write out in full the beginning and end of that terrible disease, Eczema, which caused my babe untold suffering, and myself many sleepless nights.

My baby was born seemingly a fair, healthy child, but when she was three weeks old a swelling appeared on the back of her head, and in course of time broke. Every one called it a boil, and, now it had broken, would soon heal, but that was only the beginning of the trouble. It did not heal but grew worse, and the sore spread from the size of a dime to that of a dollar. I used all kinds of remedies that I could think of but nothing seemed to help, in fact it grew worse, her hair fell out where the sore was and I feared it would never grow again. It continued until my aged father came on a visit, and when he saw the baby he told me "to get CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA ointment right away." To please him I did so, and to my surprise, by their use the sore began to heal over, the hair grew over it, and to-day she has a nice head of hair, her skin is as fair as a lily, and she has no scar left to recall that awful sore.

CUTICURA soothes and allays all itching and burning that cause a child to fret and the mother to worry, and gives rest and comfort both to parent and child.

NO EVIDENCE TO SHOW

That W. H. Ponton Robbed the Bank at Napanee

SAID MAGISTRATE DALY SATURDAY.

An Indescribable Scene Followed the Announcement and Formal Discharge of the Popular Bank Clerk—A General Handshaking Rejoicing—Saturday's Proceedings.

Napanee, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—At 9.15 Saturday night Magistrate Daly announced that there was absolutely no evidence on which to send Ponton for trial on the charge of breaking into the Dominion Bank branch here on the night of Aug. 27 and stealing $32,000, and the accused was, therefore, allowed his liberty.

It is hard to describe the scene that followed the formal discharge of W. H. Ponton. The friends of the popular bank clerk crowded over the railings surrounding the officials' table and showered congratulations. He shook hands with his lawyers and the reporters, and with tears of joy in his eyes and a big lump of thanksgiving in his throat expressed his gratitude to those who had so faithfully stuck to him in his troubles. Afterwards he was accorded several ovations at different parts of the town, until he reached the train which took his mother and himself to Belleville, where they spent Sunday.

A heavy rainstorm did not prevent the court house being well crowded when the case was resumed Saturday morning. The clouds cleared away and the crowd increased, and in the afternoon the place was filled to its fullest capacity. Friends of the accused sat or stood up in all parts of the building and listened with the greatest interest to the evidence, particularly that of the prisoner, who made a much better witness than he did yesterday. After Ponton's testimony had been concluded half a dozen witnesses gave evidence in explanation of the unenviable position the prisoner was in.

When Ponton took the stand this morning he looked perfectly at ease, and appeared to wish to answer all questions put to him to the best of his ability.

Mr. Madden went again into Ponton's financial dealings.

Then Mr. Madden referred to those racing affairs, and witness replied at great length as to his small ventures on the course. The cross-examination proceeded, and witness said in answer to questions:

"I don't know who was last in my room on the night of Aug. 27. I had two drinks and a cigar with Hawley at the Paisley House. The bar may or may not have been closed for the night. Hawley and I were the only two in the bar. I do not think it had been closed. I swear there was no man in my room on Saturday night till 4 a.m. four weeks before the robbery. I have never had a man in my room as late as 4 in the morning. I was sometimes away in Belleville over Sunday, but left no one in charge of my rooms and took the key with me. I possibly expressed to Mr. Durand dissatisfaction at the salary I was getting. I knew Durand was coming home on the Sunday after the robbery. We knocked around a lot together and sometimes had a drink. We did not drink to excess. After taking a couple of drinks we have gone over to the bank. I did not know where the keys of the combination were kept until after the robbery. Durand and I may have played poker in the bank a couple of times in the summer. I cannot remember how many times. We have played poker in there till about 11 o'clock. Other fellows outside of the bank were there. There might have been more than two occasions on which I was there."

At Mr. Madden's request, Ponton named several of his associates who had been in the bank at night. Particular questioning was indulged in regarding Stapleton, a baseball player, who was here last summer, and the witness replied:

"Stapleton came here from Oshawa or Fredericksburg. I did not bring him here. I made arrangements to have him board at the Paisley House, and I have not yet paid that bill, although I had $80 in my pocket book. I was never requested to pay it. Last time I saw Stapleton was shortly after the baseball match with Yarker. I was not speaking of going to Klondike with Stapleton. I have talked about going to Klondike with several people in Napanee. I have played poker in Durand's rooms sometimes last winter. I was often up there, but I only played poker on one occasion. I have played in some private houses, and have played in a steamboat going down the river, and I did not lose more times than I won. I won't say I made my money playing poker. None of this $80 was poker money. I offered to make out a statement of my financial affairs for Dougherty and Bogart when they were questioning me, but they did not ask me to do so. I could have made it out if I had wished, and would have done so had they asked me. I cannot say how often I had Baines' key of the lower compartment, and I am sure I never gave it to anyone."

"To whom did you give the key to enter your room on the night of the robbery?" asked Mr. Madden.

"No one," said witness.

Continuing, witness said: "I had no knowledge of the combination of the safe at any time and I never saw figures on the calendar before they came into court. My acquaintance with the young men named was for no improper or illegal purpose.

"I had probably had a dozen interviews with the detectives before I refused to turn out my pockets. They made some threatening expressions such as if I wanted to take anything back I could do so. I was examined more by Mr. Dougherty than anyone else. Insinuations were made at these interviews."

"I never mentioned to Bogart that I had saved money until the last interview. Mr. Bogart said my explanations were very unsatisfactory. I was mistaken if I said to Mr. Madden I saved that I had not told anyone I had saved money before I told it in court."

"After my accident I received three months' salary besides about $70 from the accident company, so I had about $215. Of this I had to pay $14 a month for nearly three months, which was $42. Your doctor's bill was $35."

The figures of what his incidental expenses during his illness were gone into and showed that Ponton should have had a good surplus.

"I am between 24 and 25 years of age; my birthday is on January 28th. I have had very little experience with combination locks. I never saw the inside of a combination lock before Mr. Young showed one to me after the robbery. As far as questions answered for Mr. Madden, I was speaking by guess and memory. My idea in accepting money from Jellett was to pay $5 a month in return, as I did. My idea right along was solely to pay my way out of my salary and save the $80.

CHAS. A. DANA DEAD.

The Venerable Editor of The New York Sun and One of the Oldest Newspaper Men on the Continent.

New York, Oct. 17.—Charles A. Dana, editor of he Sun, died at 1.20 this afternoon, at his home, near Glencove, Long Island. His death had been expected for several hours, and his family and physicians were at his bedside when the end came. Mr. Dana's condition had been such for several months that the members of his family and kept themselves in constant readiness to go to his bedside at any moment. On Saturday morning he had a relapse, and it was apparent that recovery was impossible. Several times, however, he rallied, but toward night he began to sink. During the night there were feeble rallies, but they did not last long. This morning it was seen that the end was but a few hours off, and his attendants remained almost constantly at the bedside. The end came quietly.

TOOK LAUDANUM

And Died, Rather Than Face a Division Court Judgment Summons—Col. Benson's Sad Fate.

Colborne, Ont., Oct. 16.—Col. Benson, an English gentleman, who has been boarding in the town and vicinity during the past ten years, quietly disappeared from his boarding house on the morning of the 14th of September without alarming any of the inmates. A couple of days ago some children were out gathering beechnuts and they detected a peculiar scent issuing from a certain portion of the woods and notified their parents, who at once began a search, and the body of Col. Benson was found this morning about 10 o'clock by Mr. Ira Brown in a marsh along the lake shore about three miles from the village. The body was in such a decomposed state that it was impossible to ascertain the cause of death. A post-mortem examination of the body will be held this afternoon, when the facts of the case will be learned.

It is supposed the Colonel took a dose of laudanum, and died rather than face a Division Court summons.

Sentence Suspended.

Halifax, Oct. 16.—In the Davidson murder case to-day counsel for defence raised a legal objection to the evidence of Dr. [illegible] concerning the dying declaration of the man. Chief Justice Macdonald reserved the point, reserving it for consideration at a meeting of the full term court. Sentence is accordingly suspended.

Another Lynching.

New Orleans, Oct. 16.—D[illegible] Roulte, a negro leader, was lynched in a small settlement on Bayou Barataria, about 15 miles from this city yesterday. His offence was running the quarantine gauntlet.

HOMELESS IN TENTS

Are the 4000 People Burned Out at Windsor, N.S.

FIRE FIEND'S AWFUL VISITATION.

A Stiff Gale Helped the Flames, Which are Supposed to Have Been Started in a Barn by Lightning—Scenes at the Disaster—A Loss of Three Million Dollars.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 17.—A waste of smoking ruins is the town of Windsor. A conflagration, which started in a barn between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning, swept through the entire town, burning all day, and destroying nearly every building in the place. The condition of the inhabitants is most deplorable, few houses are left standing in the town and 4000 people were without shelter or food all day.

The fire is supposed to have been started by lightning striking a barn in the rear of the Marine Block, on the main street. A stiff gale was blowing from the northwest and the flames spread with awful rapidity, there being a conflagration of considerable proportions on hand before the local fire brigade could get to work.

In a short time the fire was beyond control and swept through the business section, sparing nothing. The flames were carried thence all through the town, eating up building after building in a twinkling. Beyond the scattered dwellings in the outskirts and a half dozen buildings in the town proper, nothing escaped destruction.

Those which were not consumed, owing to their detached or somewhat isolated position, were: King's College, the cotton factory, the Church of England rectory and school, Edgehill School for Girls and the Dufferin Hotel.

An hour after the fire started the Mayor began to summon outside assistance, the call on Halifax being responded to by two companies of the City Fire Department, which reached Windsor shortly after daylight.

The Halifax authorities adopted prompt measures to extend relief and early this afternoon a trainload of provisions was despatched. By the same train a detachment of the Royal Berkshire Regiment and Royal Engineers started for Windsor, taking with them 500 army tents and a large quantity of canned goods and other food ready for immediate use. The tents were erected in open spaces as quickly as possible after arrival, and to-night are shelter ing all those who have been unable to obtain other quarters.

General Montgomery Moore, commander of the forces; Lieutenant-Governor Daly and Mayor Stephen proceeded to Windsor by the train which carried the soldiers, provisions and tents, and assisted the town officials in directing the relief measures.

Loss $3,000,000.

The total loss will probably reach $3,000,000. Among the insurance companies affected are the following: Union $7000, Royal $23,000, Queen [illegible]0,000, Guardian $21,000, Sun $24,000. The Acadian, Halifax and Quebec Companies are also heavy losers.

Altogether about 400 business places and dwellings were wiped out of existence. By the time night settled down most of the homeless people had secured temporary quarters in the dwellings in the outskirts and the surrounding country, while those who remained found shelter in the military tents. The chief losses by the calamity are included in the list following. Most of the merchants are partially covered by insurance. A few are fully covered, but the total insurance is estimated at only about $500,000.

Losses: C. M. Shaw, Marine Block, $17,000; W. H. Curry & Co., $10,000; Shaw Bros., $8000; Payzants Block, $18,000; Graham's Block, $20,000; Victoria Hotel, $15,000; Blanchard Block, $22,000; C. & G. Wilson's Block, $18,000; Dimock & Armstrong's, $22,000; J. B. Shaw's Block, $21,000; C. H. Dimock's Block, $14,000; building occupied by F. F. Murphy, Wood & Murphy, $17,000; Commercial Block, $26,000; C. P. Shaw, $12,000; G. D. Gilbert & Co., $30,000; A. E. Robinson, $12,000; Churchill Block, $28,000; new school building, $7000; Keith's Building, $8000; Wilson Bros., $22,000; Gerrish Block, $21,000; Borden's Block, $14,000; Post-office and Custom House, $26,000; Empire Block, $16,000; John Lynch & Sons, $10,000; Avon Hotel, $6000; Somerset House, $12,000; Gerrish Hall, $15,000; gaol and Court House, $19,000; Methodist Church, $15,000; Baptist Church, $22,000; Presbyterian Church, $12,000; Catholic Church, $4000; Dr. A. Haley's residence, $14,000; C. Dewolfe Smith's residence, $20,000; Windsor Foundry Co., $40,000; Electric Light Co., $32,000, Windsor Plaster Co., $12,000.

Among some of the fine residences destroyed were those of Dr. Black, Dr. Moody, Dr. Gossip, Dr. Reid, John Keith, John Lynch, Mrs. G. E. Perzyche, John Doran, W. O'Brien, T. B. Smith, J. E. Graham, W. M. Christie, W. A. Smith, Mrs. J. F. Carver, R. B. Dakin, Hon. M. H. Goudge, Mayor Smith, J. C. Gilbert, Arthur King, and others.

To-night there are dark hints regarding the origin of the catastrophe. As already stated, the fire started in a barn in the centre of the town. This was often frequented at night by drunken bums and many Windsor people now express the opinion that the disaster originated from carelessness or the criminal act of someone spending the night in the barn. The suspicions are fastened on one man in particular, who disappeared early in the day.

To-night most of the homeless people have been quartered in the outskirts of the town and surrounding country, but here and there one meets fathers and mothers looking for their children, and people seeking shelter. The military tents on Fort Edward and in College Field are all occupied, and the whole County of Hants has come to the assistance of the sufferers.

Early in the morning Manager MacKee announced that the Western Union Telegraph Company would transmit relief messages, and all day messages of sympathy have been pouring in upon the stricken town, tendering relief and offering lodging to the homeless.

A Working Man

Able to Keep His Place in Spite of Difficulties.

He Writes About His Condition—Wife and Children Helped.

WALLACEBURG, ONT.—The following letter will prove of interest to working men and others who may be in a condition similar to that of the writer:

"For three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I have been working at the barber trade for about 20 years and for the last four years I have been very closely confined and have had my meals very irregularly. I was taken with a

and the doctors said it was caused by my stomach troubles. I lost flesh and became so weak I was hardly able to stand up to the chair to work. One day I happened to be looking over some testimonial letters and I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before I had taken two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt finely and had gained 21 pounds in weight. I have taken nearly five bottles and now I feel like a man again. I am than I have ever been in my life. My wife and children have also taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for a blood medicine and realized much benefit from it. As for myself I cannot say too much for it. I firmly believe that if it had not been for Hood's Sarsaparilla I would not have been able to work at my trade any longer." JOHN W. COUGHLIN. Get only HOOD'S.

Stronger and Healthier

HAS ANYTHING BEEN DONE?

A fortnight ago at the quarterly meeting of the Board of Trade a resolution was adopted, referring the matter of procuring the manufacture of the timber cut on the Dickson Company's Scott limits in Peterborough, to the Manufacturers committee Has anything been done in this matter? Has the committee sought a conference with the town council, as called upon to do by the terms of the resolution adopted? In the abstract there is no objection to having the cutting done in Lakefield, where it can be done perhaps at as good advantage as in Peterborough. But that is beside the question. The Board of Trade is supposed to exist for the promotion of the commercial and, especially, the industrial interests of the town and the people naturally look to them and to the town council for action in this direction. It is palpably in the interests of the citizens generally, of wage-earners and of merchants, that we have the benefit of the expenditure of the earnings made possible by the Dickson Company's mills in Peterborough being operated. Such operation means the employment of at least 150 persons the year round, either in the mills or in the woods, and what that means is easy of computation, not to count the advantages to the poorer classes of access to a supply of cheap fuel. What is the Board of Trade doing? The committee to which the matter was referred have had two weeks to decide upon some course of action. The people are beginning to think that the Board is indifferent to the advantages that accrue to the town from encouraging local industries, though activity is great enough over some foreign concern of which little is known, and whose presence might not be of very great advantage after that presence was procured. The people have reason to ask if the matter in question is likely to go by default, as was the question of bringing the annual convention of dairymen to Peterborough on the part of the Town Council. This important matter, and the very great advantages it would be to Peterborough, were repeatedly urged upon the Council, but nothing was done, and we see the town of Lindsay securing the prize—the presence of two or three hundred prominent men in session for several days, with all the obvious advantages such a presence represents. In these days of keen competition, prompt, decisive action is demanded. The proverb says that "All things come to him that waits," but this doesn't apply to sawmills and dairy conventions.

CANADIAN CREDIT.

Thanks to the prominence into which Sir Wilfrid Laurier has brought Canada and Canadian resources, the credit of Canada is better now than at any period in its history. The new Canadian loan recently negotiated by Mr. Fielding, Finance Minister, shows that the British capitalists have confidence in the financial standing of the Dominion, and also that Canadian financial institutions, which naturally know the situation more intimately, share that confidence. The new loan is pronounced the greatest financial achievement in the history of the country and the first loan of importance floated in London in which Canadian institutions were anxious to secure a large share. Two million pounds were offered; the rate was fixed at 2½ per cent., and the lowest price at 91. The offers amounted to £4,200,000, twice as much as was asked, and as high as 92½ was bid in some of the tenders, and 91½ was the average amount bidden for a $100 bond. This indicates a condition of Canadian credit that many independent powers do not possess when they enter the London money markets. Besides the rate of interest is lower than any other previous Canadian loan. The last loan put through by Hon. Mr. Foster, draws a rate of ·16, while the present loan draws only 2.63 per cent. For the 1869 loan 4.50 was paid. As referred to above the activity of Canadian capitalists is a gratifying feature. Canadian capitalists tendered for four millions out of the ten millions offered. With British and Canadian confidence strong in Canadian resources and with careful custodians of our national interests Canadians have reason to be proud of the standing this country has advanced to among the nations of the world.

MR. WHITNEY, to put it mildly, is mighty "innocent." At Lindsay somebody in the audience was evidently put up to ask Mr. Whitney if it was true that Michigan lumbermen were contributing $200,000 to support Mr. Hardy's election. Mr. Whitney's ingenuous reply that he did not dispute the statement is unworthy of a public man. He knew, he felt in his heart that there was no truth in the statement, and yet he gave the impression that it might be so. Such a position does not add to the reputation of the Opposition leader. Fairness is a characteristic of the manner in which political discussion is carried on these days. Mr. Whitney tells a prominent East Peterborough man that the Globe, an opposing journal, has given a better report his meetings than the Mail and Empire, an example that Mr. Whitney should have profited by, by flatly denying a yarn like the alleged contributions of Michigan lumberman to Ontario election funds. It is considered a very low order of politicians that circulate the story of "British Hold" in United States elections that periodically crops up; and it does not add to Mr. Whitney's reputation for fairness that he should admit the possibility of the truth of the preposterious yarn about the gold of Michigan lumbermen, which he knows is untrue.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all suffers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, WM. T. MCLEOD, Agency Supplies, P.O. Box 50, St. Henri, Que.

Fatal Collapse in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 15.—About 8.50 o'clock to-night, as the performance at Robinson's Opera House was in progress, the plastering began to fall from the centre of the dome ceiling, 40 and 50 feet above the heads of the people in the parquet. This continued three minutes, causing a rush from the house. The theatre and galleries were partially emptied when the dome in the centre of the roof, with its supporting timbers and trusses, came lumbering down. The dome extended across the opera house and was about 30 feet wide. When it fell the ends struck both sides of the gallery, crushing it and scattering timbers in every direction, and finally landing in the centre of the parquet.

There are three dead and 33 more or less seriously injured at the Cincinnati Hospital, while many suffered slight injuries, but were able to go to their homes.

THE PREMIER AT QUEBEC.

Sir Wilfrid Listens to Grievances and Makes Promises Special Reference to the I.C.R. Extension.

Quebec, Oct. 16.—This morning an influential delegation named by the Quebec Board of Trade waited on Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of Canada, and placed before him not only the many grievances, but likewise the requirements necessary to enable Quebec to compete with Montreal, and thus contribute to the Ancient Capital's prosperity.

Sir Wilfrid, in rising to respond to the address, said that in part he was unable to discuss the important matters put before him as a member of Parliament for Quebec East, but as Prime Minister of Canada, in which position he was guardian of the interests of the welfare of the whole Dominion.

Speaking of the dredging of the mud channel from Montreal to Quebec, Sir Wilfrid said the Government would only undertake public works when the same would be a benefit to the whole country.

He also referred to the bridge across the St. Lawrence, and assured his listeners that it would have a generous support from the Government.

Referring to the Intercolonial Railway and its diversion from Quebec to Montreal to find a terminus, the Premier said that he understood the situation thoroughly, and proceeded to recount a history of the Intercolonial Railway from the time of its construction from Halifax, N.S., to River du Loup, and later the purchase of the branch of the G.T.R. from the latter place to Chaudiere Junction by the Mackenzie Government. The I.C.R. was a terrible drag on the country, and instead of paying even its running expenses, unfortunately showed a deficit every year, at times as much as $1,000,000. That something had to be done to stop this terrible leakage and burden on the Government there was no doubt, and after a careful and practical study the conclusion was arrived at that a terminus must be found that would enable the I.C.R. to compete with other railroads, and especially the G.T.R., which was carrying 80 per cent. of the grain trade that the St. Lawrence route did not handle, more than 10 per cent. of the trade, and that the grain was exported to Portland and Boston to the detriment of the Canadian shippers. The Premier showed that it was essential for them to find a terminus at Montreal in order to compete with the other trunk lines, and if it would have been an advantage for the terminus to be in Quebec, he would have done his best to carry out such an undertaking, but the policy of the Government is to have advantageous connection with the west, and predicted that the grain trade would yet pass by the St. Lawrence route.

I could hardly move about without the aid of a chair, on which to lean. Hearing of the great good done by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I tried them. I used four boxes and can now get along without any help. I am cured, and you may publish this for the benefit of other sufferers."

THE PRESS OF LONDON

All Comment Favorably on Canada's Latest Loan.

HON. MR. FIELDING CABLES ABOUT IT

The Globe and The Post Describe It as a Great Success The Security Practically Ranks With Trustee Issues—The Dominion the Pioneer of Cheap Borrowing.

London, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—I called on Mr. Fielding today, who was much pleased with the success of the loan. It was thought there might be difficulty in floating it owing to the low rate, this being the first time a colonial loan was ever offered at two and a half. Exchange also rose the day before, which, it was expected, would affect the subscription, but it did not. The loan was subscribed more than twice over. The press is generally very congratulatory on Canada's credit. Mr. Fielding and the Bank of Montreal, the issuers of the loan, receiving many congratulations from prominent financiers. Mr. Fielding receives a deputation to urge the passage of an insolvency law on Thursday. He has many other important appointments to discuss Canadian affairs. He finds keen interest in Canadian affairs and the greatest friendliness towards Canada.

Ottawa, Oct. 16. Mr. Courtney, Deputy Minister of Finance, received the following cablegram to-day from Hon. Mr. Fielding, Minister of Finance:

"All press comments on Canadian loan are favorable. Globe describes it as a great success. The Financial Post uses the same words.

"The Daily Mail says: 'As Canada is the first colony to attempt to borrow at 2 1-2 per cent., the result will probably have a stimulating effect upon other colonial government securities. A lesson is to be drawn from this, especially in regard to the agitation that has lately been afoot to make colonial government securities trustee stocks, when the patriotism of a colony is so pronounced as in the case of Canada, and when the finances are so ably administered. The security practically ranks with trustee issues, nor is there any occasion to pine for actual admission to the sacred precincts. India 2 1-2 per cents., which are a full trustee security, stand at 55. Canada 2 1-2 per cents., which will have to be regarded as the pioneer of cheap borrowing on the part of the colonies, have been thought worth a shade over 91 1-2 by the astutest financiers in the city. Australian Colonial Governments will doubtless see the full force of the position, and will know what they have got to do if they wish to increase the confidence of the British investors.'"

Lieut.-Col. Bliss' condition to-day is slightly improved. It is hard to tell before a week's time as to whether he will ultimately recover. The nurse girl, Nellie Dallaire, is still unconscious, but appears to be improving.

Montreal, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—The splendid success of the Canadian loan and the allotment of so handsome a portion to Montreal and Toronto tenderers is still the absorbing topic of conversation in financial and business circles. The suggestion that the great deal will disturb the local money market is not altogether shared by the Montreal bankers, as it is generally held that the institutions investing in the new Government loan, such as banks and insurance companies, will use it as their reserve, so it is not at all probable that the transactions will have the effect of increasing the rate of interest at the Canadian banks. Your correspondent paid a visit to the different banks yesterday in order to ascertain, if possible, the exact amount of the loan that had been secured by the Canadian institutions, and, although a good deal of reticence was shown, the following list will probably be found fairly correct: Bank of Montreal, $750,000; Bank of British North America, $500,000; Merchants' Bank of Canada, $500,000; Canadian Bank of Commerce, $500,000; Imperial Bank, $250,000; Bank of Toronto, $250,000; Molsons Bank, $250,000; Mayor Wilson-Smith, $250,000; Jacques Cartier Bank, $125,000; Hochelaga Bank, $125,000. Other institutions in Toronto and Hamilton, $500,000; total $4,000,000. It is also understood that New York was allotted about $1,000,000, the other $5,000,000 being given to the Old Country. The above figures prove unquestionably that should any Government, either local or Dominion, require any amount of money in the future, say up to $5,000,000, there would be no need whatever for the state borrower to go out of Canada in order to secure the required loan. The total expenses necessary to float such a loan in the English market will be from 2 to 3 per cent., and it is said the Bank of Montreal gets 1 per cent. for handling the Fielding loan, which will give to that institution the handsome sum of $100,000.

THE ONTARIO ELECTIONS.

Toronto, Oct. 18.—Premier Hardy has denied the accuracy of the report telegraphed on Saturday that he said there would be a session in February and that the elections would be held in June or July next. What he did say was: "The statements attributed to me are quite inaccurate. What I said was we would be required (by law) to go to the country by June or July, and that the usual time for the meeting of the Legislature was early in February, but I made no statement as to when either of these events would take place."

Two Hundred Drowned.

Havana, Oct. 16.—Meagre news of the total loss of the steamer Triton from Havana to Bahia Honda has reached this city from Mariel, which has been reached by the purser and one of the passengers, who succeeded in making their way to the town along the coast. The reports which reach here indicate that over 200 persons lost their lives in the wreck, besides the crew of 30 men. The passengers consisted of soldiers and civilians, the soldiers numbering about 100. They had been despatched from Havana to the Province of Pinar del Rio, within which lies Bahia Honda. Several well-known merchants of Havana also were among those on the vessel.

Undoubtedly the Best.

Gentlemen.—I wish to say that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has proved a wonderful remedy in my family. We would not be without it for twice its price. I say it is the best (not merely one of the best—but the best) medicine ever brought before the public for summer complaint or diarrhœa, either in children or adults.

DROWNED IN SHALLOW WATER.

James McGuire's Body Found in the Canal at Iroquois - An Accident Insurance Policy Found in His Clothes.

Iroquois, Ont., Oct. 16.—A man named James McGuire, a canal worker, was found in the canal this morning, apparently drowned. There are timbers on the side of the canal to keep vessels in the centre, and cross-timbers over these. It was in the space between the outside timber and the bank, where the water is from 1 to 2 feet deep, that the body was found. The marks show that the man had one arm on the timber after he was in the water, and the marvel is how he could drown in such shallow water and with good facilities for getting out. Yesterday being pay day, a good many of the men indulged pretty freely last night, which may account for it, without imputing foul play. Coroner Chamberlain of Morrisburg was summoned, and the matter will no doubt be investigated.

An accident policy, issued by the Travelers' Insurance Association of Hartford, numbered 856718, and dated Aug. 8, 1895, for $1000, in favor of Alex. McGuire, was found on his person; also $3.95 in cash and a pocketbook, with address indicating that he had recently been a resident of Lowell, Mass.

PEOPLE YOU KNOW

When people you know give their evidence you have confidence in it much more so than when strangers talk.

These people are people you know, Peterborough People, and you can credit every word they say.

HERE IS ONE:

Mrs. Sarah Henderson, 392 McDonel St., Peterborough, Ont., says: "For a number of years I was a great sufferer from pain in my back, complicated with terrible headaches. Oh my! how my head did ache.

A dizziness would come over me at times, and a filmy mist seemed to cover my eyes so that I could scarcely see. Often I would stagger as if intoxicated.

I could not sleep at night; my hands and arms used to swell and puff up, and I was in a condition of great misery, unable to work and almost in despair.

I doctored a great deal and took many medicines, but everything I tried failed. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I got a box at Jas. Lynch's Drug Store. The change for the better was wonderful.

The first few doses seemed to lift a load from my aching back, and on taking three boxes I can conscientiously say that I am perfectly cured of all my complaints. I cannot too highly recommend this wonderful remedy."

The French Retiring.

London, Oct. 16.—A dispatch from Lagos, says that the British forces sent to the Hinterland have occupied various posts on the north-western frontier, and that the French are apparently retiring to Bousa.

The Northwest Campaign.

Winnipeg, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—In his speech at Moose Jaw, opening the Northwest election campaign, Premier Haultain said he would know no party politics in the new assembly, no Grit or Tory. He was content with the simple name "a Norwester." If they had good roads, bridges and means of communication, and above all good schools, he thought they would be going a very long way towards good government.

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or a woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a great discourager of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what bad breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomacah, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. There is no case of biliousness, indigestion, "heartburn," or any of the rest of the nightmare breeding brood that these little "Pellets" will not cure.

Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

Providence Thanked

It is with pleasure that I recommend B.B.B. for the cure of indigestion and impure blood. I had tried many medicines but received no benefit until, I thank Providence, I was advised to use B.B.B., and it was with perfect success.

SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC

Robson Brown, of Valetta, July 28th, 1891, says:—

"I am sorry under the circumstances to write to you, but I feel it my duty, as I have been troubled with Dyspepsia for years, took dollars' worth of medicine and pills, but got no relief till I commenced taking your Sloan's Indian Tonic. I think I have taken 8 or 10 bottles in all, and I feel as if I have got a new lease of life, I feel so much better. I was in the habit of keeping a bottle in the house so when costive I would take a dose or two with instant relief. Now I am troubled with costive spells very often, and it was the only medicine that gave me instant relief. It seems as if I have lost my best friend. Now I would like to hear from you by return mail, as I would like to have a bottle as soon as possible.

Mrs. H. Palmer, of Ridgetown, Ont., says: I was afflicted for a number of years with Erysipelas and Neuralgia in my face, and one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me entirely, and I would recommend it to others, either for Erysipelas or Neuralgia.

Mrs. Henry Hale, of Blenheim, Ont., says: Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me of Malarial Fever and Chills and Neuralgia. When I was down sick in bed I purchased a bottle of the Tonic and it cured me entirely, and I have not been troubled with Fever or Neuralgia since.

The Somersault Cure.

Ladies, as a rule, are very particular about the figure, and spare no expense or effort to improve it. Hence the corsets and classic tights which form so large a portion of society papers. But a Swedish woman has invented the "somersault cure," and started it at Chicago. We recommend it to the attention of our fair readers. She has great confidence in its efficacy, but finds it hard to induce ladies who are stout and dignified to adopt it. She has to use logic and patience for the purpose. "At 45, you know," as she remarks, "such an action seems an awful an awkward enterprise; but once you learn to turn somersaults, even at fifty, the exhilaration grows on you, and its effects on one's girdle measure are simply astonishing. The somersault does more for a clumsy, fat woman than anything I can recommend." It will probably take some time before the "somersault cure" will become popular in town, at least amongst ladies who are fat, fair and forty.

ROBBERY AT BOWMAN'S HOTEL.

Cash Box and Between $80 and $100 Stolen.

On the return to town after an absence of two days, Thursday and Friday last, Mr. and Mrs. Bowman, of the Oxford Hotel, George street, discovered that a cash box containing between $80 and $100 had been stolen during their absence.

The house had not been broken into and suspicion points to one of the parties to whom alone the location of the box was known. The box was not the one in every day use, but one into which occasional small sums were placed through a slot in the top and the contents could not be got at without breaking the box.

No arrests have been made so far, though from the fact that the knowledge of the existence of the box is so closely narrowed down to the parties no difficulty is expected in directly fixing the responsibility for the theft.

RUNAWAY AT NOON.

A Free Distribution of Bread Along Charlotte Street To-day.

The horse attached to Mr. A. E. Sims' bakery wagon took fright to-day at noon, whilst standing in front of Waller's grocery, on Charlotte street and ran away.

The animal ran west on Charlotte street as far as Park, where it was caught. No damage was done to either horse or rig. Strange to say, not even the glass in the windows of the cart were cracked. The only loss incurred is through the distribution along the street of the contents of the rig. The street is sprinkled with loaves of bread scattered along the entire distance.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Mr. Robert L. Brown and Miss Hannah P. Moore.

On Wednesday afternoon, October 13th, the residence of Mr. R. P. Moore, lot 1, concession 4, in the township of Scott, Ontario county, was the scene of a quiet and pretty wedding, it being the marriage of his sister, Miss Hannah P. Moore, one of the most estimable young ladies of the township, to Mr. Robert L. Brown, a wealthy farmer of the township of Esquesing, near Georgetown. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. E. Moore, Ph. D., of Peterborough, assisted by the Rev. Geo. Washington, M. A., of Sandford. The bride was given away by her brother, R. P., and was handsomely gowned in heliotrope, with pearl trimmings, silk lace and natural flowers. She was attended at the altar by her neice, Miss Clara Etta Thompson, while the groom was supported by Mr. Will Hamilton, after which the happy company, numbering over fifty, sat down to a dejeuner of exquisite taste and beauty. The newly wedded pair left by the G. T. R. evening Express for their home in the west. The presents were numerous, useful, beautiful and costly, expressing the high esteem in which the bride is held by her many friends.

IMMERSIONS AT INVERLEA.

Five New Members of the Christian Alliance are Baptised.

That the followers of the Christian Alliance are steadily increasing in numbers was evidenced yesterday at Inverlea Park, when five converts, two men and three women, were immersed in the Otonabee.

Although the day was cold a large number were in attendance at the service, which concluded shortly after five o'clock, when the baptisms took place, under the supervision of Pastor Zimmerman and Mr. J. C. Turnbull. A couple of tents were erected for the convenience of those immersed, who were thereby enabled to effect an immediate change of clothing.

WHO IS SHE.

The Clergy of St. John's Know Nothing Whatever of Her.

For some days past a woman has been collecting clothing, etc., in town for the benefit of a poor family which she stated was living with her.

In the south end she stated that Rev. J. C. Davidson, rector of St. John's, had authorized her to do the collecting, and in the north end of the town her story was that she was doing the work on behalf of the Woman's Auxiliary of All Saints church.

Neither Rev. Mr. Davidson or Rev. Mr. Armitage know anything whatever of the collector, and wish to announce that anyone authorized by them to do such work will have a written order.

DAILY TEMPERATURE RECORD

The following are readings of the official thermometers for this afternoon, as well as the highest and lowest yesterday—shade temperature:—

To-day—1 p. m.....54° above zero

	Highest.	Lowest
Yesterday	56°	34°

On the authority of the officials of the Toronto Observatory, Friday was the warmest October day experienced for fifty years. On Saturday afternoon there was a fall in temperature of over thirty degrees in a few hours. The highest temperature in October, 1896, was 65 deg. This has been exceeded already on nine days this month.

Warren Conlan at Bradburn's Opera House To-night.

The attraction at Bradburn's Opera House, giving three evenings and one afternoon performance, commencing Monday, October 18th, will be Warren Conlan and his Metropolitan Company, producing the following classic plays: "Othello," "Merchant of Venice," "The Fool's Revenge," and "Damon and Pythias." Of Warren Conlan, the Boston Globe says:—One of the most noteworthy additions to the list of dramatic attractions commanding the attention and appreciation of the exacting and discriminating public is Warren Conlan. He has a fine physique. As "Othello," the jealous Moor, his dramatic force and magnetism were like a giant whirlwind, sweeping all before it. It seemed as though Shakespeare must have had just such a man in his mind when he conceived and wrote the part. Miss Sadya Whiteford as "Desdemona" gives to the play an intensity that is really more of herself than of the drama. Everything about the production has made a hit, moving the audience to extraordinary excitement and ringing applause. The entire company act well and deserve the recognition bountifully bestowed upon them, for they are an unusually good all round company of talented people.

THE PASTORAL VISITS OF BISHOP O'CONNOR.

HE CALLS ON HIS NORTHERN PARISHIONERS.

Hundreds of Children Being Confirmed up in the Michipocoten Country by His Lordship.

On Sunday, Oct. 10th, His Lordship, Bishop O'Connor held confirmation at Verner, near Sturgeon Falls, administering the Sacrament to eighty-five children.

The sacred edifice was prettily decorated for the occasion, and the services of the day were very impressive. Rev. Fathers Langlois, P.P., of Verner, and Gingras, of Sturgeon Falls, were His Lordship's attendants, and the musical service was strengthened by the addition of several members of the Sturgeon Falls choir, under the direction of Mr. Leblanc.

His Lordship's instructions were profound, eloquent and touching, and left many happy recollections in the minds of the people there. The cemetery was visited and prayers for the dead recited.

On Tuesday the Warren mission was visited and the Sacrament of Confirmation administered to about 50 children. His Lordship and attendant clergy celebrating the same impressive ceremonies as at the other missions. Tuesday night His Lordship returned to Sturgeon Falls, and left again Thursday morning for Beaucage, accompanied by Rev. Fathers Gingras, of Sturgeon Falls, and Caron, of Sudbury, the Indian children having been prepared by the latter priest.

From Beaucage His Lordship went to North Bay, where he was on Sunday, accompanied by Rev. Father O'Leary.

From North Bay His Lordship will go to Callander and administer the sacrament there on Tuesday next, thence he will return home to Peterborough and hold confirmation service here on Sunday, 29th inst.

Everywhere His Lordship has been most enthusiastically received, and his tour of this portion of his extensive diocese has left many joyous souvenirs in the hearts of his faithful flock.

Mr. R. Neill is in Toronto to-day attending a meeting of the directors of the Toronto Rubber Co.

At the annual games of Trinity College School, Port Hope, W. C. McNeil of Peterborough took first prize in the road race.

Mrs. Rogers, widow of the late F. J. Rogers, late manager of the Peterborough branch of the Bank of Montreal, and family have given up their beautiful home on George street and gone to Port Hope to take residence.

The Cobourg World says: Mr. E. Odlum, who has been in town visiting friends, left on Wednesday for Peterborough, and will go from there to British Columbia, by way of Toronto, where he stops off to see friends.

Miss Webb, the elocutionist, who is to take part in the Charlotte street Methodist church concert this evening, is staying at the residence of Dr. Morrison, whilst in town, and Miss Norman, the vocalist, is the guest of Mrs. H. P. Kennedy.

Mr. Charles Franscisco, who was so badly burned by the explosion of some of his chemicals at the C. P. R. Hotel, when preparing a compound for renewing the school blackboards last spring, has just recovered from the effect of the shock, which was even more serious than the burns he received. He has returned to Peterborough from Toronto.

The many friends of Mr. Hugh McIndoo will be glad to learn that he has settled down in the city of Glasgow, Scotland. In a letter to the Rev. J. G. Potter he states that he is enjoying good health and spirits. Both he and Mrs. McIndoo have entered into fellowship with the Candlish Memorial Church (Presbyterian) in that city.

THE BERTRAMS IN TORONTO.

They get Contracts for Building Two New Richelieu and Ontario Steamers.

The Toronto Evening News of Saturday last contains the following:—"Congratulations are in order to the Bertram Engine Company (of which Mr. John Bertram, formerly of Peterborough, is a member,) who will build two new steel steamers for the Richilieu & Ontario Line. This enterprising firm is entitled to all the encouragement this city or Canadian corporations can give it. The work turned out of their shops so far is creditable to the managers of the company, as well as to the Canadian people. The Bertrams took hold of a bankrupt concern a few years ago, and they have built up in a remarkably short space of time a business and reputation that old-established firms might envy. In accomplishing this they have given employment to a large number of men, many of them highly skilled and well-paid, and whose prosperity has been reflected in many directions. When other wealthy men were searching for six per cent. mortgages in which to invest their money, the members of the Bertram Engine Company were putting their money into an enterprise which has brought business and population to Toronto. Therefore, the general public rejoice in their successes, and wish there were others like them.

A PROMINENT PETERBOROUGH BOY.

A Practical Mining Expert and a True Canadian.

The Rossland Miner of Oct 7th contains a report of a banquet given in Rossland to Sir Charles Tupper and Sir Mackenzie Bowell.

Mr. D. J. Fitzgerald, eldest son of Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, C.E., Peterborough, was present at the banquet, and in response to the toast of "The leaders of the mining and smelting industries," with which his name was associated, Mr. Fitzgerald made the following remarks, as reported by the Miner:

D. J. Fitzgerald responded with an interesting talk on the smelting situation in the Trail Creek district. "Before the advent of the Trail smelter," said Mr. Fitzgerald, "the cost of treating the ores of this camp was $14. Now the figure has been reduced to $11 per ton. Sir Mackenzie Bowell has intimated that the existing freight rates are too high. The same has been charged against the smelting industry, but it is noteworthy that at Butte the average cost of smelting during the past year was $9.43, while the ores of that district concentrate about 2½ into 1.

"On the other hand the miners of Colorado are having their ores treated at a cost of $7 per ton. Why? Because the Colorado smelters have been receiving the silver-lead ores of the Slocan, the natural fluxes for the gold bearing ores of the States, and in that way the cost of smelting has been reduced to a minimum. Why, it might be asked, are the Slocan ores hauled clear to Colorado to be treated, instead of being used to flux the ores of the Trail Creek district? It is because the C.P.R., which controls the railway situation in the Slocan, carries the silver-lead ores of that district clear to Colorado for the bigger freight rate it thereby receives, rather than allow them to be smelted here in Kootenay, and thereby lose the freight charges gained by the longer haul. As soon as the Slocan ores can be mixed with the output of Rossland and Boundary the cost of smelting can be reduced so that the charges will be entirely satisfactory to the mine owners of Kootenay.

"The smelting industry of Canada depends upon the people of Canada. There is no reason why our ore cannot be treated here as cheaply as anywhere in the world and I as a Canadian will be sorry to see the day when a pound of our ores leaves my native soil to be treated in a foreign land." (Great applause.)

CHURCH CHIMES.

Rev. E. Cragg preached in the Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday morning.

In all Anglican churches, yesterday, special intercession was made on behalf of Sunday school work,

Mr. A. J. Johnston has been appointed to represent St. Paul's Sunday school at the Provincial Convention.

Collections in aid of the Widows and Orphans Fund will be taken up in the Anglican churches next Sunday.

Miss Florence Hall gave a particularly pleasing rendition of "There is a Holy City," in the Charlotte street church last evening.

In the George street church last night, Mrs. Seward and Miss Clara Belleghem took the solos in the anthems, "Hear us, O Saviour."

In St. Andrew's church yesterday Mrs. Bert. Brown sang Piccolomini's latest solo "Saved by a Child", in exceptionably good voice.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor will administer the sacrament of confirmation at the children's mass at 9.15 in St. Peter's Cathedral next Sunday.

The Bishop of Algoma will deliver an address to the Woman's Auxiliary in All Saint's church on Friday evening next. All those interested in missions are invited to attend.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Andrew's W.F.M.S. Auxiliary will be held to-morrow night at 8 o'clock, when Mrs. Wm. Graham, of Lakefield, will address the meeting.

The anthem, "O, God, at Eventide," which was so well rendered in the George street church last night, was composed by C. E. B Price, of Montreal, a former organist of the church.

Rev. C. E. McLeod, of Gilmour Memorial Baptist church, occupied the pulpit of the Murray street Baptist church yesterday morning and in the evening the service was taken by Rev. Mr. Tighe, of McMaster University.

Rev. A. T. Dykeman took the anniversary services at Gilmour Memorial church, Smith, on Sunday. Rev. C. E. McLeod preached in the Murray street church in the evening, and Mr. Wm. Tighe, of McMaster University, in the evening.

The congregation of the Charlotte street church were treated to some excellent singing yesterday, having with them two artists who are to appear in this evening's concert. Miss Norman sang the solo, "Comest Thou, O Master?" and "Prayer," and, accompanied by Miss Webb, sang the duet, "I've Found a Friend." Miss Norman is the possessor of a clear soprano voice and goes up into the higher notes with an ease which makes her numbers very pleasant to hear. Miss Webb has a very rich contralto voice. As well as being a vocalist Miss Norman is an artist on the violin, and Miss Webb has great elocutionary powers.

MARK STREET CHURCH.

"Mark the perfect man and behold the upright; for the end of that man is peace."—Psalm 37:37.

From the foregoing text Rev. J. E. Moore gave an excellent discourse on Sunday morning.

He said all expect to die some time. The young look forward to many years of life, but many will be disappointed. The old must, of necessity, pass away very soon. How important then to be ready to go. David call upon us to notice, admire and copy the life of a perfect man, whose end is peace. Many say it is not possible to live a perfect life, but it was possible for Job, and hence it is possible for us. Men confound divine perfection with Christian perfection.

Job was a perfect man, not a perfect God. He feared God and eschewed evil. A perfect man believes in the power, love and sovereignity of God.

A perfect man is one who finds the Spirit of God bearing witness with his spirit that he is child of God. Loving God, he will love his brethren and all that belongs to God, for love is a fruit of the spirit. A perfect Christian will be blameless, unrebukable and irreproachable in his outward life.

It is one thing to be right with God, and another thing to be right with man. We must abstain from the very appearance of evil. A perfect Christian man walks steadily with God, as Enoch walked with God, and enjoys the peace which passeth all understanding. Let us ever observe the Golden Rule, and it will always be well with us. Even the wicked wish to die well, but are not willing to live right. The pastor gave some thrilling examples of the experiences of good men at the end of life, and urged all to live so as to be fit to die.

The Finance Committee will meet at the residence of Mr. T. Joy, next to the parsonage, on Mark street, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 19, at half-past seven, sharp. Business of importance will be transacted and all are urged to attend.

Miss A. McKenney and Mr. H. S. Armstrong sang a pleasing duet at the morning service.

In the evening Misses A. Smith and A. McKenney rendered as a duet "One Sweetly Solemn Thought."

The evening service was of an evangilistic nature. There was a large attendance, and several expressed a desire for salvation, and some came forward to the altar.

Special service will be continued this week, with a song service at 7.30 each evening. The service proper will begin at 8. Everyone is invited and urged to be present.

The attendance at Sunday school has increased 12 each of the past two Sundays. We hope to see it go on increasing.

REV. J. C. DAVIDSON BACK FROM BUFFALO.

HE REFERS TO THE BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW.

A Committee of Solid, Substantial Business Men Gathered Together for Solid, Substantial Work.

Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rector of St. John's, has just returned from being in attendance at the annual International Convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew which is still in session in Buffalo.

Last evening in his sermon in speaking of the matter, he referred to the many great Christian conventions which are being held, and which are one of the characteristics of the present century

The requirements which the Brotherhood exacts of its members, he explained, were few—the rule of prayer and the rule of service were all that had to be observed. There were few who were willing to pledge themselves, however, to these two rules, which in reality

IMPLIED A GREAT DEAL.

Daily prayer was required and a daily effort to exercise an influence for good on the lives of others.

No less than thirteen hundred delegates were gathered together in Buffalo to learn religious things and to learn how to do religious work. They assembled from every quarter of America—from every state of the Union, and from every portion of Canada, the representatives from the Dominion numbering 175.

On Wednesday the brethren assembled in St. Paul's Cathedral for quiet prayer and heard a few words from Canon Gore, Westminster, probably one of the best know ecclesiastics of the period. Next evening a service preparatory to communion was held and warmly entered into. The service was most impressive. The responses thundered down the aisles and the amens made the great walls seem to quiver. The singing fairly carried one away so great was the volume of sound.

It was indeed a memorable service.

Power was given by the co-operation of earnest men, who had come—not to look on, but to make a contribution by their voices.

The sessions of the convention were afterwards held in a great music hall, built to seat 3,000.

THE BODY OF THE HALL

was reserved for the delegates and their arrangement was most systematic, banners indicating where the different representatives were to sit. The delegation from Canada was in the centre directly in front of the platform. Those from Alabama and California were on either side and so on. The galleries were given up to the spectators and they were always filled. The entire interior of the building was most profusely decorated with the entwined flags of both countries.

The representatives were composed almost entirely of solid and substantial business men, who came to do solid and substantial work, and their earnestness combined with their business ability impregnated the various services and business sessions with an air which excluded everything but the object which had brought them together.

The grand climax of the convention was a service at which there was no address. It was the great communion service.

On arriving at St. Paul's at a quarter after six in the morning, the Rector found the edifice about three parts filled. At half past six every seat was occupied and men were standing at the doors. The sacrament was administered to no less than

and the whole church quivered with the intensity of religious feeling. It was indeed a memorable service.

In speaking of the custom of allowing the clergy to shoulder all the responsibility of the speaker pointed out that the formation of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew was accomplished by a layman—a banker in the city of Chicago, who became so greatly interested in the work which his Bible class was doing that he told his methods to others, who followed along the same lines of prayer and service until almost every parish in America was drawn into the circle. Through the influence of this one man the great Brotherhood had been formed and so important a factor was it becoming in the Church of England that ten bishops and over 300 clergy were in attendance at its convention of 1897.

The founder of the Brotherhood was present and in his grand address to the members stated that though they were not pious men, in the general meaning of the term, still all could pray, and in the lives of all came the opportunity at times to say a word or do a service for the Almighty, and such word or deed coming from them as business men would carry a weight with it which would assist in accomplishing the work which the Brotherhood was organized to carry out.

KISSING RECORDS.

Young Man Became Unconscious in Trying to Establish one.

The Munchener Nachrichten, of Berlin, records the experience of a young German who undertook to establish a kissing record.

He gained his sweetheart's consent, the terms being that he should take 10,000 kisses from her lips in ten hours with a brief interval for refreshment every half hour. Umpires were appointed to the attempt to make a record. The young man scored 2,000 kisses in the first hour, 1,000 in the second. He had reached 760 in the third hour when his lips were paralysed and he became unconscious.

RUGBY DROP KICKS.

Knox College of Toronto plays the local team here next Saturday afternoon and as Varsity is out of the senior series without doubt several of the Varsity players will be down with Knox.

A full turnout of players is requested every afternoon this week on the P. A. A. A. grounds.

For players that cannot turn out in the afternoon the rink has been secured and starting to-morrow (Tuesday) night at seven o'clock running, passing and light work will be indulged in.

The wings will be strengthened by the addition of some of last year's players, who are getting in shape again.

A new man will be tried at quarter, as Graham has retired from the game for the season.

The scrimmage will likely be the same that played against T. C. S. The half-back line will remain unchanged. Scott's place at full back is hard to fill.

Trinity College, Toronto, comes down for a game on Wednesday, the 27th, and to be in shape to win these games every player has got to be in the best of condition, which can only be attained by hard constant practice, so it is hoped that every player will turn out.

LACROSSE

A traveller who witnessed the game between Orangeville and Berlin on Friday states that Peterborough could win from either team. Lynch, formerly of town, played the best game on the field. Berlin, it seems, has the strongest team and played a strongly aggressive game all through, but they ran in hard luck, being beaten by five goals to four.

BASEBALL.

A New York paper says that Edward Hanlon, the successful manager of the Baltimore baseball team, was recently the recipient of the most astonishing offer in the history of professional baseball. The owners of the Pittsburg club, which has had poor success in the pennant fight for some years past, desired to secure the services of the great Baltimore manager. They invited him to a conference and formally offered him a contract calling for $12,000 a year and a quarter interest in the club. H. R Von der Horst, the principal owner of the Baltimore club, said if Hanlon left the club he (Von der Horst) would immediately sell out his interest.

THE TURF.

Passing Bell, 2.08¾, and Elsinora, 2.12¼, the two pacing stars of the Village-farm stable, arrived home last Monday morning, having completed their season's campaign. Passing Belle started the season a green mare, and is now credited with the fastest record taken by a green pacer of her sex this season. She also has the honour of having won more money than any other pacer on the Grand Circuit, even the champion Star Pointer, 1.59½, being behind her in this respect. She started eight times on that circuit, winning five firsts, one second, one third and being unplaced once. Her total winnings were $5,475. Elsinora also started the season without a record and now has a mark of 2.12¼. She met with a misfortune early in the season, but at that was counted among the sure money-winners of the Grand Circuit.

Both mares are by Heir-at-law, 2.07½, Passing Belle being out of Windsweep, dam of Excellence, 2.19½, and Elsinora out of Oriole, by Chimes. They are among the fastest ever turned out from Erie County.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

Billy Delaney, Corbett's trainer, and Big Jim Jeffries were the spectators at a recent football game in San Francisco. Delaney made the remark that if he had a son he would made a pugilist out of him, so that it would bar him from playing football. The old trainer saw more danger in the mix-ups on the gridiron than he did in the ring. Every time there was a collision between a squad of kickers he would shrug his broad shoulders and utter an exclamation betokening fear that somebody might be mortally injured.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES!

Of every five dollars which the average labouring man receives, from three to four are spent on food alone.

If, therefore, there is anything which should interest the workingman's wife, it is that which will give more food and better food for her money.

The thoughtful housekeeper who will make a test case of buying all her Teas, Coffees, Sugars, Provisions and General Groceries at our store for one month, will discover that a substantial saving has been made when compared with her outlay for any previous four weeks.

It is no more surprising that overchargeing should explode a gun than that the same thing should burst a business. We buy for Cash and sell for Cash, and don't have to Overcharge.

DOUBLED UP!

UNABLE TO WORK.

Suffering Agony Day and Night.

"For nearly two years," says Frank J. Wray, 211 Sherbourne St., Toronto, "I suffered greatly with lameness and pain in my back. It often happened that my back and kidneys pained me so badly that I was doubled up and could hardly walk, except in a stooping position. Very often I was unable to work, suffering agony both day and night. I had severe pain in the lower part of my stomach, and other symptoms which proved conclusively that my kidneys were in a very unhealthy condition. My appetite was lost and my strength declined rapidly.

"I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills in March last, and after using three boxes of them was completely restored to health. I have not had the slightest pain or stiffness in any part of my back, or any indication of my former trouble, since using these wonderful pills.

"With the restoration of my kidneys to a healthy condition, my appetite was restored, and my strength returned, so that I am now strong and hearty. I make this statement of my cure by Doan's Kidney Pills with the greatest pleasure, because when I commenced taking them I did not really expect so remarkable a cure as that which followed their use. I am very thankful that I hit upon this remedy, and gladly recommend it to all sufferers." 287
